WESTERNERS IN CALIFORNIA.

ENJOY BALMY BREEZES OF SOUTH, BUT IT IS COSTLY.

(Canadian Press.)

WINNIPEG, Mar. 2.—Figures gathered from various authoritative sources on the tourist traffic indicate that 12,000 persons from the Prairie Provinces spent the early part of the winter in California.

At least approximately that number purchased tickets from the three middle west provinces for destinations located in the Southern area.

A local business man who returned from a trip to the Canadian and American coast cities declared that many of the Canadians had found the drain on their purses from the rate of exchange and high prices more serious than they had anticipated, and were returning to spend the remainder of their winter vacation in Vancouver and Victoria.

THE S. A. MET SERGEANT WATSON

Sergeant Watson has been a British soldier for 12 years. In 1909 he was stationed in Egypt. Later, he was transferred to India. In 1914 he returned to England and went to France. Here is a copy of his letter which reached Toronto, February 20th, at the offices of the Department of Soldiers' Civil Re-Establishment:

"Sir.—By the time this letter reaches you I shall no doubt be on my way home to Canada. I am a regular soldier in the Imperial Army just finishing my twelve years. Soon after I enlisted (in England) my mother and family came out to Canada while I was in Egypt. That was in 1909. I came home to England from India in 1914 to go to France. I was lucky enough to go out with the P.P.C.L.I. in December, 1914.

Off to Mesopotamia.

"I went from France to Mesopotamia and went from there through the Persian Hills (700 miles) to Baku in the Caucasus to fight with the Russians and Armenians against the Turco forces with the Colonials. We were driven back to Bagdad. They asked for volunteers to proceed to Siberia, just before the Armistice. I went with the British Military Mission. We, just recently, returned to England, having come through Canada.

"I am now being repatriated to Canada. I will be a stranger in a strange land as my mother died about a year ago. I should very much like somebody to meet me at Toronto. I am a single man and homeless..... I am writing in advance so that you may be able to help me in regard to employment.....I am one of the genuine lonely soldiers and will appreciate any help you can give me."

Briefly, this is the story of a British soldier to whom should be offered every opportunity to make a home. Realizing this, the letter was sent to the Citizen's Repatriation League. Dr. A. H. Abbott is its secretary. Other information in the letter told the name of the boat and its sailing date. The letter arrived just one day previous to the day Sergeant Watson was due in Toronto.

Met by Salvation Army.

"We telephoned the Salvation Army," said Dr. Abbott, when asked what steps were taken. "The letter came to us in the morning and the man was due at 5:40 that night. A Salvation Army Officer met the train. He took Sergeant Watson to the Salvation Army Hostel at King and Church streets. He made him comfortable and at home. Now a job is being secured that will pay him from $5 to $7 a day."

"Does the Salvation Army help you like that often?" was asked.

"Help—that isn't the word," Dr. Abbott replied. "In the first place the Salvation Army is absolutely reliable and has made the promptness of our relief work a possibility. In fact, they figure so largely in our work that it is difficult to pick out special cases. There is no service too big or none too little. They take hold of the job with a will and carry it through to a successful conclusion."

Note—Watson is not the man's right name.

HEALTH PERFECT NOW, SAYS BROWN

SUFFERED 10 YEARS—IS RELIEVED BY TANLAC, SAYS ST. JOHN MAN.

"I had suffered from indigestion for ten years before I began using Tanlac, and the way it has built me up is something remarkable for I am feeling like a young man again," was the statement made recently by T. H. Brown, proprietor of the Valley Meat and Fish Market, who lives at 41 Winter St., St. John, New Brunswick.

"I have certainly had my share of suffering in this world for I have been bothered for the past ten years with the worst sort of stomach trouble," Mr. Brown continued, "I had nearly lost my appetite and when I did force myself to eat a little of something it was almost impossible for me to retain it. I even hated the sight of food, because everything I ate would sour on my stomach and give me an awful distressing feeling afterwards. My sleep was restless and when morning came I always got up feeling tired and worn-out.

Here is how I got hold of Tanlac and started taking it. A customer of mine had been trying to get me to take Tanlac, as he had tried it and with remarkable results, but I kept putting it off. One day he walked into my shop and put a bottle of Tanlac down on the counter and said: 'Try that.' I took his advice and I want to tell you that proved to be the turning point of my life. That very first bottle hit the spot and I kept taking it until now I am in absolutely perfect health. I eat heartily now and enjoy very meal. My digestion was never better and I am not troubled afterwards at all. I sleep sound at night and got up of mornings feeling brimful of life and energy. Yes, sir, I am a new man today and feel years younger.

GOSPEL HALL NOTES

"TWO ROADS AND TWO DESTINIES."

Such is the subject of a large chart now being used in Gospel Hall by Evangelist Harper. Last evening the speaker pointed out the fact that a great many people were travelling the broad way who were unaware of their real condition. This was illustrated on the chart by a section called "the clean foot path." Quoting Prov. 16:25, "There is a way that seemeth right to a man, but the end thereof are the ways of death," the speaker showed the various ways that the human race was using to merit the favour of God. All of these were resolved into a religion consisting of a word of two letters, "do." He proceeded to show the similarity of the religion of the Pharisee in the days of Christ who could say, "I fast twice in a week, I give tithes of all I possess," which is the condition of many to-day. Jesus commanded the poor Publican who took his proper place as a poor, needy sinner.

Interest in these old, yet new truths is growing. The present state of the Jew, future retribution, the coing of Christ and other subjects will be dealt with nightly.

THE QUESTION OF GRANTS.

Every year the City Council has to deal with applications from local organizations who are in need of funds to enable them to carry out their work, and just as invariably every year the aldermanic board deals with the appeals in the same old unsystematic way with the result that a fair apportionment of the public grants is often rendered impossible. It would seem that a more business-like manner of handling these applications would be to wait until they are all in and consider them together, in order that each might be decided upon its merits and an equitable division made. It might be feasible to announce a date before which all such appeals for grants should be sent in. Under the present system the first requests received are likely to be generously treated and others that come in later suffer, because the aldermen, in view of the size of the first grants made, are inclined to use the pruning knife on the last appeals regardless of their merits. The consideration of all the applications if possible, at one session ,should ensure a sizing up of the grants in a manner that is impossible under the present haphazard method.

ALD. CROWE IS RIGHT.

Ald. Crowe's attempt to have information secured from other cities of approximately the size of Peterborough, in regard to their population, number of city employees, the salaries paid them, etc., was rejected by the Council, principally because the data would be to late to be of any use this year. However, Ald. Crowe is on the right track. Information of that kind should be at the disposal of the members of the Council. They are working in the dark, without definite information as to what is going on in other places. Not that what other cities are doing need necessarily establish a precedent for Peterborough, but at the same time the knowledge would be of assistance to the members of the Council in arriving at a decision. In fact the creation of a small committee of the Council whose duties should be to acquaint themselves with facts as to the manner in which other municipalities are dealing with public business, would be a progressive step that would add to the efficiency of the Aldermanic Board. Ald. Crowe might follow up his resolution of the other night by moving for the selection of such a committee. The information they would be able to secure might often be of the greatest service to the Council.

THE LAWYERS CHUCKLE.

The legal fraternity regards its standing in the community as vindicated by the appointment of J. C. Elliott, ex-M.P.P. of Glencoe, as Legislative counsel for the Drury government during the session. During the last provincial election the United Farmers made a dead set upon the lawyers. There were far too many of them in public life rural speakers declared, and the country was tired of being ruled by members of the profession. But the legal fraternity has its uses after all, and the new government finds that it cannot do without legal help. It was necessary of course to find a lawyer for the position of Attorney-General, but one is not enough to keep Mr. Drury and his associates from getting involved in difficulties ,and so a new position has been created, and Mr. Elliott has been appointed to help frame the legislation that will be advanced during the session. In other words the Province wil have to pay for the work that lawyer members of the Legislature were accustomed to perform as part of their regular Legislative duties. And many a lawyer throughout the province has been indulging in a quiet chuckle since learning that it was necessary to make a new position in the public service in order to secure legal assistance that in the days before the Farmer government cost the province nothing.

AN EXPLANATION.

The official explanation that the reporters were not intentionally barred from the meeting of the Police Commissioners on Saturday when the question of salary increases for the police department was under discussion will help to clear the air. The representatives of the press were, with the Chief, asked to retire for a few moments while a private matter was being discussed and by an oversight they were not notified that they could return to the meeting. It is unfortunate, however, that the incident occurred, because it has led to false impressions in regard to the Police Commission, and has strengthened the pressure that is being exerted in favour of an elected body to administer the affairs of the police department. The Examiner is glad to learn that there was no desire on the part of the Commissioners to exclude the press from their deliberations ,for any step in that direction would be an mistaken policy. The ratepayers are entitled to know how their money is being spent and practically their only source of information is through the newspapers. It is of the greatest importance, therefore, that the representatives of the press are given every opportunity to present the facts to the readers of their papers.

EXTREME DEMOCRACY.

The "emancipation" stage of the Soviet "evolution" of Russia is now apparently completed. The former rulers and aristocrats and bourgeoisie have been eliminated by rifle ball and butt, bayonet, and the more economical means of starvation. The proletariat have not alone succeeded in securing control of the country; they have practically rid it of all other classes. And now having accomplished this, what are they going to do with Russia and with themselves? They have their freedom from the tyrants and masters who formerly ruled them and who now are either dead or in exile; their own leaders occupy the seats of authority. Sovietism is established; the common people are rulers of their own destiny, common possessors of the wealth of the country. The time has come to settle down and enjoy their victory. What form is their freedom and self rule to take?

The leaders who guided them to victory and freedom have already instructed them, but what a disappointment, what a disillusionment the programme for their free existence must be for the former serfs of the Czar and his bureaucrats! Trotzky it was who travelled from New York to Petrograd to show the down-trodden proletariat of Russia the light of emancipation. He it was who organized them into armies and inspired and directed them so well that he has now been able to tell them that the military effort is practically completed. And it is Trotzky who has told them what their life is to be in the Russia they have won for themselves at such terrible cost.

From him they have learned, in his Moscow address of January 25th, reports of which are just arriving from Russia, that freedom does not mean ease and plenty and the direction of their own affairs. On the contrary, although they are their own masters, they have got to return to the discipline, the toil, and the privation of the old regime—but with this difference, but now they have got to do the worrying themselves instead of having some one else do it for them. To their former burdens has been added that of responsibility.

"The Russian proletariat already feels responsible for the welfare of its country, and for its economic life," Trotzky declares. "The hardships and poverty we are suffering are educating the workers of the proletariat. Under these conditions every workman and every workwoman is beginning to realize what economic life means to the country." And for those who do not realize, he states the meaning. There must, he says, "be the most strictness and severity both in small and great matters." The people who were formerly subservient to the masters who assumed responsibility for economic matters must now be subservient to the economic needs of the country. They must even submit to compulsory labor. Thus—

"We shall succeed if qualified and trained workers take part in productive labor. Trade unions must register qualified workmen in the villages. Only in those localities where trade union methods are inadequate other methods must be introduced, in particular that of compulsion, because labor conscription gives the state the right to tell the qualified workman who is employed on some important work in his village: 'You are obliged to leave your present employment and go to Sormo or Koloma because there your work is required.'"

Having freed themselves by their service in the army the men of Russia "must now take their work books, and proceed to places where they are required, where their presence is necessary to the economic system of the country," must subject themselves to 'labor conscription." And the penalty for disobedience is to be of the "utmost severity" in a country where those words visualize unspeakable horrors.

If Lenin and Trotzky see that this economic programme is carried out, and if they provide for the equal distribution of the benefits derived from the devotion of the people to the requirements of the country they may succeed in doing more for Russia than has been expected of them. But their programme demonstrates that even under the extreme of democratic government the people are not their own masters, are not free to do as they please.—Ottawa Journal.

ORDERS ON 'PHONE ILLEGAL

No More Orders Can be Taken After Store Closed by Utilizing Telephone.

EDMONTON, Alta., March 2.—Taking telephone orders in stores which are closed according to city by-law will be illegal if a proposed charter amendment weathers the legislature. City officials propose to put an iron clad definition in the word "closed" which will leave no room for doubting its meaning. It is claimed that some stores have been doing business after closing hours by utilizing telephone service. This to some extent nullifys the aim of the early closing act, so a charter amendment is needed.

The big dose purges its way through the system fast, but does not cleanse thoroughly.

The small dose (if right) acts gently on the liver, and gives it just the slight help it needs to do its own work, and do it well.

Take one pill regularly, until you know you are all right.

MORE LAND FOR SETTLERS

SASKATOON, Sask. March 2.—Many lands that were formerly reserved for bird sanctuaries, in the vicinity of lakes in the province of Saskatchewan, have now been thrown open for soldier settlement, states Major M. A. MacInnes, of the Dominion Lands Office. In a large number of cases these lands, being in close proximity to bodies of water, are of the very best quality and they will be a considerable addition to the land already available for settlement. The tracts which were thus reserved usually comprise from two to three sections surrounding lakes, this belt of protection sometimes reaching back half a mile from the water. It is now found that the protection area is too small to afford the birds protection, as settlement is steadily encroaching. Formerly no one was allowed to trepass on these reserves for shooting purposes and this applied to all families of birds, wild fowl included. The ban is now lifted in these cases.

Don't pull up in the road to success and wait for the other fellow to go ahead.

How Signs Of Old Age Creep Into Your System When The Iron In Your Blood Runs Low

For Want of Iron, You May Be Old At Thirty—Nervous, Irritable and All Run-Down—While at Fifty or Sixty, With Plenty of Iron in Your Blood, You May Be Young in Feeling and Brimming Over With Vim and Energy

IRON IS THE RED BLOOD FOOD

That Helps Strengthen the Nerves, Restores Wasted Tissue and Aids in Giving Renewed Force and Power to the Body. Physicians Explain Why Administration of Simple Nuxated Iron Often Increases the Strength and Endurance of Delicate, Run-down People in Two Weeks' Time.

YOU ARE AGEING
If the enthusiasm for tackling your daily problems has waned
YOU ARE AGEING
If your skin is shrinking and your face looks wrinkled, careworn and old
YOU ARE AGEING
If you have lost the spring of your step and your movements are cumbrous
YOU ARE AGEING
If you are wearied by the activities of your daily life

Old age has already sunk its talons into thousands of men and women who ought still to be enjoying the springtime and summer of life simply because they have allowed worry, overwork, nervous strain, dissipation and occupational poisons to sap the iron from their blood and thereby destroy its power to change food into living tissue, muscle and brain. You will find plenty of people at 40 who are broken in health and steadily going downward to physical and mental decay while others at 50 are strong, active, alert and seemingly growing younger every year. One class withers and dies like leaves in autumn while the other by keeping up a strong power of resistance against disease may pass the three score and ten mark with surprising health, strength and vigor. But you cannot expect to look and feel young and vigorous unless you have plenty of iron in your blood, and physicians explain below why they prescribe organic iron—Nuxated Iron—to supply the iron deficiency in the weak, nervous, and run-down so as to build them up into stronger, healthier men and women.

"Many a man and woman who ought still to be young in feeling is losing the old time vim and energy that makes life worth living simply because their blood is starving for want of iron," says Dr. James Francis Sullivan, formerly Physician at Bellevue Hospital (Outdoor Dept.), New York, and the Westchester County Hospital. "Thousands are ageing and breaking down at a time when they should be enjoying perfect health because anaemia—lack of iron in the blood—has fastened its grip on them and is sapping their strength, vitality and energy. But in my opinion you can't make strong, keen, forceful men and healthy rosy-cheeked women by feeding them on metallic iron. The old forms of metallic iron must go through a digestive process to transform them into organic iron—Nuxated Iron—before they are ready to be taken up and assimilated by the human system. I strongly advise readers in all cases to get a physician's prescription for organic iron—Nuxated Iron—or if you don't want to go to this trouble then purchase Nuxated Iron in its original packages and see that this particular name (Nuxated Iron) appears on the package. If you have taken preparations such as Nux and Iron and other similar iron products and failed to get results, remember that such products are an entirely different thing from Nuxated Iron."

Dr. George H. Baker, formerly Physician and Surgeon, Monmouth Memorial Hospital of New Jersey, says: "From a careful examination of the formula and my own tests of Nuxated Iron, I feel convinced that it is a preparation which any physician can take himself or prescribe for his patients with the utmost confidence of obtaining highly beneficial and satisfactory results."

Nuxated Iron which has been used by Dr. Sullivan and other physicians with such surprising results, is not a secret remedy, but one which is well known to druggists everywhere. Unlike the older inorganic iron products, it is easily assimilated and does not injure the teeth, make them black nor upset the stomach. The manufacturers guarantee, successful and entirely satisfactory results to every purchaser or they will refund your money. It is dispensed by all good druggists.

AN ACCIDENT.

CHAPTER LXII

"Why, Mrs. Graham! What has happened?" Mrs. Gray stood in the hall looking at me.

"I missed the train," I said my lips trembling.

"No—he went without me." I would not let her know he had gone and left me purposely. It was too humiliating.

"I am sorry for your disappointment," she said, so feelingly that I could not answer for fear she would notice the sob in my voice and my tears. I ran hastily up the stairs into my room and flung myself upon the bed in a perfect rage of anger against Everett.

"Please, Mrs. Graham, don't cry!" It was Hetty. "He—Mr. Graham will take you some other time."

"I don't want to go some other time, I want to go this time," I pouted. "I just caught a glimpse of him, Hetty, as he got on the train. I am sure it was he."

"Why don't you take a ride? You are all dressed."

"I couldn't—all alone. I would be bluer than ever.' Then a thought occurred to me. "I'll take you Hetty, and we'll go and see that friend of your aunt's, the one who is so ill. We'll take some jellies and other things, and stay a while with her."

"That is very kind of you, Mrs. Graham. Miss Ann and me both think you are too good to us.

"Hurry up and ask Mrs. Gray to give up whatever you think your friend would like. I'll be downstairs in about ten minutes.

Once more, for the third time that day, I washed away the traces of tears. Once more I dusted powder over my burning cheeks, and adjusted a fresh veil to hide my swollen eyes. Then I hurried down to find Hetty waiting in the hall, laden with bundles, and Mrs. Gray smiling approval.

"I think you are very sensible, dear Mrs. Graham," she said. "It is a lovely day. You will enjoy your ride."

"It will be better than moping at home" I replied.

"Very much better." Then: "Shall you return home for luncheon If you think of remaining out I will do some errands. I would like to take advantage of the fine weather.

"Go right along, Mrs. Gray." I thought once more of that trunk in the attic. "If I should decide to come home Hetty will wait upon me.

"Thank you then, I think I will go out for an hour or two."

I would return, and soon. I would take the gum I had secured and take an impression of the peculiar lock I had noticed on the small black trunk which had so piqued my curiosity.

But I was not to make my plans come true.

We had gone but a little ways out of town and were on a lonely road when suddenly around the corner dashed a great high-powered car. It looked like some great black demon dashing down upon us. I recall I screamed, clung to Hetty, then shut my eyes. I was sure I was either dying or dead. When I opened my eyes I was sitting right in the middle of the dusty road, in a very undignified posture, while Hetty stood over me wringing her hands, and the occupant of the big black car — a good-looking young man was bending over my chauffeur lying quite straight and still in the road about 20 feet away.

"Is he dead?" I whispered to Hetty.

"I don't think so, but he's awfully hurted," she returned in the same confidential tone.

"We must do something for him," Still my voice rasped in a whisper.

"Are you hurt?" Hetty turned to me.

"I don't know—I thought I was dead at first. But I seem to be all right. Oh!"—I exclaimed as my foot bent under me. "I guess I have sprained my ankle."

Hetty helped me to get to the side of the road. Then she took off my shoe and looked at my ankle. I had wrenched it badly; but after twisting it considerably, and hurting me most horribly, Hetty said it was not broken.

Just then the nice looking young man came over and asked if he could be of assistance.

"Your chauffeur seems to be quite badly hurt. I'll park your car by the side of the road and take him to a hospital, and you to your home—if you aren't afraid to trust me."

Gladly I accepted his offer, and we soon were on our way home, Hetty supporting Thomas on the rear seat while I rode next the knight errant who had succored us in our distress. That was the way I thought of him. It was the way they spoke of such an incident in novels.

NEW BANK.

Bank of Alberta to be a Recognized Provincial Institution if Movement Matures.

EDMONTON, Alta., March 2.—To put Alberta on the financial map of Canada with a bank of its own that shall be a recognized provincial institution, is the object of a movement now afoot for the organization of the Bank of Alberta. Notice has been given that an application will be made at the approaching session of the Dominion Parliament for a charter to such a bank and it is expected that a favorable reception will be given it, that the charter will be granted, and that the bank will be ready to open business in probably six months time.

HAD ECZEMA

For Over 28 Years

Eczema or Salt Rheum manifests itself in little round blisters, which contain an extremely irritating fluid. These break and subsequently a crust is formed, and the intense burning, itching and smarting, especially at night or when the part is exposed to any strong heat is almost unbearable.

The success which Burdock Blood Bitters has met with in skin diseases of such severity is due to its wonderful blood cleansing and purifying properties, and we know of no other remedy that has done or can do, so much for those who are almost driven to distraction with the terrible torture.

Mr. James Walker, 152 Niagara St., Hamilton, Ont., writes:—"I have been using Burdock Blood Bitters for some months past, and find it an excellent remedy for skin eruptions. I have suffered with eczema for over 28 years, and have tried almost everything you could think of. I was recommended to use Burdock Blood Bitters, and I am now clear of my skin trouble. It is certainly a good remedy and I shall recommend it to all my friends."

"To those whom it may concern: Out of work for a long time on account of ill health, high cost of everything has taken my savings. My health and physical strength are gone. Old age; nearly 70. No relations or friends. A stranger." Signed "The Suicide, J. B. Burnett."

NEW WEST WARD SCHOOL TO BE CALLED PRINCE OF WALES SCHOOL

MEETING OF THE BOARD OF EDUCATION—WILL PURCHASE DENTAL EQUIPMENT—ACCOUNTS PASSED.

"The Prince of Wales School" was the unanimous choice of the Board of Education as the name of the new school which is being built on the Chamberlen estate, instead of the Peace Memorial School, the original choice of the architect. In the discussion which followed, Mr. E. G. Patterson's suggestion, made at the regular meeting of the Board of Education last evening that some definite name be settled upon by the Board, as the building of the school will proceed in a short time, Mrs. W. R. Morris objected to the architect's name and congratualted the Board that the onus of the choice rested upon the architect. "It is not," she said, "a memorial to a peace or anything but necessity." Mr. G. O. Cameron suggested that the matter be left to the citizens through the medium of a contest ,but upon the recommendation of Mrs Morris that the name Mr. Roland Denne suggested, "The Prince of Wales School," would be undoubtedly the most appropriate, being euphonious and fitting that the newest and finest school should be named for the most interesting from a Canadian standpoint, and a member of the Royal family, the name was finally selected, according to Mrs. Morris' recommendation.

Mr. E. G. Patterson suggested that the secretary write the Secretary of State asking that the Prince of Wales should open the new school during his proposed fall Canadian tour.

Office Assistant Appointed.

Due to the fact that she bore the best qualifications of the six applicants for the position of office assistant to the Principal of the Collegiate Institute ,Miss Vera Porteous was appointed to the position at a salary of $65 a month on a twelve month basis. Miss Porteous is at present with the Soldiers' Civil Re-establishment in Toronto.

Dental Equipment.

Dr. F. Neal recommended that in making provision for the dental work which is to commence in the schools in September of this year, the Board buy the supplies from the government store where the best figures could be secured. Upon motion of Dr. Neal, seconded by Mr. Cameron, it was decided to secure the government supplies.

Applications Received.

Applications for positions on the school staff in the city were received from the Misses M. Greer Lillian R. Clarke and Agnes R. Mason.

Piano Purchases.

In order that a sense of ownership might be established amongst the children in the piano which the Home and School Club recently purchased for the Queen Mary school, the president of the Club, Mrs S. T. Medd, asked the Board's permission for the Club to institute a collection amongst the children of the school. Mrs. Medd suggested that each child should either save or earn a small sum to be devoted to the purpose. Mr. E G. Patterson questioned the advisability of such a scheme but Mrs. Morris explained that there was no danger of placing any child in an insidious position, as no one would know who did or did not contribute. The Board did not consider it a matter on which to pass a resolution, but expressed their confidence in the Home and School Club.

Boiler Report.

The report of the recent boiler inspection proved all school boilers to be in perfect condition with the exception of the King Edward, where some minor repairs were needed. The matter was left with the Property committee.

School Attendance.

The report of the School Attendance Officer showed 50 absentees, 36 due to illness and two truants.

Members Present.

The members present were Mr. Roland Denne in the chair, Mrs. W. R. Morris, Messrs. A. A. Fowler, E. G. Patterson, G. O. Cameron, J. W. Worth and Dr. Neal.

Avoid the Dangers THAT LURK IN IMPURE MILK

No epidemic of disease has ever been traced to PASTEURIZED MILK.

What, then, is the difference between PASTEURIZED MILK and RAW MILK.

Answer; PASTEURIZED MILK has been heated to a temperature of 145 F and kept at that temperatnre 30 minutes. By this heating process any disease-producing sediment, dirt, or pus, that gets into the Milk, is destroyed and makes the Milk Safe, without destroying any of its nutritive properties.

RAW MILK is just the Unclarified Milk that comes from the cow, with whatever impurities that may get mixed into it. See the difference?

EVERY DROP OF MILK FROM THE PETERBOROUGH CREAMERY IS BOTH CLARIFIED AND PASTEURIZED BEORE BEING BOTTLED. That's Your Safety. Drink it Slowly.

LADIES' AID OF GEORGE STREET HELD A MEETING

A beautiful day and an enthusiastic spirit among the members of the society resulted in a very large attendance at the regular monthly meeting of the George Street Ladies' Aid yesterday afternoon. Through the kind hospitality of the president, Mrs. C E. Smith, the meeting was held at her home, 405 Walton St.

The president being hostess, the vice-president, Mrs. H. Foote occupied the chair, while Mrs. G. Robertson had charge of the devotional exercises. Mrs. Miller gave the scripture reading.

The reports of the various committees were heard.Mrs. Stubbs of the Sick and Visiting committee reported many ill and several messages of thanks were read from those who had been remembered with flowers and plants. Considerable discussion took place regarding the work being done at the present time by the ladies in preparation for a sale of old and new articles which will be held in April. It is expected almost a dozen quilts, large and small, will be completed for the sale. A paper collection will also be held about the same time and the society is anxious that all the church people will make preparations for this. A large bazaar is to be held in the fall and the committees for the several booths having been appointed recently, have already begun work.

The business being concluded Mrs. Hughes gave a solo which was much appreciated. Following this a talk on consecration of our talents was given by Mrs. Shields which was exceptionally appreciated and helpful. A piano solo was then given by Miss Mary Gardiner.

The ladies were much pleased to have Mr. Thomas present and he addressed them briefly.

Following the program a social half hour was spent during which the hostess served tea.

Nearly Insane From Leg Ulcers

Read these two letters from Sarah D. Lawrence of Roebuck, Ontario. "I can't sleep at night from leg ulcers. I am in pain most of the time. I have doctored but no use. A lady from Winnipeg says that D. D. D. cured her of a bad case of eczema. That her sores are all healed Can you help me?"

Now a few words from a later letter. "I have used D. D. D. as directed, and my leg is completely well."

Why not be convinced and try this remedy today for any form of skin disease? One application and the itch is gone. Your money back relief doesn't come from the first bottle $1.00 a bottle. Try D. D. D. Soap, too.

A PLACE FOR SWITZERLAND

(Canadian Press.)

BERNE, March 3.—Adherence to the League of Nations by Switzerland was approved by Swiss National Council yesterday, the vote standing 114 to 55. This decision does not bind this country to enter the League but constitutes a recommendation for a Plebiscite to be held during April or May, in which the people will voice their desires. The National Council was asked to approve Switzerland's entrance to the League by the Government few days ago, after it had been decided to abandon what were known as American clauses, by which Switzerland would delay action until the United States had ratified the Treaty of Versailles, part of which is a covenant the League of Nations.

The Former Kaiser Failed to Uphold German Traditions

A FIGHT TO DEPRIVE WILHELM OF HIS PROPERTIES--REPORT WAS TABLED.

(Canadian Press.)

BERLIN, March 3.—A fight to deprive the former Emperor of his properties and fortune began in earnest yesterday, when the motion of the majority Socialists of the Diet to refer the issue to the National Assembly precipitated an acriminous debate. The majority Socialists vied with the independents in a denunciation of former ruler in an effort to defeat the proposed settlement by accomplishing the confiscation of the Hohenzelloren possessions. This would be done through a constitution amendment, voting the former Emperor a fixed sum for his maintenance. Deputy Graef, majority Socialist declared that the ex-ruler had failed to live up to the historic precedents of his race. He had not died at the head of his troops. His chose instead a deputy and made a midnight flight to Holland, where he is now promenading and sawing wood. Democrats and clericals joined in voting for Government's measure providing that the settlement be referred to committee of the judiciary. The judiciary committee now takes the bill under advisement and conferences are expected to last many weeks. The motion of the majority socialist providing for action by National Assembly has been temporarily tabled.

as a blessing to the insured one's dependents, while assuring him on the deathbed that they would be provided for.

Following the address of the visiting judge, the members exercised their vocal powers on several well known songs which, in spite of the fact thta no pianist could be discovered in the company and hence no piano accompanied them, chorus gacve ample proo. that some at least had missed their calling in choosing the paths of insurance and law.

Mr. Ozias Laplante, President of the Peterborough Law Association, thanked the hosts for inviting the Association and briefly expressed the desire of this body to learn more of insurance. "The insurance men are the only people in business that haven't a good word said for them till somebody dies," he said.

Mr. G. W. Hatton spoke of it as a subject in which everybody should be interested. He complimented the Association on the bright and aggressive members and said that the quality most feared was this aggressiveness. Mr. Hatton termed Judge Huycke one of the ablest speakers in Peterborough, one whom they could always count on to represent the bar. Concluding, Mr. Hatton expressed the wish that some time the Law Association would be able to return the excellent dinner and act as hosts to the insurance men..

Get Gogether.

Mr. Miller and his co-worker, Mr. Hunt, now entered, their late appearance being excused by the slightly irregular workings of the railways. The chairman, without delay introduced Mr. Miller, and this interesting speaker began his talk without a minute's hesitation. The benefit derived from these get-together meetings was emphasized. The progress of insurance of late years was outlined. In 1919 insurance really came into its own due to many causes ,one being back in 1913 when the western boom fell through and people wished they had more insurance and less town lots. Another cause was the war, which drew public opinion towards the necessity of protecting dependents, and also the influenza epidemic, which had the same result.

Victory Loans.

The speaker paid tribute to the Victory Loans, which taught thrift and saving and stopped speculation and showed people also the value of insurance. The work of insurance men both in the field and at home was referred to.

Mr. Miller spoke on the public's change of attitude in last few years, how the people had become educated to the value of insurance. The need for thrift and saving was emphasized and Mr. Miller placed a great responsibility on the insurance men in urging this on the public and thus rendering a great service to the community and country. The danger in Canada now of certain classes plotting a Soviet regime for the Dominion was dwelt on and the plan of confiscating private property. "The men who are behind these are not property owners of any kind and have no insurance policies."

Poverty Reduced.

Mr. Miller said in the United States poverty was reduced 33 p.c. in thirty years, largely through insurance. He spoke of the highness of the profession and of the high ideals which should be the aim of the salesmen. "In point of magnitude it is the third largest business; in human service it is second to none."

The change brought about by the Association in raising the ethics of the agents to a higher standard, the improved legislation and yet still the need for better legislation was touched on and in conclusion Mr. Miller urged more co-operation and the hearty endeavour of all to push the Association and do everything possible to advance the interests of the profession to bring it above criticism above reproach.

Mr. G. H. Hunt.

Mr. G. H. Hunt expressed his pleasure at being present, and continuing confined his talk largely to the Association's work and accomplishments. He told how it was instrumental in securing legislation in Newfoundland and said that the act in Canada secured by them was second to none in the world. Its periodical the Life Underwriters' News, has become first in rank in this line.

The work of Education committee will soon be felt for Queen's University are considering arranging a course in insurance if enough students enroll and similar steps may be taken at Toronto Uniersity.

The growth of the Dominion Association has been phenomenal and now 3,000 members are enrolled. "Give your hearty support to your local association and thus help the Dominion association, he concluded.

In Conclusion.

The last speaker, Judge Huycke, was commended very highly by the chairman, who assured them of something well worth hearing.

Judge Huycke modestly proclaimed none of the qualities so kindly attributed to him. His own pleasure at being present and meeting the speakers was shared by the other members and especially the younger members.

The value of insurance to the dependents and the sense of security and assurance it gave were eulogized by Judge Huycke in a touching manner. The person who is generally so much opposed to it is its greatest booster later. Some people portray the insurance agent as a huge beast going about devouring everything in sight, said His Worship, who congratulated them on steps take nto raise the profession to its proper sphere.

He expressed the hope that only good feeling ad comradeship should exist between the lawyers and insurance men ,and in conclusion wished the association and the insurance men continued success and prosperity in their good work.

Mr. Miller now announced that the annual convention had been changed and would be held in Ottawa on Aug. 18, 19 and 20, in the Chateau Laurier and not, as previously announced in Quebec city.

The chairman expressed the thanks of the assemblage for Mr. Miller's and Mr. Hunt's addresses, and also to the other speakers ,after which the singing of the National Anthem brought the evening to a close.

Says Farmers Are Selfish.

The organization of the United Farmers as a political force evoked some comments from Mr. Burnhma, who declared that the "whole movement was founded on the selfishness of self interest." "I sympathize with the Liberals I see before me," he declared, "they are going down before the farmers who said they would swarm across the country. I don't suppose that in a few years Liberalism will be more than a name." The farmers' movement was, said Mr. Burnham, a fine commentary upon the talk of unity. For himself, he said, he stood for a national policy of Canada for the Canadians. The West Peterboorugh member alluded to the hostility of the farmers to the eight-hour day and warned them "if we do not have the 8-hour day it wil be because we get a six-hour day."

FROM CHERRY-BLOSSOM LAND

The Japanese Give Good Example

What is it that makes our Canadian women often pale, sallow-faced, with dark circles under the eyes, and very often old at forty-five when they should be in their prime?

Women suffer in girlhood from backache, spine-ache and headaches, followed by irregularities and as a result diseases of the womanly organs are more common than any one but a physician in active practice could suppose.

After long experience in the treatment of women s diseases, Dr. Pierce evolved a vegetable tonic and corrective which he called Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. This is a purely vegetable preparation, without a particle of alcohol contained in it.

When a woman complains of backache, dizziness or pain—when everything looks black before her eyes—a dragging feeling, with nervousness, she should turn to this "temperance" herbal tonic. It can be obtained in almost every drug store in the land and the ingredients are printed in plain English on the wrapper. Put up in tablets or liquid Dr. Pierce, of Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y., will send a trial size of the tablets for ten cents.

ROBERT J. MUNRO DIED LAST NIGHT

WAS PROPRIETOR OF THE MUNRO HOUSE FOR LAST TWENTY YEARS.

Robert John Munro, proprietor of the Munro House, died last evening at 9 o'clock, after an illness of about two weeks, aged 62 years. Deceased was born in Embro, Ontario, near Woodstock, in 1858, and resided for some time in Port Hope and Bowmanville, receiving his education in the latter town. Previous to coming to the city in 1900 to assume the proprietorship of the Munro House, he kept an hotel in Lakefield. He was a member of Peterboro Lodge A. F. and A. M., a Shriner, a member of the Oddfellows, Port Hope Lodge for 35 years, and a member of the Sons of Scotland. During his residence in the city he had always played an important part in the Agricultural Fair, of which he was a director for a number of years. His geniality as a host has won for him an unusually wide circle of friends and he was perhaps one of the best known men in the County of Peterborough.

His first wife, Margaret McKeown, predeceased him in 1900, and in 1911 he was married to Bertha Kelly, who survives. He leaves one daughter, Irene of Raton, Mexico, and three sons, Harry of Toronto, Kelly and Joseph at home.

The funeral will be held on Thursday at 3.30 to the Little Lake cemetery. Service will be conducted by Rev. Ernest Whelpton, of Hamilton, and Archdeacon Davidson at the Munro House.

Mr Munro was a prominent Mason, being a Past Master of Clementi Lodge No. 213, A.F. & A.M. and affiliated with Peterboro Lodge, No. 155 in 1901.

He also was a member of Peterboro Chapter No. 36 Royal Arch Masons and a Knight Templer being a member of Rameses Temple, Toronto. His connection with other fraternal societies was with the Independent Order of Oddfellows and Sons of Scotland.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

Editor of The Examiner:

Dear Sir,—Re your editorial concerning the 57th Regiment.

Is the bandmaster an overseas man and does he still hold his rank as previously?

If returned men are expected to join up then certainly a returned men's band should lead them.

There are two returned bandmasters in town, and sufficient bandsmen who donned the khaki and did sonething more than keep the home fires burning for the last four years. Give us a chance.

Yours,
Returned Bandsman.

"Coming of Age Sale"

3 DAYS ONLY

AN ANNIVERSARY EVENT THAT MARKS THE TWENTY-FIRST BIRTHDAY OF THIS STORE

Commencing on Thursday and Continuing Until 9.30 O'Clock Next Saturday Night

A STORE THAT ENDEAVORS TO DO ITS PART IN THE COMMUNITY

TWENTY-ONE YEARS ago this store opened its doors to the Peterborough public. It has been twenty-one years of continual growth and pleasant relations. From a store of two thousand, one hundred and sixty square feet that employed five persons and dealt exclusively in dry goods lines, it has spread to a departmental store of fifty thousand square feet that supplies this community with widely different kinds of commodities and now employs seventy-five persons. From the opening day to the present time the store policy has been service—better service and a dollar's worth of goods in return for a dollar, and many special events throughout the year that give more than a dollar's worth in return. It is only fitting that on the Anniversary of the Twenty-First Birthday of this business that we celebrated its growth and expansion by offering a large assortment of merchandise at prices much below their present day value..

LINGERED TOO LONG

Between the idiot and the man of sense, the lunatic and the man of genius, there are degrees—streaks—of idiocy and lunacy. How many expectant politicians elected to congress have entered Washington all hope, eager to dare and do, and have come away broken in health, fame and fortune, happy to get back home—sometimes unable to get away, to linger on in obscurity and poverty to a squalid and wretched old age.

I have lived long enough to have known many such: Senators who have filled the galleries when they rose to speak; house heroes living while they could on borrowed money, then hanging about the hotels begging for money to buy a drink.

There was a famous statesman and orator who came to this at last, of whom the typical and characteristic story was told that the holder of a claim against the government, who dared not approach so great a man with so much as the intimation of a bribe, undertook by argument to interest him in the merit of the case.

The great man listened and replied: "I have noticed you scattering your means around here pretty freely, but you havent said 'turkey' to me."

Surprised, but glad and unabashed, the claimant said, "I was coming to that," produced a thousand-dollar bank roll and entered into an understanding what was to be done next day, when the bill was due on the calendar.

The great man took the money, repaired to a gambling house, had an extraordinary run of luck, won heavily and playing all night, forgetting about his engagement, went to bed at daylight, not appearing in the house at all. The bill was called, and there being nobody to represent it, under the rule it went over and to the bottom of the calendar, killing it for that session of course.

The day after the claimant met his recalcitrant attorney on the avenue face and face and took him to task for his delinquency.

"Ah, yes," said the great man, "you are the little rascal who tried to bribe me the other day. Here is your dirty money. Take it and be off with you. I was just seeing how far you would go."

The comment made by those who best knew the great man was that if instead of winning in the gambling house he had lost he would have been up betimes at his place in the house and doing his utmost to pass the claimant's bill and get another fee.—Henry Watterson in Saturday Evening Post.

Watterson's Early Recollection.

I was fond of going up to the capitol and of playing amateur page in the house, of which my father had been a member and where he had many friends, though I was never officially a page, writes Henry Watterson in the Saturday Evening Post.

There was a particular little old bald-headed gentleman who was good to me and would put his arm about me and stroll with me across the rotunda to the library of congress and get me books to read. I was not so young as not to know that he was an ex-president of the United States, and to realize the meaning of it. He had been the oldest member of the house when my father was the youngest. He was John Quincy Adams.

By chance I was on the floor of the house when he fell in his place, and followed the excited and tearful throng when they bore him into the speaker's room, kneeling by the side of the sofa with an improvised fan and crying as if my heart would break.

Gum Chewing Popular in Far East.

One can escape chewing gum by departing this life, but he cannot do so by merely taking leave of America. It has become virtually universal, due to the universality of mortal waywardness because of the energy and ingenuity of American advertisers. England resisted perpetual motion of the jaws for a long time, then fell; parts of Europe still hold out bravely, but it is in the eastern hemisphere that chewing gum's greatest and most surprising ravages are to be found. The Chinese rickshaw coolie now has his gum; the Japanese geisha chews in rhythm with her dancing feet; and there are similar manifestations of the growing popularity of gum in Burma, Siam, India, the Dutch East Indies, the Philippines and Australia. Happily this token of civilization is not worse, but infinitely better, than the Orient's unwholesome betel nut, which it is to some degree supplanting.—Bellman.

FISH FALL IN LOVE.

They Are Not So Cold Blooded as Tradition Says.

Fish fall in love just as surely as do the higher animals and human beings. It has been proved, too, that they give expression to their emotions and feelings.

A famous authority, Dr. Francis Ward, said this, and added that if one only knows how to observe fish one can tell what they are thinking about, what they intend to do, and what they are feeling!

It may seem highly ridiculous to talk about the emotions of fish, and of their intentions, but they have these feelings, and they do express them. They love and fight as we do.

That fish can actually reason, although very slowly, has been proved by M. Oxner, the French naturalist. He made a series of interesting experiments with native fish.

He baited a hook, and two inches above it fastened a tiny piece of white paper. With this bait he tempted a recently captured fish. But this fish was wily, and for seven days refused the bait. Then, the next day, when the week-old memory of its capture had apparently vanished from its mind, the fish bit and was hooked.

M Oxner carefully unhooked the catch and replaced it in the water. Three times more the fish bit, with a day's interval between each bite. But after that it no longer touched the bait, for the meaning of the paper signal had become known to it.

On the twelfth day the piece of paper was removed from the hook, and the fish straightway bit the bait! The paper was thereupon replaced, and for three days Mr. Fish refused to tackle the lure, contenting himself with watching it from a safe distance. On the fourth day however, the fish swam right up to the paper signal, sniffed it, and then descended and very cautiously nibbled the bait until it had succeeded in eating it all off the hook without swallowing the latter. On the bait being replaced, the fish did exactly the same thing, and so carefully avoided "capture." Experiments with other fish always had the same result.

The following humorous anecdote amply proves that fish—or, at any rate, trout—have memories:

An expert pisciculturist kept a large trout captive in a pool. Whenever anyone approached the hatchery this trout would show itself, and appear to be examining its visitors. By way of experiment the expert would get a trout rod and hold it at the side of the pool. Immediately the trout would swim swiftly into hiding,its fins bristling, its skin pale with fear, and its eyes glaring. It would remain hidden as long as the trout rod was in evidence.

The explanation of this trout's fear of the rod is that early in its life the expert cast a new barbless hook into the pool with a trout rod in order to test it. The trout seized the hook, which penetrated its upper jaw. By the time it had been released, the fear and pain it had suffered evidently had made a lasting impression upon its memory.

An astonishing fact is that when the owner of the trout brought an ordinary stick or cane into view the fish would take no notice whatever!

Fish make love to the partners of their choice practically in the same way that pigeons coo and bow to their mates.

If, however, his persuasive methods of love-making are not favorably received, he gets annoyed and attacks her mercilessly!

The bride is simply driven into the nest and forced to "make itself at home." It often happens that two or more fish claim the same mate. In that case a fierce fight ensues, and the bravest gets the fairest.

When a fish is enraged it becomes brilliant in color, and all its fins bristle sharply. When frightened it literally goes pale with fear, just as a human being does. This pallor is due to the fact that alarm causes the pigment cells in the fish's skin to contract and the white flesh to show through.—Tit-Bits.

Human Hair Traffic.

Apart from being curious, the trade in human hair is a big industry. Italians easily take the lead in this traffic, the main source of their supply being obtained from the peasant women of Italy, Dalmatia, and Switzerland. Several times a year there human hair merchants send their agents around to collect supplies, which are usually immense, for hair-growing is cultivated on a very large scale by these women and yields a good remuneration to the producer. Two crops of hair a year, and looking none the worse for the loss, is not extraordinary among these peasant-women. Half the hair at the back of the head is shorn off, the remaining half being drawn over the exposed part, and dressed in such a manner as only to be detected on very close scrutiny and by those experienced in the trade.—Family Herald.

LACROSSE POPULAR ACROSS BORDER

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Feb. 24.—Lacrosse will receive more attention at Yale this spring than heretofore, and as a member of the northern section of the Intercollegiate League the Blue will play Rutgers, Brooklyn Lacrosse Club, Pennsylvania, Stevens Institute and Syracuse in New Haven during April.

Other dates are:—Cornell at Ithaca, May 7; Harvard at Cambridge, May 15; and Hobart at New Haven, May 24.

The above despatch appeared in the Globe a few days ago, and in reference to the matter Mr. R. J. Bigley, an old lacrosse player and enthusiast draws attention to the fact that unless Ontario takes up the matter of lacrosse more seriously we are likely to lose our National game to the United States and suggests that when a Peterboro Amateur Organization is formed permanently that it go in to the matter in a thorough manner.

CONNAL AND KAY IN FINAL TO-NIGHT

The final of the winter's schedule games at the Charlotte street rink will be played to-night between J. H. Connal and Alex. Kay. The winners of the three groups into which the schedule was divided were George Stevenson Connal and Kay. Monday night Kay defeated Stevenson by 14 to 9, and last night Connal qualified for the final with a score of 18 to 9 against Stevenson.

To-night's game will begin at 8 o'clock with the following rinks:

C. H. Thurber	Max Swanston
Geo. Hall	J. W. Richmond
T. O. Donaldson	A. Webb
A. C. Kay, skip.	J. H. Connal, skip

MILLBROOK CURLERS GIVE ANGUS A PIPE

The four rinks of Millbrook curlers while in Peterboro for scratch games with the local club took Angus McIntosh by surprise when they called him upstairs ostensibly to arrange a draw. The visitors had their own stage all set for a presentation of a pipe to Mr. McIntosh as a token of their appreciation of his prompt arrangements for the cartage and handling of their stones in their visits to Peterboro. Mr. McIntosh expressed his appreciation of the Millbrook curlers' thoughtfulness and stated that he was always glad to assist the visiting rinks in any way his duties affordede.

FIRE HALL TEAM DEFEATED ROVERS

The Fire Hall hockey team staged a come-back last night and trimmed the Collegiate Rovers by the extremely close score of 0 to 1. For the Fire Hall team, Cecil LeBar, McDougall and Pethick starred. Their fine shooting and back-checking were features of the game. Whitlow in the nets also played a good game and turned away a host of shots. For the Rovers, Hensley was the most dangerous man. His speed and stick-handling kept some of the Fire Hall puck-chasers busy. Rishor also played a good game for the Rovers.

FISKE O'HARA

This season Fiske O'Hara will appear at the Grand as the man from "Down Limerick Way," the new romantic comedy by Anna Nichols which has been chosen by Augustus Pitou as the vehicle for his delightful and winning talents as the most popular of Irish actor-singers. The certainty that Mr. O'Hara in his latest play always pleases, and gives bounded satisfaction to his admirers presages a successful engagement.

The plot of "Down Limerick Way" has to do with a carefree young Irish nobleman, whose sister is a confirmed match-maker who will never be happy until he is married to some wealthy heiress. She brings, as visitors, many femine aspirants, but her brother cleverly dodges the matrimonial yoke.

Out of a clear sky, through the will of a poet who has just died, he is left as a legacy a lovely young girl, whose only dowry is her pansy eyes.

His brother, secretly married, leaves his child in the girl's care—swearing her to secrecy as to who is the parent.

The amusing complications make for humorous situations, and the golden thread of a beautiful love story is always present. A major attraction of the entertainment will be Mr. O'Hara's new selection of song ballads, as only he can sing them, which were especially written for this play.

The supporting company is a notable one, including: Patricia Clary, Nan Bernard, Mary Louise Malloy, Laurette Allen, Robert H. Irving, J. B. Sullivan, J. E. Miller, W. T. Sheehan and Norman Post.

CAME ALL THE WAY FROM ALBERTA FOR A PETERBORO BRIDE WHOM HE MARRIED TO-DAY AT LOCAL SHELTER

CULMINATING EVENT OF ROMANCE WAS ACCOUNTED FOR THIS MORNING WHEN MRS. MARY ELLEN READ BECAME BRIDE OF MR. BENJAMIN CHAMBERS.

A romance commencing in the casual exchange of letters between two persons unknown to one another culminated this morning in the first wedding which has even been performed in the Children's Shelter when Mrs. Mary Ellen Read, matron of the Shelter was united in marriage to Benjamin Chambers, Burbank, Western Alberta.

The ceremony was performed in the reception room of the Shelter Adjutant Wallace Bunton officiating and was witnessed by a number of the Board members and friends of the contracting parties. The bride was was attended by Mrs. J. W. E. Tighe, wore a becoming gown of grey silk poplin and corsage bouquet of pink roses, the latter the gift of members of the Board. The groom was supported by Mr. J. T. Braund.

The Speeches.

After the ceremony during which selections were played on the Victrola the wedding party enjoyed a sumptuous breakfast in the dining room at the conclusion of which Adjutant Bunton called upon Mrs. W. H. Gibbs, a veteran member of the Shelter Board to propose a toast and in doining so Mrs. Gibbs after wishing the couple every hapiness reminded the groom that he had won the second best woman on earth, she Mrs. Gibbs, claiming first place. Knowing the sterling qualities possessed by the matron, Mrs. Gibbs regretted the loss the Shelter sustains by her resignation. Mr. Braund in a brief speech congratulated Mr. Chambers upon his good luck in having found Mrs. Reid. Adjutant Buntin in a speech brimming over with humor harked back to the beginning of time remarking that in the beginning woman had been after man and had kept after them ever since and heartily congratulated the bride upon her choice. He concluded by speaking in laudatory terms of the qualities possessed by the bride.

Bride's Reply.

In replying to the speeches Mrs. Chambers said that she would never forget the many kindnesses shown her by the Board during her three years as matron of the Shelter. The time she had spent there were counted amongst the best in her life. She also thanked Adjutant and Mrs. Buntin for their kindness.

Remarking that it was the first time he had been married and that he was consequently reasonably unused to speech making, the groom expressed his gratitude for the reception he had received at the hands of the Peterboro people.

Those Present.

Those present at the ceremony were Adjutant and Mrs. Bunton, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Tighe, Mrs. Bettes, Mrs. White, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Braund, Miss Rose Bohn, Mrs. G. Grant, Mrs. Brayley, Mrs. Kimberley, Mrs. W. H. Gibbs, Mrs. Walter Stocker, Mrs. Barrow and Mr. Wright.

Mr. and Mrs. Chambers will leave in a month to reside in Burbank, Alta., where Mr. Chambers is engineer for the water plant of the Canadian Northern Railway. He formerly resided in Peterboro.

COMMITTEE OF THE WHOLE COUNCIL RECOMMEND $200 GRANT FOR MAGISTRATE DUMBLE, BUT REFUSE FIRE CHIEF'S REQUEST FOR NEW AUTOMOBILE.

A meeting of the Committee of the Whole Council arranged after Monday night's performance and an [illegible] at the city hall at the last minute yesterday afternoon was held last night.

The city hall salaries were again put through the windmill and with only one exception came through intact, although pruning gestures were made at several of them.

The item of $[illegible] for a new automobile for Fire Chief Grange was struck out of the Fire Water and Light Committee's estimates. Chief Grange and several members of the department were present, and the question of the firemen's salaries was disposed of by tacking $200 to the present salary of each employee.

Ald. Phelan moved, seconded by Ald. Morrison that the tax collector Green's salary be confirmed at $2,250, but Ald. Crowe offered an amendment, seconded by Ald. Gainey that the tax collector receive $1,800 and that he be allowed to employ help up to $220, the help to be paid on the certificate of the chairman of the Finance Committee.

The amendment carried.

Ald. Phelan's amendment that the City Engineer's salary be $3,000 instead of $3,300 was seconded by Ald. Crowe, but was defeated in the vote.

Ald. Jones submitted an amendment that City Solicitor Widdifield's salary be $1,200 instead of $1,500 was seconded by Ald. Crowe and lost.

The salary of Miss Alice Jackson stenographer to the City Engineer was raised to $700.

Magistrate Recognized.

On Ald. Gordon's motion, seconded by Ald. Copping, Magistrate Dumbles salary was increased from $1,400 to $1,600.

Ald. Phelan moved, seconded by Ald. Copping that in the opinion of this Council the provision of the Public Health Act taking the contract of the position of Medical Officer of Health from municipal councils is not conducive to good government and is a serious infringement on the authority of the councils and should be repealed, and that a copy of this resolution be sent to the Minister of Health and to Mr. T. Tooms, M.P.P.

The grant of $3,000 to the Industrial Exhibition was passed on Ald. Phelan's motion, seconded by Ald. Gordon.

Ald. Turner and Jones moved an amendment for $5,000 but the motion was sustained.

FEDERAL GOVERNMENT HAS JURISDICTION

(Canadian Press.)

OTTAWA, March 3.—The right to enact legislation on an eight hour day is in the hands of Provincial Governments, it is announced by the Labor Minister in connection with application of one of provinces for a ruling on the subject. The position is that the Federal government has jurisdiction under its treaty making rights to enact such legislation as may be necessary to give effect to provisions of any international treaty if provincial legislatures do not see fit to act in the matter.

GEORGE STREET METHODIST CHURCH

To-night will be Young People's night at the special services which are being held at the George street Methodist church. The young people are planning to attend in large numbers. The older people will be welcome at the meeting and their presence will be helpful. Every young person is especially invited. The pastor's subject will be "Rock or Sand." The meeting will be short and bright.

An audience which used almost the entire seating capacity of the school room was present at the meeting of women last night. Great interest is being manifested.

To-morrow night there will be a mass meeting of men. Watch for the announcement.

ARE YOU WATCHING

HOW TO OFFSET THE RISING COST OF HOME A D PERSONAL NEEDS FOR SPRING?

In the face of the rising prices for everything that enters into housekeeping, it is wise to seize every opportunity that is going. The reductions all over the Swartz store, where the going-out-of-business sale is on, have been of such a surprising nature that they have packed the store to capacity on various occasions. From now on until the store is closed the values will be still greater. Every line must be sold out to close up the business quickly so that the final reductions will be at an unheard of low level. Many of the lines offered consist of new Spring Goods ordered before Mr. Swartz decied to give up business. These too are being sold with the same reckless regard to cost as the rest of the stock, and are being picked up by customers who usually do their principal buying at the largest stores in the city. No time should be lost by those who desire to reap the big bargains offered daily on which so many have saved a lot of good money since this sale began.

NEW ROAD WILL BE TAKEN INTO GENERAL SYSTEM

(Canadian Press.)

TORONTO, March 3.—Replying to deputation from Prescott, to-day, Hon. F. C. Biggs announced, that the road from Ottawa to Point Fortune will become a provincial highway. A complete announcement of system of provincial highways will be made by the Minister in his address before the Good Roads Association this afternoon.

PREMIER SAYS HE IS FEELING BETTER

(Canadian Press.)

NEW YORK, March 3.—Sir Robert Borden, accompanied by Lady Borden left this afternoon for Charleston, South Carolina. The Premier after his sea voyage and day spent resting here was feeling much improved in health. He caught cold on the first day of the voyage and was still feeling effects of it when he reached Halifax. He is now reported to have shaken it off and appears to be well on road to complete recovery. Sir Robert declined to discuss his future plans but it was predicted by those who saw him here, that he would be able to resume his duties.

BILL TO AMEND RAILWAY ACT

Will Bring Vessel Men Under Control.

(Canadian Press.)

OTTAWA, March 3.—Notice has been given by W. E. Armstrong, East Lambton, of a bill to amend the Railway Act which, if carried, would bring all the lake, canal and coast-wise traffic in Canada under the Board of Railway Commissioners. A similar bill has been introduced in preceding session, but has been defeated.

Many associations representing both consumers and producers are said to be in favor of the move, as at the present time outside of certain steamship lines which are operated by railway companies ,the vessel men are practically laws unto themselves in regard to tariffs and time and manner of calling at ports.

WILL MAKE A GRANT

TORONTO, March 3.—Replying to a large deputation from Peterborough to-day, Hon. Manning Doherty, Minister of Agriculture, stated that if the local authorities provided facilities for an annual winter fair, the government would make a grant towards the prize funds.

WILL NOT RESTRICT LIQUOR IMPORTATION INTO THE PROVINCE

Hon. W. E. Raney Claims a Misunderstanding Has Arisen.

(Canadian Press.)

TORONTO, March 3.—Hon. W. E. Raney stated to-day that a misunderstanding has arisen with reference to his reply to the Dominion Alliance request. The impression conveyed by morning newspapers is that there will be no amendments to the Ontario Temperance Act the Attorney General explained.

"As a matter of fact the government now has under consideration amendments to sections relating to the enforcement of the Act. My statement to the Dominion Alliance was to the effect that there would be no amendments to restrict the importation of liquor into the province.

MODIFYING THE PEACE STRICTURES

ALLIES ARE SHOWING MORE LIBERAL ATTITUDE TOWARDS GERMANY.

RUSSIAN TRADE

(United Press.)

LONDON, March 3.—Prime Minister Lloyd George's plan for a more liberal attitude toward Germany, both in enforcement of the treaty of V rsailles and in the commercial and economic rehabilitation of the German nation, has begun to bear fruit, it was learned to-day. The Council of Premiers, it was understood, has prepared a statement based upon the deliberations of its economic section, in which it emphasizes that Germany must be restored to economic prosperity. The statement, it was understood, was decided upon after considerable argument by the British conferes. A softer tone toward the Russian Soviet government, permitting more direct negotiations in the Allied plan to resume trade with Russia also was forecast.

WAS PROPRIETOR OF THE MUNRO HOUSE FOR LAST TWENTY YEARS.

Robert John Munro, proprietor of the Munro House, died last evening at 9 o'clock, after an illness of about two weeks, aged 62 years. Deceased was born in Embro, Ontario, near Woodstock, in 1858, and resided for some time in Port Hope and Bowmanville, receiving his education in the latter town. Previous to coming to the city in 1900 to assume the proprietorship of the Munro House, he kept an hotel in Lakefield. He was a member of Peterboro Lodge A. F. and A. M., a Shriner, a member of the Oddfellows, Port Hope Lodge for 35 years, and a member of the Sons of Scotland. During his residence in the city he had always played an important part in the Agricultural Fair, of which he was a director for a number of years. His geniality as a host has won for him an unusually wide circle of friends and he was perhaps one of the best known men in the County of Peterborough.

His first wife, Margaret McKeown, predeceased him in 1909, and in 1911 he was married to Bertha Kelly, who survives. He leaves one daughter, Irene, of Raton, Mexico, and three sons, Harry of Toronto, Kelly and Joseph at home.

The funeral will be held on Thursday at 1.30 to the Little Lake cemetery. Service will be conducted by Rev. Ernest Whelpton, of Hamilton, and Archdeacon Davidson at the Munro House.

Mr. Munro was a prominent Mason, being a Past Master of Clementi Lodge No. 313, A.F. & A.M. and affiliated with Peterboro Lodge, No. 155 in 1901.

He also was a member of Peterboro Chapter No. 36, Royal Arch Masons and a Knight Templer being a member of Rameses Temple, Toronto. His connection with other fraternal societies was with the Independent Order of Oddfellows and Sons of Scotland.

Strike Leaders to Appeal Directly to the Privy Council

THEY SEE LITTLE HOPE OF GETTING FAVOURABLE JUDGMENT IN THE APPEAL COURT.

(Special to The Examiner.)

WINNIPEG, March 3.—It is probable that strike leaders will attempt to appeal directly to the Privy Council in event they are convicted in the trial just drawing to close. This was forecast today by the defence counsel, the prediction, voiced by Ward Holland, who represents George Armstrong, is based on the written judgment of court of appeal on the R. B. Russell case, just handed down, in which five appellate Justices unanimously uphold Russell's conviction and characterize the Winnipeg General Strike as "Step toward Revolution" and "an attempt to establish a Soviet in Canada." The defence see the futility of carrying the case to the Appeal Court if the strike leaders are convicted because the evidence in the Russell and the present trials has been largely along same lines and appeal justices, in their adjugments leave no room for doubt as to their opinion regarding whether the strike was legal, or otherwise. They are confident, however, that in event of conviction and if given permission to carry the case to the Privy Council they have a good chance of winning, because the English law on general or sympathetic strikes differs materially from Canadian. Under English law, upon which Privy Council would decide the appeal the defence counsel assert there can be no question as to the legality of the Winnipeg strike. If William Ivens, George Armstrong, Ald. Jno. Queen and A. A. Heaps, W. A. Pritchard, R. J. Johns and R. E. Bray are convicted, the defence will ask permission at once to take the case to the Privy Council, according to Holland, and at same time will take the Russell case.

INCREASED GRANT TO FAIR BOARD, THEN REVOKED IT

MAYOR M'INTYRE'S STAND FOR A $5,000 CONTRIBUTION FROM THE CITY WAS UNDONE BY ALD. HAMILTON'S ADHERENCE TO FORMER ATTITUDE.

OPPOSITION PERSISTENT

Caught in two tie votes last night, the Council's grant to the Peterborough Industrial Exhibition was first increased from $3,000 to $5,000, and within an hour was held up in its by-law passage and sent back to the Committee of the Whole for further consideration.

Ald. Turner presented the committee's report, which included the grants of $1,000 to the G.W.V.A., $1,000 to the Playgrounds Association, $400 to the District L.O.L., $25 to the Sick Children's Hospital and the Exhibition grant.

With his fluent eloquence, Ald. Turner advocated the increase of the contribution to the Fair to $5,000. His persuasiveness covered the present needs and the future expansion of the Exhibition.

President Roland Denne and Vice-President R. H. Turner urged that the entire sum of $5,000 be granted as requested. The directors were not asking for something for themselves, they said, nor would they slacken their endeavours for the success of the Fair if the larger sum was not appropriated, but they pointed out that encouragement from the city would be a new inspiration, and would positively assure the erection of buildings that have already been planned.

The First Vote.

Ald. Turner moved an amendment to the Committee of the Whole's report, seconded by Ald. Whitehousee, that the Fair grant be $5,000.

Aldermen Gainey and Morrison combined for an amendment to the amendment that this item be reierred back to the Committee.

The vote on the second amendment confronted Mayor McIntyre with a tie. Those in favour were Aldermen Gainey, Morrison, Crowe, and Gordon; and those opposed, Aldermen Copping, Whitehouse Jones, and Turner.

Ald. Phelan was absent and Ald. Hamilton hadn't arrived at that stage.

Mayor McIntyre swung the balance against the Gainey amendment, and by a reverse alignment Ald. Turner's amendment carried, with the Mayor casting his vote for the $5,000 grant.

"The Fair Board," he declared, "ought to be encouraged. They are doing a lot of work for nothing and the least the city can do is to back them up."

The Committee's report was then altered by changing the $3,000 to $5,000.

Some One Remembered.

And then Ald. Hamilton arrived. Over on the Labour wing some one displayed a retentive memory. Apparently it was either Ald. Gainey or Ald. Gordon who remembered that when the grants were under discussion in committee, Ald. Hamilton had expressed the opinion that $3,000 was a large enough sum for the Fair Board this year.

When the by-law authorising the grants, as denominated in the Committee of the Whole's report, was introduced, Ald. Hamilton was named by the Mayor to preside in the second reading.

Whoever recalled Ald. Hamilton's previous attitude, it was Ald. Crowe who moved an amendment to the by-law that the grant to the Fair Board be cut back to $3,000.

Ald. Gordon seconded this motion, and the vote stood adversely 5 to 4 as follows:

For—Aldermen Gordon, Crowe, Morrison, and Gainey.

"The amendment is lost" Alderman Hamilton announced.

Called Ayes and Nays.

Ald. Gainey: Let's have the ayes and nays, Mr. Chairman, to see where you stand.

Ald. Hamilton voted for the amendment, which then stood a tie—five for and five against.

The vote on the motion was exactly the opposite, and was likewise obtained by calling the ayes and nays at Ald. Gordon's suggestion.

This definitely held up the grant to the Exhibition Board.

Ald. Turner was visibly crestfallen, and Ald. Whitehouse said: "We are always talking about boosting Peterborough, and yet some of this Council are the first to knock it down."

The Exhibition, he predicted would soor prove a big asset to the city. Picton had buildings that Peterborough would be glad to have on their Fair Grounds.

Ald. Hamilton: My idea is that there are so many demands on the Council this year that $3,000 should be enough for the Exhibition.

Ald. Crowe: Hear, hear.

Ald. Gordon: That's the idea.

The by-law confirming the grants was held up by the equal division of the Council in regard to the Fair grant.

Ald. Gainey moved, seconded by Ald. Hamilton, that the Exhibition item be referred to the Committee of the Whole for renewed deliberation, and the vote was at last unanimous, retrograde.

The other grants were then approved as the by-law passed from the Committee breakers into the quiet harbour of the third reading.

Mr. John Newell of Wisconsin, U.S.A. brother of Mrs. John F. Leeson Douro Township, spent a very pleasant visit at his sister's home where he was welcomed by many friends after [illegible]

THE RED FORCES ARE ADVANCING

LONDON, March 3.—Russian Bolshevik forces are advancing rapidly in the Caucasus region, according to an official telegram received by Reuter's from Moscow during the past two weeks. The message says, Soviet troops in that district have captured seventeen thousand prisoners and General Denikine's army is declared to be gradually dispersing.

RING FAMINE

(United Press)

NEW YORK, March 3.—Following a disclosure that the demand for marriage licenses has increased in all parts of the country during the first two months of leap year, it was learned here today there is a scarcity of wedding rings. A shortage of gold and the growing demand, according to wholesale jewellers, have combined to bring about the ring "famine." Prospects of combining the engagement and wedding rings into a special design which would serve both purposes is being discussed and it is probable the new combination engagement-wedding ring will become a reality, jewellers say.

BURNHAM'S FIELD DAY IN THE HOUSE

ATTACKS PROHIBITION AND SAYS FARMERS' UNION FOUNDED ON SELFISHNESS.

A feature of D. D. McKenzie's speech in the House to-day, and one which induced J. H. Burnham, of West Peterborough, later to congratulate him upon his courageous and unequivocal advocacy of the policy of protection, was his comment upon the trade situation arising out of the depreciated value of the Canadian dollar in the United States. "Let me say this to the Government and to the country," declared Mr. McKenzie, "that while I am anxious for the widest possible trade with foreign countries, I would not trade to the extent of one five cent piece with any country which did not recognize the Canadian dollar at the full face value of that dollar. If this country is loyal to itself, loyal to its principles, loyal to its institutions, it will staud by Canadianism in the matter of havng any trade with any country that will not recognize the Canadian dollar at the full face as international currency." The declaration carried the memory back to the debates upon the reciprocity agreement of 1911.

Wrecker's Lantern.

L. J. Gauthier, of Ste. Hyacinthe, quite plainly indicated that "the light in the window" of which Mr. McKenzie spoke a year ago as a guide for absent Liberals, was in fact a wrecker's lantern intended to lure the erring ones to their destruction. Mr. Gauthier plainly stated that the animosities engendered by the cleavage in the party in 1917 were not forgotten. "An honorable member," he asserted, "says that now is the time to try and get nearer to the Province of Quebec Speaking in my own name and for my province, I shall quote the words of one of our public men who says that the Province of Quebec is not in a state of mind to enter into any conference; it has been misjudged, it has been badly treated, it has been slandered, it is waiting for its own, and after that it will confer and not before."

The words brought Mr. Burnham to his feet. He demanded to know if they were intended as a threat.

"It is not a threat. It is a declaration," Mr. Gauthier called back.

Mr. Burnham again protested. "The difference between a threat and a declaration of that kind," he retorted, "is that the man who makes it is afraid to back it up."

"You have no right to insinuate that I am a coward," sharply replied Mr. Gauthier

The Speaker intervened. Mr. Burnham remarked that he was not attributing physical cowardice to Mr. Gauthier. "I am attributing to him moral cowardice —" So Mr. Burnham was proceeding when again the Speaker intervened. He asked Mr. Burnham to withdraw. Mr. Burnham complied, further remarking that he did not care a brass farthing "whether they threaten or whether they don't."

Against Prohibition.

A bitter attack upon prohibitionists was made by Mr. Burnham. After declaring that the day of coal was over, and that electricnty was not nearly so valuable to the business world as industrial alcohol, Mr. Burnham said this same industrial alcohol was the hope of the business world, but was in danger of being lost through the narrowness of prohibitionists.

"Even the alcohol which comes to Canada now has to go to Ottawa because of the nervousness of the prohibitionists and he diluted before it is sent out over the Dominion.

Deputation From Peterboro Waited Upon the Minister

LOCAL DELEGATES SEEK A DEMONSTRATION FARM FOR PETERBORO—THOSE PRESENT.

Special to the Examiner.

TORONTO, March 3. — A deputation from Peterboro City and district waited upon Hon. Manning Doherty, Minister of Agriculture, to-day, asking the establishment of a demonstration farm in connection with the Normal school at Peterboro. The purpose of the farm would be to give all students who desired to attain a thorough practical education in the most modern approved methods of operating a farm.

"We want the government to establish a demonstration farm to prove to the young men who take advantage of it that farming can be made to pay—that a farm can be operated on a business basis at a profit," Fred E. Wilson of the Peterboro County Council told the Minister.

The U.F.O., County Council, City Council and the Industrial Exhibition Board were represented on the deputation which included Mayor McIntyre, Ald. G. N. Gordon and J. Crowe, Thos. Tooms, M.P.P., G. A. Gillespie, ex-M.P.P., W. R. Breyfogle, Reg. Turner, Webber Turner, R. Denne, R. B. Rogers, R. T. Lillico, H. G. Webber, Fred E. Wilson, H. W. Baptie and R. Grandy.

SEVERAL FAMILIES ARE HOMELESS AS RESULT OF AN EARLY MORNING FIRE

COMBINED BUSINESS BLOCK AND APARTMENT HOUSE ON HUNTER STREET BADLY GUTTED —OCCUPANTS HAD A NARROW ESCAPE.

DAMAGE HEAVY

Fire broke out in the roof of the Bell building Hunter street this morning shortly before three o'clock and in spite of the efforts of the firemen swept down through the three stories completely gutting the third storey and rear of the second storey, leaving the lower storey undamaged except by water and smoke. The fire was still smoldering late this morning but a watchful eye is being kept on it by the firemen and any further outbreak will be promptly checked.

Police Constable Young passed the building at two o'clock this morning but no sign of fire was noticed. One hour later the upper storey was enveloped in flames.

Mr. James Lynch was returning home with Mr. Fred Whitcroft and Mr. W. M. Lang. At the corner of George and Hunter the group stopped for a minute to speak to Police Constable Lawrence. The fire was noticed under the roof by Mr. Lynch, when they were passing the building and they called Police Constable Lawrence from the corner. The alarm was turned in from the Bell Telephone office while the men aroused the inmates of the apartments above the stores, taking them out quickly as possible. The last inmate, Mrs. Alexander MacGregor was taken out of the burning building just as the roof began to settle.

Far and wide the lurid reflection could be seen and the flames fed by the dry shingles of the roof had already gained considerable headway when the firemen arrived.

Two lines of hose were laid at once from the hydrant a little west on Hunter, these being carried up the main stairway so the water could be played on the heart of the fire, but when the men went to turn the water on the hydrant was found to be frozen. This necessitated running a line from another hydrant.

Four Streams in Use

In a few minutes four streams were playing on the fire which had gained considerable headway and swept down into the third storey. The high walls made the fire very hard to fight but the windows in the third storey proved almost indestructible and stood up against the tons of water like armour plating. Even the revolver shots of the policemen failing to break them sufficiently to allow the water to enter freely.

The position of the structure, cut off on two sides by the creek made it hard to get the hose in behind, although it was a good thing in another way in preventing the fire from spreading. The fire found its way slowly, eating downward despite the water poured on it and all night long the firemen battled, daylight still finding them on the job.

The cause of the fire is unknown.

TWO STORES.

The building is divided into two stores; one conducted until recently by R. A. Lawson, but now operated by two Omemee men, Messrs. Stenson and Jones, and the other is the local agency of the Deering and McCormick farm implements, Mr. J. O'Reilly being the local manager.

The upper stories are divided into apartments in which there are living at the time of the fire four families besides Mrs. James R. Bell, the owner. These are Mr. and Mrs. Clee, Mr. and Mrs. Alexander MacGregor, Mr. and Mrs. Asker and Mr. and Mrs. Corbett.

These people were taken out of the building at a minute's notice and had no time to seize anything but the few clothes they could get their hands on and left in the building all their worldly possessions. They were at once taken care of by Bellephems and the American Hotel, warm drinks being served.

To-day the building presents a strange appearance with its coating of ice and blackened walls and the slight smudge of smoke still rising from the ruined interior.

Mrs. J. R. Bell, when interviewed by the Examiner stated that the loss was entirely covered by insurance, but expressed deep regret that some of the tenants found themselves unprotected from the fire fiend. She said that she would likely build again if it was at all possible.

This structure was erected some 40 years ago by the late John Wilson on the site of the old "Royal Oak" hotel, and the new building was called after its predecessor. Old residents will recall that it was a most pretentious and imposing structure as it was then almost twice as large as it now stands, extending right over the creek to Halpin's; the house in from the street now being part of the hostelry.

After about ten years the part extending over the present laneway, then an alley, was taken down, and subsequetly the other part of the structure was gradually pulled down until only the house and Bell's building now stands, a memory to the old building.

Subsequent proprietors of the Royal Oak were James O'Shea and Arthur Rountree and in later years Isaac Noble conducted it as a temperance hotel. About 7 or 8 years ago Mr. Bell took over the building, entirely renovating it and changing it to an apartment house with the two stores below.

BOMB EXPERT DROPPED DEAD

NEW YORK, March 3. — Owen Egan, bomb expert of the New York police department, who flirted with death for more than twenty-five years prying into the interior of infernal machines found in the city, dropped dead on the street of acute indigestion late last night.

A BIG VOTE POLLED AT ELECTIONS

BOARD OF TRADE

The thirty-first annual election of the Council of the Board of Trade was held yesterday in the Council room of that body. The polls were open from twelve until two o'clock and from seven until half past eight, during which time the rooms were crowded with members casting their ballots. Those declared elected by the judges were as follows:

Thomas Barrie, Barrie's Limited, Furriers.

Russell V. Copping Alderman.

Joseph J. Duffus, Manager, Duffus Motor Sales.

J. Wells Fraser, Manager Bank of Nova Scotia.

John J. Hartley, Building Contractor.

H. R. H. Kenner, Principal, Collegiate Institute.

Robert G. Kingan, President, Kingan Hardware Co.

George A. Macdonald, Quaker Oats Co.

W. A. Richardson, Sec.-Treas. Peterborough Canoe Co.

Fred L. Roy, Photographer.

William Sangster, Engineer, De Laval Co.

Charles E. Sisson, Canadian General Electric Co.

P. P. Westbye, General Manager, Wm. Hamilton Co., Limited.

Frank Whitehouse, Alderman.

Edgar Worth, General Manager, Canadian Woollens, Ltd.

A Large Vote.

The Committee of Judges that served during the entire time was made up of, G. O. Cameron, chairman, R. L. Dobbin, E. L. Payne, F. C. Hungerford and C. E. Smith.

The vote was surprisingly large and the Committe of Judges did not complete their counting until about ten o'clock, when the certificate of election was signed.

Mr. G. O. Cameron, chairman of the Committee of Judges, said the election was a great success, in that in itself it was an eye-opener to many.

The best of feeling prevailed all the way through, and the results showed thoughtful and careful consideration on the part of the members.

Realizing the responsibility of the Board of Trade as a civic institution with a real mission, the members seemed anxous to elect a capable and dependable council.

Four members of the retiring Council were nominated and were elected; these include Vice-President Thomas Barrie, Frank Whitehouse, President of the Mercantile Association John J. Hartley and ex-Mayor Duffus. The election of these men indicated a desire to perpetuate the policy established during the first re-organized year.

The Council-elect includes six representatives of industrial institutions, four of commercial houses, and one each of building, banking, education, photography and the Board of Aldermen.

The new Council will convene this evening to qualify and consider the election of a President, Vice-President Treasurer and Executive Committee.

The duties of the Council and officers do not begin until the date of the annual election on March ninth, when they will be formally inducted. On that occasion the retiring President will make his valedictory address and his successor an inaugural one.

WELL KNOWN MINISTER DIED AT ATLANTIC CITY

Was Formerly Pastor of Well Known Toronto Church.

(Special to The Examiner.)

BROCKVILLE, March 3.—Word was received here this morning of the death at Atlantic City of Rev. Dr. Daniel Strachan, formerly pastor of St. John's church and of Rosedale church, Toronto, who was in the service of the Educational Department of the Imperial Oil Co. He took a prominent part in the labor and industrial convention at Ottawa last year.

HEAVY DEATH TOLL DUE TO INFLUENZA

TORONTO, March 3. — During February there were more than twenty thousand cases of influenza and pneumonia in Ontario and twenty-three hundred deaths reported to the Provincial Health Department. The toll of deaths while heavy is not nearly so bad as in October, 1918, when the epidemic caused more than three thousand deaths. Cases of small pox numbered 600 or decrease of over three hundred from January figures. Nine deaths reported.

Report states that doctors are not reporting cases of disease as required by legislation.

THE CLAIMS OF THE MIDLANDS.

The system of Provincial Highways that is being developed under the roads policy of the Hon. F. C. Biggs, is gradually being specified, the latest to be officially sanctioned being the Port Credit to Owen Sound highway, which as the result of the visit of a large delegation, is to be included in the Provincial list. Other districts are pressing for similar roads and the Midland district is in danger of being neglected unless an energetic effort is made to bring before the Minister of Public Works the claims of this section of Ontario. The municipalities affected should lose no time in pressing for the adoption of the Port Hope-Peterboro-Kawartha Lakes road, if not as a Provincial trunk line, at least as a most important feeder, serving a large section of the Midland district, and opening to the tourist traffic the beauties of the Kawartha Lakes. The different municipalities will doubtless gladly cooperate in such an effort, and the situation should be laid before Mr. Biggs before his programme for the season is finally completed.

THE BOARD OF COMMERCE.

The Board of Commerce's experiment in abolishing the control on the price of sugar, may succeed in proving that profit-fixing was a success, but it has not resulted in securing any additional popularity for the Board. There seems to be a feeling that the commissioners have made a mistake in issuing a virtual invitation to raise prices. If they were satisfied that controlling profits was a method that was beneficial to the public, they should not have abandoned the policy even temporarily, merely to prove that they were right. The desire to demonstrate this fact may be a perfectly natural one, and justified to some extent by criticism of the Board's policy, but never-theless popular opinion seems to be inclined to find fault with the latest action of the Board.

The operations of the Commissioners will undoubtedly be an early issue in the present session of the House. Not only will there be a demand for an official explanation of the resignation of Judge Robson but there is almost certain to be a request for the abolition of the Board itself. Many farmers are opposed to its operations and in these days the voice of the agricultural interests receives a more attentive hearing than in the days gone by.

THE OTTAWA RIDDLE.

The popular game at Ottawa just now seems to be guessing the name of the successor to Sir Robert Borden. The Premier is believed to be through and Hon. J. A. Calder when he arrives back in the capital after consulting his leader is expected to bring the definite announcement that Sir Robert's health has not improved enough to enable to resume his duties. The situation from a Unionist standpoint is disquieting. While it is true as one political observer puts it that the crew do not care who is captain of the craft as long as the wages and rations are forthcoming regularly, the members of the Cabinet are more concerned in the matter. Nearly all of the ministers are suspected of having ambitious designs on the mantle of the Premier and the result is the prospect of a decidedly merry little war when the Government caucus to select a leader is held. Choosing a successor to Sir Robert under present conditions is like playing with dynamite for there is every chance that without careful handling of the situation there may be a split that will wreck the Government. The only thing that may prevent such a breach is the certainty that if an election is forced most of the Unionist members know that their chances of being re-elected will be of the smallest and they may therefore agree to any compromise in the selection of a leader that will prevent a definite breaking up of the party.

AN OBSTACLE REMOVED.

By the decision of the Labour wing of the new Government not to press for an eight-hour day during the coming session the greatest obstacle to the smooth working of the Farmer-Labour alliance has been removed. There was little possibility of the two factions coming to an agreement on the question. The shorter work-day so eagerly sought by Labour was not acceptable to the farmers nor was any compromise excluding agriculture from the operations of an eight-hour day likely to be reached. There is a shortage of labour on the farms under present conditions and the adoption of legislation putting into effect an eight-hour day would serve to intensify the troubles of the farmers in this regard. A crisis would undoubtedly have speedily developed had Labour's representatives shown a stubborn attitude on the point, and the decision to drop the matter for this session at least must have been as welcome to Premier Drury as the announcement that Hon. W. E. Raney had been elected by acclamation in East Wellington. Although they have abandoned for the moment the eight-hour agitation the Labour members have several advanced measures that they expect to be successful in passing through the Legislature and the chances of these reforms will be heightened by the dropping of the shorter work-day legislation.

JUDGE ROBSON'S RESIGNATION

There is an element of mystery about the resignation of Judge Robson from the position of chairman of the Board of Commerce that seems to call for an explanation. Various causes were assigned for the action of Judge Robson. Difficulties with the Civil Service Commission, and internal fiction were mentioned in Ottawa despatches as the reason for his retirement. Yesterday, however, the former Board of Commerce chairman declared that he had resigned because he did not believe that price fixing and profit restrictions on the products of the country should be continued in the time of peace, however, necessary they might have been during the war.

On its face the explanation of Judge Robson would be accepted as a legitimate reason for his retirement. If he were not in sympathy with the policy of the Board there was indeed nothing else that he could consistently do. But the public is no doubt mystified at the declaration of Messrs. O'Connor and Murdock the other Commissioners that the reason given by Judge Robson is not his real reason for retiring. What was the real reason? The public is entitled to an explanation and the Acting-Premier seems the person to whom they have the right to look for the information.

AN EXPERIMENT IN SUGAR.

The Board of Commerce, in order to demonstrate to the public that its work is effective and its method of profit-fixing beneficial to the consumer, is making a simple test by abolishing the fixed price of sugar. In announcing this action a statement from the Commissioners says:

"This Board deems that it will be in the ultimate benefit of the public that a test or demonstration be now made as to whether or not the orders of this Board have been effective and especially as to whether or not profit control is possible or beneficial and for the further purpose of discovering whether the demand made on behalf of retailers of sugar for liberty to take a profit of twenty per cent. upon sales of sugar, if acceded to, would have been taken advantage of, this Board in order to provide such test or demonstration, has decided to entirely cease control over profits on sugar."

The result of the experiment will be watched with as much interest by the public as by the Board. Up to yesterday the price of granulated sugar in Canada was 16c. per pound, plus freight, while in New York State as high as 30c. a pound is being paid, the advantage in favor of the Canadian consumer being due to the activities of the Board of Commerce. Now that the restrictions have been lifted, the public will be able to judge by the developments of the next days just how beneficial are the operations of the Board. The Toronto Star declares the Board of Commerce is the one friend the public has. Perhaps the test that is being tried now will show that there is considerable truth in the Star's tribute.

CANADA'S MILITIA.

General Sir Arthur Currie, former commander-in-chief of the Canadian Corps in France and now Inspector-General of the Canadian Militia struck a popular note in his address at the dinner of the Princess Pats in Ottawa when he declared that the men who had fought for Canada were the last to want to establish anything in the line of militarism here at home. Canada needed a small efficient staff and a small permanent force for the training and equipping of her militia, General Currie declared "but we believe" he added, "that any military strength will not come from those who are in permanently in khaki but from the plain citizen in military attire, Canada can rely on its militia to carry out any duty that may be required in this country."

General Currie is undoubtedly correct. The returned soldiers have shown that they are opposed to anything that savours of compulsory military service and training. Veterans associations, our local branch included have passed strongly worded resolutions setting forth the absolute opposition of their respective organizations to such methods. Doubtless many of them share General Currie's faith in the militia and will demonstrate it during the next few weeks by joining the newly organized militia units such as the 57th Regiment. If there is a general response, to the present appeal the Canadian militia, with officers and non-coms. of overseas experience and many seasoned veterans in the ranks will be a body of which any country might well be proud.

THE C. G. E. BYLAW.

It is certain that if a new manufacturing concern proposed to spend a cool $1,000,000 in erecting a plant in Peterboro on the condition that the city would grant them fixed assessment of $150,000 for ten years, the company would be heartily welcomed and the necessary bylaw would be carried by a big majority. There is no logical reason why a similiar reception should not be granted the bylaw to be voted on this month to authorize the continuation of the present assessment of the Canadian General Electric Company at $150,000 for the next ten years, especially as the measure is merely carrying out an agreement made with the company ten years ago. When Senator Nicholls appeared before the Council recently he intimated that the building operations to be carried on by the C.G.E. here would amount to $500,000 But they will be on a much larger scale than was expected. In a letter to Mayor McIntyre the head of the Canadian General now gives the welcome information that the cost of the new plant the company proposes to erect in Peterboro will be one million dollars. The value of such extensive biulding operations to Peterboro cannot be over estimated as they will provide work for the city's carpenters, bricklayers and other workmen, while the completion of the plant will mean an addition of hundred of employees to the present uarge payroll and make the Peterboro works one of the largest industrial plants in the Dominion. These facts are so readily apparent that the bylaw to be voted on in March 23rd will undoubtedly be enthusiastically supported by the citizens who recognize that in the securing of a million dollar addition to the Canadian General Electric works, Peterboro's growth and progress will be given a marked impetus.

ALBERTA COAL.

The possibility of securing enough coal in Canada to supply the fuel wants of the Dominion is a subject that comes to the fore whenever an industrial or other crisis in connection with the operation of the American mines threatens to reduce the shipments of coal from across the line into Canada. In this connection a report made by the coal section of the Edmonton Board of Trade, which appears elsewhere in to-day's issue of the Examiner is of great interest, inasmuch as it shows not only that there are vast coal fields in the western province, but that shrewd western business, after investigating the situation, can see no reason why Ontario's coal supply could not be secured from Alberta, relieving this province of the necessity of depending upon the United States for her fuel.

In forwarding the Examiner a copy of the report as published in the Edmonton Bulletin, Mr. H. C. Anderson, of South Edmonton, makes the following interesting comment on the situation:

Dear Sir,—I am enclosing to you a clipping from the Edmonton Bulletin of Thursday, Febraury 19, 1920, which is headed, "Coal Production in Alberta For Use in Ontario; Report Submitted by Coal Section of the Edmonton Board of Trade."

In sending this to you I may say that the Canadian Manufacturers' Association has appointed a Fuel committee to investigate the coal resources of Canada, East and West, looking forward to the time when the Dominion of Canada shall be supplied with Canadian coal, thus relieving Ontario and Quebec of their dependence upon merican coal.

This is a situation which Ontario may as weill face now ,as coal mining in the United States is reaching such an enormous annual tonnage as to makt all manufacturers and consumers of coal seriously reflect upon what the situation will be ten years hence.

While it is true that the United States has large deposits of coal, at the same time, under present conditions, it will not take many years to completely mine out certain areas. Already the anthracite situation is such as to bring within the realms of possibility the necessity for the United States conserving that kind of coal exclusively for its own use.

Alberta, on the other hand, contains one-twelfth the world's known coal, and the body of that coal has been barely scatched. It is altogether possible to ship coal from Alberta to Ontario, and for Alberta to entirely supply the needs of Ontario.

In stating this, however, it must not be lost sight of that Nova Scotia is also possessed of coal, and that their representations for the Ontario market must also be taken into consideration.

We, however, wish to place Alberta's position before the people of Ontario, and to in every way co-operate with the Canadian Manufacturers' Association towards showing what can be done in Alberta in tht matter of supplying Ontario with coal.

As the people in your city are vitally interested in this matter I will be glad if you will publish the enclosed article in your news columns and also, if you desire give publicity to this letter.

COAL PRODUCTION IN ALBERTA FOR USE IN PROVINCE OF ONTARIO

The following report of coal section of Edmonton board of trade r chamber f commerce on the matter of coal production in Alberta for use in the province of Ontario is taken from the Edmonton Bulletin.

Inasmuch as the Canadian Manufacturers Association from their head offices in Toronto and Montreal are considering the advisibality of seeking coal supply from western Canada, and have appointed a committee to investigate the resurces, development and qualities of coal in western Canada; and the cost of transporting coal to the province of Ontario, giving as some of their reasons and objects, the following:

"1. Whereas Ontario is not possessed of any coal deposits, and is therefore dependent upon a supply of its fuel coming from a foreign country over which the Ontario consumers and the government of Canada have no control; and,

Whereas the industrial life of Ontario is largely dependent upon the good will of the American people for its suply of coal; and,

Whereas there is always the possibility of the United States being so situated that its whole supply of coal might be required to insure its own protection; and,

2. Whereas the government railways in Canada, particularly the Canadian National, and the Grand Trunk Pacific which apparently the government contemplates operating, are yearly faced with heavy deflicts which arise through lack of sufficient traffic to assure a profitable conduct of their business; and,

3. Whereas the province of Alberta is possessed of unlimited quantities of all varieties of coal suitable for Ontario's needs; and,

4. Whereas Alberta is a large market for Ontario manufacturers and that this market will best be maintained and consolidated through the correct methods of commerce being applied, namely, by selling to Ontario as well as buying from them; and,

5. Whereas Canada is largely indebted to the Unted States through the development of our own resources and industries, with the result that the time seems to be approaching when we will only be able to purchase from the United States for cash;

Therefore, it is in the best intetest of Canada that the Dominion Government, and the government of the province of Alberta should co-operate to bring about the desired condition of making Canada independent of any foreign country in its fuel supply, and thus retain for the development of Canada the means of exchange which comes about through using our own coal, and thus stimulating every branch of industry through the good results which would follow, which may be summed up in a variety of ways:

Second—The building up of an industry in the province of Alberta which would be a large consumer of Canadian made goods. And;

Lastly—By having the foresight to assure a supply of fuel for all of Canada, so that industries of Ontario would not at any time be in danger through competition, or otherwise, of having their factories closed through inability to obtain coal."

They suggest that the freight rates from any mine in Alberta to any mine in Pennsylvania to any point in Ontario should be equalized with the freight rate prevailing from the mines in the States to the point of consumption in Ontario. For example, if the freight rate from any point in Ontario is $5.40 per ton, then the same freight rate from Alberta might also bear the duties and exchange charge which would go to help out the railways. In other words, the freight rates from Alberta to Ontario to be on an equality with all charges assessed against the American coal.

Inasmuch as according to estimates carefully made out and generally accepted, Alberta contains approximately one-twelfth of the world's known coal supply; and that according to figures submitted to the Mines branch of the Alberta provincial government the mines of this province are now developed to produce approximately ten million tons of coal per year in the following tonnages: anthracite, one hundred and fifty thousand tons; bituminous, four million tons; domestic coal, five million tons. And,

Inasmuch as the development could and would be rapidly increased to meet enormous additional needs to almost any extent whatever in any or all of the three grades of coal available. And,

Inasmuch as the operating of coal mines in Alberta up to and including the present time is hazardous and usually unprofitable as evinced by the fact that approximately sixty coal mining companies cease to operate during the year on account of insufficient market. And,

Because the increase in market would enable coal mine operators in western Canada to make enormous increase in their development, insuring labor a more nearly constant employment, as well as stabilizing the industry generally. All of which would bring an enormous amount of money into western Canada.

And for many other good and sufficient reasons, too numerous to enumerate at this time, be it therefore resolved, that this Edmonton board of trade or chamber of commerce goes on record favoring a most thorough inquiry into the cost of transportation of coal in railway cars to Ontario as well as by lake and rail; and pledging ourselves to assist the Canadian Manufacturers' Association in every way possible to secure necessary information to lay before our Federal Government on this matter with a view of enlarging the markets for Canadian coal in Canada, as well as benefiting Canada as a whole; and also be it resolved that this board through its organization pledges itself to endeavor to secure the cooperation of the provincial government in this endeavor, and that the president appoint a strong committee to present a copy of this resolution to the premier of the province, and ask his assistance alohg all necessary lines in order that a definite conclusion may be arrived at; and every effort be put forth to secure the Ontario market for Alberta.

Respectfully yours,
C. G. SHELDON,
Chairman Coal Section.

ABOUT OLEOMARGARINE.

It is surprising to find such a capable and useful public official as the Dominion Dairy Commissioner, Mr. J. A. Ruddick, encouraging farmers to revive the agitation against the permissive use of oleomargarine. According to press reports, at a meeting of the National Dairy Council held in Winnipeg last week, Mr. Ruddick "stated that Federal Department of Agriculture had never been in doubt where it stood in regard to oleomargarine, and added that if an energetic organization like the National Dairy Council had been in existence at the time it might have prevented the suspension of the law prohibiting the sale of this product in Canada. The person," continued Mr. Ruddick, "who states to you that oleomargarine is as good as butter is either not well informed or is guilty f misrepresentation."

We hope to find that Mr. Ruddick has not been accurately reported. The "Federal Department of Agriculture," he must remember, is represented by its responsible Ministerial head, and that responsible authority, as a member of the Cabinet, must have consented to the Government's policy of permitting the use of oleomargarine. One would not expect such an experienced official as Mr. Ruddick to commit the indiscretion of publicly assailing the policy of his responsible chief. If Mr. Ruddick disapproves of the law allowing oleomargarine to be used, he is not bound to endorse it, but he is bound to refrain from attacking it.

When, many years ago, the law was passed forbidding the manufacture or importation of oleomargarine in Canada there were, no doubt, good reasons for such action. Oleomargarine was not then the article it is today. But Canada adhered to the prohibition when, if we mistake not, every other civilized country allowed the article to be used. Even in such famous dairying countries as Denmark and Holland oleomargarine is widely used. So long as butter could be had at a reasonable price there was no demand in Canada for oleomargarine. It was only when the price of butter had advanced to double and treble its ordinary figures that the demand for oleomargarine arose. Oleomargarine does not displace butter today. It is used by people who cannot afford to buy butter, and would not buy it, at seventy cents per pound. Since they cannot have the real butter, why should they not be at liberty to buy—not as butter but under its own name—a cheaper article which, while certainly not "as good as butter," is recognized as a convenient substitute in all civilized countries. An appeal to farmers to resist the use of oleomargarine under the conditions of today—when every pound of butter that is produced finds a ready sale at high prices—is an appeal to selfishness.

It is to be hoped that Mr. Ruddick only yielded to a temptation to please his farmer audience at Winnipeg without thinking of the possible consequences. If his speech indicates an intention on the part of the Government to return to the oleomargarine prohibition, Parliament should be prepared to vigorously resist such a movement.—Journal of Commerce.

A GAME WITH GROVE SCHOOL

Yesterday afternoon an exciting game of hockey took place in Lakefield, when the Grove school defeated St. Luke's team to the tune of 18-10. It was a good game, although loose on account of the smallness of the ice, which also prevented the Peterborough boys from getting away. The Grove team showed the result of constant practice in their fine combination, while the St. Luke's forwards had a great tendency to 'hog' the puck. For the winners, Hamilton and Mackenzie were the stars, both doing some fine rushing and stick-handling. Bleeker, although small, did good work in the nets. On the forward line, G. Maniece and Legon were the stars for the losers, while on the defence E. Maniece was particularly good, breaking up some rushes which were sure to add to the Grove score. St. Luke's captain made a mistake in playing him forward part of the time. Another mistake on the St. Luke's team was so much 'subbing.' The team would get together nicely when a sub would come on, while the Grove played practically the same from beginning to end. The return game on Brock should be more evenly contested.

Children Cry for Fletcher's

CASTORIA

Fletcher's Castoria is strictly a remedy for Infants and Children. Foods are specially prepared for babies. A baby's medicine is even more essential for Baby. Remedies primarily prepared for grown-ups are not interchangeable. It was the need of a remedy for the common ailments of Infants and Children that brought Castoria before the public after years of research, and no claim has been made for it that its use for over 30 years has not proven.

What is CASTORIA?

Castoria is a harmless substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups. It is pleasant. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other narcotic substance. Its age is its guarantee. For more than thirty years it has been in constant use for the relief of Constipation, Flatulency, Wind Colic and Diarrhoea; allaying Feverishness arising therefrom, and by regulating the Stomach and Bowels, aids the assimilation of Food; giving healthy and natural sleep. THE CENTAUR COMPANY, NEW YORK CITY

MACKENZIE KING STATES HE WAS SINCERE IN HIS DEMAND FOR AN ELECTION

BELIEVES THE GOVERNMENT HAS LOST THE CONFIDENCE OF THE PEOPLE—SENT MESSAGE TO GOVERNMENT.

MAY HANG ON TO THE LAST MINUTE

Special to the Examiner.

OTTAWA, March 2. — Hon Mac-Kenzie King to-day authorized the Examiner correspondent to say that he was perfectly sincere in his demand for an appeal to the people at the earliest possible moment.

A story was in circulation last night that he sent one of his lieutenants over to the government two days ago with a message to the effect that he did not want an election any more than the Government wanted one. "That story is absolutely ridiculous," declared the opposition leader. "The Liberal party believes there should be an appeal to the electors and in offering my amendment to the address in reply to the Speech from the Throne I was quite in earnest. We think the government has lost the confidence of the people; and that there should be a new Parliament and a new Government."

The members of the Opposition were delighted with their new leader's first big effort in the House of Commons. They could talk of nothing else last night when the House adjourned. The members from the East of the Ottawa River especially expressed themselves in favor of going to the country without delay, and Mr. Ernest Lapointe, the Quebec leader of the Liberal party, branded the statement that the Liberals are only bluffing as "an unmitigated falsehood."

The chief contention of the Quebec Liberals is that the present government does not represent the people. Whether or not the government will dissolve parliament is another story.

A Presentation.

On Thursday evening of last week, about seventy of the friends and neighbors of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Brock paid an unexpected call at their home and presented Mr. Brock with an electric reading lamp and Mrs. Brock with a casserole.

Although taken by surprise, Mr. and Mrs. Brock made suitable replies. A good time was spent in music, games, etc. A dainty lunch was served and about two o'clock a.m. the gathering broke up. Following is the address:

To Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Brock,—Your friends and neighbors have gathered together this evening to say farewell. It is always with feelings of regret that we part with our friends. You, Mr. Brock, have been so many years a leader in the community and an official of the church that you will be greatly missed. With this house have been associated generations. Your grandfather and father were pillars in the church and active in every good work. You have followed in their footsteps. It is natural for the community to associate you and your family with this homestead.

You Mrs. Brock have so heartily co-operated in maintaining the traditions of the house that you have found a place in the affections and esteem of the community. You have always been active in every good cause in the community and church and we will feel that a true friend has removed from our midst.

Now that you have decided to remove to another home, we wish to express our regrets at losing your presence and influence. We will always keep fresh in our memory the associations of the past and pray that God's blessing may rest upon you and your family in your new home. May you be spared to see many years of usefulness and service.

Kindly accept this small token of our esteem and friendship. Your many friends and neighbors wish you every success and happiness, and hope you will find congenial associations in your future home.

Signed on behalf of the Zion community.

FARMER SUFFERS HEAVY FIRE LOSS

Mr. Peter Deshane of Belmont met with a very heavy loss by fire, when his house and contents were totally destroyed by fire. The fire broke out in the partitions and ceiling when the family dinner was being prepared, and in a few minutes the whole house was a mass of flames. Only a few chairs were saved, and in addition to the property loss, the sum of $125 was also destroyed. Mr. Deshane's loss will be very heavy, as he only had a small insurance.

TAKE THE WORD OF YOUR OWN NEIGHBOURS

There is not a nook or corner in Canada, in the cities, towns, villages and on farms, where Dr. Williams Pink Pills have not been used. From one end of the country to the other they have brought back to breadwinners, their wives and families the splendid treasure of new health and new strength. You have only to ask your neighbors and they can tell you of some nerve-shattered man, some suffering woman, ailing youth or unhappy anaemic girl, who owes their present health and strength to Dr. Williams Pink Pills.

For many years Dr. Williams Pink Pills have been a household remedy not only in America but throughout the world. When Canadian soldiers landed in England they found advertised on all sides Dr. Williams Pink Pills for Pale People. To the men from Australia, from New Zealand, from South Africa and India, these same advertisements were like familiar home friends. When these men crossed to France one of the first signs that greeted their eyes was "Pilules Pink pour Personnes Pales du Dr. Williams." The world wide use of this Canadian remedy can be accounted for only by the merit these wonderful blood-making pills possess. Thousands of statements from grateful people who have been cured of ills due to weak, watery blood and shattered nerves have been published, some of these may have been your neighbors—all of them were somebody's neighbors, and you can safely take their word for the benefit they have found through the timely use of Dr. Williams Pink Pills.

MOTHER AND DAUGHTER.

If more people knew how many ills and pains are due to thin, watery blood and how easily this condition could be remedied through the use of Dr. Williams Pink Pills, a great deal of suffering would be avoided. Men and women often suffer from stomach trouble, headaches and backaches, palpitation of the heart, and nervous complaints such as neuralgia, without suspecting that the whole trouble lies in weak, watery blood. The statement of Mrs. J. J. Murry, Corbetton, Ont., shows the value of Dr. Williams Pink Pills in cases of this kind. She says:—"A few years ago my daughter, Lillie, was in a very badly run down condition. She was pale, thin, and scarcely able to go about. The least exertion made her heart palpitate so violently that we were actually afraid one of these spells might carry her off. She slept so badly that often she would be awake until nearly morning. Treatment did not seem to help her and we were almost in despair when a friend advised the use of Dr Williams Pink Pills. A few weeks use of this medicine showed a decided improvement, and a further use of the pills fully restored her health, and she has since been a strong, healthy girl. Some time later I was taken ill myself, being run-down from household care. A doctor was called in but his medicine did not seem to bring back my strength, and remembering what Dr. Williams Pink Pills had done for my daughter, I decided to drop the doctor's medicine and try them. The result that followed were like those in my daughters case, and through the use of the pills I was soon a well woman. I am glad to give my experience in the hope that some other sufferer may find the way to health."

NURSING MOTHERS.

It is useless to tell a hard working woman to take life easily and not to worry. Care of the home and the children always bring their worries. But it is the duty of every woman to save her strength as much as possible and to keep her blood supply in a healthy condition. Her future good health depend upon this Mrs. E. Kilgour, Cabri, Sask., says:—"I have taken Dr. Williams Pink Pills for a considerable time and have found them of the greatest benefit for my blood and nerves. I was terribly nervous and run down and was nursing my baby at the time I began taking the pills, and since taking them I feel like a different woman. My appetite is better, my blood purer and my nerver steadier and altogether I feel a hundred per cent. better. I will certainly recommend the pills to everybody I can."

WEAK AND NERVOUS.

Good health is the secret of happiness and the one chief secret of good health is rich, red blood. This rich, red blood can always be had through a fair use of Dr. Williams Pink Pills. The value of the pills for this purpose is proved by Mrs. Carrey Boudreau, Beaumont, N.B., who says:—"When I began the use of Dr. Williams Pink Pills I was very weak and nervous. I was always tired and my eyes were dull and heavy and I suffered greatly with headaches. But through the use of Dr. Williams Pink Pills I am again a well woman in the full enjoyment of life, and I am quite willing the whole world should know the benefit I have found through this medicine."

AFTER INFLUENZA.

Strenuous work on a farm has much to do with the run down condition of many who follow that occupation, and accounts for the readiness in which they fall victims to serious debilitating troubles. Mrs. Geo. Cuthbert, a farmer's wife who has proved the value of Dr. Williams Pink Pills says:—"This past year my husband and myself have had to do all the work on our half-section farm. I had an attack of influenza and this coupled with heavy work left me badly run down. I sent for a supply of Dr. Williams Pink Pills and by the time I had taken two boxes I was beginning to feel stronger, and through their further use I was again feeling quite fit. Indeed I believe that had it not been for the pills I would not have been able to do my work. I may add that while using the pills I took Pinklets occasionally as a laxative, and found them a great help."

LIKE A NEW PERSON.

When a girl of a woman is pale and feeble, feels tired out at the slightest exertion, is troubled with headaches or backaches, it is a sure sign that the blood is thin and watery, and that Dr. Williams Pink Pills should be taken to restore the blood to that rich red condition necessary to good health. Through the use of these pills Miss F. E. Hubley, Seabright, N.S., was restored to good health. She says:—"I have found that Dr. Williams Pink Pills tone up the nerves and system and make one feel like a new person. When I started using them I was in very poor health and suffering from many of the symptoms of anaemia. Soon after beginning their use I found myself growing better, and after giving them a fair trial I found my health fully restored. As a result of what they did in my own case I can recommend them to all weak people as a great blood-builder."

WHAT DR. WILLIAMS PINK PILLS WILL DO.

Dr. Williams Pink Pills are a blood builder and nerve tonic. The rich, red blood that they make not only carries color to the cheeks and lips but gives vigor to the exhausted nerves and quiets the pains of neuralgia and sciatia. Dr. Williams Pink Pills contain no opiates nor harmful drugs; they restore health and strength but do not give temporary stimulation.

You can get Dr Williams Pink Pills through any dealer in medicine or by mail at 50c. a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams Medicine C., Brockville, tOn.

PETERBORO'S ADVANTAGES ARE CAPITALIZED AT MOTOR SHOW

TRENT WATERWAY RECEIVED A LOT OF GOOD ADVERTISING AT THE MOTOR BOAT SHOW IN NEW YORK CITY---MR. RYERSON RITCHIE REPRESENTED THE CITY.

Mr. Ryerson Ritchie returned from New York on Saturday, after having spent much of his time at the Motor Boat Show in the interest of the Trent Waterway, the formal opening of which concerns Peterborough and in fact all of the communities from Trenton to Port Severn.

Manufacturers of motor boat engines and accesories and the designers and builders of the small craft as well as the palatial power vacht meet here for inspection, research and conference. Throngs of people, interested in cruising, visit the show every year and make it a great boat-sales market.

To Senator W. H. Bennett, of Midland is due the credit for interesting Peterborough and Orillia. He prepared several interesting illustrated articles which were published in the American monthly magazines devoted to power boating, which have attracted much attention.

Through the Senator's efforts the Department of Railways and Canals sent a special representative in the person of Mr. A. W. Despard of the Canadian Exposition Commission. Mr. Despard was constantly in attendance to give information to interested inquirers. He rendered admirable service and will report his observations and recommendations to the Department of Railways and Canals.

Mr. Ritchie met and talked with scores of people who intended to make the trip through the Trent Waterway this season and later when the canal is open for larger craft. Thirty-five foot boats only can navigate the waterway through to the Georgian Bay this season.

Much curiosity and interest were shown by the New York people and by visitors from all over the country and there is no doubt whatever that the charm of the Kawartha District will attract more American visitors than we are prepared to receive.

Peterborough and Orillia were especially advertised by the distribution of attractive booklets at the Government Booth and also by courtesy of engine and boat exhibitors.

It was evident that the local method of advertising Canada's great recreation waterway is not adequate. If the waterway is to be properly advertised it should be done through the co-operation of all the interested communities with the Federal and Provincial Governments and by means of preparation and propaganada comprehending the entire area reached by the 236 miles of waterway.

Steps should be taken at once by Peterborough and Orillia and other enterprising communities to form an association not only to secure the development of the entire system and primarily to arrange now for a proper celebration of the formal opening of the waterway in the early summer of 1920.

It would be absurd to advertise the Trent Waterway merely as a summer resort; in reality it has great commercial and economic advantages for the entire section. The attractiveness of this beautiful chain of lakes and rivers may, however, be the means of making its commercial value better appreciated. To realize, however, anything like the commercial advantages for which the Trent Waterway was built, active co-operation and practical business aggression are necessary.

The whole area needs to be studied and designed so that it will become not only interesting to the pleasure-seeker ,but be a source of profit to the interested people and communitis reached by it.

THE NEW HOME

(By H. F. GADSBY)

"The way to get into a building" a Cabinet Minister explained "is to get in." In other words Parliament has left the Museum for the Hill although the new home is not quite finished. As a matter of fact it will be another year before the building is out of the contractors' hands and that means of course that a certain number of Senators will die before their quarters are ready.

They tell me that one of the reasons why Parliament was in such a hurry to move in was because the Senators wanted to prepare themselves for heaven by dwelling in marble halls for a short time on earth. Of course you can get marble halls at the Chateau Laurier or any other big hotel but that is not the same thing—it lacks the uplift. The new home has about two miles of marble halls and the hope is generally expressed that they will have an ennobling influence on the Farmers' Party.

In assigning the private rooms for the members, great care has been taken to provide the U.F.O.'s with sunny southern exposures to melt their hard hearts and give them a broad outlook. That ought to help some. The acoustics of the Green Chambers, which is really a White Chamber with the old faded carpet to give it greenery, are excellent. Maharg of Saskatchewan tried out his voice there the other day and people who heard him said "This is the man who will put the cow in acoustics if it was not there before."

This Commons chamber is said to be the largest in the world—but its proportions are so just that it leaves an effect not of immensity but of easy spaciousness. Its beautiful windows drink in the light from both sides of the room, the pure white light, which so many politicians lack. In course of time these windows are to be supplied with stained glass but this will not happen until the country has settled down to a mellower frame of mind. Meanwhile, Parliament will operate in a clear white light which ought to show just where every man stands.

The Press Gallery—which occupies its usual perch above the Speaker's chair—boasts of many modern improvements including two swinging mirrors on the posts at either end. The object of these mirrors is to angle the man under the gallery to the journalist in the back row but they do not work very well. They will probably be removed and that is reasonable enough because the press is well able to reflect public opinion in the good old way.

This noble room would require more words to describe than I have space to use—so it must be enough to say that it is a wonderful confection of cream colored stone, panelled oak, bronze grills and marble screens, the whole making for a splendor which is chaste but warm. Just now it is disfigured by the old desks and the old chairs, but with new trappings to match, it will be the most dignified legislative chamber in or out of the British Empire.

The Senate in Clover.

The Senate Chamber is smaller, just as dignified, but more severe, as becomes the august character of its prospective occupants. At present, the Senate Chamber is a raffle of scaffolding, cement bags and builder's gear, but when it takes shape it will be a thing of beauty and a temptternal joy, even if the Senate becomes elective or is abolished. The Farmers' Party, when it gazes on so much beauty may relent and decide to let the Senate live on, sooner than close a room of such surpassing magnificence. Indeed great things are expected of the statues and the paintings, with which our artists will be adorning the nation's temple for many years to come. They will have an aesthetic influence on the radicals who will be disposed to say "We will not level down. Rather we will level up to these beautiful surroundings."

Just now the Senate moves, breathes and has its being in the Railway Committee rooms, a lofty apartment whose very ante-room is fit for Kings. The touch of local color which makes it a Senate rather than a committee room is the red carpet which is sadly in need of the vacuum cleaner. The old furniture looks ragged and shabby against the vivid freshness of the new background. Just here is the place to say that the new Parliament buildings is scientifically ventilated and does not smell either of carpets, rubber matting or Senators, which were the familiar odors of by-gone days before and during the Great War.

It augurs a noble eagerness for beauty that Sir George Foster, Grant, Doherty and other aged members of the Cabinet were just as anxious as the younger fry to get in [illegible] the new environment before they died or were turned out at the next election. Many members likewise spoke up. They said "We want to know how all this grandeur feels before we get the grand bounce, somewhere about September 1921." In this sense the building is more than a Parliament—it is a mausoleum, crowded with tenants who look forward with more or less composure to the day when they will be tumbled out.

The new home is just a bit noisy. The workmen go about their accustomed tasks in the uncompleted parts of the building. The hammers can be plainly heard but what is one hammer more or less to a Union Government that has long done business to the tune of the "Anvil Chorus?"

The Temperance of Loyalty.

Space lacks here to describe the lobbies, the caucus rooms, No. 16 and its companion lounge, which bears over the door the legend "His Majesty's Most Loyal Opposition." The question on everybody's lips is "Which is His Majesty's most Loyal Opposition? The Liberals, Mr. Crerar's Wee Frees or the U.F.'s? At this writing the point is still unsettled but if there are degrees of loyalty in Oppositions the matter will probably be determined at the next general election. We can always trust the Tories to give us the loyal temperature of all and sundry. I have never known an election yet where the question was not brought up and thoroughly discussed. When the tariff comes to us next time wrapped in the Old Flag we shall see—well we shall see what we shall see. I bet it go at that.

The Press Room is designed with an eye to future ages when the price of news prints will be so reasonable that the staff of Ottawa correspondents will be three times what it is now. Our little band of thirty or thereabouts is lost in this vasty room which is equipped with every convenience that money can buy or science can devise. The lighting is indirect in which regard it resembles the editorials of many of our leading newspapers. By day the light comes clear and white from the virgin North, beyond the blue Laurentian Mountains, but it does not necessarily get into the newspaper reports which are modified by many circumstances beyond the reporter's control.

The Commons Reading Room is sentinelled by the Commons Smoking Room where members can cure their minds, bacon fashion, before asking for the Globe or the Mail in the penetralia of thought which is just beyond. The Reading Room boasts of a black marble fire place of prodigious size—Gargantua could warm his back at it—and over it is a mural decoration done by a Canadian artist who has won fame in the United States. The subject is "The Spirit of the Printed Word." On this matter of the Spirit of the Printed Word I say only this—that the spirit is not as high as it was before Union Government spent several million dollars advertising in the Canadian press.

Mr. Rowell's Boudoir.

If the members have private rooms which cause them to exclaim "Home was never like this," the Cabinet Ministers have sanctums which would not shame a king. The Premier's panelled ceiling high in walnut is on the first floor; Mackenzie King's, half-panelled to show he is on the way upwards, is on the floor above; and Brother Rowell's, no panelling or concealment of any kind, just tinted walls—is on the floor above that. The arrangement suggests dictaphones and holes bored in the floor, so that the statesmen may keep watch on each oth r.

It will be seen that Leader Rowell, operating from the highest level, can always look down on the rest. If I must pass criticism it is that Leader Rowell's room is not as austere a I had expected. The walls are a dull red with an undertone of yellow—too passionate, I should say, for such a chaste crusader. I dropped into Sir Galahad's empty chair, just to get the feel of it—to absorb, if I could, his attitude toward personal freedom. I got it all right—wasn't I sitting on it?

I am bound to say that the Ministers have done themselves well in the matter of rooms. Not only the Ministers but the ex-ministers of yesterday, to-day and perhaps of to-morrow. The Hon. Sydney Newburn has one of the best—a reward no doubt for past performance. The Hon. A. K. Maclean grabbed off a good one just before he sent in his resignation and of course he keeps it on. In other words a Cabinet Minister may lose his home in the Government but he is always sure of a good room with a fireplace to take the chill off the political situation, and plenty of windows facing north, south, east and west, in fact wherever votes are to be had.

Charles Holland Was Victim of an Elevator Accident This Morning at Canadian Woollens

LIFELESS BODY WAS DISCOVERED BY WORKMEN SHORTLY AFTER ACCIDENT--NO EYEWITNESSES-

WILL HOLD INQUEST

Charles Holland, wool stock keeper at the McDonnel street plant of the Canadian Woollens, was instantly killed this morning at about 8.45, being crushed in one of the freight elevators at the extreme western end of the basement of the building.

Mr. J. W. Worth, when interviewed shortly afterwards, said that no details of the death were known as no one saw the accident and no cries were heard, only the lifeless body of the unfortunate man bearing silent testimony to the tragedy that had occurred.

The late Mr. Holland had been employed by the Bonner-Worth Company, now known as the Canadian Woollens Ltd., for two years and had always been a careful and conscientious workman, Mr. Worth said. He was head wool stock keeper of the large stocks of wool in the basement and was assisted by a boy, but of late the boy has been away through illness in the home and Mr. Holland had been carrying on the work alone.

Mr. Holland had evidently been in the act of loading the elevator in the basement at the west end of the building for one of the waggons on which the wool is carried was standing unloaded at the entrance. It is surmised that the unfortunate man was standing at the entrance and as the elevator was up a little he reached in to pull the rope and let it down and in doing so he pulled the wrong rope, the elevator rose, lifting him off his feet and carried him upward, and crushed him against the arch above.

A few minutes late he was discovered by several of the workmen, his lifeless body stretched across the elevator and his feet hanging over the side of the elevator. No outward signs of the terrible death he must have suffered were visible, and it is presumed that death was caused by internal injuries.

The deceased had resided in this city for some thirty years, and during his long residence here, had made a wide circle of friends, who respected him.

Besides his sorrowing wife, he leaves two sons, Percy, of Windsor, and Gordon, of Toronto, and one daughter, Hazel, of this city; one brother, Mr. Frederick Holland, of this city, and two sisters, Mrs. Patrick Hickey, Cedar Street, and Mrs. Mary Walsh, North Dakota, survive.

An inquest will be opened to-night at 8 o'clock at Lane and Fano's Undertaking Parlours, Hunter Street, Coroner Dr. Greer presiding.

Mr. J. W. Worth, when questioned this afternoon on the rumour that Mr. Charles Holland came to his untimely end by some one pulling the rope from above, entirely discredited the story. "They would have seen the man below," he said.

Several doctors were called at once, but found that life was extinct. One of the doctors pronounced death due to suffocation, and if this is true, it would entirely account for no screams being heard.

The body of the deceased has been removed to Lane and Fano's Undertaking Parlours, where the inquest will be opened to-night at 8 o'clock by Coroner Greer.

His Worship the Mayor,
Peterborough, Ontario.

My Dear Mr. Mayor,—I have noticed by the Peterborough press that it is mentioned that provided the By-law extending our fixed assesment is carried that we will spend at least $500,000 on additional buildings and equipment. When I was present at the Committee-of-the-Whole of your Council I mentioned that our plans had not been fully prepared and that I was not in a position to state definitely how much would be involved in these buildings and equipment, but that they would cost at least half a million dollars. Since that time our plans have assumed definite shape and I am at liberty to tell you that the estimated expenditure now amounts to double the amount specified, or at least one million dollars.

Thinking the citizens of Peterborough may be interested I am forwarding you this information.

Yours very truly,
(Sgd.) Frederick Nicholls.
President.

INCREASE IN SALARY FOR THE PETERBORO POLICE FORCE

CHIEF THOMPSON HEADS THE LIST WITH FOUR HUNDRED EXTRA IRON MEN.

The increases for the policemen were finally disposed of on Saturday afternoon by the Board of Police Commissioners behind closed doors.

After a lengthy discussion, lasting for over an hour, the Chief's schedule was finally accepted, and although he had not requested an increase himself, his salary was boosted $400, and $36.50 was added for good conduct.

The Chief and the representatives of the press were requested to leave the meeting, which they did promptly, and the business proceeded, far away from prying eyes and listening ears.

The motion passed a week ago that one man more be added to the Department was rescinded when the magnitude of the increases loomed up before the members. They evidently believed in paying a better price and getting quality, not quantity.

Old and New.

Chief Constable—$2100 to $2436.50.
Detective-Sergeant Newhall—$1400 to $1700.
Sergeant James F. Reid—$1225 to $1600.
Sergeant Arthur Blade — $1175 to $1500.
Sergeant John H. Deannard—$1175 to $1500.
Detective William F. Meagher — $1200 to $1500.
Constable Harold D. Lawrence — $1100 to $1400.
Constable William E. Wigg—$1100 to $1400.
Constable George E. Cookman.—$1100 to $1400.
Constable Daniel T. Boyd—$1100 to $1400.
Constable Arthur Thomas—$1100 to $1400.
Constable Harry Young—$1000 to $1300.
Constable Charles Smyth—$1100.

Salaries for the year 1920 — $19,636.50.

The other estimates are:

Secretary of the Police Commission—$50.
Morality Department—$400
Clothing and Equipment—$1300.
Fuel—$350.
Printing and Stationery—$200.
Telephones—$100.
Telephoning and telegraphing—$75.
Postage—$30.
Cleaning Station and Court-room—$130.
Lights and Lighting—$20.
Chief Constable's Convention—$200.
One automobile and the upkeep of same—$1200.
Incidentals—$300.
Total—$4,455.00.
Total Estimates—$23,001.50.
Total increase. —$5,575.00.

Throughout the session of the Board the officers waited expectantly and eagerly for the return of the Chief, and when he at last came in and announced the increases, the men could hardly believe it, and general rejoicing took place, for the raise means much to the men, and it will be with a new incentive, with a feeling of gratitude and appreciation that the efficient performance of their more or less unpleasant duties, has at last been recognised that the Department will "carry on."

PETERBORO FAIR GROUNDS

A few years ago it was proposed that the Fair grounds should be purchased from Mr. R. A. Morrow and kept for a permanent fair ground, the matter was submitted to the people and voted on; the result was that the project was snowed under, not because the people disapproved of an agricultural show, but because they are opposed to paying out their money for what always has been, and what they considered would continue to be, a continuing nuisance.

What not in use as a fair ground for three days in each year it was a nuisance.

It consists of 20 acres of land stretching for 1800 feet across the city, absolutely dividing the north from the south by a belt of land 436 feet in width, closing up all roads and streets. It would close up 160 lots so as to be free from city taxes, shutting out improvements of every kind, preventing the erection of a quarter of a million dollars' worth of buildings and making it necessary to travel around this 1800 foot block to go to the south part of the city, or from the south to the north. When not in use for a fair the ground is used for a lot of horsemen to trot horses on, and for a couple of days each summer as a circus ground, and on other days and nights as a rendezvous for tramps and night birds.

Mr. Denne proposed that a lot of money be expended on the ground for new buildings. This will call for money from the taxpayers; every new building will fasten this incubus on the land and make it constantly more costly to keep up and more difficult to pull up stakes. If the city must have a fair, all right, but decide early so that the people won't be hampered. Buy 20 or more acres a couple of miles out of town on the line of one of railways. They go out from the centre thus: South on the old Cobourg and Peterborough line, south-east on grand junction; south-east on the C.P.R., north-west on Lindsay branch, west on C.P.R., south on G.T.R. to Millbrook.

Surely the fair directors can get suitable land within two miles of the city for one-tenth part of the cost of the Morrow land. And such fair ground would cut the city in two and injure the city.

This present fair ground with its unsightly fence and enclosed darkness is not a good thing for the city. It is no ornament and it hurts all the property around it. I won't attempt to controvert all that might be said in favor of a yearly fair, though whether it is worth the cost is another matter.

Let this town not fasten down an eternal nuisance on the shoulders of the city—cut the knot now when it is easy done and you will never cease to be thankful for your act in getting this burden off your shoulders.

MODIFYING THE PEACE STRICTURES

ALLIES ARE SHOWING MORE LIBERAL ATTITUDE TOWARDS GERMANY.

RUSSIAN TRADE

(United Press.)

LONDON, March 3.—Prime Minister Lloyd George's plan for a more liberal attitude toward Germany, both in enforcement of the treaty of Versailles and in the commercial and economic rehabilitation of the German nation, has begun to bear fruit, it was learned to-day. The Council of Premiers, it was understood, has prepared a statement based upon the deliberations of its economic section, in which it emphasizes that Germany must be restored to economic prosperity. The statement, it was understood, was decided upon after considerable argument by the British conferes. A softer tone toward the Russian Soviet government, permitting more direct negotiations in the Allied plan to resume trade with Russia also was forecast.

ROBERT J. MUNRO DIED LAST NIGHT

WAS PROPRIETOR OF THE MUNRO HOUSE FOR LAST TWENTY YEARS.

Robert John Munro, proprietor of the Munro House, died last evening at 9 o'clock, after an illness of about two weeks, aged 62 years. Deceased was born in Embro, Ontario, near Woodstock, in 1858, and resided for some time in Port Hope and Bowmanville, receiving his education in the latter town. Previous to coming to the city in 1900 to assume the proprietorship of the Munro House, he kept an hotel in Lakefield. He was a member of Peterboro Lodge A. F. and A. M., a Shriner, a member of the Oddfellows, Port Hope Lodge for 35 years, and a member of the Sons of Scotland. During his residence in the city he had always played an important part in the Agricultural Fair, of which he was a director for a number of years. His geniality as a host has won for him an unusually wide circle of friends and he was perhaps one of the best known men in the County of Peterborough.

His first wife, Margaret McKeown, predeceased him in 1909, and in 1911 he was married to Bertha Kelly, who survives. He leaves one daughter, Irene, of Raton, Mexico, and three sons, Harry of Toronto, Kelly and Joseph at home.

The funeral will be held on Thursday at 1.30 to the Little Lake cemetery. Service will be conducted by Rev. Ernest Whelpton, of Hamilton, and Archdeacon Davidson at the Munro House.

Mr. Munro was a prominent Mason, being a Past Master of Clementi Lodge No. 313, A.F. & A.M. and affiliated with Peterboro Lodge, No. 155 in 1901.

He also was a member of Peterboro Chapter No. 36, Royal Arch Masons and a Knight Templer being a member of Rameses Temple, Toronto. His connection with other fraternal societies was with the Independent Order of Oddfellows and Sons of Scotland.

Strike Leaders to Appeal Directly to the Privy Council

(Special to The Examiner.)

WINNIPEG, March 3.—It is probable that strike leaders will attempt to appeal directly to the Privy Council in event they are convicted in the trial just drawing to close. This was forecast today by the defence counsel, the prediction, voiced by Ward Holland, who represents George Armstrong, is based on the written judgment of court of appeal on the R. B. Russell case, just handed down, in which five appellate Justices unanimously uphold Russell's conviction and characterize the Winnipeg General Strike as "Step toward Revolution" and "an attempt to establish a Soviet in Canada." The defence see the futility of carrying the case to the Appeal Court if the strike leaders are convicted because the evidence in the Russell and the present trials has been largely along same lines and appeal justices, in their adjugments leave no room for doubt as to their opinion regarding whether the strike was legal, or otherwise. They are confident, however, that in event of conviction and if given permission to carry the case to the Privy Council they have a good chance of winning, because the English law on general or sympathetic strikes differs materially from Canadian. Under English law, upon which Privy Council would decide the appeal the defence counsel assert there can be no question as to the legality of the Winnipeg strike. If William Ivens, George Armstrong, Ald. Jno. Queen and A. A. Heaps, W. A. Pritchard, R. J. Johns and R. E. Bray are convicted, the defence will ask permission at once to take the case to the Privy Council, according to Holland, and at same time will take the Russell case.

INCREASED GRANT TO FAIR BOARD, THEN REVOKED IT

MAYOR M'INTYRE'S STAND FOR A $5,000 CONTRIBUTION FROM THE CITY WAS UNDONE BY ALD. HAMILTON'S ADHERENCE TO FORMER ATTITUDE.

OPPOSITION PERSISTENT

Caught in two tie votes last night, the Council's grant to the Peterborough Industrial Exhibition was first increased from $3,000 to $5,000, and within an hour was held up in its by-law passage and sent back to the Committee of the Whole for further consideration.

Ald. Turner presented the committee's report, which included the grants of $1,000 to the G.W.V.A., $1,000 to the Playgrounds Association, $400 to the District L.O.L., $25 to the Sick Children's Hospital and the Exhibition grant.

With his fluent eloquence, Ald. Turner advocated the increase of the contribution to the Fair to $5,000. His persuasiveness covered the present needs and the future expansion of the Exhibition.

President Roland Denne and Vice-President R. H. Turner urged that the entire sum of $5,000 be granted as requested. The directors were not asking for something for themselves, they said, nor would they slacken their endeavours for the success of the Fair if the larger sum was not appropriated, but they pointed out that encouragement from the city would be a new inspiration, and would positively assure the erection of buildings that have already been planned.

The First Vote.

Ald. Turner moved an amendment to the Committee of the Whole's report, seconded by Ald. Whitehousee, that the Fair grant be $5,000.

Aldermen Gainey and Morrison combined for an amendment to the amendment that this item be referred back to the Committee.

The vote on the second amendment confronted Mayor McIntyre with a tie. Those in favour were Aldermen Gainey, Morrison, Crowe, and Gordon; and those opposed, Aldermen Copping, Whitehouse Jones, and Turner.

Ald. Phelan was absent and Ald. Hamilton hadn't arrived at that stage.

Mayor McIntyre swung the balance against the Gainey amendment, and by a reverse alignment Ald. Turner's amendment carried, with the Mayor casting his vote for the $5,000 grant.

"The Fair Board," he declared, "ought to be encouraged. They are doing a lot of work for nothing and the least the city can do is to back them up."

The Committee's report was then altered by changing the $3,000 to $5,000.

Some One Remembered.

And then Ald. Hamilton arrived. Over on the Labour wing some one displayed a retentive memory. Apparently it was either Ald. Gainey or Ald. Gordon who remembered that when the grants were under discussion in committee, Ald. Hamilton had expressed the opinion that $3,000 was a large enough sum for the Fair Board this year.

When the by-law authorising the grants, as denominated in the Committee of the Whole's report, was introduced, Ald. Hamilton was named by the Mayor to preside in the second reading.

Whoever recalled Ald. Hamilton's previous attitude, it was Ald. Crowe who moved an amendment to the by-law that the grant to the Fair Board be cut back to $3,000.

Ald. Gordon seconded this motion, and the vote stood adversely 5 to 4 as follows:

For—Aldermen Gordon, Crowe, Morrison, and Gainey.

"The amendment is lost" Alderman Hamilton announced.

Called Ayes and Nays.

Ald. Gainey: Let's have the ayes and nays, Mr. Chairman, to see where you stand.

Ald. Hamilton voted for the amendment, which then stood a tie—five for and five against.

The vote on the motion was exactly the opposite, and was likewise obtained by calling the aves and nays at Ald. Gordon's suggestion.

This definitely held up the grant to the Exhibition Board.

Ald. Turner was visibly crestfallen, and Ald. Whitehouse said: "We are always talking about boosting Peterborough, and yet some of this Council are the first to knock it down."

The Exhibition, he predicted would soon prove a big asset to the city. Picton had buildings that Peterborough would be glad to have on their Fair Grounds.

Ald. Hamilton: My idea is that there are so many demands on the Council this year that $3,000 should be enough for the Exhibition.

Ald. Crowe: Hear, hear.

Ald. Gordon: That's the idea.

The by-law confirming the grants was held up by the equal division of the Council in regard to the Fair grant.

Ald. Gainey moved, seconded by Ald. Hamilton, that the Exhibition item be referred to the Committee of the Whole for renewed deliberation, and the vote was at last unanimous, if retrograde.

The other grants were then approved as the by-law passed from the Committee breakers into the quiet harbour of the third reading.

Mr. John Newell of Wisconsin, U.S.A., brother of Mrs. John E. Leeson, Dorro Township, spent a very pleasant visit at his sister's home, where he was welcomed by a host of friends and friends attended.

THE RED FORCES ARE ADVANCING

LONDON, March 3.—Russian Bolshevik forces are advancing rapidly in the Caucasus region, according to an official telegram received by Reuter's from Moscow during the past two weeks. The message says, Soviet troops in that district have captured seventeen thousand prisoners and General Denikine's army is declared to be gradually dispersing.

RING FAMINE

(United Press)

NEW YORK, March 3.—Following a disclosure that the demand for marriage licenses has increased in all parts of the country during the first two months of leap year, it was learned here today there is a scarcity of wedding rings. A shortage of gold and the growing demand, according to wholesale jewellers, have combined to bring about the ring "famine." Prospects of combining the engagement and wedding rings into a special design which would serve both purposes is being discussed and it is probable the new combination engagement-wedding ring will become a reality, jewellers say.

BURNHAM'S FIELD DAY IN THE HOUSE

ATTACKS PROHIBITION AND SAYS FARMERS' UNION FOUNDED ON SELFISHNESS.

A feature of D. D. McKenzie's speech in the House to-day, and one which induced J. H. Burnham, of West Peterborough, later to congratulate him upon his courageous and unequivocal advocacy of the policy of protection, was his comment upon the trade situation arising out of the depreciated value of the Canadian dollar in the United States. "Let me say this to the Government and to the country," declared Mr. McKenzie, "that while I am anxious for the widest possible trade with foreign countries, I would not trade to the extent of one five cent piece with any country which did not recognize the Canadian dollar at the full face value of that dollar. If this country is loyal to itself, loyal to its principles, loyal to its institutions, it will stand by Canadianism in the matter of having any trade with any country that will not recognize the Canadian dollar at the full face as international currency." The declaration carried the memory back to the debates upon the reciprocity agreement of 1911.

Wrecker's Lantern.

L. J. Gauthier, of Ste. Hyacinthe, quite plainly indicated that "the light in the window" of which Mr. McKenzie spoke a year ago as a guide for absent Liberals, was in fact a wrecker's lantern intended to lure the erring ones to their destruction. Mr. Gauthier plainly stated that the animosities engendered by the cleavage in the party in 1917 were not forgotten. "An honorable member," he asserted, "says that now is the time to try and get nearer to the Province of Quebec. Speaking in my own name and for my province, I shall quote the words of one of our public men who says that the Province of Quebec is not in a state of mind to enter into any conference; it has been misjudged, it has been badly treated, it has been slandered, it is waiting for its own, and after that it will confer and not before."

The words brought Mr. Burnham to his feet. He demanded to know if they were intended as a threat.

"It is not a threat. It is a declaration," Mr. Gauthier called back.

Mr. Burnham again protested. "The difference between a threat and a declaration of that kind," he retorted, "is that the man who makes it is afraid to back it up."

"You have no right to insinuate that I am a coward," sharply replied Mr. Gauthier.

The Speaker intervened. Mr. Burnham remarked that he was not attributing physical cowardice to Mr. Gauthier. "I am attributing to him moral cowardice —." So Mr. Burnham was proceeding when again the Speaker intervened. He asked Mr. Burnham to withdraw. Mr. Burnham complied, further remarking that he did not care a brass farthing "whether they threaten or whether they don't."

Against Prohibition.

A bitter attack upon prohibitionists was made by Mr. Burnham. After declaring that the day of coal was over, and that electricity was not nearly so valuable to the business world as industrial alcohol, Mr. Burnham said this same industrial alcohol was the hope of the business world, but was in danger of being lost through the narrowness of prohibitionists.

"Even the alcohol which comes to Canada now has to go to Ottawa because of the nervousness of the prohibitionists and he diluted before it is sent out over the Dominion.

Deputation From Peterboro Waited Upon the Minister

LOCAL DELEGATES SEEK A DEMONSTRATION FARM FOR PETERBORO—THOSE PRESENT.

Special to the Examiner.

TORONTO, March 3. — A deputation from Peterboro City and district waited upon Hon. Manning Doherty, Minister of Agriculture, to-day, asking the establishment of a demonstration farm in connection with the Normal school at Peterboro. The purpose of the farm would be to give all students who desired to attain a thorough practical education in the most modern approved methods of operating a farm.

"We want the government to establish a demonstration farm to prove to the young men who take advantage of it that farming can be made to pay—that a farm can be operated on a business basis at a profit," Fred E. Wilson of the Peterboro County Council told the Minister.

The U.F.O., County Council, City Council and the Industrial Exhibition Board were represented on the deputation which included Mayor McIntyre, Ald. G. N. Gordon and J. Crowe, Thos. Tooms, M.P.P., G. A. Gillespie, ex-M.P.P., W. R. Breyfogle, Reg. Turner, Webber Turner, R. Denne, R. B. Rogers, R. T. Lillico, H. G. Webber, Fred E. Wilson, H. W. Baptie and R. Grandy.

SEVERAL FAMILIES ARE HOMELESS AS RESULT OF AN EARLY MORNING FIRE

COMBINED BUSINESS BLOCK AND APARTMENT HOUSE ON HUNTER STREET BADLY GUTTED —OCCUPANTS HAD A NARROW ESCAPE.

DAMAGE HEAVY

Fire broke out in the roof of the Bell building Hunter street this morning shortly before three o'clock and in spite of the efforts of the firemen swept down through the three stories completely gutting the third storey and rear of the second storey, leaving the lower storey undamaged except by water and smoke. The fire was still smoldering late this morning but a watchful eye is being kept on it by the firemen and any further outbreak will be promptly checked.

Police Constable Young passed the building at two o'clock this morning but no sign of fire was noticed. One hour later the upper storey was enveloped in flames.

Mr. James Lynch was returning home with Mr. Fred Whitcroft and Mr. W. M. Lang. At the corner of George and Hunter the group stopped for a minute to speak to Police Constable Lawrence. The fire was noticed under the roof by Mr. Lynch, when they were passing the building and they called Police Constable Lawrence from the corner. The alarm was turned in from the Bell Telephone office while the men aroused the inmates of the apartments above the stores, taking them out quickly as possible. The last inmate, Mrs. Alexander MacGregor was taken out of the burning building just as the roof began to settle.

Far and wide the lurid reflection could be seen and the flames fed by the dry shingles of the roof had already gained considerable headway when the firemen arrived.

Two lines of hose were laid at once from the hydrant a little west on Hunter, these being carried up the main stairway so the water could be played on the heart of the fire, but when the men went to turn the water on the hydrant was found to be frozen. This necessitated running a line from another hydrant.

Four Streams In Use

In a few minutes four streams were playing on the fire which had gained considerable headway, and swept down into the third storey. The high walls made the fire very hard to fight but the windows in the third storey proved almost indestructible and stood up against the tons of water like armour plating. Even the revolver shots of the policemen failing to break them sufficiently to allow the water to enter freely.

The position of the structure, cut off on two sides by the creek made it hard to get the hose in behind, although it was a good thing in another way in preventing the fire from spreading. The fire found its way slowly, eating downward despite the water poured on it and all night long the firemen battled, daylight still finding them on the job.

The cause of the fire is unknown.

TWO STORES.

The building is divided into two stores; one conducted until recently by R. A. Lawson, but now operated by two Omemee men, Messrs. Stenson and Jones, and the other is the local agency of the Deering and McCormack farm implements, Mr. J. O'Reilly being the local manager.

The upper stories are divided into apartments, in which there were living at the time of the fire four families besides Mrs. James R. Bell, the owner. These are Mr. and Mrs. Clee, Mr. and Mrs. Alexander MacGregor, Mr. and Mrs. Asker and Mr. and Mrs. Corbett.

These people were taken out of the building at a minute's notice and had no time to seize anything but the few clothes they could get their hands on and left in the building all their worldly possessions. They were at once taken care of by Belleghems and the American Hotel, warm drinks being served.

To-day the building presents a strange appearance with its coating of ice and blackened walls and the slight smudge of smoke still rising from the ruined interior.

Mrs. J. R. Bell, when interviewed by the Examiner stated that the loss was entirely covered by insurance, but expressed deep regret that some of the tenants found themselves unprotected from the fire fiend. She said that she would likely build again if it was at all possible.

This structure was erected some 40 years ago by the late John Wilson on the site of the old "Royal Oak" hotel, and the new building was called after its predecessor. Old residents will recall that it was a most pretentious and imposing structure as it was then almost twice as large as it now stands, extending right over the creek to Halpin's; the house in front the street now being part of the hostelry.

After about ten years the part extending over the present laneway, then an alley, was taken down, and subsequetly the other part of the structure was gradually pulled down until only the house and Bell's building now stands, a memory to the old building.

Subsequent proprietors of the Royal Oak were James O'Shea and Arthur Rountree and in later years Isaac Noble conducted it as a temperance hotel. About 7 or 8 years ago Mr. Bell took over the building, entirely renovating it and changing it to an apartment house with the two stores below.

A BIG VOTE POLLED AT ELECTIONS

BOARD OF TRADE

The thirty-first annual election of the Council of the Board of Trade was held yesterday in the Council room of that body. The polls were open from twelve until two o'clock and from seven until half past eight, during which time the rooms were crowded with members casting their ballots. Those declared elected by the judges were as follows:

Thomas Barrie, Barrie's Limited, Furriers.

Russell V. Copping Alderman.

Joseph J. Duffus, Manager, Duffus Motor Sales.

J. Wells Fraser, Manager Bank of Nova Scotia.

John J. Hartley, Building Contractor.

H. R. H. Kenner, Principal, Collegiate Institute.

Robert G. Kingan, President, Kingan Hardware Co.

George A. Macdonald, Quaker Oats Co.

W. A. Richardson, Sec.-Treas. Peterborough Canoe Co.

Fred L. Roy, Photographer.

William Sangster, Engineer, De Laval Co.

Charles E. Sisson, Canadian General Electric Co.

P. P. Westbye, General Manager, Wm. Hamilton Co., Limited.

Frank Whitehouse, Alderman.

Edgar Worth, General Manager, Canadian Woollens, Ltd.

A Large Vote.

The Committee of Judges that served during the entire time was made up of, G. O. Cameron, chairman, R. L. Dobbin, E. L. Payne, F. C. Hungerford and C. E. Smith.

The vote was surprisingly large and the Committe of Judges did not complete their counting until about ten o'clock, when the certificate of election was signed.

Mr. G. O. Cameron, chairman of the Committee of Judges, said the election was a great success, in that in itself it was an eye-opener to many.

The best of feeling prevailed all the way through, and the results showed thoughtful and careful consideration on the part of the members.

Realizing the responsibility of the Board of Trade as a civic institution with a real mission, the members seemed anxous to elect a capable and dependable council.

Four members of the retiring Council were nominated and were elected; these include Vice President Thomas Barrie, Frank Whitehouse, President of the Mercantile Association, John J. Hartley, and ex-Mayor Duffus. The election of these men indicated a desire to perpetuate the policy established during the first re-organized year.

The Council-elect includes six representatives of industrial institutions, four of commercial houses, and one each of building, banking, education, photography and the Board of Aldermen.

The new Council will convene this evening to qualify and consider the election of a President, Vice-President Treasurer and Executive Committee.

The duties of the Council and officers do not begin until the date of the annual election on March ninth, when they will be formally inducted. On that occasion the retiring President will make his valedictory address and his successor an inaugural one.

WELL KNOWN MINISTER DIED AT ATLANTIC CITY

Was Formerly Pastor of Well Known Toronto Church.

(Special to The Examiner.)

BROCKVILLE, March 3.—Word was received here this morning of the death at Atlantic City of Rev. Dr. Daniel Strachan formerly pastor of St. John's church and of Rosedale church, Toronto who was in the service of the Educational Department of the Imperial Oil Co. He took a prominent part in the labor and industrial convention at Ottawa last year.

HEAVY DEATH TOLL DUE TO INFLUENZA

TORONTO, March 3. — During February there were more than twenty thousand cases of influenza and pneumonia in Ontario and twenty-three hundred deaths reported to the Provincial Health Department. The toll of deaths while heavy, is not nearly so bad as in October 1918 when the epidemic caused more than three thousand deaths. Cases of small pox numbered 850 or decrease of over three hundred from January figures. Nine deaths reported.

Report states that doctors are not reporting cases of influenza as required by legislation.

THE CLAIMS OF THE MIDLANDS.

The system of Provincial Highways that is being developed under the roads policy of the Hon. F. C. Biggs, is gradually being specified, the latest to be officially sanctioned being the Port Credit to Owen Sound highway, which as the result of the visit of a large delegation, is to be included in the Provincial list. Other districts are pressing for similar roads and the Midland district is in danger of being neglected unless an energetic effort is made to bring before the Minister of Public Works the claims of this section of Ontario. The municipalities affected should lose no time in pressing for the adoption of the Port Hope-Peterboro-Kawartha Lakes road, if not as a Provincial trunk line, at least as a most important feeder, serving a large section of the Midland district, and opening to the tourist traffic the beauties of the Kawartha Lakes. The different municipalities will doubtless gladly cooperate in such an effort, and the situation should be laid before Mr. Biggs before his programme for the season is finally completed.

THE BOARD OF COMMERCE.

The Board of Commerce's experiment in abolishing the control on the price of sugar, may succeed in proving that profit-fixing was a success, but it has not resulted in securing any additional popularity for the Board. There seems to be a feeling that the commissioners have made a mistake in issuing a virtual invitation to raise prices. If they were satisfied that controlling profits was a method that was beneficial to the public, they should not have abandoned the policy even temporarily, merely to prove that they were right. The desire to demonstrate this fact may be a perfectly natural one, and justified to some extent by criticism of the Board's policy, but never-the-less popular opinion seems to be inclined to find fault with the latest action of the Board.

The operations of the Commissioners will undoubtedly be an early issue in the present session of the House. Not only will there be a demand for an official explanation of the resignation of Judge Robson but there is almost certain to be a request for the abolition of the Board itself. Many farmers are opposed to its operations and in these days the voice of the agricultural interests receives a more attentive hearing than in the days gone by.

THE OTTAWA RIDDLE.

The popular game at Ottawa just now seems to be guessing the name of the successor to Sir Robert Borden. The Premier is believed to be through and Hon. J. A. Calder when he arrives back in the capital after consulting his leader is expected to bring the definite announcement that Sir Robert's health has not improved enough to enable to resume his duties. The situation from a Unionist standpoint is disquieting. While it is true as one political observer puts it that the crew do not care who is captain of the craft as long as the wages and rations are forthcoming regularly, the members of the Cabinet are more concerned in the matter. Nearly all of the ministers are suspected of having ambitious designs on the mantle of the Premier and the result is the prospect of a decidedly merry little war when the Government caucus to select a leader is held. Choosing a successor to Sir Robert under present conditions is like playing with dynamite for there is every chance that without careful handling of the situation there may be a split that will wreck the Government. The only thing that may prevent such a breach is the certainty that if an election is forced most of the Unionist members know that their chances of being re-elected will be of the smallest and they may therefore agree to any compromise in the selection of a leader that will prevent a definite breaking up of the party.

AN OBSTACLE REMOVED.

By the decision of the Labour wing of the new Government not to press for an eight-hour day during the coming session the greatest obstacle to the smooth working of the Farmer-Labour alliance has been removed. There was little possibility of the two factions coming to an agreement on the question. The shorter workday so eagerly sought by Labour was not acceptable to the farmers nor was any compromise excluding agriculture from the operations of an eight-hour day likely to be reached. There is a shortage of labour on the farms under present conditions and the adoption of legislation putting into effect an eight-hour day would serve to intensify the troubles of the farmers in this regard. A crisis would undoubtedly have speedily developed had Labour's representatives shown a stubborn attitude on the point, and the decision to drop the matter for this session at least must have been as welcome to Premier Drury as the announcement that Hon. W. E. Raney had been elected by acclamation in East Wellington. Although they have abandoned for the moment the eight-hour agitation the Labour members have several advanced measures that they expect to be successful in passing through the Legislature and the chances of these reforms will be heightened by the dropping of the shorter work-day legislation.

JUDGE ROBSON'S RESIGNATION

There is an element of mystery about the resignation of Judge Robson from the position of chairman of the Board of Commerce that seems to call for an explanation. Various causes were assigned for the action of Judge Robson. Difficulties with the Civil Service Commission, and internal fiction were mentioned in Ottawa despatches as the reason for his retirement. Yesterday, however, the former Board of Commerce chairman declared that he had resigned because he did not believe that price fixing and profit restrictions on the products of the country should be continued in the time of peace, however, necessary they might have been during the war.

On its face the explanation of Judge Robson would be accepted as a legitimate reason for his retirement. If he were not in sympathy with the policy of the Board there was indeed nothing else that he could consistently do. But the public is no doubt mystified at the declaration of Messrs. O'Connor and Murdock the other Commissioners that the reason given by Judge Robson is not his real reason for retiring. What was the real reason? The public is entitled to an explanation and the Acting-Premier seems the person to whom they have the right to look for the information.

AN EXPERIMENT IN SUGAR.

The Board of Commerce, in order to demonstrate to the public that its work is effective and its method of profit-fixing beneficial to the consumer, is making a simple test by abolishing the fixed price of sugar. In announcing this action a statement from the Commissioners says:

'This Board deems that it will be in the ultimate benefit of the public that a test or demonstration be now made as to whether or not the orders of this Board have been effective and especially as to whether or not profit control is possible or beneficial and for the further purpose of discovering whether the demand made on behalf of retailers of sugar for liberty to take a profit of twenty per cent. upon sales of sugar, if acceded to, would have been taken advantage of, this Board in order to provide such test or demonstration, has decided to entirely cease control over profits on sugar."

The result of the experiment will be watched with as much interest by the public as by the Board. Up to yesterday the price of granulated sugar in Canada was 16c. per pound, plus freight, while in New York State as high as 30c. a pound is being paid, the advantage in favor of the Canadian consumer being due to the activities of the Board of Commerce. Now that the restrictions have been lifted, the public will be able to judge by the developments of the next days just how beneficial are the operations of the Board. The Toronto Star declares the Board of Commerce is the one friend the public has. Perhaps the test that is being tried now will show that there is considerable truth in the Star's tribute.

CANADA'S MILITIA.

General Sir Arthur Currie, former commander-in-chief of the Canadian Corps in France and now Inspector-General of the Canadian Militia struck a popular note in his address at the dinner of the Princess Pats in Ottawa when he declared that the men who had fought for Canada were the last to want to establish anything in the line of militarism here at home. Canada needed a small efficient staff and a small permanent force for the training and equipping of her militia, General Currie declared "but we believe" he added, "that any military strength will not come from those who are in permanently in khaki but from the plain citizen in military attire. Canada can rely on its militia to carry out any duty that may be required in this country."

General Currie is undoubtedly correct. The returned soldiers have shown that they are opposed to anything that savours of compulsory military service and training. Veterans associations, our local branch included have passed strongly worded resolutions setting forth the absolute opposition of their respective organizations to such methods. Doubtless many of them share General Currie's faith in the militia and will demonstrate it during the next few weeks by joining the newly organized militia units such as the 57th Regiment. If there is a general response to the present appeal the Canadian militia, with officers and non-coms. of overseas experience and many seasoned veterans in the ranks will be a body of which any country might well be proud.

THE C. G. E. BYLAW.

It is certain that if a new manufacturing concern proposed to spend a cool $1,000,000 in erecting a plant in Peterboro on the condition that the city would grant them fixed assessment of $150,000 for ten years, the company would be heartily welcomed and the necessary bylaw would be carried by a big majority. There is no logical reason why a similiar reception should not be granted the bylaw to be voted on this month to authorize the continuation of the present assessment of the Canadian General Electric Company at $150,000 for the next ten years, especially as the measure is merely carrying out an agreement made with the company ten years ago. When Senator Nicholls appeared before the Council recently he intimated that the building operations to be carried on by the C.G.E. here would amount to $500,000 But they will be on a much larger scale than was expected. In a letter to Mayor McIntyre the head of the Canadian General now gives the welcome information that the cost of the new plant the company proposes to erect in Peterboro will be one million dollars. The value of such extensive biulding operations to Peterboro cannot be over estimated as they will provide work for the city's carpenters, bricklayers and other workmen, while the completion of the plant will mean an addition of hundred of employees to the present uarge payroll and make the Peterboro works one of the largest industrial plants in the Dominion. These facts are so readily apparent that the bylaw to be voted on in March 23rd will undoubtedly be enthusiastically supported by the citizens who recognize that in the securing of a million dollar addition to the Canadian General Electric works, Peterboro's growth and progress will be given a marked impetus.

ALBERTA COAL.

The possibility of securing enough coal in Canada to supply the fuel wants of the Dominion is a subject that comes to the fore whenever an industrial or other crisis in connection with the operation of the American mines threatens to reduce the shipments of coal from across the line into Canada. In this connection a report made by the coal section of the Edmonton Board of Trade, which appears elsewhere in to-day's issue of the Examiner is of great interest, inasmuch as it shows not only that there are vast coal fields in the western province, but that shrewd western business, after investigating the situation, can see no reason why Ontario's coal supply could not be secured from Alberta, relieving this province of the necessity of depending upon the United States for her fuel.

In forwarding the Examiner a copy of the report as published in the Edmonton Bulletin, Mr. H. C. Anderson, of South Edmonton, makes the following interesting comment on the situation:

Dear Sir,—I am enclosing to you a clipping from the Edmonton Bulletin of Thursday, Febraury 19, 1920, which is headed, "Coal Production in Alberta For Use in Ontario; Report Submitted by Coal Section of the Edmonton Board of Trade."

In sending this to you I may say that the Canadian Manufacturers' Association has appointed a Fuel committee to investigate the coal resources of Canada, East and West, looking forward to the time when the Dominion of Canada shall be supplied with Canadian coal, thus relieving Ontario and Quebec of their dependence upon merican coal.

This is a situation which Ontario may as well face now ,as coal mining in the United States is reaching such an enormous annual tonnage as to makt all manufacturers and consumers of coal seriously reflect upon what the situation will be ten years hence.

While it is true that the United States has large deposits of coal, at the same time, under present conditions, it will not take many years to completely mine out certain areas. Already the anthracite situation is such as to bring within the realms of possibility the necessity for the United States conserving that kind of coal exclusively for its own use.

Alberta, on the other hand, contains one-twelfth the world's known coal, and the body of that coal has been barely scatched. It is altogether possible to ship coal from Alberta to Ontario, and for Alberta to entirely supply the needs of Ontario.

In stating this, however, it must not be lost sight of that Nova Scotia is also possessed of coal, and that their representations for the Ontario market must also be taken into consideration.

We, however, wish to place Alberta's position before the people of Ontario, and to in every way co-operate with the Canadian Manufacturers' Association towards showing what can be done in Alberta in tht matter of supplying Ontario with coal.

As the people in your city are vitally interested in this matter I will be glad if you will publish the enclosed article in your news columns; and also, if you desire give publicity to this letter.

COAL PRODUCTION IN ALBERTA FOR USE IN PROVINCE OF ONTARIO

Inasmuch as the Canadian Manufacturers Association from their head offices in Toronto and Montreal are considering the advisibality of seeking coal supply from western Canada, and have appointed a committee to investigate the resurces, development and qualities of coal in western Canada; and the cost of transporting coal to the province of Ontario, giving as some of their reasons and objects, the following:

"1. Whereas Ontario is not possessed of any coal deposits, and is therefore dependent upon a supply of its fuel coming from a foreign country over which the Ontario consumers and the government of Canada have no control: and,

Whereas the industrial life of Ontario is largely dependent upon the good will of the American people for its suply of coal; and,

Whereas there is always the possibility of the United States being so situated that its whole supply of coal might be required to insure its own protection; and,

2. Whereas the government railways in Canada, particularly the Canadian National, and the Grand Trunk Pacific which apparently the government contemplates operating, are yearly faced with heavy deflicts which arise through lack of sufficient traffic to assure a profitable conduct of their business; and,

3. Whereas the province of Alberta is possessed of unlimited quantities of all varieties of soal suitable for Ontario's needs; and,

4. Whereas Alberta is a large market for Ontario manufacturers and that this market will best be maintained and consolidated through the correct methods of commerce being applied, namely, by selling to Ontario as well as buying from them; and,

5. Whereas Canada is largely indebted to the Unted States through the development of our own resources and industries, with the result that the time seems to be approaching when we will only be able to purchase from the United States for cash:

Therefore, it is in the best interest of Canada that the Dominion Government, and the government of the province of Alberta should co-operate to bring about the desired condition of making Canada independent of any foreign country in its fuel supply, and thus retain for the development of Canada the means of exchange which comes about through using our own coal, and thus stimulating every branch of industry through the good results which would follow, which may be summed up in a variety of ways:

Second—The building up of an industry in the province of Alberta which would be a large consumer of Canadian made goods. And,

Lastly—By having the foresight to assure a supply of fuel for all of Canada, so that industries of Ontario would not at any time be in danger through competition, or otherwise, of having their factories closed through inability to obtain coal."

They suggest that the freight rates from any mine in Alberta to any mine in Pennsylvania to any point in Ontario should be equalized with the freight rate prevailing from the mines in the States to the point of consumption in Ontario. For example, if the freight rate from any point in Ontario is $5.40 per ton, then the same freight rate from Alberta might also bear the duties and exchange charge which would go to help out the railways. In other words, the freight rates from Alberta to Ontario to be on an equality with all charges assessed against the American coal.

Inasmuch as according to estimates carefully made out and generally accepted, Alberta contains approximately one-twelfth of the world's known coal supply; and that according to figures submitted to the Mines branch of the Alberta provincial government the mines of this province are now developed to produce approximately ten million tons of coal per year in the following tonnages: anthracite, one hundred and fifty thousand tons; bituminous, four million tons; domestic coal, five million tons. And,

Inasmuch as the development could and would be rapidly increased to meet enormous additional needs to almost any extent whatever in any or all of the three grades of coal available. And,

Inasmuch as the operating of coal mines in Alberta up to and including the present time is hazardous and usually unprofitable as evinced by the fact that approximately sixty coal mining companies cease to operate during the year on account of insufficient market. And,

Because the increase in market would enable coal mine operators in western Canada to make enormous increase in their development, insuring labor a more nearly constant employment, as well as stabilizing the industry generally. All of which would bring an enormous amount of money into western Canada.

And for many other good and sufficient reasons, too numerous to enumerate at this time, be it therefore resolved, that this Edmonton board of trade or chamber of commerce goes on record favoring a most thorough inquiry into the cost of transportation of coal in railway cars to Ontario as well as by lake and rail; and pledging ourselves to assist the Canadian Manufacturers' Association in every way possible to secure necessary information to lay before our Federal Government on this matter with a view of enlarging the markets for Canadian coal in Canada, as well as benefiting Canada as a whole; and also be it resolved that this board through its organization pledges itself to endeavor to secure the cooperation of the provincial government in this endeavor, and that the president appoint a strong committee to present a copy of this resolution to the premier of the province, and ask his assistance alohg all necessary lines in order that a definite conclusion may be arrived at; and every effort be put forth to secure the Ontario market for Alberta.

Respectfully yours,
C. G. SHELDON,
Chairman Coal Section.
Edmonton, Alta., Feb. 14, 1920.

ABOUT OLEOMARGARINE.

It is surprising to find such a capable and useful public official as the Dominion Dairy Commissioner, Mr. J. A. Ruddick, encouraging farmers to revive the agitation against the permissive use of oleomargarine. According to press reports, at a meeting of the National Dairy Council held in Winnipeg last week, Mr. Ruddick "stated that Federal Department of Agriculture had never been in doubt where it stood in regard to oleomargarine, and added that if an energetic organization like the National Dairy Council had been in existence at the time it might have prevented the suspension of the law prohibiting the sale of this product in Canada. The person," continued Mr. Ruddick, "who states to you that oleomargarine is as good as butter is either not well informed or is guilty f misrepresentation."

We hope to find that Mr. Ruddick has not been accurately reported. The "Federal Department of Agriculture," he must remember, is represented by its responsible Ministerial head, and that responsible authority, as a member of the Cabinet, must have consented to the Government's policy of permitting the use of oleomargarine. One would not expect such an experienced official as Mr. Ruddick to commit the indiscretion of publicly assailing the policy of his responsible chief. If Mr. Ruddick disapproves of the law allowing oleomargarine to be used, he is not bound to endorse it, but he is bound to refrain from attacking it.

When, many years ago, the law was passed forbidding the manufacture or importation of oleomargarine in Canada there were, no doubt, good reasons for such action. Oleomargarine was not then the article it is today. But Canada adhered to the prohibition when, if we mistake not, every other civilized country allowed the article to be used. Even in such famous dairying countries as Denmark and Holland oleomargarine is widely used. So long as butter could be had at a reosonable price there was no demand in Canada for oleomargarine. It was only when the price of butter had advanced to double and treble its ordinary figures that the demand for oleomargarine arose. Oleomargarine does not displace butter today. It is used by people who cannot afford to buy butter, and would not buy it, at seventy cents per pound. Since they cannot have the real butter, why should they not be at liberty to buy—not as butter but under its own name—a cheaper article which, while certainly not "as good as butter," is recognized as a convenient substitute in all civilized countries. An appeal to farmers to resist the use of oleomargarine under the conditions of today—when every pound of butter that is produced finds a ready sale at high prices—is an appeal to selfishness.

It is to be hoped that Mr. Ruddick only yielded to a temptation to please his farmer audience at Winnipeg without thinking of the possible consequences. If his speech indicates an intention on the part of the Government to return to the oleomargarine prohibition, Parliament should be prepared to vigorously resist such a movement.—Journal of Commerce.

A GAME WITH GROVE SCHOOL

Yesterday afternoon an exciting game of hockey took place in Lakefield, when the Grove school defeated St. Luke's team to the tune of 18-10. It was a good game, although loose on account of the smallness of the ice, which also prevented the Peterborough boys from getting away. The Grove team showed the result of constant practice in their fine combination, while the St. Luke's forwards had a great tendency to nog the puck. For the winners, Hamilton and Mackenzie were the stars, both doing some fine rushing and stick-handling Bleeker, although small, did good work in the nets. On the forward line, G. Maniece and Legon were the stars for the losers, while on the defence E. Maniece was particularly good, breaking up some rushes which were sure to add to the Grove score. St. Luke's captain made a mistake in playing him forward part of the time. Another mistake on the St. Luke's team was so much "subbing." The team would get together nicely when a sub would come on, while the Grove played practically the same from beginning to end. The return game on Brock should be more evenly contested.

CASTORIA

Fletcher's Castoria is strictly a remedy for Infants and Children. Foods are specially prepared for babies. A baby's medicine is even more essential for Baby. Remedies primarily prepared for grown-ups are not interchangeable. It was the need of a remedy for the common ailments of Infants and Children that brought Castoria before the public after years of research, and no claim has been made for it that its use for over 30 years has not proven.

What is CASTORIA?

Castoria is a harmless substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups. It is pleasant. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other narcotic substance. Its age is its guarantee. For more than thirty years it has been in constant use for the relief of Constipation, Flatulency, Wind Colic and Diarrhoea; allaying Feverishness arising therefrom, and by regulating the Stomach and Bowels, aids the assimilation of Food; giving healthy and natural sleep. MACKENZIE KING STATES HE WAS SINCERE IN HIS DEMAND FOR AN ELECTION

BELIEVES THE GOVERNMENT HAS LOST THE CONFIDENCE OF THE PEOPLE—SENT MESSAGE TO GOVERNMENT.

MAY HANG ON TO THE LAST MINUTE

Special to the Examiner.

OTTAWA, March 2. — Hon MacKenzie King to-day authorized the Examiner correspondent to say that he was perfectly sincere in his demand for an appeal to the people at the earliest possible moment.

A story was in circulation last night that he sent one of his lieutenants over to the government two days ago with a message to the effect that he did not want an election any more than the Government wanted one. "That story is absolutely ridiculous," declared the opposition leader. "The Liberal party believes there should be an appeal to the electors and in offering my amendment to the address in reply to the Speech from the Throne I was quite in earnest. We think the government has lost the confidence of the people; and that there should be a new Parliament and a new Government."

The members of the Opposition were delighted with their new leader's first big effort in the House of Commons. They could talk of nothing else last night when the House adjourned. The members from the East of the Ottawa River especially expressed themselves in favor of going to the country without delay, and Mr. Ernest Lapointe, the Quebec leader of the Liberal party, branded the statement that the Liberals are only bluffing as "an unmitigated falsehood."

The chief contention of the Quebec Liberals is that the present government does not represent the people. Whether or not the government will dissolve parliament is another story.

A Presentation.

On Thursday evening of last week, about seventy of the friends and neighbors of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Brock paid an unexpected call at their home and presented Mr. Brock with an electric reading lamp and Mrs. Brock with a casserole.

Although taken by surprise, Mr. and Mrs. Brock made suitable replies. A good time was spent in music, games, etc. A dainty lunch was served and about two o'clock a.m. the gathering broke up. Following is the address:

To Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Brock.—Your friends and neighbors have gathered together this evening to say farewell. It is always with feelings of regret that we part with our friends. You, Mr. Brock, have been for many years a leader in the community and an official of the church that you will be greatly missed. With this house have been associated generations. Your grandfather and father were pillars in the church and active in every good work. You have followed in their footsteps. It is natural for the community to associate you and your family with this homestead.

You Mrs. Brock have so heartily co-operated in maintaining the traditions of the house that you have found a place in the affections and esteem of the community. You have always been active in every good cause in the community and church and we will feel that a true friend has removed from our midst.

Now that you have decided to remove to another home, we wish to express our regrets at losing your presence and influence. We will always keep fresh in our memory the associations of the past and pray that God's blessing may rest upon you and your family in your new home. May you be spared to see many years of usefulness and service.

Kindly accept this small token of our esteem and friendship. Your many friends and neighbors wish you every success and happiness, and hope you will find congenial associations in your future home.

Signed on behalf of the Zion community.

FARMER SUFFERS HEAVY FIRE LOSS

Mr. Peter Deshane of Belmont met with a very heavy loss by fire, when his house and contents were totally destroyed by fire. The fire broke out in the partitions and ceiling when the family dinner was being prepared, and in a few minutes the whole house was a mass of flames. Only a few chairs were saved, and in addition to the property loss, the sum of $125 was also destroyed. Mr. Deshane's loss will be very heavy, as he only had a small insurance.

SANDRA THE JEALOUS

By JANE PHELPS

CHAPTER LV.

When I found the little apolgetic note gone, I fairly raved in my disappointment and anger. That I should so have humiliated myself, and for nothing! I rushed into my own room, almost knocking Mrs. Gray down as she passed me in the hall.

"Why, what is it?" she asked, staring at me.

"Please come to my room, I want to ask you a question," I panted.

"What is it?" she asked with real concern in her voice after I had closed the door.

"Was she—the first—Mr. Graham's first wife, was she awfully smart and did she read and study after she was married?"

"She was smart, yes ,very bright and witty. But I don't think she studied much after she was married She read a good deal tho—mostly novels."

"Did she give up all her young friends and stay at home?"

"Why—no— she had a good many who came here, and whom she visited. May I ask you why you are making yourself unhappy over these things, Mrs. Graham?"

"I want to do as she did. Mr. Graham admired her. I would like to know all she did to win his admiration," I answered, my pride uppermost for once. I would not complain, altho I knew well enough that Mrs. Gray realized that something out of the ordinary was the matter with me.

I determined not to go down to dinner. I told Mrs. Gray my head ached, and asked her to excuse me to Mr. Graham. I would have some tea and toast later.

In about ten minutes after she had left me, and while I sat dismally staring out of the window, seeing nothing because of my tears, Everett rapped.

"Come in," I said hastily drying my eyes.

"Mrs. Gray tells me you wish to be excused from dinner. If you are really ill, Sandra, I will gladly excuse you, but if you are simply giving way to temper because you can't go to tea with Mrs. Sloane and her guest, I shall expect you in your place as usual." Then, without waiting for any reply, he left me.

There was no use to pretend with him. He saw thru my every subterfuge. So I bathed my face, and dressed, then joined him at the table. As usual with him, he made no reference to what had happened, but talked easily upon different subjects Then, after we had finished our coffee, he said:

"I will explain the course of study I have laid out for you." He drew a chair for me and one for himself up to the library table. Then he took from his pocket a folded paper on which were a list of books, and the hours to be devoted to the persual or study of each subject.

Shamed, embarrassed tears filled my eyes. I had graduated from high school, and had been one of the first scholars in my studies. He noticed and said:

"I trust we are to have no trouble about this."

"But it is as if you thought me a know-nothing. As if I never had been to school. I feel so ashamed to have anyone know."

"That shows your childishness. I would give a great deal if I had the time to take up a course of study." It was on my lips to say that if he remained away from Mrs. Barton's and the club he would have the time, but instead I said nothing —just cried softly.

"May I ask you one question, Everett, and will you answer me?"

"Yes."

"When you were my age, 19, didn't you want any young company? Were you contented to be with older people all the time? And when you were asked somewhere just with two boys your own age, wouldn't you have felt badly to be told you had to stay home and study?"

"It seems to me you have asked three questions instead of one. But I will answer 'yes' to them all. But that was because I did not know at that age what was best for me. What I do for you is because I am trying to make your future happy." I said no more. What was the use? But I cried myself to sleep.

The next day Mrs. Barr came. But I disliked her from the moment I saw her, and instead of listening or trying ot understand the lesson in French. I was thinking of Mrs. Sloane and her charming niece Marion, and wondering what they thought of me for not coming after my promise.

Had I known Barrett Edmonds was with them, and that they had told him I had accepted, then excused myself, I would have been more chagrined than I was.

CHAPTER LVI

So much had happened, so much that was disagreeable in connection with Rose's visit, etcetera, that I had almost forgotten the little black trunk in the attic; and had not been quite so vindictively jealous of anything which reminded me of Leola.

Now I determined to find the key of that trunk. But how?

One day I was standing before her picture in the library. Suddenly there rushed over me such a spasm of hate that I shook my fist at the beautiful face, exclaiming:

"Mr. Graham would be very angry," Mrs. Gray's quiet voice broke in. I had supposed I was alone, and started guiltily.

"I mean it, Mrs. Gray. It may be wrong, it may childish, but how would you like to have another woman's picture staring at you all the time if you were a man's second choice I can't forget her for a minute, no matter how I try, with pictures of her hanging on the wall."

"I would try not to look at them or think of them. Iam so sorry you are unhappy," she added kindly.

"I don't know what I would do if I couldn't spit out at you once in a while!" I exclaimed, a. dtamnIne while!" I exclaimed; and I meant it After she found she was not to be disturbed in her management of the house, that I did not interfere in any way, she had been invariably kind and even at times almost loving in her attitude toward me. Many times had I done as I felt inclined, I would have thrown my arms around her neck and told her how I appreciated her, and that I was learning to love her almost as if she were a sort of mother. But of course I didn't .. Everett had warned me so many times to be dignified with the servants, never to talk to them save about the necessary work for which they were responsible, that I seldom gave vent to my feelings either for her or Hetty.

"Tell me all you please, my dear Mrs. Graham. I shall not repeat it. But be careful before the others. Even Hetty, much as she loves you, is young and careless.—Don't look so unhappy. You have so much to be grateful for; so much that other young women do not have."

"But—I—want to be loved!" I exclaimed passionately, "Loved as he lover-her!" I pointed to the picture.

"You will—I am sure you will if you have patience, my dear Mrs. Graham. You are ery sweet, very lovable, nad he wil see it in time."

Even she could not say he loved me then. That stood out so plainly that I moaned: "What did he ask me to marry him for, Mrs. Gray?. I would have been happier home with mother." I knew I was not telling the truth, that nothing would make up to me for Everett's presence, even when he was seemingly set upon making me miserable.

"I think he—wanted—home—children"—she spoke with hesitation.

"Yes ,that's what one of his friends said. Married me to bear him children! Well, I won't; She didn't, and he lover her. I won't be a wife just for that!"

"You love children. I have watched you stop and speak to them in the street," she spoke very quietly.

"Of course I do! I adore them. But I will not have any for him. Not until I know he loves me. If he wants them, let him adopt them."

I sank into a chair. I had given way to emotions until I felt almost ill. But no matter where I looked those big laughing eyes of Leola followed me. In all her pictures her eyes laughed, even when there was no smile on her lips. They looked like the eyes of some elfin child just full of mischief, ready to do something daring.

"Please try and forget —her," Mrs. Gray said, resting her hand for a moment on my hair. "You will be happier."

"He will in time. It rests with you how complete his forgetfulness is. Make him love you so much that he has no room for regrets. You would not want him to forget, if he ceased to regret." She left me.

"It rests with you how complete the forgetfulness is" I repeated aloud as the door closed. "I WILL make him love me so he has no regrets —if it is possible."

CHAPTER LVII

It is one thing to determine to make a man love one, especially a man who is still in love with another woman, and another thing to do it. Also it is hard to attempt when your heart is bitter, filled with jealousy and an outraged sense of justice.

I had told Mrs. Gray that I couldn't forget Leola, and that Everett didn't either . The day after Mrs. Barr came for the first time to teach me what I didn't want to know. I had proof of this—or so I thought.

I had not heard Everett come in It was a dark gloomy afternoon. Rain had been falling in a sort of a rain that gets on one's nerves. I wandered into the library. Evidently he did not hear me. The door had not been quite closed, altho I am positive he thought it was, and my slippered feet made no noise on the thick rug.

He was sitting by the table, a picture of Leola before him. When I spoke he opened a drawer and hurriedly shoved it in. He had no idea I had seen, I knew by his actions.

I was already nervous and miserable. And the sight of him sitting there with her picture when I supposed him at the office hurt me dreadfully. But this time I said nothing, simply apologized for my intrusion and withdrew. Everett was very punctilious in all such matters, and had insisted from the first that we respect each other's privacy. I did not realize how very wise he was and often rebelled, but now I can understand many things that then seemed foolish—and one of them is that every persons in the world is entitled to a certain amount of privacy.

That night he went out directly after dinner, and did not return until long after midnight. All the long lonely evening I thought of him and Leola, instead of reading or practising as he had suggested. Had he not done so I might have kept busy. But I declared to myself that I would not be dictated to; that I would do as I pleased. So wandered thru the rooms until I went to bed, a very miserable wife indeed.

The world is full of people who deliberately go into the House of Worry and try to pull it down over their own heads. I was one of that kind, regardless of Mrs. Gray's good advice and my own common sense. Mother had written me that Rose had told her I was terribly unhappy with Everett, but she hoped Rose exaggerated. She said she had asked Rose not to say anything about the way her visit ended—she had told mother—but that she feared she had talk d, as she had heard some little gossip.

"I wish you might come home for a visit dear. It might stop the neighbors talking. Do come if your husband can spare you. We are all longing to see you".

I showed Everett the letter. He scowled frightfully and when he gave it back, said:

"Write your mother that it isn't convenient for you to visit her now. Perhaps, later, when you are not so engrossed in your studies, you may go for a short visit." Then: "I hope you are not disappointed."

"No, I do not care to go—ever." I was referring to the gossip Rose had spread about him, and he knew it.

"You will change your mind about that."

"I never shall! I bragged about you, that you cared for me. I never want to go home again, never!" Then, more calmly, I added: "If sometime I may invite them all here, Father and Mother and the boys, I shall be delighted to have them, and very grateful." As I talked, it seemed the most desirable thing in the world to have my own folks with me. I knew they all loved me, even the boys did tease me unmercifully at times.

"That, too, can wait for a time. I would like you to become more mistress of yourself before we have house guests, even your parents".

I said no more, but I felt oh, so bitter! Father and Mother loved me just as I was. The same way he had loved Leola. Mother said once when we loved people, it was regardless of their faults. I wanted to say so, but as I always tried to do, I restrained myself.

"Don't look so sad," Everett interrupted my thoughts. "We will have them some day."

To me "some day" seemed very far away.

CHAPTER LVIII.

Mrs. Barr came three times a week. I had studied French in school, and at home with Mother, who was a good French scholar. But I was very rusty, and Everett was anxious I should become expert.

"I shall take you abroad when I go, and it will be a great pleasure to you if you can talk French fluently." He invariably put things that way—as a coming pleasure to me.

Aside from the French, we read the poets and standard writers. At times it was horribly dull, and I spent most of the time yawning behind my hand. At other times I became interested in spite of myself and the time slipped by quickly.

I never liked Mrs. Barr, never changed my mind about her. When ever I expressed an opinion, or said anything which showed any knowledge or cleverness, she always looked surprised, altho she made no remark. It was as if someone she thought very ignorant had stumbled upon some bit of knowledge. It was not at all flattering.

I spoke of it to Everett. He treated it very lightly.

"Mrs. Barr is extremely erudite. Surface knowledge means nothing to her. That is why I wanted her to take charge of you. She knows what she teaches, can explain intelligently everything you should know about the different subjects with which I wish you to become conversant."

He was especially anxious I should know ancient history, as well as the modern. In school, history had been my bugbear. I really was woefully ignorant of other countries' their manners and customs and even the more vital facts concerning them. And do my best, I could not be particularly interested in what Alexander the Great or Nero did. I cared nothing about Old World wars, their defeats or conquests. But it did no good to object. Everett was all the more firm, insisted the more that I should devote long hours to this reading when I longed to be out of doors, or with Alice Sloane, and her niece.

Everett himself was a perfect mine of information upon all subjects, it seemed to me. But while I admired him for it, I used to think that when I was as old as he was I would be that way too, and probably enjoy it. Forty-two seemed so far away—there were so many years in which to study after I passed 30.

"You will thank me some day," Everett said when I grumbled. "As you grow older the real enjoyment you get from a wide and varied knowledge will bring you many happy hours which otherwise would be boresome, if not lonely. Believe me, I am only doing this for your own best good, Sandra."

"Let me have a good time first," I pouted. "Like the girls at home. I had a letter from Ruth Loring and she told of the dances, the tennis, and all the fun they were having. They are all as old if not older than I am. It makes me feel like a regular grandmother."

"Then you are a suitable companion for 'grandpa'."

I blushed furiously. How did he know the boys and girls had called him "grandpa?" Buster must have told him.

"There is no need to look so miserable because of my knowledge that your friends named me 'Grandpa'. They might have called me something worse. It isn't what people call us, Sandra, that makes any difference—it is what we are. Not that I should feel at all bad to be grandpa when my time came. And, dear, I realized that I did seem old to your young friends, and perhaps to you."

"Not so very"—

"Yes, I did seem old—perhaps I do yet. But Sandra I do not feel old at all. A man at 42 is not old. He has simply lived long enough to know how to live, that is all. I enjoy things just as keenly—more so, than when I was 20. I don't show my feelings as plainly perhaps, but that doesn't alter the fact of my being able to enjoy, to appreciate things. But, Dear, the longer we live, the more we appreciate that real lasting enjoyment must have some foundation. That it isn't a will-o-the-wisp. So we must lay some sort of plan to have that foundation."

When we were first married he never used to talk to me like this. Now he did so often. I did not know whether to be flattered or bored. But it made no difference—I had to listen. And now I know that almost unconsciously I profited by these discussions.

CHAPTER LIX

Everett's large business interests I now know required a great deal of attention. Then, I thought he made much of them so that he might spend time at other places while I thought him engaged with business affairs. Had I been consistent I would have known he would not have thought it necessary to apologize, or to explain his absences to me. When we were first married he never did. But now occasionally he would say:

"I am sorry, Sandra, but I must go out to-night." Or, "You will excuse me, Sandra, I have to meet some people at the club," always punctiliously polite.

But when he said he must 'go out" I always visualized him with Irma Barton; when he said 'the club' I thought him with her, or with other people whom he had not allowed me to know, and with whom he went without me.

I had told Rose Gradon before we were married:

"Of course we will be happy! If Everett didn't love me very dearly he wouldn't have asked me to marry him—he didn't have to." I had said the same thing to mother. And I recalled that when I had said it, I had wished he would "make a little more fuss over me."

I still wished it. At times I felt that if he only would take me in his arms and tell me he cared for me, I would not be so unhappy, so hurt by the things he did—that if he told me he loved me before telling me that all the disagreeable things he asked me to do were for my good, I could have done them more gracefully.

Men—some of them—seem not to understand that a girl (I was nothing more) will do for love what no manner of driving will compel. As I grew older I realized that I was not alone in this feeling—that most women were willing to do all they could to please if they were coaxed, loved, or flattered.

But almost the only things Everett flattered me about were my hair and coloring—and I thought he did that simply because I was so like Leola —and my name. He often told me how much he liked my name, and how he failed to understand parents compelling their sons and daughter to go thru the world with ugly or common names when there were so many unusual and attractive ones to choose from. Yet I often thought that perhaps he was thinking of Leola then, when he flattered me because of my name. Hers was even more unusual than my own.

You see, I was continually looking of be hurt— a very foolish attitude and one which caused me no end of unhappiness. I used sometimes to recall what I had told Rose when she asked me if I loved Everett so I couldn't live without him? I had answered that I felt able to live without him, but that perhaps love would come to me in a great "blinding flash" the way it did to people in the novels we read together.

I certainly had learned to care very much for Everett, but no "blinding flash" of love had come to me. It was a sort of pride that he belonged to me more than anything else I think. This tall, dignified, handsome man whom everyone seemed to respect and to like, was mine, my husband. And often as I watched him from the window I would swell with pride to think he belonged to me.

I often recalled also the time I eavesdropped and heard Mother say of Dad:

"Sandra has been petted all her life. Mr. Graham is a cold, undemonstrative man—I feel anxious about her."

Everett was cold and undemonstrative. Yet occasionally he would draw me into his arms, nad for a blissful moment hold me close.

I was puzzled by these unusual outbursts of affection. For sometime he would seem cross and disappointed in me immediately preceding them.

I had told Rose this, and I was sure she thought I was romancing especially after the way Everett had acted before her. I had so wanted them all to think he loved me, altho in my own mind I was sure he did not, and spent a great deal of time trying to decide why he married me —that is, I did until I got it firmly fixed in my mind that he wanted a family.

A CLERGYMAN'S RECOMMENDATION

The Zam-Buk Co.
Dear Sirs:

Appreciating what your balm has done for me, I should like an opportunity of recommending it to others who may be similarly afflicted.

For the last forty years I have had a patch of eczema on my right hand. I tried in every possible way to get rid of it—had treatment from several doctors and tried innumerable remedies, but received no lasting benefit. If a remedy eased it or cured it for a time, it always returned as bad as ever. One of my friends is a great believer in Zam-Buk, so I decided to give it a trial and sent first for a sample. You can imagine my amazement when even this small quantity brought me more relief than anything I had ever before used. I continued the use of Zam-Buk for two weeks, by which time the eczema, although of forty years standing, had entirely disappeared. That was one year ago, and there has been no return of it.

Yours sincerely,

(Name of clergyman, from whom the above letter was received, will be given upon request)

Presented Play.

On Thursday night the Dramatic Society of Mark street church, Peterborough, drove to the village and presented their four-act drama, "Valley Farm" to a large audience in the school room of the Methodist church. The play was well received and fully merited the generous applause which it received. The young people of Mark street church presented a shorter play about four yars ago in the town hall under the auspices of the choral class and those who were present then will be interested in their presentation of this more ambitious play. On both occasions, Mrs. Weir was an outstanding figure and her undoubted talent and mirth-provoking manneri ms will be a great attraction to any further performances in Lakefield. The parts were well taken, but special mention should be made of Mrs. Weir and Mrs. I. Rome, who played the part of the borrowing neighbor who never gossiped, no never.

Before the performance began, Miss Loloa Waldon favored the audience with several piano selections, which were exceilently rendered.

Between the first and second acts of the play, Miss Cullen, a promising young Lakefield soloist, sang a solo, which was loudly applauded. Between the second and third acts, Mr. Ketcheson brought down the house with a comic song. He was compelled to respond to an encore. Between the third and fourth acts a quartette was sung by Misses Clara Doidge and Effie Webster and Messrs. A. E. Higgins and Warren Payne .This was splendidly received

Rev. S. F. Dixon, who acted as chairman, announced that after a consultation with the superintendent of the Sunday school, it was decided to cancel the Sunday school on Sunday next owing to the prevalence of illness. The morning and evening services will be held as usual.

DEPUTATION WILL ASK FOR PIGEON CREEK BRIDGE

Twenty-six of the councillors of Peterboro and Victoria counties and eleven members of the city council and Board of Trade left on the noon train to-day for Ottawa to urge upon the Government the reconstruction of the Pigeon Creek bridge. They have an appointment for to-morrow morning with the Minister of Railways and Canals.

Cure That Cold Don't Get Grippe

Take them at once when you feel the first pain or shiver—the first symptom of a cold.

Taken then, they will prevent the Grippe. Taken after it has developed, there is nothing better for the pain and fever.

Drug Cases Heard In Police Court

TWO OF THE CASES WERE DISMISSED--OTHER CASES REMANDED UNTIL MONDAY NEXT.

THE EVIDENCE

Three cases were heard by Magistrate Dumble in this morning's Police Court in conection with the drug practice which it is alleged has been going on in Peterboro for some time. The three cases involved the alleged user of the drug, the druggist who filled the prescription and the doctor.

The cases are the outcome of the investigation carried on by the police force for some time but the case around which the other two revolve was dismissed by the Magistrate.

The first one on the docket involved Mr. C. M. Moncur, a local druggist Mr. Moncur was charged with selling morphine or salts of morphine, to Joseph O'Brien, neglecting to make a proper record in a suitable book of the name and address of the physician signing the prescription, the date of filling of such prescription and the name of the person for whose use the prescription is granted contrary to the Opium and Drug Act.

Mr. Moncur was represented by G. N. Gordon, who pleaded not guilty to the charge.

The first witness called by the Crown was Acting Detective George Cookman, who told of being instructed by the chief to examine all drug books in the city and how the book of Mr. Moncur was examined.

This book a much be-thumbed and antique looking volume, was produced in court. Cookman said that some of the entries in this "poison" book could not be easily understood and names were not properly entered.

An entry for Joseph O'Brien for heroin, was found for Feb. 14, several blanks occuring where the address of the purchaser and other necessary information should have been.

Crown Attorney G. W. Hatton wanted to use other charges besides the one specified but Mr. Gordon objected at once to this claiming that he had prepared only the one case. "One case only is required by the charge," he said. The Crown Attorney would not hear of this so Mr. Gordon requested an adjournment in order to get the case prepared if he persisted in wanting to use more than on instance. The magistrate made an adjournment till Monday next, March 1, and agreed with Mr. Gordon when he requested full particulars of the charge a day or so before, ordering Mr. Gordon to be given full particulars two days before.

The "Poison" Work.

A little diversion occurred when Mr. Gordon and Chief Thompson crossed swords over the "poison" book, but the matter was soon smoothed over.

Dr. Carmichael, the physician involved in the case was charged with during February giving prescription to O'Brien, when they were not required for medicinal purposes contrary to the Opium and Drug Act. Dr. Carmichael was represented by Mr. J. Wearing, who also asked for an adjournment as the charge had, like Mr. Moncur's been changed to the plural. The case was adjourned till Monday.

The last case and the one around which the other two revolve, was then dealt with.

Joseph O'Brien, a local man was charged with having in his possession on Feb. 17 without lawful reason morphine or salts of morphine, contrary ot the Opium and Drug Act. Mr. G. N. Gordon appeared for Mr. O'Brien.

Detective Cookman was the first witness and stated that on Feb. 19, he saw the accused on Hunter street and told him the Chief wanted to see him. That afternoon he appeared at the Police Station and was arrested and interviewed by the Chief.

The Chief asked him if he had any of the dope in his possession.

"That generally means whiskey," said the Magistrate.

He replied that he had used it all up on the 17th.

Cookman told how O'Brien said to him downstairs that he had been getting heroin from different doctors.

I asked him if Dr. Edward Wood was not his doctor. He said he had been going to Wood but Dr. Carmichael had been giving him the prescriptions for the heroin tablets. He said Dr. Carmichael was going to take an ex-ray of him.

Detective Cookman stated that he had been speaking to O'Brien a day or so ago and he said he was like a raving lunatic since he had quit taking it and he couldn't sleep at nights.

Crown Attorney— "Do you know that he had it on the 17th?"

In his cross examination Mr. Gordon brought out that the accused was overseas but only reached England where he was for some time in a consumption sanitarium. Cookman admitted that in the chief's office, he said he used it for his cough at night.

William Madill, local druggist, was now put in the box. He produced his prescription book showing that on February 17, a prescription was given to J. O'Brien by Dr. Carmichael, for 24 1-6 grain heroin tablets, one to be taken each night. Mr. Madill said that the signature was correct.

He could not tell whether he or Mr. Borland filled the prescription and could not identify Mr. O'Brien as the one who got it.

When the Crown Attorney wanted to delve deeper into the prescription book the defence objected. "There's just the one day", Mr. Gordon said.

Cross examined by the Crown Attorney, Mr. Madill agreed that the 1-6 grain dose was not quite as usual as the 1-12. He also said that a man would be able to take a larger dose as he became edicted to the habit.

On further questioning by the Crown Attorney Mr. Gordon objected as Mr. Madill was not a qualified physician.

Mr. Madil said in reply to a question that in his mind the use of drugs was increasing.

"So are colds," was Mr Gordon's comment. He also stated that morphine and salts of morphine in which class is heroin could only be sold on a doctor's prescription.

Dr. T. W. H. Young was the next witness. He explained that the dose of heroin prescribed depended entirely on the condition of the patient and how a man when he became used to taking it could take a great deal. He said that the 1-6 grain dose was the largest he knew of put up in tablet form by the druggists who get it from the manufacturers. He went on to explain how it was used to relieve coughs and bronchial disorders although not curing them and is much used in this way. He believed O'Brien could take one of the tablets every two hours till he got relief.

Habit Increasing.

Dr. Young claimed that the drug habit had certainly increased since prohibition.

In Mr. Gordon's cross examination Dr. Young agreed that if the man was suffering from tuberculosis he would require a large dose. The only use of the drug he said was to relieve the suffering, the effect being only temporary.

"Did you examine Joseph O'Brien".

"Yes."

"From what was he suffering?"

"My diagnosis was tuberculosis of the throat and lungs," the doctor replied and said that from the history of the man he learned latter he felt this was the right diagnosis. He said he prescribed the heroin merely to make him sleep and relieve the cough. He warned Mr. O'Brien of the possible results of the use of the Drug and corroborated all that Dr. Young said as to the use of the drug.

When questioned as to whether he could use them up in 24 hours he said from what he learned later he believed he could.

You don't know anything outside of morphine that would give the same result.

"No."

Dr. Carmichael told how the accused was waiting to go to Kingston Sanitarium each day but there was no room so he gave him the heroin in the meantime.

Dr. Carmichael was put through a rigid cross examination by Crown Attorney Hatton. It was brought out that the doctor did not know how many times or how many prescriptions he gave O'Brien or what time intervened between the prescriptions.

Dr. Carmichael firmly stated that he was very careful in giving prescriptions and would not consider giving them less than 10 days or two weeks apart.

In replying to the Crown Atorney's question he said that two hundred tablets used in twenty days would be a very excessive amount to be used and a man would have to be addicted to the use of it to use so much. He said he thought O'Brien could use that much from his observation.

This concluded the defence. Crown Attorney Hatton held that the man had in his possession the heroin that was not needed as a medicine and that the amount he used constituted him a dope fiend as the doctor stated that 200 tablets in 20 days was an excessive amount and would make any one a dope fiend.

Mr. G. N. Gordon made a stirring appeal claiming that it was used only for medicinal purposes and the Magistrate in reviewing the case agreed with the counsel for the defence. The case was dismissed.

When The Day Is Over

When the household cares and the worries of everyday life have dragged you down, made you unhappy, and there is nothing in life but headache, backache and worry, turn to the right prescription, one gotten up by Dr. Pierce fifty years ago.

Everything growing out of the ground seems intended for some use in establishing natural conditions. Dr. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., long since found out what is naturally best for women's diseases. He learned it all through treating thousands of cases. The result of his studies was a medicine called Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription. This medicine is made of vegetable growths that nature surely intended for backache, headache, weakening pains, irregularities, inflammations, and for the many disorders common to women in all ages of life. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is made of lady's slipper root, black cohosh root, unicorn root, blue cohosh root and Oregon grape root. Dr. Pierce knew, when he first made this standard medicine, that whiskey and morphine are injurious, and so he has always kept them out of his remedies. Women who take this standard remedy know that in Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription they are getting a safe woman's tonic so good that druggists everywhere sell it, in liquid or tablet form.

SOCIAL EVENING AT LONG ISLAND

BIRTHDAY PARTY FOR MR. GEORGE NURSE.

Many sociable evenings have been spent by the people of Bensfort and surrounding country at the home of Mr. George Nurse on Lang Island, in Rice Lake, where hospitality reigns.

The evening of Friday, 20th February, spent there by a few friends, was no exception to the general rule. The occasion was the birthday party of Mr. Nurse. A sumptuous oyster supper was the method of celebration used on his natal day, to which everybody did ample justice; and since the best way to a man's heart is considered to be through his stomach, Mr. Nurse won the hearts of every individual present.

The remainder of the evening was spent in games and music. Before going home Mr. Dawson, playing the part of chairman, suggested speeches from Messrs. Everett Wood, Wilbur Barnard, George Wood, and Miss Robb, in which each speaker wished Mr. Nurse many happy returns of 20th February. Everyone voted that Mr. Nurse was a jolly good scout, who attended strictly to business at all times, except when "the lunge are in the marsh and the ducks are in the bay."

The host replied in an appropriate manner, thanking all for their good wishes, and bidding them "come again and come often." The gathering dispersed after everyone had joined in lustily singing "For Captain's a jolly good fellow."

Among those present were Mr and Mrs. J. Hall Mr. and Mrs. Everett Wood, Miss Hall, Mr. George Wood, Miss Robb, Mr. and Mrs. Byron Wood, Mr. Kidd, Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Dawson, and Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Barnard.

SICK HEADACHE

For Last 10 Years

Headaches affect all ages and both sexes alike, but in all cases the treatment should be directed to remove the cause for with the cause removed the headaches vanish for all time.

What is necessary for a permanent cure is something that will go right to the seat of the trouble. For this purpose it is impossible to find a better remedy for headaches of all descriptions than Burdock Blood Bitters acting as it does on every organ of the body to strengthen, purify and regulate the whole system.

Mrs. Flora Hall, Dominion, N.S., writes:—"I have been troubled with sick headaches for the last ten years. I had lost faith in all remedies until recently a friend of mine advised me to try Burdock Blood Bitters. This I did, and found relief in a very short time. I would now recommend B.B.B. to anyone who is suffering as I did. I only took 3 bottles, and am never troubled with sick headaches anymore."

B. B. B. has been on the market for over 40 years. Manufactured only by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

CONVENTION WAS SUCCESSFULL EVENT

INTERESTING ADDRESSES BY PROMINENT SUNDAY SCHOOL WORKERS.

A decided impetus was given to Sunday School work in the city at the Annual Convention of the Peterboro Sunday School Association held yesterday in St. Paul's Church. Each of the teachers and Sunday School workers received valuable hints upon their work both through the masterly addresses and the departmental and denominational sessions.

The Addresses

In the afternoon Rev. T. A. Halpany and Dr. J. C. Robertson spoke at length on "Community Tasks in Religious Education" dealing thoroughly with the necessity of uniting of the Christian forces of all denominations in matters relating to the religious education of the young. Both speakers dealt with the new organization known as the Ontario Council of Religious Education which has recently supplanted the Sunday School Association of Ontario and which has opened some valuable channels of information in Sunday School work.

At the conclusion of this address the leaders went into departmental sessions and problems of each department were dealt with.

In his brilliant address on Sunday School Evangelism, Mr. Frank Langford pointed out ways in which the work of evangelism could be carried out and impressed his hearers that all Sunday School work is futile unless the child may be brought to Christ.

Leaders Needed.

Leaders are needed to-day to take the place of those who gave their lives for their country. Dr. Robertson said in a most interesting address on "The Challenge to Leadership" which he gave at the evening session of the convention. He also impressed his audience with the fact the leaders are needed in every age to bring the young to Christ. Trained leaders are needed particularly in this age and the Church is providing for these in the Teachers' Training Course and in the Summer Schools.

Religious Survey.

It was agreed that for 1920 the city association should undertake to extend the work of the Teachers' Training Course by combining the Sunday Schools of the city into groups for this week. It was also resolved that the Association in co-operation write other religious organizations should undertake a religious survey of the city some time during the present year. These community undertakings should receive the hearty support of all.

Officers Elected

The officers elected for 1920 are:

President—Mr. A. Mowat.

First Vice-President—Mr. A. B. Gates.

Second Vice-President—Mr. C. E. Sisson.

Secretary—Mr. H. Stock.

Treasurer—Mr. A. J. Johnston.

Supt. of Primary Dept. —Mrs. E. D. Lewis

Supt. of Teen-age Dept.—(a) Boys—Mr. R. H. McCarton; (b) Girls—Mr. R. H. McCarton.

Supt. of Adult Dept.—Mr. Andrew McKenzie.

Supt. of Home Dept. —Mr. John Edgar.

Supt. of Missionary Dept.—Mrs. Jas Kendry.

Supt. of Temperance Dept.—Mrs. John Speer.

The above named Superintendents will act as convenors of committees composed of the Superintendents of the Departments of the various Sunday Schools of the city.

The Secretaries of the various Sunday Schools of the city are reminded that Mr. Johnston, the treasurer, has to remit the contributions of the City Schools to the Provincial Council before Easter Monday.

The churches of the city united in providing a supper for 100 teachers and workers. This brought the Sunday School workers together in a delightful and informal way.

IMPROVE HEATING OF MARKET HALL

ALD. HAMILTON ADVOCATED BETTER METHOD FOR NEXT WINTER.

Some fuel dealers practice of selling sawn wood at a certain price a load, was questioned by Ald. Crowe last night who recalled a local by-law requiring that wood be sold according to measure.

"It is hardly fair to the consumer," he said, "because you don't know whether you are getting one or a dozen wheelbarrowsfull. There ought to be some regulation along these lines."

This suggestion was referred to the Property Committee.

Heating of the Market Hall.

Ald. Hamilton referred to the unsatisfactory method of heating the market hall and proposed and improvement by putting a hot air furnace in the basement.

He moved, seconded by Ald. Turner that the City Trust Commission be asked to consider some improvement in the heating for next winter.

The Price of Gas.

Ald. Phelan's implication that the price of gas in Peterboro was too high at $2 a 1000 did not arouse any interest.

Mayor McIntyre—I understand it is not paying even at that.

Ald. Gordon—The price was raised since the new government went into power.

Ald. Phelan—I see that everybody around this board are willing to dance to the tune.

To Return Rolls.

Ald. Turner moved, seconded by Ald. Copping, that Mr. W. J. Green, Tax Collector, return last year's rolls by March 15th.

Ald. Gordon—Mr. Green is kind to some people who are having difficulty in paying their taxes. That is what has caused the delay.

FINE IMPOSED ON THE AUCTIONEER

George Jackson, the veteran auctioneer, and his son, of Port Perry, who conducted a very successful sale of Shorthorn cattle at the Montgomery Hotel, about a month ago, found the after result of the sale a little sadder and more expensive than they had reckoned with when they were fined $10 apiece and costs which amounted to $6.10 and $4.10 respectively for conducting the sale without a license, contrary to Bylaw No. 1003, of the City of Peterboro.

The negotiations for the fine were conducted by mail.

WARNE DRUG CO., LTD.

ALD. PHELAN IN ROLE OF DAVID HARUM

BOARD OF WORKS HORSE SOLD TO D. DRISCOLL DEVELOPED CIRCUS ABILITY.

Somewhat like the proverbial cat, the Board of Works horse which Ald. Phelan recently sold to Mr. D. Driscoll of Otonabee came back last Sunday, and the purchaser requested that since he couldn't handle it that his money be returned to him.

Explaining the deal to the Committee of the Whole last night Ald. Phelan stated that Mr. Driscoll had bought the horse for his wife's use as a driver or roadster, but on the first try out it manifested circus abilities by rearing on its hind legs and pawing the air with the front probably having heard of the Russian bear that walked liked a man. At any rate its propensities did not recommend it as a docile driver for a farmer's wife.

So on the morning after that experience the horse mysteriously appeared in its place at the fire hall, and Ald. Phelan was in a quandary.

"Where is he now," asked Mayor McIntyre.

Ald. Gordon—"Tell Driscoll to take the horse away or we'll charge him $2 a day for its board."

Ald. Morrison informed Ald. Gordon that $1.50 was the prevailing rate of fare for horses.

Mayor McIntyre—He claims the horse was misrepresented.

Ald. Phelan—"Not by the chairman I sold him the horse in good faith."

Ald. Gordon—"We've been feeding him too much oats. That's what made the overdraft in the Fire, Water and Light Committee.

Ald. Crowe—"It sounds about as bad as David Harum.

The committee made the most of this humorous incident.

Mayor McIntyre —"What will we do with it?

Ald. Crowe—"Do the other fellow before he does you."

Ald. Gordon—"I've often bought things I had to keep. Let Driscoll sell it to some one else."

Ald. Phelan—"I would move that we take it back. The poor beggar can't use him. And Driscoll is a young farmer just starting out. The only thing is the value of the horse will be depreciated by taking it back."

Ald. Whitehouse —"Can't Driscoll get rid of it."

Ald. Phelan—"Sure, he's brought it back to the firehall."

Ald Gordon moved seconded by Ald. Whitehouse that Driscoll be charged $1.50 a day while the horse eats from the city's trough.

Ald. Phelan moved seconded by Ald. Morrison that the treasurer return Mr. Driscoll the $115 he paid.

Ald. Hamilton advised that Driscoll sell the horse and the city would make up any loss he suffered.

Whether the committee arranged it or not the vote resulted in a tie putting it up to the Mayor to decide the fate of Mr. Driscoll's $115.

Mayor McIntyre—"So it's up to me. Well I'll give him his money back.

Ald. Phelan—"We've got another buyer in sight anyway."

Heart Disease and Nerve Troubles Sweep the Country

Probably at no period in the world's history have heart and nerve troubles been so prevalent as they are to-day.

The heart can't stand the stress and strain of this busy, bustling age, and the care and worry, the anxiety and activity of business life constitute a serious drain on the nervous system.

The business of this work-a-day world goes with such a rush that the stoutest hearts and strongest nerves break down under the strain.

On the first approach of any breakdown of the system Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills should be taken. The reconstructive power of these pills on the heart and nerve system is simply marvellous.

Mr. W. A. Wright, Hopewell Ave., Ottawa, Ont., writes:—"After suffering for some time with my heart, I consulted a number of doctors, but got no relief. However, I read what Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills had done for others who had the same symptoms and thought I would give them a trial. Believe me, six boxes cured me completely. I am feeling fine now, and can attend to my work every day. I can recommend your pills to any one suffering as I did."

THE P GEON LAKE FLOATING BRIDGE

PETERBORO DEPUTATION WAITED ON GOVERNMENT OFFICIALS.

(Special to The Examiner)

OTTAWA, Ont., Feb. 27. — A deputation of fifteen which waited upon the government this morning urging the government aid for the construction of a bridge at Pigeon Creek Victoria County, received a promise from the government which seemed eminently satisfactory to the delegation. It was the impression of the deputation following the interview that the Government would be willing to build as much of the proposed bridge as the dam has raised the water. This according to County Treasurer Elliott and other members of the deputation, was most gratifying. The deputation, which consisted of representatives of the City of Peterborough, the County of Victoria and the County Council, received a most attentive hearing from Mr. Bell, representing the government, and was introduced by J. H. Burnham, M.P. for Peterborough West and J. A. Sexsmith, City Clerk Armstrong presented a comprehensive statement of the reasons why Government aid was solicited for the construction of the Pigeon Creek bridge. The Government promised to send engineers to survey the proposed work at a very early date.

Canadian Press.

OTTAWA, Feb. 27. — A large deputation of prominent citizens of Peterboro and Victoria counties, waited on the Minister and other officials of the Department of Public Works in the Chateau Laurier this morning, with a view of impressing upon them the great necessity of a new bridge over Pigeon Lake in Peterboro.

It was estimated by the members who spoke that the bridge desired which would be of the floating type and one mile and a quarter in length would cost in the neighborhood of $100,000.

The chief speakers for the deputation were Mayor A. A. McIntyre, Peterboro; Ald. H. Phelan, S. K. Armstrong, City Clerk of Peterboro; Geo. Nicholls, Warden of Peterboro County, and Edward M. Elliott, County Clerk.

They pointed to the great danger of the present structure over Pigeon Lake, which was unsafe for any kind of traffic. They urged the government to consider the building of a new bridge without delay, asserting that as the original one had been necessary owing to the operations of the government in the vicinity of the lake, it was up to the department to maintain a new one.

The Minister promised consideration of the application assuring the members that engineers would be sent to Pigeon Lake without delay.

TAKE THE WORD OF YOUR OWN NEIGHBOURS

There is not a nook or corner in Canada, in the cities, towns, villages and on farms, where Dr Williams Pink Pills have not been used. From one end of the country to the other they have brought back to breadwinners, their wives and families the splendid treasure of new health and new strength. You have only to ask your neighbors and they can tell you of some nerve-shattered man, some suffering woman, ailing youth or unhappy anaemic girl, who owes their present health and strength to Dr. Williams Pink Pills.

For many years Dr. Williams Pink Pills have been a household remedy not only in America but throughout the world. When Canadian soldiers landed in England they found advertised on all sides Dr. Williams Pink Pills for Pale People. To the men from Australia, from New Zealand, from South Africa and India, these same advertisements were like familiar home friends. When these men crossed to France one of the first signs that greeted their eyes was "Pilules Pink pour Personnes Pales du Dr. Williams." The world wide use of this Canadian remedy can be accounted for only by the merit these wonderful blood-making pills possess. Thousands of statements from grateful people who have been cured of ills due to weak, watery blood and shattered nerves have been published, some of these may have been your neighbors—all of them were somebody's neighbors, and you can safely take their word for the benefit they have found through the timely use of Dr. Williams Pink Pills.

MOTHER AND DAUGHTER.

If more people knew how many ills and pains are due to thin, watery blood and how easily this condition could be remedied through the use of Dr. Williams Pink Pills, a great deal of suffering would be avoided. Men and women often suffer from stomach trouble, headaches and backaches, palpitation of the heart, and nervous complaints such as neuralgia, without suspecting that the whole trouble lies in weak, watery blood. The statement of Mrs. J. J. Murry, Corbetton, Ont., shows the value of Dr. Williams Pink Pills in cases of this kind. She says:—"A few years ago my daughter, Lillie, was in a very badly run down condition. She was pale, thin, and scarcely able to go about. The least exertion made her heart palpitate so violently that we were actually afraid one of these spells might carry her off. She slept so badly that often she would lie awake until nearly morning. Treatment did not seem to help her and we were almost in despair when a friend advised the use of Dr. Williams Pink Pills. A few weeks use of this medicine showed a decided improvement, and a further use of the pills fully restored her health, and she has since been a strong, healthy girl. Some time later I was taken ill myself, being run-down from household care. A doctor was called in but his medicine did not seem to bring back my strength, and remembering what Dr. Williams Pink Pills had done for my daughter, I decided to drop the doctor's medicine and try them. The result that followed were like those in my daughters case, and through the use of the pills I was soon a well woman. I am glad to give my experience in the hope that some other sufferer may find the way to health."

NURSING MOTHERS.

It is useless to tell a hard working woman to take life easily and not to worry. Care of the home and the children always bring their worries. But it is the duty of every woman to save her strength as much as possible and to keep her blood supply in a healthy condition. Her future good health depend upon this. Mrs. B. Kilgour, Cabri, Sask., says:—"I have taken Dr. Williams Pink Pills for a considerable time and have found them of the greatest benefit for my blood and nerves. I was terribly nervous and run down and was nursing my baby at the time I began taking the pills, and since taking them I feel like a different woman. My appetite is better, my blood purer and my nerver steadier and altogether I feel a hundred per cent. better. I will certainly recommend the pills to everybody I can."

WEAK AND NERVOUS.

Good health is the secret of happiness and the one chief secret of good health is rich, red blood. This rich, red blood can always be had through a fair use of Dr. Williams Pink Pills. The value of the pills for this purpose is proved by Mrs. Carrey Boudreau, Beaumont, N.B., who says:—"When I began the use of Dr. Williams Pink Pills I was very weak and nervous. I was always tired and my eyes were dull and heavy and I suffered greatly with headaches. But through the use of Dr. Williams Pink Pills I am again a well woman in the full enjoyment of life, and I am quite willing the whole world should know the benefit I have found through this medicine."

AFTER INFLUENZA.

Strenuous work on a farm has much to do with the run down condition of many who follow that occupation, and accounts for the readiness in which they fall victims to serious debilitating troubles. Mrs. Geo. Cuthbert, a farmer's wife who has proved the value of Dr. Williams Pink Pills says:—"This past year my husband and myself have had to do all the work on our half-section farm. I had an attack of influenza and this coupled with heavy work left me badly run down. I sent for a supply of Dr. Williams Pink Pills and by the time I had taken two boxes I was beginning to feel stronger, and through their further use I was again feeling quite fit. Indeed I believe that had it not been for the pills I would not have been able to do my work. I may add that while using the pills I took Pinklets occasionally as a laxative, and found them a great help."

LIKE A NEW PERSON.

When a girl of a woman is pale and feeble, feels tired out at the slightest exertion, is troubled with headaches or backaches, it is a sure sign that the blood is thin and watery, and that Dr. Williams Pink Pills should be taken to restore the blood to that rich red condition necessary to good health. Through the use of these pills Miss F. E. Hubley, Seabright, N.S., was restored to good health. She says:—"I have found that Dr. Williams Pink Pills tone up the nerves and system and make one feel like a new person. When I started using them I was in very poor health and suffering from many of the symptoms of anaemia. Soon after beginning their use I found myself growing better, and after giving them a fair trial I found my health fully restored. As a result of what they did in my own case I can recommend them to all weak people as a great blood-builder."

WHAT DR. WILLIAMS PINK PILLS WILL DO.

Dr. Williams Pink Pills are a blood builder and nerve tonic. The rich, red blood that they make not only carries color to the cheeks and lips but gives vigor to the exhausted nerves and quiets the pains of neuralgia and sciatia. Dr. Williams Pink Pills contain no opiates nor harmful drugs; they restore health and strength but do not give temporary stimulation.

You can get Dr. Williams Pink Pills through any dealer in medicine or by mail at 50c. a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams Medicine C., Brockville, tOn.

PETERBORO'S ADVANTAGES ARE CAPITALIZED AT MOTOR SHOW

TRENT WATERWAY RECEIVED A LOT OF GOOD ADVERTISING AT THE MOTOR BOAT SHOW IN NEW YORK CITY---MR. RYERSON RITCHIE REPRESENTED THE CITY.

Mr. Ryerson Ritchie returned from New York on Saturday, after having spent much of his time at the Motor Boat Show in the interest of the Trent Waterway, the formal opening of which concerns Peterborough and in fact all of the communities from Trenton to Port Severn.

Manufacturers of motor boat engines and accesories and the designers and builders of the small craft as well as the palatial power yacht meet here for inspection, research and conference. Throngs of people, interested in cruising, visit the show every year and make it a great boat-sales market.

To Senator W. H. Bennett, of Midland is due the credit for interesting Peterborough and Orillia. He prepared several interesting illustrated articles which were published in the American monthly magazines devoted to power boating, which have attracted much attention.

Through the Senator's efforts the Department of Railways and Canals sent a special represenative in the person of Mr. A. W. Despard of the Canadian Exposition Commission. Mr. Despard was constantly in attendance to give information to interested inquirers. He rendered admirable service and will report his observations and recommendations to the Department of Railways and Canals.

Mr. Ritchie met and talked with scores of people who intended to make the trip through the Trent Waterway this season and later when the canal is open for larger craft. Thirty-five foot boats only can navigate the waterway through to the Georgian Bay this season.

Much curiosity and interest were shown by the New York people and by visitors from all over the country and there is no doubt whatever that the charm of the Kawartha District will attract more American visitors than we are prepared to receive.

Peterborough and Orillia were especially advertised by the distribution of attractive booklets at the Government Booth and also by courtesy of engine and boat exhibitors.

It was evident that the local method of advertising Canada's great recreation waterway is not adequate If the waterway is to be properly advertised it should be done through the co-operation of all the interested communities with the Federal and Provincial Governments and by means of preparation and propaganada comprehending the entire area reached by the 256 miles of waterway.

Steps should be taken at once by Peterborough and Orillia and other enterprising communities to form an association not only to secure the development of the entire system and primarily to arrange now for a proper celebration of the formal opening of the waterway in the early summer of 1920.

It would be absurd to advertise the Trent Waterway merely as a summer resort; in reality it has great commercial and economic advantages for the entire section. The attractiveness of this beautiful chain of lakes and rivers may, however, be the means of making its commercial value better appreciated. To realize, however, anything like the commercial advantages for which the Trent Waterway was built, active co-operation and practical business aggression are necessary.

The whole area needs to be studied and designed so that it will become not only interesting to the pleasure-seeker ,but be a source of profit to the interested people and communitis reached by it.

THE NEW HOME

(By H. F. GADSBY)

"The way to get into a building" a Cabinet Minister explained "is to get in." In other words Parliament has left the Museum for the Hill although the new home is not quite finished. As a matter of fact it will be another year before the building is out of the contractors' hands and that means of course that a certain number of Senators will die before their quarters are ready.

They tell me that one of the reasons why Parliament was in such a hurry to move in was because the Senators wanted to prepare themselves for heaven by dwelling in marble halls for a short time on earth. Of course you can get marble halls at the Chateau Laurier or any other big hotel but that is not the same thing—it lacks the uplift. The new home has about two miles of marble halls and the hope is generally expressed that they will have an ennobling influence on the Farmers' Party.

In assigning the private rooms for the members, great care has been taken to provide the U.F.O.'s with sunny southern exposures to melt their hard hearts and give them a broad outlook. That ought to help some. The acoustics of the Green Chambers, which is really a White Chamber with the old faded carpet to give it greenery, are excellent. Maharg of Saskatchewan tried out his voice there the other day and people who heard him said "This is the man who will put the cow in acoustics if it was not there before."

This Commons chamber is said to be the largest in the world—but its proportions are so just that it leaves an effect not of immensity but of easy spaciousness. Its beautiful windows drink in the light from both sides of the room, the pure white light, which so many politicians lack. In course of time these windows are to be supplied with stained glass but this will not happen until the country has settled down to a mellower frame of mind. Meanwhile, Parliament will operate in a clear white light which ought to show just where every man stands.

The Press Gallery—which occupies its usual perch above the Speaker's chair—boasts of many modern improvements including two swinging mirrors on the posts at either end. The object of these mirrors is to angle the man under the gallery to the journalist in the back row but they do not work very well. They will probably be removed and that is reasonable enough because the press is well able to reflect public opinion in the good old way.

This notice room would require more words to describe than I have space to use—so it must be enough to say that it is a wonderful confection of cream colored stone, panelled oak, bronze grills and marble screens, the whole making for a splendor which is chaste but warm. Just now it is disfigured by the old desks and the old chairs, but with new trappings to match, it will be the most dignified legislative chamber in or out of the British Empire.

The Senate in Clover.

The Senate Chamber is smaller, just as dignified, but more severe, as becomes the august character of its prospective occupants. At present, the Senate Chamber is a raffle of scaffolding, cement bags and builder's gear, but when it takes shape it will be a thing of beauty and a sempiternal joy, even if the Senate becomes elective or is abolished. The Farmers' Party, when it gazes on so much beauty may relent and decide to let the Senate live on, sooner than close a room of such surpassing magnificence. Indeed great things are expected of the statues and the paintings, with which our artists will be adorning the nation's temple for many years to come. They will have an aesthetic influence on the radicals who will be disposed to say "We will not level down. Rather we will level up to these beautiful surroundings."

Just now the Senate moves, breathes and has its being in the Railway Committee rooms, a lofty apartment whose very ante-room is fit for Kings. The touch of local color which makes it a Senate rather than a committee room is the red carpet which is sadly in need of the vacuum cleaner. The old furniture looks ragged and shabby against the vivid freshness of the new background. Just here is the place to say that the new Parliament buildings is scientifically ventilated and does not smell either of carpets, rubber matting or Senators, which were the familiar odors of by-gone days before and during the Great War.

It augurs a noble eagerness for beauty that Sir George Foster, Grannee Doherty and other aged members of the Cabinet were just as anxious as the youngest to get in touch with the new environment before they died or were turned out at the next election. Many members likewise spoke up. They said "We want to know how all this grandeur feels before we get the grand bounce, somewhere about September 1921." In this sense the building is more than a Parliament—it is a mausoleum, crowded with tenants who look forward with more or less composure to the day when they will be tumbled out.

The new home is just a bit noisy. The workmen go about their accustomed tasks in the uncompleted parts of the building. The hammers can be plainly heard but what is one hammer more or less to a Union Government that has long done business to the tune of the "Anvil Chorus?"

The Temperance of Loyalty.

Space lacks here to describe the lobbies, the caucus rooms, No. 16 and its companion lounge, which bears over the door the legend "His Majesty's Most Loyal Opposition." The question on everybody's lips is "Which is His Majesty's most Loyal Opposition? The Liberals, Mr. Crerar's Wee Frees or the U.F.'s? At this writing the point is still unsettled but if there are degrees of loyalty in Oppositions the matter will probably be determined at the next general election. We can always trust the Tories to give us the loyal temperature of all and sundry. I have never known an election yet where the question was not brought up and thoroughly discussed. When the tariff comes to us next time wrapped in the Old Flag we shall see—well we shall see what we shall see. I bet it go at that.

The Press Room is designed with an eye to future ages when the price of news prints will be so reasonable that the staff of Ottawa correspondents will be three times what it is now. Our little band of thirty or thereabouts is lost in this vasty room which is equipped with every convenience that money can buy or science can devise. The lighting is indirect in which regard it resembles the editorials of many of our leading newspapers. By day the light comes clear and white from the virgin North, beyond the blue Laurentian Mountains, but it does not necessarily get into the newspaper reports which are modified by many circumstances beyond the reporter's control.

The Commons Reading Room is sentinelled by the Commons Smoking Room where members can cure their minds, bacon fashion, before asking for the Globe or the Mail in the penetralia of thought which is just beyond. The Reading Room boasts of a black marble fire place of prodigious size—Gargantua could warm his back at it—and over it is a mural decoration done by a Canadian artist who has won fame in the United States. The subject is "The Spirit of the Printed Word." On this matter of the Spirit of the Printed Word I say only this—that the spirit is not as high as it was before Union Government spent several million dollars advertising in the Canadian press.

Mr. Rowell's Boudoir.

If the members have private rooms which cause them to exclaim "Home was never like this," the Cabinet Ministers have sanctums which would not shame a king. The Premier's panelled ceiling high in walnut is on the first floor; Mackenzie King's, half panelled to show he is on the way upwards, is on the floor above; and Brother Rowell's, no panelling or concealment of any kind, just tinted walls—is on the floor above that. The arrangement suggests dicta phones and holes bored in the floor, so that the statesmen may keep watch on each other.

It will be seen that Leader Rowell, operating from the highest level, can always look down on the rest. If I must pass criticism it is that Leader Rowell's room is not as austere as I had expected. The walls are a dull red with an undertone of yellow—too passionate, I should say, for such a chaste crusader. I dropped into Sir Galahad's empty chair, just to get the feel of it—to absorb, if I could, his attitude toward personal freedom. I got it all right—wasn't I sitting on it?

I am bound to say that the Ministers have done themselves well in the matter of rooms. Not only the Ministers but the ex-ministers of yesterday, to-day and perhaps of to-morrow. The Hon. Sydney Newburn has one of the best—a reward no doubt for past performance. The Hon. A. K. Maclean grabbed off a good one just before he sent in his resignation and of course he keeps it on. In other words a Cabinet Minister may lose his home in the Government but he is always sure of a good room with a fireplace to take the chill off the political situation, and plenty of windows facing north, south, east and west, in fact wherever votes are to be had.

CHIEF THOMPSON HEADS THE LIST WITH FOUR HUNDRED EXTRA IRON MEN.

The increases for the policemen were finally disposed of on Saturday afternoon by the Board of Police Commissioners behind closed doors.

After a lengthy discussion, lasting for over an hour, the Chief's schedule was finally accepted, and although he had not requested an increase himself, his salary was boosted $400, and $36.50 was added for good conduct.

The Chief and the representatives of the press were requested to leave the meeting, which they did promptly, and the business proceeded, far away from prying eyes and listening ears.

The motion passed a week ago that one man more be added to the Department was rescinded when the magnitude of the increases loomed up before the members. They evidently believed in paying a better price and getting quality, not quantity.

Old and New.

Chief Constable—$2100 to $2436.50.
Detective-Sergeant Newhall—$1400 to $1700.
Sergeant James F. Reid—$1225 to $1600.
Sergeant Arthur Blade — $1175 to $1500.
Sergeant John H. Deannard—$1175 to $1500.
Detective William E. Meagher — $1200 to $1500.
Constable Harold D. Lawrence — $1100 to $1400.
Constable William E. Wigg—$1100 to $1400.
Constable George E. Cookman,—$1100 to $1400.
Constable Daniel T. Boyd—$1100 to $1400.
Constable Arthur Thomas—$1100 to $1400.
Constable Harry Young—$1000 to $1300.
Constable Charles Smyth—$1100.

Salaries for the year 1920 — $19,636.50.

The other estimates are:
Secretary of the Police Commission—$50.
Morality Department—$400.
Clothing and Equipment—$1300.
Fuel—$350.
Printing and Stationery—$200.
Telephones—$100.
Telephoning and telegraphing—$75.
Postage—$30.
Cleaning Station and Court-room—$130.
Lights and Lighting—$20.
Chief Constable's Convention—$200.
One automobile and the upkeep of same—$1200.
Incidentals—$300.
Total—$4,355.00.
Total Estimates—$23,001.50.
Total increase. —$5,575.00.

Throughout the session of the Board the officers waited expectantly and eagerly for the return of the Chief, and when he at last came in and announced the increases, the men could hardly believe it, and general rejoicing took place, for the raise means much to the men, and it will be with a new incentive, with a feeling of gratitude and appreciation that the efficient performance of their more or less unpleasant duties, has at last been recognised that the Department will "carry on."

Charles Holland Was Victim of an Elevator Accident This Morning at Canadian Woollens

LIFELESS BODY WAS DISCOVERED BY WORKMEN SHORTLY AFTER ACCIDENT--NO EYEWITNESSES-

WILL HOLD INQUEST

Charles Holland, wool stock keeper at the McDonnel street plant of the Canadian Woollens, was instantly killed this morning at about 8.45, being crushed in one of the freight elevators at the extreme western end of the basement of the building.

Mr. J. W. Worth, when interviewed shortly afterwards, said that no details of the death were known as no one saw the accident and no cries were heard, only the lifeless body of the unfortunate man bearing silent testimony to the tragedy that had occurred.

The late Mr. Holland had been employed by the Bonner-Worth Company, now known as the Canadian Woollens Ltd., for two years and had always been a careful and conscientious workman, Mr. Worth said. He was head wool stock keeper of the large stocks of wool in the basement and was assisted by a boy, but of late the boy has been away through illness in the home and Mr. Holland had been carrying on the work alone.

Mr. Holland had evidently been in the act of loading the elevator in the basement at the west end of the building for one of the waggons on which the wool is carried was standing unloaded at the entrance. It is surmised that the unfortunate man was standing at the entrance and as the elevator was up a little he reached in to pull the rope and let it down and in doing so he pulled the wrong rope, the elevator rose, lifting him off his feet and carried him upward, and crushed him against the arch above.

A few minutes late he was discovered by several of the workmen, his lifeless body stretched across the elevator and his feet hanging over the side of the elevator. No outward signs of the terrible death he must have suffered were visible, and it is presumed that death was caused by internal injuries.

The deceased had resided in this city for some thirty years, and during his long residence here, had made a wide circle of friends, who respected him.

Besides his sorrowing wife, he leaves two sons, Percy, of Windsor, and Gordon, of Toronto, and one daughter, Hazel, of this city; one brother, Mr. Frederick Holland, of this city, and two sisters, Mrs. Patrick Hickey, Cedar Street, and Mrs. Mary Walsh, North Dakota, survive.

An inquest will be opened to-night at 8 o'clock at Lane and Eano's Undertaking Parlours, Hunter Street, Coroner Dr. Greer presiding.

Mr. J. W. Worth, when questioned this afternoon on the rumour that Mr. Charles Holland came to his untimely end by some one pulling the rope from above, entirely discredited the story. "They would have seen the man below," he said.

Several doctors were called at once, but found that life was extinct. One of the doctors pronounced death due to suffocation, and if this is true, it would entirely account for no screams being heard.

The body of the deceased has been removed to Lane and Eano's Undertaking Parlours, where the inquest will be opened to-night at 8 o'clock by Coroner Greer.

His Worship the Mayor,
Peterborough, Ontario.

My Dear Mr. Mayor,—I have noticed by the Peterborough press that it is mentioned that provided the By-law extending our fixed assesment is carried that we will spend at least $500,000 on additional buildings and equipment. When I was present at the Committee-of-the-Whole of your Council I mentioned that our plans had not been fully prepared and that I was not in a position to state definitely how much would be involved in these buildings and equipment, but that they would cost at least half a million dollars. Since that time our plans have assumed definite shape and I am at liberty to tell you that the estimated expenditure now amounts to double the amount specified, or at least one million dollars.

Thinking the citizens of Peterborough may be interested I am forwarding you this information.

Yours very truly,
(Sgd.) Frederick Nicholls.
President.

PETERBORO FAIR GROUNDS

A few years ago it was proposed that the Fair grounds should be purchased from Mr. R. A. Morrow and kept for a permanent fair ground, the matter was submitted to the people and voted on; the result was that the project was snowed under, not because the people disapproved of an agricultural show, but because they are opposed to paying out their money for what always has been, and what they considered would continue to be, a continuing nuisance.

When not in use as a fair ground for three days in each year it was a nuisance.

It consists of 20 acres of land stretching for 1800 feet across the city, absolutely dividing the north from the south by a belt of land 436 feet in width, closing up all roads and streets. It would close up 160 lots so as to be free from city taxes, shutting out improvements of every kind, preventing the erection of a quarter of a million dollars' worth of buildings and making it necessary to travel around this 1800 foot block to go to the south part of the city, or from the south to the north. When not in use for a fair the ground is used for a lot of horsemen to trot horses on, and for a couple of days each summer as a circus ground, and on other days and nights as a rendezvous for tramps and night birds.

Mr. Denne proposed that a lot of money be expended on the ground for new buildings. This will call for money from the taxpayers; every new building will fasten this incubus on the land and make it constantly more costly to keep up and more difficult to pull up stakes. If the city must have a fair, all right, but decide early so that the people won't be hampered. Buy 20 or more acres a couple of miles out of town on the line of one of our railways. They go out from the centre thus: South on the old Cobourg and Peterborough line, south-east on grand junction; south-east on the C.P.R., north-west on Lindsay branch, west on C.P.R., south on G.T.R. to Millbrook.

Surely the fair directors can get suitable land within two miles of the city for one-tenth part of the cost of the Morrow land. And such fair ground would cut the city in two and injure the city.

This present fair ground with its unsightly fence and enclosed darkness is not a good thing for the city. It is no ornament and it hurts all the property around it. I won't attempt to controvert all that might be said in favor of a yearly fair, though whether it is worth the cost is another matter.

Let this town not fasten down an eternal nuisance on the shoulders of the city—cut the knot now when it is easy done and you will never cease to be thankful for your act in getting this burden off your shoulders.

A Social Evening in Presbyterian Church.

A very enjoyable evening was spent on Monday at the Presbyterian church, the occasion being the annual dinner and entertainment.

Dinner was served from six o'clock and in spite of so much illness in the village and vicinity, a good crowd was in attendance. The dinners was followed by a splendid programme.

Rev. Thompson ,of Hastings occupied the chair, and his address was given in his usual interesting manner. Short addresses were given by Rev. Mair of South Dummer and Rev. Terrill, pastor of the Methodist church.

The speaker of the evening, however was Rev. Jull, of Lakefield, who delighted his audiences on Sunday with the excellent sermons which he preached and who gave such a splendid address on this occasion.

Several recitations were given by Miss Helen Morrison of Peterborough, an instrumental solo by Miss Wilma Burgess and a vocal solo by Miss Marjory Johnston.

Mrs. Lettie Drope Bingham, of Peterborough ,won the hearts of all by her beautifully rendered solos, and her charming, captivating manner. Her pianist, Miss Muriel Bridge, gave a piano solo which was highly appreciated and enjoyed. The proceeds amounted to $125.00.

Union Services at the Churches.

Special union prayer services were held on Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock and in the evening at 7.30 in the Methodist church. Rev. Thomas of Peterborough, was present to give an address.

On Wednesday at the same hours, services will be held in the Presbyterian church.

A cottage prayer will be held on Thursday evening at the home of Mr. David Buchanan ,9th line Dummer, and on Friday evening at the home of Mr. Thomas McMillan, Dummer road.

A PRESENTATION BY ODDFELLOWS

On Thursday evening, the Oddfellows held their regular meeting in their Hall, also a banquet. The District Deputy Grand Master was present, and pinned the Veteran's Jewel on the breast of Mr. Ira Cummings who on Nov. 7th., 1883, became a member of Otonabee Lodge No. 13. The presentation was accompanied by the following address.

Norwood, Feb. 26th, 1920.

Mr. Ira Cummings,

Past Noble Grand and Brother.

For the officers and members of Norwood Lodge, No. 262, of the Independent Order of Oddfellows, I take the opportunity of offering to you their sincere thanks for your valued services and generous support since your connection with this Lodge.

Through your unfailing allegiance and ready assistance this Lodge has reaped many benefits.

As a slight token of the high estem in which you are held I would ask you to accept from the hands of Brother Bentley, District Deputy Grand Master, this Veterans' jewel.

This little token carries with it the sincere hope that you may long be spared to wear it, and that we may receive the same whole-hearted support as you have freely given in past years.

Signed on behalf of Norwood Lodge, No. 262.

R. A. DEAN, N.G.
WM. BECKETT, R.S.

CAMERON-EASTWOOD NUPTIALS

CAMERON—EASTWOOD.

A pretty wedding was performed today at one o'clock in Murray street Baptist church when Margaret Elsie Eastwood, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Eastwood, George street, was united in marriage to Alan Hector Cameron, son of Mr. John Cameron, Stewart street, and formerly of the 2nd Machine Gun Battalion.

The bride who looked lovely in a wedding gown of ivory charmeuse with draped bodice of rose point lace, pearl girdle, court train lined with silver cloth caught on the shoulder with heavy pearl tassels and bridal veil with rose point cap and carrying a shower bouquet, entered the church on the arm of her father to the wedding march played by Miss Ida Sanderson. She was attended by her sisters, Miss Agnes Eastwood and Miss Jean Eastwood the former charmingly gowned in pale blue taffeta and the latter in shell pink and both wearing silver hats and silver shoes and carrying huge bouquets of violets with purple streamers. The little flower girls Mary McPherson and Margaret McCarter of Toronto were very pretty in embroidered net dresses over shell pink and white net poke bonnets with streamers of silver lace. Each carried baskets of sweet peas and forget-me-nots. Mrs. Eastwood, the bride's mother, was very handsomely gowned in kingfisher blue charmeuse with hat to match and mink cape.

The groom was supported by Mr. Bruce Clegg and the ushers were Messrs. J. R. Eastwood, of Toronto and Vincent McCarter Eastwood, brothers of the bride and Gordon S. Matthews. During the ceremony, which was performed by the Rev. J. R. Webb, Miss Ida Sanderson played the organ softly and during the signing of the register, Miss Lilian Eastwood sang "O Promise Me."

Immediately after the ceremony the bridal party drove to the home of the bride's parents, "Athol Place," where a reception was held. The living room looked very charming with decorations of snap dragons and sweet peas while in the dining-room a silver basket of marguerites formed the central decorations on the dining table, with its covers of Florentine lace. Later in the afternoon Mr. and Mrs. Cameron left for New York, where they will spend a few weeks. Upon their return to the city they will reside at 226 Brock street. Mrs. Cameron travelled in a handsome suit of French blue ,black hat and taupe fox furs.

Out of town guests included the following from Toronto: Mr. and Mrs. J. B. McCarter, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Eastwood, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. McPherson, Mrs. A. Bollard, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon McCarter, Mrs. T. F. Matthews, Miss Jessie Matthews, Mrs. Graham Newton and Miss Emma Cox, also Miss Helen Flavelle of Lindsay.

MUCH ACTIVITY IN LAKEFIELD

INDUSTRIAL BOOM IN PROSPECT FOR SPRING.

LAKEFIELD, March 3.—This spring promises a mild boom for the village as work will start about the first of April on the new dam and rumor is persistently reporting a renewal of activity in the Canada Cement plant. Whether rumor is correct or not remains to be seen but it is hoped that the plant will reopen and that work will begin.

The canoe factories are working full time to keep up with the increasing demands for boats.

The Colonial Glass factory has filled large orders for their famous cut glass and the staff has increased steadily. This plant is one of the attractions of Lakefield and is well worth inspection.

DID NOT DELAY JUMP IN SUGAR

ADVANCE QUICKLY FOLLOWED END OF CONTROL BY COMMERCE BOARD.

MONTREAL, March 1.—The abrogatiton of the control of sugar prices by the Board of Comerce was followed by the action on the part of the sugar refineries in raising the prices.

Atlantic Sugar Refineries, Limited, the St. Lawrence Refineries, and the Dominion Refineries announce that their prices are raised per 100-pound bag granulated sugar by $2.00 and the Canada Refineries by $1.00. This advance brings prices up to $15.50 and $16.50 respectively.

Retailers have in some cases advanced their prices to 19c and 20c a pound, and it is expected that an increase to at least 18c will be general.

Canadian housewives may as well be prepared to pay a good deal more for their sugar and be thankful if they can get a reasonable supply of the same, according to a statement given out by Hugh Bain, president of the Canadian Wholesale Grocers' Association. The statement says:

"The is no doubt whatever but that the orders issued by the Board of CVommerce have kept down the price of sugar to the consumer, and it is equally clear that there must be an advance in the price in the near future. The difference in exchange alone on raw sugar at the present figure is from 1¾c to 2c per pound."

Afternoon Tea.

Mrs. Britton and Mrs Fawcett were joint hostesses on Saturday of a delightful tea and kitchen shower in honor of Miss Winifred Mackenzie, whose marriage takes place quietly in April. The affair was a great success and was a surprise to Miss Mackenzie, who expressed thanks very gracefully to the donors of the many useful gifts showered upon her. Among those present were: Mrs. F. J. Tate, Mrs Elmsley, Mrs. E. R. Tate, Mrs J. C Strickland, Mrs. A. W. Mackenzie and Miss 'Billy," Mrs. Hilliard, Mrs Macauley, Mrs. Graham, Mrs. Langley, Mrs. H. J. Stuart, the Misses Atwood, Mrs. Marling, Mrs. Fitzgerald, Mrs. Osborne and Miss Graham.

Rev. A. W. Mackenzie, Rev. H. Britton and Mr. Kenneth Mackenzie dropped in during the afternoon.

The occasion was the birthday of the popular bride-elect, who was showered not only with kitchen ware, but with the good wishes of her friends, many of which were expressed in the original poems which accompanied the gifts.

SEVENTEEN MILLION WOMEN VOTE FOR PRESIDENT THIS FALL

How is this power going to be used. Will any set of politicians be able to control and direct it? Will the newly acquired power be likely to direct and control political parties? Will the power be concentrated, or will it be diffused and thus lose its controlling force? In other words, how are these seventeen million American women going to vote in the 1920 elections? To this smoldering, if not burning, question there is no answer. There is no precedent by which to prohecy. There are no figures to show the extent to which women have committed themselves to political parties. There is no use to ask the leaders of the dominant parties, for not one of them knows. Even the professional quadrennial campaign prognosticators have thrown up their hands. They have officially quit, since Congress passed the nineteenth amendment. And yet, in the answer to that question lies the hope of the Republican party, the hope of the Democratic party, the hope of many a bill now slumbering in Congress, the hope of the home, and the hope of our new American civilization. America has a right no expect from women's freed and freeing activities a new vitality of reform and a veritable springtide of human progress. Will the women make good? The answer can come from one source —and only one—the new voters themselves, and this answer Pictorial Review has undertaken to secure by the time the national political parties hold their conventions in the early summer. The platform of the dominant political parties have yet to be made. Seventeen million women voters have the power to dictate the principals of those platforms. They have only to decide upon their ground, state it, and stand firmly upon it. See what the women themselves are thinking. Read Ida Clyde Clarke's article in Pictorial Review for March.

MARCH COMES IN LIKE A LAMB? NO ANSWER

Weather prophets who predicted an open winter have been so confounded by the reverse actuality, severe and "closed enough for even the hardiest of them, that they hesitate to declare whether March came in to-day like a lion or a lamb. Lacking an official pronouncement the amateur who rather dubiously clings to the old traditions would be inclined to say that the first day of the spring months was fairly lamb like. If that be correct, then he might offer the prognostication that the month will go out a-roaring, and that the Easter raiment will show some of the influences of a lingering winter. At any rate the bear apparently had the confidence of the weather man for February's four weeks since Candlemas have justified the wisdom of his return to his lair under the brush pile and ther should be another two weeks of zero weather.

thrown into the same frightful explosion as that which overtook Russia through this very same cause, then let the individual rights and individual liberties continue to be trampled upon. There never was any system which could substitute 'must for 'ought,'" he declared.

Says Farmers Are Selfish.

The organization of the United Farmers as a political force evoked some comments from Mr. Burnhma, who declared that the "whole movement was founded on the selfishness of self interest." "I sympathize with the Liberals I see before me," he declared, "they are going down before the farmers who said they would swarm across the country. I don't suppose that in a few years Liberalism will be more than a name." The farmers' movement was, said Mr. Burnham, a fine commentary upon the talk of unity. For himself, he said, he stood for a national policy of Canada for the Canadians. The West Peterboorugh member alluded to the hostility of the farmers to the eight-hour day and warned them "if we do not have the 8-hour day it wil be because we get a six-hour day."

TO MY FRIENDS

We are getting acquainted with each other now ,are we not, and I believe you have confidence in me and in what I tell you. This is why I have refrained from telling you about our most wonderful Remedy until now, as, had I told you about it at first, you would not have believed me. I confess it reads like a fairy story or a patent medicine advertisement, but, nevertheless, this is every whit true. Listen to what I know Gallagher's Golden Drops to have done.

A young lady got an infection in her finger, a doctor opened it, used iodine and antiphlogestine for a month before getting it under control. Later a sister got an infection from the prick of a rusty tack, started with the same treatment, but the finger began to curl up with the inflammation, when she began the use of Gallagher's Golden Drops ,and in two days it was alright. In another family a doctor treated a young man's finger for a month for an infection, while a sister later cured hers in two days with Golden Drops, each equally advanced at the start. A friend with a ringworm had tried all kinds of salves for a year without result and took it off completely in two weeks with a plaster of Golden Drops. I know of different ones who tried all kinds of corn cures without satisfactory results and removed them easily and painlessly with a plaster of Golden Drops. It will kill boils or carbuncles in 24 hours after being opened up. These are only some of the things it has done. More later.

This Remedy is composed of resinous gums and oils, will kill poison, draw out inflammation and will heal any place where antiphlogistme may be used. I garantee this to be 90 p.c. more efficient. To use it, first cleanse the part with boracic acid solution or peroxide, place some absorbent cotton between two layers of sterilized gauze or cotton, spread the gum on one side and apply when it will adhere firmly. Cut out these directions and try it.

Yours Friend, Jack Speill...

FORMER RESIDENT FATALLY INJURED

Martin McNamara was killed on Saturday night on the Hydro construction work on the River Bank, near Queenston, where the new power house will be built. He was on the edge of the bank when his feet slipped on the frozen ground, and there was nothing for him to hold on to. He fell nearly 200 feet.

When the body was recovered it was found that he was still alive. He was placed in a trolley car and taken to Niagara Falls, but expired before regaining consciousness.

Mr. McNamara was the first man on the Hydro job, coming here from Trenton where he had for 12 years been a foreman on the Trent Canal Construction, and was a resident of Peterboro during the construction of the Lindsay, Pontypool and Bobcaygeon Railway. He is survived by a wife and three small children.

DARLINGTON FARMER SUFFERS HEAVY LOSS

BOWMANVILLE, Feb. 27.—Particulars have just come to hand of a serious fire on the farm of Mrs. Joseph Armour, northwest of this town, on Concession 3 of Darlington township, entailing a loss of approximately $15,000.

The splendid large and modern barns and stables on the Armour homestead, occupied by Ambrose J. Armour, son of the owner, were completely destroyed, the fire having apparently been the result of a son of the occupant playing with matches in the barn.

Mr. Armour was working in the horse stables under the east barn when he saw smoke coming from the north barn. With the aid of his sister, Miss Armour, all the live stock was saved, excepting one heifer and some hens. In the stables were 27 head of cattle, four horses, 40 pigs, 13 sheep and 70 hens.

Kind neighbours divided the live stock among them, and will care for and feed the animals till Mr. Armour can arrange for them.

MARCH WEATHER DANGEROUS TO BABY

Our Canadian March weather—one day bright, but sloppy, the next blustery and cold—is extremely hard on children. Conditions make it necessary for the mothers to keep the little ones indoors. They are often confined to overheated, badly ventilated rooms and catch colds which rack their whole system. To guard against these colds and to keep the baby well till the better, brighter days come along, a box of Baby's Own Tablets should be kept in the house and an occasional dose given the baby to keep his stomach and bowels working regularly. The Tablets are a mild but thorough laxative which never fail to regulate the stomach and bowels and thus they relieve colds and simple fevers and keep the baby fit. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

BIG YEAR LOOKED FOR.

From all indications the Deloro Company is preparing for a busy year. It is understood two new manufacturing plants are being installed, both of which will mean increased production, an increased pay roll and consequently increased prosperity for the district.—Marmora Herald.

AND. W McKAY.

Andrew McKay, of Findlater, Saskatchewan, who came east to attend the funeral of his father, the late William McKay, and who arrived here with an attack of influenza, passed away on Friday morning last from congestion of the lungs, following that dread complaint. The deceased was in his 35th year, and unmarried. The funeral took place from the family residence, King Street, Havelock, on Monday afternoon, to the Maple Grove Cemetery, services being held at the house at 1.30 p.m., which were largely attended.

JANET McINTYRE.

Janet McIntyre, relict of the late Duncan McIntyre, passed away at her home in Havelock, on Thursday last, in her 77th year. The deceased lady has been ill for some time and her demise was not unexpected. She leaves to mourn her loss two sons and two daughters, Mrs. P. G. Cromar of Toronto, Campbell of Moose Jaw., Sask., and Archie and Annie of town. The funeral took place to the family burying plot at Keene on Monday afternoon.

MRS. CHARLES MATTHEWS.

Mary Elizabeth Whatman, aged 37 years, beloved wife of Chas. Matthews, passed away this morning after a short illness from influenza and pneumonia.

The deceased was born at Uxbridge, Ontario, but had lived in Peterborough for some fifteen years and during her residence here she has made a wide circle of friends. Besides her sorrowing husband she leaves four small children ranging in age from 1 1-2 years to 13 years, also two sisters, Mrs. D. Ainsworth of Winnipeg, and Mrs. Fred Hall of this city, and four brothers, William, Russel and James of this city, and Roy of Campbellford.

The family of the deceased will have the sympathy of the entire community, for the death is made doubly sad as her husband is in the hospital suffering from the same dread disease.

ELMO R. PATTERSON.

Elmo R. Patterson, second son of Mrs. Emma Patterson and the late Thomas Patterson, died at his home, 51 Dorval Road, Toronto, on Friday of last week, after five days' illness from pneumonia. The deceased, who was born in Havelock and lived here all his boyhood, enlisted with the 204th Battalion in March, 1916. Going overseas, he was transferred to the 116th Battalion, and went to France with that regiment. He was in the trenches only eight hours when he received a bullet wound in the right arm, which confined him to the hospital for eight months. He returned to Canada in March, 1919, and after a vocational training, was employed by Gunns, Ltd., West Toronto.

The funeral took place at Havelock on Tuesday afternoon, on the arrival of the C. P. R. noon express, to the Maple Grove Cemetery, and was conducted under the auspices of Havelock Royal Lodge, No. 286, I.O.O.F., the deceased being a member of Fairview Lodge, No. 446, Toronto. Besides his mother, he is survived by four brothers and two sisters.

Among the relatives who attended the funeral were Mr. Ward Patterson of Peterborough, Mrs. (Dr.) McArthur, of Markdale, Mr. and Mrs. C. Holcombe of Deloro, and Miss Mabel Wilde, nurse-in-training at the Kingston Hospital.

FRANK T. SOLLITT.

Mr. Frank T. Sollitt, 696 George street, died of pneumonia at Montford, Quebec, this morning.

Employed by the Wm. Hamilton Company in charge of the erection of turbines, he was sent to Montford to superintend certain work there for the company, leaving on Sunday, February 15th. On the following Tuesday he became ill, developing pneumonia. Early this week he was reported in a critical condition, and his many friends were slightly prepared for the news of his sudden death. His wife and his sister, Mrs. Matiece, left on Monday to be with him.

Mr. Sollitt had been with the William Hamilton Company for approximately twenty years, and had many friends in Peterboro. He was a member of the Public Library Board of Peterboro Lodge A. F. and A. M., and of Peterboro Lodge I. O. O. F. He is survived by his wife and one son, Alex., 18 years old.

LATE WILLIAM PYM.

A pioneer sailor of the inland waters and a veteran of the Grand Trun Ry. Co., passed away in Lindsay in the person of Mr. William Pym Death occurred at his residence on Cambridge street south, following a comparatively short illness.

The late William Pym, who was in his 72nd year, was for years a sailor on the inland lakes and was a resident of Port Hope. Later on the entered the services of the Grand Trunk and worked himself up to the position of an engineer, and in later years he had charge of the run to Haliburton for the G.T.R. Quitting the Grand Trunk system he settled down to a retired life in Peterborough, but shortly afterwards purchased the Daly Hotel in Lindsay (now the Elsmure) and with his brother conducted a hostelry for a number of years. A few years ago he disposed of the business to Mr. Jas. Darch, and since has lived retired.

He was a member of the Independent Order of Oddfellows, and a member of St. Paul's church. Left to mourn his loss in his devoted and loving wife, as well as one sister, Mrs. Rowden, of Port Hope.

The funeral will leave the family home Monday morning, the remains to be conveyed by G.T.R. to Port Hope, where interment will take place on Tuesday.

WM. WHITCROFT.

The death took place on Saturday of Wm. Whitcroft, a resident of Peterborough for about 30 years, at the ripe age of 73 years. The deceased was born in the north of Ireland and came to Canada 37 years ago, settling in Port Perry, where he lived for a period of 8 years, then moving with his wife and family to Peterborough, where he has resided since. His wife predeceased him in 1903, and a family of two sons and four daughters survive to mourn his death, William, living in the city; Fred, of Edmonton; Mrs. Rogers, city; Mrs. Reid and Mrs. Selby, Toronto, and Mrs. Davidson, Montreal.

The deceased had been in the employ of the late Thomas Bradburn and of the Bradburn estate for practically all the years he has resided in the city. In religion he was an Anglican and in politics a staunch Conservative.

MRS. WM. PAUL.

On the 29th February, 1920, there passed away, at the homestead on the 4th line of Smith township, an old and respected resident in the person of Margaret Young, relict of the late Wm. Paul. The deceased had reached within a few days of her eightieth birthday and had lived at the same farm for over sixty years.

In her years of activity the late Mrs. Paul was a very helpful neighbour, gladly giving any assistance possible in cases of sickness and sharing in every way the public interests of the community. Many cares and sorrows came to her during her long life, but she bore up very bravely till the last shock of her grandson's death in action. Burrit Bell. This blow seemed harder than all and in her declining years weighed heavily upon her. Several months ago Mrs. Paul was seized with a stroke slight but serious in its effect upon one at her age. Another stroke during the past week hastened the end. Besides her sister, Mrs. Neil McDonald, and her brother, Thos. Young of Peterboro the bereaved family are as follows: Wm. Thos ,and Mabel on the homestead and Vincent of Peterboro Four grandchildren who have lived for years with their grandparents, Wm. Bell, Jennie, Gilmour, and Dawson Paul also survive and Vincent Bell of Bratton, Saskatchewan. The husband passed away over two years ago.

TIMOTHY WALSH.

The death occurred last night of Timothy Walsh, of Keene, aged 76. The deceased was a well known and highly respected farmer and his death will be deeply regretted throughout the entire district.

MRS. ELIZA DALE.

Mrs. Eliza Dale, widow of the late Thomas Dale ,fell asleep in Jesus on Sunday morning, Feb. 29th, 1920, at Nicholls Hospital, Peterborough, aged 62 years. She had been a sufferer for many years, but was remarkably bright and cheerful and to the last professed her confidence in Christ as her personal Saviour She leaves to mourn her loss one daughter, Mrs. F. N. Shearer, and her son-in-law, five brothers Messrs. W. H. and S. Leach of Fenella, B. and A. S. Leach of Forth Worth, Texas, and Dr. G. C. Leach, of Hamilton, also her aged mother at Fenella

DEATH OF INFANT.

The infant of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Copeland, Frank street, died this morning. Interment will take place tomorrow afternoon to the Little Lake cemetery.

M. H. ANDERSON.

M. H. Anderson, of Lindsay, aged 37 years, passed away in this city this morning after a short illness. The deceased's home is near Lindsay, and the remains will be sent to Lindsay for interment.

MRS. PETER PIRIE.

The deceased was a zealous worker in Knox church and her influence will be greatly missed in the church work.

She is survived by her sorrowing husband and one son, Stewart, aged seven ,and two brothers, George of Detroit, and James of Chicago, besides three sisters, Mrs. MacPherson of Aberdeen, Scotland, Mrs. Ledingham, of Glasgow, Scotland, and Mrs. Jones of Jacksonville, Florida.

The funeral will take place on Thursday afternoon at two o'clock from the residence of her brother-in-law, Mr. John Pirie, 274½ McDonnel street, to the Little Lake cemetery. Service will be held at the house by the Rev. Mr. MacKenzie of Knox church.

REID MUNRO

Few deaths which have occurred in the city have caused such wide spread regret as that of George Reid Munro, who died yesterday at the family residence, 352 Brock street.

The late Mr. Munro who was the second son of the late George Munro of the Wm. Hamilton Co., and grandson of the late Wm. Hamilton, founder of the Wm. Hamilton Co., was born in the city on March 13th 1887. He received his education at the Peterboro Public Schools and the Collegiate Institute and later graduated from the School of Practical Science University of Toronto.

After graduation he was engineer of the preliminary survey of the Hudson Bay Railway then on the staff of the Smith, Kerry and Chace Consulting Engineers, Toronto. He was also connected with Mr. R. S. Lea of Montreal. In July 1911 he returned to the city to take the position of Engineer of the Wm. Hamilton Co. which with the Vice Presidency of the Company he held at the time of his death.

He was a member of the Engineering Institute of Canada and Pesident of the local branch of the Engineering Institute having taken great interest in its organization. He was genuinely and whole-heartedly interested in all local activities. He was a member of the Board of Trade and of the Advisory Board of the Red Cross. Having lived in the city all his life he took a deep interest in any city development and welfare.

He was a member of the local branch of the Corinthian Lodge A. F. and A.M. and Toronto Lodge of Perfection. Last year he was secretary of Corinthian Lodge. He was a life long member of St. Paul's Church.

THOMAS DAWSON.

Thomas Dawson, a resident of the city for the past fifty years, died at noon to-day at the family residence, 330 Bonnacord Street, aged 76 years. Deceased was born in Monaghan, Ireland, and left for Canada when twenty-six years of age, settling first in Toronto, but latterly making his home in the city, and was employed for forty-five years with the William Hamilton Company. He had been ill for the past three years, but his condition became more serious on Friday, and he gradually sank. He was a faithful and consistent member of All Saints' Church, and a member of the Independent Order of Foresters.

He leaves of the immediate family his wife, three sons, John Dudgeon of Easton, Penn., Richard of Chapleau, and Thomas W. of the city; three daughter, Mrs. James Johnston of the city, Mrs. R. L. Hamilton of Welland, and Mrs. Sam Trotter of Vancouver; one sister Miss Jane Dawson of Toronto, and one brother William of Ireland.

(By Rev. G. E. Ross.)

J. Walter R. Dawson, the subject of this sketch, was born in the township of South Monaghan on the 20th day of June, 1899, and died at the General Hospital, in the city of Guelph, on Saturday morning, Jan. 31st, 1920, in the 21st year of his age.

Walter was the second son of Mr and Mrs. Wilfred Dawson of Hamilboro, lived a bright, happy, joyous boyhood on the farm with his parents attending school and drinking deep from the fountain of rural delights with the other members of a happy and prosperous family. In a word he was a "Child of Nature" and loved her as a child would love his mother.

Later he attended High School, and being possessed of a lofty moral character, clean and manly habits, upright and noble principles, with a loyable disposition, and a clean and studious mind, he soon won for himself the respect and confidence of a large circle of friends. The fact that he was the youngest of the judges at the Toronto Exhibition last year, speaks more than much for his good judgment and general ability to take his place among rising men

At the beginning of the present year he entered the Agricultural College in the city of Guelph, feeling that such a course of training would better prepare him for his life's work. This, however, was not according to the Divine Plan, and another sphere of usefulness was opened for him just beyond the veil, for surely Paradise will mean blessed activity.

His course at College was never completed. Contracting Spanish Influenza, resulting in pneumonia, he was removed to the General Hospital where he died on Saturday morning, after one weeks illness ,and the sun of his earthly life was eclipsed at early noon, while he, himself, passed beyond the shadows

The career of this bright young man shall long be remembered by those who knew him best. Having been converted to God early in life, he learned to love and trust the Methodist church, of which he was a faithful member. Her doctrines and teaching were dear to him, and he held in contempt and lifted his voice like a trumpet against the social evils and questionable amusements of the present day, and his dying messages to his young companions at home were warnin, against the folly of such things. Nor did he live in vain. Even in death, his influence on those about him was mighty. His simple faith in Christ, and wondrous grasp of God and Divine Things deeply impressed the staff of the hospital, for they saw before them a young man, who could triumph as he entered the Valley of the Shadow of Death, and smile in the face of the Last Enemy. As he lay softly dying, with his parents by his side, "Jesus" was on his lips, his conversation was in Heaven, and the Light of Immortal Beauty covered his face.

Owing to the illness of his pastor, Rev. M. W. Leigh, B.A., the funeral service was conducted by Rev. G. E. Ross of Peterboro. Messrs. Edmund, Charles, Handrill, Frank and Gerald Dawson, and Willard Waterman laid him down to slumber in the quiet little cemetery, not far from the scenes of his childhood. And he will sleep sweetly when the Spring walks o'er the hills, and the summer comes again. When the robin sings in the old familiar tree, and the woods of spring-time, deck themselves once more in glory. But he shall not sleep forever, No, in the morning of the Day Eternal, mid the reverberating strains of the triumph of God, he shall rise a victor o'er the grave to enter with his Lord into Glory and

Commencing on Thursday and Continuing Until 9.30 O'Clock Next Saturday Night

A STORE THAT ENDEAVORS TO DO ITS PART IN THE COMMUNITY

TWENTY-ONE YEARS ago this store opened its doors to the Peterborough public. It has been twenty-one years of continual growth and pleasant relations. From a store of two thousand, one hundred and sixty square feet that employed five persons and dealt exclusively in dry goods lines, it has spread to a departmental store of fifty thousand square feet that supplies this community with widely different kinds of commodities and now employs seventy-five persons. From the opening day to the present time the store policy has been service—better service and a dollar's worth of goods in return for a dollar, and many special events throughout the year that give more than a dollar's worth in return. It is only fitting that on the Anniversary of the Twenty-First Birthday of this business that we celebrated its growth and expansion by offering a large assortment of merchandise at prices much below their present day value.

COMMENCEMENT EXERCISES AT COLLEGIATE INSTITUTE

A LIST OF THE WINNERS

The annual commencement exercises of the Collegiate Institute were held in the Assembly Hall last evening before a crowded and representative audience largely composed of the pupils and their parents and friends who assembled to see the scholars presented with their diplomas and medals their rewards for faithful service crowned with success not only in the pursuit of the studies but in the sports and school athletics.

Mr. Roland Denne, chairman of the Board of Education made an admirable chairman and conducted the programme in a faultless manner. The opening chorus by the Collegiate Institute Glee Club composed of over fifty of the students showed the careful and painstaking leadership of Mr. Carl Browne B.A., in their opening selection "Land of Hope and Glory" and proved an enjoyable revelation to the audience in their well modulated and perfectly blended ensemble. Miss Isobel Donnelly played the accompaniment.

The chairman spoke briefly following the selection, in his pleasure at being present and the honour conferred on him by the principal in requesting him to fill the position. The staff of the Collegiate were commended highly by Mr. Denne who pronounced them second to none in Ontario. Continuing he urged more co-operation between the parents and the teachers on matters of benefit to the child. Mr. Denne regretted that the prohibitive cost of building prevented them from building the much needed gymnasium and household science rooms but promised them these as soon as it is possible to get them. Technical School is receiving much consideration. Mr. Denne stated that on such a project the province would pay one third, the Dominion one-third and the city one-third which lightens cost to city considerably. Mr. Denne promised in conclusion that if one were built it would be the best possible. "The children are our great est asset and must be given the best."

A piano solo by Mr. Otto Glidden followed, being so well received that this talented young pianist was forced to respond to an encore.

Mr. H. R. H. Kenner, principal of the Collegiate Institute presented the following diplomas after explaining what they were awarded for regretting that some of those to whom they were to be presented were unable to attend.

The successful candidates were congratulated by the Principal who remarked on the success met with in view of the sickness and other detrimental conditions of last year and Mr. Kenner placed great credit on the staff for the excellent showing.

How it was impossible for the teachers to value their product from a dollar and cents standpoint like other business was pointed out and how perhaps the only test was the examinations Mr. Kenner spoke on the foremost considerations of the staff in a constant endeavour to set before the pupils only the highest ideals and to help them to mould their character to conform with these ideals.

In concluding Mr. Kenner read an

Former U.S. Minister to China Utters Warning of Japanese Imperialism.

(Special to The Examiner)

NEW YORK, March 6.— Paul S. Reinsch, former American Minister to China, will declare in the current issue of the Magazine of Asia, that Japan employed its participation in the Allied Siberian expedition to further its own ends in that region. He will warn that if Japan adopts an imperialistic policy in Eastern Siberia, "such ambitions could lead her only to the end where Germany's military power ultimately found itself, confronted by the solid opposition of the civilized world."

SAYS GERMANY HAS BEST CHANCE

"By Henry Wood United Press Correspondent."

PARIS, March 6.—The French Government takes the position that the European economic policy as agreed to by Premiers Lloyd George and Nitti will lead to the rehabilitation of Germany's industries more quickly than France's according to authoritative statement here. The Government's position may be outlined as follows: "Germany's industries were little affected by the war because German territory was not invaded extensively, hence, German manufacturers face a much easier problem than do the French for, the French assert, France's greatest industrial cities were laid waste and her factories wrecked with typical Teuton thoroughness. Should the proposed economic policy be put in effect a rapid rise in the value of the German mark is sure to follow because German industry will come rapidly back toward normal. The French franc, on the other hand cannot increase in value until France has rebuilt her devasted areas and has her factories again in operation.

Big Deals in B.C. Timber

RECORD PRICES AT STUMPAGE RATES FOR FIR AND CEDARS —EXCHANGE INCREASES PROFITS.

VAST SALES WEEKLY

(Special to The Examiner.)

VANCOUVER, March 6.— Prices unheard of in the history of lumbering are being paid to the British Columbia Government for fir and cedar timber. Sale which probably holds the record for all time was made this week when timber rights on 225 acres of land at Ramsay Arm, situated on Tidewater at a point 120 miles north of Vancouver were sold for $36,000. In this case the figuring was done on a stumpage basis of $5.30 per thousand feet for cedar and $4.10 for fir. The net return to the government will be $160 per acre. Added to the high prices the mills are getting the bene of approximately fifteen per cent exchange on shipments to the United States, where nearly half the British Columbia cut has lately found a market. The volume of business in timber can be guessed from the fact that the Government sales of standing timber are now approximately three-quarter million dollars weekly. The revenue accruing to the province from timber during the current year will be $2,000,000 instead of $500,000 two years ago.

MURDER OUIJA'S SPELL WOMEN ARRESTED

Twenty-four Hour Seance Without Food or Sleep.

MARTINEZ, Cal., March 6.—After their arrest as insane suspects as the result of a twenty-four hour seance with Ouija boards, Adeline Bottihi; her mother, Mrs. S. Bottini, Mrs. Joseph Holdavini, and Mrs. Edward Morrow were committed to state hospitals for the insane by the superior court here to-day.

The women were in a group of seven men and women arrested in a house at El Cerrito, near here, yesterday.

The three men of the party testified at the hearing that they had tried to induce the women to cease the Ouija seances, but without effect. The men admitted that the last seance in which they participated had lasted for 24 hours and they were so devoted to the boards that they did not take time off to eat or sleep.

Insanity charges were placed against all seven.

CONVENTION FOR THE DEFENSE OF LABOUR

PETERBORO AND TORONTO BUSINESS MEN CREATE A NEW LUMBER INDUSTRY

BIG LIMITS IN THE NEIGHBOURHOOD OF PIGEON LAKE WILL BE WORKED---WILL ERECT A NEW MILL.

All along the stretch of river and lake that mark the line of water communication from Georgian Bay to Lake Ontario and for a part of the distance intersecting the County of Peterborough was a hive of industry in the palmy days of the lumber and timber business that reached its apex in middle sixties of the last century. From this part of the Midland district was exported a very large part of the forest products that brought into the district the money that in turn built up other industries and enhanced the farmer's opportunity. In process of time and with the ever-increasing demand to be met, the forests were denuded of the best of the timbers until at the present time what is taken out is only a mere song compared with what has been.

Virgin Forest.

Remembering all this, it comes as a surprise to learn that there exists along the shore of Pigeon Lake, on the lands of the Township of Harvey, a large area of practically virgin forest, almost as it stood eighty years ago, and holding a very large quantity of the finest of merchantable pine, oak, spruce, hemlock, maple, elm, basswood, and cedar timber. It has been assumed for years that the limits in this district have practically exhausted other than to supply woods for minor purposes such as ties, rough lumber and firewood. So it is of interest to know that recent developments and organization brings to public notice what promises to be a revival of the lumber interests in this district.

Limits Untouched.

Directly north of Sandy Point, on Pigeon Lake, are limits as yet untouched. These limits were originally acquired by Mossom Boyd (the elder) and S. S. Kelly, of Bridgenorth. While the mills at Bobcaygeon and at Bridgenorth cut immense amounts of standard sizes of merchantable pine and dimension timbers, all that was ever removed from the limits in question was in the shape of masts, which were taken out and sent to Quebec for use in shipping or for export. On the ground still stands the best of the forest growth. Pines that reach 120 feet in height, and 3 feet in diameter. Oak of same diameter and over 80 feet high. Spruce and other woods are abundant. Of oak alone there is fully 1,600,600 feet. The limits also border on Ball Lake.

Forest Opportunity.

All this forest opportunity has been acquired by a new company, recently organized, to exploit the limits and place on the market that which has been reserved so long. The company takes over all the Kelly interests as located at Bridgenorth, at Lakefield, or elsewhere. The Kelly business, as manufacturers of merchantable lumber, passes out of existence and into new hands, to be made use of under a new name. Just how the existing plants will be made use of has not been determined, but it is the intention to prepare for manufacturing on a very large scale

A New Mill.

It is under consideration to build possibly at Bobcaygeon, a steam-operated band saw mill containing the very latest improvements. The [illegible] of laying down at the mill site the logs, and it is to be considered that cost of delivery, per 1,000 feet B. M. will be to Bobcaygeon 25 cts., to Lakefield $1.50, to Peterborough $2.50. That is the cost of floatage and towage. Shipping facilities are good at Bobcaygeon and at Peterborough, while at Lakefield, in between there is little difference once the lumber is on the cars.

Having the plant at Lakefield to either use or dispose of, it will be for the future to decide, as well as to the ultimate disposal of the Bridgenorth mill and plant. As planned, the function of the new mill will be the manufacture of lumber with, in prospect, that of hardwood flooring and quarter-cut oak and supplies from other hardwoods. It is expected that the capacity will be over 40,000 feet of lumber per day, with 25,000 of lath, 25,000 of shingles and 1,500 railroad ties. As a by-product there will come out from the saws about 30 cords of slabs, a consideration in any community where firewood is esteemed. Refuse will be burned under the boilers. Some idea of the opportunity can be had from the fact that three years ago, No. 1 pine could be had at $25 per thousand feet. To-day it cannot be found fast enough to supply the demand at $60 per thousand.

New Company.

The new company, while formed and progressing, has not selected its business name. That will be done so soon as the location of the business headquarters is determined, which will likely be at the point of manufacture. But it may be of interest to know that the moving spirit in the formation of the new company and in the grasping of the opportunity is one of our Peterborough men, Mr. John Duignan, so long and favourably known in connection with the A. McDonald Estate of this city. As a worthy introduction to a new business and to a prospective successful venture it may be in place to briefly refer to Mr. Duignan and his connection with lumber interests for the past thirty years.

Mr. John Duignan, at the age of 18 years, began his business career and gained his first experience with the late T. G. Hazlitt, long known as one of the leading and successful business men of Peterborough, and one of the few who made a success of the lumber business in this part of Canada. At the time mentioned, Mr. Hazlitt was manager of the estate of the late Samuel Dickson. Mr. Duignan was given a position in the lumber camps for three years, and on the formation of the Dickson Company, was taker into the business office as book-keeper, which position he held until the purchase of the Scott timber limits by the company. He was then made superintendent of all the company's business activities, with mills at Lakefield, Peterborough and at Harwood, with an annual output of lumber and dimension timber of 20,000,000 feet, the greater part of which found a market in the United States.

On the death of Mr. Hazlitt Mr. Duignan became manager of all the company's lumber business. He remained in this capacity for three years when [illegible] much to the regret of the [illegible] severed his connection and accepted a position with A. McDonald [illegible] lumber, which position he

Dr. Cody to Resign

LATE MINISTER OF EDUCATION IN HEARST GOVERNMENT TO RETIRE FROM PUBLIC LIFE.

HIS WORK CUT SHORT

Canadian Press:

TORONTO, March 6.—Hon. Dr. Cody, Minister of Education in the late Hearst Government, is giving up his seat in the Legislature. The resignation of the member for North-West Toronto has not been handed in as yet, but it is stated positively that he has made up his mind to retire from politics, and that his formal resignation will be in the hands of Hon. G. Howard Ferguson, Liberal-Conservative leader, probably by Monday or Tuesday.

Dr. Cody has already been in touch with Mr. Ferguson and has furnished him with his reasons for dropping out. Hon. Dr. Cody could not be reached last night, but the reasons for his decision are quite well known. When he entered the political field in 1918 he did so for specific purposes. He felt that in the promotion of education in Ontario there was a field of service in which he could do much for his Province. Although never a politician, he threw in his lot with the Hearst Government and devoted his energy and ability to making the Department of Education a great directing force in the educational life of the Province. With the defeat of the Hearst Government, his work in the Department was automatically ended, together with his reason for remaining in public life. His resignation has been expected for some time and will cause little surprise, though there was a feeling that he would remain through the first session.

"TIMES" COMMENT ON HOME RULE BILL

DISCREPANCY BETWEEN ACTUAL ADMINISTRATION AND AVOWED POLICY.

Canadian Press:

LONDON, March 6.—The publication of the terms of the Home Rule Bill, says the "Times," has opened a new chapter in the Irish controversy, and though events have marched apace in Ireland, the people of this country remain unsatisfied by any reasoned defence of the increasing inconsistency between the declared policy of the Government and the actual administration of Irish affairs.

Continuing, the "Times" says: "The Chief Secretary's description of affairs in Ireland in the House of Commons on Thursday was in reality a confession of failure on his part and on that of the Government, as completely disastrous a confession as any which the holder of his office has ever made. We have never doubted that had the Government frankly based their Irish policy on indisputable truth, the Unionists would have broken down and sought the co-operation of moderate Irishmen in the administration of their country, and there would have been to-day little, if any, of that reign of disorder of which Mr. Macpherson, Chief Secretary for Ireland, so bitterly and so tragically complains."

CICILIAN MASSACRE MAY COST TURKEY MUCH TERRITORY

(Canadian Press.)

LONDON March 6.— There is a likelihood that the Cilician massacre may cost Turkey much of what the treaty of peace would otherwise have left her, according to expressions heard in the inner circles at White Hall where the Allied Foreign Ministers continue framing the Turkish settlement. It is believed, among other things, that the proposed western boundaries from Enos, on the Aegean Sea to Midia, on the Black Sea, may be abandoned and the line may be drawn much further east. This would limit the Turkish position in Europe to a narrow peninsula north of the Sea of Marmora.

France and Great Britain are credited with being in agreement in this respect, but there is less certainty expressed as to Italy's attitude and the matter is yet to be settled definitely. Another effect of the Cilician outrage is said to be the unanimous sentiment among members of the Foreign Minister's Council toward totally depriving Turkey of an army and permitting her to maintain only a force of gendarmes. This scheme seemed recently to be doomed to abandonment, but it is no wsiad to be the most probable solution of the question.

NEW YORK BROKERS DETAINED BY SNOW

Stock Market Adjourned This Morning Because There Was No Quorum.

NEW YORK, March 6.—Because of traffic congestion due to the snowstorm and non arrival of brokers the Consolidated Stock Exchange opened at 10 o'clock and adjourned to reopen at 10.30, trading on the outside market the curb was also postponed until 10.30.

ROAD TO LAKES IS NOT DESIGNATED

MINISTER REMINDS DELEGATIONS TOWNSHIPS TO NORTH HAVE DECLINED GOOD ROADS.

C. R. Banks, President; W. H. Bradburn, Chairman of the Goods Roads Committee; H. O. Fisk, Sec'y-Treas. of the Peterborough Automobile Association; R. B. Rogers and W. S. Dodds of the Peterborough Board of Trade; Mayor McIntyre, Aldermen Copping and Jones of the City Council; County Warden Nicholls; Mr. Strickland and Mr. Graham of the Lakefield Board of Trade; Mr. McIntosh, Reeve of Monaghan; Mr. Baptie, Reeve of Cavan, and others, waited on the Honorable Mr. Biggs, Minister of Public Works and Highways, regarding road improvement in this locality. The deputation urged the designation of a Provincial Highway from Port Hope to the Kawartha Lakes System via Peterborough and Lakefield.

Mr. Tooms and Mr. E. McDonald the local members, introduced the deputation.

The Minister assured the deputation that the road from Port Hope to Peterborough would be taken over as a Provincial Highway but he could not see his way clear to designate roads as Provincial Highways which were not thought of sufficient importance in the townships through which they ran, to be brought by these townships into the Good Roads System of the Province. It did appear to some present that through a mistaken policy of some of the townships to the north that this valuable country must forego, for a time at least, modern transportation facilities about to be enjoyed by the rest of the Province.

TURKS THREATEN FURTHER TROUBLE

DISMISS ARMENIAN MASSACREE WITH REFERENCE TO GREEK ATTACKS.

CONSTANTINOPLE, March 6.—British forces in the Mesopotamian oil regions, particularly near Jerkuka and Mosul, have been engaged in constant skirmishes with tribesmen and Turkish irregulars, the opposition of these forces being similar to that encountered by the French at Aintab, Marash and other points in Silicia.

The recognition of the Armenian Republic, without denning its boundaries, is said to have undoubtedly embittered the Turks in Silicia, as the Armenians there claim that Adana and all Silicia must be incorporated in the new Republic, as they belonged to ancient Armenia.

The horrors of Armenian massacres and deportations are blandly dismissed by the Turks with the statement that the Turkish army suffered at the hands of the Armenians, and that deportations are necessary. It is also contended that the recent massacre at Marash do not approach the Greek atrocities against the Turks when the former landed at Smyrna last year under orders of the Supreme Council. Nationalist leaders also say frankly that many classes similar to that at Marash are preparatory to Europeans insist on partitioning portions of Turkey where the Turks predominate.

LEAP YEAR BRINGS MANY MARRIAGES

(Special to The Examiner.)

TORONTO, March 6.—Leap year comes only once every four years, but when it does come it brings weddings. A visit to Toronto City Hall brought forth the astounding information that January 1920 saw 602 marriages, as contrasted with 420 for the same month in 1919. February 1920 saw 449 happy homes started whereas only 155 were the outcome of the preceding year. These figures are enough to eye-opener and bring forth the possibility that an epoch making [illegible] home [illegible]

UNITED STATES DESIRES DIRECT NEGOTIATION BETWEEN ITALY AND JUGO-SLAVIA---DISMEMBERMENT OF TURKEY.

PREMIERS CRITICISED

(By Ed. L. Keen, C. P. Staff Correspondent.)

LONDON, March 6. — President Wilson in his reply to the Allied communication of February 20, re-affirms his position that the only settlement acceptable to the United States in the Adriatic dispute will be an agreement by direct negotiation between Italy and Jugo-Slavia, or the settlement proposed in the agreement of December 9th, according to information from French sources here to-day.

The Presidents reply, it was understood was received on Thursday, although its receipt was not made public until yesterday. In some quarters the reply was interpreted as the death knell of the Secret Treaty of London. The note again makes it clear that President Wilson cannot recognize this agreement.

Against Effacement of Turkey.

Considerable opposition to the Turkish settlement has arisen in several quarters, it was learned to-day. Critics of the settlement as announced by the Council of Premiers, declared that the Allies have decided upon the complete effacement of the Turkish Empire and that its actual dismemberment has been all but accomplished.

LEFT HIS ESTATE TO PARISH PRIEST

WINNIPEG, Man. March 6.—J. A. Senecal, contractor of St. Boniface left estate of hundred thousand dollars to seven priests of the diocese. His daughter Madam Cusson failed in the courts to-day to upset father's will. Judge Curran deciding against her.

PRICES STEADY ON LOCAL FARMERS' MARKET TO-DAY

Prices at the market this morning were slightly lower but the attendance very small. Butter sold at 68 cents a pound, eggs at 73 and 75 cents a dozen, chicken at 40 cents a pound, beef at 18 and 22 cents a pound and pork at 26 and 27 cents a pound. No potatoes were brought in due to the cold weather. Teh farmers expect to commence tapping the trees during the week.

THE WEATHER

The temperature was down to zero again this morning. A year ago to-day was the last time that zero was reached last winter. For six weeks previous no cold weather had been experienced. On the 9th of the month last year we had the heaviest snowfall of the winter, over a foot of snow falling.—W. P.

APPLICATION TO PARLIAMENT

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that application will be made by the Corporation of the City of Peterborough to the Legislative Assembly of the Province of Ontario at the next session thereof for an act to confirm and declare legal, valid and binding upon the said Corporation and the rate payers thereof, a by-law number 2200, authorizing the purchase by the said Corporation of the City of Peterborough of a certain manufacturing property in the said City and the leasing of such property to Nashua Gummed & Coated Paper Company; and also fixing the assessment of the said Company in respect of the said property and the machinery and plant thereon, and the business assessment in respect thereto at $10,000, for the purpose of municipal taxation, excepting school taxes and local improvements, for the maximum period of ten years from the date of delivery of possession under lease of the said property.

The application also asks that the said act declare valid and binding as aforesaid the debentures to be issued under the said by-law, the total amount of the said debentures to be issued being for the sum of $57,000.00 in respect of the purchase money of the said manufacturing property and certain repairs to be made to the buildings thereof, all of which debentures are to be made payable within twenty years at the furthest from the date on which the said debentures are to be issued, and the amount to be raised annually to provide for the sinking fund and the interest of the said debt is $3,049.16.

It is further notified that the amount of the existing debenture debt of the said Corporation of the City of Peterborough is the sum of $2,120,062.04, the particulars of which are as follows:—

General debenture debt	$ 927,185.18
City's share local improvements	358,677.76
Waterworks	623,200.00
Hydro-Electric	220,000.00
Total	$2,120,062.04

and the reason for requiring the issue of the said debentures is to raise the necessary money on the credit of the said Corporation for the purposes set out in the said by-law.

The said application also asks that the said act authorize and validate an assignment (with the consent of the said Corporation) from Nashua Gummed & Coated Paper Company of the benefits and rights acquired by it under a certain indenture dated the 22nd day of September, 1919 made between the said Corporation and Nashua Gummed & Coated Paper Company, to a company to be incorporated under the laws of the Dominion of Canada to be called "Canadian Nashua Paper Company Limited" or such other or similar name as may be procured; and to provide that such assignee shall be entitled to the rights and benefits acquired by Nashua Gummed & Coated Paper Company under the said indenture and by-law in the same manner as if such assignee had been originally named therein in place of the Nashua Gummed & Coated Paper Company.

C. R. WIDDIFIELD,
Solicitor for applicants.

IN THE LITERARY WORLD

(By F. N. De la Fosse, Librarian.)

There is something so fascinating about Biography that a whole series of articles on the subject would not be out of place in dealing with it. But it is not only fascinating, it is instructive, and is an absolute essential to a right understanding of the trend of history. It was the great secret of Macaulay's success that he was enabled to make his History of England so interesting that it reads as pleasantly as a novel and there is no reason whatever, why any boy or girl or, for the matter of that, any grown person, should not be able to make history more palatable by following the methods of Macaulay and becoming acquainted with the lives of those who helped to make it.

It falls to a librarian's lot to have to consult many volumes. Experience teaches him which are the most valuable and there are very few, I should imagine, who would not place the Dictionary of National Biography, a work in twenty-five volumes, in the category of needful works.

As an instance of its comprehensive nature it may be noted that some me ago an enquiry was made for something relating to Mother Shipton and her alleged prophecy. The seeker of the information was a young man who had been struck with the wonderful fulfilment of everything that that prophecy contained. He was anxious to know something about the woman to whom it was attributed. He had only read a few lines of the doggerel in some newspaper, and he was anxious to obtain the whole of it. The pages of the Dictionary whilst they did not supply the words, gave details showing that so far as the famous prophecy was concerned it was a myth but that there were evidences that in the time of Cardinal Wolsey a Mother Shipton had foretold the death of himself, Lord Percy and a few other notables and had got into a certain amount of trouble over it. There have also been tracts written at various times seeking to show that a prophetess of that name really lived. It is sad to add however that the prophecy as we know it, is a fabrication from beginning to end, and was the work of a London printer and publisher, who wrote it in the year 1862. His name was Charles Hindley. He frankly acknowledged the authorship in Notes and Queries in the issue of April 26th, 1873. The words of the Prophecy that Hindley wrote, with the exception of ten lines that are not quoted in the article I have in my hand are as follows:—

Carriages without horses shall go
And accidents fill the world with woe
Around the earth thoughts shall fly
In the twinking of an eye.
The world upside down shall be,
And gold be found at the oot of a tree
Through hills men shall ride
And no horse be at his side.
Under water men shall walk.
Shall ride, shall sleep, shall talk.
In the air men shall be seen,
In white, in black, in green;
Iron in the water shall float
As easily as a wooden boat
Gold shall be found and shown
In a land that's not now known
Fire and water shall wonders do
England shall at last admit a foe
The world to an end shall come
In eighteen hundred and eighty-one.

Hindley's Confession.

Notwithstanding Hindley's confession, there are thousands of people today and probably always will be, who will look upon Mother Shipton as an altogether marvellous being, gifted with occult powers, which shows how much harm a practical joke, in print, may be capable of creating.

Mention of the above brings to mind another prophecy which foretold the end of the world in 1871. It was, if memory serves one aright, by a Dr. Cumming. I was in Boulogne at the time, on my summer holidays. Although a small boy, I can remember distinctly, the troops of people who marched down to the beach on the eventful day set for the dissolution of the world. The pier that separated the Capecure sands from the sands on the town side was black with people, the sands too were crowded. What they expected to see was perhaps, beyond mortal's comprehension. All eyes were turned to the west, where the sun lit up in an indistinct way the cliffs of Albion. When night fell and nothing happened the crowd turned their faces homewards. Their relief was unmistakable. I remember, young as I was, thinking it strange that although the German guns were still thundering beyond Amiens, the populace had no more thought of them than of an eruption in Mars. That was something real but a prophecy by a fanatic filled their superstitious souls with dismay.

John Evelyn's Diary, which was written at a time contemporaneous with that of Pepys, contains a fund of information and is most valuable as an historical reference.

John Evelyn was one of the outstanding figures of the reign of Charles II. and seems, through all his career, to have been able to steer clear of entanglements amongst the various factions of the times. His life was a long one, stretching from 1620 to 1705-1706. He thus lived in the times of Charles the First, Oliver Cromwell, Charles II. and James II. and King William. He was on intimate terms with many of the ministers of Charles II. and James II. and also with foreigners distinguished for arts and learning who visited England. His diary is therefore filled with most valuable data, relating to the times. It is interesting to read amongst other things of the visit of the Czar of Muscovy, Peter the Great, to England. He and his suite occupied Sayes Court, Evelyn's residence near Deptford. One of Peter's favorite recreations was to drive or to be driven on a wheelbarrow through Evelyn's holly hedge. We read also that his entourage contrived to do so much damage to the house and grounds during their stay that the Government had to allow the owner 150 pounds for it. It must be remembered that a pound went considerably further in those days than it does now, so the damage done must have been great.

Turning to modern times there is a book of great interest in the Biographical section entitled "Far away and long ago." It is the recital of the youthful days of Mr. W. H. Hudson, the famous naturalist and writer. It is a book that will appeal to old and young and the style is beautiful, a term which can be extended without qualification to all his writings. His childhood and youth were passed on the Pampas of South America. He tells of the landowners and cattle breeders of the plains, of his first visit to Buenos Aires, and dwells with special emphasis on his early love for birds. The didactic spirit is singularly absent. He seems to take you gently along with him and leave you to make your own discoveries. Those who have read his Purple Land, and his Crystal Age; his Green Mansions, and Adventures among Birds will welcome this book.

"MYSTERY AND ADVENTURE"

Is there a decrease in the demand for "mystery and adventure" stories? Not to dwell on the looseness of the classification and taking it merely at its arbitrary, conventional meaning, this type of fiction seems to be quite as much in the ascendant as ever. Each season brings out scores of novels of adventure that pass across our literary stage and then—as happens with so many of their near and distant relations—are heard no more. This does not mean, obviously, that the taste for this kind of fiction has weakened. The more logical conclusion would seem to be that the novels of adventure published today do not quite reach the standard set by writers of the same type of fiction some time ago. Otherwise these adventure novels would live. But here a correspondent, herself a past master in the art of fiction, reaches us with the statement that "since R. L. S. the adventure reading public has deteriorated"—and this starts us wondering whether the dearth of good adventure-stories is, after all, due to an unappreciative public and not to the writers of fiction themselves.

LATEST NEWS ABOUT BOOKS AND AUTHORS

A new book on Ireland, which all lovers of that always entertaining author, G. A. Birmingham, will look forward to, is announced for immediate publication by the George H. Doran Company. It will present a survey of Irish conditions under the title "An Irishman Looks at His World."

Henry James Forman, author of one novel, "The Captain of His Soul," has written a novel of impetuous youth in "Fires of Youth" which Little, Brown & Co. will publish.

The Scribners are bringing forward a new novel by John Hastings Turner, "A Place in the World." Mr. Turner is already known to Canada by his inimitable "Simple Souls" An interesting sidelight on this novel is that he is co-author to half the successful revues running in London today.

E. P. Dutton & Co. announce a new edition of Algernon Blackwood's "John Silence," in which the English author makes some of his most impressive portrayals of that borderland between sense and spirit wherein mystical influences out of the unknown exert their power upon living beings.

Harold Brighouse, the Manchester dramatist, author of "Hobson's Choice," "Garside's Career" and "The Old Man Out," has again taken up fiction writing. A novel from his pen with a Manchester background, entitled "The Marbeck Inn," is announced for early publication by Little Brown & Co.

You remember that anonymous rhyming quipster who labeled Boston "the land of the bean and the cod?" Vachel Lindsay in "The Golden Whales of California," his new volume of jazz jingles, has pinned this caption onto California:

Avoid the Dangers THAT LURK IN IMPURE MILK

No epidemic of disease has ever been traced to PASTEURIZED MILK.

What, then, is the difference between PASTEURIZED MILK and RAW MILK.

Answer: PASTEURIZED MILK has been heated to a temperature of 145 F. and kept at that temperatnre 30 minutes. By this heating process any disease-producing sediment, dirt, or pus, that gets into the Milk, is destroyed and makes the Milk Safe, without destroying any of its nutritive properties.

RAW MILK is just the Unclarified Milk that comes from the cow, with whatever impuritles that may get mixed into it. See the difference?

EVERY DROP OF MILK FROM THE PETERBOROUGH CREAMERY IS BOTH CLARIFIED AND PASTEURIZED BEORE BEING BOTTLED. That's Your Safety. Drink it Slowly.

GUARD AGAINST THE 'FLU

Serious Outbreaks of Influenza all over Canada

GOOD HEALTH IS THE SUREST SAFEGUARD

"FRUIT-A-TIVES" Brings Vigor and Vitality and Thus Protects Against Disease

There can be no doubt that the situation regarding the spread of Influenza throughout Canada is one of grave concern. It is quite true that the number of cases does not constitute an epidemic such as caused the suffering and sorrow during the terrible days of 1918. Yet there is no disguising the fact that everyone should be on their guard against the disease.

In Montreal alone, from January 20th to February 21st, three thousand, one hundred and twenty-two cases of Influenza and 189 deaths from the disease were reported to the Health Department.

If the outbreak had come at the beginning of the winter instead of the end, we might reasonably feel that the very cold weather would check the spread of the disease. But coming as it has, at the end of the winter, there is grave fear that an epidemic may occur. For spring, with its slush and rain under foot, its dampness and chill, its constant changing from cold to warm and back again, is a prolific source of coughs and colds, pleurisy and pneumonia.

Those who are not as well and strong as they should be; those who are underweight; those who are "run-down" through overwork or sickness; should build up at once. What they need is a Blood-purifier, a body-builder, a strength-giver, like "Fruit-a-tives", the wonderful fruit medicine.

"Fruit-a-tives" regulates the kidneys and bowels, causing these organs to eliminate waste regularly and naturally as nature intended. "Fruit-a-tives" keeps the skin active, and insures an abundant supply of pure, rich blood. "Fruit-a-tives" tones up and strengthens the organs of digestion, sharpens the appetite, brings restful sleep and renews the vitality of the nervous system. "Fruit-a-tives" contains everything that an ideal tonic should have; to purify the blood, to build up strength and vigor, and to regulate the eliminating organs, so that the whole system would be in the best possible condition to resist disease.

Now is the time to build up your health and strength, not only as a precaution against the ravages of Influenza, but also to protect you against "spring fever" and the inevitable reaction which comes with the appearance of warmer weather. Get a box of "Fruit-a-tives" today and let this fruit medicine keep you well.

"Fruit-a-tives" is sold by all dealers at 50c a box, 6 boxes for $2.50, trial size 25c, or sent postpaid on receipt of price by Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

Gives Employees Equal Share in All The Profits

National Cash Register Company Announces Division With 7,000 Workers at Dayton.

DAYTON—The National Cash Register Company, employing approximately 7,000 people in its plant here, has announced a plan for equal division of profits with its employes for 1920. Only employes in the Dayton plant of the company will share in the profits.

John H. Patterson, President of the company, announced that the profits will be determined by outside accountants, and that after the net profits have been determined, an amount equal to 6 per cent. interest on the company's investment will be deducted.

The remaining profits, the statement said, will be divided into two equal shares 50 per cent. to the company and 30 per cent. to be divided among the employes.

Profits to be distributed among the employes will be divided into two parts, half to executives and foremen and half to other employes.

The plan, it was announced, will cover the year beginning with Jan. 1. Payments will be made July 1 and Dec. 31. No employe will receive profits unless he has been in the employ of the company for six months.

She Tells Just Why They Are So Popular

MRS. OAKES SPEAKS IN PRAISE OF DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS.

She had severe backache before using Dodd's Kidney Pills but now she says she is quite well again.

HASTINGS, Ont., Mar. 5th—(Special.)—Among the women in this section who are shouting the praises of Dodd's Kidney Pills is Mrs. John Oakes, one of our highly respected residents. Nor does Mrs. Oakes fail to give the reason.

"Before using Dodd's Kidney Pills," she stated "I suffered with severe backaches. Now I am quite well again.

"I am highly pleased with Dodd's Kidney Pills. They have given me the best of satisfaction."

In those last two sentences Mrs. Oakes gives the reason why Dodd's Kidney Pills are so universally popular with the women of Canada. They give satisfaction. Women in all parts of Canada are every day stating that they suffered from kidneys ills and found relief in Dodd's Kidney Pills.

If you haven't used Dodd's Kidney Pills ask your neighbors about them. They have been in use in Canada for more than a quarter of a century and have earned a place in the family medicine chest almost everywhere.

Sugar Situation

Speaking on the sugar situation a wholesale man this morning stated that no one can say what will develop in the next few weeks but that it is not expected that it will go much higher than 18c a pound. It is expected that a severe shortage will result from the present strikes and inadequate shipping facilities. The variation in prices of sugar in the city is due to the foresight on the part of some grocers. The shortage combined with the high prices will result in canned fruit assuming an even higher level.

Molasses is constantly advancing in price.

On account of the huge exports of caned goods to the Old Country canned vegetables are on the upward grade and will probably advance several cents a can for all kinds. Salmon has gone as high as it will go.

Raisins are very scarce and high in price, wholesaling for 25c for the seeded varieties. Currants will not go any higher and are retailing at 24c a pound.

Mustard has grown so scarce that it is anticipated that it will be off the market in a few weeks. Of eighteen cases which were shipped into the province, Peterboro secured one and the supply is becoming exhausted with no hope of replenishing it.

Practically the only household commodity that does not show an inclination to rise is soap.

Romance

Sometimes when I tire of the season's best seller,
Or the verse libre so weird and the realist's rage.
When I long for romance that is wholesome and "meller,"
Beyond the dull dreams of this practical age.
Then I seek the old volume whose thumbed pages fill me
With visions fantastic of obsolete bliss—
Just an old fashioned cook book but how it can thrill me
With recipes, some of them starting like this:
"Take one dozen eggs and a pound of fresh butter, Add one pint of cream and some sugar and spice."
Oh, it quickens my pulse and it makes my heart flutter—
To-day no Romance has a sequel so nice!
I have shuddered with Poe, I have chuckled with Dickens,
I have wept with De Morgan and laughed with Bill Nye;
But this tale of Baked Hams and of smothered Spring Chickens
Brings a lump to my throat and a tear to my eye—
When I turn to the thumbed leaves of the old-fashioned Cook Book
With its reckless Romance of the days long gone by!

Famous Old Recipe for Cough Syrup

Easily and cheaply made at home, but it beats them all for quick results.

Thousands of housewives have found that they can save two-thirds of the money usually spent for cough preparations, by using the well-known old recipe for making cough syrup at home. It is simple and cheap but it has no equal for prompt results. It takes right hold of a cough and gives immediate relief, usually stopping an ordinary cough in 24 hours or less.

Get 2½ ounces of Pinex (50 cents worth) from any druggist, pour it into a 16-oz bottle and add plain granulated sugar syrup to make 16 ounces. If you prefer, use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, it tastes good, keeps perfectly, and lasts a family a long time.

It's truly astonishing how quickly it acts, penetrating through every air passage of the throat and lungs—loosens and raises the phlegm, soothes and heals the membranes, and gradually but surely the annoying throat tickle and dreaded cough disappear entirely. Nothing better for bronchitis, spasmodic croup, hoarseness or bronchial asthma.

Pinex is a special and highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, known the world over for its healing effect on the membranes.

Avoid disappointment by asking your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with full directions and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co., Toronto, Ont.

A SALVAGE CORPS.

The advisability of training a section of the fire department for salvage corps duty and of providing the brigade with sufficient tarpaulins and other equipment to enable them to do efficient work in saving property, was illustrated by the fire in the Bell building this week. City fire departments are developing the salvage work as an imoprtant feature of their duties and in this connection Thursday night's fire in the McKinnon building in Toroto furnished an effective demonstration of what can be accomplished along that line. The fire was in the fourth and fifth storeys of the building and while it was being fought the salvage corps was hard at work on the floors below, covering with tarpaulins anything that would be damaged by water. The result was that the loss was reduced to a minimum. In the blaze in the Bell building here a similar policy would have eliminated much of the damage that was done on the ground floor by the water which flooded down from above. A small section of the brigade could be assigned to this work in fires of this nature with decidedly beneficial results.

IS MAKING GOOD.

One minister selected by Premier Drury for his cabinet who is undoubtedly creating a most favourable impression is Hon. F. C. Biggs, the Minister of Public Works, whose comprehensive good roads policy is being acclaimed on every side, by individuals, associations and by newspapers of all shades of politics. Hon. Mr. Biggs' programme for the improvement of Ontario's highways has been termed by no less an authority than Brigadier-General C. H. Mitchell, Dean of the Faculty of Applied Science and Engineering at Toronto University, as one of the most progressive schemes ever advanced. There has evidently been a painstaking and careful consideration of all parts of the province in Hon Mr. Biggs' plans, for every county is included in the 22 roads designated by him as Provincial trunk lines. Vast progress towards the placing of Ontario's roads in a condition to facilitate transportation and to attract tourists from outside the province is indicated in the programme laid down, which it is estimated will be completed in five years' time. If the work is carried out as carefully and efficiently as it has been planned, the people of Ontario will have every reason to feel gratified to the Minister of Public Works, who has thrown himself into the good roads scheme with an energy and enthusiasm that have been productive of the present advanced policy.

THE FARMERS' POLICY.

The position of the Farmers' party in the House of Commons has been made clear by its leader, Hon. T. A. Crerar, although the admonition of the Speaker to eliminate fiscal discussions prevented possibly a complete exposition of the policy of the Farmers' movement. Hon. Mr. Crerar, however, left no doubt as to what was to be expected from the representatives of the agricultural interests. In the first place they are thoroughly in accord with Hon. MacKenzie King's amendment calling for an immediate general election and will line up with the Liberals in support of the amendment which will be voted upon on Tuesday. The decision is important as revealing the widespread nature of the demand for a dissolution of Parliament, but will not, of course, affect the general result as the government will be able to swing enough followers in line to be on the safe side, though the majority will be materially reduced.

As for the tariff question the Farmers' leader explained that it was not the intention of his party to sweep away the high tariff at once, but they stood for the immediate removal of the tax on agricultural implements of all kinds and on the necessities of life, and for a general revision of the tariff. Furthermore the farmers want the tax on luxuries raised to 50 p.c. of their value and an excise tax placed on luxuries manufactured in Canada.

The tone of Mr. Crerar's speech and the policy he enunciated are evidences that the debate on the Budget when it is presented will be marked by a parliamentary battle of unusual violence in which the government craft will have to be carefully handled if it is not to be completely wrecked.

"GET IN LINE OR GET OUT."

The declaration of Sir James Aikens, K.C., Lieutenant-Governor of Manitoba, and president of the Canadian Bar Association, that people who come preaching foreign forms of government in Canada, should either be silent and conform to Canada's form of government, manners and customs, or get out, is a timely warning that will be applauded by patriotic Canadians everywhere. As Sir James remarked, this Dominion wants none of the doctrines of Central Europe. People of foreign birth, who are admirers of the Soviet form of government, as exemplified in Russia, should be made to understand that Canadians have no objection to their love for such doctrine so long as they show it by going over to the countries where it is in full fruit. That is the place for all who admire the Bolshevik system—where it can be seen and judged at first hand—not in Canada. The course adopted by the United States government in deporting to Russia the self-confessed admirers of the Soviet method, was perfectly logical. These people loved the Bolshevik doctrine and said so on every possible occasion, so Uncle Sam promptly decided to recognize that tender feeling by sending them over where they could have all the Bolshevism they wanted. And there are people in Canada who want to make public testimony of their affection for the new Russian political system, and who profess to believe that the truth has not been told about the manner in which it is functioning; they should be encouarged to go back to Russia where they can both worship at the feet of Trotsky and Lenine and at the same time judge for themselves whether or not all that has been said about the Soviet rule has been correct. At all events loyal Canadians have no desire to hear the doctrines of Central Europe publicly admired in this country.

GREAT BRITAIN'S POSITION.

A reassuring word picture of the condition of Great Britain was given in the course of an address on "Europe After the War," delivered by Francis H. Sisson ,vice-president of the Guaranty Trust Company, New York at the annual dinner of the Dominion Mortgage and Investment Association in Toronto on Thursday night. Mr. Sisson's reference to Great Britain is worth repeating:

"There has never been any doubt in the minds of those who understand British character even superficially, and who are familiar to any extent with British resources, about the capability of Great Britain and the British Empire to pass through the reconstruction period successfully, as they came through the war so gloriously, declared the American financier. It is a great source of satisfaction and of supreme significance, however, that Great Britain is now actually 'turning the corner'—slowly but surely, in true British fashion.

"Great Britain's foreign trade for 1919 was not only the greatest in money values in her history, but was exceeded only slightly by the enormous trade of the United States last year. Figures for January, 1920, showed the continuation of the upward trend, with imports valued at no less than 183,000,000 pounds sterling, and total exports, British and foreign, of $131,000,000 pounds, a grand total of 314,000,000 pounds. British exports during the first month of the current year were, in fact, 125 per cent. greater in value than those for the corresponding month last year. Counting the pound at $3.50 the value of British foreign trade aggregated in January 1,200 million dollars, which compares with 1,204 millions for the foreign trade of the United States during the same month.

"England like the United States, is selling a vast quantity of her goods abroad on credit, and of necessity buying on credit from this country and wherever else she can since her stock of gold is quite inadequate to meet her debts because so many of her creditors are unable to settle in cash. It is contended, however, that the invisible items owing on current trade to Britain now more than counter-balance the visible 'unfavorable' balance of trade, so that current credits equal current debits.

"Among these very important invisible items are earnings from ocean freights and insurance and interest on foreign investments. Great Britain, it should be remembered, still has the largest merchant marine in the world, and London is still the financial centre of the world, while the British remain the leading creditor nation, with more than fifteen billion dollars invested all over the world.

"But the pound Sterling will inevitably remain at a discount in terms of the dollar for some time to come, in all probability until London can once more afford to be a free gold market. At present, steps are being taken to mobilize all possible banking gold in the country into the vaults of the Bank of England, which now holds the precious metal to the value of more than half a billion dollars.

"I have emphasized the importance of Great Britain's foreign trade because it is the best possible evidence of the extent of Great Britain's recovery. It is the barometer of the transition from war to peace production.

"It is encouraging to note also that taindardization scientific management, industrial research, and the elimination of waste are being practised in England as never before; that efficiency is more than ever the keynote of British industry.

THE LABOR DIFFICULTY

A Guelph despatch states that 2000 girls are wanted by the 101 factories in that city who depend upon female labor. It is evident that the same shortage exists elsewhere as is felt by Cobourg industries.

GRAY-DORT Dealers Lead

Most good automobile dealers know motor cars inside and out. They've watched the business from its infancy. They've seen cars come and go. Above all they know motor car values. They have to.

You will find in practically every city and town in Canada, that the leading motor car dealer is a Gray-Dort dealer.

Every motor car dealer knows the reason for this. Every Gray-Dort owner knows the reason. The Gray-Dort offers unequalled value to motor car purchasers.

The $1365 (PLUS WAR TAX) GRAY-DORT is Dominant Value

What other car at anywhere near $1365 offers you these Gray-Dort qualities?

A motor larger and finer than usual for light cars—3½" bore and 5" stroke—built from flawless castings and tough, high-carbon steel—and finely finished. The crankshaft weighs 40 pounds. The radiator is cellular type and the water jackets are extra large. An improved carburetor marks this car, and a better electrical system. Starting and lighting are Westinghouse, as in the most expensive cars.

There's over-strength in the Gray-Dort frame of heavy channel steel; in the husky, Chatham-built rear axle; in the long, cantilever rear springs; in the specially designed, new steering gear; in the big brakes, now lined with Thermoid. The front wheels now have roller bearings. There is a new gas tank—larger, and in the rear.

Convenience of riding and driving is in the Gray-Dort. The steering wheel is of the height and size for tireless driving. The gears can be shifted with two fingers' pressure. The horn, the ignition and light switches, the clutch and brakes, all are placed for greatest ease in driving.

A shorter and smarter cowl now gives more room in the driving compartment. A new Gray-Dort feature has greatly increased the leg-room in the tonneau. Seats are tilted at just the proper angle for comfort. As in cars costing $2000 and upwards, the Gray-Dort now has side-curtains opening with the doors.

CLEAN-CUT GOOD-LOOKS

The Gray-Dort is not startlingly extreme, the Gray-Dort is a car of quiet beauty—smooth lines and perfect proportions. The smart, new top is hand-tailored in our own shops. The new hood, with its many long, narrow louvres lends just a touch of European style. French pleated upholstery, too.

Unquestionably there will be a shortage of these cars at $1365. You had better see the Gray-Dort dealer now.

PRICES

The Gray-Dort 5-passenger car, finished in Gray-Dort green and black and with standard equipment is $1365 f.o.b. Chatham. War tax extra.

The roomy 2-passenger roadster is the same price.

THE GRAY-DORT SPECIAL

For the man who wishes something a little extra in his car, we have built the Gray-Dort Special. Maroon body, with brown rayntite top. Plate glass rear window. Gipsy curtains. Rookie tan wheels. Motometer. Tilting steering wheel. Real leather upholstery. Mahogany instrument board. Just the touches which lift this car above the ordinary. $150 extra on the standard.

AND THE ACE!

The Gray-Dort Ace—the most beautiful light car of to-day. Sapper green body with handsome California top to match.

Trouble lamp and bull's-eye flashlight. Electric cigar lighter. Rear-vision mirror. Plate glass windows. Oversize, grooved-tread tires. This is the de luxe car for the man who does not wish to pile up a tremendous operating cost. $255 extra on the standard.

SANDRA THE JEALOUS

BY JANE PHELPS

THE DETECTIVE IS TOLD OF THE RAILROAD TICKET

CHAPTER LXV

While the doctor was examining the butler, Mrs. Gray went upstairs with the officer. They pounded on her door, the noise of the officer's stick reverberating thru the house. Then I heard the sound of splintering wood, and knew they had broken in the door.

All was quiet for a time. I was so nervous I could scarcely stay where I was. Finally they the officer and Mrs. Gray ,came down.

"He's gone!" the officer announced laconically. "Now we'll see what he's carried off with him."

"He's all right now," the doctor said. "He will not need me any longer to-night. I'll drop in in the morning." The butler was resting quietly in Everett's bed after the bullet in his shoulder had been extracted. It struck me as so comical, I laughed almost hysterically, then sobered as I followed the officer and Mrs. Gray to my room to see what the burglar had "lifted" as he facetiously remarked—altho I could see nothing funny in the idea of having my belongings stolen.

When we switched on the lights in my room, it was evident it had been hurriedly ransacked. I had given the burglar his opportunity when I fled to Mrs. Gray with Hetty. Bureau and dressing table drawers were pulled out and their contents scattered over the floor. Every bit of jewelry save that which was in the safe in the library was gone. The sapphires which I had taken from my bag and left on the dressing table were missing, as well as other things. My purse, a handsome gold one Everett had given me, was gone. It held what money I had, my ticket to New York which I had not thought to redeem, and some toilet articles.

"You made it mighty easy for him," the officer said dryly when I told him of the ticket. "It ain't every crook who gets his getaway with his swag."

Nothing was missing save from my room. Finally the officer left, and we were again a normal household. But none of us thought of sleeping. It was about 2 o'clock, so Mrs. Gray proposed we go into the dining room and that Hetty should find us something to eat. Cook evidently had heard nothing, and Mrs. Gray said it would be foolish to call her. She slept in the same part of the house as did the butler, and so was ignorant of all that had happened—as he would perhaps have been had he remained at home as he was expected to in Everett's absence.

We had milk and some sandwiches, then Hetty went to my room with me. After insisting that I go to bed again, she laid down on the divan. I would not have remained alone for anything in the world.

I forgot to mention that the burglar had taken the sheets from Mrs. Gray's bed and made a rope of them down which he had slid to the extension in which the butler and cook slept, from where it was easy to drop to the [illegible].

"What has happened, Hetty?" I asked, rubbing my eyes. I [illegible] the [illegible] sun was streaming in my bed with no breakfast in sight. Was [illegible] done? I [illegible] with him.

"The burglar, ma'am—and the [illegible]

"Tell it was true," as it [illegible] slowly dawn to me.

"Indeed it was, ma'am! Such an awful night!"

"How is James?"

"Fine, ma'am. He'll be about in no time—a week or two."

Before I ate my breakfast I looked thru my things to assure myself of what was missing, and found nothing more gone than we had discovered the night before.

"Do you suppose they will find the burglar," I asked Hetty. I was totally ignorant of burglars, but thought Hetty might inform me.

"No, them police ain't no good," she sniffed, and I recalled that she had been engaged to a policeman and he had jilted her and married another girl. She might be biased in her opinion.

"Mr. Graham is going to be awfully put out," she replied with the freedom I had made easy for her. "He won't have no butler nor no chauffeur. And he thinks a heap of James and Thomas."

I made no reply. But as I drank my coffee and munched my toast, I wondered if Everett would blame me for all that had happened—if he would say that had I remained at home and studied or practised, Thomas would not have been hurt; and that had he been at home perhaps he could have helped James catch the burglar. Then I wondered what Leola would have done under the circumstances, and if he, Everett, would have blamed her no matter who had been shot, or what had happened?

To-morrow—Sandra is Frightened.

Stephenson's First Locomotive.

The first locomotive was completed and put into operation in 1814 by George Stephenson, who was born in Wylam, England, June 9, 1781. He was engineer at a colliery when he invented a traveling engine to draw wagons along a tramway. Stephenson's first locomotive attained a speed of six miles an hour. Improvement after improvement was made, not only in the locomotive, but in the rails, and in 1822 Stephenson opened the first railway, which was eight miles in length. In 1829 his locomotive, the Rocket, reached a speed of thirty-five miles an hour, winning the prize of $2,500 offered by the Liverpool and Manchester railway company. The entire system of railway locomotion, with stations, signals, tenders and carriages, was completed with the inauguration of the Liverpool and Manchester line in 1830. Stephenson was largely instrumental in establishing all the English and foreign lines during the first period of railroading. He died in 1848.

Saved by Ready Wit.

The late Emperor Alexander of Russia tried hard to put a stop to alcoholism in his army, especially among his officers. Whenever a case of inebriety came to his notice he ordered summary punishment of the offender.

One evening an officer of the guards decidedly the worse for liquor was driving home in an open droshky. Suddenly, to his utter terror, he saw the czar in his open carriage coming from the opposite direction. Motioning the officer's driver to stop and stopping his own carriage, the emperor exclaimed in an angry tone:

"Major X., what are you doing here?"

Pulling himself together, partly sobered by the czar's presence, the officer stood up, saluted and replied, with shaky voice:

This presence of mind and ready wit pleased the emperor so much that he pardoned the officer there and then.—London Strand.

Moods of Musicians.

Before the moods of genius the world must ever bow in awe, for is it not to the wayward wanderings from the normal that inspiration itself is due? says a writer in the London Lady. The gloomy moods of Beethoven are traditional, but every time they enwrapped his spirit there flowed from his pen the most noble of scores. Turning to Schubert, we find that it was in the gay moods of the German inn that his genius worked. Under their sway the "Serenade" and many other immortal themes were penned on a tavern table, tiny scraps of paper being used that came to hand. Paganini was so wholly the victim of moods that it was no unusual thing for an audience to wait in vain for his contribution to a concert program. When due to appear some fantasy of the moment would impel him to remain in his poverty stricken room, grimly toying with the instrument which should have been moving his hearers to tears.

SOMETHING ABOUT MILK

Mysteries and Marvels in Its Production and Life.

How Milk Is Secreted—Thunder Does Not Sour Milk, But Bacteria Does the Business—Agalactia, or Absence of Milk, Occurs More Frequently With Cows Than In the Females of Other Live Stock.

(Contributed by Ontario Department of Agriculture, Toronto.)

A CONDITION known as "agalactia," or absence of milk in the mammae at the time of parturition, probably occurs more frequently in cows than in females of other classes of stock. It may occur in a female in any condition as regards general health, general care and surroundings. The causes, or conditions to which it is due, are not well understood. It occurs even though pregnancy has been apparently normal and has reached full term. It is probably more frequently seen in females which have not bred for a long time, or in those which have produced their first young, though themselves aged. While it may occur in an animal under any conditions, there are conditions that appear to predispose an animal to the trouble. In such cases there appears to be a want of development in the lacteal apparatus, which may have been caused by previous or present chronic disease of the udder, a chronic lessening in bulk, called "atrophy" of the udder, exhaustion following disease, severe labor, insufficient food, either during or immediately after pregnancy, natural debility, emaciation, etc.

The mammae is usually small and soft, and attempts to milk produce only a few drops of a yellowish fluid, in some cases followed by a few drops of a whitish, watery fluid. Treatment is frequently unsuccessful. It consists in feeding liberally on easily digested milk-producing food, massaging the udder frequently and stripping the teats three or four times daily. Great attention should be paid to the digestive organs in order to keep them as normal as possible, and the patient should be kept so that she will take considerable exercise. The writer's experience has been that the administration of drugs is non-effective.

In many cases the gland becomes perfectly inactive, and remains so until after the next parturition, when, in most cases, it becomes normal.—J. H. R., O. A. College, Guelph.

How Milk is Secreted.

No one knows exactly how the cow secretes milk. Various theories have been put forth explaining the process, but none of these are entirely satisfactory. About all we know is that milk is a true secretion of the mammary glands located in that is known as the udder, more commonly called the "bag" of the cow. It is made from blood.

In order that the cow may have plenty of blood, out of which she may manufacture milk. She must be in a healthy condition, be supplied with plenty of pure air, and water, and have an abundance of the right kind of feed.

Some cows are unable to make milk abundantly even though the owner does all he can be expected to do for his cows. In these cases, it is the fault of the cows—they have not the power within themselves of making milk from their feed. They seem to change their feed into blood which is used as a basis for manufacturing beef, instead of milk. In addition, there are cows which apparently do little or nothing with their feed—they neither give milk in paying quantity, nor do they become fat. These are classed as "boarder" cows, and are very unprofitable for a farmer to keep.

The only way to know for certain whether or not a cow is able to secrete milk in paying quantity, is to weigh the milk from each cow for at least three days in each month. Also test the milk for fat at least twice during each lactation period. In this way, the owner may select the good from the poor cows, and thus build up a profitable herd for dairy purposes.—Prof. H. H. Dean, Ontario Agricultural College, Guelph.

Why Milk Sours.

It is a common impression that thunder sours milk, but this is not so.

The reason that milk sours is that minute plants, known as bacteria, act on the sugar in milk, changing it into lactic or milk acid. One scientist, however, says this explanation is not satisfactory. He regards the souring of milk as a result of feeding on milk sugar by the lactic acid germs, leaving behind them what is known as sour milk.

No matter what the true explanation may be in detail, we believe that souring of milk is caused in some way by "germs" or bacteria which are microscopic plants that fall into milk from the air, and get in from many other places.

Like all plants, they must have air, suitable temperature, and moisture, in order to grow. The common plan of preventing the milk going sour is to cool it to 50 deg. F. as soon as possible after milking and keep it cold until it is used. The reason for this is, the cold makes an unfavorable condition for these plants to grow, hence the milk remains sweet, though sometimes it takes on bad flavors, or develops disease producing germs. In order to prevent this, we "pasteurize" milk in order to kill the germs present, by means of heat. If it is cooled and kept cold after heating, the milk will keep sweet for some time and is free from disease germs. This is known as the safest kind of milk to use. "Safety First" is a good rule when buying milk.—Prof. H. H. Dean, O. A. College, Guelph.

EDDY'S WASHTUBS
of Indurated Fibreware

Are far better than old-style wooden or galvanized tubs. Yet they cost no more. They cannot leak, because they are made all in one piece, without seams or cracks or staves.

So light and easy to carry, yet so strong, they never become dented or battered. They do not absorb heat, therefore, the contents remain hot longer.

Eddy's Twin Beaver Washboards are also of Indurated Fibreware—no metal—doubleended. Save time by the special crimp which loosens dirt easily without wear on the clothes.

because it effects the greatest economy.

Egg-O also helps save fuel because it does not require so hot an oven as is required by other powders.

Always follow the directions—one level teaspoonful to one level cup of well sifted flour. You use from a quarter to a half less powder when you use Egg-O.

When buying Egg-O the larger tins are the most economical size for family use.

PETERBORO AND TORONTO BUSINESS MEN ETC.,

the lumber business, he could not remain idle, so secured all the said Kelly Lumber Co. timber limits north of Bridgenorth, together with the saw mill and mill site at Lakefield. It is expected that the guiding spirit in the new company will be Mr. Duignan, who is so eminently fitted by experience and association in the lumber business to handle a proposition of such magnitude.

It is the intention of the company, after getting their mills ready, to commence in September the winter operations, getting out saw logs, etc., which will involve the expenditure of from $125,000 to $150,000 for their sawing operations in 1921. Peterborough, taking the duties of sales manager.

Following the death of Mr. McDonald, in 1906, Messrs E. A. Peck and J. Crane and J. Duignan became trustees of the estate, with Mr. Duignan as manager. This position was held until Mr. McDonald's youngest son became of age, last June, and the business of the estate was closed up and handed over to the beneficiaries. As a result of the management and in the face of the keenest competition and the demoralizing effects of the war on the building trade, the volume of business was more than doubled and the value of the assets trebled, placing the new firm, the A. McDonald Lumber Co., in very prosperous condition.

Secured Limits.

Mr. Duignan was offered but declined the management of the new A. McDonald Company. But, having been all his life actively engaged in

MARCH WEATHER DANGEROUS TO BABY

Our Canadian March weather—one day bright, but sloppy, the next blustery and cold—is extremely hard on children. Conditions make it necessary for the mothers to keep the little ones indoors. They are often confined to overheated, badly ventilated rooms and catch colds which rack their whole system. To guard against these colds and to keep the baby well till the better, brighter days come along, a box of Baby's Own Tablets should be kept in the house and an occasional dose given the baby to keep his stomach and bowels working regularly. The Tablets are a mild but thorough laxative which never fail to regulate the stomach and bowels and thus they relieve colds and simple fevers and keep the baby fit. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

SHARP DECLINE IN TORONTO EGG PRICE

Special to the Examiner:

TORONTO, March 6.—Shoppers at the St. Lawrence Market received a pleasant surprise this morning when a drop in the price of new laid eggs was recognized. The price in the morning ranged from 75c a dozen to 85c, as compared with $1.00 and 90c last week. Indeed, one farmer selling new laid eggs at 75c a dozen, impressed upon a buyer that they had only been in the market 15 minutes, and naturally must be at their best. Butter prices varied this morning. One man with a sign reading "United Farmers' Association," tacked above his stand, sold dairy butter for 62c a lb. and creamery for 72c, while another was selling creamery for 68c and still another for 64c. Sixty-two cents was the general price for dairy butter.

REV. W. E. MILLSON AT GEORGE ST. CHURCH

WILL ASSIST IN TWO WEEKS' EVANGELISTIC SERVICES.

Special evangelistic services will be held at George street Methodist church during the coming two weeks. These have been in progress for the past week in charge of the pastor, Rev. A. J. Thomas. They have been largely attended, splendid interest being evinced.

Beginning to-morrow the Rev. Walter F. Millson, preacher and singer, of London, Ont., will assist in these services. Rev. Mr. Millson is one of the field secretaries of the Methodist church and is well known for his evangelistic ability and zeal. These meetings are open to everyone, and it is hoped that many will avail themselves of the opportunity of hearing Mr. Millson as often as possible. Their aim is the deepening of the spiritual life of the community. Services will be held every night except Saturday beginning at 7.45 p.m. A chorus choir will also be in attendance each evening.

Services will be held to-morrow as usual at 11 a.m. and 7 p.m. Rev. A. J. Thomas will preach at the morning service, taking as his theme "A question which divided a multitude." Rev. W. E. Millson will preach at the evening service on the subject, "God's plan and our Response." A cordial invitation is extended to strangers and visitors.

PUBLIC OPPOSITION TO LLOYD GEORGE

(Special to the Examiner)

Lloyd George, despite his eloquent explanations of the decision to allow the Sultan to remain in Constantinople, was said to face a power ul parliamentary and public opposition to the council's decisions and to what Liberals characterized as the allies "bartering tactics". Diplomats evinced the greatest interest in the effect the completed treaty will have upon America an, President Wilson.

Piles and Constipation Cured—Says Internal Bathing Saved Her Life.

If the thousands of men and women with constipation and the many ills which follow would bathe internally instead of continually dosing themselves with drugs, they would soon realize why every user of the J.B.L. Cascade is so enthusiastic in its praise. There should be one in every home. Keep the colon clean and free from poisonous waste and you will not need the doctor.

Mrs. Robert Gordon, 422 Cadillac St., Montreal, Que., writes: "I cannot speak too highly of the J.B.L. Cascade. It has saved my life. I have been troubled with constipation piles and ulceration of the bowels for years, have only been using the Cascade for three months, and am happy to be doing my own housework again after having been laid up for many months. I would not take one hundred dollars for my Cascade if I could not procure another."

The J.B.L. Cascade is the only perfect appliance for Internal Bathing, the invention of Dr. Chas. A. Tyrrell, of New York, and is doing more towards improving the health and efficiency standard of the nation than all other means combined.

This appliance is shown and explained by Warne Drug Co.

MUNICIPAL NOTES

The suggestion that the Council undertake a scheme for the planting of trees throughout the city would probably receive scant attention in this year's clamorous necessities. The idea has been proposed from time to time, and the opportunity of making a beginning is now before Ald. Gainey's parks committee. Great oaks spring from tiny acorns and shady streets from single trees. If only one were planted this year it would be a precedent for other Councils, and there are miles of streets that are almost bare of shade. The cost of a small initial effort would be negligible but the effect would be accumulative from year to year.

Brockville's tax rate for 1920 is 37 mills.

A motor extension tower for the Fire Department was regarded as a luxury when mentioned several years ago, but the Hunter street fire this week could have been more easily and expeditiously attacked with such an apparatus.

St. Catherines has requested the Provincial Cabinet to increase the municipal rate of assessment for general purposes from 25 mills to 30 mills. Premier Drury told a recent deputation from that city that he and the Ministers would require some time to consider their petition. Under the Municipal Act the rate for general purposes, covering the expenditures directly controlled by Council, and excluding school purposes and local improvements, shall not exceed 25 mills.—City Treasurer Adams informed the Examiner that Peterboro's general rate this year amounts to 22.14 mills. Brantford has cut down its total rate from 44 to 30 mills and declines to support the St. Catherines idea.

There have been some intimations that the sewage disposal plant may be built by day labour instead of by contract. This is one of Labour's municipal planks and would probably be favoured by the Labour members. If this scheme materializes, City Engineer Parsons would probably have charge of the work. He has prepared the plans, and will make the borings on the Wilson property, has made a special study of the subject of sewage disposal, and would probably be willing to assume the responsibility of the construction if the Council departs from the contract system.

Mayor McBride of Brantford has announced that only the plans so far approved for the building of houses under the Ontario Housing Act will be executed this year. No further assistance, he stated, need be expected from the Provincial or Dominion Governments, and the municipality was unable to carry on alone.

Footwear! Rich With the Freshness Of Spring, Rich in Style and Rich In Quality

We have obeyed the mandates of fashion for the season of Spring in the realm of Footwear. But Fashion with her insistent demands and many whims has not overbalanced our judgement. We have lent an attentive ear to the whispering of Reason and Common Sense. The result is handsome pumps, Oxfords and boots that are in accord with comfort and durability.

We not only sell but we fit shoes.
We stand behind every pair we sell.

An ideal boot for walking, is of African Brown Calfskin and has a long receding toe, a Cuban heel and a ten inch top. The toe cap is defined by a tiny row of stitching. This Boot is simplicity itself, and is made in Canada by our best manufacturer. The price is $16.50. The same in black kid.

Twelve Distinctly Different Styles of Pumps from which to Make a Selection.

Maple grey or field mouse is an innovation in the way of color for footwear. In pumps we have this charming shade supplemented by a charming last. The vamp is long and slender, and the heel is a leather covered, wooden, Louis pattern and the Louise finish is a pretty embellishment. The price is $14.50.

A Fine Black Kid with an unusually long vamp and Louis heel is very attractive and moderately priced at $10.00.

Then there are others of black kid and patent that differ greatly in shape, and among the patent and plain kid models you will find the greatly admired and much worn baby Louis heel. It is priced at $11.00 in the patent and $11.50 in the kid.

Oxfords in No Less Than Seven Different New Spring Models

A model of black kid is very dressy with its long vamp and leather Louis heels. The price is $11.50.

Another of black kid is less expensive but is slightly inferior in quality to the above. Like the above the heel is a leather Louis. The price is $10.50.

If you require something quite different this patent Oxford will recommend itself. It has a plain toe, a long narrow vamp and a high Louis heel. The soles are Goodyear welted. Price $10.00.

Brown Brogue Oxfords appeal to many and our typical English model is quite popular. It is priced at $12. A semi-brogue, also in brown, has a pointed toe and is priced at $12.00.

The Dress Goods and Silk Dept. is an Interesting Place These Days

Because of the constant arrival of New Merchandise

For a Tailored Blouse or a Man's Shirt

You will find this English Cloth Levisca, quite useful. It is a silk and cotton mixture with just enough cotton in it to make it give long service. The grounds are white and the patterns stripes in the following colors: Gray, black, blue and rose. The stripes are about 1-8 of an inch wide and the material itself is 40 inches wide. The price is $2.50 yard.

SHANTUNGS FOR THE SAME PURPOSES in the natural color, can be had with Pekin blue stripes, both narrow and wide The width of the material is 36 inches and the price is $2.50.

The Highly Popular Tricollette in Navy & Black

For the skirt blouse or dress it is to be greatly used this season. Its good wearing qualities make it popular with some and its suitability to the prevailing mode gives it prestige with others. This quality that we offer at $7.00 is an excellent material.

Some Dress Trimmings Have Just Reached Us

A nice close fringe of Chenille in Copenhagen and another in rose. It has other uses besides dress trimmings. It is in demand for lamp shades. The price is $2.75 yard.

A narrow gold guimpe can also be used for either purposes. They are priced from 20c to 50c yard.

Silk Cord Dress Girdles will be much in demand for the Spring season. You have choice of brown, taupe or black. Some are finished with fringed tassels and others with balls. They are priced at $2.75.

HURLBURT OR MACFARLANE WELTS FOR CHILDREN.

PRESENTATION TO MR. AND MRS. ELLIOTT

FAMILY IS MOVING TO DUMMER TOWNSHIP---THE ADDRESS

On Tuesday evening last about 50 friends and neighbors gathered to spend a social evening at the home of Mr. Joseph Elliott, 1st Concession of Smith Township, a highly respected resident who has always lived in the community, and is now moving to Dummer where he has bought the farm of Mr. Dewart.

During the evening the following address was read by Miss Medda E. Swinton:

THE ADDRESS.

Mr. and Mrs. Elliott and family.

Dear Friends: Having realized that the time for your departure from among us is close at hand, we, a few of your friends and neighbors have gathered to say farewell. You have spent many years in this neighborhood, and we have always found you true friends, ever ready to lend a helping hand where it was most needed. In our school, both day and Sunday school your children will be greatly missed and we would urge them in their new home to continue to be diligent in their pursuit of education, both secular and religious.

We can assure you that you carry with you our very best wishes for your future happinessand prosperity.

We ask you to accept these chairs as a slight token of our esteem and our prayer is that you may be long spared to enjoy their comfort.

Signed on behalf of your Lily Lake friends.

Fred L. Campbell,
Albert Mills.
J. A. Middleton.

Lily Lake, Ontario,
2nd March, 1920.

While Mr. Fred L. Campbell and Mr. J. A. Middleton presented a lovely pair of rocking chairs to Mr. and Mrs. Elliott, who made suitable replies. Impromptu speeches were then made by Mr. P. D. Young, Mr. C. J. Hancock, Mr. A. W. Ackison and others, expressing their regret at losing a good friend and neighbor.

Refreshments were then served by the ladies after which music and cards were enjoyed till the evening was brought to a close by the singing of Auld Lang Syne, God be with you till we meet again, and God Save the King.

FOOD EXPORTS ARE FALLING

For January They Were $103,000,000, Against $158,000,000 Last Year

WASHINGTON — Exports of foodstuffs during January decreased as compared with the same month of last year, according to figures made public by the Department of Commerce, but in the seven month period ended Jan. 31, 1920, shipments of breadstuffs and meat and dairy products were $94,000,000 more than in 1919.

In January American exporters sent out of the country $103,000,000 worth of foodstuffs, as compared with $158,000,000 last January. The outward movement of canned beef, bacon and hams showed material decreases, while lard, pork and milk shipments increased.

PARK STREET BAPTIST CHURCH

Mr. Louis Joffe, who has been rendering such splendid service in many of the churches of Peterborough, will speak in Park street Baptist church to-morrow at 11 a.m. The subject of his address will be "Jewish Prophecy and History," exposition of the 11th Chapter of Romans. This will give an opportunity to all those who have not heard him and those who have heard him with profit to hear him again.

The evening service will be of special interest. Rev. William Kettlewell, of Toronto, will preach at 7 p. m. Do no fail to be at both of these services.

FEEBLE OLD PEOPLE

Need the Blood-Building, Strength-Creating Elements of Vinol

We Guarantee it to Rebuild Wasting Tissues and Replace Weakness With Strength

As we grow old the blood gets thin, the circulation sluggish, digestion weak, the organs act more slowly and less effectually than in youth, the waste of the system becomes more rapid than repair, and the result is a feeble, weakened condition.

VINOL is the ideal strengthener and body builder for old folks, for it contains the very elements needed to enrich the blood, quicken the circulation, rebuild wasting tissues and replace weakness with strength. And as a result the system is fortified against colds and pneumonia.

One old lady recently wrote: "I am 78 years of age and my husband is 79, and we owe our good health to VINOL, as we have proved it to be the greatest strength creator and invigorator known, we are strong and well, but I often say I do not believe we would now be alive if it were not for VINOL."

If you are feeble and weak, why not try VINOL on your druggist's guarantee.

We have already given away $5.000 FREE. $200.00 more IN CASH and numbers of Merchandise Prizes will be GIVEN AWAY at an Early date.

1st Prize, $50.00 in Cash. 2nd Prize, $40.00 in Cash
3rd Prize, $35.00 in Cash. 4th Prize, $25.00 in Cash
5th to 9th Prizes—Each $10.00 in Cash.

TOGETHER WITH MANY MERCHANDISE PRIZES

Herewith will be found the picture of a Log Hut in the Woods. At first glance all you see is a man, a woman and a dog. If you look closely the faces of 8 other persons will be found. Can you find them? It is no easy task but by patience and endurance can be accomplished.

You may win a cash prize by doing so. Many have done this as will be shown by the names and addresses which we will send you. If you find the faces mark each one with an X, cut out the picture and send it to us, together with a slip of paper on which you have written the words "I have found all the faces and marked them." Write these nine words plainly and neatly, as in case of ties, both writing and neatness are considered factors in this contest.

This may take up a little of your time but as TWO HUNDRED DOLLARS in cash and many merchandise prizes are given away, it is worth your time to take a little trouble over this matter. Remember all you have to do is to mark the faces, cut out the picture and write on a separate piece of paper the words, "I have found all the faces and marked them."

WE DO NOT ASK YOU TO SPEND ONE CENT OF YOUR MONEY IN ORDER TO ENTER THIS CONTEST

Send your answer at once; we will reply by Return Mail telling you whether your answer is correct or not, and we will send you a complete Prize List, together with the names and addresses of persons who have recently received over Five Thousand Dollars in Cash Prizes from us, and full particulars of a simple condition that must be fulfilled. (This condition does not involve the spending of any of your money.)

Although these persons are entirely unknown to us, they are our references. An enquiry from any one of them will bring the information that our contests are carried out with the utmost fairness and integrity.

Winners of cash prizes in our late competitions will not be allowed to enter this Contest.

This Competition will be judged by two well known business men of undoubted integrity, who have no connection with this Company, whose decisions must be accepted as final.

Your opportunity to win a good round sum is equally as good as that of anyone else as all previous winners of cash prizes are debarred from entering this contest.

TO MY FRIENDS

We are getting acquainted with each other now are we not, and I believe you have confidence in me and in what I tell you. This is why I have refrained from telling you about our most wonderful Remedy until now, as, had I told you about it at first, you would not have believed me. I confess it reads like a fairy story or a patent medicine advertisement, but, nevertheless, this is every whit true. Listen to what I know Gallagher's Golden Drops to have done.

A young lady got an infection in her finger, a doctor opened it, used iodine and antiphlogestine for a month before getting it under control. Later a sister got an infection from the prick of a rusty tack, started with the same treatment, but the finger began to curl up with the inflammation, when she began the use of Gallagher's Golden Drops and in two days it was alright. In another family a doctor treated a young man's finger for a month for an infection, while a sister later cured hers in two days with Golden Drops, each equally advanced at the start. A friend with a ringworm had tried all kinds of salves for a year without result and took it off completely in two weeks with a plaster of Golden Drops. I know of different ones who tried all kinds of corn cures without satisfactory results and removed them easily and painlessly with a plaster of Golden Drops. It will kill boils or carbuncles in 24 hours after being opened up. These are only some of the things it has done. More later.

This Remedy is composed of resinous gums and oils, will kill poison, draw out inflammation and will heal any place where antiphlogistme may be used. I garantee this to be 90 p.c. more efficient. To use it, first cleanse the part with boracic acid solution or peroxide, place some absorbent cotton between two layers of sterilized gauze or cotton, spread the gum on one side and apply when it will adhere firmly. Cut out these directions and try it.

Yours Friend, Jack Speill.

Stockings which are stained from the inside leather of a shoe can be cleaned if one teaspoonful of borax is put in the water in which they are washed.

The bacon rinds are good either baked with beans, boiled with cabbage, or they can be put into the oven and the finest kind of drippings will be toasted out of them.

Not one crumb of bread should be thrown away. Stale bread can be used for bread pudding, hotcakes, brown Betty, croutons, bread crumbs, and many other things.

Doctors Give Up His Case of Eczema

Wonderful recovery of a very sick man

This is one of the many striking stories we are publishing of what the D. D. D. prescription is accomplishing among Canadian sufferers. Cases from your own neighborhood will be sent on application.

"I was laid up all winter with weeping eczema. I tried every doctor in reach. Both hands, arms and legs to my knees were a sight. I have used several bottles of D. D. D. and am well of the terrible disease. D. D. D. is certainly cheap after the doctors."—Peter Mercer, Ft. Burwell, Ont.

The first drop of D. D. D. and the itch is gone. Your money back if the first bottle does not relieve you. $1.00 a bottle. Try D. D. D Soap, too.

SAYS ACID STOMACH CAUSES INDIGESTION

Excess of hydrochloric acid sours the food and forms gases.

Undigested food delayed in the stomach decays, or rather, ferments the same as food left in the open air says a noted authority. He also tells us that Indigestion is caused by Hyper-acidity meaning, there is an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach which prevents complete digestion and starts food fermentation. Thus everything eaten sours in the stomach much like garbage sours in a can, forming acrid fluids and gases which inflate the stomach like a toy balloon. Then we feel a heavy, lumpy misery in the chest, we belch up gas, we eructate sour food or have heartburn, flatulence, water-brash or, nausea.

He tells us to lay aside all digestive aids and instead, get from any pharmacy four ounces of Jad Salts and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast and drink while it is effervescing and furthermore, to continue this for a week. While relief follows the first dose, it is important to neutralize the acidity, remove the gas-making mass, start the liver, stimulate the kidneys and thus promote a free flow of pure digestive juices.

Jads Salts is inexpensive and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and sodium phosphate This harmless salts is used by thousands of people for stomach trouble with excellent results.

HIGH COST OF MATERIALS STOPS HOUSING SCHEME

Winnipeg Has Two Alternatives to Prevent Plans "Going on Rocks."

WINNIPEG, MARCH 5.—Two suggestions for saving from abolition the Winipeg civic housing scheme are to be made by the City Health Department. One is that the Housing Commission construct semi-modern, two-storey dwellings of brick or wood, each containing four rooms and a bathroom. The dwellings would have no basements or furnaces but would be heated by stoves and would have plumbing and sewer connections. They could be built within the maximum figure allowed by the Dominion Government's Loan Act.

The other suggestion is that Winnipeg emulate Manchester, England, where the building trades united and offered to build 20,000 dwellings with funds supplied by the Government, city and outside interests. The Manchester City Council accepted the offer.

Unless some workable plan is devised, Winnipeg's housing scheme is on the rocks, because advances in the prices of building materials render it impossible to build houses for the maximum sums the Government allows to be loaned.

CARUSO IN FAMILIAR SONG

Millions of people know Caruso as an artist and man of the world. They think of him in the rich costume of the opera stage and the evening dress and the concert hall. But he is equally at his best singing a simple Italian song such as Vieni sul mar (Over the Sea), in the Victor Red Seal Records, price $1.25, purchasable in the Victrola Parlours of Ye Olde Firme of Heintzman & Co., Limited, George and Hunter street, Peterboro, Ont.

SONG SERVICE AT ST. ANDREW'S CHURCH

Rev. Benjamin Spence of the Dominion Alliance, will preach at St. Andrew's at the morning service. Mr. Spence is in a position to give first hand information on the temperance situation in Canada.

The evening service will be one largely of song. A full choir, under the leadership of Mr. John Crane, will lead the service of praise. The soloists being Miss Lilian Eastwood, Mr. Chas. Clark and Mr. Douglas Carlisle. Strangers and visitors will be cordially welcomed.

NO DAYLIGHT SAVING

Any Municipality However May Enact Local Bylaw.

OTTAWA, March 4. — Canadian railways are not expected to adopt daylight services this year. International operation of the roads has always been the governing factor. When the United States adopted the system Canada followed suit but even when the Canadian Act won out and the Commons refused its re-enactment, the railways last year sustained by the Railway Commission, adhered to the system on the ground that safety as well as convenience required the railways of the two countries to be operated on the same time schedule.

Now, the United States Act has expired and it is presumed that the roads over there will run on standard time. The same reasons for similarity on the Canadian system will operate.

There is no federal or provincial daylight saving law but any municipality is free to enact a local by-law as many have already done, and others intend doing.

GOTHAM SWEPT BY ANOTHER STORM

Special to the Examiner.

NEW YORK, March 6. — The storm king paid another unwelcome visit to the city to-day just as it was commencing to recover from the effects of the five million blizzard of a month ago and within 12 hours the metropolis was struggling with pelting rain, driving sleet storm and biting snow squalls.

As the temperature dropped steadily during the night, the wind increased in velocity until during the early morning hours it had reached an unofficial velocity of 60 miles an hour, which boded ill for shipping off the coast.

Both rail and water transportation was seriously disrupted.

Well-Known Lumberman Denies Report That United States Buyers Given Precedent.

Canadian Press:

NELSON, B.C., March 6.—Denying that British Columbia lumber manufacturers are in any way favouring United States buyers over Canadian ones, and characterizing as absurd the prairie allegation that United States mills are holding back their own product to boost prices and buying up the available Canadian supply, I. R. Poole, secretary of the Mountain Lumber Manufacturers' Association, stated that recent despatches from Ottawa and Winnipeg suggesting the possibility of a lumber embargo to prevent further lumber exports to the United States were misleading.

FIRE HALL TEAM WON

Last night in a game that was far from clean and was marked only by the stone age tactic employed interspersed with frequent bursts of speed and good hockey the Fire Hall aggregation defeated the Y.M.C.A. 3 to 0. The Y boys put up a lively battle all the way but could not stand up against the rough-house stuff favoured by the opposite six. Bergoine in the nets starred for the Y while McDougal was perhaps the most useful Fire Hall player.

MR. HARPER'S ADDRESS ON "SOUL AFTER DEATH"

Last evening in Gospel Hall the Evangelist, Mr. Harper gave an interesting discourse on the state of the soul of the believer after death. This subject said the speaker is one about which there is much discussion. In some quarters there is a belief that when a man dies he remains in the grave, in other words he dies like an animal. But in consulting the Word of God we find that no hint is given as to that view of things. Very little truth on this subject is seen in the Old Testament. The Lord Jesus we read, brought life and immortality to light through the Gospel. It had already existed but the Gospel brought the truth to light. Before the work of the cross of Calvary, Satan had a mortgage on the human race but the work of the Lord Jesus annulled the power of Satan. On the cross Christ tasted death for every man. The sinner who trusts Christ may be called to pass through the shadow of death but the Lord Himself bore the substance. It was pointed out that the soul lives on forever. Paul exclaimed "Having a desire to depart and to be with Christ which is far better." Phil.—1:21. From this and other scriptures it was proven that while the body went to the grave the soul of the believer went to be with Christ. The full results of the work of Christ is not seen however until He returns to complete His work at His second advent.

All are invited to hear Mr. Harper speak on Sunday night at 7 p.m. on the subject, "After Death—What?"—(Com.)

COMMENCEMENT EXERCISES AT THE COLLEGIATE INSTITUTE

extract from a letter from an old Collegiate boy now a teacher who referring to his Collegiate days says: "It was there I believe I received for the first time any inspiration to go out in life and do something really worth while." The principal said that this spirit was the thing they were trying to develop and foster among the scholars taking precedence over everything else.

Mr. W. H. Bradburn chairman of the Peterborough Victory Loan Committee now presented the victory Loan medals won by the following in the Victory Loan essay competition last fall.

Upper School—Madeline Stinson, Jean Elliot.

Middle School—Arthur McClure, Doris Clegg.

Junior School—Ruth Sharpe, Ernest Legon.

Mr. Bradburn offered the congratulations of the Victory Loan Committee expressing the hope that the medals would be treasured highly by the winners who would find them a source of pleasure in ever recalling the P.C.I.

A vocal solo by Mr. Douglas Carlisle "In Flanders' Fields", given by special request deeply affected the hearers calling forth prolonged applause to which Mr. Carlisle responded with an encore.

Rev. F. E. Malott before presenting the commercial diplomas spoke on efficiency, outlining the increased facilities for educaton as compared with earlier times and of the consequent greater opportunties stretching before the youth of to-day.

Rev. Malott remarked, however, that it was one thing to put this education before the scholars and another to get them to take it. The need for efficiency in all walks of life were dwelt on and the speaker impressed the catechism of thoroughness. "Thoroughness ought to characterize every thing you do." He told the pupils that although Latin and geometry were not pleasant they were used as a test, the mastering of them tending towards efficiency.

The present day habits of rushing through the learning of your life work, which brooks no delay, were condemned by Rev. Malott as derogatory to efficiency as were also the sapping of a person's vitality by late hours and the speaker said our first consideration should be our health. Mr. Kenner's point of always placing the highest ideals before the pupils was highly commended, who said that nine-tenths of failures in life were due to failures in character.

The diplomas were presented to the pupils Rev. Malott wishing them every success.

The audience was favoured by two piano solos by the noted young musical genius Miss Agnes Logan after refusing to be satisfied with merely one.

The Athletic prizes were presented by Mr. L. M. Richardson B.A., Honorary President of the Boy's Athletic Association. The athletic activities at the school were reviewed Mr. Richardson refuting the statement that the athletics at the P.C.I. were dead or dying. The work of the Girls Athletic Association was praised in glowing terms. In speaking of the Field Day Mr. Richardson asked for more participation next year.

The boys rugby hockey and basketball teams were explained. The chief difficulty found in all sports was the lack of competition as there are so few collegiates near Peterboro. "A gymnasium is what we need" he said and continuing pointed out the benefit of one. He then presented the senior staff cup and championship medal to William Mowat and the junior cup, the H. S. Macdonald Cup and junior championship medal to Alfred Johnston expressing great pleasure in doing so.

The following girls winners of one event or two or more, each were presented with suitable prizes:

The following boys were also, presented with suitable prizes:

Winners of first place in one or more events: Herman Hunter, Jack Porteous, Fred Green, Graham Eastwood, Douglas Shortly, Elwood McBrien, Allan Stevenson, Fred Brooks Karl Kirn, Gregg Roberts, Erie Roberts.

The Women's Teacher's Guild Glee Club under the leadership of Miss M. Rannie rendered a very enjoyable selection followed by the presentation the Nicholl's Scholarship by Mr. Cameron who in presenting them gave his favorite and ever popular address on the bad boy eulogizing that much harassed individual and raising him to a higher sphere, one of adoration and worship and read the annual report of the bad boy's order remarking that the last year was very successful and much progress had been made and the membership of the order largely increased.

Lapsing into a more serious tone, Mr. Cameron congratulated the girls on the "At Home" held in the winter and also referred to the inspe otion which will likely be held in the morning and if it is possible a Field Day will be held in the afternoon.

He urged the matter of technical schools to be investigated more closely before any steps were taken. Mr. Cameron said that there was no means by which we could tell for what a boy or girl was adapted and stated that it depended entirely on the individual. In speaking of the claim advanced by somebody that the Collegiate was past its usefulness, he agreed that a larger Collegite to accommodate 1,000 pupils would be better and do away with competition of small continuation schools while bringing more money into the city.

Mr. Cameron struck a note of sadness when he dwelt on how the order had lost many of the members of last year who have now left the old school to enter the stern and strenuous walks of life.

The following scholarships were presented:

Nicholls Scholarships

Faculty entrance, Part II—Isabel Baird.

Faculty Entrance, Part I—Kathleen Thorndyke.

Honour Matriculation. Helen Sloggett.

Pass Matriculation—Jean Elliot.

Middle School Normal Entrance—Madeline Stinson.

Lower School Normal Entrance—Douglas Shortly.

In her valedictory address the closing number of the programme Miss Isobel Baird referred to the years she spent in Collegiate as the happiest in her life and expressed her gratitude and the gratitude of all the pupils to the staff of the Institute for their co-operation and every ready assistance. The many incidents of school life, the school day pranks, the first "oral", the first session the penitent bench and those thousand and one little incidents that are all cherished with the fondest memories of childhood and school days were all referred to and her address was representative of the feelings of the class which leave the school yearly.

HAD TO GO TO BED HEADACHES SO BAD

MILBURN'S LAXA-LIVER PILLS MADE HER WELL

When your liver gets sluggish and inactive, your whole health suffers. Your bowels become constipated, your head aches, your tongue is coated, breath bad, specks float before the eyes, you are bilious, have heartburn, water-brash, pain under the right shoulder, muddy and brown spotted complexion, etc.

Help the liver to resume its proper function by removing the bile that is circulating in the blood and poisoning the system.

Mrs. E. Bainbridge, 50 Maple Ave., Amherst, N.S., writes: "I take pleasure in writing you of the good I received by using Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills for headaches. I was so bad I had to go to bed, and could not sit up. A friend told me about your wonderful medicine, and two vials have made me as well as I can be."

Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills are small and easy to take, do not gripe, weaken or sicken, do not leave any bad after-effects. Price 25c. a vial at all dealers, or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

RHEUMATIC PAIN

Rub It Right Out—Try This!

Rheumatism is "pain only."

Not one case in fifty requires internal treatment. Stop drugging! Rub the misery right away! Rub soothing, penetrating "St. Jacobs Oil" directly into the sore, stiff joints and muscles and relief comes instantly. "St. Jacobs Oil" conquers pain. It is a harmless rheumatism cure which never disappoints and does not blister.

Limber up! Quit complaining! Get a small trial bottle of old-time "St. Jacobs Oil" at any drug store and in just a moment you'll be free from rheumatic pain, soreness and stiffness. Don't suffer! Relief and a cure awaits you. Get it. "St. Jacobs Oil" is just as good for sciatica, neuralgia, lumbago, backache, sprains and swellings.

A little capital

"IF ONLY I had a little capital, look where I might have been to-day!"

Are you going to be one of the men who say that after you have passed middle age, or are you going to be one of those who "got there" because you had that "little capital" when your chance came?

Most big business concerns and large fortunes had small beginnings.

The men who accomplish things are not the idle rich but the ambitious, industrious men, rich or poor.

A little money saved each week and deposited in the Bank of Toronto can be the beginning of your life venture. With the interest it earns it does not take long to accumulate capital sufficient for a start. The more you have for your beginning, the surer is your success.

We invite your banking account.

OLDEST WOMAN IN LONDON TAKES LEAP YEAR CHANCE.

LONDON, Eng.— "Shall we get married? It's Leap Year, you know, and I want a nice young man," was the greeting of "Granny" Lambert, aged 106, and the oldest woman in London," to a reporter who went to interview her on her birthday.

The visitor edged toward the door. "If you were my husband," said Granny with a twinkle, "I'd throw something at you."

BAD COLD LEFT HIM WITH BRONCHITIS

However slight a cold you have you should never neglect it; if you do it can have but one result. It leaves the throat or lungs, or both, affected.

Bronchitis is one of the most common affections of a neglected cold, and neglected bronchitis the most general cause of consumption.

Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup is just the remedy you require to cure the bronchitis. It does this by loosening the phlegm and mucous, and stimulates the weakened bronchial organs, allays irritation and subdues inflammation, soothes and heals the irritated parts and thus prevents it becoming chronic.

Mr. R. P. Sundblad, Francis, Sask., writes:—"I had a very bad cold which left me with bronchitis. I tried several cough remedies and oils of all kinds, but they all failed. At last I got Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup and after using two bottles I have never had a sign of bronchitis since. I therefore can honestly recommend it for coughs and colds."

Don't accept a substitute for Dr. Wood's. The genuine is put up in a yellow wrapper: 3 pine trees the trade mark; price 25c and 50c. Manufactured by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

GEMMELL-SHERWOOD LIMITED

PUBLIC NOTICE is hereby given that under the First Part of chapter 79 of the Revised Statutes of Canada 1906, known as "The Companies Act," and amending Acts, letters patent have been issued under the Seal of the Secretary of State of Canada, bearing date the 14th day of February, 1920, incorporating George Newcombe Gordon and Joseph Aloysius O'Brien, barristers-at-law; Maud Leahy, Jessie Stevens and Mary Easson, stenographers all of the City of Peterborough, in the Province of Ontario, for the following purposes, viz:—

(a) To purchase, take over and assume all the assets and liabilities of Gemmell & Co.;

(b) To manufacture, buy, sell and deal with clothing of all kinds, cloth and wearing apparel and all material entering into the manufacture of clothing and cloth and all products and by-products thereof, including ladies' and children's white wear and other garments and to deal in and with all useful articles in connection with said business and generally to engage in the business of manufacturing and act as wholesale, retail and commission merchants and jobers;

(c) To pay out of the funds of the company all or any of the expenses incidental to the formation and organization thereof and to employ, contract with and provide for the remuneration of brokers, commission agents and underwriters, upon any issue of shares, bonds, debentures, debenture stock or other securities of the company;

(d) To carry on any other business (whether manufacturing or otherwise) which may seem to the company capable of being conveniently carried on in connection with its business or calculated directly or indirectly to enhance the value of or render profitable any of the company's property or rights;

(e) To acquire or undertake the whole or any part of the buisness, property and liabilities of any person or company carrying on any business which the company is authorized to carry on, or possessed of property suitable for the purposes of the company;

(f) To apply for, purchase or otherwise acquire, any patents, licenses, concessions and the like, conferring any exclusive or non-exclusive, or limited right to use, or any secret or other information as to any invention which may seem capable of being used for any of the purposes of the company or the acquisition of which may seem calculated directly or indirectly to benefit the company, and to use, exercise, develop, or grant licenses in respect of or otherwise turn to account the property, rights or information so acquired;

(g) To enter into partnership or into any arrangement for sharing of profits, union of interests, co-operation, joint adventure, reciprocal concession or otherwise, with any person or company carrying on or engaged in or about to carry on or engage in any business or transaction which the company is authorized to carry on or engage in, or any business or transaction, capable of being conducted so as directly or indirectly to benefit the company; and to lend money to, guarantee the contracts of, or otherwise assist any such person or company, and to take or otherwise acquire shares and securities of any such company, and to sell, hold, reissue, with or without guarantee, or otherwise deal with the same;

(h) To take, or otherwise acquire and hold, shares in any other company having objects altogether or in part similar to those of the company or carrying on any business capable of being conducted so as directly or indirectly to benefit the company;

(i) To enter into any arrangements with any authorities, municipal local or otherwise, that may seem conducive to the company's objects, or any of them, and to obtain from any such authority any rights, privileges and concessions which the company may think it desirable to obtain, and to carry out, exercise and comply with any such arrangements, rights, privileges and concessions;

(j) To establish and support or aid in the establishments and support of associations, institutions, funds, trusts and conveniences calculated to benefit employees or ex-employees of the company (or its predecessors in business) or the dependents or connections of such persons, and to grant pensions and allowances, and to make payments towards insurance, and to subscribe or guarantee money for charitable or benevolent objects, or for any exhibition or for any public, general or useful object;

(k) To promote any company or companies for the purpose of acquiring all or any of the property and liabilities of the company, or for any other purpose, which may seem directly or indirectly calculated to benefit the company;

(l) To purchase, take on lease or in exchange, hire or otherwise acquire, any personal property and any rights or privileges which the company may think necessary for convenient for the purposes of its business and in particular any machinery, plant, stock-in-trade;

(m) To construct, improve, maintain, work, manage, carry out or control any roads, ways, branches or sidings, bridges, reservoirs watercourses, wharves, manufactories, warehouses, electric works, shops, stores and other works and conveniences which may seem calculated directly or indirectly to advance the company's interests, and to contribute to, subsidize or otherwise assist or take part in the construction, improvement, maintenance, working, management, carrying out or control thereof;

(n) To lend money to customers and others having dealings with the company and to guarantee the performance of contracts by any such persons;

(o) To draw, make, accept, endorse, execute and issue promissory notes, bills of exchange, bills of lading, warrants and other negotiable or transferable instruments;

(p) To sell or dispose of the undertaking of the company or any part thereof for such consideration as the company may think fit, and in particular for shares, debentures or securities of any other company having objects altogether or in part similar to those of the company;

(q) To apply for, secure, acquire by assignment, transfer, purchase, or otherwise, and to exercise, carry out and enjoy any charter, license, power, authority, franchise, concession, rights or privilege, which any government or authority or any corporation or other public body may be empowered to grant and to pay for, aid in and contribute towards carrying the same into effect, and to appropriate any of the company's shares, bonds and assets to defray the necessary costs, charges and expenses thereof;

(r) To procure the company to be registered and recognized in any foreign country and to designate persons therein according to the laws of such foreign country to represent this company and accept service for and on behalf of the company of any process or suit;

(s) To raise and assist in raising money for, and to aid, by way of bonus, loan, promise, endorsement, guarantee of bonds, debentures or other securities or otherwise, any other company or corporation and to guarantee the performance of contracts by any such company, corporation, or by any other person or persons with whom the company may have business relations;

(t) To adopt such means of making known the products of the company as may seem expedient, and in particular by advertising in the press, by circulars, by purchase and exhibition of works of art or interest, by publication of books and periodicals and by granting prizes, rewards and donations;

(u) To sell, improve, manage, develop exchange, lease, dispose of, turn to account or otherwise deal with all or any part of the property and rights of the company;

(v) To do all or any of the above things as principals, agents, contractors or otherwise, and either alone or in conjunction with others;

(w) To do all such other things as are incidental or conducive to the attainment of the above objects;

The operations of the company to be carried on throughout the Dominion of Canada and elsewhere by the name of "Gemmel-Sherwood, Limited," with a capital stock of fifty thousand dollars divided into 500 shares of 100 dollars each, and the chief place of business of the said company to be at the City of Peterborough, in the Province of Ontario.

Dated at the office of the Secretary of State of Canada, this 20th day of February, 1920.

MONTREAL GIBE AT TORONTO'S PREJUDICES

(Special to The Examiner.)

MONTREAL, Q., March 6.—Montreal Gazette says to-day: "Toronto University's President protests the cancellation of Miss Jane Addam's visit, but it is probably just as well that the event was declared off. Toronto invited Mr. Wm. Jennings Bryan to come and then grossly insulted him. It would be unfortunate to have such incidents. Before inviting foreign guests the Torontians should first assure themselves that the persons signalled out for the high honor absolutely conform to the local standard of thought."

JESSIE IRVING PLEASED AUDIENCE

CONCERT IN ST. ANDREW'S CHURCH LARGELY ATTENDED.

While she has already gained a warm place in the hearts of Peterboro audinces, Miss Jessie Irving ,the talented elocutionist and entertainer, last evening gained even wider popularity in the city when she entertained a large audience at a concert given in St. Andrew's Church under the auspices of the Mission Band of that church. Rev. James Rollins occupied the chair.

The programme presented was most acceptably varied by selections by local talent being given between Miss Irving's numbers.

The evening was opened by a chorus by the Mission Band, followed by a recitation by the Foster Twins and Miss Dorothy Clarke. A duet by Margaret and Jean Blade, banjo solo by Mr. Frank Clarke, solo by Miss Helen MacLaren, and solo by Miss Dorothy Clarke were each keenly appreciated and enthusiastically encored. In her recitations Miss Jessie Irving proved so convincing that the audience forgot the surroundings, and saw only the character the artist impersonated even though the characters varied from the prevalent nuisance of to-day, the moving picture chatter box—a selection written by herself—an Italian attempting to purchase a rose, the ladies of a village sewing society, and an Irish woman's comment upon her theatrically inclined daughter.

In each of the eight selections given Miss Irving brought out the humour or pathos of each character superbly but made probably the hit of the evening in her impersonation of the village gossip at the sewing society confiding to the genial old Scotch and Irish ladies just how she "took different people down," displaying as she did marvellous versatility in changing from the speech and mannerisms of each of the trio in the skit.

STERLING'S ADVANCE FEATURE OF WEEK

STOCK TRADING SLUMPED EXCEPT IN MOTORS AND OILS.

Canadian Press:

NEW YORK, March 6.—The sudden uprush in foreign exchange, which brought the pound sterling some fifty cents over its low record of a month ago, and concurrent advances in rates to other allied countries, were the foremost features of the week in the financial market. The rise was attended by a circumstantial report of early gold imports on a huge scale from England, and possibly France, but these were almost entirely discredited in high banking quarters.

International financiers are agreed that the foreign credit situation weighs heavily over the world's commerce, but aver that British trade balance is in process of rapid readjustment, with a marked betterment in the French situation.

There was a pronounced slackening of business in stocks, which were irregular at best, save for the resumption of pool operations in Motors, Oils and affiliated issues. The reasons for the strength of these shares were furnished by further advances in oil products, crude and refined, pressure of activity reported by automobile manufacturers and rumours of higher prices for motor accessories. Rails derived little benefit from their return to private ownership, although low-grade issues were occasionally active at moderate advances. The decision of the United States Supreme Court in the United States Steel Trust case came as a pleasant surprise to the leading industrial interests, but was without material influence as a market factor.

Rates for call loans eased in the latter part of the week, but in no other branch of the money market was there any alteration from the stringent conditions of the past month.

TAKE THE WORD OF YOUR OWN NEIGHBOURS

There is not a block or corner in Canada, in the cities, towns, villages and on farms, where Dr. Williams Pink Pills have not been used. From one end of the country to the other they have brought back to breadwinners, their wives and families the splendid treasure of new health and new strength. You have only to ask your neighbors and they can tell you of some nerve-shattered man, some suffering woman, ailing youth or unhappy anaemic girl, who owes their present health and strength to Dr. Williams Pink Pills.

For many years Dr. Williams Pink Pills have been a household remedy not only in America but throughout the world. When Canadian soldiers landed in England they found advertised on all sides Dr. Williams Pink Pills for Pale People. To the men from Australia, from New Zealand, from South Africa and India, these same advertisements were like familiar home friends. When these men crossed to France one of the first signs that greeted their eyes was "Pilules Pink pour Personnes Pales du Dr. Williams." The world wide use of this Canadian remedy can be accounted for only by the merit these wonderful blood-making pills possess. Thousands of statements from grateful people who have been cured of ills due to weak, watery blood and shattered nerves have been published. some of these may have been your neighbors—all of them were somebody's neighbors, and you can safely take their word for the benefit they have found through the timely use of Dr. Williams Pink Pills.

MOTHER AND DAUGHTER.

If more people knew how many ills and pains are due to thin, watery blood and how easily this condition could be remedied through the use of Dr. Williams Pink Pills, a great deal of suffering would be avoided. Men and women often suffer from stomach trouble, headaches and backaches, palpitation of the heart, and nervous complaints such as neuralgia, without suspecting that the whole trouble lies in weak, watery blood. The statement of Mrs. J. J. Murry, Corbetton, Ont., shows the value of Dr. Williams Pink Pills in cases of this kind. She says: —"A few years ago my daughter, Lillie, was in a very badly run down condition. She was pale, thin, and scarcely able to go about. The least exertion made her heart palpitate so violently that we were actually afraid one of these spells might carry her off. She slept so badly that often she would lie awake until nearly morning. Treatment did not seem to help her and we were almost in despair when a friend advised the use of Dr. Williams Pink Pills. A few weeks use of this medicine showed a decided improvement, and a further use of the pills fully restored her health, and she has since been a strong, healthy girl. Some time later I was taken ill myself, being run-down from household care. A doctor was called in but his medicine did not seem to bring back my strength, and remembering what Dr Williams Pink Pills had done for my daughter, I decided to drop the doctor's medicine and try them. The result that followed were like those in my daughters case, and through the use of the pills I was soon a well woman. I am glad to give my experience in the hope that some other sufferer may find the way to health."

NURSING MOTHERS.

It is useless to tell a hard working woman to take life easily and not to worry. Care of the home and the children always bring their worries. But it is the duty of every woman to save her strength as much as possible and to keep her blood supply in a healthy condition. Her future good health depend upon this. Mrs. B. Kilgour, Cabri, Sask., says:—"I have taken Dr. Williams Pink Pills for a considerable time and have found them of the greatest benefit for my blood and nerves. I was terribly nervous and run down and was nursing my baby at the time I began taking the pills, and since taking them I feel like a different woman. My appetite is better, my blood purer and my nerver steadier and altogether I feel a hundred per cent. better. I will certainly recommend the pills to everybody I can."

WEAK AND NERVOUS.

Good health is the secret of happiness and the one chief secret of good health is rich, red blood. This rich, red blood can always be had through a fair use of Dr. Williams Pink Pills. The value of the pills for this purpose is proved by Mrs. Carrey Boudreau, Beaumont, N.B., who says:—"When I began the use of Dr. Williams Pink Pills I was very weak and nervous. I was always tired and my eyes were dull and heavy and I suffered greatly with headaches. But through the use of Dr. Williams Pink Pills I am again a well woman in the full enjoyment of life, and I am quite willing the whole world should know the benefit I have found through this medicine."

AFTER INFLUENZA.

Strenuous work on a farm has much to do with the run down condition of many who follow that occupation, and accounts for the readiness in which they fall victims to serious debilitating troubles. Mrs. Geo. Cuthbert, a farmer's wife who has proved the value of Dr. Williams Pink Pills says: "This past year my husband and myself have had to do all the work on our half-section farm. I had an attack of influenza and this coupled with heavy work left me badly run down. I sent for a supply of Dr. Williams Pink Pills and by the time I had taken two boxes I was beginning to feel stronger, and through their further use I was again feeling quite fit. Indeed I believe that had it not been for the pills I would not have been able to do my work. I may add that while using the pills I took Pink lets occasionally as a laxative, and found them a great help."

LIKE A NEW PERSON.

When a girl of a woman is pale and feeble, feels tired out at the slightest exertion, is troubled with headaches or backaches, it is a sure sign that the blood is thin and watery, and that Dr. Williams Pink Pills should be taken to restore the blood to that rich red condition necessary to good health. Through the use of these pills Miss F. E. Hubley, Seabright, N.S., was restored to good health. She says:—"I have found that Dr. Williams Pink Pills tone up the nerves and system and make one feel like a new person. When I started using them I was in very poor health and suffering from many of the symptoms of anaemia. Soon after beginning their use I found myself growing better, and after giving them a fair trial I found my health fully restored. As a result of what they did in my own case I can recommend them to all weak people as a great blood-builder."

WHAT DR. WILLIAMS PINK PILLS WILL DO.

Dr. Williams Pink Pills are a blood builder and nerve tonic. The rich, red blood that they make not only carries color to the cheeks and lips but gives vigor to the exhausted nerves and quiets the pains of neuralgia and sciatia. Dr. Williams Pink Pills contain no opiates nor harmful drugs; they restore health and strength but do not give temporary stimulation.

You can get Dr. Williams Pink Pills through any dealer in medicine or by mail at 50c. a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams Medicine C., Brockville, tOn.

SAILORS DEFEAT KINGSTON 2 TO 1

COLLINGWOOD TAKE FIRST OF FINAL O.H.A. INTERMEDIATE IN KINGSTON,

KINGSTON, March 6.—Kingston received a "hefty" bump last night when Collingwood took the first of the O.H.A. intermediate final games by 2 to 1. The play was pretty close all the way, but team work won for the visitors. Kingston failed to make its usual third period rally. After eighteen minutes' play in the first period, Walton of Collingwood, slipped one past Tobin. That was the only goal scored until the third period, when Foulis scored Collingwood's second goal. Just before the finish, Smith scored Kingston's only goal.

The visitors are a heavier team than the locals and on last night's performance are a better team. Only Kingston was fit to be knocked out and the last time had to be carried out. There were few penalties. The return game is to be played in Collingwood on Monday night.

The teams:

Kingston — Goal, Tobin; defence, Brown and Elmer; centre, Stewarts; wings, Cook and Smith; spares, Stanton and Derry.

Collingwood—Goal, Cooke; defence, McLeod and Noble; centre, Rogers; wings, Fryer and Walton; spares, Burns and Foulis.

Referee, Lawson Whitehead.

Judge of play, Willard Box.

FORMER HOCKEY STAR HAS BEEN ORDAINED

Rev. Father John Spratt, C.S.B., who was ordained to the priesthood in London on Sunday last, arrived in town to-day on a visit to his parents Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Spratt. He will celebrate his first high mass at St. Mary's church on Sunday morning at 11 o'clock.—Lindsay Warder.

CURLING

The Lindsay Warder remarks that were it not for a leaky roof Lindsay curlers would have ice for a long time. In the opinion of many local players the Flavelle club would be much the better for an entirely new rink.

Jimmy Donaldson won the "Lead Cup" from R. F. Downey last night by one shot in an extra end. It was a lively game, close all the way.

PETERBORO INDOOR BASEBALL LEAGUE

The Peterboro Indoor Baseball League opens on Monday night at 8 o'clock, in the armouries with the Belmont Club vs. Machine Gunners.

KITCHENER AND GRANITES TIED IN OVER-TIME GAME

THREE EXTRA PERIODS AT THE TORONTO ARENA IN WONDERFUL EXHIBITION.

TORONTO, March 6.—Bull dogs all, Granites and Kitchener, of the O.H.A. Senior series, gave at the Arena last night was was perhaps the greatest display of skill, stamina and determination ever witnessed in the big ice palace.

The game was called with the score 4 to 4. Three periods of overtime were played, after which, according to rule, the contest was abandoned. It was a nerve-straining spectacle.

To say that it was exciting does not describe it. The sophisticated and the ordinarily sedate among the spectators utterly forgot themselves in the frenzied uproar as the advantage lay with one side or the other. Adherents of the respective teams implored their favourites to score "Just one, just one."

Kitchener took the track, showing a three-man attack and an airtight defence that baffled the Curlers during the first period and half of the next, but the locals began to use their weight with good effect, and under their fierce attacks the visitors perceptibly weakened, and from then until the end of the gruelling affair they seldom got any more than an even break.

The Granites were quick to take advantage of the opportunity and scored goal for goal with the Curlers in the second session, and out-scored them to 2 to 0 in the next. The players stood the bitter pace well, and although several were showing signs of exhaustion in the overtime periods, none were forced to retire permanently.

Jerry Laflamme had the misfortune to miss the easiest chance of the night in the second overtime period when he passed to Jeffrey and then circled through the Merrick-Trushinski defence and scored goalie Hainsworth at his mercy. The latter came out to meet him, and Laflamme shot for the corner. The puck struck Hainsworth's stick, bounded over the net and prevented the Granites from winning the game right there. It was a bad break.

Immediately following the game it was decided that the game be replayed here on Wednesday night.

Granites—Goal, Addison; defence, Laflamme and Fox; centre, Watson; wings, Aird and Jeffrey. Subs.—Rommell and Wright.

Officials—Steve Vair and "Tom" Munro.

TYRONE POWER

An important announcement is made by Trans-Canada Theatres, Limited, the newly formed All-Canadian corporation controlling theatres across the continent, to the effect that the distinguished English actor, Tyrone Power, will appear at the Grand Opera House on Wednesday, March 10th, matinee and night, in a revival of Charles Rann Kennedy's great morality play, "The Servant in the House."

It will be remembered by many theatre-goers doubtless that when Mr. Power first created the role of the Drainman in this remarkable play, his portrayal of that tremendous role created a veritable sensation, and that a wide controversy was aroused thereby. The dramatic critics not only in New York but of almost every big city in the United States and Canada, eulogised his work, and agreed that it ranked among the most significant dramatic portraits of the decade.

The revival to be presented here will include Mr. Power in his original role, and will also find featured a number of players with established reputation, whose fineness for their respective roles has been the sole consideration governing their engagement.

Mr. Power's reputation, which is of the highest, and who is not confined to this continent, has been built up largely upon his well-known stand against anything in the nature of impropriety or salaciousness upon the stage, and his championship of the highest form of dramatic art in theatricals.

This is keeping with the avowed policy of Trans-Canada Theatres, Limited, to present only the most prominent dramatic artists in the best

"LISTEN, LESTER"

A real tonic is "Listen Lester," the musical comedy which John Cort presents at the Grand next Monday, March 15th, with the entire New York cast chorus production and special company orchestra potent, pleasant to the taste and smell and sight, and a sure cure for all the ills that flesh is heir to, and for an entire year at the Knickerbocker Theatre in New York it helped to build up the morale of the theatre-going public. It comes under the "musical comedy" head of tonics concocted by Harry L. Cort, Geo. E. Stoddard, and Herald Orlob and John Cort gave it the final mixing which makes it so excellent and effective. The ingredients are breezy dialogue, and amusing story, bubbly music, artistic staging, beautiful costuming effervescent dancing with Mayme Gehrue, Jean Thomas, Miriam Fulger, Cecil Williams, Ann Ott, Florence De Barr, Frances Anderson, Florida Bellaire, William Sellery, Joseph Mack William Wayne, Gus Shy, John L. DEMAND PROMPT RETURN OF CANADIAN CARS IN U.S

WASHINGTON, March 5.— Canada is renewing insistently her demand that 16,000 freight cars, owned by her railways and now in the United States, be returned, and bringing pressure to bear on the car service division of the American Railway Association.

"The greatest relief we could have from the situation is ten days of good weather in the New England States so we could get the cars into that territory and through to Canada," said an official to-day. He said the car movement to eastern Canada was chiefly through Maine and New Hampshire, which were now ice-bound and snowbound.

Peterborough industries, including the Quaker Oats Co., are hampered by the shortage of Canadian railway cars.

VOL. XLVI NO. 57 PETERBOROUGH, MONDAY, MARCH 8, 1920 PRICE TWO CENTS

DON'T FAIL TO SEE THE ELSIE JANIS SPECIAL AT THE EMPIRE TO-NIGHT

TO ASSIST SETTLERS IN NORTH

THE KAPUSKASING COMMISSION SPENT SUNDAY ON THE GROUND---LACK OF SOCIAL LIFE.

FOOD SUPPLIED

(Special to the Examiner)

KAPUSKASING, Ont., March 8.—Though it would be premature to fore cast the report that the commission will make to the Ontario Government it is generally believed here that some form of compensation will be suggested for the settlers who have sunk their money and have not succeeded in their undertaking this view is somewhat strengthened by casual remarks made by the commissioners during the enquiry to the effect that something would have to be done for them.

The commission spent Sunday visiting the colonists at Kittigan. They found nothing to indicate that their evidence had been exaggerated or that the people were spendthrifts. Their comfortable houses, barns and live stock furnished concrete proof that they had formed their plans in the belief that prosperity would reward their efforts. The women complained generally of isolation and the lack of social life. There was no shortage of food in the homes as Premier Drury had wired recently that their requirements must be supplied. The enquiry will probably last until Wednesday. Officials are expected to testify to-day.

COL. M'INTYRE IN CITY YESTERDAY

HOLDS IMPORTANT POST IN THE SALVATION ARMY.

Col. McIntyre, who occupies the important position in the Salvation Army of Chief Secretary of the Eastern Division under Commander Eva Booth, was in the city on Saturday, renewing acquaintance with his many old friends here. He was on his way to Kingston, where he was stationed thirty-four years ago, and where he was to conduct their anniversary services on Sunday.

He was accompanied by his daughter, Miss Irene McIntyre, who had the distinction of being one of the "Doughnut Girls" with the United States Army in France. Miss McIntyre told some of her experiences and how she and one other had the doughnut craving of 8,000 men to satisfy, which was about the proportion of Doughnut girls throughout the army.

Grain Producers Outline Platform at Regular Meeting

PLATFORM CONSTRUCTION WAS THE CHIEF WORK OF THE REGINA GRAIN GROWERS AT SATURDAY'S MEETING---TOTAL ABOLITION OF LIQUOR.

Special to the Examiner.

REGINA, Sask., Mar. 8.—Building political platforms was the work before the regular meeting of the Regina Grain Growers' Local on Saturday afternoon, when J. B. McManus outlined the aims of the association in their attempt to construct a Provincial political platform.

Mr. McManus concluded his address by saying that the planks following gave those interested in forming a Provincial platform something to go on with.

1. Severance of Provincial from Federal election issues.
2. Abolition of party patronage.
3. Democratic nominating conventions of a non-class order.
4. Publication of sources and expenditure of election funds.
5. Initiative, referendum and recall.
6. Proportional representation.
7. Compulsory standard as well as age limit in school attendance.
8. Compulsory attendance of children resident in school district, regardless of distance.
9. (a) Care of mental defectives in industrial colonies. (b) Issuance of marriage licenses only upon presentation of certificate of mental and physical fitness. (c) A survey of mental and physical health.
10. Return to municipalities of a larger proportion of moose license fees.
11. Total abolition of intoxicating liquor as a beverage.

The people of Labrador are very dependent on outside assistance in order that the Gospel may be preached to them, physicians be sent to heal their diseases, teachers give of their knowledge to enlighten them, and life as a whole be enriched for the rising generation. To extend these privileges your cooperation is required.

DR. WILFRID GRENFELL.

This year a quarter of a century will have elapsed since Dr. Wilfrid T. Grenfell, physician, missionary, explorer and Philanthropist, came to Labrador. His work has made his name and that of the country almost synonymous. When Labrador is mentioned our thoughts turn to Dr. Grenfell and it is impossible to think of Dr. Grenfell apart from Labrador.

Before 1892 the only medical aid available was that of a Government doctor who travelled that coast on the mail-boat. Since that time Dr. Grenfell, plus associates and money, has revolutionized life down there. Where twenty five years ago, one doctor tried to meet the exigencies of the case, to-day eight hospitals serve the population.

OPERATING UNDER DIFFICULTIES.

To turn out the family and transform the kitchen into an operating room took the nurse and the mother of the patient some time; sterilizing under such circumstances, so as positively to insure asepsio, needs no little skill. The operation took till mid-day, by which time my new host's kitchen was crowed with applicants for a visit to their houses. Here is the list visited:

First came a poor fellow whose eye we had removed ten days previously; a woman with abscess of the breast, being treated to date with only the local remedy of tarry oakum and weasel skins. After that came a child with acute rickets. It had been fed from birth on bread pap, as the mother had been unable to nurse it, and they had not been able to "reach to milk." Then came a case of ophthalmia, with ulcer in the cornea, in a little girl of seven years, followed by a boy of ten, who must be carried back for operation later at St. Anthony. Meanwhile a team from our northernmost and loneliest lighthouse was waiting to haul me up there. It was two miles over very rocky going but I was well repaid by the opportunity of visiting the cheery Scotch keeper and his family. I returned to find another kitchen full of those seeking aid, including those who wished to "know if they could have some mats to make, build a komatik, or haul firewood, in order that they might earn some much needed clothing or a little extra food."—From an "Ice Bound Labrador," by Wilfrid T. Grenfell.

ACCEPTED PROPOSAL FOR PEACE

COMING CONFERENCE OF BALTIC STATES SEEK UNION OF EASTERN COUNTRIES.

THE REDS ATTACK

(United Press)

PARIS, March 8.—Alexander Vaida Voevod, Roumanian Premier, has accepted the proposal of M. Tchitcherin, former Minister of Soviety Russia, to negotiate peace, according to advices from London.

At the same time other reports said that the long-heralded attack of the Soviet armies upon Poland had started. So far, it was said, the Poles have defended themselves successfully. Polish statements said the Bolsheviki were repulsed with heavy losses.

The coming conference of the Baltic States, now including Lithuania, "will first seek the union of the Eastern countries," General Pil-udski, Polish leader, declared in an interview telegraphed here.

"We will not enter into negotiations with the Soviets without consulting all elements interested," said Pilsudski. "Lithuania will not participate because her frontier does not touch Soviet Russia. We will never consent to negotiate peace under menace of the Reds."

"Poland's troops," the General added, "do not fear the present Bolsheviki offensive."

(Canadian Press)

LONDON, March 8.—Russian Soviet forces have launched attacks against Finns, on the western and northern fronts, according to advices received here. It is said they have been repulsed and the Finns are reported to have launched counter attacks which has pierced the Red lines. Polish units holding line running through pripet marshes south of Bobriusk are said to have been under attack at two points by Soviet armies advancing on north and south sides of the marshes. Heavy Red detachements were recently reported to have assembled at Gamel'i'st east of Pripet country, and it is probable these have been hurled westward against the Polish lines.

GENERAL ELECTION WILL NOT BE HELD UNTIL NEXT YEAR

HON. ARTHUR MEIGHEN DECLARES DOMINION CENSUS MUST BE TAKEN FIRST.

OTTAWA, March 8.—No election until 1921 is the present decision of the government. That decision is expressed in the declaration of Hon. Arthur Meighen, which appears in Hansard as follows:

"I appeal to honorable gentlemen everywhere to allow Western Canada to get its representation, which it assuredly will, because there is no intention to have an election until an opportunity is provided to give Western Canada its full share of representation after the census is taken. I appeal to all to repudiate the resolution and to stand by stable, firm, and honest government."

In this contention Mr. Meighen and the Government will be supported by all but the Opposition and the new Farmers' party of twelve.

THE TURKS AND ALLIES IN A FIGHT

MARTIAL LAW HAS BEEN DECLARED---TURKS RESISTED.

20,000 TROOPS

(United Press)

LONDON, March 8.—Allied and Turkish forces have clashed in Constantinople, official messages to-day declared.

Martial law has been declared, the messages said, and 20,000 British, French and Italian troops made "an extensive military demonstration."

The Turks resisted and fighting followed, the message added. No details of casualities were given.

THE NEWS PRINT SITUATION IN PETERBORO

IT IS GRADUALLY BECOMING A SERIOUS PROPOSITION, ESPECIALLY BETWEEN SHIPMENTS.

A great deal has been read of the newsprint situation in Winnipeg when the papers there have had to suspend for days altogether and at other times to run editions without carrying any advertising. At Montreal, where several papers have been compelled to suspend for almost a week awaiting newsprint shipments and at other points in the Dominion where newspapers have been badly handicapped for paper stock, in fact, practically every newspaper has had difficulties for sometime back and are continuing to have them. The Examiner has a car, a month overdue and on Friday last this week's issues of the paper were very uncertain and for the next two weeks we will probably have to depend to a considerable extent on the generosity of brother newspaper men, as we have done in the past on occasions, in order that no issues will be missed.

In turn we have lent paper to as far in Western Ontario as Niagara Falls, when we had a surplus and it has been found that all newspapers help the other fellow out sometimes to their own inconvenience.

TOWN IN THE HANDS OF REDS

MEMBERS OF KOLCHAK MINISTRY CAPTURED.

(Canadian Press)

LONDON, March 8.—Irkutsk, the recent seat of the Kolchak government, which was seized last month by insurrectionary troops, who were reported to have executed Admiral Kolchak, is now in the hands of the Bolshevik regulars, troops of the Red army having entered the town. It is announced in wireless message from Moscow. Several members of former Kolchak ministry and many active counter revolutionists who were imprisoned in Irkkutsk, are being transferred to Omsk, where they will be delivered to judgment of revolutionary tribunal, the despatch adds.

Officers Nominated For Board of Trade

MR. EDGAR WORTH SUCCEEDS MR. J. J. TURNER AS PRESIDENT OF THE BOARD.

ANNUAL MEETING

At a full meeting in the Council-Room of the Board of Trade on Saturday last at 4 p.m., the Council-Elect elected from their numbers the officers for the coming year. The report from the Nominating Committee submitted by the chairman, Mr. C. E. Sisson, nominating the following gentlemen for office was received and unanimously approved. President, Mr. Edgar Worth, general manager, Canadian Woollens, Ltd.; Vice-President, Mr. Joseph J. Duffus, manager, Duffus Motor Sales; Treasurer, J. Wells Fraser, manager Bank of Nova Scotia, and Secretary, Mr. Leonard Frazer.

The following Executive was also appointed: Chairman, Joseph J. Duffus, Thomas Barrie, H. R. H. Kenner, Robert G. Kingan, Wm. A. Richardson, William Sangster, Peter P. Westbye.

At the thirty-first annual meeting and the first annual meeting of the re-organized Board, to be held on Tuesday next, the 8th, at 8 p.m., in the G. W. V. A. Hall, Murray Street, officers, Council and Executive will be formally instated in office.

President John J. Turner stated that a full turn-out of the membership for the supper and annual meeting was expected, and would prove the largest gathering of citizens ever held in the city, getting together to promote one common interest, the development of Peterborough and co-operative community spirit.

Through the kindness of Mrs. W. R. Morris, arrangements have been made for thirty ladies from the Women's Auxiliary of the G. W. V. A. to render services at the supper at 6.30 p.m. sharp, under the able supervision of Mrs. A. E. Patterson.

Mr. J. J. Duffus, chairman of the annual committee, reports that arrangements have been made to have a few musical selections during the supper.

The Great War Veterans' Association Hall is capable of seating about four hundred at supper, and it is expected that all members and members' guests will avoid other engagements so as to ensure their presence at 6.30 p.m., Tuesday, the 9th, for the supper and general meeting to commence sharp at 8 o'clock.

FRENCH OFFICERS ARE BADLY MAULED

Refused to Stand When German National Anthem Was Played.

(United Press)

BERLIN, March 8.—The refusal of two French officers attached to the French mission here to stand when the "Deutschland Uber Alles" was played in the dining room of the Hotel Adlon on Saturday night, precipitated a general fight, which Prince Joachim Albrecht, a relative of the former Kaiser, is said to have been the aggressor.

The Frenchmen, Captains Klan and Rougyen, were badly battered by the Germans. They were cut and bruised by bottles, glasses and utensils which were hurled at them.

Waiters finally succeeded in escorting the French officers from the hotel.

GOOD SCHEME FOR PETERBORO

MAGISTRATE DUMBLE RECEIVES A TIP FROM CALIFORNIA.

Magistrate D. W. Dumble has received some timely advice from a local friend on the curing of the "speed maniacs." This advice is in the form of post card with a clipping pasted on it. The clipping runs as follows:

Court Jails a Motor Car.

A California Magistrate struck a new note recently when he jailed a motor car for speeding and allowed the speeder to go free. There are great possibilities in this line of reasoning. For a five day period at least that motor car was out of harm's way and the owner presumably not having a second car would also be safe for a like period of time. On a second offence the magistrate might fine the car one tire and if it still persisted in "hitting it up" a second tire might be pinched; and so on until finally His Honor would have a complete car at his disposal.

These suggestions are not patented. Any Canadian police magistrate may adopt them without fear of infringment.

The Magistrate has been very favourably impressed with the idea and is seriously considering putting it into effect as it offers such possibilites of ultimately possessing a car and now that the police department's black maria will soon be in service it will solve the problem of its upkeep very effectively. Peterboro speedsters had better heed the Motor Vehicles Act more closely or these stringent measures may be resorted to with disastrous results to all concerned.

ALLIES, HE SAYS, ARE TOO EASY ON TURKEY

HENRY MORGENTHAU DECLARES THAT "PUSSYFOOTING" WILL NOT SAVE ARMENIANS.

NEW YORK.—Declaring that the Allies were "pussy-footing" on the Turkish problem, and that they were ignorant of the psychology of the Turk, Henry Morgenthau, former Ambassador to Turkey, at a dinner of the Near East Relief at the Hotel Biltmore asserted that if Russia with her 170,000,000 people were to be continued as a landlocked nation another European war was inevitable.

Mr. Morgenthau read a letter from a friend in Constantinople which said that the Turkish Crown Prince, Meelick Effendi, in Constantinople, right under the eyes of the Allied forces, predicted the extermination of the Armenians. He said that it was America and not France, England or Turkey that was on trial to-day, and that the question was whether American was going to relapse into its pre-war indifference of the fate of people outside the borders of the United States.

After saying that the fate of Armenia was sealed because she aided Russia in the war, Mr. Morgenthau recalled that Russia had been compelled to remain prostrate because the Turk, with the aid of the German, was able to strangle them by shutting the Dardanelles. He pointed out that while Russia was in the midst of internal struggles, after having given 10,000,000 men in the war, the fate of the Turks was being settled without consulting them, while they are unable to make themselves heard.

If you permit the Dardanelles and Constantinople to remain in the hands of the Turks," he continued, "you are again going to expose Russia to becoming a landlocked nation, unable to breathe and spread and become civilized."

"Pussyfooting" was the worst way to handle the Turkish situation, the former Ambassador said. The Turk knows when you are in earnest, he added, and then he obeys, but when one hesitates he does his worst.

"And just at present, that it what the Allies are doing," the speaker said. "They are giving the Turk to understand that all their threats will never be carried out."

The letter read by Mr. Morgenthau told of a meeting of Turks when it was reported that they were to lose Constantinople. One speaker said that if all the Christians had been annihilated the Turks would not then have been mourning the loss of their capital. Whereupon the Crown Prince arose and said that the work (of killing Christians) might still be finished, threatenng new massacres in the presence of the great allied forces in the city.

The purpose of last night's meeting was to launch a drive for $6,000,000, which is New York City's quota of the $30,000,000 it is sought to raise by March 14 to aid the Armenians.

SALTS IF BACKACHY AND KIDNEYS HURT

Stop eating meat for a while if your Bladder is troubling you.

When you wake up with backache and dull misery in the kidney region it generally means you have been eating too much meat, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which overworks the kidneys in their effort to filter it from the blood and they become sort of paralyzed and loggy. When your kidneys get sluggish and clog you must relieve them, like you relieve your bowels; removing all the body's urinous waste, else you have backache, sick headache, dizzy spells; your stomach sours, tongue is coated, and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy full of sediment, channels often get sore, water scalds and you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night.

Either consult a good, reliable physician at once or get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is a life saver for regular meat eaters. It is inexpensive, cannot injure and makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink.

MINISTERIAL ASSOCIATION HELD MEETING

The regular meeting of the Ministerial Association of Peterboro. was held at the Y.M.C.A. this morning at 10 a.m. with the president, Rev. F. E. Mallott, B.A., B.D., presiding, and Rev. G. E. Ross, pastor of Mark Street Methodist church, East City acting as secretary. The meeting being one of mutual pleasure and profit.

Most heartliy and whole-souled recognition was given to the work of Prof. Dr. Grenfell, in the following resolution. Moved, seconded, and resolved that this Association give its hearty endorsation to the Grenfell Deep Sea Mission Association of Peterboro, and commends the appeal made by the ladies this week to the many friends who have subscribed to Dr. Grenfell's work in the past, and to all who will be reached by the information laid before them during the next few days.

The Association thought well to defer the meetings in the interest of the Bible Society until the autumn, that the Executive of the Religious Educational Association of the city be called in the near future that arrangements may be made for a thorough religious canvass of the city, and that everything in our power be done to reach all classes, especially those who are in any way deprived of the blessings of the church and Sunday school.

A splendid expression of appreciation was given Archdeacon Davidson by President Mallott and all the members present, and he was most heartily congratulated on the latest honor conferred upon him by his church.

Archdeacon Davidson made a very neat and appropriate reply.

It was also decided to hold a Union service on Good Friday afternoon at three o'clock in St. Paul's church and it was proposed by Rev. G. E. Ross that the President, F. E. Mallott, Archdeason Davidson and the leader of St. Paul's choir arrange the program.

RESULT OF THE INVESTIGATION

Canadian Press:

TORONTO, March 8.—After an exhaustive enquiry into charges regarding conditions at the Ontario hospital, "formerly known as the Insane Asylum" at Hamilton, Judge Codin G. Hendrie has submitted a report, which states that while in isolated cases patients in the hospital were treated with violence, on the whole, discipline among the attendants was satisfactory. Complaints regarding food, he said, were groundless. The report recommends, however, that all patients, claiming with any show of reason, to be sane, should receive the right of examination by an expert, and returned soldiers suffering from nervous disturbances should not be sent to an asylum while there is any chance of their recovering. Further, non-criminal patients found be separated entirely from criminal cases.

DR. CODY'S RESIGNATION.

There will be little surprise over the resignation of Hon. Dr. Cody, former Minister of Education in the Hearst Government, although it was expected that he would have remained in the Legislature for the first session. Dr. Cody, however, was never looked upon as a politician. He was persuaded by an appeal to his patriotism to accept the position of Minister of Education, and feeling that there was need of reform in the educational system of the province and that he could be of service, consented to enter political life. The political upheaval of last October shattered the Government of which he became a member before there was an opportunity to judge how his theories on education would work out. The defeat of the Government at the same time destroyed the only reason he had for entering public life, and the announcement of his retirement will be accepted as a matter of course by the public. During the short time he was in office there was no doubt that Dr. Cody devoted all his ability to the task he had undertaken, and he returns to the duties of his church with the respect of the province. His plunge into politics will not make him any the worse as a clergyman, for it no doubt, has served to give him an insight into worldly things that is more or less denied other members of the cloth. And the knowledge will not be without its usefulness.

A POOR CHOICE.

The protest of the Winnipeg returned soldiers against the appointment of ex-Mayor R. D. Waugh, of Winnipeg, as Canada's representative on the Saar Valley Commission, which is to operate under the League of Nations, is entirely a reasonable one. If there was ever a position in the gift of the Canadian Government that should have been awarded to a veteran of the war, it would seem to be this appointment; for, without the fighting ability of the Canadians and other allied soldiers, there would have been no such commission in existence at the present moment.

In an international appointment of this kind, the Government might have been expected to exercise care and judgment in making its selection. The Saar Valley Commission is an important body, for the coal mines of the district will be under its control until France has received the quantity of coal that she was awarded as compensation by the Peace Treaty. A knowledge of at least the rudiments of coal mining and the ability to speak French well are two qualifications that should have been insisted on in selecting Canada's member, and among the men who fought for the Dominion in France there could surely have been found some one who filled these requirements much better than Mr. Waugh, whose chief qualification for the office is said to be his friendship with Hon. J. A. Calder. He was formerly a real estate agent, and in the past few years has occupied several Government positions. His appointment on the Saar Commission seems to be little less than a petty piece of political patronage, and the protest of the Winnipeg veterans should be followed by an equally vigorous protest on the floor of the House of Commons.

THE BAND AND THE REGIMENT.

Interest in the question of the possible organization of a citizens' band in Peterborough to which the whole of the civic appropriation for music might be given, instead of dividing it between two or three organizations, as has been the practice in recent years, seems to be increasing, and not only among musicians, but among citizens generally the matter is being discussed. There is one factor that enters into the question that cannot be ignored in any plans that may be made, and that is the fact that, with the newly organized Peterborough Rangers, a regimental band is practically a necessity if the unit is to flourish. Kipling has said that the band is the soul of a regiment, and

A rich copious lather
—produced from a half inch of cream
—in cold water as well as hot
—remaining moist to the end of the shave
—actually softening the beard without "rubbing in"
—A better lather
—A better shave
—that's Mennen's.
MENNEN'S
SHAVING CREAM

certainly the importance of having a good band in connection with a military organization is recognized by every one. The solution, therefore, of the present problem that suggests itself is an amalgamation of the city's musicians to form a band that could be attached to the local regiment and still be at the disposal of the citizens for community purposes.

There are obvious difficulties in the path of such a movement, sacrifices would have to be made by individuals and organizations; concessions and compromises would perhaps be necessary. But if the obstacle could be removed and an arrangement as outlined entered into, there are many who believe that the result would be beneficial.

A flourishing live militia regiment is a most valuable asset to a community; on the other hand, a second-rate, run-down organization is the worst possible kind of an advertisement. Anything that will tend, therefore, to build up the 57th Regiment is good business for Peterborough, and nothing is more essential than a good band. In Ottawa the difficulty has been solved by the merging of the G.W.V.A. band into the band of the 38th Regiment. It would be worth while for the city aldermen to see what can be accomplished here.

THE GRATUITY QUESTION.

The writer of the following letter cannot have read the article in the Examiner he complains of very closely or he would have realized that there was no reference whatever to the G.W.V.A. re-establishment scheme. The Examiner was contrasting the requests made by the American returned soldiers with the United Veterans' League $2,000 gratuity scheme—an entirely different matter. Here is the letter:

Peterborough, Ont., Mar. 5, 1920.

Dear Sir,—After reading an article in your paper of the 4th inst., I believe it to be in the interest and in fairness to our organization, of which I am a member, to ask why such an article should be placed in your paper as a comparison in regard to gratuity.

If the person who is guilty of trying to poison the minds of the people against the G.W.V.A. War Gratuity Scheme would like to get a copy of the G.W.V.A. gratuity basic table, clearly stating the wishes of that body of war veterans, why I am sure if he calls at the Veterans' Rooms we would be pleased to show him where the War Veterans of Canada have not even asked as much as the U. S. A. Veterans have, and most of Canada's men were on active service for two, three, four and even five years, while most of the U. S. A. soldiers were only away from their own country for a matter of one year, or two at the most.

I will state my case for the benefit of our previous writer. I was away from Canada four years. Now, if I got $50 a month for the time I was away as a gratuity, I would receive $2,400, and, according to our own scheme, I am only entitled to $1,500 or $1,800, and if I got the smaller rate our friend uses of $30 per month, why I would get $1,440. So if our friend just compares service with service and scheme against scheme, he will, I am sure, see where he owes an apology to the Canadian veterans. Hoping, Mr. Editor, that you find it convenient for to place this before the public through the columns of your valuable paper, I remain, a subscriber of our paper.

OSCAR KELLAR

171 Dublin St., East City.

Our correspondent is advised to read the article in last Thursday's Examiner once again and he will see for himself that his letter is out of court altogether. The G.W.V.A. re-establishment scheme on which he speaks is a much more logical and reasonable proposition than the $2,000 gratuity plan of Sergt. Flynn and his United Veterans. The G.W.V.A. gratuity schedule is based on service, whereas Flynn's plan calls for $2,000 for every soldier who went to France, $1,500 for those who reached England, and $1,000 for those who served in Canada. It would mean that every man who was in France for five years or five days, in the trenches or drilling recruits back at the base, on escort duty, or on a Cook's tour would be handed $2,000. It would not matter how long or how he had served. If he only went as far as Le Havre with a draft and returned to England again Mr. Flynn says Canada should give him $2,000. The scheme is ridiculous, no matter what way it is looked at. Imagine handing $1,000 to an ex-member of the forces whose only service before being discharged as medically unfit, consisted of two or three weeks at Barriefield. And that is what the United Veterans' League plan means.

The Examiner remarked the other night that, compared to this scheme, the request of the American Veterans of Foreign Wars for a bonus of $30 a month and $100 extra for overseas service looked modest well, doesn't it? Under the American scheme a soldier with three months' service at home would receive $90. Mr. Flynn's proposal would give the Canadian soldier of three months' service $1,000. An American soldier who served overseas and was in the army altogether two years would be given $730. The United Veterans' plan would give the Canadian of two years' service $2,000. Even a Canadian who had served five years, and there was only a small percentage who did so, would not, if bonused on the scheme promised by the American Veterans of Foreign Wars, receive as much as the Flynn plan would give him, for five years' service, plus the $100 bonus, would mean $1,900, while the United Veterans ask for $2,000. And a soldier need only to have been in France for a day to qualify. The Flynn crowd want the $2,000 in addition to the gratuities already paid, the maximum of which reaches $600 in the case of a married soldier.

A VICIOUS PROPACANDA.

The agitation against the circulation of the Hearst newspapers in Canada is growing, and for good reasons. Undoubtedly the Hearst propaganda in this country is doing a great deal to create Canadian resentment and unfriendliness toward the United States.

Colorless faces often show the absence of iron in the blood.

Hearst has a bitter hatred of Great Britain, which is reflected continually in all his newspapers. Even when his country was at war with Germany by the side of Britain, he never ceased to placard his contention that Britain and not Germany was the real enemy. Since the end of the war his campaign has increased in malice and hatred and venom. In hardly an issue of his New York and Chicago and Boston papers has Britain escaped attack in news columns, editorials and cartoons.

Listen to this:

"British newspapers are showing their teeth to America."

"We are glad of it."

* * *

"It was propaganda that entangled us in England's war."

"It was that propaganda that sought to make us a virtual British colony, through a so-called League of Nations dominated by England."

* * *

"The British Empire was whipped beyond a doubt in the spring of 1917."

"Of course, when we decided to [illegible] the world thought the British Empire was invincible, but had we remained neutral or had we seen fit to resist British tyrannies and take part with Germany, the British Empire would have been conquered as completely as the German Empire."

Or this:

"England is not only strengthening her hold, but is enlarging her army."

"She has appropriated three hundred millions to build up an air fleet."

"And we pay the bills."

* * *

"Money to build these battleships and these airships and to enlarge the British army is money due to us."

"That's no reward for saving these people the licking that was coming to them, and which a lot of Americans think would have done them good."

Or this:

"The British rule in India is, and long has been, a disgrace to a people supposed to be Christian, civilized and democratic."

"It is a rule as savage as that of the Turk in Armenia and as despotic as that of the Czar before that tyrant was thrown from his throne."

* * *

"The total unlawful killings charged to the Germans in Belgium is less than three hundred, and in this massacre at Amritzar, old and young were shot down in bloody heaps to the number of fifteen hundred."

* * *

"One British uniformed murderer slew three times more innocent and unarmed adults and children in twenty minutes than his own Government accuses the Germans of having slain in Belgium in four years."

"And yet we still hear and read about Huns."

These are not isolated extracts, but are typical of a regular and persistent campaign, which can have only one end in view in the mind of the maniac who inspires it—war between Great Britain and the United States.

Of course, this is not typical of American sentiment. The average decent American is as ashamed of Hearst as any respectable man would be of having a criminal degenerate in his family. But the average Canadian reader of this abominable stuff does not always keep this in mind, and there is danger of stimulating the feeling that a nation which allows a friendly country to be so vilified and blackguarded daily has some sympathy with the attack. And because of that danger, and the obvious desirability of continued and increasing friendliness between the two nations on this continent, the continued circulation of this poison confronts the Federal Government with a serious problem.—Montreal Star.

The following information is summarized from a letter from Mr. S. Messer, President of the Company:—

1. The Continental Oil Company, Limited, of Canada, the business and assets of which have been acquired by the North Star Oil & Refining Company, Limited, a Canadian corporation, has been in successful operation in the Prairie Provinces for the past eleven years.

2. The Company has no bond issue or other funded indebtedness outstanding nor any floating debt other than current accounts payable.

3. Earnings after the completion of a refinery for the production of refined oil, gasoline and lubricating oil, at Winnipeg, which refinery is expected to begin operations about the middle of the year, are estimated to be initially at the rate of $150,000 to $160,000 annually, or equal to over twice the dividend upon the Preferred Stock. With the completion of other refineries, earnings are expected to materially increase.

4. The Company has affiliations with large and responsible producers in the United States which should ensure a continuous and constant supply of crude oil. In the event of the development of crude oil in commercial quantities in the Canadian West, the Company, with refineries at Winnipeg, Saskatoon and Calgary, will be in an advantageous position to manufacture from this crude, refined oil, gasoline and other petroleum products for the Western trade.

Applications, which should be accompanied with cheque for full payment, will be received only on the understanding that the right is reserved by us to allot all, a portion only, or none of the amount applied for. In the event of a partial allotment the balance, and if none be allotted the full amount forwarded, will be returned to the applicant.

It is intended that application be made to list these issues on the Toronto, Montreal and Winnipeg Stock Exchanges.

TEN NIGHTS OF EVANGELISM

TWO WEEKS' SPECIAL SERVICES BEGIN AT GEORGE STREET METHODIST CHURCH.

Yesterday's church services at the George street Methodist church were the beginning of two weeks of special meetings. They were marked by large congregations and inspirational services.

In the morning Rev. A. J. Thomas preached on "A Question which Divided a Multitude," and in the evening, Rev. Walter E. Millson of London, Ont., on "God's Plan and our Response."

Both speakers made strong appeals for decision and service.

Rev. Walter E. Millson, who is a strong and forceful and convincing speaker and also a singer, will assist during the two weeks. Mr. Millson is not an evangelist. He is one of the field secretaries of the Methodist church, of the Department of Evangelism and Social Service, and has been loaned for this work through the kindness of the department. His subjects for the first three nights will be:

Monday—"Is the Church Efficient?"

Tuesday—"Backsliders—Are there Any?"

Wednesday—"The Way to the Kingdom."

He will also sing each night.

The meetings, which will continue everynight except Saturday, will be held in the auditorium of the church, and will commence with a song service at 7.45 p.m. sharp. No collection will be taken.

Those who will assist in the choir as choir are asked meet in the left transept, at 7.40.

Mr. Thomas based his remarks on the words of Moses: "Who is on the Lord's side?" uttered by him after coming down from Mount Sinai and finding the children of Israel worshipping the Golden Calf.

Mr. Thomas pointed out that the question asked by Moses, "Who is on the Lord's Side?" is timely. If God should ask the citizens of Peterboro this question to-day who would rally to his standard, and who would be indifferent. The majority of people are exceedingly anxious at times for God to be on their side, for instance in the time of sickness. They may curse God when the sun shines, but when the storm comes they pray. It is comforting to Know that God is our eternal refuge, but it is also of great importance that we should be on the Lord's side.

To be on the Lord's side involves separation from sin. It is a mistake to think that there is no idolatry in these days. Anything which takes the place which should be sacred to God is an idol. Prosperity, pleasure, social standing are some of the idols of to-day. Jesus plainly said "Ye cannot serve God and mammon."

"Unless we are striving to live victoriously," said Mr. Thomas, "we are not one of His people no matter what profession we may make."

Being on the Lord's side also involves service. Real religion is not simply an inward impression; it is also an outward expression. There are no loafers on the Lord's side. There are many forms of service, but one point which is particularly important is the Divine Master counts upon His people to win others to His side. The reclaiming of the sinner is the work of every Christian.

It is a solmen truth that we are either on the Lord's side or against Him. "May God save us from being selfish about our religion," said Mr. Thomas. "May we have a self-sacrificing passion to save men and women in the community."

Mr. Millson's subject was "God's Plan and our Response." That Mr. Millson is very familiar with the Scriptures was plainly evidenced by the way in which he quoted passage after passage bearing on the subject.

In introducing his subject Mr Millson quoted such passages as John 3: 16, Isa. 55 1; Isa. 55:7, and Rev. 22: 17, as examples of the many passages which appear in the Bible, containing the basic principles of God's plan. There are certain fundamentals which underlie the whole basis of our work in carrying out God's plan.

"I am persuaded," said Mr Millson, "that what ever our history has been we are coming face to face with the time—in fact are there now—when the church of God instead of being less positive in her belief must be more positive. I believe with all the intensity of my nature that it is within the great plan and purpose of God that His Kingdom shall extend the world over." In the fulfillment of God's plan for us the Scriptures say that in the fullness of time Jesus came forth and seized this old world with a grip of love that He might bring it back from darkness to light. Jesus opened His public ministry by saying, "The Kingdom of God is at hand," and He reiterated this again and again.

Mr. Millson drew the attention of the congregation to two important statements made by Jesus, just before and after his crucifixion. The first, was St. John 18-17, "As thou hast sent me into the world, even so I have also sent them into the world." The other statement was "Go ye unto all the world and preach the Gospel to every creature." There and then Jesus committed his commission to His followers.

All down through the dark ages since that commandment was given every religious movement has had for its basic principle the extension and establishment of the Kingdom of God.

"What does Church Membership mean to those of you who are the professed followers of Jesus?" asked Mr. Millson; "or in other words—what is your response to the challenge of God to extend and establish His kingdom?

Do you think a person can be a loyal subject of the Kingdom and not honestly endeavour to promote that kingdom? I believe after giving it a good deal of thought that it would be in the interests of the kingdom of God for the man or woman who has been falsely flying the flag of the cross to pull it down rather than be disloyal.

"Let us not camouflage in our relation with the kingdom."

Mr. Millson concluded by making a strong appeal for the support of the congregation during the coming "Ten Nights of Evangelism."

WAS AFRAID TO GO TO SLEEP AT NIGHTS

WAS ALMOST DESPERATE FROM ILL HEALTH, BUT FEELS FINE SINCE TAKING TANLAC.

"I am just so happy over what Tanlac has done for me that I can't find words to express my gratitude," was the statement recently made by Mrs. John O'Neil, who lives on Victoria Road, Sydney, Nova Scotia.

"For three years I had been troubled with indigestion so bad that I thought I would have to give up entirely," she continued. "After nearly every meal the pains in my stomach and across my chest would almost draw me double and I would bloat up with gas until I simply had to fight for breath and my heart palpitated something awful. Night after night I sat up in bed afraid to go to sleep, and often I would have to get up and walk the floor to keep from choking. I felt so weak at times I had so little energy that my housework was a burden, life was no pleasure to me. I worried so much all the time that I was almost desperate.

"When I began taking Tanlac I had already taken so many medicines that did me no good at all that I had but little faith in anything. But I quickly changed my mind because I started to improve in almost no time after I began taking it. I took five bottles in all and to-day I am in better health than I have been in many years. I can eat anything I want now and digest it perfectly. The gas does not trouble me any more and I never have a pain of any kind. As my breathing is free and easy I am no longer afraid to go to sleep at night and I fall asleep just as soon as I go to bed and never wake up until the morning, and when I get up I am full of life and energy. At times it seems so wonderful the way Tanlac has built me up that I can hardly realize myself what perfect health I am enjoying.

15 Per Cent. Increase For Electrical Workers

RECOMMENDATIONS OF CONCILIATION BOARD IN C.G.E. DISPUTE REACH MINISTER OF LABOUR—WAGE ADVANCE RETROACTIVE TO JANUARY 6.

MEN ASKED 20 PER CENT.

OTTAWA, Ont. March 7. — The Minister of Labor has received a report from the Board of Conciliation which investigated the dispute between electrical workers of the Canadian General Electric Co., of Peterborough, Ont. and the company. The report recommends an increase of fifteen per cent. over present rates of wages, the increase to date from the 6th of last January, and to remain in force for one year. The employes had asked for an increase of 20 per cent. The report also recommends that time and a half be paid for overtime up until 10 p.m., double time after 10 p.m., on Sundays and on all holidays.

The Plague of Pimples

Body Covered With Them

The primary cause of pimples arises from the blood not being in good condition. When the blood becomes impure you will find that pimples will break out all over the body, but more particularly on the forehead, nose and chin, and although they are not dangerous trouble they are very unsightly. What you need when pimples or boils break out is a real good blood purifying medicine such as Burdock Blood Bitters.

This preparation has been on the market for over 40 years and is the most reliable remedy for all troubles arising from a bad condition of the blood. It removes all the impurities from the system and will leave a clear, healthy skin.

Mr Emerson G. Goodwin, Cambridge, N.B., writes: "For nearly two years I suffered from boils and pimples on my face and neck, and nearly all of my body was covered with the pimples. I tried most everything, but got no relief. One day a friend advised me to try Burdock Blood Bitters, and after the use of [illegible] Bitters, I was entirely cured."

STOCK MARKET OPENED WEAKER

(United Press.)

NEW YORK, March 8.—The stock market opened weaker today. Trading was light at the start and was mostly in the steel group, all these issues declining fractionally. General motors, however, continued to advance, and was up ¼ at 260. U.S. Steel opened at 97, off ½. Crucible 196½ off ⅜, Republic 88½ off ⅞, Baldwin 111½ off ⅜, Studebaker 80¾ off ⅝, U.R. Stores 70 off ⅛. U.S. Rubber 101¾ off ½, New Haven 32¾ up ¼, Mexican Petroleum 176¼ off ¼. While most of the list was inclined to sell off in the first hour, Motors were firm and general Motors old stock made an early high at 270, up nearly 12 points net. The new stock touched 27.

Motors, tire and rubber stocks were still inclined to advance and steel issues were also steady around noon, but oils were decidedly reactionary with Mexican pet off six points from last weeks high and Pan American down four points. General Motors sold at 275 up 16¼. Call money opened and renewed at 8 per cent. against 9 per cent. Friday.

STERLING EXCHANGE.

(United Press.)

NEW YORK, March 8.—A slump in sterling exchange almost as violent as its sensational rise last week, was indicated today when the British exchange opened at $3.55 a drop of 5¼ cents from Saturday's close. Shortly after the opening sterling dropped to $3.54¼ off ¾ cents from Saturday's close. There was a general recession in other foreign exchanges. Bills on Paris dropping 25 centimes to 14.02 francs per dollar and lire off 35 centimes to 18.22.

Sterling recovered two cents at noon. Demand was $3.56¼ and cables $3.57, francs gained 10 centimes, lire at $18.15 was up 5 centimes. Bar silver in London was 1 penny higher at 79 pence. Bar silver here was $1.01 bid. Mexican dollars were $.0106.

DAN. WHETUNG, JR., GLAD OF COMING FRANCHISE

"Let it come soon," said Dan. Whetung, Jr., of Chemong, referring to the announcement by the Hon. Arthur Meighen, of the Government's intention to extend the franchise to Indians, particularly to those of Eastern Canada.

There are some 250 men, women and children on the Curve Lake reserve and fifty or sixty men of voting age. The annuity to Indians for their surrendered lands is from $3 to $4 a year. The Government proposes, in addition to the enfranchising of the Indians, to make education compulsory.

Mr. Whetung welcomes any changes that will give the Indians a broader citizenship and rights to which they proved themselves entitled by their voluntary enlistment in the war.

A memorandum pad and pencil hung close beside the pantry shelves is convenient for jotting down supplies which are needed.

BANDS MAY UNITE.

Ottawa G.W.V.A. Musicians Consider Joining the 38th Regt. Band.

At the regular general meeting of Ottawa Command, G.W.V.A., on Monday evening, the question of the proposed band merger was taken up. It was explained that a meeting of the executive with the members of the band and with Colonel Edwards had been been held, and the question of merging the band into the new one being organized by the Ottawa regiment was fully discussed. Many of the members of the command are opposed to the merger and wish the band carried on as before. Others expressed the conviction that Ottawa could not support three first class bands, and that many of the G.W.V.A. bandsmen would be attracted to the new regimental band.

A committee composed of Comrades Lane, Robertson, Loughnan, O'Brien and [illegible] was appointed to go into the [illegible] and report at the next [illegible]—Ottawa Jurnal.

More and More New Blouses

The Blouse Department offers many delightful new styles for Easter. Georgette crepe, crepe de chine, tricolette and batiste; long and short, plain or embroidered, some with lace and others with frills. From $6.95 to $25. Two excellent assortments—one priced at $6.95 and the other at $8.95, both in Georgettes.

Tailored Blouses for Women

Many of these Blouses are hand-made and are all so exceptionally well made that it is hard to distinguish them from many higher priced models. Drawn work and fine hand-stitching and tucking is featured on many. But simplicity makes every one distinctive. All are fashioned of fine batiste or voile. Priced $5.85 to $11.50.

The Utility of a Separate Skirt

With a smart new Skirt of plaid in colors or black and white, of duvetyn, English woolens, satin or faille, one has the basis for many costumes. Knife and accordeon plaits, draperies and clever little touches of originality distinguish these skirts from the mediocre. One of these skirts and the smart new overblouses create a variety in the limited wardrobe. Priced from $22.75 to $43.00.

CONDEMNS SMOKING AMONG WOMEN

INTERESTING COURSE OF LECTURES AT THE CRESSMAN STORE.

On Saturday afternoon Mrs. Margaret Blair concluded a series of six lectures which she gave in Cressman's store each afternoon of the past week and which proved not only interesting and instructive but lent a big impetus to the citizens of Peterboro to make their homes as well as themselves more beautiful by simple inexpensive processes.

Each lecture given by Mrs. Blair led up to the subject of the following day until by Saturday she had concluded the course and invited all ladies to utilize the last day in asking her questions upon any points upon which they were puzzled as to the care of the body, face and home. This proved one of the most interesting of the series as points pertaining to the individual were explained and remedies suggested by the speaker. During the course of the "Question Box" afternoon Mrs. Blair spoke in no uncertain terms upon smoking and thoroughly convinced her audience of the degenerating influence of the unwomanly habit pointing out the evil effects upon the mind and body.

Dancing for Health.

Mrs. Blair at the special request of her audience repeated the dances which she had given on a previous afternoon bringing out the fact that dancing is not a sin but rather an healthful exercise and better for the health than all the medicine a physician could give. The speaker's own physicial condition was ample demonstration of the good effects of dancing she being one hundred per cent well according to her physicians latest reports while some years ago before she took up dancing and other exercises her doctor had told her that she would never be well again. By dancing the minuet, spanish dances, highland fling, etc., she showed how such exercise gave poise to the body ease to the mind and health to the system.

In answer to a query as to the good or evil effects of eating before retiring Mrs. Blair advised the questioner to do just as she thought fit. A glass of milk, she said or an onion sandwich could be beneficial to any one who felt she needed food.

Week's Talks.

On Monday, Mrs. Blair commenced the series by a talk on health exemplyfying some of the more healthful exercises and spoke at length upon healthful foods. On Tuesday having built the imaginary woman to carry a gown she brought out the necessity for all to study lines, color effects and materials and demonstrated the manner in which materials might be draped to suit the different figures. Her audience carried away many helpful hints on dressing in good taste.

On Wednesday Mrs. Blair dealt with the dining table and its appointments, setting a table and serving an imaginary five course meal. She pointed out the fact that the dining room is the centre of the home education and the necessity of cultivating perfect manners for this room. On Thursday in speaking on "The House" she showed out many ways in which the house we live in could be made beautiful by the most simple methods and showed the invaluable new story in the part the work plays, how much of what ever kind even to washing dishes might be made a pleasure viewed from the right angle. "Happiness" she impressed upon her audience is an essential feature in the home.

Speaking on Friday on the care of the skin Mrs. Blair surprised her audience by impressing them with the absolute necessity in the winter climates of oil as well as water baths. She showed how the skin, which is one of the three channels for throwing off the impurities of the body needs nourishment in the form of oils when washed.

Lectures Appreciated

On Saturday Mrs. Blair was given an ovation by her audience many of the people present having been at all the lectures. She declined any credit and said that all credit was due to Mr. Cressman who had engaged her services and thus left the ladies of the information received. She promised that she would endeavor on her return to the city next year and addressed the ladies of the town treating [illegible] the Peterboro people had given.

PETERBORO FAIR DIRECTORS MEET

IMPORTANT BUSINESS TRANSACTED —REPORTS RECEIVED.

The Peterboro Fair Board held its regular meeting Saturday afternoon in the Business College Rooms, which were secured at the last minute through the kindness of Mr. J. A. McKone when it was found that the United Farm Women had put one over on them in securing the Board of Trade rooms. Some twenty members were present and several important matters discussed. President Roland Denne presided.

The reports of several committees were read and adopted and a number of important motions put through. It was moved and seconded that the cheques issued be signed by the President and the Secretary or treasurer.

The Secretary showed a sample of the ribbons that could be secured for the Poultry Exhibit and remarked that prices on these were awaiting skywards, advising them to order them at once. It was moved and carried that these ribbons be ordered.

Silver Cup.

A beautiful silver cup secured from the Merchants Bank through the local manager, Mr. C. S. Cummer was exhibited and drew forth much admiration. Mr. Denne suggested that it be put on the cattle prize list and following his suggestion a motion carried that it take the place of the Garbutt Cup for the best Durham bull of any age exhibited.

Mr. Denne spoke on the excellent reception given the directors who went before Hon. Manning Doherty the Minister of Agriculture to try to secure a grant for building and also to see about the Winter Fair. Mr. Denne expressed his entire satisfaction with the reception given them by the minister who said that it would be impossible to give any grant for building as it was against the policy of the government but on the Winter Fair he promised them the maximum grant. He expects to come here soon to look over the grounds and in the fall will open the fair.

Mr. J. W. Fraser suggested that plans be prepared for his entertainment and a banquet to be tendered [illegible] It was moved and carried after the suggestion had been commended that the secretary write the minister thanking him for his consideration and enquiring as to the date of his visit so the preparations can be get under way.

AMERICANS EAT "TOO HIGH UP ON THE HOG" AND "TOO FAR BACK ON THE BEEF," PACKERS SAY

CHICAGO, March 8.—Southern laborers who are "eating too high up on the hog" (pork chops and ham) and American housewives who "eat too far back on the beef" (porterhouse and round steak) are to blame for the continued high cost of living, the American Institute of Meat Packers announced here.

With the export market for meat shattered by adverse foreign exchange and wholesale prices back to where they were a year or two ago, the American consumer is chiefly responsible for present high prices, the institute's bulletin on February conditions says.

"At home there was a good volume of pork trade during the month," the bulletin says, "but consumers seemed to want the choice and higher priced cuts. High wages in the South have led to purchase of choicer cuts of pork than in former years, and the result is a lack of sale for heavier cuts of salt pork."

Hog prices early in the month were at the highest level of the Winter, with receipts at the yards 15 to 20 per cent. below normal, despite the fact that Government reports show there is probably a large surplus on the farms.

In the beef market a "factor which has had great influence upon the beef trade has been the relatively strong demand for hindquarter beef and the poor demand for forequarter beef," the packers state.

The mutton situation is similar. The report says: "A larger demand from the housewife for cuts from the shoulder and stew that would help in equalizing prices of all cuts. It would lower the cost of the more expensive cuts and would lead to a better consumption demand for the carcass." There is a shortage of lambs, due to failure of many Colorado stockmen to buy at prices prevailing last Fall, and as a result practically the entire market supply from now until June 1 must come from the Scotts Bluff territory in Nebrasko and Colorado, the bulletin says.

NEAR STOCK MARKETS CES DOMINION CANNERS SHOW INCREASED PROFITS IN 1919

The profits of Dominion Canners, Limited, for 1919, were $819,823, as compared with $745,324 for 1918. The directors decided not to pay a dividend on the common stock, although there was $559,000 left after payment of bond interest, dividends on the preferred stock, etc., which would have been sufficient to pay 18 or 19 per cent. on the common stock. The reason given was that owing to the high cost of everything the money would be needed by the company for its operations.

Sales of the company during the year were about $2,000,000 greater than during the previous year. The directors declared a dividend of 1¾ per cent on preferred, payable April 1.

SANDRA THE JEALOUS

BY JANE PHELPS

SANDRA IS ENLIGHTENED.

Chapter LXVI.

An officer came soon after I was dressed and took a list of all that was missing with a description of each article. He gave scant hope that we would catch the burglar giving as at least one reason the ticket in my bag.

"You see, if he had to stop at the ticket office and buy a ticket to get out of town it would be one more clue. But all he had to do was to walk to the gate and get in the crowd going through."

Again I wondered what Everett would say when he heard this. Had I not disobeyed him and followed him to the station, I should not have bought the ticket and the burglar could not have used it.

I had gone to see Hetty's friend to find out more about Leola, and Thomas had been injured and the motor car damaged. I had allowed the burglar who had shot James to get away with my jewels because I had bought a ticket to New York, when he had told me that I shouldn't go. He would come home to an upset household, my sapphires gone, both men unable to wait upon him, and a lot of notoriety besides—something that he abhorred.

Thinking of it all made me so nervous I could scarcely bear it. I was not a normal woman perhaps—I was too immature, too young. Certainly I was not normal where Everett was concerned. He would come home to find I had followed him to the station and then he would hear of the robbery—if he had not already done so, and I would be so unhappy because of his displeasure that I would cry again and be utterly miserable.

Then, too the presence of an officer in the house was upsetting. He had been so curious, had asked so many questions as to why I had that ticket to New York, that I felt horribly uncomfortable. It was as if I knew the burglar and had helped him get away. I told Mrs. Gray when I could keep still no longer.

"Don't mind him," she told me. "They have to be suspicious you know—it was unfortunate that you had it, that is all."

"Mrs. Gray, do you suppose Ev—Mr. Graham will blame me for all that has happened?" I could keep still no longer. And she looked so sympathetic, so kind, that I just blurted out: "He told me that he would not take me but I went to the station just the same and tried to follow him. Then I was so disappointed I didn't know what to do so I proposed the visit to Hatty's friend. Then Thomas was hurt and the machine damaged. But if I had gone with him and taken my jewelry there would have been nothing much for the burglar to have taken and perhaps no one would have heard him, and James would not have been shot. Oh dear I seem to have been to to blame for everything that has happened."

"Don't feel that way, Mrs. Graham. I am sorry that you went against your husband's wishes and so had that ticket for the burglar—yet after all he may not have used it. But accidents are unavoidable. But take it all in all I think that you have been very fortunate. You might have been terribly injured in the automobile accident, and you might have been shot by the burglar instead of James."

"But Mrs. Gray—would he have scolded his first—the first Mrs. Graham?"

"Mercy, no—he never scolded her for anything." Then recollecting—"He won't scold you either. He will be too thankful that you are not injured," but I noticed that when she spoke so impulsively-for her-of Leola, she had flushed as if she had regretted her words and had looked remorsefully at me.

"You are sure that he wouldn't have scolded her?"

"I never heard him say a cross word to her," she acknowledged.

"Then he shan't scold me. Just because he was unhappy because of some things she did I am not going to be treated like a child and made to walk a crack. It isn't fair."

The door bell rang just then. Hetty brought me a yellow message. I opened it and read:

"Home late to-night. Do not sit up for me.—Everett."

CHANGE OF MINISTERS AT LETHBRIDGE.

LETHBRIDGE, March 6. — The appointment of the Rev. Major Barrow to the rectorship of the parish of St. Augustin, has been approved. The Rev. Canon Murrell-Wright, whom he succeeds, will be leaving to take up his new charge in Toronto some time early this month.

ONE GREAT ESSENTIAL TO A WOMAN'S HEALTH IS HER NERVES

Nature intended women to be strong, healthy and happy as the day is long, instead of being sick and wretched. But how can any woman be healthy and happy when the whole nervous system is unstrung. The trouble is they pay more attention to their social and household duties than they do to their health. Is it any wonder then that they become irritable and nervous, have hot flushes, faint and dizzy spells, smothering and sinking spells, become weak and nervous, and everything in life becomes dark and gloomy.

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are the very remedy that nervous, tired-out, weary women need to restore them to the blessings of good health.

Mrs. P. H. Ryan, Sand Point, N.S. writes:—"I have been a great sufferer from nerve troubles. I was so weak and nervous I could not sleep at night and my appetite was very poor. I could not walk across the floor without trembling. I had hot flushes and fainting spells. When I was on second box of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills I began to feel better and kept on until I had used six boxes when I felt like a different person. I am never without them in the house and recommend them to all who suffer with their nerves."

Price 50c. a box at all dealers or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

GOSPEL HALL NOTES

"After Death, What?" was the subject taken by Evangelist Harper in the Gospel Hall last evening.

These special meetings are attracting the attention of the thinking people of Peterborough and they are speaking of blessing received.

A message in song was given by three young people before the sermon was delivered.

"Mankind born on the broad way are hastening on to death," said Mr. Harper, "and not only physical death but eternal death in the lake of fire."

It was pointed out that God was seeking to save mankind, proving His love to them by sending the Lord Jesus to die on Calvary.

The death of the believer was first dwelt upon. Various texts were cited, showing that while the body slept in the grave the soul went to be with the Lord.

Reading the latter part of Luke 16 the speaker showed that the portion of the unsaved sinner after death was judgment. The audience was warned to flee from coming wrath and pointed to Christ, the sinner's Saviour.

Mr. Harper will speak to-night at 8, the subject being "The Second Coming of Christ. Is it Near?"

SIR DONALD MANN IS INTERESTED IN NEW MINING FIELD.

Special to the Examiner:

WINNIPEG, Man., March 8.—Wonderful discoveries of platinum, gold and silver have been made recently in the Upper Thomson Valley of Central British Columbia, according to Chas. Camsell, of the Dominion Geological Department in British Columbia, who was in Winnipeg Sunday on his way to Toronto.

Other discoveries of precious metals in British Columbia, near the Alaskan border, are expected to result in one of the greatest mining booms of the century, according to Camsell. The gold mining in this region, in which Sir Donald Mann is interested, is declared to be the biggest ever found in North America, Camsell said.

IF THIN AND NERVOUS TRY BITRO-PHOSPHATE

While excessive thinness might be attributed to various and subtle causes in different individuals, it is a well-known fact that the lack of phosphorous in the human system is very largely responsible for this condition.

It seems to be well established that this deficiency in phosphorous may now be met by the use of Bitro-Phosphate, which can be obtained from any good druggist in convenient tablet form.

In many instances the assimilation of this phosphate by the nerve tissue soon produces a welcome change—nerve tension disappears, vigor and strength replace weakness and lack of energy and the whole body loses its ugly hollows and abrupt angles, becoming enveloped in a glow of perfect health and beauty and the will and strength to be up and doing.

CAUTION:—White Bitro-Phosphate is unsurpassed for the relief of nervousness, general debility, etc., those taking it who do not desire to put on flesh should use extra care in avoiding fat-producing foods.

BUILDERS IN WINNIPEG WILL STAY AT WORK

Special to the Examiner:

WINNIPEG, Man., March 8.—There will be no strike of building trades workers here this year, master builders and the unions having agreed at a series of conferences, just concluded, to adhere to the contracts which were negotiated but previous to the general strike of last year. The contracts, which are to run to May 1, 1921, provide for material increases in wages. In view of the extensive building programme for this season and of the heavy losses workmen suffered when the strike was on, the unions have decided that they will spend this season in working.

A DANGER SIGNAL—TENDER AND BLEEDING GUMS

Healthy teeth cannot live in diseased tissue. Gums tainted with Pyorrhea are dangerously diseased. For not only the teeth are affected, but Pyorrhea germs seep into the body, lower its vitality and cause many ills.

Pyorrhea begins with tender and bleeding gums. Then the gums recede, the teeth decay, loosen and fall out, or must be extracted to rid the system of the poisonous germs that breed in pockets about them.

Four out of five people over forty have this disease. But you need not have it. Visit your dentist often for tooth and gum inspection. And keep Pyorrhea away by using Forhan's For the Gums.

Forhan's For The Gums will prevent Pyorrhea—or check its progress—if used in time and used consistently. Ordinary dentifrices cannot do this. Forhan's keeps the gums hard and healthy, the teeth white and clean. If you have tender or bleeding gums, start using it today. If gum-shrinkage has already set in, use Forhan's according to directions, and consult a dentist immediately for special treatment.

HAS BROTHER IN PETERBORO

Well-Known Newspaper Men of Guelph Served Through the War.

GUELPH, March 8.—The death occurred here this afternoon of Ranald Macdonald, a well-known newspaper man of this city, following an illness of about three weeks. He came to Guelph from Scotland a few years ago, and was a student at the O.A.C., later going into newspaper work. He enlisted in 1914, and served all through the war with the 18th Battalion, being once wounded. He returned about a year ago and conducted a news bureau until he was taken ill. He was a son of Angus Macdonald of Edinburgh, Scotland, and was born in that city nearly thirty-nine years ago. His brother, George A. Macdonald, resides in Peterboro, and was here when he died. The funeral will take place here on Monday.

GET MIDGET'S FURNITURE

Museums Will Receive Belongings of Mrs. Tom Thumb.

PLYMOUTH, Mass.—The home furnishings of Mrs. Lavina W. Magri, known in America and Europe as Mrs. Tom Thumb and who died recently, will be placed in museums by the terms of her will which has been filed here. Her collection is said to include the smallest practical furniture in use.

Two miniature sewing machines and a piano are among the pieces mentioned by the will. Several of the articles were gifts from European royalty before whom she performed.

The remainder of her property is to be divided between her husband, Count Magri, also a midget, and two nephews.

Children Cry for Fletcher's

CASTORIA

Fletcher's Castoria is strictly a remedy for Infants and Children. Foods are specially prepared for babies. A baby's medicine is even more essential for Baby. Remedies primarily prepared for grown-ups are not interchangeable. It was the need of a remedy for the common ailments of Infants and Children that brought Castoria before the public after years of research, and no claim has been made for it that its use for over 30 years has not proven.

What is CASTORIA?

Castoria is a harmless substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups. It is pleasant. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other narcotic substance. Its age is its guarantee. For more than thirty years it has been in constant use for the relief of Constipation, Flatulency, Wind Colic and Diarrhoea; allaying Feverishness arising therefrom, and by regulating the Stomach and Bowels, aids the assimilation of Food; giving healthy and natural sleep. VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

Peterborough, March 8, 1920.

Editor, Examiner:

Sir, In an editorial entitled "The Wrong Method," the Examiner criticised the Fire Fighters' Association, who have recently presented a request for increased salary. This editorial contains the statements that the fire fighters have attempted to coerce members of the City Council and threatened strike unless their demands were acceded to. There has evidently been a great misunderstanding of the actual facts. The fire fighters have not attempted abuse, neither have the words "strike" or "demand" been mentioned. We presented (as is our privilege) a request to the City Council for increased salary, together with arguments in favour. The proceedings have been conducted in a most courteous manner on both sides. As far as "strike" is concerned, the following section from Article 2 of the Fire Fighters' Constitution will be self explanatory:

"It is deemed inadvisable to strike or to participate in any strike owing to the peculiar nature of our employment. We are formed for the protection of lives and property in the community in case of fire or other serious hazards."

It is to be regretted that a misunderstanding should occur. Harmony is essential at this particular time, and we think it is but just that our version of the incident should be given due prominence.

To Try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."

"I advise every suffering woman to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for it has done me so much good. I had female weakness, inflammation, pains in my sides and painful periods. I suffered for six years and tried many remedies without benefit. The doctor said I must have an operation. I read about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in the newspapers, and since taking it I am cured and have a nice baby four months old. I feel like a new woman, and have recommended your medicine to my friends. I would be glad to have everybody know what your medicine did for me, and if any write to me I will answer all letters."—Mrs. MARY CALIGIURE, 317 South Main St., Herkimer, N.Y.

Every woman at some period or other in her life may suffer from just such disturbances as Mrs. Caligiure, and if there is no interested friend to advise, let this be a reminder that this famous root and herb remedy has been overcoming these ailments of women for more than 30 years.

If any complications exist, write Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass., for advice. The result of many years' experience is at your service.

"Kill him, kill the umpire!" shouted someone in the stand.
And it is likely they'd have killed him had not Halpin raised his hand.

"Fraud," cried the maddened thousands and the echo answered fraud.
But the scornful look from Halpin and the audience was awed;
They saw his face grow stern and cold, they saw his muscles strain,
And they knew that Halpin wouldn't let that puck go by again.

The smile has gone from Halpin's lips, his teeth are clenched in hate,
He pounds with cruel violence the man up in the nets.
And now the umpire holds the puck and now he lets it go,
And now the air is shattered by the force of Halpin's blow.

Oh somewhere in this favored land the sun is shining bright,
The band is playing somewhere and somewhere hearts are light,
And somewhere men are laughing and somewhere children shout,
But there's no joy in town—mighty Halpin has struck out.

COBOURG TRIMMED PETERBORO TEAMS

BAD DAY FOR LOCAL COLLEGIATE BASKETBALL TEAMS.

Both the P. C. I. basketball teams, boys' and girls' were defeated by the Cobourg Collegiate in Cobourg on Saturday, the P.C.I. girls losing by a score of 8 to 7, and the boys by 55 to 30. The P. C. I. girls, however, are winners of the round, as they defeated Cobourg here two weeks ago, 9 to 7.

P.C.I. Girls vs. C.C.I. Girls

The first game between the girls' teams was in doubt almost to the end. Both teams played hard, and although Cobourg had a slight lead they had difficulty in holding it. The P.C.I. girls being unaccustomed to the floor, were less sure of their basket and Cobourg managed to win out by one point, the final score being 8 to 7.

Boys' Game

The P.C.I. boys' team was greatly handicapped. Four of their best players were unable to take the trip and a team had to be scraped together at the last moment with no time to even have a workout together. Consequently, when they went up against the almost flawless combination of the Cobourg team, they had no alternative but to try to hold Cobourg down. In doing this they exceeded the expectations of most

First Period

Cobourg opened the game with fast playing and a combination which the P.C.I. tried hard to break, but could not. Cobourg scored frequently, but as the game progressed P.C.I. began to find the flaws in the Cobourg combination and Young scored several baskets for P.C.I. At the end of the first period the score was: Cobourg C. I., 20; P. C. I., 18.

Second Period

In the second period Cobourg continued to score frequently, always keeping on the top side of the score, but once or twice P.C.I. drew dangerously near, the shooting of Young the P.C.I. forward, being the feature of the game. Final score C.C.I., 55; P.C.I., 30.

Only two periods of twenty minutes each were played as the P.C.I. teams wished to return on the 4.35 o'clock train.

BOWLING NEWS

Saturday night's bowling at the Y.M.C.A. resulted in a score of 2 to 1 in favour of George street. The losers of the extra game hail from All Saints and were out to hold up the good reputation they made in their opening games.

Pratt led the winners by chalking over 200 twice while McClellan for the losers was high man with an average score of 203.

The loss of Rose, All Saints' high roller, is keenly felt on the team, and it is hoped that his health will soon be recovered and that he will soon again be with his team.

George street—
Pratt	216	105	249	570
Robertson	172	170	179	521
Maynecord	286	109	168	563
Miller	151	99	125	380
Hamilton	158	116	159	733

All Saints—
McClellan	245	183	183	611
Copping	135	137	191	463
Barraclough	105	135	122	362
Lacheur	104	121	103	328
Turner	101	167	196	464
	690	743	795	2228

Schedule for the week:
March 10, at 7 p.m., George Street vs. Excelsiors.
March 11, at 7.30 p.m., St. Andrews vs. St. Pauls.
March 12, at 7.30, Murray Street vs. All Saints.

JOPLING'S HOCKEY STAR

Reported in verse by a hockey fan who witnessed the game recently between the Grocers and Jopling's store team:

JOPLING'S HOCKEY STAR

There was ease in Halpin's manner
As he stepped into his place;
There was pride in Halpin's bearing
And a smile on Halpin's face
And when responding to the cheers
He lightly doffed his hat,
No stranger in the crowd could doubt
It was Halpin at the net.

And now the rubber covered puck
Went whirling through the air;
And Halpin stood awatching it in haughty grandeur there.
Close by the sturdy defense man the puck unheeded sped,
"That ain't my style," said Halpin,
Strike one," the umpire said.

From the benches Mack with people there went up a muffled roar.
Like the beating of storm waves on a stern and distant shore.
"Kill him, kill the umpire!" shouted someone in the stand.
And it is likely they'd have killed him had not Halpin raised his hand.

"Fraud," cried the maddened thousands and the echo answered fraud.
But the scornful look from Halpin and the audience was awed;
They saw his face grow stern and cold, they saw his muscles strain,
And they knew that Halpin wouldn't let that puck go by again.

The smile has gone from Halpin's lips, his teeth are clenched in hate,
He pounds with cruel violence the man up in the nets.

FLUKE GOAL GAVE ASHTON VILLA GAME

LONDON, March 7.—Probably no game for the rest of the season will prove so dramatic a when Tottenham went down before Aston Villa yesterday, through Clay, Tottenham's right back, putting the ball through his own goal in trying to clear a centre from Kirton. The incident happened seven minutes after the start. Nobody witnessing the game could possibly assert that Aston deserved to win. They were outplayed practically the whole time by a faster and more polished team. The Tottenham forwards attacked throughout, but their fine middle field work was spoiled by erratic shooting. The Aston forwards were woefully disappointing, sending in not a single really dangerous shot. The attendance was 52,000, some arriving at six o'clock in the morning.

The Chelsea-Bradford game was in some ways an astonishing performance. Bradford, in the first half hour, playing in a manner that gave hopes of victory. After the change over, however, they went all to pieces. Ram completed Bradford's undoing. Ford was Chelsea's great forward. Little scored Bradford's only goal within three minutes. Sharp, Chelsea's new forward, scored twice. Logan and Wildin also scoring. The attendance was 61,000.

Huddersfield gained a brilliant victory over Liverpool before nearly 50,000 people, running their opponents almost to a standstill in the last half hour. In the first half the play was only moderate on both sides, who appeared to be over-anxious. Miller gave Liverpool the lead five minutes after the change of ends through a blunder by the home goalkeeper, then Swann put in a lovely goal for Huddersfield. Taylor scoring nine minutes after.

Before 25,000 spectators Bristol were decidedly more at ease on the greasy ground than the visitors. Harris, for Bristol, scored in each half. Bristol owed much of her supremacy to Nicholson.

In the League matches Arsenal gave an excellent account of themselves against Sheffield United, but hopes were dissipated a quarter of an hour before the close when Shaw retired hurt. Fulham were beaten at Barnsley, whose new player, Wainscott, delighted the spectators. Portsmouth lost another valuable point against Luton, both goals being obtained in the first half, the treacherous state of the ground making scientific football impossible. The scores:

TYRONE POWER, the eminent English actor, who will be seen at The Grand Opera House on Wednesday, March 10th, in his original character of "The Drainman" in "The Servant in the House."

MONCUR CASE WAS DISMISSED THIS MORNING

ALLEGED LIQUOR VENDOR WAS FINED $200 AND COSTS.

This morning's Police Court opened with the dismissal of the Moncur case over the selling of morphine or its derivatives. Magistrate Dumble, in dismissing it, dwelt on the condition of O'Brien and how he had been given morphine in the military hospitals in England, and how, when he returned, this was the treatment prescribed for him.

The prescriptions given were bona-fide prescriptions.

In reviewing the case, the Magistrate said he found the "poison" book all right as far as the Drug and Opium Act went, but Mr. Moncur had been a little careless in fully complying with the Act as far as getting full particulars as to name of persons introducing the purchaser. It has been pointed out to Mr. Moncur, and he will be more particular in the future.

The evidence was not sufficient to show that the defendant supplied heroin in bad faith or supplied it to an "opium fiend" who was simply gratifying his appetite.

The Government is making strenuous efforts to reduce the evil habit of using opium, and I would suggest that all druggists assist the Government in their efforts. I must dismiss this case.

Was Fined $200.

"If you have tears prepare to shed them now," Magistrate Dumble might have warned a local young man in Police Court this morning before setting the fine of the accused at the minimum under the O.T.A. — $200 and costs, which totalled $209.10.

He was charged with having kept for sale liquor without a license contrary to the O.T.A. He pleaded not guilty, and requested a summary trial, declining any legal help to defend him.

The Evidence.

Andrew V. Mann, of Otonabee, who it is alleged got his crock from the accused, and who was fined $14.10 earlier in the morning for being intoxicated in a public place, gave evidence. He said that on Saturday morning he came in from the country and spent the day around town, visiting in his funerary most of the hotels. Two per cent. was his limit until he met the young man, whom he alleged asked him at the Empress Hotel about one o'clock if he would like to have a drink. I said I wouldn't mind if I did, confessed the thirsty one. In the wash-room, Mann stated that the contents of a quart bottle, produced by the alleged bootlegger, were sampled. After several drinks, Mann said he bought the bottle, which the other condescended to let him have for the nominal charge of $6. Later on he finished the bottle, which resulted in a week-end at the Police Station.

The accused's story in the witness-box presented the other side. He stated that he met Mann on Saturday and was asked where he could get a drink. He was referred to a mysterious agent who came down from [illegible] told him he charged $10 a bottle," he said, and offered to go [illegible] bottle.

About 12.20 the young man was found and he got a bottle from him at [illegible]

I then went over to the Empress, [illegible] stated, and had three or four drinks, and as Mann wanted the bottle he let him have what was left for $6.

The Magistrate soundly rated him for getting Mann liquor while he was trying to fight off the "devil and his appetite," and stated that he had made himself a merchant without a license and also was putting the hotel in great danger by drinking there. The minimum fine was set in [illegible] all the accused's statements [illegible] more in getting a bottle for himself and himself, [illegible] commodate [illegible]

TYRONE POWER

The presentation by Trans-Canada Theatres Limited, of the eminent English actor, Tyrone Power, at the Grand Opera House on Wednesday, March 10th., in a revival of Charles Rann Kennedy's famous morality play, "The Servant in the House", will doubtless be received with keen interest by local theatre-goers for Mr. Power is well known throughout the entire Dominion.

It was in Montreal that Tyrone Power made his debut in the role of Brutus a triumphant portrayal which was hailed by the leading dramatic critics of Canada and the United States, as the finest of the generation he has played Brutus for over two years, and has also played the remarkable role of "The Drainman" in "The Servant in the House".

His engagement to interpret the same role in this initial production of an All-Canadian theatrical organization is significant in that Mr. Tower has for years been associated with the fight to keep the stage clean, and it is the avowed policy of Trans-Canada Theatres, Limited to maintain a high standard in the selection of plays it will produce and in regard to the casts chosen to present them.

"The Servant in the House," is especially timely today, when the universal unrest among civilized nations than ever before the necessity for the extension of the doctrine of universal brotherhood. This is the text of Mr. Kennedy's drama and the lesson it drives home with tremendous force.

Mr. Power is supported by a notable company including Mr. Harvey Hays, Mr. J. Irving White Mr. Walter Edwin, Mr. Harold DeBecker, Miss Alma Chester, Miss Chela Knight and others.

"LISTEN, LESTER"

Come from a years run at the Knickerbocker Theatre New York "Listen Lester" John Corts musical comedy success by Harry L. Cort, George E. Stodard, and Harold Orlob, comes to the Grand next Monday evening with the entire New York cast, chorus production and special company orchestra. Though to be exact, one should call it a dance instead of a run, for from the moment the curtain rises on the first scene, everything dances to a happy and dancey ending, where in an important packet of letters which is in itself the danciest and most elusive thing in the play, is returned to its rightful owner. Meanwhile the feet, and what is more important the hearts of the spectators are dancing merrily along in time to the music and all personal troubles are forgotten. The story is jolly and entertaining, and the lyrics are rhythmic and full of swing and the music tinkly and tuneful, and the scenery is artistic the costuming is effective, and the chorus is the daintiest, danciest that ever took an audience by storm. The excellent cast with Mayme Gehrue, Miriam Folger, Jean Thomas, Cecil Williams, Ann Ott, Florence De Barr, Frances Anderson, Florida Bellaire, William Sellery, Joseph Mack, William Wayne, Gus Shy, John L. Lyons Murry Hart, Mark Thompson, Andrew Leigh, is of super excellence.

FANCY'S FLIGHT.

Not for the dust, do ills arise
Nor troubles, of whatever guise,
Yet boots it not, from whence their source,
They come, betimes, with crushing force.
As down life's road, we fare.
All mortals find an ample share,
And to the bitter dregs, must drain,
The brimming cup, of grief and pain.

Tho troubles are the common fate,
Mine, double portion, seems of late,
Disease, in fearsome garb arrayed,
Her close abode, with me has made.
Neighbors and friends, in sore affright,
Have fled, to shun such wretched plight,
And I, am left in solitude
Upon the woes of life to brood.

While, law, that never yet had power,
To grant of "Yes", one moments dower.
With haughty brow, comes to insure,
Us countless ills, it cannot cure.
To banishment it can consign.
The hapless wretch, alone to pine,
For law, nor truth, nor pity knows,
No favoring smile, to any shows.

Still law, the body may detain.
To curb the mind, it strives in vain,
For fancy spreads her pinions light,
And soars in free, adventurous flight.
Fleet, and unfettered as the wind,
Leaves dreary prison house behind,
Quits these chill scenes of wintry gloom,
To range through lands of summer bloom

Frae many a mile may intervene,
Dear cherished friends, and us between.
Our dwelling, where, the snow cloud lowers,
Theirs in bright sunny, southern bowers,
Fancy's lithe wing, to furthest clime,
Can waft us faster, e'en than Time,
With [illegible] there, [illegible] hundred mould

MAY DEFEND HOME.

Even to Killing Intruder, if Necessary.

MONTREAL, March 5.—The law in the Criminal Code, which states that a man can defend his home from intrusion during the night, even to the point of killing the intruder, if necessary, was the cause yesterday of the jury exonerating free from all blame George Ouglan, Billy Lihonte and Harry Smith, in the case of the death of Guiseppe Livoni. In defense the Ouglan's home the three accused attacked the intruder and gave him a severe beating, in the course of which he sustained injuries that ended in his death.

HAS BEEN AN OPEN SEASON FOR CURLERS

Dan. Whetung's prediction of an open winter has been fulfilled at the Curling Rink to the extent that the playing season has been open from the day of the first games in mid December. There was a mild day or two during the bonspiel, but the stones were never idle in their boxes. There was nothing closed about this season, and the curlers have had all the games they desired. The interest is being well sustained, scratch games are the present order.

RESOLUTION OF CONGRATULATION

PLEASING INCIDENT AT MEETING THIS MORNING.

An expression of goodwill among the members of the Ministerial Association was recorded this morning, when a resolution of congratulation was offered to Archdeacon J. C. Davidson on his recent appointment to the Archdeaconry. In reply, Archdeacon Davidson remarked upon the spirit of co-operation and good fellowship that exists among the members of the Association. "While standing for the distinctive principles of their respective communicants, the members are happy in the enjoyment of this friendly and co-operative feeling," said Archdeacon Davidson.

SPECIAL MUSIC AT ST. ANDREW'S

The choir of St. Andrew's Church gave an excellent song service yesterday evening. In addition to a number of familiar hymns in which the congregation heartily joined, the choir sang Miller's "Soldiers of Christ Arise" and "What of the Night," by Thompson. In the latter Mr. Chas. Clark took the tenor solo in splendid style. Miss Lilian Eastwood, who supplied in the absence of Miss McLaren, sang "How Lovely are Thy Dwellings" (Liddle), and Mr. Douglas Carlisle gave "Open Ye the Gates." Both numbers were well rendered, and much appreciated. Rev. Mr. Rollins gave a short address, which fitted in admirably with the occasion.

DELEGATION HAS RETURNED HOME

HYDRO-ELECTRIC FOR LAKEFIELD BY SEPTEMBER NEXT.

LAKEFIELD, March 8.—The delegation have returned from Toronto and have received a promise from the Hydro-Electric Commission that the village will be lighted by the Hydro by September 1st. The delegation which consisted by Messrs. J. C. Strickland and George H. Spence representing the Council and Messrs. E. R. Tate and W. M. Graham representing the Board of Trade, were united to join the combined deputation from the County Council and the Peterboro Motor League, who were interviewing the Minister of Public Works on the subject of good roads for Peterboro County. The Lakefield men put in a strong plea for improvement in the roads in this vicinity as in their present condition the roads are terrible. The main highways between Peterboro and Lakefield are a disgrace to the county. The deputation received some encouragement from the Minister and it is hoped that there will soon be an improvement.

MANY WATER SERVICES FROZEN ON SUNDAY

THE THAWING BRIGADE TOO BUSY TO THINK OF CHURCH.

The vagaries of the weather were exemplified over the week-end. On Friday morning calls for help brought plumbers out of bed before the alarm clocks sounded. Cellars were flooding from the heavy rain, and in some of the down-town buildings furnaces were dark and damp islands in muddy pools, until the drainage plugs were reached by wading and the water poured off into the sewer.

Saturday brought a swift change. Water services began to freeze, and the thawing brigades were busy all day and again on Sunday, working until nine o'clock last night. Houses that had escaped the frost all winter were flying flags of distress. One dutiful householder was called from church by a freeze-up, although water was available next door. The waterworks department struggled against the accumulating demands for the electric thawing apparatus, and endeavoured to carry relief to as many homes as possible. Citizens who imagine that theirs is the only trouble demanding attention, probably forget that the telephone is not exactly an Aladdin's lamp, bringing a hard-pressed staff immediately and on the run.

It is probable that the sustained high and cold wind found entry through cracks and walls that has withstood the severest frost of the winter.

Canadian Pacific Will Double Stock Yards at Calgary.

CALGARY.—The Canadian Pacific Railway, which owns most of the Alberta Stock Yards at Calgary, is planning to very greatly increase the facilities for handling by practically doubling the capacity of the yards, and making them the most up-to-date stock yards in Canada. This seems to have become absolutely necessary, for there has been a great shortage of facilities for handling the stock which has been shipped into Calgary the REINFORCEMENTS SENT TO FRENCH GENERAL.

(Canadian Press.)

LONDON, March 8.—George Anderson, in the Commons to-day, said that prompt measures had been taken by the French Government to send reinforcements to General Gouraud, Commander-in-Chief of the French forces in the East, for the purpose of re-establishing His position and preventing further attacks on Armenia.

OBITUARY

MRS. WILLIAM CUNNINGHAM.

The death occurred yesterday in Toronto of a former resident of this city, in the person of Mrs. Willia Cunningham, aged 73 years, after an illness of several weeks duration.

Before residing in Toronto, the deceased was a well known resident resident of Douro town ship and will be well remembered by the older residents of that Township.

She leaves to mourn her loss, one son, William of Toronto, and four daughters, Mrs. Kirby of Vancouver, Miss Emma of Vancouver, Mrs. Grant of Toronto, and Mrs. A. A. Baskill of this city. Her husband predeceased her some 25 years ago.

The funeral took place from the noon train to-day to the Little Lake Cemetery.

J. R. McBAIN

John Richardson McBain, formerly of Peterboro, died on Friday, March 5th at Niagara Falls, where he has resided for the past few years. The late Mr. McBain was born in Dartmouth, Nova Scotia 71 years ago. During his residence in the city he was a faithful and consistent member of Knox Presbyterian Curch and was a member of the I.O.O.F. He leaves of the immediate family his wife and three sons, William of Madoc, James of the city and Alex. of Niagara Falls.

Service was held at the residence of Mr. Alex. McBain of Niagara Falls and the remains taken to Madoc where interment was held on Sunday afternoon.

DR. W. ARMSTRONG HUNTER

Dr. William Armstrong Hunter formerly a resident of Peterboro, where he was born in March 1855, died on Saturday, February 20th at El Centro after a short illness of pneumonia. The late Dr. Hunter graduated from the University of Toronto in 1877. In 1880 he was ordained minister and was appointed pastor of the Parkdale, Toronto church. During his pastorate in Toronto he was appointed Moderator of the Presbytery of that city and later when he moved south was Moderator of the synod of California and Nevada. He was the author of "Evolution and Christianity" written in 1894 and was one of the first Canadians to espouse the cause of scientific evolution and urge its adoption by the church.

Surviving Dr. Hunter are Mrs. Hunter, Miss Irene of Riverside, California, three sons: Rev. Graham Hunter of New York, Rev. Stanley Hunter of Pittsburg, and Rev. Allen Hunter, who has been a missionary in the Orient for some time, but who is now en route home.

At the time of Dr. Hunter's death the Ministerial Association of Riverside passed a resolution expressing the deep sorrow and personal sense of loss the Association sustained.

CLARA ALMA BULLOCK.

On Saturday evening, February 28, the death occurred of Clara Alma, third daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Bullock, of Orono, Ont.

Miss Bullock was born near Lakefield thirty-three years ago, and although an invalid for a number of years, her condition was not critical until a few weeks ago, when she contracted a severe cold, which developed into bronchial pneumonia. During the few days which preceded her demise she gradually became weaker until the end.

She was a consistent member of the Methodist Church, and attended services when health permitted, and when unable to do so, looked forward with great pleasure to a visit from her pastor.

Being a lover of flowers, she was eagerly awaiting the awakening of Nature, little realizing that so soon she would be revelling in realms of eternal spring.

There are besides the parents, two brothers and three sisters: Bernard of Manitoba, Raymond of Spokane, U. S., Howard of Lakefield, Victor, formerly overseas, now of Belleville, and Clermont at home; Mrs. J. Fowler and Mrs. B. J. Butler, of Orono, and Mrs. R. L. Hope, of Keene.

The remains were conveyed by train to Lakefield Cemetery for interment on Monday afternoon, March 1st.

AGNES QUINN.

The death took place in Lakefield on Friday of Miss Agnes Quinn, the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. C. Quinn, aged 65 years. She had been in failing health or some time and her death was not unexpected. She was well known and highly respected in the village and was a sincere and devoted member of the Baptist church.

She is survived by several brothers and sisters, including Miss Laura Quinn and Mr. Archie Quinn of the village and Mr. William Quinn of Peterboro.

DOMINION ALLIANCE IN CONVENTION

(Canadian Press)

TORONTO, March 8.—Concurrently with the opening of the first session of the Farmer Labor legislature in Ontario here this week the Ontario branch of the Dominion Alliance, will hold its annual convention, and decide upon a policy for the demands on the Ontario legislature and Dominion Parliament. Many of the delegates to the alliance convention are in the city to-day, attending preliminaries to the main sessions which will commence tomorrow. This convention will decide the important question as to whether or not prohibition forces will ask the Ontario Legislature to bring on a vote in Ontario regarding the importation of liquors and will also deal with the question of amendments to strengthen the Ontario Temperance Act.

Findings in Investigation Into the Loss of Bohemian

(Canadian Press)

HALIFAX, March 8.—Capt. Ernest Chiscoe's certificate was suspended for three months and Second Officer Samuel Blackmore was censured for the loss on the Leylans liner Bohemian on the Sambro Ledges last week, when court of enquire read its findings at noon to-day. The court suspended the captain because he did not make sure of its position and did not take any soundings or verify his bearings. The second officer was censured for not suggesting to the captain the necessity of verifying the ship's position.

REDS WERE DEFEATED BY POLES

POLAND'S ANSWER TO BOLSHEVIKS OVERTURES FOR PEACE ---ONE THOUSAND REDS CAPTURED.

OFFICIAL REPORT

(Canadian Press.)

WARSAW March 9.— Polish forces comanded by Col. Sikorski, attacked the Bolshevik troops in the vicinity of Mozir and Kolenkovitz, south-east of Minsk, on Sunday morning and captured these two important junctions and much war material. One thousand Red soldiers and many officers were taken prisoners. The attack was made in order to prevent further operations by the Russian Soviet army which has been operating in this region for a distance of twenty miles, says an official statement issued this afternoon at General Staff Headquarters here. "The victory," says the statement, "is a worthy answer to the Bolshevik policy of suing for peace and at the same time continuing attacks along the front."

CO-OPERATE WITH THE GOVERNMENT

DISCUSSION ON EMIGRATION IN THE HOUSE OF COMMONS.

LONDON, March 9.—In a discussion in the House of Commons on the Colonial office vote to-day, Under Secretary Amery explained that the overseas settlement committee, having secured effective co-operation with the Dominion governments in directing emigration into Canada, had granted ex-service men easterms. Applications for about 18,000 persons to emigrate had been made and 11,000 and 12,000 had already sailed or were about. From point of view of the safety of the empire, one emigrant into Canada was worth twenty times as much as one who went into even a friendly country like the United States. What government aimed at was putting emigration on best conditions.

SALARY INCREASE REFUSED BY MAYOR

CALGARY HAS AN UNUSUAL CASE— INCREASE FOR COMMISSIONERS.

(Special to The Examiner.)

CALGARY, Alta., March 9.—Mayor R. C. Marshall, has refused a salary increase of $250, offered him by the city. He is getting $5,000. The Commissioners, A. J. Samis and A. G. Graves have been given an increase and their salaries are now $4,250.

SHAMROCK DAY SATURDAY NEXT

ANNUAL SALE OF SHAMROCKS IN AID OF ST. VINCENTS ORPHANAGE.

Shamrock Day this year will be held on Saturday, March 13th, and arrangements are being made by the ladies of the parishes of St. Peter's, Church of Immaculate Conception and Church of the Sacred Heart for the collection.

The orphans who are cared for in St. Vincent's Orphanage have always been handsomely remembered on Shamrock Day by the public generally, and Saturday's contribution, it is expected, will be an excellent one, as increased costs enter into the operation of all the institutions of the city just as in every home.

A New Government In Constantinople

POSITION OF FRENCH FORCES IN TURKISH ASIA MINOR IS REGARDED AS SERIOUS--OCCUPATION OF CONSTANTINOPLE MAY BE PRESENT.

CAPITAL UNDER MARTIAL LAW

(United Press.)

LONDON, March 9.—A new government, headed by Sali Pasha, has been formed in Constantinople a despatch to-day said. The new Cabinet, according to the despatch, includes most of the members of the preceding government.

The exact situation in the Turkish capital to-day was not clear. Latest reports from official messages received here, indicated that Constantinople is under martial law and controlled by British soldiers. The Turks were reported stirring up Abarans, Mesopotamia and Thracians.

Position of French forces in Cicilia (Turkish Asia Minor) was described as serious. The French, it was said, are menaced by large bodies of Turkish Nationalist troops of the forces of Mustapha Kemal, leader of the Turkish rebels.

Occupation of Constantinople it was intimated, may be permanent. The British taken the position that the safety of all commerce demands full protection for the 'gateway to the east." Some outbreaks have occurred in Constantinople, official messages said, but it was believed the Allied force there is sufficient to prevent the disturbances assuming serious proportions.

MRS. GRENFELL'S WORK IN LABRADOR.

And Mrs. Grenfell—the indispensable Mrs. Grenfell—plays the game at all times and in all places with him, and thereby doubles his influence. There is no lowly helping task to which she will not turn her hand at need. She types the letters with a busted old typewriter (and how I wished I had the brains to fix it) She keeps the records in detail of diagnoses and prescriptions and the personal history of patients; she hands out old clothing and books to the needy, being very careful to allot them justly; she fearlessly lectures the fishermen against the spitting that spreads tuberculosis; and everywhere she radiates the spirit of light and joy, and the example of hard work, so that the doctor more than once turned to me and said "without her it would be impossible."—Dr. Paddon in "Among the Deep Sea Fishers."

Potato ano Tobacco Juice.

A young Eskimo, able-boned, a good hunter and a family man, had been given some perfectly orthodox eye lotion, by the missionary in the early stages. Then he had disappeared for a month, trying a treatment of his own. This consisted of an emulsion of potato and tobacco juice. Result, blind for life. Given a cottage hospital and a capable nurse that man might be supporting his family with very slightly impaired or even perfect sight. The pity of it!

From another fishing settlement a motor-boat left with a number of sick, one healthy man to run the engine and some dogs. The healthy man was seized with the plague, the engine stopped. When the boat drove ashore the dogs were already wolves, and terror-stricken woman found strength to launch a sniall boat and travel for three days to the nearest settlement.—Inasmuch (M.S.S.)

Inasmuch.

In various ways my family grew at alarming rate, once the general principle was established. On my early summer voyage to the east coast of Labrador I found at Indian Harbor Hospital a little girl of four. In the absence of her father, who was hunting, and while her mother lay sick in bed, she had crawled out of the house, and when found in the snow had both legs badly frozen. They became gangrenous halfway to the knees, and her father had been obliged to chop them both off. An operation gave her good stumps but what use was she in Labrador with no legs? So she joined our family, and we gave her such good new limbs that when I brought her into Government House at Halifax, where one of our nurses had taken her to school temporarily, and she ran into the room with two other little girls, the Governor could scarcely tell which was our little cripple Kirkina. —From "A Labrador Doctor" by W. T. Grenfell.

SALARIES FOR THE OPPOSITION

(Special to The Examiner.)

EDMONTON, Alta., March 9.—Unusual questions are being asked in the Legislature by W. M. Davidson, the member for North Calgary.

Mr. Davidson is curious to know "what is the strength that a party must have before it is entitled to an official leader, receiving a leaders salary."

Now there are several oppositions in the House ranging from the United Farmers of Alberta with one member, the Labor party withone member, the Non-Partisans with two, the Soliders' representatives with two, up to the regular Conservative faction with 18. Then there are three or four members who are running loose just now.

James Ramsay, of Edmonton, is the recognized leader of the Conservative Opposition, and as such receives an indemnity of $2,500.

Session Opened

SOCIAL SIDE NOT SO PROMINENT AS IN FORMER DAYS.

(Canadian Press.)

TORONTO, March 9.—Under the circumstances of exceptional interest an considerable speculation, the first session of the fifteenth legislature of Ontario was opened here to-day. It is the first Farmers-Labor Legislature in the history of Canada, the "Farmer" Government of Hon. E. C. Drury holds power by the narrow nominal majority of two members in a Legislature of one hundred and eleven seats. There was no salute of artillery as the session was formerly opened by Lieut.-Governor Clarke this afternoon though there was a military guard of honor supplied by the famous Princess Patricia's regiment. The social side of the opening ceremonies was not so prominently emphasized as in other days, but the wives of cabinet ministers and many of the members were present for the function.

There is a tendency on all sides, including direct Opposition Liberals and Conservatives to avoid unduly embarrassing the government. The feeling is that the 'Farmers' Cabinet, composed of eight farmers ,two Laborites and one lawyer, should be given a clear track to see what they can accomplish in the present period of reconstruction.

Opening Address.

After references to the visit of the Prince of Wales, ratification of the Peace Treaty and opening of Federal Parliament in the new building, the Lieut.-Governor in a speech from the Throne, called attention to the problem which arises from the revocation of the Dominion order-in-council prohibiting liquor importation during the war subsequent to the vote in Ontario against the repeal of the Ontario Temperance Act. In connection with educational needs, the Legislature would be asked, he said to provide for increase in rural school grants, pending thorough inquiry into the whole subject. The Department of Agriculture was maturing plans to stimulate agricultural production, especially in regard to live stock, while the government believed that application of progressive and well balanced road policy will facilitate marketing of crops and improve rural conditions generally. His Honor then forecast better provision of reforestration in view of the depletion of our forests, while importance of mining industry would be recognized by the creation of a Department of Mines, thus separating the work from that of lands and forests. Consideration of absence in labour legislation was then made by the Lieut-Governor, who referred to the project calling for unification of labor laws. "Various measures affecting labor and improving existing laws will be submitted to you and also the bill providing for payment of allowance in certain cases to mothers of dependent children," he said.

Gathering of Clans.

TORONTO, March 9.—Queen's Park was early astir to-day in readiness for the opening of the fifteenth Parliament of Ontario at three o'clock this afternoon. The gathering of the clans commenced before noon. A steady stream of members from all parts of the province wended their way toward the Parliament Buildings. Veterans of previous Legislatures gazed once more on well-known surroundings, while new members elect strove to familiarize themselves with the intricacies of the buildings, halls and corridors. By noon it was an assured fact that few of the members would be absent when the House convened for the purpose of electing its Speaker. The last preparations for the opening were completed yesterday. Additional chairs have been placed on the floor of the House for the accommodation of the members' wives and friends. World Prohibition Is the New Slogan

44TH ANNUAL PROVINCIAL PROHIBITION CONVENTION CONVENED IN MASSEY HALL TO-DAY.

QUESTIONS OF POLICY

Special to the Examiner:

TORONTO, March 9. — "World-wide Prohibition" is the slogan of the enormous motto hung across the stage of Massey Hall to-day when the 44th Annual Provincial Prohibition Convention convened with delegates from all parts of Ontario present.

Questions of policy in regard to further strengthening of the dry laws and their enforcement are the main issues before the convention.

"We as an alliance, are pledged to do all in our power to aid in the enforcement of the law," said President C. E. Steele, of Port Colborne, "and we do not look on it as spying, informing, or espionage. It is part of the good citizens' duty to help enforce the laws."

"What about the proposed prebiscite in Ontario as to barring out liquor now imported from other provinces?"

"We will consider that question on its merits," said Mr. Steele. "There is some difference of opinion as to just what Bill 26 means, and we do not want to go ahead and take a vote on something that may not mean anything. As to the provinces voting all on the same day on prebiscites as has been suggested, I have not considered it, but of course the conditions are not the same in the various provinces."

THE GROCERY PROBE PRODUCES SOME ILLUMINATING EVIDENCE

MR. H. C. BECKETT WAS THE STAR WITNESS AT TO-DAY'S SESSION —THE EVIDENCE.

Special to the Examiner:

HAMILTON, March 9. — At the grocery probe before the Board of Commerce to-day, H. C. Beckett, who has been engaged in the wholesale grocery business for the past forty years in this city, was the star witness. The announcement of the calling of Mr. Beckett was the feature surprise of the day, as he has been regarded as one of the leading advocates of trade organizations, not only in the city but throughout the province, and has even participated in Dominion-wide campaigns aimed at the protection and in the interest of the wholesale trade. This is Mr. Beckett's second appearance in the role of star witness, having been a principal in an investigation some ten years ago, incidentally the last criminal prosecution on record in Ontario, in the case of Rex versus Beckett, when he was acquitted in the Supreme Court of Ontario of any of the charges preferred against him on the question of illegal trade combinations. Mr. Beckett was avowedly sympathetic to the organization of wholesalers in order to combat the encroachments of grocery brokers or jobbers who carry only special lines of groceries which they can sell direct to retailers at lower prices than the wholesalers who carry full lines and must spread their profits over all commodities. As, for instance, the small margin on sugar must be equalized on other lines which offer greater margins. He admitted having been in favour of resolutions passed by his organization which aimed at the adoption of methods by which the manufacturers would be compelled to close their dealings with such stock-brokers who merely rent a warehouse and employ a stenographer.

G. Hortop, of the Toronto firm of Dunn and Hortop, who handle Borden's condensed milk, was the first witness called by Mr. Roebuck.

Two Books Against him.

Mr. Roebuck—"Have you two lists of discounts to your customers?"

Witness—"Yes, but our discounts are based on the size of shipments we do not discriminate in the persons."

Mr. Roebuck—"You sell to departmental stores?"

Witness—"Yes. Our reason for selling to departmental stores is that we get a lot of free advertising from these stores, as we are able to give demonstrations to a great number of customers."

"The departmental stores get a better price from you than the small retailers from your jobbers?"—"Yes."

"Do you consider this fair?"—"Yes, because the small retailer profits through the wide advertising our goods receive through the departmental stores."

"So that the little fellow benefits from Timothy Eaton's and Robert Simpson's ads.?"—"Well, not exactly that."

Mr Roebuck—"Why didn't you sell to the York Trading Co.?"

Witness—"We did not consider them a wholesale firm."

A letter was placed on exhibit signed by Frank Fearman in January last to Horton applied to handle Hortop's goods. This letter, in part, in mentioning financial references, mentioned that for other "references" to consult Mr. Pike, secretary of the Ontario Wholesale Grocers' Association. Prior to this time Horton had refused to sell to Fearman.

Mr. Roebuck—"Why?"

Witness—"Because we did not consider him a wholesaler, merely a manufacturers' agent."

Mr. Britain, on further examination of Hortop, elicited the information that his firm not only sold to members of the association but to firms without the "ring."

Mr. O'Connor—"Suppose the jobbers refused to handle our line could you market it economically direct through the departmental stores and the retailers."—"No."

COMBINE CHARGED AGAINST FEARMAN

HAMILTON Ont., March 9.—Casulties among the witnesses heard that the court of Commerce have been very heavy. Frank Fearman who "saw the light" and did not want the Grocers Association investigated by the Attorney Generals department after he had been admitted to member ship. We are, sales manager of the W. K. Kellogg Co., of Toronto, who knew nothing of his company's policy of opening or closing accounts and H. C. Beckett of Hamilton, who could not recall the proceedings of the Ontario wholesaler convention, have all been given a rough ride by either the court or the counsel for the public by, A. W. Roebuck. Fearman as a result of his evidence is now charged with being a member of the combine and has been given until Monday morning to prepare a defense.

WILL GIVE LECTURE

An affair of much interest for the latter part of the week is a lecture given on Friday evening by Rev. Paul Costello, under the auspices of St. Peter's Ladies' Literary, in St. Alphonsus' Lyceum. INCREASE OF $7.50 IN RATE OF HYDRANTS

COUNCIL AGREES TO UTILITIES COMMISSIONER'S REQUEST FOR AN INCREASE ON EACH OF 286 HYDRANTS.

PAY FOR FIRE PROTECTION

The city's liability to the Utilities Commission for fire protection was increased with the Committee of the Whole Council's consent last night, when Ald. Turner moved seconded by Ald. Copping that the request of the Utilities Commission for a new hydrant rate of $35 instead of $27.50 as in the past be granted. This is an advance if $7.50 a hydrant and applies to 286 of them, thereby yielding an additional revenue of $2,145.

Messrs. R. Hicks, C. E. Sisson, R. L. Dobbin and H. O. Fiske composed the delegation from the Utilities Commission They were armed with all kinds of data to prove to the Council that the city was not paying as high a rate as they should for the fire protection provided in the new mains pumps and other improements in the waterworks department.

Last year's profit was $1,027 which would be wiped out by the increased cost of materials and labour this year Mr. Hicks stated. In the work contemplated was the sinking of 25 hydrants to prevent their freezing next winter .Experiments had shown that the 15 hydrants already sunk had given no trouble this winter. They were deep enough below the frost line to draw heat from below, and thus escaped freezing.

When the Commission was taken over a rate was struck at which a profit of from $6,000 to $8,000 a year was realized. The rate was dropped from $35 to $27.50. Since 1913 there had been no material increase in the water rates for domestic purposes but $100,000 had ben spent in improving the service for fire protection. At Toronto's rate Peterboro would be paying $25,000 a year, on the basis of assessing 40 per cent. of the capital expenditure of the water works to fire protection. At 70 per cent .the cost would be $16,000. He pointed out that whenever it was decided to instal the filtration plant the local rate would have to be advanced beyond the $35 price.

"You are paying less than half of what you should pay for fire protection." Mr. Hicks remarked.

Mr. Dobbin explained that all the ratepayers were not water consumers, but every resident benefitted from the city's fire protection. Hence the increase asked of the city as a whole was more than justified. The Fire Underwriters demanded for fire protection double the capacity of mains and pumps required for domestic purposes.

Mr. Sisson said he believed that more than $100,000 had been spent on improved fire protection by the Utilities Commission since 1913.

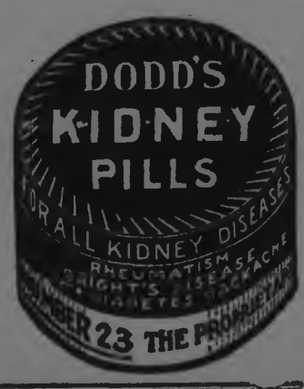
To Ald. Turner, Mr. Hicks stated that the discount for prompt payment at 33 1-3 per cent. meant a saving to the people of $22,000.

Ald. Turner asked whether it would be possible to reduce this discount to 10 per cent. to cover interest and sinking fund charges of the proposed filtration plant.

Mr. Hicks replied that the filtration scheme would not be brought up this year. If the discount were entirely withdrawn the increased revenue to the commission would not take care of the cost of the filtration plant. In 1932 the old waterworks debentures will be retired and the cost of the new work would likely have to be met by new debentures without providing for a sinking fund until 1932.

The $2000 needed for increased hydrant rate will be taken out of the Board of Works appropriation for surface drains.

A pot roast should be browned on all sides in a hot pan before it is put into the pot for stewing.



GRANDMA USED SAGE TEA TO DARKEN HAIR

She Mixed Sulphur With it to Restore Color, Gloss, Youthfulness.

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea with sulphur added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant. Just a few applications will prove a revelation if your hair is fading, streaked or gray. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way to get a bottle of Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound at any drug store all ready for use. This is the old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients.

While wispy, gray, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, no one can tell, because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared, and, after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and luxuriant.

WITH FINGERS! CORNS LIFT OUT

Freezone is magic! Corns and calluses lift right off—

Doesn't hurt a bit

A few cents buys a tiny bottle of the magic Freezone at any drug store. Apply a few drops of Freezone upon a tender, aching corn or a callus. Instantly that troublesome corn or callus stops hurting, then shortly you lift it out, root and all, without any pain, soreness or irritation. These little bottles of Freezone contain just enough to rid the feet of every hard corn, soft corn, corn between the toes and the calluses on bottom of feet. So easy! So simple. Why wait? No humbug!

YOU LOOK OLD WORN-OUT TIRED OUT!

While the Cause Differs, the Condition is the Same

Your Local Druggist Guarantees Vinol to Restore Your Old-time Strength and Energy.

Why do run-down, anaemic, overworked, tired-out men and women continue to drag around in this condition, unhappy themselves and making every one around them unhappy, complaining about their condition, when we guarantee VINOL, our non-secret cod liver and iron tonic, to create a hearty appetite, aid digestion, induce sound sleep, make rich, red blood, and in this natural manner create vim, vigor and energy.

There are thousands of men and women in Canada, once run-down, anaemic and sickly, who are now strong, hearty and well, all owing to VINOL.

Mrs. James Stock, of Winnipeg, Manitoba, says: "I suffered from general debility and a nervous breakdown; I was depressed, weak and tired all the time. A neighbor told me about Vinol, and after all other medicines had failed to help me, VINOL built me up and made me well. I heartily recommend VINOL."

For all run-down, anaemic conditions, weak women, over-worked men, feeble old people and delicate children, the druggists guarantee VINOL to make rich, red blood and build you up or return your money.

INCREASE IN THE FREIGHT RATES

New Prices Required to Meet Increased Cost of Coal.

(Canadian Press.)

LONDON, March 8.—Freight rates on ocean shipping from England would be increased at least fifty per cent. by movement now in progress, says the Times, in order to meet the high cost of bunker coal here.

NIGHT COUGHS PREVENT SLEEP

WEAR OUT THE SYSTEM

The dry, hacking cough, cough, day and night is very wearing on the system. The constant coughing disturbs the rest and keeps the lungs and bronchial tubes in such an irritated and inflamed condition they get no chance to heal.

You will find in Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup a remedy without an equal for curing coughs and colds, soothing the lungs, loosening the phlegm, strengthening and healing the breathing organs, and fortifying them against serious pulmonary disease.

Mrs. Fred. Fairburn, Copper Cliff, Ont., writes:—"I caught a heavy cold, got a sore throat and had a terrible hacking cough that I could not get rid of. I could not sleep at night. I had tried quite a few remedies, but they did not seem to do me much good until I took Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup. By the time I had taken two bottles my cough was all gone.

"It seemed to loosen the cough right away so that I could spit up the phlegm that gathered in my throat, and also took that hot, raw, burning fever out of my bronchial tubes. I feel that Dr. Wood's has no equal."

Price 25c and 50c at all dealers. Put up only by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

INFORMATION PRESENTED BY THE FIREMEN TO COUNCIL

IN SUPPORT OF THEIR REQUEST FOR NEW SCHEDULE OF SALARIES, SHOWING WHAT OTHER CITIES ARE PAYING—PLATOON SYSTEM HAS BEEN A GREAT HELP TO DEPARTMENT.

The following statement was presented by the Firemen to the members of theCity Council in support of their request for a new schedule of increased salaries.

The firemen's request is based on two arguments:

(1.) The increased cost of necessities.

(2.) The lack of recognition of merit, service or industry.

That our salary did not enable us to live with any degree of comfort was a well established fact, and in order to prove that efficiency was not recognized in the local department the same as in other departments, we requested information from other cities. We found that we were lower paid than others and that the opportunities of promotion and the reward of efficiency were not fairly arranged for.

A few facts concerning the duties of firemen ought to be remembered. Although we have double platoon system we are on duty twenty-four hours daily. During twelve hours we respond to alarms from the station and during the other twelve we respond from our homes. Now, it is imperative that we respond to all alarms while on the so-called "off duty" platoon. This means that we must be within reach of the sound of the alarm at all times. We have in our homes, an alarm bell and a telephone (we pay for the 'phone). When we are on the street we must be within hearing of the tower striker. If a fireman wishes to visit a friend's home in the evening, he must choose a friend with a telephone and leave some one in his own home to call him in event of his alarm ringing. If he goes to church or to the theatre he must request the attendant to call him in event of fire. Often we have had our men ot leave a theatre during the progress of the show. The firemen cannot leave the city except during his annual vacation. The fireman, in order to be available at all times, must live within a reasonable distance of the fire station. Consequently his opportunities for gardening, etc. are fewer and he is also living in the high rent district. We believe that the fire fighter is entitled to as high a standard of living as any worker. Our children are a part of the future nation, civilization's hope, and the conditions under which they live will have an influence on their future usefulness. We request for them an opportunity for intellectual and physical development.

Conditions have improved in the local department recently, in the introduction of the platoon system, but this condition does not enable us to cope with the H.C.L. We consider that our request is very reasonable it was arranged five months ago and since then the cost of living has greatly advanced.

Attached you will find a few figures relative to the salaries paid in the Peterborough department compared with those paid in other cities. In Peterborough the firemen get from 11.8c per hour to 15.5c per hour—taking into consideration the fact that a fireman works or is on duty twenty-four hours daily.

Some objection has been raised—outside the council—to the firemen's association. The fire fighter's organization is essentially of an educational nature, while at the same time having been formed for protection. It is absolutely a non-strike association. Section II of the Constitution proves this. We would be traitors to, not only the larger interests of the city, but to the workers, if we were to leave the city without protection, affording to those in authority no opportunity to fill the vacancies. The homes and lives of workers are just as likely to be destroyed by the fire fiend as those of any other.

The increase requested amounts to $4,968.35.

The flat increase suggested, $4,200.

This leaves the sum of $768.35 in dispute.

This, I do not believe to be very much to stand in the way of rewarding efficiency and service and something reasonable to those who perform additional duty or assume additional responsibility. If there is to be no recognition of or encouragement for length of service, industry, efficiency or responsibility, how are you going to get men to render this service, or to assume this responsibility?

The figures attached will, I believe, prove conclusively that our request is a just one and, believe we, our aim is to improve the service and to see an intelligent fire fighting force that will prove a credit to the city.

Chief	$ 1,700.00	$2,582.77
Asst. Chief	1,322.50	1,924.50
Captain	1,230.50	1,515.00
Lieutenant	1,207.50	1,438.50
1st Grade	1,150.00	1,336.50
2nd Grade	1,036.00	1,242.00
3rd Grade	none	1,153.00

To prove that our aim has been a more just distribution of the amount paid to the several ranks.

Our request is below the request of other cities by 25.47% for the Chief 21.47% fror the Asst. Chief, 9.9% for the captain, 12.95% for the lieutenant, 10.77% for the 1st grade, 9.57% for the 2nd grade and 0.03% for the 3rd grade. This means that we have asked for less in proportion to what other cities are paying for the higher paid members than for the lower. It means that by our schedule the lowest paid man will be paid nearer the amount paid to the highest paid man then in any other city.

Brantford's new schedule (Mail and Empire February 10.) —

Asst. Chief $1,000.00, Captain $1,825.00; highest paid private $1,642.50 and lowest grade private $1,368.75.

In Brantford the newest man on the job receives $36.25 more than the asst. Chief receives in Peterborough.

Toronto, Hamilton, London, Windsor, Chatham, St. Catharines, Ottawa, Kingston, Stratford and other cities of Ontario have all received substantial increases this year.

GEMMELL-SHERWOOD LIMITED

PUBLIC NOTICE is hereby given that under the First Part of chapter 79 of the Revised Statutes of Canada 1906, known as "The Companies Act," and amending Acts, letters patent have been issued under the Seal of the Secretary of State of Canada, bearing date the 14th day of February, 1920, incorporating George Newcombe Gordon and Joseph Aloysius O'Brien, barristers-at-law; Maud Leahy, Jessie Stevens and Mary Easson, stenographers all of the City of Peterborough, in the Province of Ontario, for the following purposes, viz:—

(a) To purchase, take over and assume all the assets and liabilities of Gemmell & Co.;

(b) To manufacture, buy, sell and deal with clothing of all kinds, cloth and wearing apparel and all material entering into the manufacture of clothing and cloth and all products and by-products thereof, including ladies' and children's white wear and other garments and to deal in and with all useful articles in connection with said business and generally to engage in the business of manufacturing and act as wholesale, retail and commission merchants and jobers;

(c) To pay out of the funds of the company all or any of the expenses incidental to the formation and organization thereof and to employ, contract with and provide for the remuneration of brokers, commission agents and underwriters, upon any issue of shares, bonds, debentures, debenture stock or other securities of the company;

(d) To carry on any other business (whether manufacturing or otherwise) which may seem to the company capable of being conveniently carried on in connection with its business or calculated directly or indirectly to enhance the value of or render profitable any of the company's property or rights;

(e) To acquire or undertake the whole or any part of the buisness, property and liabilities of any person or company carrying on any business which the company is authorized to carry on, or possessed of property suitable for the purposes of the company;

(f) To apply for, purchase or otherwise acquire, any patents, licenses, concessions and the like, conferring any exclusive or non-exclusive, or limited right to use, or any secret or other information as to any invention which may seem capable of being used for any of the purposes of the company or the acquisition of which may seem calculated directly or indirectly to benefit the company, and to use, exercise, develop, or grant licenses in respect of or otherwise turn to account the property, rights or information so acquired;

(g) To enter into partnership or into any arrangement for sharing of profits, union of interests, co-operation, joint adventure, reciprocal concession or otherwise, with any person or company carrying on or engaged in or about to carry on or engage in any business or transaction which the company is authorized to carry on or engage in, or any business or transaction, capable of being conducted so as directly or indirectly to benefit the company; and to lend money to, guarantee the contracts of, or otherwise assist any such person or company, and to take or otherwise acquire shares and securities of any such company, and to sell, hold, reissue, with or without guarantee, or otherwise deal with the same;

(h) To take, or otherwise acquire and hold, shares in any other company having objects altogether or in part similar to those of the company or carrying on any business capable of being conducted so as directly or indirectly to benefit the company;

(i) To enter into any arrangements with any authorities, municipal local or otherwise, that may seem conducive to the company's objects, or any of them, and to obtain from any such authority any rights, privileges and concessions which the company may think it desirable to obtain, and to carry out, exercise and comply with any such arrangements, rights, privileges and concessions;

(j) To establish and support or aid in the establishments and support of associations, institutions, funds, trusts and conveniences calculated to benefit employees or ex-employees of the company (or its predecessors in business) or the dependents or connections of such persons, and to grant pensions and allowances, and to make payments towards insurance, and to subscribe or guarantee money for charitable or benevolent objects, or for any exhibition or for any public, general or useful object;

(k) To promote any company or companies for the purpose of acquiring all or any of the property and liabilities of the company, or for any other purpose, which may seem directly or indirectly calculated to benefit the company;

(l) To purchase, take on lease or in exchange, hire or otherwise acquire any personal property and any rights or privileges which the company may think necessary for convenient for the purposes of its business and in particular any machinery, plant, stock-in-trade.

(m) To construct, improve, maintain, work, manage, carry out or control any roads, ways, branches or sidings, bridges, reservoirs watercourses, wharves, manufactories, warehouses, electric works, shops, stores and other works and conveniences which may seem calculated directly or indirectly to advance the company's interests, and to contribute to, subsidize or otherwise assist or take part in the construction, improvement, maintenance, working, management, carrying out or control thereof;

(n) To lend money to customers and others having dealings with the company and to guarantee the performance of contracts by any such persons;

(o) To draw, make, accept, endorse, execute and issue promissory notes, bills of exchange, bills of lading, warrants and other negotiable or transferable instruments;

(p) To sell or dispose of the undertaking of the company or any part thereof for such consideration as the company may think fit, and in particular for shares, debentures or securities of any other company having objects altogether or in part similar to those of the company;

(q) To apply for, secure, acquire by assignment, transfer, purchase, or otherwise, and to exercise, carry out and enjoy any charter, license, power, authority, franchise, concession, rights or privilege, which any government or authority or any corporation or other public body may be empowered to grant and to pay for, aid in and contribute towards carrying the same into effect, and to appropriate any of the company's shares, bonds and assets, to defray the necessary costs, charges and expenses thereof;

(r) To procure the company to be registered and recognized in any foreign country and to designate persons therein according to the laws of such foreign country to represent this company and accept service for and on behalf of the company of any process or suit;

(s) To raise and assist in raising money for, and to aid, by way of bonus, loan, promise, endorsement, guarantee of bonds, debentures or other securities or otherwise, any other company or corporation and to guarantee the performance of contracts by any such company, corporation, or by any other person or persons with whom the company may have business relations.

(t) To adopt such means of making known the products of the company as may seem expedient, and in particular by advertising in the press, by circulars, by purchase and exhibition of works of art or interest, by publication of books and periodicals and by granting prizes, rewards and donations;

(u) To sell, improve, manage, develop, exchange, lease, dispose of, turn to account or otherwise deal with all or any part of the property and rights of the company;

(v) To do all or any of the above things as principals, agents, contractors or otherwise, and either alone or in conjunction with others;

(w) To do all such other things as are incidental or conducive to the attainment of the above objects;

The operations of the company to be carried on throughout the Dominion of Canada and elsewhere by the name of "Gemmel-Sherwood Limited," with a capital stock of fifty thousand dollars divided into 500 shares of 100 dollars each, and the chief place of business of the said company to be at the City of Peterborough, in the Province of Ontario.

STATE DINNER TO BE OFF THE LIST

NEW BRUNSWICK LEGISLATURE WILL OPEN ON THURSDAY NEXT.

(Special to The Examiner.)

FREDERICTON, N.B., March 9.—For the first time in history there will be no State dinner for the opening of the New Brunswick Legislature, which takes place on Thursday next. Hon. Dr. J. E. Hetherington, the speaker, will probably not be present at the opening of the House, it is said, and may be prevented by illness from attending this session at all. C. M. Leger, M. L.A. for Westmoreland, is the Deputy Speaker, and will act if the Speaker is absent. It is not known yet whether the split in the Opposition party at their Provincial convention a few months ago will result in a cross benchers party being inaugurated in the local House or not.

Dark taffetas are in favour for afternoon.

INSURANCE FOR VETERANS.

There will be general satisfaction that the Federal government has at last decided to introduce during the present session a system of state insurance for disabled veterans. This matter has been pressed by the G.W.V.A. and other ex-soldier associations on every possible occasion and their request was so reasonable that there has been surprise at the delay of the government in bringing down a scheme to carry out the wishes of the veterans. Many returned soldiers, incapacitated by reason of their service overseas, have found their applications for life insurance rejected by the insurance companies because of the physical condition of the applicant. Naturally there is a desire on the part of these men as with all other prudent citizens, to protect their families by means of life insurance, and under the existing conditions they have found it impossible to do so. The only solution was for the Government to come to the rescue and inaugurate a State system of insurance for the benefit of those soldiers who are not regarded by private insurance companies as acceptable risks. This has been decided upon by the Government for it is announced that a bill is being prepared for submission to Parliament during the coming session. The details of how the scheme will operate have not yet been made public.

THE VOTE FOR INDIANS.

With the principle of extending the franchise to the Indians of Canada, especially those living in Eastern Canada, there will be on the part of most Canadians a sympathetic agreement. But the manner in which the enfranchisement is to be carried out under a new Indian Act which is to be introduced by Hon. Arthur Meighen, Minister of the Interior is not one that will commend itself. Under the new measure the Superintendent-General of Indian Affairs is to be given the power to grant the franchise to any Indian, without any application being made if his qualifications are satisfactory. The objection to such a course are apparent. There would be a temptation on the part of the Government officers to select for the privilege of the franchise those Indians who might be expected to support the government at election times. Undubtedly this feature of the bill will be warmly opposed when the measure comes before the House.

It is right that the Indians of Canada should be given a wider measure of franchise than has been accorded them. During the war they proved themselves among the most patriotic of Canada's citizens. The young Indians of military fitness enlisted in splendid numbers and fought valiantly with the Canadian corps in France, while those who remained at home contributed liberally to the Red Cross, the Patriotic Fund and other war funds. The Indians have earned the right to vote and to be placed on the same status of citizenship as the rest of Canadians but a better method of giving them the vote could be surely devised than by placing the whole responsibility in the hands of government officials who might be tempted by partizan influences to use discrimination in selecting the men who are to receive the franchise.

THE GRENFELL MISSION.

This week the annual appeal on behalf of Dr. Grenfell's Labrador Mission is before the people of Peterborough. The campaign has the hearty endorsement of the Ministerial Association who at their regular meeting yesterday passed a resolution commending the appeal to the citizens. There have been many calls upon the people worthy ones all of them—but there has been no cause which should be more warmly received than the Grenfell Mission. For twenty-five years has Dr. Grenfell been carrying on his great work in Labrador, a work that has been a wonderful power for good, that has meant better medical attention, the preaching of the Gospel, and the establishment of educational facilities in a region where, before the advent of the heroic Grenfell, these things were unknown. Upon the generosity of the people of Canada the extent of the work depends, so that the citizens of Peterborough who are in a position to give are asked to do what they can this week for the Grenfell Fund. If there is any further endorsement needed than that of the Ministerial Association, the Examiner heartily commends the campaign and is glad to co-operate with the local committee, both by giving publicity to the effort and by receiving subscriptions. There are few citizens who cannot by a 25. donation afford to buy a brick in the new orphanage which is to be built. There is a subscription list at the Examiner office.

30 DROPS STOPS COUGHS

THE BAND QUESTION.

In these columns last night one manner of solving the band question was suggested, namely, the union of local musicians into a band that could at once be the band of the 57th Regiment and a citizens' organization as well. To-night, in the following letter from a local musician, we present another plan, the development of the already well established and flourishing G.W.V.A. into a Citizens' Band. These are the only two propositions that would be at all feasible unless the existing bands were to be dissolved altogether and a new Citizens' Band formed from their membership—an event that is not at all likely to happen.

The Examiner is glad to publish "Musicians's" letter as a constructive contribution to the discussion. It is as follows:

Mr. Editor,—I beg to differ with your views regarding the amalgamation of the bands of this town. I would suggest making the band of the G.W.V.A. the so-called Citizens' band. The instruments are owned by the city and why should any of the taxpayers' money be used to keep up a Regimental Band? Let them support their own. I am in favour of paying them a grant for park concerts, but certainly not for them to grab it all.

I am surprised at the tone of your letter. The G.W.V. band have had every obstacle placed in their way, and it is not the fault of some people that they survived. The city paid $200 for concerts last year, and I am given to understand it cost twice that amount to give the public the weekly concerts. They also filled numerous engagements out of town including Toronto, and gave entire satisfaction wherever they played.

If you think it is possible to make a first class band in this town, say like Huntsville for instance, you will never do it on $1,000 a year. They pay their bandmaster that much a month to say nothing of other expenses. I do not doubt for one minute that arrangements could be made, whereby the G.W.V.A. band could be made into a real Citizens' Band, if proper support was given to it. Then the ratepayers' money would be used for something they could call their own, and would be at the disposal of the city and not the militia.

It seems to me that your letter suggests that you are trying to recruit members for the militia at the expense of the Veterans' Band. According to one of your previous editorials you stated that no more letters would be published on this subject. Personally I am not in favour of this small town method, but you let some people get away with a lot of talk, then you shut down before it can be replied to.

If a Citizens' Band cannot be formed from the above suggestions, kindly allow the band of the G.W.V.A. to shape its own destiny, of which they are quite capable.

I have not written this letter with the expectation of its being published but if you desire to do so why suit yourself.

As I wish to keep out of this kind of self advertisement, I sign myself, MUSICIAN.

The Examiner has no desire to enter into a controversy over the band question. With much of "Musician's" letter it agrees. The G.W.V.A. band has made excellent progress and deserves the support of the citizens. But the suggestion made last night was in line with what is happening in other cities where Veterans' band are proposing to amalgamate with the newly organized militia regiments. In small cities this is the only way in which the division of the available musicians among two or three organizations can be avoided. It is a self-evident fact that a militia regiment must have a band— it is a dull organization without martial music. And if there is to be a Citizens' Band, independent of the military band, it is equally apparent that neither organization can command the best of the city's musicians.

In throwing out the suggestion of a possible amalgamation the Examiner has been inspired with no intention of injuring in the least the G.W.V.A. Band in which it has always taken the warmest interest. It is without any desire to boast that we point out that this paper inaugurated the campaign by which the funds were raised for the purchase of the instruments now used by the Veterans' band, and that when the G.W.V.A. applied for the transfer of these instruments to their organization, the Examiner strongly supported their request, on every possible occasion until they were successful in achieving their object. And since that time this paper has, whenever the opportunity arose, done what it could for the G.W.V.A. band.

Therefore in pointing out the advantages of a possible conversion of the Veterans' band into a regimental organization, combining with it other available musicians, the Examiner does so in all friendliness. At best, it is only a suggestion, a possible solution of a problem that must soon be settled. If the members of the G.W.V.A. band do not see any merit in the proposal there will be no harm done, or not the slightest ill feeling on our part. And if as they probably will they decide to "carry on" as they are, they should receive a liberal share of the city's appropriation for music. They earned much more than they received last year and this fact should be taken into consideration by the Council when the matter of band grants is being finally wound up.

A CANADIAN NIGHT.

Canadian winters we admit are trying to the nerves—a source of trouble and annoyance to the stoker of furnaces, and the man who pays for the coal, but to the youthful Canadian lover of outdoor sport, a cold moonlight night on a long winding snow piled road, offers allurement that sunny California can never hope to offer. If you doubt the statement, Mr. Pessimist, with your collar turned up and your hands shoved deep into your pockets, just hunt up that old pair of snowshoes that the dust and the attic has claimed, hustle into your woolen sweater, and take a tramp out under the starry sky. Get away from the cluttered houses of the city, leave the bookworms in their slippers before the grate and hie out to the far fields, where it's moonlight, snow and shadow.

There's not a sound save somewhere merry sleighbells echo and there is not a break to the stillness of the snow-laden fields—except for the crunch of feet on the diamond snowdust which the moon weaves on to a silken scarf to cover the cold earth. The smoke from a solitary farmhouse, tucked costly amongst the pines, like a sleepy child, curls low, for it is a cold night, and there's a nip and sting to the air that makes one step briskly. Sometimes a faithful old collies comes—a black speck in the snowy whiteness of the farm lane, and pokes an inquisitive nose into our hands and then hurries back again to his vigil.

On goes the tramp—past the trees—tall sentinels of the road, their black limbs edged with little lacy outlines against the grey of the sky. Around the bend in the road one catches the first glimpse of the lights of the city, like a necklace of pearls.

Five miles of the most wonderful medicine nature distills—fresh air, and with cheeks like two Canadian Stars—an appetite that only old winter can give an edge to, eyes a-sparkle, blood coursing merrily, you seek the warmth of the burning embers of the cozy fireside.— London Advertiser.

"IMPERTINENT," IS MARY PICKFORD'S REPLY ON RUMOURS

MOVIE STAR VERY ANGRY WHEN ASKED REGARDING DOUGLAS FAIRBANKS.

MINDEN, Nev.—"My plans for the future are my own."

It was not the Mary Pickford of "Pollyanna" who said this.

It was a tight-lipped, tense little person, who clenched her fists and lifted her chin in an aggressive manner with which her screen admirers are not familiar.

A correspondent, who had ridden all the way to the Dan Campbell ranch, near Genoa, had asked her point blank if she intended marrying Douglas Fairbanks, now that she has succeeded in securing her divorce from Owen Moore, another film star.

The little star was on the point of shedding tears, she was so angry.

"That question is impertinent," she blazed. "I do not care to talk about the subject of my divorce. That is a closed chapter in my life." And that is all a 40-mile ride netted.

Otherwise Gracious.

Miss Pickford was sitting in the ranch-house sun-room reading a much thumbed copy of Balzac. If she appeared at the Douglas County Court House, as the few persons who saw her say she did, dressed in shabby clothes and muddy shoes, she put them away as soon as she returned to the Campbell ranch, for she was charmingly gowned in an airy cloud of blue chiffon, with blue silk stockings and blue satin pumps.

She was gracious enough about everything else and offered tea to her weary visitor, and, once off the subject of her marital adventures, smiled happily enough.

In an interview to-day, Miss Pickford says she will never marry again, and that she will devote her life to moving pictures.

Better Belting with Efficiency "Built In"

Efficiency is a result—in our belting it is the culmination of thousands of experiments and tests over a belt-building period of fifty years.

The outstanding factor in creating transmission efficiency in our Dominion Friction Surface Belting is our special friction rubber compound with which the entire belt is saturated. This special friction compound gives our belts a pulley-gripping quality that prevents practically all wastage of power through slippage.

Dominion Friction Surface Belting

will transmit all the power that any belt can be made to transmit.

Every ounce of material that goes into Dominion Friction Surface Belting is carefully tested by our experts to make sure that it is up to our high standard.

Each individual operation is checked as the belt proceeds from one machine to the other, and a sample of the finished belt is tested both chemically and physically to prove that it will efficiently serve the purpose for which it was made. This "Built-in Efficiency" is backed by the service of our belting engineers, who are ready to demonstrate its value without charge or obligation.

SANDRA THE JEALOUS

BY JANE PHELPS

SURPRISED BY A SHOW OF AFFECTION

CHAPTER LXVII

I crushed the message in my hand. Everett could not even send me a telegram without giving me an order. 'Do not wait up for me,' he had said. Well I wouldn't !Not because he had told me not to, but because I didn't want to, I'd try indifference. Evidently Leola was perfectly indifferent as to whether he liked what she did or not. I, too, would learn to be that way, and I would commence at once.

If he spoke about my going to bed, I would tell him I had intended to sit up, but had been too sleepy—then — another thought came. I would defy him. I would not only sit up, but I would go to the station and meet him. It would be after midnight, but what difference did that make? It would have made no difference to Leola.

Perhaps Everett did care for me a little—else why should he have asked me to marry him? But it was a different kind of love from that he had given Leola, and I wanted that kind —the kind that never saw any faults in me, and if he did, he would love me too much, be too afraid of offending me, to mention them. So I determined to meet him.

I would do more. I would comb my hair high on my head as Leola had, and if he again objected, I would tell him I was going to do it as I liked. If he never scolded Leola for anything, why should he scold me? I was just as much his wife as she had been—even if I were Number Two. I had just as much right to have my own way as she had, and I would have it just as she had done. Then perhaps Everett would love me with the same blind devotion (as I called it in my thoughts) he had given her.

"Have a taxi here at 11.30" I said to Hetty. "I am going to the train to meet Mr. Graham."

"Shall I go with you?"

"No—I shall not need you."

Dinner over, I went upstairs and arranged my hair as I liked it, and as Everett had ordered me not to wear it. I felt oh, so wicked! and so happy that at last I had decided to do as Leola did and please myself, instead of everlastingly trying to please him.

I thought the evening never would pass. I played a little, read a little and, to be perfectly honest, I shivered a little because of my daring.

It was exactly 11.30 when I heard the honk of the taxi. I was all ready but waited for Hetty to call me. I had been very brave so far, but when I found myself really on the way to the station, I began to feel not quite so sure I could carry out my plan of showing Everett I could be as independent as Leola.

I had allowed myself ample time—too much for my comfort. As the time for the train to arrive grew near, I paced the platform nervously. What if Everett should be so angry he wouldn't speak to me, or what if he should scold me terribly? In my anxiety over the manner of his greeting, I had almost forgotten the two injured men, the loss of my jewels, the damaged car, and all that had happened since he left.

"What is the matter? What are you doing here this time of night?" I had been so busy with my thoughts that the train had come in, and Everett had seen me before I realized he had time to reach me.

"I came to meet you."

"Where's the car?"

"I came in a taxi. Thomas is—hurt."

It was like Everett to ask no questions, but his face flushed and I shivered again at the thought of what he would say when we should be alone. Seated in the taxi he turned to me:

"Now what does this mean?" He had not kissed me, nor said he was glad to see me. So I reminded him:

"You haven't kissed me, Everett."

"I do not intend to until you tell me what this means. I explicitly told you in my wire to go to bed. Why did you disobey me?"

"I wanted so to see you." It wasn't the exact truth, but it might placate him.

"That is no excuse for disobeying me. Now tell me about Thomas. I will talk to you about your action later."

"A man ran into us, or we into him. The two cars grazed each other and Thomas was thrown out and quite seriously hurt."

"Where were you?"

"In the car. But I wasn't hurt—just bruised and shaken up." I wouldn't make too light of it. To my surprise, Everett swept me into his arms and, holding me close, he covered my face with kisses.

"Thank God, you weren't injured!" he said as he put me out of his arms only when we drew up to the curb. While he was paying the man I wondered if ever there was another man like him. And I also wondered if he would overlook my trying to go with him, and everything that had happened while he had been gone.

To-morrow— Everett Hears of the Accident and Robbery.

"Golden Bell," Famous Irish Relic.

Curio collectors had an opportunity of obtaining a famous Irish relic at auction recently, at London, England. This is the "golden bell" which, according to tradition, descended from heaven and was used for obtaining information when all other means failed.

On one occasion a pair of saddlebags with $1,700 was stolen, and as all inquiries were useless the priest stated he would swear all his flock on the bell on Sunday.

On the Saturday night a man came and said: "Father, there is no occasion for the golden bell—here is the money, every bit of it, all safe and sound."

Pony Twenty Years in Mine.

A mine pit pony called Fulmen (after the winner of the Lincolnshire handicap in 1886) has just completed 20 years' continuous service in a South Kirby (Eng.) colliery.

Fulmen was taken down the South Kirby colliery in April, 1899, and only once has he since been brought to the surface.

This remarkable pony has never had a day's illness, and never met with an accident. The animal's eyesight remains good.

No Bride, No Wedding.

The only serious fault of the bride-to-be was that she was never known to be on time. Every place she went she was late, and it had gotten to be such an old story that even the minister, knowing of her failing, attempted to remind her of it at the wedding rehearsal.

"You know," he said, "the wedding ceremony is at 8 o'clock sharp; you must be here on time."

She looked up at the clergymen with a twinkle in her eye.

"Well, there is one thing—this wedding cannot go on very well without me, can it?"

And the clergyman had to admit that she had the best of him.

Occasional Observance.

We will soon be entering that joyous period of the year when Mr. City Feller goeth into his back yard garden to spade, wearing old shoes on his feet and blisters on his hands.

Where Pepys Was Buried.

The church of St. Olave's, in Hart street, London, is one of the eight that escaped the great fire of 1666, as well as one of the most ancient of London. It is a small building with a tower that is surmounted by a vane in the form of a crown, which is said to commemorate Queen Elizabeth's visit in 1584 to give thanks for her release from imprisonment in the Tower of London and make a present of silken ropes for the bells. One of the most interesting associations is the fact of its being the burial place of the great diarist, Samuel Pepys.

STOP HEADACHES BEFOREHAND

You never had a headache when you were well.

To keep well is to keep clean, inside.

To relieve headache, and to prevent it, keep the liver active and industrious and the bowels as regular as a clock.

Two generations of healthy, vigorous people have done this by taking one pill at bedtime, regularly—a larger dose when nature gives the warning.

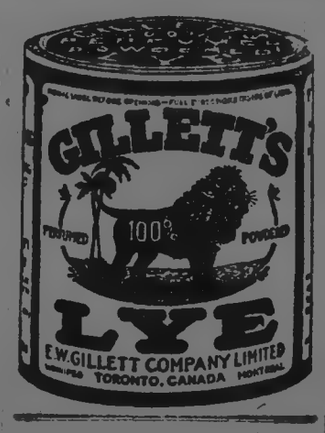
HARD COAL MINERS TO SEEK INCREASE



PHILADELPHIA, March 8.—Demands for a 60 per cent. increase in wages for contract miners, $2 a day raise for day men and a six-hour day and five-day week for men paid by the day or month, will be presented to the anthracite coal operators in New York on March 9 by the union representatives of the hard coal diggers. These demands were formualted at a convention of the anthracite miners in Wilkes-Barre last August and ratified by the national convention of the United Mine Workers of America in Cleveland in September.

The conference of operators and mine lorkers will endeavor to negotiate a new agreement to take the place of the contract now in force. The present general wage agreemnt covering the anthracite industry was entered into in May 1916, for four years, ending March 31 this year and will continue until that time. Because of war conditions wages have been since readjusted by supplemental agreements between the miners and operators.

About 170,000 mine workers will be affected by the new contract to be negotiated. The miners' scale committee which will meet the operators will be composed of the officers and executive board members of the three districts comprising the anthracite fields, the three international board members in the hard coal regions and three mine workers from each district. It is expected that after the demands are formally presented and views are exchanged between th two sides a small sub-committee of the operators and miners will be named to carry on the actual negotiations.

Any agreement reached will have to go back to a convention of the mine workers for ratification.

Whether the mine workers will remain at work, if an agreement is not reached by March 31, will depend largely, it is said, on how strenuously the operators oppose the demands. The opinion has been expressed that the anthracite negotiations probably would not be taken up seriously until the bituminous wage scale had been agreed on.

The mine workers demand that the next contract be for a period of not exceeding two years, and that the making of individual agreements and contracts shall be prosecuted.

Just increases secured in the supplemental agreements of 1917 and 1918 are to be included in the wage scale as the basis upon which the 60 per cent. shall be added.

MISSING WOMAN FOUND IN GARRET

Without Food Since Tuesday and Clad Only in Her House Dress.

COTTAM, Ont., March 5.—The mystery of the disappearance of Mrs. Wilmont Reid of this place was solved late yesterday afternoon, when she was found by her husband lying in a lean-to of the garret of her own home, where she had apparently been ever since she was missed on Tuesday last, without food, and without any clothing for warmth, beyond her ordinary house dress.

Immediately on her discovery Mrs. Reid was placed under medical care, and there are hopes of her complete recovery from a slight mental lapse, which was apparently the cause of her strange behaviour.

Perhaps your Bed Doesn't Suit You so well as You Think

Maybe you wake often during the night. Dreams trouble you—or you lie awake for hours. You get up only half rested

BUSINESS problems, indigestion —there may be a dozen causes for insomnia. Did you ever stop to think your bed may be to blame? If a bed makes the slightest sound it disturbs the nerves.

That's the trouble with wooden beds and loose-jointed, noisy metal beds—you can't relax.

Many people who have always been "light sleepers" sleep sound all night on a Simmons Metal Bed and Waldorf Box Spring.

* * *

THE Simmons Metal Bed is noiseless. It locks firm at the corners. The corner locks are made of pressed steel—fit true and snug—not a creak, rattle, or feeling of unsteadiness. It is perfectly rigid—feels and moves like one solid piece.

The Simmons Pressed Steel Corner Locks are protected by basic patents—exclusive with Simmons Limited, not to be duplicated or imitated.

And these patented corner locks have made possible the Three-piece Bed—the new Simmons idea—the spring forming a single unit with the side rails.

* * *

IF you waken easily, or if you sleep lightly, you'll find the Twin Bed a wonderful aid to sound sleep.

Ever since doctors began to recommend a separate bed for each sleeper, Simmons Limited. have specialized in Twin Beds.

Sleep is more restful. No disturbance from another's restlessness. Coughs and infections are not communicated.

* * *

THE Waldorf Box Spring really does what you have always wanted a spring to do. It invites complete relaxation.

It supports the body at ease on fine resilient spring coils — each coil conforming freely to the contours, so that the spine is perfectly rested, whether one sleeps on the back or on the side.

It fits firmly on the bed—never sags or humps, never loses its resiliency.

And Simmons Mattresses and Pillows are in every way worthy to go with Simmons Metal Beds and Waldorf Box Springs.

* * *

EVERYBODY needs sleep. Get a bed that invites sleep! You'll find the Simmons Metal Bed, the Waldorf Box Spring, Simmons Mattresses and Pillows in your leading merchant's store.

Your choice of a wonderful series of styles—in brass, in enamel, and in "wood finish", beautiful reproductions of natural wood grain.

And when you are selecting your Simmons Beds with an eye to their appearance in the room, you will see that Simmons has for the first time established beautiful and authoritative design in Metal Beds.

If you do not know the Simmons merchants in this section, we shall be glad to send you their names.

ADOPT FIREMEN'S SCHEDULE WITH SLIGHT ALTERATIONS

COMMITTEE OF THE WHOLE CLIPPED A FEW DOLLARS OFF THE INCREASE TO THREE FIRST OFFICERS AND REFUSE SPECIAL STIPEND TO SECRETARY.

COMPROMISED OPINIONS

According to the firemen's request that their original schedule of salary increases be adopted instead of the undifferentiating plan of granting an additional $200 to each member of the department, the Committee of the Whole Council approved the list as submitted with the exception of the salaries of the first three officers, which were slightly pruned, and the extra $100 for the secretary which was refused.

By these alterations, Chief Grange receives $2,000, instead of $2,100, an increase of $300; Assistant Chief H. Johnston $1,600, instead of $1,687.50, an increase of $277.50; and Captain A. McDonald, $1,500, instead of $1,537.50, an increase of $263.50. Fireman E. G. Johnston, who performs secretarial duties for the Chief, was recommended for $1,450, which was $100 more than the first-grade men, but the committee could not agree on this item, and it was abandoned by those who were supporting it.

Introduced by Ald. Morrison.

All the members of the Council were present, with Mayor McIntyre presiding. Ald Morrison, referring to the petition and schedule that had been received from the firemen, pointed out that the difference between the total of the equalized increases of $200 to each employee and the total of the scheduled list was only $786.35.

"I don't think it's wise," he advised, "to have any ill-feeling in any way for the sake of dividing it up among the twenty men. I think the Council should adopt the schedule just as it stood. Ald. Crowe came out flat-footed for the $200 to each man, but he was not so strong for treating the other city officials in the same way."

Ald. Crowe—I tried to do it. It was not my fault.

Ald. Morrison—I have the floor. I don't want you to interrupt.

Ald. Morrison argued that the firemen should be treated in the same manner in which other salaries had been increased.

Ald. Turner remarked that he had told some of the firemen that it was the Council's desire to give as much to the lower men as to those at the top of the list. The previous action was not prompted by any animosity to the higher men.

"The fire department must be efficient," he continued. "These men are willing to sacrifice their lives if necessary at the sound of the bell. They are working in our interests. I am quite in accord with granting the schedule as it was presented, if it is the wish of the Council."

Ald. Crowe's Explanation.

Ald. Crowe said he felt quite justified for taking the stand he did. "The firemen are a worthy body and should be encouraged and taken care of. The increase of $200 was given on the understanding that it was to meet the high cost of living. Chief Grange said here that was the case. Organized labour stands for the equalization of wages and for the raising of the lowest paid men to a higher standard. The firemen called me up to-night and I went down to the Hall. After they had heard me they told me they thought I was right. They told me that the request this year was for services, and that since Chief Howard's time there hadn't been proper recognition of the different officers. That explanation hadn't been given before. They said that this year they were asking for the recognition of their services, and that a flat rate would be all right after this year.

"Can any one say I am not sincere? I defy any one to say that I haven't tried to make all the increases on the same lines. I represent Labour and the people as a whole, and I haven't tried to offend any one."

Ald. Turner—Then you want to retrieve your mistake and move that the $768 be divided among the men.

Ald. Crowe—No. I took a stand, and it was their fault, not mine. We want to keep inside 35 mills. We could give the flat rate this year and recognize their services next year. I saw in the papers that two aldermen said that I had stated that an increase of $100 for each fireman was enough. No alderman can say that. I cannot think of any one of you who would do it.

Ald. Turner—It was last year's Council.

Cut Solicitor's Salary.

Ald. Jones—I made a motion at the last meeting that the City Solicitor's salary be $1,200 instead of $1,500. I make it again now. We can divide the $250 between the Chief and the firemen.

Ald. Morrison—I'm opposed. I don't think the Chief or any fireman would take the reduction to boost their own salaries.

Ald. Jones—Oh, solicitor got $1,000 last year. We recommended $1,100, and after that $1,300. We can't afford to raise any official's salary fifty per cent.

Ald. Whitehouse—The abilities and experience of the Chief, Assistant Chief, the Captains and Lieutenants should be recognized. We want to encourage ambition. If we don't we won't get the service we should. I would like to see the schedule go through.

Ald. Phelan—I stand on my vote the other night.

Ald. Hamilton—I can't see that $100 for the Chief's secretary.

Ald. Copping seconded Ald. Jones' motion, reducing the increase to City Solicitor Widdifield. It carried.

Ald Phelan moved that the salaries for the firemen be confirmed as previously struck.

Ald. Morrison moved an amendment, seconded by Ald Whitehouse, that the schedule as presented be adopted.

Ald. Gordon—Would you suggest $400 for the Chief? That is a 25 per cent. increase for him.

Ald. Whitehouse—We've got an excellent man there, and it is a very important department.

Ald. Whitehouse stated that the staff had remained with the department.

Ald. Gainey asked why Frank Degan was not appointed Lieutenant. He said he heard that it was because Degan couldn't tie a knot.

Ald. Morrison replied that he didn't know anything about it.

Ald. Gainey said that Fireman Jones had been promoted ahead of Degan, although only a new man.

Ald. Gordon—Degan isn't on the list at all as an officer.

Ald. Jones—He's not a relative of mine, but the Chief told me had had experience before he came here.

The discussion turned to the extra $100 for the Chief's secretary.

Ald. Turner remarked that this additional remuneration would help pay for the secretary's special education.

Ald. Gordon—He was a tailor down here before.

Ald. Hamilton objected to this item, but Ald. Morrison urged that it go through.

Ald. Jones—There's lot of time for him to do that work for the Chief.

Ald. Morrison—Perhaps you know.

Finally Ald. Morrison consented to the elimination of the stipend for the secretary, "but I think he ought to be recompensed some way," he concluded.

With that thin paring the schedule was adopted, according to Ald. Morrison's amendment.

Misunderstood Motion.

A moment later Ald. Gainey informed the Mayor that he had misunderstood the motion.

"I'm not in agreement to giving the Chief $400. I understood he wasn't included," Ald Gainey explained.

"Well, we'll take the vote again," said His Worship, who had counted six in favour of the motion a minute or two before.

On this ballot Aldermen Morrison and Whitehouse were supported by Ald. Jones and Copping.

After some figuring, Ald. Turner moved that the schedule be accepted with $2,000 for the Chief, $1,600 for the Assistant Chief, and $1,500 for the Captain.

Ald. Copping seconded it, and only Aldermen Gainey and Gordon voted with them.

Ald Phelan's motion, seconded by Ald Crowe, in favour of the discriminating $250 each drew Ald. Hamilton.

Mayor McIntyre took on that "cast we down-hearted" expression and handed up the resolutions again.

Ald. Turner's was rejected. Ald. Morrison lopped off the secretary's $100 without any success.

Ald. Gordon, to Ald. Turner—Morrison wants to give the secretary $50.

Ald. Jones, to Ald. Turner—Knock off the secretary's and it will go through.

Ald. Gordon—All right, trim it off.

Ald. Turner put his motion again, omitting Secretary Johnston's $100. Ald. Gordon seconded it, and Aldermen Copping, Jones, Whitehouse, and Gainey voted with them.

Such was the solution of this tremendous problem.

Motions That Failed.

Ald. Phelan proposed with Ald. Hamilton seconding, that City Solicitor Widdifield's salary remain at $1,500, but the effort was futile.

Ald. Crowe made a lone gesture at City Engineer Parsons' salary, moving that it be reduced from $3,300 to $3,000. He failed to attract a seconder, and asked Ald. Phelan why he did not fall in with this idea.

Ald. Phelan—I voted for it the other night, and it was defeated. So I'm through with it."

Struck the Rate.

The Aldermen signalled their relief after their labour of saving $525 of the $768 difference between the schedule in it original and final forms, by recommending that the tax rate for 1920 be struck at 35 mills. It was Ald Turner's motion, seconded by Ald. Whitehouse.

An Annex Sale That Introduces Many New Lines

MADE-IN-CANADA GOODS FEATURED

LEADER

$1.75 Damask Table Napkins, $1.29 Dozen

The size is 17 inches square and the assortment of patterns consist of floral and conventional designs. You can economize on your good linen by substituting these on every-day occasions. Sold in half dozen lots at 65c. or in one dozen lots at $1.29.

LEADER

200 Yards of 93c Bleached Table Damask 69c Yard

If you have a cloth to replace or one you wish to save, to-morrow will furnish you with an excellent opportunity to purchase. It is a pure bleach, is 50 inches wide and you have four patterns to select from.

35c White Flannelette, 29c Yard

This is the response to the inquiries of many of our customers, as to when we will have white flannelette on sale again. This is a 35c value direct from our main floor department. It is 27 to 28 inches wide and has a nice soft combed finish.

75c 8/4 Bleached Sheeting 59c Yard

Not only is it a good quality but it is fully bleached and is Canadian made. We do not hesitate to say that the above quotation is below to-day's mill price.

LEADER

30c and 35c Towelling, 23c Yard

It is pure linen and that is why we say the price is unusual. There are two qualities. The pure linen one we mention and another that is pure linen wefts. More of the former, however. You have choice of an all-white pure bleach and a grey and white stripe.

Staple Remnants

A table of remnants from our staple department. You will find: cottons, ginghams, prints, nainsooks, flannelettes, etc., at Bargain Annex prices. Some are mill ends and others remnants from our regular stock.

LEADER

$1.49 and $1.75 White Voile Blouses 98c

This is the Third Annex Leader Sale of these excellent blouses. We purchased a large quantity because we realized their excellent value. We have sold hundreds already and now the quantity is diminishing, but there are still all sizes and patterns. We advise that you purchase to-morrow.

These are made of a fine white voile and are trimmed with Swiss embroidery, val lace and pin tucks.

LEADER

$1.50 White Cotton Night Gowns, 98c

Some have square yokes and others V necks. Some are trimmed with embroidery and ribbon and others lace and ribbon. You will have no fault to find with them especially the quality. Come early for the quantity is limited.

The CRESSMAN Company Limited

JURY BROUGHT IN A VERDICT OF ACCIDENTAL DEATH IN THE CASE OF MAN KILLED BY AN ELEVATOR

CHARLES HOLLAND WAS DEAD WHEN THE DOCTORS ARRIVED —THE EVIDENCE.

The inquest into the death of Charles Holland, who was found crushed to death in the freight elevator at the McDonnel street plant of the Canadian Woollens, a week ago yesterday morning, was resumed last night in the Police Court, following the adjournment of a week before.

Coroner Greer presided with the following jurors present: George Duncan, foreman, Messrs. J. M. McGrath, George Evans, Edward Conroy, George Benor, M. J. Maher, T. G. Ephgrave, James Fowler, Howard Shurter, Lorenzo, Humber and Duncan Drummond.

The inquest began shortly after eight. The Crown was represented by Crown Attorney Hatton.

William Johnston, the first witness called stated that he lived at 500 Cedar street and handled yarn at the McDonnel street factory. He had known Holland for some fifteen years. Holland went to the company last July he said. He had not seen Holland that morning but viewed the body some fifteen or twenty minutes after the accident. He stated that the body was in a sitting position jammed between the elevator and the wall.

In reply to the Crown Attorney's questions he said he took the wool up on the freight elevator to the different stories. No operator for the elevator was employed.

Mr. Johnston stated that he did not know whether Holland was alone or not in the basement. Mr. Johnston could not tell how the accident happened. He himself used the elevator very little. Replying to the Crown Attorney he said there were two cables one to be pulled to go up and another to go down.

Mr. C. R. Widdifield who appeared on behalf of the Holland family, questioned Mr. Johnston on the light in the building and he said he thought a new light had been put in since the accident. The light was fair, he said before.

The Crown Attorney asked him how far the elevator was from the ground. "About five feet." As the next floor was eight feet the Crown Attorney surmised that it had been pulled down. Mr. Johnston said that if someone wanted to use the elevator he whistled before pulling it either up or down.

Mr. Johnston stated that from the position of the deceased, he seemed near enough to the rope to be able to reach it.

Dr. Scott.

Dr. Scott now gave evidence. About 8.30 Monday morning he got the call to the accident. When he got there the man's body was in the lunch room. In the examination a livid hand was found across the stomach and a deep dinge vertically across the forehead. The other parts of the body seemed intact. Over the mans' chest and upper parts of body small red marks, blood exudations were seen. Dr. Scott explained these would be caused by crushing and Dr. Scott gave this as his diagnosis for the cause of death. He placed the crushing of the stomach as the most likely cause for death as against the blow on the head. Dr. Scott said that he had answered frequent calls from the Bonner-Worth Company for accidents. Dr. Yelland was called shortly afterward and both examined the body.

Dr. Scott in reply to the Coroner's questions expressed no doubt as to the man being dead when the accident occurred for if he had been there couldn't possibly have been any red spots on the chest.

Dr. Yelland corroborated Dr. Scott's evidence. Dr. Yelland said it would be merely a matter of guess whether he was struck first on the head or the abdomen.

Patrick Hickey.

Mr. Patrick Hickey gave evidence. He said that he was employed at the Canadian Woollens handling the yarn. He used the elevator more than the west. He stated he had worked the elevator. He was not sure whether he worked it on Friday or Saturday previous to the accident. Mr. George Duncan questioned him if he had ever had any trouble with it.

"No."

Mr. Hickey admitted it could have happened by a person above pulling the rope.

George Melton.

George Melton, an employee of the Canadian Woollens, the first man to see the deceased gave evidence.

He said that he saw the man from above and jumped on the floor of the elevator to try to release him but as he was so stout he couldn't get it down. After some trouble the body was removed.

Coroner—"Did he seem to be quite dead?"

"Yes. His face was cold.

Mr. Melton said he had never heard of any complaints about the elevator. The man's hands were crossed. Mr. Melton stated that he did not think Mr. Holland could reach the rope from his position. Mr. Melton placed the blow on the head as caused by the projecting beam of the first floor.

Mr. F. J. Travers an engineer at the company gave evidence. He stated that he repaired and inspected the elevator weekly and had found nothing wrong with it.

Mr. Hatton asked the witness if anyone would likely interfere with the rope as it went up. "No. I should not think so."

Mr. Travers said he could not understand how he got struck. He stated that the gate in the basement was up when the elevator was down. The contrivance had never failed. He agreed that if the wrong rope was pulled the gate would come down strike the man on the head. It was brought out that the gate was smashed in the accident.

The engineer said that a new light had been put in but the light was good before. He stated that there was no reason for the elevator being held only a foot or two above the flood.

In reply to a juror's question Mr. Travers said that the minute the elevator started to go up the gate started to come down. If the elevator was up two of two and one half feet the gate would be down about three feet. Mr. Travers said that a man could easily get in to use the elevator.

One of the juror's inquired if he had ever seen Mr. Holland stop the elevator a foot or so above the floor.

"No."

Mr. Widdifield —"Would you say he was in the elevator or caught going up?"

"I would say he was caught and carried up."

Mr. Travers said that vocal powers were depended on to call the elevator. He agreed that bells would be better.

The next witness was Denis O'Brien, an employee of the yarn department. In four years he said he had never found anything wrong with the elevator. He said that from Mr. Holland's position he thought he could reach the rope.

Mr. Allan Pilling, foreman of the drawing department stated that he had been with the company for five years. He said he saw the body soon afterward. The statements of the others were all corroborated by him.

Replying to Mr. Widdifield's questions, he said no extra light was needed except on a dark day, but one had been added.

Mr. Pilling offered some new evidence. He said that the elevator was could be controlled by one rope, that is if the nearest rope to him was pulled up, the elevator went up, if down, it went down. It only had to be pulled about six inches.

Thomas Turcotte for four years an employee at the company gave evidence. He said that the elevator was the best one in the factory. There had never been any complaints on the light. Mr. Turcotte agreed that the light was needed only on a dark day. He knew nothing of the accident he said.

Mr. Frank Barton also an employee corroborated the other's statements of the good service of the elevator. He saw the deceased just after the accident. The projecting floor on the second floor caught the man's head and his head was wedged against it, Mr. Barton said.

Mr. Travers, the engineer, in reply to the Coroner said that the elevator had been inspected by a government inspector a month previous and pronounced as all right.

This marked the completion of the taking of evidence. The Coroner regretted that no further light could be thrown on the accident the cause of which could only be surmised. It could only be conjectured that he started it himself as no evidence could be produced to show that the elevator was started from above. The elevator seemed to be in good condition, but the Coroner recommended a better system of bells or signals.

After sitting for over half an hour the following verdict was brought in by the jury:

"We the jurors empanelled to enquire into the death of Charles Holland find from this evidence submitted at the inquest held on March 8, 1920 in the Police Court that Charles Holland came to his death at the Bonner-Worth branch of the Canadian Woollens Ltd., Peterboro, by being crushed by the elevator while in the discharge of his duties on March 1, 1920."

It was recommended that a bell system or some improved system of signals be installed and further suggested that the case be taken up with the makers of the elevators and the government authorities with a view of devising some further protections for the safety of the employees.

MAKING MERRY

At Mealtime Means Good Appetite, Good Digestion, Good Cheer and Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

Do You Use Them? If Not, Why?

To sit back after a good meal and know there is not going to be sour risings, gas, drowsiness and discomfort is the logical result of using Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets immediately after eating. Most people believe they can trace each attack of indigestion to the something they ate and can still "taste." And it surprises them, invariably, to note how quickly relief comes after using one or two of these tablets. Whether it is highly seasoned food, rich pastry, the heavy hearty foods or some one particular offender the relief comes just the same. Those who are susceptible to attacks of indigestion or dyspepsia should try Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets as they supply the stomach with an alkaline effect just as it does naturally when it is working in a perfectly healthy condition.

A glance around the table will likely indicate one or more who plainly look as if they anticipated the dyspeptic's mournful assemblage of distresses shortly after the meal is finished. Many a bon vivant, however, has learned how to leave the table in a happy frame of mind by the use of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets immediately after eating. And whether it was rich soup, pastry, cheese, or dishes usually rated as "heavy," these tablets contain ingredients that digest food, assist the stomach in the work of digestion and supply the alkaline effect that the stomach requires. Thus before you conjure up the troubles that ordinarily would follow eating some favorite dish try this plan of avoidance.

Or if the trouble is already doing its worst get a 50 cent box of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets of any druggist and note how gently and smoothly your stomach settles down to good behavior.

What causes Indigestion

An excess of acid in the stomach sours the food and starts fermentation. Distressing gases form. Your meals don't digest but lay like lumps of lead. Then you have heartburn, flatulence, fullness, belching, headache and real misery in the stomach and intestines.

A few tablets of "Pape's Diapepsin" bring relief almost as soon as they reach the stomach. "Pape's Diapepsin" costs little at drug stores.

It Gets The Dirt - - - Not The Carpet

The Eureka is so simple and easy to handle that even a child can operate it. The handle fits into the hand and the control switch is always under the thumb.

Eureka an Air Cleanser

Reference to the air brings out important points that must be borne in mind and that explains the superiority of the EUREKA Machine over all other Vacuum Cleaners.

The EUREKA is an air cleaner. There is a brush attachment which can be used for surface dirt, the threads, lint and hair. But the air forced through the machine does the real job of cleaning, removing the dirt embedded in the carpet, mattresses or cushions that ordinary brooms, brushes and carpet sweepers cannot possibly dislodge. Make a note of the following point.

The measure of EUREKA superiority lies in the great volume of air that rushes through the nozzle—and the velocity at which it travels. That is the real secret of a Vacuum Cleaner's Efficiency--"VOLUME AND VELOCITY."

PYREX

Saves Fuel, Food and Labor

PYREX SAVES ABOUT ONE HALF THE FUEL usually required, because it absorbs nearly all the oven heat and bakes food quickly.

PYREX SAVES FOOD IN MANY WAYS. Meats, vegetables, etc., when cooked in PYREX retain their natural color and flavor to such a degree that economy may be practiced in buying the less expensive kinds and yet have delicious food. Most foods usually cooked on top of the stove can be better prepared in the oven.

PYREX SAVES LABOR—It is always free from grease and odors for nothing can penetrate the hard smooth surface. You can wash it as easily as your china and silver.

VOTE TO-NIGHT ON THE AMENDMENT

SEVERAL SPEAKERS FOR THE OPPOSITION.

(Canadian Press.)

OTTAWA, March 9. — The Commons will vote to-night on the Mackenzie King amendment to the address, unless all plans of the party whips miscarry. It is admitted the vote will not likely be taken until late in the evening. Hon. Charge Murphy, Russel and Ernest Lapointe, Quebec east, will be the Opposition speakers to-day, while on the government side there is talk of a speech by Hon. N. W. Rowell or Hon. Martin Burrell. At all events the whips stated that there would be a vote if it was necessary to carry the House through until two or three o'clock in the morning.

BOARD DISMISSES THE APPLICATION

OLD RATES IN FORCE FOR MILK SHIPMENTS.

(Canadian Press.)

OTTAWA, March 9.— The Board of Railway Commissioners has dismissed the application of railway companies to be allowed to increase their rates on milk in baggage cars. Tariffs filed last May showed increases ranging from twenty five to sixty per cent. These were suspended pending investigation asked for by National Dairy Council. Commission has now dismissed the application for increased rates and confirmed the old rates.

CANADIANS TO BUILD HOSPITAL

(Canadian Press.)

NEW YORK March 9 Members of the Canadian Club of New York are making preliminary arrangements to organize effectively for the purpose of raising a million dollars or as much more as may be needed to build and equip a Canadian hospital in this city.

FUNERAL HELD SATURDAY AFTERNOON

The funeral of the late Alexander Reid took place on Saturday afternoon last from his late residence, 704 George street, to the Little Lake cemetery. The funeral, which was very largely attended, was conducted by Rev. Jas. Rollins of St. Andrew's church, of which deceased had been a member for over forty years. Rev. Rollins was assisted by Rev. Archdeacon Davidson, of St. John's Anglican church and also Rev. Robt. Pogue, of St. Paul's Presbyterian church. The pallbearers were representatives of Court Peterborough No. 20, Canadian Order of Foresters and included Messrs Geo. Stanton, Geo. Carpenter, Wm. Carter, Wm. Wilson, George Dredge and City Treasurer Frank Adams.

The floral tributes were many and beautiful and included the C.O.F., I.O. O.F., L.O.L. No. 50, Letter Carriers, also many representative citizens, all testifying to the esteem and respect the deceased enjoyed.

HAS RELATIVES IN THE COUNTRY

In an article entitled "Who's Who?" in the Traffic and Transportation World, of Feb. 20th in reference to Mr. J. A. Fitzpatrick, son of John Fitzpatrick, a one time resident of Douro township and a cousin of Mr D. M. O'Leary, of Lindsay, says:

"Mr. Fitzpatrick has gone to Toledo, whither his superiors have promoted him by reason of the great success he has achieved as their representative. In the metropolis of the Maumee Flats where he is now located, Mr. Fitzpatrick has assumed the duties of assistant general freight agent of the Toledo, St. Louis and Western Railroad, the famous Clover Leaf Route, in charge of solicitation, having represented the system in the Pittsburg District as its general agent for a number of years prior to the exodus of the office traffic men under propulsion of the Railroad Administration, some two years ago."

In referring to the interest Mr. Fitzpatrick has taken in public affairs the articles continues:

"He was a member of the Union and Traffic Clubs taking an active part in the affairs of the latter, having been a member of the Board of Governors and chairman of the committee which arranged the annual dinner of the organization in 1919, which had the distinction of being the most largely attended and brilliant of the long list of the Club's history."

Applying This Paste Actualy Removes Hairs

(Beauty Notes)

Merely applying an inexpensive paste to a hairy surface, say beauty specialists, will dissolve the hairs. This paste is made by mixing a little water with some powdered delatone; aiter about 2 minutes it is rubbed off and the skin washed. This simple method not only removes every trace of hair, but leaves the skin free from blemish. To insure success with this treatment, be careful to get real delatone.

PETERBORO PRESBYTERY MET IN ST. PAUL'S CHURCH THIS MORNING

REPORTS OF THE STANDING COMMITTEES—RESIGNATION CONSIDERED.

This morning the regular session of the Peterborough Presbytery opened for the spring meeting with a large attendance and the reports of the different standing committees were presented. The docket of business was exceptionally large. Among the matters considered were the report on the minimum stipends and the reconstruction of the Presbytery. In connection with the latter the Presbytery of Peterborough may be divided so that the congregations on the Lake front may be united with Kingston.

Standing Committees.

The reports of the standing committees presented included the work on the Presbytery for Sabbath schools and young people's societies, Home and Foreign Mission. The report of the Forward Movement showed that the Peterborough Presbytery went well over the top. While $80,000 was asked for, already $85,00 has been subscribed, with nine congregations to hear from. The strongest congregation and the one which contributed the largest sum was St. Paul's, which reports contributions to date of $31,000.

Resignation Considered.

Clergy Present.

The clergy present were Rev. A. L. McLeod B.A., of Brighton, Rev. A. W. Gardiner of Baltimore, Rev. W. H. V. Wafker of Bethany, Rev. Thomas McNaught of Bethseda, Rev. W. A. McKenzie of Colborne, Rev. W. A. Bremmer of Cobourg, Rev. C. S. McIntosh of Campbellford, Rev. H. L. Benie of Grafton, Rev. D. A. Thompson of Hastings, Rev. James Skene of Havelock, Rev. P. L. Jull of Lakefield, Rev. W. D. Lee of Millbrook, Rev. James Rollins of St. Andrew's, Rev. Robert Pogue of St. Paul's, Rev. J. A. McKenzie of Knox church, Rev. G. I. Craw, of Springville, Rev. R. McGillivray of Warkworth and Rev. Hugh Brown of Warsaw.

Commissioners Appointed.

Rev. Jas. Rollins, Rev. H. L. Bennie of Grafton, Rev. G. I. Craw of Springville and Rev. D. A. Thompson, of Hastings, were elected commissioners to the General Assembly to to be held in Ottawa in June.

Address by Dr. Wallace.

At the afternoon session which was adjourned at five o'clock, Rev. Dr. Wallace of Toronto gave an interesting and instructive address on the Forward Movement.

MR. FRANK PRATT RETURNS HOME

BRINGS A PAIR OF HOMING PIGEONS FOR DETECTIVE NEWHALL.

Mr. Frank Pratt, a former member of the Police Force, returned home yesterday from England, bringing with him a fine pair of red checkered homer pigeons for Detective Newhall. These birds are very valuable, and are of a very high strain. Last fall they won the international flight from the south of France to Manchester, England, and were only secured for Detective Newhall at considerable expense and competition. Detective Newhall now owns about fifty of these birds, among which are some of the finest on the continent.

Several competitions have been won by these homers. Last Labour Day these birds displayed their speed and flying endurance when they flew from Buffalo here in seven hours. The flight which the homers won from the south of France to Manchester, England, is some seven hundred miles, and is now covered by the birds in about ten hours, an average speed of seventy miles an hour. The birds possess a wonderful knowledge, and Detective Newhall has experienced considerable difficulty when he disposes of the birds in keeping them from returning home.

GERMANY EXPRESSED HER REGRET

Canadian Press:

BERLIN, March 9.—Germany has expressed her regrets to France for the anti-allied demonstration at the Hotel Adlon here on Saturday night when an official French party was subjected to an assault at the instigation of Prince Joachim Albrecht of Prussia, because its members had failed to stand when the orchestra played "Deutschland Uber Alles." An official of the Foreign Office paid call to the French Embassy this morning and expressed regrets of Foreign Minister Mueller for the incident. Later, the Foreign Minister visited M. De Marrilly, the French Charge, and personally expressed his regrets, which he begged the Charge to transmit to the Government of France.

TO PUSH COAL SALES.

Council desires to Dispose of the Remnant of the supply Bought for Emergency.

Following Ald. Gordon's suggestion last night, City Treasurer Adams was authorized to advertise the sale of the city's coal which was bought to meet a scarcity some two years ago. The prices are $13 for nut, $11 for pea and $11 for mine run.

ANOTHER BUSINESS TRANSFER

J. E. LILLICO SELLS HIS GROCERY BUSINESF TO FITZPATRICK & GERAGHTY.

The well known grocery business, craried on by Mr. J. E. Lillico, 356 Charlotte street, corner of Park street, has been sold to Messrs. Fitzpatrick & Geraghty, proprietors of the south end grocery and butcher business at 106-108 Rubidge street. Mr. Lillico retires in order to devote his attention to the activities of a prosperous and lengthy business career. The new firm which has succeeded to Mr. Lillico's business are to be congratulated in securing such a good live addition to their already growing trade, and will no doubt, continue to practice the same good business methods which have brought them the success they are now enjoying. Further announcement will be made by Messrs. Fitzpatrick & Geraghty in a few days.

BELMONTS WON FROM "EMMA GEES"

MACHINE GUNNERS BADLY BEATEN IN OPENING GAME OF CITY INDOOR LEAGUE.

The City Baseball League opened last night in the Armouries with a large number of spectators present.

The season was inaugurated with Col. E. B. Clegg, 57th Regt., in the pitcher's box; Major Miller, 4th Bgde. C.M.G.C., to bat, and Capt. Winterbottom behind the bat, after which the Belmonts and M. G. Co. met in the first game of the season.

"Hap" Harrison, the Belmont pitcher, pitched a wonderful game, while Capt. Cobb, M. G. Co., catcher, was a wonder.

The score was: Belmonts 20; M. G. Co. 2.

The umpires were Sergeant-Major Dunkerley and W. Perks.

The line-up:

Belmonts—A. Thompson, A. Darling, S. Lowes, C. Harrison, F. Jobbitt, C. Stewart, T. Holyman, C. Haskill, M. Knox.

M. G. Co.—Capt. Cobb, Lieut. Brooks, Gnr. Curtiss, Galvin, McGee, Patterson, MacMillan, Harkness, McWilliams.

HOCKEY GAME.

A very exciting game was played at Mark Street Rink last night between the "Y" Junior Employed Boys and Ashburnham Scouts. The "Y" boys won by 2 to 1. A return game will be played on Wednesday night from 6 to 7 at Brock Street Rink.

COLLINGWOOD ARE CHAMPIONS AGAIN

WIN INTERMEDIATE O-H.A. FOR THIRD TIME BY BEATING KINGSTON.

COLLINGWOOD, March 8.—For the third year in succesion Collingwood are champions of the intermediate O.H.A. By doing so Collingwood broke a record it being the first time since the series was formed in 1897 that a team has won the honor three successive years. The Shipbuilders made sure of the trophy this evening when they overwhelmed the Kingston team by a score of 14 to 2, and as they also won in Kingston on Friday night they won the round by 16 goals to 3.

At no stage of to-night's game were the locals in danger. In all fairness to Kingston, however, it must be stated that Tobin, the Frontenac goalkeeper, was taken very ill before the game, and although in no condition to enter the game he went on the ice and played the position all through. In the second period a dispute arose when it was found that Kingston had been playing for a minute or two with seven men, but this was speedily adjusted.

The first goal of the game was scored by Walton of Collingwood in 7 minutes, and from then on scores followed each other in quick succession. In the first period Collingwood three goals and Kingston two. In the second period Collingwood got six, while the visitors failed to find the net, while in the final session the homesters scored four more. Referees Bill Box and L. Whitehead handled the game well. The teams:—

POPULAR HOCKEY PLAYER IS DEAD

The hockey fans of Peterborough will learn with deep regret of the death in Toronto, where he was attending St. Michael's College, of Napoleon Girard, former local Junior O. H. A. player. Outside of the members of his own family, no one will mourn his loss more than the officers and players of the junior hockey club of last season and the year before. During the two seasons he played on the defence of the Peterborough Hockey Club. He was the life of the team, being a likeable, amiable, jolly youngster, who was always cheerful under favourable conditions or otherwise. He was popular with the fans, because he always gave the best he had, and with his fellow-players, because of his sunny nature and winning disposition. His passing will be deeply regretted.

TYRONE POWER

What promises to be the greatest theatrical event of the season, will be the appearance of the Distinguished English actor Mr. Tyrone Power, in his original character part of the Drainman in Chas. Rann Kennedy's greatest play of the generation "The Servant in the House", which will be the attraction at The Grand Opera House on Wednesday, March 10th.

For years and even centuries, the church has attacked the stage and its people, these attacks have been answered from time to time with more or less success by defenders of the serious drama. It is a novel experience, however, to find the stage turning critic and mercilessly lashing abuses on the church. That is what is done by Charles Rann Kennedy in his famous play, "The Servant in the House", which is a scathing satire on the hypocrisies of conventional religion, "The Servant in the House", is a mysterious Hindoo, whom New York critics called a reincarnation of the Christ. "This Servant" exposes the "graft" of a fashionable but wealthy Bishop and drives him from his brother's house, when the enraged Lord of the church says, "If I could have my way with you sir; I would have you publicly whipped. I would visit you with the utmost vigor of the Law. I would nail you up Sir. For an example. The Servant replies, "I have encountered similar hostility before my Lord from gentlemen very like your Lordship."

Mr. Tyrone Power will be supported by a specially selected company including Mr. Harvey Hays, Mr. Walter Edwin, Mr. Edward Foster, Mr. Harold De Becker, Miss Alma Chester, Miss Chela Knight and others.

Mr. Tyrone Power, and his company will be the first production under the banner of Trans-Canada Theatres, Limited, the new All-Canadian Theatrical enterprise, now controlling and operating a chain of theatres from the Atlantic to the Pacific throughout the Dominion.

"LISTEN, LESTER"

All persons who dislike letter writing (and that means very nearly everyone) should hie themselves without delay to the Grand next Monday evening, March 15, where John Corts musical comedy success "Listen Lester" with the entire New York cast, chorus, production and special company orchestra comes direct from a years run at the Knickerbocker Theatre, New York. For letter writing and some of its attendent evils form the basis for the amusing incidents which are a large part of its unfolding. There is a package of letters written to one "live wire" by a flirty widower who realizes too late that discretion is the better part of a love affair, and attempts to obtain possession of these documents. It is all mixed up in a bewildering array of songs and dances and funny business, supplies by Harry L. Cort, Geo. F. Stoddard, and Harold Orlob. Artistic settings entertaining specialties, and pretty maidens who form the dainties danciest chorus ever seen on any stage, and the original cast that includes, Mayme Gehrue, Miriam Folger, Jean Thomas, Cecil Williams, Ann Ott, Florence De Bart, Frances Anderson, Florida Bellaire, William Sellers, Joseph Mack, William Wayne, Gus Shy, John L. Lyons, Murry Hart, Mark Thompson and Andrew Leigh.

MUSIC AND DRAMA

AT THE GRAND.

With two feature pictures "The Third Kiss" and "The Amateur Liar," the programme at the Grand last evening drew a good house. In the first picture Vivian Martin, who took the leading role sustained the enviable reputation she has already earned as a movie actress, while Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Drew brought down the house in the leading parts in "The Amateur Liar," a most interesting play with a novel part. The orchestral accompaniment by the ten-piece orchestra was especially good last evening.

THE REGULAR MEETING OF THE NORTH MONAGHAN COUNCIL HELD YESTERDAY

TOWNSHIP OFFICERS ELECTED—ACCOUNTS PASSED—SANITARY INSPECTOR APPOINTED.

The regular meeting of the North Monaghan Council was held yesterday afternoon in the Court-House. Reeve McIntosh presided, all the members being present, as much important business was to be discussed.

By-law No. 776 was read and finally passed, appointing James Laing, Morrow Street, a member of the Local Board of Health for three years. Mr. H. G. Webber, township auditor, was present and read his report of the audit for the township council, 1919. The auditor's report was accepted as read, and ordered to be published, according to law.

Sanitary Inspector.

By-law No. 777 was read and finally passed, appointing James C. Morrow sanitary inspector for North Monaghan at a salary of $50 per annum.

By-law No. 778 was read and passed, appointing James Milby school attendance officer at a salary of $40 per annum.

A resolution was passed appointing a committee, composed of the Reeve, Deputy-Reeve and the Clerk, to wait on the local representative of West Peterborough, Mr. Thomas Tooms, M.P.P., re an amendment to the Assessment Act re the collection of dog taxes. A petition was read from George Hunter, Mrs. William Spilsbury, and Bert Stevens, requesting that they be changed from School Section No. 3 to School Section No. 1.

A motion was passed that the request of the petitioners be referred to Mr. E. A. Peck for legal advice, and, if legal, that the boundaries be changed according to the petition.

Will Get a Lease.

Reeve McIntosh reported that he had interviewed the Deputy Minister of Lands and Forests, and was assured that a lease would be given to the township for Park Lot 1, Lot 13, Concession 11, as requested by the township, the title to the said lot being vested in the Crown. He also stated that upon furnishing sufficient proof and upon further investigation, that he thought the Minister would eventually grant the title of the said lands to the township for park purposes.

Applications were received from Mr. James T. Seymour and Mrs. Laura Crowley, asking for a refund of tenants' dog taxes now paid by them. This matter was left over for further consideration.

A communication was read from the Hydro-Electric Power Commission dealing with the electric light and power question. A number of petitions were circulated among the councillors to find out the feeling of the general public on the question.

Bills Passed.

The following bills were passed and ordered to be paid:

D. Sedgwick, 133 yards gravel at 15c, $19.95; Richard Revington, drawing timber, $4.62; Peterborough Examiner, printing, $12.85, $4.00 and $6.94; Trebilcock Bros., binding cases, $1.50; Municipal World, assessor's guide, 54c; W. G. Henry, balance of sanitary inspector's salary, $10; H. G. Webber, auditor's salary, $50.

The meeting then adjourned till the call of the Reeve.

MR. LOUIS JOFFE AT KNOX CHURCH

Last night Mr. Louis Joffe gave a most instructive and interesting address in Knox Church Brotherhood Room on "The Literature Superstitions, Folk-Lore and Proverbs of Russia." He took his audience with him figuratively to Russia, and showed them, as he expressed it, the workings of the mystic soul of that great people. In his early remarks he dealt with the craving for expression by the Russian masters, such as Lermantoff and Pushkin, finally giving a brief resume of the Russian genius, Count Leo Tolstoi, pointing out the revolutionary stages of that great soul, as it emerged from the chaos of indefinitism to the definite philosophy of accepting Christianity, culminating in his final masterpiece of "Resurrection."

When dealing with Russian proverbs and superstitions, he drew rounds of laughter from his audience. It was, perhaps, in his treatment of folk-lore and his rendition of Russian folk songs that he gave his audience the most intimate glimpse of the cry of woe that rises from a suffering people. In concluding, he stated that when the filthy stream of Bolshevism has run its course in Russian, that country and its great people will afford a wide field for real Christian missionary work.

The prolonged applause that marked the passing of a vote of thanks to Mr. Joffe for his address expressed better than words could the satisfaction and appreciation all felt in listening.

Old Bells Will Ring for Peace.

The six old bells of Westminster abbey are being restored and augmented to take part in the celebrations that will follow the signing of peace. The old bells are of great historic interest. All except the treble were cast at the old Whitechapel bell foundry—the tenor weighing 1½ tons, in 1738 the fifth in 1503, the fourth and second in 1743, and the third in 1583. The treble was cast probably at the end of the thirteenth or the beginning of the fourteenth century, and must therefore have rung out to celebrate the great victory over the Spanish armada in 1588. Whitechapel foundry, which has been working continuously since 1570, has been entrusted with the restoration work and the casting of the new bells. The connection of the old firm with the abbey, after nearly 350 years, is thus being continued.

GRAIN MIXTURE VALUES

Oats 34 Lbs., Barley 48 Lbs. the Best Combination.

By Opening Surface to Ruins, Many Dollars May Be Made by Increased Crops — Full Directions Given Regarding Starting Early Celery.

(Contributed by Ontario Department of Agriculture, Toronto.)

A LARGE amount of experimental work has been conducted at the Ontario Agricultural College in testing grains both singly and in combination for the production of grain. The results of experiments indicate that there is practically no advantage in growing in combination two or more varieties of grain of the same class. Quite decided advantages, however, have been obtained from certain combinations of grain of different classes.

In an experiment which extended over a period of five years in which oats, barley, spring wheat and peas were grown separately and all the different combination which could be obtained by having two, three and four grains in each mixture, it was found that in about ninety per cent. of the experiments the mixed grains gave a greater yield per acre than the same grains when grown separately. Of the different combinations, oats and barley came at the head of the list, giving slightly over two hundred pounds of grain per acre more than when either one was grown alone.

It is important to use in combination varieties which will grow satisfactorily together and which will mature at the same time. Such varieties as the O.A.C. No. 21 barley and the Daubeney, Alaska or O.A.C. No. 3 oats give very good results.

Of twenty-five different mixtures with different proportions of oats and barley used for five years in experimental work it was found that the greatest returns were obtained by using one bushel, by weight, of each or a mixture of 84 pounds (34 pounds of oats and 48 pounds of barley). —Dr. C. A. Zavitz, O. A. College, Guelph.

Open Your Surface Drains.

Drainage—either surface or underground—is essential if farming is to be profitable. With the dearth of ditching machinery, the depleted labour market and the increased cost of underdraining, progress is retarded somewhat. Everything, however, has been done which prevailing conditions permit. Yet forty per cent (40%) of Ontario is in urgent need of drainage. The underdrainage of so much cannot be accomplished in a short period of time, hence that which renders timely service, even though only of temporary duration, must be taken advantage of.

Surface draining must be resorted to. Several lines will be necessary. Indeed, if the majority of farmers would leave all "finishing" furrows open in the ploughed ground and connect them by opening up open channels through the lower-lying parts of the field—cleaning out all the furrows thus traversed—a system would be formed whereby the water could be carried to outlets quickly, efficiently and satisfactorily in the early spring.

Not alone to level fields or farms does this apply. Large areas of Ontario are quite rolling, hence naturally drained. Yet, a small open ditch or deep furrow will pay for the trouble necessary to make a channel by the greater ease with which water can escape, thus permitting quicker disposal of the same, hence hastening the drying of the land.

These surface drains should be opened at least once per year. The best time to do so is in the late autumn after the fall work is done. Labour can be obtained then with less difficulty and at less cost. The work may be done by hand or by the use of a team if water does not prevent.

Surface draining, however, is not recommended to take the place of tiling.—Thos. Cooper, B.S.A., O. A. College, Guelph.

Starting Early Celery.

The starting of early celery should be done immediately as the seed is slow in germination; requiring about four weeks before ready for the first transplanting. The seed should be sown in flats in a soil very sandy in nature. This soil is pressed down about ½ an inch in the box and then the celery is sown broadcast over it. The box is then watered through burlap and is left covered with burlap or brown paper until the seed germinates. When the plants are showing two or three leaves they are transplanted into flats, 2 inches each way in soil that is sandy in nature but well-filled with good manure and commercial fertilizer, such of a nitrogeneous nature. Good fertilizer is necessary at this stage so that the plants will not receive any check. The plants should be thoroughly sprayer with Bordeaux Mixture when they first break into third or true leaf, so that they will be kept free from blight, and every week after being set in the field.

Another method in use among growers is that of sowing in hot beds. The seed is planted in rows about 4 inches apart; in making these rows they take a piece of wood about an inch wide and press it down on the soil making a furrow about ½ of an inch deep in which the seed is sown. It is then covered with burlap or paper as stated before.

Celery to germinate properly should be kept at a temperature of 70 degrees until the young plants are growing in good shape, when it is well to lower it to 55 or 60 degrees. —A. H. MacLennan, Ontario Vegetable Specialist.

Typhoon Hurt Coconut Trees.

The Christmas typhoon which swept over the southern Philippine islands did considerable damage to the coconut plantations. Trees, especially those along the seashore and places most open to the wind, were either blown down or weakened to such a degree that unless the affected groves are cleaned up and taken care of, the trees still standing are doomed, but for another reason, says the bureau of agriculture. The fallen trunks will become breeding places of all manner of beetles, borers and other coconut destroying pests and diseases. The weakened trees, unable to fight these odds, will sooner or later succumb and thus the farmers will suffer more losses.

FROM A CHILD WAS CONSTIPATED

According to the best medical authorities, fully three fourths of the people of the civilized world suffer in some form from costiveness or irregular action of the bowels. There is no doubt that many distressing diseases are caused by constipation. It gives rise to sick and bilious headaches, jaundice, heartburn, floating specks before the eyes, catarrh of the stomach, biliousness and the painful, troublesome piles. Therefore it is of supreme importance to health that the bowels be kept regular. Simple food, fruit, etc., should be used and rich food and stimulants of all kinds avoided. This with the use of Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills to regulate and establish healthy action of the bowels cannot fail to give permanent relief in the most obstinate cases.

Mrs. Letitia Wainman, Orillia, Ont., writes: "From a child I was always very badly constipated and I can well remember when quite young my mother giving me senna tea nearly every morning and I got to dread it. After taking Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills for a while I am not troubled with constipation any more."

Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills are 25c a vial at all dealers or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

Simple Resistance Units.

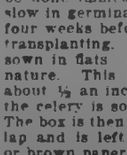
To a British firm goes the credit for introducing a very simple type of resistance unit which possesses numerous and important advantages. The wire or strip member is supported on a single rod passing through the center section of each leg of the zig-zagged wire or strip. Among the special advantages claimed are: Very large radiating surface for a given capacity; small weight for a given capacity; absolute freedom for expansion; owing to the large surface and small bulk of metal they cool very quickly; they are absolutely unaffected by vibration or jolts; units can be run red-hot without danger of sagging; repairs can be effected on separate units; tapping can be taken off anywhere along the center clamp; the number of units being small compared with a grid resistance of equal capacity, there are not many joints to cause trouble.—Scientific American.

Congress Shoes Come Back.

There has been a very decided revival of the old "congress gaiter," with its elastic insert at the sides, which were very generally worn more than a quarter of a century ago. The explanation rests in the fact that American shoes are now being extensively worn by the natives of Japan. The more rapid adoption of the western styles of lace and button shoes is made difficult by the native custom that requires that shoes be removed before a person enters a home or inn. In some cases it is even required that the shoes be removed or at least covered with cloth protectors before entering shops, theaters and similar public buildings. This custom has led to the quite general adoption of the old-fashioned but convenient "congress" boot by those who wear occidental footwear during business hours.

Danger in Imported Earth.

For a long time a great many ships coming from Europe into the port of New York have been dumping earth ballast along the shores of East river, Hudson river, and elsewhere around the bay. This is a source of risk of the entry of undesirable plants and plant pests, in the opinion of the United States department of agriculture, and an inquiry has been started to determine the extent of this risk and to provide safeguards against it. There is a possibility of the introduction of soil-infecting diseases, injurious nematodes, and hibernating insects, any of which, unless preventive measures were taken, might spread over the country or considerable parts of it.



When your mouth tastes like all the mean things you ever did—mixed together, then you need Beecham's Pills. Your mouth is a good indication of the condition of stomach and bowels.

A Bird Refuge.

The most important, and by far the largest in extent, of national "refuges" for the preservation of wild birds on this continent is a vast area in the delta of the Yukon river, proclaimed as such by an edict from the White House just ten years ago. It is even more beneficial to the birds of Canada than to those of the United States.

It is an area approximately equal to Massachusetts, and the most valuable feathered species concerned are wild geese and wild ducks, which breed there in countless numbers.

There is found the proper home of the "emperor" goose, the "white-fronted" goose, and many species of ducks which are sought as game in other latitudes.

The region is known as "tundra country"—devoid of trees, swampy, with many lakes, and of no possible usefulness for agriculture or any other purpose. If, however, the wild-fowl are there safeguarded on their breeding grounds, it will be a permanent source of game and food supply for Alaska and the entire Pacific coast.

In order that this may come to pass, it is necessary that the birds shall be protected during the mating season against the wholesale slaughter which formerly was conducted by pot-hunters and alleged sportsmen from year to year—a method commonly adopted being to drive the helpless creatures into pens built for the purpose, where they were ruthlessly murdered.

Time Lost In Disputes.

The time lost on account of industrial disputes in Canada during April was much greater than during either March, 1919, or April, 1918. There were in existence during the month 37 strikes, involving 12,415 workpeople and resulting in a time loss of 111,083. Twenty-seven strikes were reported as having commenced during April. At the end of the month 14 strikes affecting approximately 1812 workpeople remained unterminated.

Careless Shampooing Spoils The Hair

Shampoo should be used very carefully if you want to keep your hair looking its best. Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and ruins it.

The best thing for steady use is Mulsified Cocoanut Oil Shampoo (which is pure and greaseless) and is better than anything else you can use.

One or two teaspoonsful will cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, which rinses out easily, removing every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff, and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly and it leaves the scalp soft and the hair fine and silky, bright, lustrous, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get Mulsified cocoanut oil shampoo at any pharmacy; it's very cheap and a few ounces will supply every member of the family for months.

New Uses of Raw Products.

The Weltmarket directs attention to new uses of some raw products. In Holland a useful gum or paste is being made from garlic. The bulbs are pressed and the juice or fluid matter so obtained is thickened by inspissation. A good substitute for cork is obtained from certain fungi, which are dried and ground, mixed with cement and consolidated by pressure. In Norway a process has been patented to enable carbide to be used for driving motors. In Denmark a company has been floated to make briquettes from heather. These have a higher heat value than peat. Experiments are being made to use chalk marl, especially that which comes from the Limburg mines, as a manure.

HOME-MADE ELECTRICITY.

How a Farmer May Utilise a Little River.

Why not more electricity for our farmers?

Easy to get, and mighty cheap, if there be on the farm even a tiny stream.

There are scattered throughout the country innumerable brooks and streamlets capable of supplying enough electric power for all farm and domestic needs.

A brook ten feet wide, with an average depth of two feet and flowing two feet per second under a "head" of five feet, can supply ten horse-power continuously—enough to light the average farmstead and leave enough over to operate motors for many of the needs of power on the farm.

Electricity on the farm is as helpful to the farmer's wife as to the farmer. It may be so utilized as to relieve her of much drudgery.

The first thing for the farmer with a brook at hand to consider is how much power he requires—the unit of electrical power being the "watt." One horse-power is the equivalent of 746 watts.

To run a twelve-inch electric fan requires forty watts; a toaster, 400 watts; a four-inch disk heater, 450 watts; a coffee percolator, 500 watts; a small hot-water heater, 1,500 watts. Lights consume ordinarily twenty-five or forty watts.

To run a churn takes half a horse-power, a cream separator the same, a milking machine the same, an ice cream freezer the same, a washing machine the same, a grindstone half that much, a woodsaw three horse-power, a hay press the same, a feed grinder five horse-power.

Even an insignificant streamlet may supply all the current needed on a farm, for lighting if for no other purpose, when properly harnessed. With storage batteries provided it can use all of its energy throughout the twenty-four hours in loading them—the power to be drawn off during only a few hours each day.

Where Wood Is Money.

Who ever heard of wooden money? The only known currency of this kind is issued by the Hudson Bay Company, and circulates all over the vast territory controlled by that powerful trading concern.

It is a coinage consisting of pieces of wood known as "castors," which are stamped with a die. These are accepted everywhere in that territory as cash, and are exchangeable for all sorts of supplies and commodities at the widely scattered stations of the corporation.

The area governed by the company is vast. In one straight line it extends as far as from London to Mecca; from King's Posts to the Pelly Banks is further than from Paris to Samarcand. Over all of this region the corporation exercise a complete dominion, employing the native Indians, chiefly Ojiboway and Crees, to collect the furs which furnish its revenue.

Hudson Bay is about two-thirds the size of the Gulf of Mexico. It is an almost landlocked sea, with 3,000 miles of coast line. More than 300 years ago Hendrik Hudson, trying to find the northwest passage, wintered there. His crew mutinied and set him afloat in an open boat with his son and seven others. He and his companions were never seen again.

The unit of value in that part of the world is a beaver skin. Two martens are equal to one beaver, and twenty muskrats are equivalent to one marten. The trapping is done in winter, and in spring the Indians bring the pelts to the stations, receiving in payment for them wooden money. With the latter they buy what supplies they need at the store maintained by the company at the stations.

The Ex-Kaiser's Vanity.

Of the innumerable stories told of the ex-Kaiser's self-conceit, none surpasses one concerning a little incident that took place on board a British warship a few years ago. The recently-deposed emperor was being entertained at dinner during a visit to the British fleet, and when smoking began took up a cigar and looked round for a cutter. One not being handy, an officer immediately offered him a penknife, which William used and returned with the solemn remark: "Keep it, and guard it well; one day it will be historic!"—Family Herald.

The Perfected Blend of Ceylon's Finest Tea

Voice Of The People

To the Editor:

Sir, - I see by the papers that a Mr. L. Green will address a Peterborough audience this evening on the "Truth About Russia." It is strange that after all these years of effort it should fall to the lot of a Peterborough man to supply this much sought after information. Mr. Green's revelations should bring to the city greater notoriety than the Peterborough Lift Lock or the high tax rate could ever hope to bring. In the last five years the British and American press has spent huge sums in an attempt to secure this information by sending trained men into the heart of Russia. In addition to this the various governments have made tremendous efforts without avail. Now we are to get this information even at this late date from an employee of the C.G.E., in the city of Peterborough, many thousand miles away from the fountain head, is in itself a splendid tribute to Mr. Green. The world awaits the result of to-night's lecture with breathless anticipation.

One Who is Interested.

Peterborough, March 9, 1920.

Editor, Peterborough Examiner:

Dear Sir,- I would esteem it a privilege if you will give the following article space in your valuable paper regratuity question.

I am a comrade of the G.W.V.A. I have spent four and a half years at the front and am in receipt of the 1914-15 star. I returned from France in August 1919, and am just out of hospital after three operations.

Now, Mr. Editor, I was in Toronto when there was much excitement and agitation for $2,000 gratuity by the U.V.L. Now at that time the G.W.V.A. was practically asleep; the returned men were being neglected and misrepresentd. The G.W.V.A. bill before the House did not deal with gratuity, and was very unsatisfactory. And it is only since Mr. Flynn (of the U.V.L) disturbed the G.W.V.A. that the more feasible plan has been evolved.

Now comrades, let us be fair and just. (British fair play), and give honor where honor is due. If Flynn had not butted in the G.W.V.A. would still have been asleep.

Now President Flynn made a few accusations during the late summer against the executive of the G.W.V.A. in Toronto and Ottawa.

1st. he stated that several of the executive were receiving $2,500 from the government.

2nd. that two of our leaders who went to the Calgary convention misrepresented their comrades in voting against the Calgary resolution.

3 that the books of the Auxiliary of a certain branch in Toronto were in such a muddled condition that neither he or anyone else could make any sense out of them.

4th, that the G.W.V.A paper was receiving considerable sums of money from the government for advertisement matter.

Now, the heads of our organization got up in arms, shouting we'll prosecute Flynn. Oh yes, he laughed at us. He told us how we were being fooled. We repeatedly asked for the resignation of the accused. But no, they hung on to their soft jobs like leeches, and we were impotent to do anything but drift. What became of the prosecutions? Has Mr. Flynn made us swallow the bitter medicine, without a kick. It looks like—were his assertions true? Are we to let the matter go by default? We will soon be having a big convention in Peterborough, and no doubt Mr. McNeal of Ottawa, Mr. W. Turley and Mr. Statford of Toronto will be present. Let us see what these men have to say about the above assertions. As a non-partial thinkers and comrade I raise my hat to Mr. Flynn who has been the means of giving us a good shaking up; making the G.W.V.A. a cleaner, healthier and a more determinative body to fight for our just rights. So that out of the chaos has risen a body of men firmer, saner and more reasonable in its demands.

P.S.—Those living in glass houses want to be careful.

Yours truly,
A COMRADE.

Says They Helped Her Aching Back

MRS. ROBERT BAIRD TELLS OF DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS.

Belmore Lady States that she was Weak and run down till she found relief in Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Belmore, Ont., March 8.—(Special.)—"I can assure you that Dodd's Kidney Pills helped my aching back as none others ever did or ever will do."

It is Mrs. Robert Baird a well known and highly respected resident here who makes this statement. She is an enthusiastic believer in Dodd's Kidney Pills as a remedy for weak and run down women.

"I was both weak and run down all last summer," she states further. "And before my baby was born I used Dodd's Kidney Pills. They helped me in every way. I also had my little boy take them and they benefitted him greatly."

Women who are weak and run down should look first to their kidneys. No woman can be strong and healthy if her kidneys are not doing their full work of straining the impurities out of the blood. Weak kidneys are the cause of nine-tenths of women's ills. Ask your neighbors if Dodd's Kidney Pills do not make strong healthy kidneys.

C.P.R. TELEGRAPH CO. PRESENT A PROBLEM

The C.P.R. telegraph company have informed the Council that they will not remove their poles in the east side of George street, from Charlotte street to the C.P.R. station, until they are assured of a permanent franchise of an underground wire duct. The conduits owned by the Machine Telephone company, which it was proposed th eC. P. R. should use, have only fifteen years of their franchise left. It might then be cancelled by the city, and the C.P.R. would be prevented from using the conduits. The company is ready to continue its policy of removing the poles from the streets, but demand a guarantee of permanent right to the use of underground wire ducts.

Ald. Crowe remarked that in the old country wires had been laid under grounds years ago.

This communication from the C. P. R. was referred to the Railway Committee on motion of Ald. Phelan seconded by Ald. Jones.

The Machine Telephone conduits are in multiple, and one cannot be singled out for permanent franchise without the entire system being included.

Famous Movie Star Condemns Curling Iron

"Little Mary" Pickford, whose pretty curly locks have been so much admired, writes that she has never used the curling iron. She fails to see the wisdom of burning the life out of the hair.

That the heated iron is ruinous to the hair is being more and more appreciated. Many are discarding this instrument of torture in favor of plain liquid silmerine. This is not only harmless but is really beneficial to the hair. Instead of giving one's tresses a burnt-out lifeless appearance, it gives them a bright lustre, and the curliness looks altogether natural. It is a simple thing to procure a few ounces of liquid silmerine from the druggist and apply a little with a clean tooth brush (from root to tips) before doing up the hair. The beautiful wavy effect thus results is surprising.

CAPITALIZATION

Preferred Stock	$1,000,000.00
Common Stock	$1,000,000.00
(No Bonds)

The following information is summarized from a letter from Mr. S. Messer, President of the Company:—

1. The Continental Oil Company, Limited, of Canada, the business and assets of which have been acquired by the North Star Oil & Refining Company, Limited, a Canadian corporation, has been in successful operation in the Prairie Provinces for the past eleven years.

2. The Company has no bond issue or other funded indebtedness outstanding nor any floating debt other than current accounts payable.

3. Earnings after the completion of a refinery for the production of refined oil, gasoline and lubricating oil, at Winnipeg, which refinery is expected to begin operations about the middle of the year, are estimated to be initially at the rate of $150,000 to $160,000 annually, or equal to over twice the dividend upon the Preferred Stock. With the completion of other refineries, earnings are expected to materially increase.

4. The Company has affiliations with large and responsible producers in the United States which should ensure a continuous and constant supply of crude oil. In the event of the development of crude oil in commercial quantities in the Canadian West, the Company, with refineries at Winnipeg, Saskatoon and Calgary, will be in an advantageous position to manufacture from this crude, refined oil, gasoline and other petroleum products for the Western trade.

Applications, which should be accompanied with cheque for full payment, will be received only on the understanding that the right is reserved by us to allot all, a portion only, or none of the amount applied for. In the event of a partial allotment the balance, and if none be allotted the full amount forwarded, will be returned to the applicant.

It is intended that application be made to list these issues on the Toronto, Montreal and Winnipeg Stock Exchanges.

STOCK MARKET OPENED STRONG

LEADING ISSUES CONTINUED UPWARD TREND—STERLING RECOVERED.

(United Press.)

NEW YORK, March 9.—The stock market opened firm to-day. Most of the leading issues continued their upward trend or held their gains of yesterday, except Crucible, which yielded 2 points to 225 and Southern Pacific, which was off 1-4 at 99. General Motors gained four points more, opening at 305. U. S. Rubber opened at 100 1-2, up 1-2, Atkinson 84 3-4 up 1-4, Reading 77 1-2, up 1-4; Tobacco Products, 65 1-2, up 3-8; International Paper 81, up 1-4; Republic 95 1-2, up 1-4.

Crucible quickly recovered and was run up to 231, a new high for the year. American car and foundry at 137 3-4, up 1-4; U. S. Steel opened at 101 to 100 1-2, up 5-8 and 1-8; Chandler 139 up 2, Baldwin, 119 off 1-2.

Those who thought that all the thrills had gone out of the market after the sensational run up yesterday, were given a surprise before the end of the first half hour's trading to-day. Selling by profit takers was quickly absorbed and industrial stocks were rapidly rushed up to new highs. General Motors hit 323, up 22 points net and Crucible 240, up 14 points.

Activity in Crucible was laid to a report that the company is soon to issue a stock dividend which may reach 100 per cent. Ten shares of Atlantic refining sold at 1520 up 150 points.

IS THE CHURCH EFFICIENT?

REV. W. E. MILLSON, AT GEORGE ST., SAYS AVERAGE CHURCH MUCH LESS EFFICIENT THAN AVERAGE BUSINESS ESTABLISHMENT

A fair audience, considering weather conditions, attended the first of the "Ten Week Nights of Evangel" at George Street Church last night. An enthusiastic address before the Council meeting, which ordered reduction guides and resulted in that to have [illegible] singing of old-time favourites.

Rev. Mr. Millson, in his evening remarks, said that he did not criticize these reports [illegible] reading the He believed that the Church of Jesus Christ is the brightest light of all history, and the most important of our institutions.

Is the Church working on a high standard of efficiency? To illustrate his meaning, he referred to the high standards of efficiency which existed in the Ford Motor Co. at Detroit and many other business concerns. Every institution is demanding efficiency from those associated with it — as near 100 per cent. as possible.

"Do you think," said Mr. Millson, "we ought to have a lower standard of efficiency in the Church than in a manufacturing establishment?"

A Serious Condition.

After having made a wide and careful investigation and given careful consideration, Mr. Millson summed up his conclusion in these words: "I do not know of a Methodist Church in this country whose working efficiency would be impaired one iota by a decrease in 50 per cent. of its membership." We have been fooling far too long. One can almost count the men and women in any church on two hands who are bearing the burden and responsibility. Everywhere one is pained by the lack of loyalty to the pastor on the part of those who should be behind him.

"Where do you stand in efficiency for God?" Mr. Millson asked. "Can you muster 50 per cent? None of us can be too high." It is said there are a lot of people in the world who have never heard of Jesus. A returned missionary said the reason was that those who had heard of Him were untrue to the great Commission. If there is a man or woman who is not a member of the family of God, it is because some one in the Church has failed in his duty. Do you know the joy of bringing some one to Jesus Christ?

DIVERT COMPENSATION FUND TO GENERAL USE

To keep within the 35 mill tax rate, the Council is utilizing the $1800 which had been saved by the Board of Works during the chairmanship of Mr. G. Walter Green, and had been set aside as the nucleus of a benefit fund for employees of that department. Ald. Turner said that the Workmen's Compensation Act was adequately providing for the men, and moved seconded by Ald. Coupling that the $1800.50 be put back into the [illegible] for general use.

FUNERAL ON SATURDAY.

The funeral of Humphrey J. O'Rourke, whose death occurred at St. Joseph's Hospital on Wednesday morning, the 3rd inst., following an operation for appendicitis, took place on Saturday morning at nine o'clock to the church of the Immaculate Conception and from there to St. Peter's cemetery. The funeral mass was celebrated by Rev. Father Powers and was attended by a large number of sorrowing friends. The pallbearers were Samuel O'Rourke of Toronto, a cousin, Edward O'Rourke of East City, a cousin, and Oswald O'Toole, Clair Fitzgerald, Leo Welsh and Fairman Holland.

The deceased, who was the only child of Mr. and Mrs. Harry O'Rourke, of 627 Oxford street was in his seventeenth year and was a pupil at St. Peter's school. He was in his usual health up to the preceding Friday.

The numerous spiritual and floral offerings testified to the popularity of the young boy whose early death is deeply regretted.

WEDDING BELLS

ROBINSON—STEWART

A wedding of much interest to the friends of the contracting parties took place in St. Paul's Presbyterian Church on Wednesday, March 3rd when the Rev. Robt Pogue united in the bonds of holy matrimony, Miss Blanche Stewart of Otonabee and Mr. Stanley Robinson of South Monaghan.

The bride who is highly esteemed in this neighborhood looked nice in a brown suit with hat to match.

The happy couple left on the two o'clock train for a short honeymoon after which they will go to their new home in South Monaghan, with the best wishes of a large circle of friends and relatives.

OBITUARY

MISS ISABEL BIDWELL

Miss Isabel Bidwell passed away at Nicholl's Hospital last night at nine o'clock after ten day's illness.

Miss Bidwell whose home was at the Y.W.C.A., was a very estimable young person, beloved of all who knew her and helpful to many to whom as a Sunday School teacher or co-worker in the organized class she ministered.

The funeral will be held from Murray Street Church on Wednesday afternoon at two o'clock.

NAPAUL GIRARD.

Napaul Girard, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alphonse Girard, Crescent Street, died last evening at St. Michael's College, Toronto, after a few days' illness of scarlet fever and pleurisy.

Deceased, who was 21 years of age, was born in the city and was educated at the separate schools before leaving for Toronto. In all his work he had shown himself a youth of unusual promise, and was extremely popular amongst the young people of the city. He was a hockey enthusiast.

He is survived by his parents and two sisters, Mrs. V. Scully and Miss Jeanne, both of this city.

The remains are expected in the city this evening, and its funeral announcement will be made later.

UNION GOVERNMENT PULLED THROUGH ON MAJORITY OF THIRTY-FOUR VOTES

ELEVEN CROSS BENCHERS VOTED WITH THE LIBERAL OPPOSITION--GOVERNMENT WILL HANG ON.

OTTAWA NEWS

Special to Examiner.

OTTAWA, March 10. — By a majority of 34, on a division in the small hours of this morning, the Union Government of Sir Robert Borden was sustained in the House of Commons.

The vote of the members of the House was 112 to 78. It was first taken on the amendment of the Liberal Opposition leader, Hon. W. L. McKenzie King, demanding a revision of the voters' lists and an immediate general election. After the defeat of this amendment the House divided on a similar vote reversed on the main motion, on the address in reply to the speech from the throne.

Eleven "cross benchers," largely representative of agricultural parties, headed by Hon. T. A. Crerar, a former member of the Union Government, voted with the Liberal opposition.

During the registration of the votes the proceedings were enlivened with the singing of the national anthem and party songs. The government supporters cheered wildly the announcement of the vote, which was a straight party one, with the exception of the "Farmers" or "Cross Benchers," who were expected to vote with the opposition.

During the last session the majorities for the Union Government on a division, varied with the issues involved.

On the Independent for the six months hoist to the G.T.R. purchase bill the Government had only 31 majority. On the Veterans' Gratuity scheme the government was sustained by a majority of 65, and on the amendment to the budget the result was a majority of 50 in favor of the government.

TO-DAY'S SESSION OF PROHIBITIONISTS

(Canadian Press.)

TORONTO, March 10. — "It is our sincere desire to make the Ontario Temperance Act effective and to enforce it in such a way that there will be no going back, for we must not jeopardize the permanent cause of temperance in the province. We are as anxious as you to make the Act effective and we will move to that end as swiftly as possible, but with due deliberation."

Such assurance was given by Premier Drury to a deputation of some 250 delegates from the Dominion Alliance convention who waited on the government to-day asking that action to remove the legal difficulties, which hamper the enactment of temperance legislation.

TORONTO, March 10.—Ontario Branch of the Dominion Alliance in convention this morning unanimously decided that legal difficulties must be removed before it will ask for a Provincial plebiscite. In this the Alliance stands at variance with the Ontario Referendum Committee, which has asked for a referendum. No decision has yet been reached by a joint gathering of Dominion Alliance and referendum committee and Alliance Executive which began its sessions yesterday. The report of the special committee of the Ontario branch of the Dominion Alliance was presented and passed at this morning's session of convention. A deputation to Government submitted that the present situation in Ontario is perplexing alike to the Government and to the prohibition forces. The Dominion Act known as Bill 26, is admitted to be so surrounded with difficulties as to make its use at present time inadvisable.

WILL USE AEROPLANES TO CARRY SILVER ORE FROM MINES TO SHIPPING PORT

Special to The Examiner.

VANCOUVER, B. C., March 10. — The Granby Mining Co., has decided to experiment with airplanes to carry very valuable silver ore from an interior mine to tidewater at Stewart in Northern British Columbia. Lieut. Ernest Hall of Vancouver, and Hubbard of Seattle, have been engaged and will go north with their aircrafts in April.

The planes will be of the flying boat type and will operate between the lake and the seashore, a distance of 12 miles. They will carry a thousand pounds each trip. The present route by pack train is very roundabout and costs fifteen cents per pound.

The airmen are certain they can transport the ore at 50% less cost. Of course only the picked ore will be handled, worth a thousand to twelve hundred dollars per ton.

INSPIRING LESSON TAUGHT BY PLAY

Minister Directs Attention of Congregation to Tyrone Power.

At one of the leading churches in Peterboro, last Sunday, the clergymen directed the attention of the congregation to the striking character and nature of the play "The Servant in the House" at the Grand Opera House tonight. He spoke of the inspiring lesson that it taught, and as one which could not be but effective for the good of mankind.

ATTEMPTED BLACKMAIL WAS THE CONSTRUCTION PLACED UPON THE EVIDENCE OF ONE WITNESS.

(Special to The Examiner.)

HAMILTON, Ont., March 10.—Attempted blackmail was the construction placed upon the evidence of Archibald Jolly, a former salesman for the W. K. Kellogg Cereal Co., of Toronto by Commissioner W. F. O'Connor of the Board of Commerce, ats its morning session here to-day. Jolly testified before the Board, which is investigating the operations of the alleged wholesale grocers combine with regard to a conversation which he had held with H. C. Beckett, of Hamilton, one of the principal individuals against whom some of the combination charges have been proferred by the public, through the Attorney General's Department. This conversation dealt with alleged activities by Beckett in furthering the appointment of Mr. O'Connor to the Board of Commerce, of Beckett's expenditure of some $200 in propaganda to aid the appointment and of the tribute paid O'Connor by Beckett. Mr. O'Conor, who took the witness from the hands of Mr. A. W. Roebuck, counsel for the public administered the sternest rebuke ever received by a witness before the Board. He flayed Jolly right and left charging him with having a loose tongue which wagged too much and pointed out that untimely ends frequently come to those who could not curb their oral lapses.

The testimony came as a thunderbolt upon the calm of the court and the scene as it progressed became more intensely dramatic in every passage. The Commissioner was most fiery in his attack upon the witness, while Commissioner Murdock occasionally interjected comments which indicated his disfavor of the denouncement. The court room meanwhile listened with rapt attention while the witness was completly numbed and overwhelmed by the sudden change of atmosphere which either his manner or his disclosures precipitated.

Refused Order.

The next case was that of Joe Harris, who phoned me one night and said he wanted two hundred cases. I advised him I could not sell him direct that is I could not place any firm on my list or remove them from it."

Mr. Roebuck—"So you denied Harris his order?"

"Yes, I wrote the firm on the subject, pointing out that we were losing business in this way. That is the last I heard about it."

Mr. Roebuck—"You had a conversation on November 24th with Beckett."

Witness—"Yes, but I don't like to say what it was."

Mr. O'Connor — "But the Board wants to hear it."

Witness—"I don't know that I am prepared to tell."

Mr. Roebuck— "If you don't you leave yourself open to a charge of contempt of court."

Mr. Murdock—"You have told the conversation out of court?"

"Yes."

Mr. Murdock—"Then tell it here."

Witness—"We talked about different things. About a car of goods for W. F. Morley and about the Canada Starch Co. Beckett and I walke down to the corner of his office and he there

REPORT ON THE LABOUR BUREAU

SLIGHT DECREASE IN NUMBER OF APPLICANTS.

(Special to the Examiner)

TORONTO, March 10.—The employment service of the Department of Labor of the Ontario Government reports slight decrease in the number of applicants placed during the week ending February 21st over the number placed in the preceeding week. A total of 1,829 positions were secured, of which 1,037 were for soldiers, and 792 for civilian applicants. Greatest activity was in general laboring, 872 placements, lumbering 257 placements, and the manufacture of metals 120 placements.

In the women's department 111 positions were secured of which 41 were in commercial work and 47 were in domestic and personal service. Three hundred and twenty casual jobs were secured for 216 applicants.

THE WAY TO THE KINGDOM REV. W. E. MILLSON'S THEME

Rev. W. E. Millson whose singing and messages are arousing a great interest in the series of special services which are in progress in the George Street Methodist Church, will speak to-night on a most important theme, "The way to the Kingdom".

A large chorus choir is in attendance every evening and they will sing special numbers to-night. The meetings open at 7.45 sharp with a congregational song service which is one of the enjoyable features of the campaign.

Mr. Millson's theme last night was "Backsliders, are there any?" While he stated his belief that it is possible for a person to lose the Christian experience, he also declared there are fewer backsliders than is charged for some have never had an experience to lose. He referred to many causes of spiritual declension and called upon the people, if they had become cold and indifferent, to seek to regain the joy and power which once they possessed. It was a heart searching message and was delivered with intense earnestness and profound tenderness. Mr. Millson's stay in Peterboro will be of short duration and the public are heartily invited to avail themselves of the opportunity which such meetings afford. On Thursday the subject will be "The Judgment" and on Friday "A Last Chance".

Annual Meeting Council

EXECUTIVE OF THE NATIONAL COUNCIL OF WOMEN RECOMMEND A NUMBER OF CHANGES IN THE CRIMINAL CODE.

(Special to the Examiner)

OTTAWA, March 10.—The advisability of combining some of the standing committees which seem to be co-related and proposed changes in the constitution of the National Council of women were discussed at great length at the executive meeting yesterday, afternoon in the lecture hall of the Y.W.C.A., henceforth the committee for "the care of the mentally deficient" will be known as "mental hygiene" and agriculture for women was included with "professions and employment for women." The remainder of the discussion will be taken up at the annual meeting of the Council.

Criminal Code.

The executive decided that a delegation to be appointed by the president of the Council, shall confer with the members of the Senate to discuss the amendments to the criminal code, suggested by the National Council on behalf of the Women's Citizen Association of Ontario. These amendments were passed by the house last session but were rejected by the Senate, and it is the intention of the Council to give first hand information as to their reason for requiring these changes. The amendment follows:

Be it resolved that the National Council of Women re affirm its request that the crimbinal code be amended as follows:

(a) Raise the age of consent

(b) Raise the age of protection of both boys and girls.

(c) Make it illegal for a man and woman to register falsely at a hotel as man and wife.

(d) Extend the protection of clause 213 of chapter 146 to all employees including domestic workers."

THE WEATHER

The lowest the temperature got last night was but 2 degrees below the freezing point. To-day the ditches are running with water and the snow is beginning to disappear. There is every prospect of at least several days of quite mild weather, and some rain is not unlikely.—W. P.

SUFFERING PANGS OF REMORSE, FARMER RELOADED THE RIFLE AND SHOT HIMSELF

Canadian Press.

SASKATOON, March 10. — Suffering pangs of remorse at having as he thought just shot and killed his son, Andrew Olson, a well known farmer of Turtleford, reloaded his rifle and shot himself dead.

His son was lying in bed and Olson seeking information regarding the gun, asked the boy to show him. In some manner the father pulled the trigger while the son was showing him, and the bullet entered the lad's arm. Neither believed the gun to be loaded.

Seeing his son writhing in pain, Olson turned the rifle to his own head, shooting and killing himself instantly. An investigation has been ordered.

HARRINGTON IN ACTION.

By Annie M. Warne.

Our citizens, who so generously contribute to the upkeep of Harrington Hospital on the Canadian Labrador, will be glad to learn of a few of the cases there receiving treatment and the progress made by them.

Our cot has had the honor of contributing to the recovery of the following patients during the past fifteen months. A splendid record and one that will prove encouraging to those who have either endowed a cot permanently or contribute the upkeep year by year.

A man of 54 came with acute inflammation of his left eye. Although it is common for the cold to cause an overflow of tears from the eyes, and thus form icicles hanging from the eye-lashes, it is rarely that the eyeball itself is frost-bitten, as occurred in this instance. The eye was very sore and took a long time to heal. Altogether this patient, who is a bachelor and appreciated the home-like atmosphere found in the hospital remained 41 days. His parting words at leaving were, — "God bless the hospital, I say."

A lad of 19 came in suffering with the symptoms of appendicitis, not very severe. Under expectant treatment the symptoms subsided and no operation was necessary. He was soon discharged from the hospital, and thus far has had no recurrence of the trouble. "Prevention is better than cure."

These few instances furnish abundant proof of the usefulness of Harrington Hospital, which has to serve a long stretch of coast, and I trust will convey to those who have invested their money in this Medical Mission the assurance that it is helping to conserve life at a time when the conservation of life is a national duty.

It does seem to me that the life and work of a medical missionary more nearly represents the activity of our Lord's life on this earth than does any other—healing, teaching, preaching. By relieving physical needs of heart and mind and spirit such a way that the deeper needs of heart and mind and spirit may also be met. The evidences of Messiahship were summed up by Christ Himself, in, "Go tell John what things ye see and hear. The blind receive their sight, the deaf hear, the dumb speak, the lamb walk, lepers are cleansed and the poor have the Gospel preached to them." This is the Gospel practised by the medical missionaries.

Up on the rocky hillside was the hospital, the largest building in the place, a revelation of neatness and cleanliness. Even in the cellar, dirt and dust were strangers. To realize at all adequately what the hospital means to these people, one must really see the patients and what is done for them. The greatest danger is from tuberculosis. Two young men were in the hospital with legs infected by it. If allowed to take its course a few months would find them completely crippled by it, yet with careful treatment and proper attention they will be cured in a few months.

There were two little girls deformed and bent with tuberculosis of the spine. One year at the hospital would work wonders in making them straight and strong, but without that treatment paralysis would soon set in.

A year ago Harrington was closed during the winter because no doctor was available for that port. To the average man in the street that means nothing. It bothers him not a whit that a certain small village on the Canadian Labrador is without a doctor, but to those who live there it means everything. To them it means what the Red Cross meant to the soldiers, protection against the dread emergency, disease. It is also a source of sanitary betterment, a place from which radiates knowledge of better living conditions, so that all life is protected and safeguarded thereby. It is a lasting monument to those who by their vision of a need, and their practical aid, created and continue to maintain that hospital station.

NEW OFFICERS INSTALLED FOR THE ENSUING YEAR--PRESIDENTIAL ADDRESS OF MR. J. J. TURNER--A SUCCESSFUL YEAR.

THE PROGRAMME

It was a representative body of citizens, that last evening attended the thirty first annual meeting of the Peterboro Board of Trade held in the G.W.V.A. hall. Some two hundred members were present at this auspicious event. The long tables extending the whole length of the room were well filled with the members and it was a well pleased and jovial body of men that gathered together to cast their thoughts back in review over the first year of the re-organized Board of Trade and mark its successes and failures and be better able to on this year's work with renewed enthusiasm and confidence.

At the head table were seated the President of the 1919 Board, Mr. J. J. Turner who acted as chairman and on his right the newly elected President Mr. Edgar Worth while on his left were seated Mr. J. J. Duffus, newly elected Vice President and on the left of Mr. Duffus the retiring Vice President Mr. Thos. Barrie. Fifteen other active workers in the Board also had the honour of sitting at the head table.

Previous to the supper and between the courses the members were given full opportunity to display their singing ability and no diffidence was experienced in this way, with the assistance of Mr. H. E. Follis as pianist all of the old favorites being rendered in a manner that would turn a grand opera chorus green with envy. One of the old songs: "It looks like a big night to-night" augured well for the success of the meeting and was true in every respect for it was a big night not only for the Board but for all concerned.

After the cravings of the inner man were satisfied and the cigars were developing a congenial atmosphere to the toast to the King was proposed by the President. After the singing of the National Anthem, Mr. H. R. H. Kenner proposed the toast to "Our Country and Empire", referring to our pride in our country and its being a constituent part of the British Empire. The toast was nobly responded to in the singing of "Rule Britannia."

Mr. Douglas Carlisle sang in his usual excellent voice and was forced to respond to an encore. Mr. John Crane playing the accompaniment Mr. Frank Clarke, the talented local banjo player, favoured the audience with an enjoyable banjo selection followed by a humorous song by Mr. C. Holston accompanied by Mr. Follis, that was irresitible and the encore was equally good.

The first item of business attended to was the reading of communications these being expressions of regret from officers of near by Boards of Trade that they would be unable to attend the meeting. Several reports then followed that of the Treasurer

STOP CATARRH! OPEN NOSTRILS AND HEAD

Says Cream Applied in Nostrils Relieves Head-Colds at Once.

If your nostrils are clogged and your head is stuffed and you can't breathe freely because of a cold or catarrh, just get a small bottle of Ely's Cream Balm at any drug store. Apply a little of this fragrant, antiseptic cream into your nostrils and let it penetrate through every air passage of your head, soothing and healing the inflamed, swollen mucous membrane and you get instant relief.

Ah! how good it feels. Your nostrils are open, your head is clear, no more hawking, snuffling, ...ing; no more headache, dryness or struggling for breath. Ely's Cream Balm is just what sufferers from head colds and catarrh need. It's a delight.

Keep Baby's Woollens Soft and Sweet

Even little garments are dear now—you must make them last, and of course you want them always soft and comfy for the important wee person.

The little woollens need never shrink a thread—never stiffen or grow thick—not after repeated washings if you cleanse them in the pure, creamy Lux lather. It's so simple to whip the delicate Lux flakes into a rich suds—so simple to squeeze the suds through the little garments—then take them out absolutely sweet and clean and fresh.

Lux is on sale at all Grocers, Departmental Stores, &c.

A handy little recipe booklet entitled, "The Care of Dainty Clothes" will be gladly sent free on request.

SANDRA THE JEALOUS

BY JANE PHELPS

EVERETT HEARS OF THE ACCIDENT AND ROBBERY

CHAPTER LXVIII.

Once in the house Everett's manner changed. He was the same cold, calculating, fault-finding husband to whom I had not yet become accustomed. These sudden changes in him bewildered and yet intrigued me.

"Now tell me all that has happened since I left."

"Oh, Everett, it has been terrible!"

"Terrible? Well, suppose you begin at the very beginning and tell me what has been so terrible." He evidently had not seen the evening papers which contained an account of the robbery.

"Oh, the accident, the burglar and everything!"

"The burglar!"

"Oh, it was terrible! I really thought I would die of fright." Then I went on and told him as plainly as I could what had happened. Mrs. Gray had had a delicious supper left for us on the dining room table, and while he ate I talked.

He made no comment, scarcely spoke until I mentioned the railroad ticket in my purse.

"How did you come to have a ticket to New York in your bag?"

"Why—I—I thought after telling me I might go, it was unfair of you to say I couldn't, so I hurried down ot the station, bought a ticket, hoping I would see you and that you would let me go," I added the last meekly enough, because of the frown on his face.

"You mean to tell me that after I called you up and told you you could not go, you deliberately went down to the station and bought a ticket, intending to force yourself upon me?"

What an awful way to put it!" I exclaimed. "I was so disappointed, I thought perhaps if I talked with you it might change your mind. I knew the time was short, so I bought my ticket."

"And so by disobeying me you assisted a burglar."

"That isn't fair!" I returned with some show of spirit. "Please be fair, Everett. One would think I knew the burglar to hear you talk. It was terrible—even Mrs. Gray said. I might have been shot instead of James, as it was my room into which he climbed.'

"James shot!"

"Yes—then I told him the story He never once interrupted me, but when I had finished he said again—or rather mumbled: "thank God!" but whether he meant that I wasn't shot, or that James wasn't killed, he didn't say.

"I feel terribly about the sapphires, Everett," I said.

"Never mind the sapphires— you are safe,' and before I knew what he intended, he had once more swept me into his arms, and was covering my face with kisses.

But after a moment he put me away and made me go over each moment of time, every slightest incident. When I told him that Mr. Kemp was going to call and inquire after me—whether I had suffered any bad effects from the accident or not, he returned:

"You will not receive Mr. Kemp when he comes. Mrs. Gray can convey your thanks for anything he may have done for you. I will also see him and thank him."

"But why should I not receive him?'t'

"Because I do not wish you to. Isn't that sufficient?"

"No, Everett, it is not!" I was terribly frightened at my temerity; more I think than I had been at the sight of the burglar. But I went on: "Would it have been enough for your first wife?"

Everett w.. absolutely ghastly when I gained courage to look at him.

"It will be enough for you. Hereafter I expect to be obeyed in what ever I command. Now that I look at you why have you disregard my wishes about the way you wear your hair?"

"Simply because I think I have the right to do my hair as I wish. Would you like me to tell you how to have your hair cut?"

"The cases are entirely different."

"I see no difference."

"I will go up and see how James is. You go to bed at once."

Instead of doing as he told me, I took a book and tried to read. But I never knew what I read—my mind was filled with the idea that I was doing as Leola did, and that as he had loved her so devotedly, he would also love me in the same way if I were like her and acted ac she did.

To-morrow —Kemp calls to inquire after Sandra.

MR. FRED SANDERSON PASSES EXAMINATION

Mr. Fred Sanderson, who has been associated with the Belleghem Brothers Undertakers and Embalmers for the past three years has been successful in passing the examinations as prescribed by the Provincial Board of Ontario as an embalmer, the examinations written at Toronto University on February 14th. Mr. Sanderson will continue his association with the Belleghem Brothers.

RUB RHEUMATISM OR SORE, ACHING JOINTS

Rheumatism is "pain" only. Not one case in fifty requires internal treatment. Stop drugging. Rub soothing, penetrating "St. Jacobs Oil" right into your sore, stiff, aching joints and muscles, and relief comes instantly. "St. Jacobs Oil" is a harmless rheumatism cure which never disappoints and cannot burn the skin.

Limber up! Quit complaining! Get a small trial bottle of old, honest "St. Jacobs Oil" at any drug store, and in just a moment you'll be free from rheumatic pain, soreness, stiffness and swelling. Don't suffer! Relief awaits you. "St. Jacobs Oil" has cured millions of rheumatism sufferers in the last half century and is just as good for sciatica, neuralgia, lumbago, backache ,sprains.

Canada Leads.

A paragraph appearing in Repatriation, a monthly bulletin published in the interests of returned men in Australia, quotes the speech delivered in Sydney by Premier Holman, of New South Wales, in which he stated that the state had settled 1,100 men on the land. The Premier claimed that this was a much larger number than had been settled in any of the other states. New South Wales sent to the battlefields of Europe thirty-nine per cent. of the total of the Australian Expeditionary Force. If the proportion of ex-service men settled in the land in the other states was equal to that of New South Wales the figures would be for the whole of Australia 2,820 men benefited by the Land Settlement Act up to the date of the Premier's speech.

Up to the 17th of May, the Soldier Settlement Board of Canada had approved 7,900 applications for the benefits of the Soldier Settlement Act and a great many more applications were before the Qualification Committees in the various provinces. These figures which will be largely augmented by the returns for the last two weeks of May and for the present month show that Canada is well in advance of the sister commonwealth in providing suitable farms for her war heroes.

Two of a Trade.

"Do you think these alienists are any good at a trial?" "Some, I take it. An alienist is the only person I ever saw who could bluff a lawyer."

National Forest Area Reduced.

The president on February 25, 1919, signed a proclamation eliminating 81,-770 acres from the Helena national forest, Montana. The lands effected are situated along the exterior boundaries of the forest and a large portion of the lands excluded are already in private ownership.

This action is based on the recommendation made by the secretary of agriculture as a result of the land classification done by the forest service. It was found that the lands had practically no value for national forest purposes.

Coal In Alberta.

The Alberta Government has decided to appoint a commission with wide powers to investigate the coal mining industry in all its bearings. The provincial inspector of mines has been selected as chairman and the following organizations have been asked to choose one member each to serve on the commission: the United Mine Workers, the Western Coal Operators Association, the Alberta Federation of Labor (not a miner), the Industrial Research Association (not a mine operator).

MEETING OF OF LAKEFIELD COUNCIL

LIST OF ACCOUNTS PASSED—NEW APPOINTMENTS,

LAKEFIELD, March 9. — The village council met in the council chamber last evening. Present, Reeve Strickland in the chair, with Councillors Marling, Spencer and Young.

The minutes of the last regular special meeting were read and confirmed.

The motion appointing Mr. Robt. Webster was rescinded and Mr. Jos. Watson appointed in his stead.

A communication from Thos. Crawford re brick was received.

Moved by Councillor Young, seconded by Councillor Spence, that Mr. John Botterel be appointed to measure up all the lumber used in the Memorial Hall and make a report on the same.—Carried.

The Finance Committee on motion of Councillors Spence and Marling, recommended payment of the following account:

Electric Light Co.	$60.31
J. Riddle	2.40
J. F. Lillicrap	7.50
Robert Alford	5.00
Ira Lennox	45.00
George Millar	6.00
Braden Blewett	2.00
Joseph Watson	7.40
George Spence	14.55
J. C. Strickland	14.55

Mr. Kearns of Toronto, architect of the Memorial was present and stated he would not make any report on the memorial hall until it had been examined by Mr. Tutt of Toronto, the Inspector of Public Buildings and who would arrive on Tuesday morning's train.

Moved by Councillor Young, seconded by Councillor Spence, that the Council do now adjourn.—Carried.

Live Stock Scarce In Europe.

France has 2,366,000 fewer cattle than in 1914; Italy, 996,000; Denmark, 345,000; Sweden, 599,000; Germany, 2,200,000; and Austria-Hungary, considerable. These figures alone show a decrease of 6,306,000 head of cattle and many countries which have suffered are not named.

The sheep decrease in France, Italy, Denmark, and Holland alone is over two and one-half millions, and in pigs there has been a wholesale decrease to the number of 24,-952,000 in France, Italy, Denmark, Sweden, Holland and Germany. Denmark, Canada's strongest competitor on the British bacon market is 1,873,000 short of a normal supply of pigs. Germany is 19,396,000 short of her 1914 hog population.

These figures should prove interesting to the Ontario live stock breeder. Reserves of food material in the world are very low. Stock with which to increase these reserves is not up to normal numerically. Indications are that a good demand must continue for the finished product of the farm.

COMPLETELY CRIPPLED

Terrible Experience of Mr. J. Harrop

It is seldom that anyone who has been continually exposed to every weather condition does not contract some form of Kidney or Rheumatic trouble. In many cases, cold, settling in the kidneys, so weakens those important organs that they are unable to filter the waste and poison out of the blood. The latter is carried throughout the body, causing uric acid to accumulate in the joints, with consequent rheumatism, stiff joints, swollen ankles, lumbago, sciatica, neuralgia, constipation, torturing pains in back and side and head. These ills can all be made right. Gin Pills give quick, certain and sure relief. Read what Mr. J. Harrop writes to us:—

"I have been crippled up so completely that I could not stand. Work was out of the question. A few doses of Gin Pills put me right. I cannot praise Gin Pills too much, and every home should have a box."

Gin Pills can help you. If you suffer from backache, or have that dreadful feeling of lassitude, with floating specks before the eyes, highly-colored urine, stone in the bladder and general debility, get Gin Pills at once. At all druggists or dealers, 50c. Money refunded if you are not relieved. A sample large enough to demonstrate its value, free on request.

Education.

A professor of a Western University has evolved a series of test questions for the educated which he avows are the best evidences of a real education. If you can answer "yes" to each and all the questions you are truly educated, the professor says. Here are the questions:—

1. Has education given you sympathy with all the good causes and made you espouse them?
2. Has it made you public-spirited?
3. Has it made you a brother to the weak?
4. Have you learned how to make friends and keep them?
5. Do you know what it is to be a friend yourself?
6. Can you look an honest man or a pure woman in the eye?
7. Do you see anything to love in a little child?
8. Will a lonely dog follow you in the street?
9. Can you be high-minded and happy in the meanest drudgeries of life?
10. Do you think that washing dishes or hoeing corn is just as compatible with high-thinking as playing the piano or playing golf?
11. Are you good for anything yourself?
12. Can you be happy alone?
13. Can you look out on the world and see anything but dollars and cents?
14. Can you look into a mud puddle by the wayside and see a clear sky?
15. Can you see anything in the puddle but mud?

Ends Stubborn Coughs in a Hurry

For real effectiveness, this old home-made remedy has no equal. Easily and cheaply prepared.

You'll never know how quickly a bad cough can be conquered, until you try this famous old home-made remedy. Anyone who has coughed all day and all night, will say that the immediate relief given is almost like magic. It takes but a moment to prepare and really there is nothing better for coughs.

Into a 16-oz. bottle, put 2½ ounces of Pinex (50 cents worth); then add plain granulated sugar syrup to make 16 ounces. Or you can use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, this mixture saves about two-thirds of the money usually spent for cough preparations, and gives you a more positive, effective remedy. It keeps perfectly, and tastes pleasant—children like it.

You can feel this take hold instantly, soothing and healing the membranes in all the air passages. It promptly loosens a dry, tight cough, and soon you will notice the phlegm thin out and then disappear altogether. A day's use will usually break up an ordinary throat or chest cold, and it is also splendid for bronchitis, croup, hoarseness, and bronchial asthma.

Pinex is a most valuable concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, the most reliable remedy for throat and chest ailments.

To avoid disappointment, ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with directions and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money refunded. The Pinex Co., Toronto, Ont.

PEACE STILL POSTPONED

TURKISH TREATY HELD UP FOR UNKNOWN REASONS.

LONDON, March 10.—Continued postponement of allies decision with regard to Constantinople is attributed in the peace conference circles to the hesitation of France and Italy, neither of which countries, it is asserted, has definitely answered Great Britain's invitaton to co-operate in occupying the city. Italy is credited with maintainng reluctance to participate in any drastic action and to receive support of a section of French politcans. Former Premer Briant is said to favor the British proposal however. Meanwhile speculation is indulged in as to why the French Premier submitted the Turkish draft treaty to President Wilson. Among the suppositions is that either M. Millerand wishes to forestall possible eventual interposition by the President if the latter is uninformed as to settlement terms, or that Millerand again is trying to obtain American aid in the settlement, even hoping to persuade the United States after all, to undertake a mandate for Armenia.

The Best Habit In The World is the habit of health. The way to get it is to train your bowels, through the liver, to act naturally, at a fixed time, every day.

Take one pill regularly (more only if necessary) until you succeed. Then you can stop taking them, without trouble or annoyance.

This has been the good-health rule for 50 years.

ANNUAL MEETING OF THE PETERBORO BOARD OF TRADE HELD LAST EVENING

Mr. J. W. Fraser and that of the Auditor, Mr. W. R. Morris.

Following these the President read the lengthy general report covering the varied activities of the 1919 Board thoroughy

President's Address.

Presient J. J. Turner in presenting his first report spoke on the procedure and policies of the Board. The excellent work of the committees were touched on. More than sixty meetings of committees were held and the Council and Executive committee held eighteen sessions. The work of the Committee on Transportation, under the chairman ship of Mr. W. S. Campbell, was commended.

Th War Memorial certificates given to the next of kin of Peterborough soldiers who died in the service of their country were presented to them through the initiative of the special committee on this matter. The service rendered to the city by the committee on city planning was enlarged upon and their future plans outlined, followed by a resume of the work of the Civic Education committee, from whose conferences outgrew the successful Thursday night meetings. The good service rendered by the membership campaign was referred to through whose efforts the membership has greatly increased, yet there is still a large body of men to be enlisted.

House Committee.

The work of the House committee in the promotion of good fellowship and acquaintanceship was dwelt on, and on this matter the President advocated a luncheon room at the rooms. The Industrial Welfare committee worked enthusiastically to their end of promoting between labour and their employers a better understanding.

Complaints on the exorbitant prices of gas, the postal service were explained. In the latter an enquiry was made and each matter will be adjusted.

Winter Fair.

The desirability of a winter fair for Peterborough and an experimental farm were dealt with. Great credit is due to the city administration for securing new industries. The bonusing system now in vogue to secure these were soundly rated. The enviable position of this city in regard to water power was emphasized, but the existing system of distribution which robs the city of needed power was pointed out forcibly.

Railway Facilities.

Mr. Turner spoke on the co-operation shown by both the railways in assisting the board and reviewed the improved schedules secured through their co-operation. What the Trent waterway will do for Peterborough was outlined, and the need for an electric trolley to the Kawartha Lakes and a line from Cobourg to Muskoka advocated, which together with the Trent Canal, would open up this unrivalled district to American tourists. Mr. D. E. Eason, chief engineer of the Trent Canal did admirable work in preparing data and map for the New York Motor Boat Show, and Senator W. H. Bennett of Midland, should get much credit for urging the advertising of the Trent waterway at the show, where, under Mr. A. W. Despard, it's beauties were explained to the eager Americans. A society of all communities interested in the development of this region to advertise it was advocated.

The problems facing the city fathers on finances were often considered by the Board, and the many other problems facing the city administrators. Mr. Turner spoke on the re-organization of the Mercantile Association. The generous support given to the Board by the Manufacturers' Association was commended highly.

The report expressed appreciation at the manner in which subscriptions for the Board were forthcoming and the first year successfully left behind.

A Central Place.

The Board is now in its proper place as related to the sectional associations of Peterborough. It provides a central place of meeting for all of them, aids them by clerical or special services as desired, and it co-operates with their efforts in all matters affecting the public welfare. It is primarily necessary that the Board should maintain its own integrity as an independent body. Every association in the city is now already represented in your membership and there is warrant for your faith that more and more men of worth, irrespective of caste or class, will join to help you support your co-oerative activities.

In conclusion he urged more of the members to enter the circle of action and not leave all of the responsibility and work to the few.

"How may we, as a Board of Trade devoted to the material and public welfare, win the confidence that is vital to our very existence. The answer to that question, gentlemen, is yours in the coming year," said Mr. Turner.

Urged Co-Operation.

Mr. Turner expressed his regret at the length of the report in conclusion and impressed upon the members the urgency of co-operation of all members with the officers to make 1920 a year of great success.

President F. Whitehouse reported on the mercantile section of the board a very progressive year but opinioned a bigger year this year. Mr. Whitehouse urged the need for more members so that like the manufacturers association they could report 100 per cent members. This year lectures will be held on matters pertinent to the Retail Merchants and other questions of interest will be fully discussed. Concluding he expressed the appreciation of the merchants for all the Board had done for them.

A Successful Year.

In the absence of Mr. W. R. Breyfogle the president of the Manufacturers Association Mr. A. W. Richardson reported for them a most successful year in every respect. Since the last report the local association has become affiliated with the Canadian Manufacturers Association. The good working conditions in Peterboro and the absence of industrial unrest were dwelt on but Mr. Richardson impressed his hearers with the necessity of more facilities for recreation for the workers commending the new park highly. An active housing scheme was advocated as the scarcity of houses has become acute "The city has been particularly fortunate in getting excellent industries during the last year," he said referring to the new industries.

In closing the work of the Board and the work of the manufacturers in getting together and working together in the interest of the city was emphasized.

Mr. Holston was again heard in his humorous songs enjoying every member immensely.

The important event of the evening the presentation of the president elect was then reached and after a brief address Mr. J. J. Turner welcomed Mr. Worth to the position. Replying Mr. Worth said that he felt there were others more fitted for the position than he, but promised to do his duty. Speaking of the last year he placed much credit on the officers for their self sacrifice during the trying year. Mr. Worth outlined the knocks the Board had received. People asked what is it? "The Board of Trade is a gathering together of men of the community who have only the community interest at heart." The success of the manufacturers association during the last year was referred to, Mr. Worth speaking briefly on the uncertainty of the future as regards business and trade.

Mr. Worth spoke on the benefits accrueing from meetings of this kind. The housing problems were fully realized by the speaker, who said that it was useless to get more industries till more houses were available.

The new president concluded by asking for the consideration and co-operation of the members on all questions, so that this year's council can carry on its duties successfully to a happy termination next year.

A Forward Movement.

In his address of welcome to the new officers and council, Mr. G. O. Cameron warned them of their altered status, when they will be called upon to give their report next year. The work involved in the first year in getting the Board under way should be turned into different channels this year in making the Board of Trade a civic institution with a real purpose. The hearty co-operation of all the members was promised them in his welcome to them.

Mr. E. B. Fowler supported Mr. Cameron in his words of welcome also assuring them of hearty co-operation.

Mr. Joseph Duffus, the newly elected vice-president, spoke briefly on how the work can be accomplished with co-operation, organization and enthusiasm. In concluding he urged every present member to remain a member and endeavour to get more to join in order to assure the board financial independence.

In moving the vote of thanks to the retiring president, Mr. J. J. Turner, and Secretary Mr. Ryerson Ritchie, Mayor A. A. McIntyre dwelt on the unceasing devotion of both men to their duty and work and his words were echoed by Alderman F Whitehouse in seconding the vote. "Mr. J. J. Turner is one of the most valuable men the city has," he said. Mr. Ritchie's ability was highly commended. "Their work is not valued to-day as it will be in years to come," he concluded.

Dr. E. E. Harvey also praised the work of the retiring officers highly. "The perspective of years will show us the work of these men whom we are loving to-night."

President J. J. Turner in replying disclaimed all the praises that had been heaped upon him claiming that he had only done his duty to the Board. "Mr. Ritchie has been the whole dynamo behind the Board", he stated. He told of the secretary's ceaseless work without any compensation whatever for the last eight months and besides he had helped the Board with money from his own pocket. He hoped they would still be able to get Mr. Ritchie's advice when occasion demanded.

Mr. Ryerson Ritchie, the retiring secretary, said that he felt highly honoured in having his name associated with Mr. Turner, whom he praised highly for his unstinted labour and the good business policy he instilled into the Board. The generous contributions of the members when finances were low was referred to. Mr. Ritchie was born in Peterorob, and he said that accounted for his love of it. What an asset the Kawartha Lakes is to Peterboro and the money and business they can bring in this district were emphasized and the need of sending them home filled with a respect for Peterboro and all things Canadian. He urged all to co-operate with the new secretary whom he commended highly and the officers of the Board.

Mr. H. R. H. Kenner moved a vote of thanks to the retiring vice-president and council comparing them to the Premier and Secretary of State, the Council being the Cabinet. The amount of work was shown by the admirable report and Mr. Kenner took great pleasure in moving the vote.

In seconding the vote Mr. Joseph Wearing said that last year was a momentous year in the history of Peterboro and the retiring men had done much to make it one.

Mr. Thomas Barrie the retiring vice president, thanked them sincerely for their kind words remarking that the only praise they wanted was to know that last year was a successful year. Mr. Barrie expressed his appreciation of the help given him by the committee and moved a vote of thanks to the retiring committee.

Mr. J. J. Hartley in seconding the vote dwelt on the accomplishments of the board in the past year and what they promised to do in the future. Referring to Mr. Ritchie he said "the Americans, when they want a real good man, get a Canadian and come to Peterboro to get him."

He hoped that the coming year would be very successful, not only for the Board of Trade but also for the city.

In conclusion Mr. Joseph Wearing moved a vote of thanks to the ladies for their kindly assistance and the vote was heartily commended.

Mr. Holston contributed a well rendered solo.

AFTER SHAVING

Heal the Skin and Prevent Infection with "ABSORBINE JR."

The most healing, most soothing, most effective skin lotion you can use after shaving is one you can make up at home by adding one ounce of "ABSORBINE JR." to a quart of water or witch hazel.

To rub this lotion over the face after shaving is a luxury indeed. It takes away all soreness—prevents chapping and irritation—heals the skin—and prevents infection.

A solution of "ABSORBINE JR." in water makes an excellent mouth wash; it thoroughly cleans the mouth, destroys germs, and prevents decay; fine for the teeth and gums.

BITRO-PHOSPHATE IS GOOD FOR THIN NERVOUS PEOPLE

A French scientist has discovered an organic phosphate which should be a very effective remedy for weak nerves, sleeplessness, thinness and lack of strength, energy, and vigour.

Its substance is described by specialists as identical in composition with certain vital elements naturally found in brain and nerve cells and one which when taken into the human system is quickly converted into healthy, living tissue.

This phosphate is already widely known among druggists in this country as Bitro-Phosphate, and some physicians claim that through its use strength, energy, vigour, and nerve force are frequently increased in two weeks' time.

Dr. Frederick Kolle, Editor of New York Physicians' "Who's Who," says it should be prescribed by every doctor and used in every hospital in the United States. As there are a great variety of so-called phosphates, those who wish to test the substance should be sure to get the genuine Bitro-Phosphate.

Dandruff Soon Ruins the Hair

Girls—if you want plenty of thick, beautiful, glossy, silky hair, do by all means get rid of dandruff, for it will starve your hair and ruin it if you don't.

It doesn't do much good to try to brush or wash it out. The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most if not all of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop, and your hair will look and feel a hundred times better. You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive and four ounces is all you will need, no matter how much dandruff you have. This simple remedy never fails.

STOCK MARKET OPENED STRONG

LEADING ISSUES ON THE UP-GRADE —STERLING EXCHANGE.

Special to Examiner.

NEW YORK, March 10. — The stock market was unusually strong at the opening to-day although some issues yielded fractionally on profit-taking. Crucible continued to climb and was up 2 3-4 at 229 1-4; U S Steel opened at 98 7-8, unchanged; General Motors certificates 31 1-8, up 1 7-8; Pan American 92 5-8, up 5-8; Republic 92 1-2, off 1-2; Central Leather 84 1-2, off 1-2; Reading 80 1-8, up 1 1-8; U S Rubber 104, unchanged; U R Stores 73 1-2, unchanged; Corn products 87 1-2, up 3-4; Mexican Pet., 185, up 1; American Loco., 58, up 1; Southern Pacific 99 1-2, up 1-4; General Motors 310 3-4, off 1 1-4.

An advance of more than 4 cents in sterling was an incentive for buying in the first hour. U. S. Rubber advanced 2 points, and General Motors after opening at 310 3-4, gained 4 points. The Pan-American made a new high on the move at 93 1-2.

STERLING EXCHANGE.

Special to Examiner.

NEW YORK, March 10. — More definite news from London that a large export of gold is to be made to this country, resulted in sterling jumping 4 1-3 cents at the opening to-day to $3.68 1-8.

Call money renewed at 7 per cent., the lowest since February 25. The opening of the money market ushered in a big buying movement in which rails were leaders. Reading was a feature and soon shot up nearly five points.

Canadian Pacific advanced nearly 4 points, Southern Pacific two and New York Central 3. Corn Products sold up through 90. Equipments also were especially strong around noon. American Car and Foundry sold at 141, within 8 of its record high, while Baldwin went above 120 and American Loco sold at 101 Reading at 85 was up six points net. Shortly after the opening Sterling advanced to $3.69 1-4, Francs opened at 13.47, up 25 centimes, Lire 17.82, up 15 ,and Marks .0145.

About noon Sterling was quoted at $3.73 an advance of almost 10 cents from yesterdays close.

MR. W. S. HAMILTON

At Knox Church Distinguished Tenor to Appear at Choir Concert.

The concert which is arranged to be held in Knox church tomorrow night, under the auspices of the choir, promises to be a real musical treat. Besides the numbers to be given by the choir under the able direction of Mr. F. E. Walden, some prominent artists will be heard in solo work. Mr. W. S. Hamilton, a native of "Bonnie Scotland" and the possessor of a splendid tenor voice is in himself sufficient attraction for the lovers of good music to be present at the concert. Mrs. W. McKee Bingham and Mrs. Hughes are always welcome to music loving audiences, while Mr. Whitehouse and Mr. Smith, who will be heard both in solo and in trio with Mr. Waldon the programme boasts two exceedingly fine performers.

The committee in charge expects that the members and adherents of Knox and the public generally will avail themselves of this opportunity to hear a delightful treat.

WEDNESDAY, MARCH 10TH, 1920.

THE NEW LEGISLATURE.

A busy session of the Ontario Legislature is foreshadowed by the address from the throne presented by Lieut.-Governor Clarke at the opening yesterday, when the legislation to be introduced by the government was sketched. The meatiness of the address is in marked contrast to the meagre programme outlined at the opening of the Federal House. The Drury government has many proposals to bring before the Legislature. In the matter of education there are to be increases in the grants to rural schools, provision is to be made for the publication of text books in such a way as to avoid increasing the cost to the pupils, and the Public school law is to be revised. Naturally there is to be an effort made to improve agricultural conditions. "Plans have been matured," declares the address, "by the Department of Agriculture for affording a greater stimulus to agricultural production in this province, for improving the quality of live stock and for fostering certain undertakings on behalf of the farmer which cannot be accomplished by individual effort. Among other legislation there is to be an act introduced regulating the purchase of milk and cream.

Hon. Mr. Biggs' good roads policy is a feature of the programme. It is to be made effective by a number of amendments to the existing laws, and is expected to materially improve rural conditions and facilitate the marketing of crops, "with advantage alike to the producer and consumer."

An important change is to be made in the work of the Soldiers' Aid Commission, which designed originally to assist in the re-establishment of the returned soldier, into civil life is now to devote its efforts to aiding the dependents of soldiers.

Other legislation indicated includes the creation of a Department of Mines, provision for reforestration work, measures in regard to labour, the establishment of a system of mothers' pensions, a revision of the voters' lists and amendments to a number of existing acts.

THE BOARD OF TRADE.

Last night's annual meeitng of the Peterborough Board of Trade, the first since the re-organization of the Board, was remarkable for its large attendance and the enthusiasm shown. It was probably the largest gathering of its kind that has been held here and stands out in brilliant contrast to the attendance at other annual meetings of the same organization in the years gone by. The Board is on a sound footing, ready for a progressive and energetic campaign on behalf of Peterborough during the coming months. The last year has been largely a preparatory one, devoted to the thorough organization of the Board, the develop-ment of its different sections into live working units, the establishment of a competent office system. This work has been carried out on business-like lines with the result that the Board of Trade is now fit and ready for the tasks to which it has devoted itself. The evident enthusiasm of last night's meeting and the representative gathering are excellent auguries for a most successful year. The new officers, including President Edgar Worth and Vice-President J. J. Duffus are embarking upon their responsible duties armed with a warm interest and a determination to bring results, and there is every reason to believe that they will be successful in their aims. However, the address of the retiring President, Mr. J. J. Turner, points to one drawback that has always interfered to a considerable extent with the progress of the organization, and that is the indifference and lack of interest of a large number of the members, who think that their duties are completed when they have paid their annual dues.

"One phase of your development during these first few months of initiatory organization deserves comment,' said Mr. Turner. "It has happened that the majority of our members have given no real concern for their own work, attended none of their meetings, and in fact stood outside the circle of action as observers or open critics of your conduct. You have a lamentably large number who have never called at the rooms of the Board and who seem to regard their contribution of dues as an imposed obigation of very doubtful expediency."

It is evident that if the Board of Trade is to be developd to the full extent of its usefulness, this lethargy on the part of its members must give way to a keen live interest and a desire to serve. The foundation stone has been well and truly laid and if the active spirits who have done the pioneer work and placed the organization in its present position are seconded by the efforts of the members the coming year should be one of marked success.

THE KAWARTHA LAKES.

A noteworthy feature of the splendid report given by Mr. J. J. Turner, retiring President of the Board of Trade last night was his references to the Trent Canal and to the necessity of advertising the Kawartha Lake system, which the completion of the canal throws open. Mr. Turner, speaking for the Council of the Board of Trade, declared that the Trent waterway must be accepted "as an admirable means of opening the great recreation area to which Peterborough is the gateway and for which it is the natural distributing centre." The Board regards the development of the Kawartha region as a paradise for summer visitors, as the greatest asset that the completion of the canal will bring about. From the standpoint of a freight route the waterway, according to the report, cannot be considered in its present condition as a success.

"Originally the Trent Canal was proposed to connect the Great Lakes with the Seaboard for freight carrying purposes," remarked Mr. Turner, "but the advances made in railway facilities and equipment, and in water transportation, have forged ahead of us and now leave room for little hope that this seven-foot channel will enable Canada to realize the advantage of the great saving in milage which this waterway gives, but for which it cannot be used except in a very limited way by small craft and canal boats."

Mr. Turner made some practical suggestions of great value. He urged the co-operation of all the communities located in the Trent Canal area in organizing a society to further the development of the entire district and also the bringing of pressure to bear upon the Minister of Railways and Canals to have the Government publish, for the benefit of the hundreds of visitors expected, a descriptive booklet giving the necessary information, including navigation charts, in regard to the canal. These are movements in which the Peterborough Board of Trade might well take the initiative.

THE NEW RUSSIAN TYRANNY.

Dean Inge in the Manchester Guardian, writes of the "New Russian Tyranny." He does not believe that a Napoleonic phase will follow as the country is so denuded of natural leaders that it cannot become dangerous to its neighbors for many years to come. He says:

"The strange tendency among the Labor party to idealize Bolshevism, shows the violence of the revolt against parliamentary democracy as well as the ignorance of those who profess these sympathies. For those who have had access to first hand information about Russia there is no doubt or mystery about the situation there.

"The revolution began with a mutiny of the army, which had been most shamefully mishandled and betrayed by a corrupt, incompetent government. It was captured at last by a body of Communists, who did not even pretend to represent the majority of the people. These men by a clever stroke seized simultaneously all the arms, money and food in the country, and thereby paralyzed all resistance.

"They proceeded to set up such a tyranny as is possible only in that classic land of tyrannies; but it is far more crushing than its predecessors. The little finger of Lenine is thicker than the loins of Nicholas I., in whose reign the autocracy of the Tsars culminated.

"The Communists at once acted on a time-honored device of autocrats, symbolized by Tarquin the Proud, the last King of Rome, who, as he walked in his garden, flicked off the head of every flower which was a little taller than its neighbors. The whole of the propertied and educated classes were massacred, starved or expelled, so that nothing remained to break the dead level of servitude.

"Russia is a vast prison, a nation consisting of an autocrat and a hundrd million slaves. 'I shall not call a Constituent Assembly,' said Lenine, 'for it is not the business of the masses to govern, but to obey those who know what is good for them.' No Tsar since the great Nicholas has dared to use such language.

"It is difficult to predict what will be the end of this terrible episode in Russian history. I thought at one time that it must pass into a Napoleonic phase. But my latest information is that the country is so dended of its natural leaders, and in such an abject condition of misery and prostration, that Russia cannot be dangerous to her neighbors for many years to come. The influence of Bolshevik propaganda in other countries has probably been exaggerated by the fears of those who see, as in a nightmare, the approach of a storm which will leave nothing of civilization standing. Bolshevism is at home only in the domains of Ivan the Terrible, and no Communistic experiment has yet ended except in disaster."

A POOR PLEA.

Shortly after the distribution of the forty million dollar fund which had been provided for soldiers in straightened circumstances had been commenced, it was discovered that some soldiers who were in receipt of vocational training and the pay and allowances attached to vocational training, had applied for, and were receiving assistance from the emergency fund. In Toronto alone it was found that some hundred soldiers had received some of this emergency money while being taken care of by the vocational training branch of the Department of Soldier Civil Re-establishment. The vocational training courses of these men were promptly cancelled. In order to obtain the grants from the emergency fund the soldiers had to declare that they were in receipt of no other form of assistance. Such a declaration could not be properly made by men receiving vocational training, for although the pay and allowances in such cases are not large, they are generally conceded to be sufficient to keep in moderate comfort the man taking the course, and also the family of the student. The purposes for which the emergency fund were created certainly did not include the granting of money to men who were already being maintained in fair comfort while being given a course in vocational training. The drastic measure of cancelling the vocational courses of the men who had taken money from the other source, has been the cause of some criticism in the east, and Col. A. T. Hunter, president of the Parkdale branch of the G.W.V.A., in a statement to the press, makes some show of defending the offenders. His plea is not a strong one. He takes the line that the men who took advantage of the fund when they were not entitled to do so, acted in ignorance. He appears to take the ground that the ordinary soldier cannot be expected to have enough brains to act squarely, and that consequently, he should be excused. No scheme having to do with the re-establishment of returned men can be proceeded with on this basis. The average soldier is an average man, and knows right from wrong just as well or a little better, than the man who stayed at home. These men, who lied to the officials in charge of the disbursement of the emergency fund, in order to get some of the money, knew very well that they were laying themselves open to serious blame. There are many hundreds of men in the country who were not eligible to receive the benefits of vocational training, and who were absolutely up against it for the means of livelihood. It was for these men that the fund was created, and every time an imposter made an inroad on the fund it made it harder for the legitimate case to receive prompt consideration. It is the type of man who is always seeking for that t owhich he knows he is not entitled that makes the administrators of the pensions, the land settlement, and any other measures having to do with the welfare of the soldiers, difficult. At the same time the cancellation of the training courses of the offenders at Toronto was rather drastic, and, perhaps, sufficient punishment could have been provided by suspension for a week or two, or by the cancellation of some of the other privileges included in the ordinary vocational training courses.—Turner's Weekly.

MISS M. JORDAN MAKES AN AMBITIOUS MOVE—IN BUSINESS FOR HERSELF.

A short time ago Miss M. Jordan severed her connection with Jordan Bros., florists, where she occupied the position of saleslady and all-round assistant in the up-town store of the firm. Miss Jordan had a host of friends, who will miss her invariably pleasant greeting, but who will be glad to know that the ambitious lady is now conducting a floral business of her own in the store of H. Cooke and Co., prominent druggists and stationers, of Orillia. She writes that she is getting nicely settled and established in her new surroundings, and, judging by her experience here, is rapidly making new friends in the prosperous town of her adoption. Miss Jordan's long experience in Peterborough in handling flowers and plants, making up wedding and corsage bouquets, floral designs and sprays, have thoroughly fitted her for carrying on such a business for herself, successfully, and the Examiner bespeaks for her a host of friends and a rapid rise to a recognized position among the energetic business people of Orillia.

EVERETT HEARS OF THE ACCIDENT AND ROBBERY

CHAPTER LXVIII.

Once in the house Everett's manner changed. He was the same cold, calculating, fault-finding husband to whom I had not yet become accustomed. These sudden changes in him bewildered and yet intrigued me.

"Now tell me all that has happened since I left."

"Oh, Everett, it has been terrible!"

"Terrible? Well, suppose you begin at the very beginning and tell me what has been so terrible." He evidently had not seen the evening papers which contained an account of the robbery.

"Oh, the accident, the burglar and everything!"

"The burglar!"

"Oh, it was terrible! I really thought I would die of fright." Then I went on and told him as plainly as I could what had happened. Mrs. Gray had had a delicious supper left for us on the dining room table, and while he ate I talked.

He made no comment, scarcely spoke until I mentioned the railroad ticket in my purse.

"How did you come to have a ticket to New York in your bag?"

"Why—I—I thought after telling me I might go, it was unfair of you to say I couldn't, so I hurried down ot the station, bought a ticket, hoping I would see you and that you would let me go," I added the last meekly enough, because of the frown on his face.

"You mean to tell me that after I called you up and told you you could not go, you deliberately went down to the station and bought a ticket, intending to force yourself upon me?"

"What an awful way to put it!" I exclaimed. "I was so disappointed, I thought perhaps if I talked with you it might change your mind. I knew the time was short, so I bought my ticket."

"And so by disobeying me you assisted a burglar."

"That isn't fair!" I returned with some show of spirit. "Please be fair, Everett. One would think I knew the burglar to hear you talk. It was terrible—even Mrs. Gray said. I might have been shot instead of James, as it was my room into which he climbed.'

"James shot!"

"Yes—then I told him the story He never once interrupted me, but when I had finished he said again—or rather mumbled: "thank God!" but whether he meant that I wasn't shot, or that James wasn't killed, he didn't say.

"I feel terribly about the sapphires, Everett," I said.

"Never mind the sapphires— you are safe,' and before I knew what he intended, he had once more swept me into his arms, and was covering my face with kisses.

But after a moment he put me away and made me go over each moment of time, every slightest incident. When I told him that Mr. Kemp was going to call and inquire after me—whether I had suffered any bad effects from the accident or not, he returned:

"You will not receive Mr. Kemp when he comes. Mrs. Gray can convey your thanks for anything he may have done for you. I will also see him and thank him."

"But why should I not receive him?'('

"Because I do not wish you to. Isn't that sufficient?"

"No, Everett, it is not!" I was terribly frightened at my temerity; more I think than I had been at the sight of the burglar. But I went on: "Would it have been enough for your first wife?"

Everett was absolutely ghastly when I gained courage to look at him.

"It will be enough for you. Hereafter I expect to be obeyed in what ever I command. Now that I look at you why have you disregard my wishes about the way you wear your hair?"

"Simply because I think I have the right to do my hair as I wish. Would you like me to tell you how to have your hair cut?"

"The cases are entirely different."

"I see no difference."

"I will go up and see how James is. You go to bed at once."

Instead of doing as he told me, I took a book and tried to read. But I never knew what I read—my mind was filled with the idea that I was doing as Leola did, and that as he had loved her so devotedly, he would also love me in the same way if I were like her and acted ac she did.

To-morrow —Kemp calls to inquire after Sandra.

Canada Leads.

A paragraph appearing in Repatriation, a monthly bulletin published in the interests of returned men in Australia, quotes the speech delivered in Sydney by Premier Holman, of New South Wales, in which he stated that the state had settled 1,100 men on the land. The Premier claimed that this was a much larger number than had been settled in any of the other states. New South Wales sent to the battlefields of Europe thirty-nine per cent of the total of the Australian Expeditionary Force. If the proportion of ex-service men settled in the land in the other states was equal to that of New South Wales the figures would be for the whole of Australia 2,820 men benefited by the Land Settlement Act up to the date of the Premier's speech.

Up to the 17th of May, the Soldier Settlement Board of Canada had approved 7,900 applications for the benefits of the Soldier Settlement Act and a great many more applications were before the Qualification Committees in the various provinces. These figures which will be largely augmented by the returns for the last two weeks of May and for the present month show that Canada is well in advance of the sister commonwealth in providing suitable farms for her war heroes.

National Forest Area Reduced.

The president on February 25, 1919, signed a proclamation eliminating 31,-770 acres from the Helena national forest, Montana. The lands affected are situated along the exterior boundaries of the forest and a large portion of the lands excluded are already in private ownership.

This action is based on the recommendation made by the secretary of agriculture as a result of the land classification done by the forest service. It was found that the lands had practically no value for national forest purposes.

Coal In Alberta.

The Alberta Government has decided to appoint a commission with wide powers to investigate the coal mining industry in all it's bearings. The provincial inspector of mines has been selected as chairman and the following organizations have been asked to choose one member each to serve on the commission: the United Mine Workers, the Western Coal Operators Association, the Alberta Federation of Labor (not a miner), the Industrial Research Association (not a mine operator).

MEETING OF OF LAKEFIELD COUNCIL

LIST OF ACCOUNTS PASSED—NEW APPOINTMENTS,

LAKEFIELD, March 9. — The village council met in the council chamber last evening. Present, Reeve Strickland in the chair, with Councillors Marling, Spencer and Young.

The minutes of the last regular special meeting were read and confirmed.

The motion appointing Mr. Robt. Webster was rescinded and Mr. Jos. Watson appointed in his stead.

A communication from Thos. Crawford re brick was received.

Moved by Councillor Young, seconded by Councillor Spence, that Mr. John Botterel be appointed to measure up all the lumber used in the Memorial Hall and make a report on the same.—Carried.

The Finance Committee on motion of Councillors Spence and Marling, recommended payment of the following account:

Ira Lennox	45.00
George Millar	6.00
Braden Blewett	2.00
Joseph Watson	7.40
George Spence	14.55
J. C. Strickland	14.55

Mr. Kearns of Toronto, architect of the Memorial was present and stated he would not make any report on the memorial hall until it had been examined by Mr. Tutt of Toronto, the Inspector of Public Buildings and who would arrive on Tuesday morning's train.

Moved by Councillor Young, seconded by Councillor Spence, that the Council do now adjourn.—Carried.

Live Stock Scarce In Europe.

France has 2,366,000 fewer cattle than in 1914; Italy, 996,000; Denmark, 345,000; Sweden, 599,000; Germany, 2,200,000; and Austria-Hungary, considerable. These figures alone show a decrease of 6,206,000 head of cattle and many countries which have suffered are not named.

The sheep decrease in France, Italy, Denmark, and Holland alone is over two and one-half millions, and in pigs there has been a wholesale decrease to the number of 24,-952,000 in France, Italy, Denmark, Sweden, Holland and Germany. Denmark, Canada's strongest competitor on the British bacon market is 1,873,000 short of a normal supply of pigs. Germany is 10,396,000 short of her 1914 hog population.

These figures should prove interesting to the Ontario live stock breeder. Reserves of food material in the world are very low. Stock with which to increase these reserves is not up to normal numerically. Indications are that a good demand must continue for the finished product of the farm.

COMPLETELY CRIPPLED

Terrible Experience of Mr. J. Harrop

It is seldom that anyone who has been continually exposed to every weather condition does not contract some form of Kidney or Rheumatic trouble. In many cases, cold, settling in the kidneys, so weakens those important organs that they are unable to filter the waste and poison out of the blood. The latter is carried throughout the body, causing uric acid to accumulate in the joints, with consequent rheumatism, stiff joints, swollen ankles, lumbago, sciatica, neuralgia, constipation, torturing pains in back and side and head. These ills can all be made right. Gin Pills give quick, certain and sure relief. Read what Mr. J. Harrop writes to us:—

"I have been crippled up so completely that I could not stand. Work was out of the question. A few doses of Gin Pills put me right. I cannot praise Gin Pills too much, and every home should have a box."

Gin Pills can help you. If you suffer from backache, or have that dreadful feeling of lassitude, with floating specks before the eyes, highly-colored urine, stone in the bladder and general debility, get Gin Pills at once. At all druggists or dealers, 50c. Money refunded if you are not relieved. A sample large enough to demonstrate its value, free on request.

Education.

A professor of a Western University has evolved a series of test questions for the educated which he avows are the best evidences of a real education. If you can answer "yes" to each and all the questions you are truly educated, the professor says. Here are the questions:—

1. Has education given you sympathy with all the good causes and made you espouse them?
2. Has it made you public-spirited?
3. Has it made you a brother to the weak?
4. Have you learned how to make friends and keep them?
5. Do you know what it is to be a friend yourself?
6. Can you look an honest man or a pure woman in the eye?
7. Do you see anything to love in a little child?
8. Will a lonely dog follow you in the street?
9. Can you be high-minded and happy in the meanest drudgeries of life?
10. Do you think that washing dishes or hoeing corn is just as compatible with high-thinking as playing the piano or playing golf?
11. Are you good for anything yourself?
12. Can you be happy alone?
13. Can you look out on the world and see anything but dollars and cents?
14. Can you look into a mud puddle by the wayside and see a clear sky?
15. Can you see anything in the puddle but mud?

SOUGHT SYMPATHY FOR THE SOVIET GOVERNMENT

EXPLAINED TERMS

The lecture on "The Regeneration of Russia" by Mr. L. Green in the Labour Hall last night attracted an audience of from fifty to seventy-five men who followed attentively and with occasional punctuations of applause his two-hour exposition of the Soviet movement, the Russian Socialist Federated Soviet Republic, its constitution and labour laws. Mr. T. H. Lane was chairman in the absence of Mr. A. J. Bolwell, president of the Trades Council.

Mr. Green is a graduate electrical engineer of Manitoba University and has been employed for some time as electrical engineer by the C.G.E. company. His address was interesting and in many respects instructive. He sketched the Russian revolution and explained some of the familiar terms that are used in connection with it. He gave concise and clear definitions of the various revolutionary groups and pointed out the differences between their aims and plans of action. His reference to the transitional period between the revolution and overthrow of the Czar's regime and the ascendancy of the Bolsheviki was too superficial to any person who prefers to judge the rise of the Soviet republic according to the ideals of British democracy.

Mr. Green was full of his subject, and presented it in a favourable light. At the outset he declared that Russian conditions had been misrepresented by the press, which he said was under capitalistic denomination in regard to labour aspirations and accomplishments, and in the latter part of his discourse, after attempting to shatter faith in the press, he quoted from a number of newspapers reports and reprinted documents which he was confident conveyed the truth of the new day that is dawning under the Soviet sun.

Mr. Holmgren, a friend of Mr. Green's introduced him to the audience, stating that he was born near Odessa in Russia. His parents were poor and he had to go to work at a tender age. His early displayed an interest in the welfare of the working people and also an avidity for education. In trying to satisfy his thrist for knowledge and self-advancement he attended night schools. In 1907 he went to France where he received his first higher education in a French university. Deciding to join relatives in Canada he later came to this country and went to Manitoba where he obtained his degree from the provincial university.

Referring to Mr. Joffe's leter advising Mr. Green that in telling the truth about Russia he should avoid untruths, Mr. Green said he should thank Mr. Joffe for the occasion he created of speaking about Russia.

"Otherwise I wouldn't have dared as I am not a good speaker in English. I take this opportunity of showing where the truth is."

Sympathy for New Russia.

"I came here to gain sympathy for the new Russia. There was intolerance toward Russia during the war. It was said that murder and chaos had reigned under the new Government. I am going to prove this was falsification."

Mr. Green explained lucidly the meaning of the terms evolution, revolution and counter-revolution.

"Evolution is the gradual and natural development of some observed facts of life. Plant growth is an evolutionary process, and so are improvements in manufacturing of some machinery."

Revolution is a forcible change of condition. Mr. Green cited the industrial revolution in the textile industry in England by which work that was done in the homes of the people for wealthy men who provided the materials and, paid the prices they set was transferred to factories where machinery tended by 35 men produced as much as 100 men work under the old system.

The generation of life in an egg was an evolutionary process until the time comes for the chicken to break its shell and emerge because it needs light and food and air. Without these conditions the chicken would die. The breaking of the shell was a revolutionary mode.

"To explain counter-revolution, suppose some one would try to prevent the chicken from getting out he would act against the revolutionary process."

The socialist, Mr. Green indicated, believed in the common ownership of wealth and lands for the benefit of all. The democrat was a partizan of changing conditions through political action and education only; the social democrat would change conditions by political action, education and trade unions.

The social revolutionist is the man who would trust to change social conditions by education and terroristic methods, by murder and assassination. This party concentrated its action against the Czar and officials of the old regime. The social democrats on the other hand contended that nothing was to be gained by eliminating one or other of the higher officials in Russia.

The intelligentsia or intellectuals were mostly educated working men.

The anarchists were a small group, Mr. Green continued, who did not play a great part in the revolutionary activities.

The White and Red Armies.

The Red army was in sympathy with the Soviet government. They were the soldiers of the new government.

The white army were those soldiers who fought against the new Government. "They had to find some other expression" Mr. Green observed, "and could not be called red."

"It is not necessary to be in Russia to know everything that has been done there. It is not necessary to be in the sky to know what's going on there."

Mr. Green said he had never lost spiritual contact with Russia. Until the intervention by the Allies he had received weekly papers, and since then had read official reports by French, British, American and Italian sources and press information.

Dealing with misrepresentation of the conditions under the Soviet rule Mr. Green quoted a press report of February 29th, 1920, the statement of a French ex-deputy who had accompanied a military mission to Siberia to the effect that if France had known the truth she would not have lent her support to Kolchak who was supported by reactionary imperialists.

The Czar's Death.

From newspaper reports it had been spread abroad that the Czar had been killed by agents of the new Government. Mr. Green read from "Soviet Russia" the official organ of the Soviet Republic, printed in New York quoting an article from Pravda the paper of Soviets showing the Czar had been killed by political opponents of the Bolsheviki belonging to the left wing of the social recolutionary party. The killing of the Czar was to cast discredit on the new Government so that the people outside of Russia would say that this was the work of the Bolsheviki. The foreign press, Mr. Green said, did not print any account of the trial of these murders by the Soviet's government's tribunal. Eleven of them were condemned to death.

Another form of villifying the new Government was the publication of a paper exactly copying the appearance of "Pravad" the official paper of the Soviet Government, but containing vastly different articles which were published in other countries as clippings from the original "Pravad."

"Could anything be viler than that" Mr. Green asked.

He declared that the nationalization of women was another falsehood in the anti-Bolshevist propaganda.

Praises Co-Operative Movement.

Mr. Green quoted from the bulletin of the Canadian Department of Trade and Commerce an official report approving the co-operative movement in Russia, the growth of which was one of the most encouraging signs of social and economic progress which if used for production would become the most powerful factor in the regeneration of Russia.

Meaning of Soviets.

"The Soviets are not a new thing for the Russian people" Mr. Green asserted. "We had soviets in 1905. In October the general strike occurred in which the cry of the people was "Constitution Parliament" that their will might be expressed. The movement had sunk so deep that the Czar gave them a constitution and the parliament, the Duma. Organizations of the workmen started and declared for a free press, freedom of speech and the right of assembly. The workmen's organizations sent representatives to a central body that was called a soviet. There were soviets of the workmen, peasant and soldiers."

This revolution had been accomplished without bloodshed. Mr. Green continued, and briefly sketched the abrogation of the constitution and other liberties when the Czar saw the danger of his system. The Duma was summarily dissolved, leaders of the workers were deported and the dark days prevailed in Russia until the war, which produced a great movement into which the people entered enthusiastically.

The Czarist group were secretely against the Allies, Mr. Green declared, recalling the lack of equipment for the army, the shells that fitted German and not Russian guns, and all the other obstacles that contributed to Russian defeat and German victories. The people saw that as long as the autocrats ruled there was no success or progress for the masses and the country.

After the Czar was disposed, the soviets were re-organized but did not gain power until the Bolshevist revolution on November 7th, 1917.

"I don't remember the governments. There were one or two and then Kerensky's. There was government of Lvoff, a prince and of Milinkoff. Kerensky was a social revolutionist of the milder type. He was one of those who considered that the war should be carried to a successful end. There was another unofficial Government, the soviets. They had more power than the Kerensky Government. They wanted to find out whether the people were still in sympathy with the war. They considered that Kerensky did not represent the people but that he represented the foreign financial interests.

The Soviets demanded a parliament in order that the people should make their decision. Time went on; Kerensky did not make any declaration regarding the new Parliament. The Soviets concluded to call a Parliament themselves, and the Bolsheviki were in the majority among the Soviets."

Bolshevik and Menshevik.

Mr. Green explained that the Bolsheviki were the majority group of the social democratic labour party, the mensheviki the minority. The Bolsheviki contended that the party's aims could be realized only by secret educational methods, the Mensheviki wanted to carry out the plans by legal, open methods, but the Bolsheviki took the ground that this exposed their workers to arrest. The Bolsheviki were numerous and influential in the big cities among the factory workers, the Mensheviki in the smaller towns.

Mr. Green quoted Col. Raymond Robbins, Arthur Ransome, journalist, and Albert Rys Williams, in connection with the negotiations of the Bolsheviki with the allies. The Soviet proposed to carry on the war on condition that the Allies recognized their government and provided them with ammunition. This offer, the speaker said, was not published in the press, because it was favorable to the new government.

"The Germans tried to invade Russia and notwithstanding the disorganization of the army the Soviet tried to do all in its power to carry on the war against the Germans."

Only Lenine was in favour of signing peace with the Germans. He saw that with the Germans on one side and the Allies on the other the Soviets should strive to retain the little space left them to carry on their educational work. He persuaded the 15,000 delegates of the Soviet congress and peace was signed.

"Chaos was not created by the Bolsheviki. It was the result of the forcible revolution and overthrow of the Government."

The Constitution.

Quoting from the Winnipeg Telegram of February 15th, 1919 Mr. Green enumerated the chief clauses of the Soviet Government's constitution. It provided for the abolition of private property and the apportioning of land to the extent of each man's ability to work it. Factories, mills and similar establishments were confiscated. There was a universal obligation to work.

The Soviet of 1,500 delegates representing the toiling mass of Russia elected 200 members called the Central committee; the committee elected seventeen commissars who correspond to the Canadian Cabinet ministers. Delegates are elected for six months and are subject to recall.

Mr. Green called Mr. George Lansberry, editor of the London Daily Herald as witness for some of the new Russian labour laws. His despatch was in the Mail and Empire of February 24th. Incidentally Mr. Green asserted that Mr. Lansberry was a worker. Even an engineer was a worker, and architects, doctors and everyone who produces useful work.

Mr. Lansberry reported that he had visited state factories and was surprised to see how much had been accomplished during the period of trouble. He saw men working at full speed compared with thousands in France and England. The only difference was that they were their own employers, working for the Soviet state.

According to the Soviet Labour law all citizens shall be subject to compulsory labour, except persons under 16 years who shall attend school whether their parents are rich or poor; and all persons over 50 years.

Somewhere your financial condition is you wouldn't starve there [illegible] to some of his audience apparently beyond the half [illegible]

Persons permanently incapacitated are also exempt. There is also provision for temporary illness.

[illegible] are exempt; there is no night work for women and youths under 18 years. The working day is eight hours and six hours for those under 18. Limited overtime is also [illegible] Inspectors are elected by the Trade Unions.

In Conclusion Mr. Green denied that the pogroms against the Jews were promoted by the Soviet Government. It was the white army that had been guilty of atrocities against the Jews, whose condition under the Romanoff regime Mr. Green explained carefully. They were deprived of the right to work in factories and were kept in the "pale." In time he believed they would become good workers under the Soviet.

"A child of hope has been brought in the east. Are you going to kill it or are you going to encourage by your sympathy" Mr. Green concluded and was warmly applauded.

Dr. James Francis Sullivan, formerly physician of Bellevue Hospital (Outdoor Dept.), New York, and the Westchester County Hospital, says that to help make strong, lean, red-blooded Americans there is nothing so valuable as organic iron—Nuxated Iron. It often increases the strength and endurance of weak, nervous, run-down people in two weeks' time. It is conservatively estimated that Nuxated Iron is now being used by over three million people annually, and it has been used and endorsed by such men as Ignace Jan Paderewski, Ex-Premier of Poland and Master Pianist; United States Judge G. W. Atkinson, of the Court of Claims of Washington; also former Health Commissioner Wm. R. Kerr, of Chicago, and others. Nuxated Iron is dispensed by all good druggists everywhere.

NATURE'S MIRROR

When a woman is well and healthy—there's a sparkle in her eyes, a rose tint in her cheeks, and she has rich red blood. There's elasticity in every movement and a spring in her step. Love comes to every woman who has bounding health—but when she is pallid, dull eyed, languid, she has no magnetism nor does she appeal to any man.

Such a change in feelings and looks!

After suffering pain, feeling nervous, dizzy, weak and dragged down by weaknesses of her sex—with eyes sunken, black circles and pale cheeks—such a woman is quickly restored to health by the Favorite Prescription of Dr. Pierce. Changed, too, in looks, for after taking Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription the skin becomes clear, the eyes brighter, the cheeks plump. It is purely vegetable contains no alcohol.

Heart Disease and Nerve Troubles Sweep the Country

Probably at no period in the world's history have heart and nerve troubles been so prevalent as they are to-day.

The heart can't stand the stress and strain of this busy, bustling age, and the care and worry, the anxiety and activity of business life constitute a serious drain on the nervous system.

The business of this work-a-day world goes with such a rush that the stoutest hearts and strongest nerves break down under the strain.

On the first approach of any breakdown of the system Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills should be taken. The reconstructive power of these pills on the heart and nerve system is simply marvellous.

Mr. W. A. Wright, Hopewell Ave., Ottawa, Ont., writes:—"After suffering for some time with my heart, I consulted a number of doctors, but got no relief. However, I read what Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills had done for others, who had the same symptoms and thought I would give them a trial. Believe me, six boxes cured me completely. I am feeling fine now, and can attend to my work every day. I can recommend your pills to any one suffering as I did."

SOCIAL EVENING SELWYN CHURCH

REPSENTATION TO MISS ADA SANDERSON, ORGANIST OF CHURCH.

The congregation of the Selwyn Methodist church gathered at the regular prayer meeting March 2nd.

The regular prayer meeting programme was carried out and a solo rendered by Mrs. Fred McKee.

At the close of the meeting Miss Ada Sanderson, who for several years has been organist of the church was presented with a French Ivory Toilet set in a handsome leather case.

An address was read by Miss Whipple Tully, while Miss Emma Elliott made the presentation. The address was as follows:

Dear Ada: We your friends and fellow members of this church are gathered here to-night to express to you in a small way our gratitude for your services as organist of our church.

You have always been faithful and untiring in your duties, giving of your best ungrudingly and uncomplaining. We recognize the value of the service you have rendered and how hard your place will be to fill. It was with deepest regret we learned of your removal from among us and we hope that your bright and sunny disposition will be as much appreciated in your new home as in the one you are leaving and we ask you to accept from us this little memento of your life here among your old companions, not for its slight value but for the love that goes with it; and our hope that your life wherever it is spent, wherever God in his infinite wisdom may see fit to call you, may be one of eternal sunshine and usefulness in his service.

We all join in expressing the hope of still seeing you frequently at our church gatherings where you will always be a welcome guest.

Signed on behalf of the congregation.

Miss Sanderson was taken completely by surprise but at the close of the meeting in a few well chosen words thanked the gathering for the gift.

Miss Sanderson is one of the most popular young ladies of Smith and her removal to Lakefield is a decided loss to the community.

Gave a Party.

On Friday evening Miss Isabel McKee gave a party at the home of her father, Mr. F. McKee, in honor of Miss Ada Sanderson. About 20 guests were present and a very enjoyable evening was spent in music and games. The party broke up in the early hours of the morning, the guests all voting Mr. and Mrs. McKee delightful entertainers.

Miss May Bennett of Otonabee is spending a few days at Selwyn, the guest of Miss Isabel McKee.

COAL MINERS IN CONFERENCE

(Canadian Press)

LONDON, March 10.—National conference of coal miners at a session to-day declared in favor of a general strike as the means of enforcing demands for nationalization of mines. The decision of the miner's body will be referred to special Trades Union Congress which meets to-morrow and the opinions which have been expressed by delegates give rise to the expectation that this body will decide on the continuation of constitutional means for achieving the end desired instead of a resort to direct action.

HER DAUGHTER WAS SAVED FROM OPERATION

Mrs. Wells of Petersburg Tells How.

Petersburg, Va.—"For two years my daughter suffered from a weakness and pains in her right side; at times she was so bad she could not do any work. For two years she was attended by the best physicians here, and both agreed that she would have to be operated on. I suggested Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and at first she refused to take it, but finally consented. From the very beginning it helped her, and now she is entirely well, and telling everybody how much good it has done her."—Mrs. W. D. Wells, 286 North Adams Street, Petersburg, Va.

No Other Light Car Offers So Much

Unusual power and control, quick pick-up and extraordinary acceleration to real speed, are features inherent in the Cleveland Six and features with which Cleveland owners are delighted.

Many a Cleveland Six owner has said, "It would be hard to tell you what a good car the Cleveland honestly is. It's wonderful."

The Cleveland is wonderful because it is a splendidly developed and finished product, not a car rushed into the market. Three years ago the plans for production of this car were far advanced. But, with war approaching, production and marketing were delayed though experimental and engineering work were continued and test cars kept on the road. When war ended, came the Cleveland.

Built in a fine big factory, with all conditions and equipment assuring the very best of manufacture, and built by men whose successful experience had been wholly in the production of fine cars, the Cleveland Six began rolling out to the world last August. Since then thousands have gone to delighted owners, and thousands more are going every month.

There isn't any other light car that will give you so much of all that you wish, and at such a fair price.

Come let us show you what a car the Cleveland is

JUNIOR O.H.A. FINAL WON BY PADDLERS

TORONTO, March 10.—Toronto Canoe Club juniors made sure of bringing one O.H.A. championship to Toronto when by defeating the Stratford Midgets by ten goals to two last night they became undisputed holders of the John Ross Robertson Memorial Cup, and the junior championship of the O.H.A. From many points of view the game was a disappointment. Not because the Paddlers won, but because the visitors did not play the game they are capable of playing and excitement oozed rapidly after the second period when the locals had secured a commanding lead.

On last night's play Dick Carroll's Red Ringers deserved to win. With the exception of part of the second period they were masters of their opponents at every stage of the contest, and proved their unchallenged right to become the victors. They played a steady clever game throughout, both on the attack and on the defence, while the Midgets did not look by any means the flashy team which defeated C.T.S. eight days ago.

FARM VALUES ARE HIGHER.

Dominion Bureau Thinks $52 Including Dwellings Average for Canada.

OTTAWA, March 10.—According to the Dominion Bureau of Statistics the average value of farm land in Canada, together with buildings, is $52 an acre as compared with $46 last year and $38 in 1910. British Columbia leads with a value of $174 an acre. Ontario's estimated average is $66 and Quebec's $72.

The average wages paid inclusive of board was $78 a month for males and $43 for females.

The downward trend of the values of horses is again marked, milch cows are higher and cattle, sheep, and swine either stationary or lower. The total value of live stock for 1919 is estimated at $1,296,602,000, as against $1,526,766,000 in 1918 and $1,102,261,000 in 1917.

They mean their statements to the Government, which is a very different thing.

The Government does not make any statements in regard to circulation.

Statements to the Government, in the absence of verification, are valueless to the advertiser.

There is one method and only one of ascertaining the facts regarding the circulation of a paper.

EIVDENCE AT THE INVESTIGATION OF WHOLESALE, ETC.

ed me a letter saying that Morley couldn't buy any more goods from the Canada Starch Co. He read me some five or six sheets of an address which he was apparently going to deliver. It dealt in part wth the good work of the Board of Commerce in Canada. One part of the address hoped that the retail grocers would become the merchant princes of Canada."

At this juncture the witness turned back to the H. C. Beckett and facing the coutr exclaimed dramatically, "So help me God I am speaking the truth what we talked about the Board of Commerce. I will let Beckett go ahead if he wants to show you that I am speaking the truth."

Special Discounts.

Harris explained that the bulk groceries which he handled were teas and coffees.

Mr. McKay—"So a manufacturer might be pardoned for not considering you a true wholesaler?"

Witness—"I don't think so. My growth as a wholesaler prevented.

Mr. McKay—Has it been your practice to allow special discounts to work in retailers where they bought large quantities from you?"

Witness— "Only where the manufacturer provided for such."

Mr. McKay—"Isn't your credit rating low for a wholesale grocer; only $5,000 to $10,000?"

Mr. Roebuck here objected that the rating had no significance in buying goods, as a small buyer should be in a position provided he were able to pay to purchase what products he needed. At the instance of Mr. O'Connor, Mr. McKay abandoned the question.

Mr. Roebuck—bout how many lines are there in the wholesale grocery trade?

Witness—About one thousand.

Mr. Roebuck—Would any wholesaler carry them all?

Witness—I would venture that not a single wholesaler in Hamilton ever carried them all.

Mr. Roebuck—"So that if you do not carry every line you are in the same position relatively as other wholesalers?" "Yes."

Mr. Roebuck — "Was the Canada Starch Co. supplying other firms in Hamilton when they refused to sell to you?"

"Yes."

Mr. McKay— "How many travellers have you?"

Witness— "One who works in the city and not outside. I also might add that I do 85 per cent. of my own selling."

Archibald Jolly in reply to a question from Mr. Roebuck, stated that he was "doing nothing at the present time."

Had Resigned.

"I want to say that," he continued, "because I have resigned from the employ of the W. K. Kellogg Cereal Co. and don't want to say anything that may reflect on my late firm."

"This company has a most remarkable lot of employees," remarked Mr. Roebuck. Mr. Ware, their sales manger was very keen that he should say nothing which would implicate his company.

"When I came in after I started out as a green man. I was talking about the orders I had taken to a man named Lloyd. Lloyd asked me whether I had taken an order from Lumsden Bros. When I said I had not he then gave me an order. I could see no reason why I could not sell to all wholesale firms. I saw Arthur Lumsden and asked him for an order. He told me he didn't think the company would sell to him. I took an order, from him and sent a letter to our manager at Toronto asking why I shouldn't sell to Lumsden as they were a good firm. Subsequently Lumsden Bros. were given a rating of 200 cases and have been on our list ever since. Mr. O'Connor—"What is the deduction?"

Mr. Roebuck—"This will connect up with other incidents. I will show that Lumsden Bros. were admitted to membership in the Wholesalers' Association about this time."

Witness— "I received orders then from retailers who wanted them put through Frank Fearman of Hamilton. I sent the order in to Toronto and received a letter in reply thanking me for the order. I later saw Beckett and he asked me if I were selling to Fearman Bros. and when I admitted this he said he was not satisfied with that and gave me the impression that if I continued selling further to Fearman I would not get any business from the wholesalers here. Later I got a letter from our head office advising me to discontinue calling on Fearman. Fearman called me up one morning here and told me he was running out of goods, but I had to tell him I couldn't sell him as a result of the letter I received from my firm.

"Go ahead yourself," snapped Commissioner Murdock. "You are on the stand."

"Well, then," continued Jolley, "the picture he painted to me of the Board of Commerce was that it had unlimited powers. Beckett thought so much of O'Connor when in Ottawa, Beckett spent some $200 in telegrams to influential friends urging the appointment of O'Connor to the Board."

Mr. O'Connor—"Then why didn't you make that little play a few minutes ago," and turning to Mr. Roebuck, the commissioner said, "Please let me have this witness for a few minutes."

"Now did you not have a conversation with some one this morning," demanded the commissioner.

"Say that you would play to bring this out in order to discredit Beckett before the board? Now Mr. Jolley, let me give you a little bit of advice. You are in trouble now through a loose tongue. You had to announce this morning that you have had to secure another position which came through having a loose tongue. Your tongue wagged loose this morning. More men have come to bad ends through things they have said rather than the things that they have done. You said that you would bring this out to discredit Beckett. If you had not brought it out I would have brought it out myself. You now claim that out of gratitude for what Beckett said yesterday that you were reluctant to make this statement this morning. Now tell me, did you or did you not intend to bring this out this morning?"

Jolley—"Yes."

"You can leave here with this from me: that I have not one atom of respect for you. Your conduct more closely approximates blackmail of a person in a judicial office than anything that has ever come before me," said Commissioner O'Connor.

"Let me inform you that not only did Mr. Beckett send telegrams urging my appointment, but according to the Prime Minister of Canada, hundreds of similar ones were sent. This is nothing to my discredit but it is something that you have tried to turn to my discredit."

TYRONE POWER

When Charles Kennedy's symbolic drama, "The Servant in the House," is presented at The Grand Opera House tonight, theatre-goers will see one of the few outstanding figures in the world of drama to-day, Tyrone Power, whose present pre-eminent position has been attained after thirty-two years of unremitting labour and courageous fight for the high ideals he has ever associated with the stage, he is to-day a man in the prime of life, at the height of his powers, and possessed of an experience no living actor can match. He has played wellnigh a hundred widely differentiated parts and he has gone from success to success, but has never played a role he deemed unworthy, or taken part in a performance which he believed to be unfit for the theatre-going public to see.

His high ideals have often meant the loss of thousands of dollars to him, but he has stuck to them, and to-day he enjoys the respect and esteem of a wider public than any contemporary actor of heroic roles.

In "The Servant in the House," which he will be seen in here, he will be supported by a company of distinguished English actors, such as Mr. Harvey Hays, Mr. J. Irving White, Mr. Walter Edwin, Mr. Harold DeBecker, Miss Alma Chester, Miss Chela Knight and others.

The production will be the first to be sent on tour by Trans-Canada Theatres, Limited, the new All-Canadian theatrical organization which controls and operates a chain of theatres throughout the Dominion.

"LISTEN, LESTER"

"Listen Lester", John Corts musical dancical comedy with a years run on Broadway to its credit, dances its way to the Grand next Monday with the entire New York cast, chorus, production and special company orchestra happy and buoyant as when it first started the theatre goers to listening and watching with eyes and ears and all the faculties they could summon to their aid. Harry L. Cort, Geo. E. Stoddard, and Harold Orlob, form the trio to whom Lester lays for authorship, and who evolved the combination that brings to musical comedy lovers the overwhelming odds of good music, clever lines, a plot with a beginning, an end, and a middle and set it all down amid a dizzying whirl.

There is one Arbutus Quility a "live one" who tracks to Fla. one Colonel Dodge also in his own way a "live one" and the result is amusing and entertaining throughout. There is a chorus of desirable attractiveness dainty and dancey as the atmosphere, the play creates, and the original cast that more than sets a lively pace with Maynie Gehrue, Miriam Fulger, Jean Thomas, Cecil Williams, Ann Ott, Florence De Barr, Frances Anderson, Florida Bellaire, Williams Sellery, Joseph Mack, William Wayne, Gus Shy, John L. Lyons, Murry Hart, Mark Thompson, and Andrew Leigh.

HASTINGS NEWS OF INTEREST

HASTINGS, March 10.—Mr. and Mrs. Bert Preston were at home to a number of their friends on Wednesday evening. A pleasant time is reported.

Mrs. Alva Merrills has returned from an extended visit with friends in London, Ont.

The annual meeting of the patrons of Ormonde Cheese Factory was called for Saturday afternoon to let milk routes and transact other important business.

The friends of Mr. Wm. Orr, who was so seriously injured by a falling tree, will be pleased to learn that he is doing nicely.

A Presentation.

Mr. and Mrs. John Fleming were surprised by their neighbours and were made the recipients of a handsome couch accompanied by the following address:

Mr. and Mrs. John Fleming,

Dear Friends,—It was with feelings of the most profound regret that we learned some time ago, of your intentions to leave your home in our midst and journey to to ther parts. During the many years you have lived among us, we have always looked to you as kind hearted neighbours true friends honored and respected citizens of our community and we feel confident that no matter where you may go you will meet with new friends, who will think as highly of you as we do. We shall miss you. We have met here this evening to bid you farewell on this your last night in your old home and we would beg of you to accept this couch as a remembrance of the many staunch friends you are leaving behind you, and in the long evenings of the future as you sit— you, Ethel, perhaps knitting and John smoking—may you live over and over again the many happy scenes in which you have taken part in Brickville and may the blessings of the most High overshadow continually, the abode of you and yours, no matter where it may be cast.

Signed on behalf of the Brickville neighbours, Ed. McConnell and H. Johnston.

Mrs. S. Hatherly has been visiting in Lakefield and Peterboro.

Capt. Walter Thomson of Peterboro, spent a few days at his home here.

Mrs. Adeline Stinson of Havelock, has been visiting at the home of her uncle, Mr. John Stinson.

Mrs. C. E. Jones returned on Saturday from Nicholls Hospital, Peterboro, much benefited by her recent operation. Her many friends welcome her home and hope for her a speedy return to her wonted health.

Dr. De La Matter spent a few days in Toronto with friends.

We are sorry to have to report that not much improvement is noted in the condition of Mrs. W. Tate, who is not yet able to leave her room.

Mrs. J. G. Staples of Lindsay, is with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. Tate.

Mr. and Mrs. John Armour and family leave this week for their new home in Monaghan, followed by the best wishes of a host of friends, who wish them success in their changed surroundings.

OBITUARY

MRS. T. MITCHELL

Margaret Brown, beloved wife of Mr. T. Mitchell, lot 16 concession 5, Smith township, died last evening after a short illness aged 62 years.

Deceased who was born in Emily Township resided in Peterboro for a number of years on Hillier street and was well known about the city where her death will be keenly regretted by a large circle of friends. She leaves of the immediate family her husband and one sisted Eliza J. Brown of Methuen, Mass.

The funeral will take place to-morrow, Thursday, afternoon from the family residence Smith to the Little Lake Cemetery at 2 o'clock.

ANNIE A. FANNING.

From the residence of her brother-in-law, Mr. George W. Darke, Lindsay, there quietly passed away on Sunday, March 7, Annie A. Fanning, daughter of the late Moore and Augusta Richards Fanning.

The deceased was born in the village of Welcome, near Port Hope, and has many friends there as well as in Lindsay.

She leaves to mourn her loss, one brother, Mr. James Moore Fanning, of Peterborough, and six sisters, Mrs. Geo W. Darke, Mrs. (Dr.) John A. White, Mrs. (Dr.) W. N. Brown, and Miss Alice L. Fanning, of Lindsay; Mrs. Richard Runnalls, of Welcome, and Mrs. John T. Lewis, of Chicago.

The first break in the family occurred six years ago, when Rose, wife of Dr. J. R. Watt, of Chicago, passed to the great beyond.

Miss Fanning was a member of the Cambridge Street Methodist Church, and the services will be conducted by the Rev. E. Val Tilton on Wednesday morning at ten o'clock. Interment at Port Hope on the arrival of the noon train.—Lindsay Post.

G. B. HOPKINS.

(Kindersley Clarion, Saskatchewan).

It is our painful duty to chronicle the death of one of Fairmount district's most popular farmers, in the person of Mr. Gilbert Bruce Hopkins, beloved husband of Mrs. Alice Hopkins. The death occurred early Friday morning, February 20th, 1920, after a trying illness.

Deceased was born February 18th, 1886, at Verium, Victoria County, Ontario. He received his education and served his time at the electrical and brass fitting trade while a resident of Peterborough, Ont.

About the year 1909 he came West with his brother, A. E. Hopkins, and together they took up homesteads in the Fairmount district, where they have resided ever since.

Bruce, as everyone who knew the deceased, called him, was a popular and well-liked man, wherever he went. His strong personality and genial manner won for him a host of warm friends, who were deeply struck with the sad and unexpected news. It seemed as though a brother had been snatched from our midst.

In matters of local interest deceased took a prominent part, always willing to do everything in his power to further any movement that was for the betterment of community conditions. He was a member of Kindersley I.O.O.F. No. 97, and had just completed his term as Noble Grand. Besides a three-link man, he was a loyal and true Orangeman, being an energetic member of L.O.L. No. 2256. In religion he was a strong supporter of the Anglican Church. The organizations to which he belonged will sorely miss his presence.

To mourn his loss is a loving wife and five small children, a brother, A. E., and two sisters, Mrs. M. St. Merchison, Kindersley, and Mrs. Roberts, Peterborough Ont., who have the sympathy of all in their sad bereavement.

The funeral service at the family residence on Saturday, February 21, was conducted by the Rev. Chas. Wright, vicar of St. Mary's Church of England, Kindersley. Interment was made in the Kindersley Cemetery. The short and impressive burial service of the Orange Order was performed at the grave side of the departed brother.

The beautiful floral tributes bespoke the sincere sympathies of a large circle of friends, and evinced the high esteem and warm friendships for deceased.

MRS. JANE PERRY.

The deceased was born in England 55 years ago but had lived in Canada for a long time and for some years in this city. Her husband predeceased her some years ago.

She leaves one son, Harry of Lindsay, and two daughters, Mrs. Robinson, of 104 Gladstone avenue and Mrs. Skipper of Toronto. She was a regular attendant of St. George's Church and an earnest churchworker.

The funeral will take place to-morrow afternoon at 2.30 o'clock from the family residence, 104 Gladstone avenue, to the Little Lake cemetery. Rev. Mr. Price of St. George's church, will conduct the services at the house.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

Miss Mary Farnell of Toronto, is visiting in the city, the guest of her sister, Mrs. W. Vass, Brown street, Brownton.

Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Darcy have returned home after spending a few days with friends in Toronto.

Mrs. W. H. Bartlett of Brampton, has been called to the city owing to the serious illness of her son, Mr. E. H. Bartlett, 216 London street.

Mr. and Mrs. Alan Cameron have returned from New York.

FOCH A DEVOTEE OF SKIPPING ROPE

Practices for Few Minutes Every Morning Before Breakfast.

PARIS, March 10. — If Marshal Foch is able to maintain his alert and up-right carriage, his youthful alertness, it is not due to fanciful physical culture exercises, but to jumping rope.

Every morning before breakfast he practices for a few minutes the art loved by school children, which is, according to physicians, one of the best means of maintaining the muscles of the body supple and limber. Jumping rope is also an excellent reducer, and it stimulates the brain, too, by activating the circulation.

DIED.

TIVEY—On Wednesday, March 10th, 1920, at the family residence, 137 Stanley avenue, Hannah Povey, wife of Mr. Roland Tivey, in her 78th year.
Funeral announcement later.

IN MEMORIAM.

HARPER — In loving memory of Elvin Harper, who passed away Mar. 10th, 1918.
Two years have passed since that sad day,
The one we loved was called away;
God took him home; it was His will,
But in our hearts he liveth still.
Mother, Brothers and Sisters.

HARPER.—In loving memory of my dear husband (and their daddy) Elvin Harper, who passed away March 10, 1918:
Oh, how I miss you Elvin dear,
'Tis God alone can tell;
I spend many lonely hours
And shed many tears as well.
In thoughts I see your dear kind face,
And kiss your tender brow;
But in my aching heart I know
They have no "daddy" now.
Sadly missed by wife and little children.

EGEORGE ST. WHOLESALE CHANGES HANDS

MR. EDGAR BURNHAM SELLS OUT TO MR. LESLIE STEVENS.

The successfully conducted wholesale candy and biscuit business carried on for years in this city by Mr. Edgar Burnham, and now located at George street south, opposite the C. P. R. station, has been sold to Mr. Leslie Stevens, son of the late Mr. G. L. Stevens, of this city. Mr. Stevens is a practical young business man who should capably carry on his new undertaking. He was one of Peterborough's most successful aviators overseas.

Mr. Burnham has also disposed of his home on Weller street and owing to continued ill-health will take a year's vacation, going south for the present to join his wife and daughter.

SICK HEADACHE For Last 10 Years

Headaches affect all ages and both sexes alike, but in all cases the treatment should be directed to remove the cause for with the cause removed the headaches vanish for all time.

What is necessary for a permanent cure is something that will go right to the seat of the trouble. For this purpose it is impossible to find a better remedy for headaches of all descriptions than Burdock Blood Bitters acting as it does on every organ of the body to strengthen, purify and regulate the whole system.

Mrs. Flora Hall, Dominion, N.S., writes:—"I have been troubled with sick headaches for the last ten years. I had lost faith in all remedies until recently a friend of mine advised me to try Burdock Blood Bitters. This I did, and found relief in a very short time. I would now recommend B.B.B. to anyone who is suffering as I did. I only took 3 bottles, and am never troubled with sick headaches anymore."

B. B. B. has been on the market for over 40 years. Manufactured only by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

FORMER PETERBORO MAN FORMS NEW COMPANY

MR. HARRY W. COOKE AND ASSOCIATES ORGANIZING THE NATIONAL BUILDING COMPANY, LIMITED, TORONTO.

The many friends of Mr. Harry W. Cooke, formerly secretary-treasurer of the Peterborough Lock Manufacturing Co., Ltd., of this city, will be pleased to learn that, since his removal to Toronto, where he entered into the real estate business, he has met with a great deal of success.

Mr. Cooke, together with other gentlemen, has just completed the organization of the National Building Co., Ltd., and he is town in connection with the first mortgage bond issue of this company.

Mr. Cooke, who is the secretary-treasurer of the new company, is at present at the Empress Hotel, and will be pleased to meet any of his former Peterborough friends, and go into the details in connection with this issue.

The investment looks a very promising one, inasmuch as the security for payment for the issue is not dependent upon the operations of the company, but the security is really in the form of a sinking fund collateral, and presents security of $3.00 for every $1.00 of the bond issue.

Peterborough investers will, no doubt, go into the matter with Mr. Cooke, in connection with this issue, as it is on an 8 per cent. basis, and the above facts given by Mr. Cooke make it look like a very desirable form of investment.

CHATHAM FAVORS PLAN TO HAVE CITY MANAGER

CHATHAM, March 10.—The City Council has passed a resolution endorsing the commision manager form of government for this city. An application will be made to the Legislature at the present session for special permission to adopt it in Chatham. The system of government will be very much as it is at present time, with a Mayor and aldermen, with the exception that a city manger will be appointed, who will be held responsible for the work in the city and the management of civic details.

A SEA MONSTER

Visions of a marine monster entrapped loomed up before the crew of the little auxiliary smack, Margaret L., off Plymouth, Mass., when they started to haul up the net, which contained a tremendous weight. The greatest difficulty was experienced in bringing the gear to the surface, and the netting was considerably damaged during the process of hoisting. The feelings of the fishermen, who were prepared for a life and death struggle with some leviathan of the deep, may well be imagined when the net broke at the water's surface, exposing to view a 1,500-pound boulder which had been unearthed from the ocean bed.

INFLUENZA IS RIFE.

Trappers and Fur Traders in the North Country Suffer.

FORT WILLIAM, Ont., March 9—Flu is rife among the fur traders and trappers of the north country, but is not so prevalent among the lumberjack sand pole cutters, according to Game Warden J. T. Foxton, who has returned from a three weeks' expedition through the district. "I met a dog train on the Misanabe river coming down from Moose Factory carrying sixteen victims of flu," said Mr. Foxton. "This train had to journey two hundred miles with the patients to reach an hospital.

OCEAN SHIPS TO WINNIPEG.

A Dream That May Come True in the Next Twenty Years.

WINNIPEG, Man., March 9.—Ocean ships in the Red River in 20 years at the latest, and the establishment of Winnipeg as the Liverpool of Canada were predicted by Mayor Charles F. Gray. He said that the logical and inevitable solution of the trade problem for Winnipeg was an ocean route, through the Hudson Bay, down the Nelson river to Lake Winnipeg and through the Red River to the city.

EXTENSIVE MILITARY MEASURES

GREEK TROOPS PLACED AT THE DISPOSAL OF THE ALLIES FOR USE IN TURKEY.

LEADERS MEET

(United Press.)

LONDON, March 11.— Extensive military occupation of Turkey with more drastic measures if necessary, was considered a certainty in peace conference circles here to-day. Premier Venizelos, it was understood, has offered to place Greek troops at the disposal of the Allies if they are needed. Venizelos, it was said, made his offer to the meeting of the Council of Foreign Ministers Wednesday. It probably will be accepted.

General Milne, the British commander, would have charge of these troops. Admiral Lord Beatty, Winston Spencer Churchill and other military and naval leaders, met with the Council yesterday to answer questions on the proposed military measures.

Earl Curzon, Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, was expected to outline the general programme decided upon in the House of Lords to-day.

Allied leaders denied reports of extensive and bloody clashes between the Turks and Allied forces now in Constantinople, but admitted that the Allied troops were carrying out impressive military demonstrations. In some circles to-day it was predicted that the Entente ruling forbidding Greek troops in the zones already occupied from passing over the three mile demarcation limit, will be removed, giving the Greeks greater freedom of action.

Certain sections of th Turk treaty, it was said, probably will have to be rewritten, especially that clause having to do with Constantinople.

A Paris despatch quoted the newspaper Le Temps as declaring it had learned semi-officially that the Allied military plans in Turkey provide for making effective that occupation of Constantinople, taking possession of other points and control of telegraphic communication. It is unlikely the newspaper believed that the Allies will take action against the new Turkish Cabinet, except to obtain a pledge that the Turkish government will not support the Rebel Nationalist chiefs, especially Mustapha Kemal.

SEE FAULKNER AT BROCK STREET

THE SPEAKER IS CELEBRATING HIS BIRTHDAY TO-DAY

Special to Examiner.

TORONTO, March 11. — Felicitations are in order and due Hon. Nelson Parliament, whose birthday falls to-day. The Speaker of the Ontario Legislature is a modest man and reticent as to the exact number of summers which have passed over his head, but he cooly admitted that it is a good many years since he cast his first vote, and from an authoritative source The Examiner was informed that if the Speaker were to have the customary birthday cake it would have to be sufficiently large to accommodate 32 candles. Hon. Mr. Parliament is observing his natal day very quietly however, and in fact is carefully shielding the secret from his friends and foes —politically—alike. He probably realizes his own popularity with both sides of the House, and is apprehensive of the ordeal of back-patting and hand-shaking at the hands of most of the 111 members through which he would have to pass, were the truth known. Mum's the word.

AMERICA KEPT FLEET AT HOME

DISCLOSURES MADE BY ADMIRAL SIMS OF THE UNITED STATES NAVY.

(Canadian Press.)

WASHINGTON, March 11.—Indications that the United States Navy department withheld sending all available American naval craft to European waters early in war because of desire to keep main body of that nations sea strength intact for possible eventualities were contained in Admiral Sims testimony to-day before Senate Committee investigating the naval conduct of the war. He read a cablegram from the navy department dated July 10, 1917, containing an outline of department's policy and declaring that "While successful termination of present war must always be first allied aim and will probably result in diminshed tension through out world, future position of United States must in no way be jeopardized by disintegration of our main fighting fleet."

MARK STREET CHURCH SERVICE

UNIQUE AND INTERESTING MEETING LAST EVENING.

"Is the world growing better from a moral point of view?"

This was the subject discussed last night at the Mark street Methodist Church. Three excellent addresses were delivered by Messrs McKillican Gamble and A. Wesley.

Mr. McKillican in a well thought out address showed that man, from the first, had failed in every moral test. Mr. McKillican dealt chiefly with the historic side of the question.

Mr. Gamble took up the social element in the subject, and proved very clearly, that the present day standard of morality was very low, and this state of morals was due largely to the lack of moral teaching in the home.

The address by Mr. Wesley was, as each of the others, based on observation or information gained in other ways. He brought out conclusively, that man, morally is a failure. And nothing but the leven of the gospel can save the moral world.

Comment.

The addresses were clear and forceful.

The duet by Mrs. Payne of London street and Mr. John Speer was well received.

TRADE UNIONISTS MET IN WESTMINSTER TO DISCUSS THEIR ISSUES

WILL DECIDE WHETHER DIRECT ACTION SHOULD BE ATTEMPTED TO FORCE GOVERNMENT.

NATIONALIZE MINES

(United Press.)
(By Webb Miller)

LONDON, March 11.—The trade union congress representing more than 3,500,000 workers, met at the Central Hall, Westminster, to-day to decide whether "direct action" in form of a general strike should be attempted in an effort to compel the Government to Nationalize the British coal mines.

The Congress meeting followed the vote of British miners, announced yesterday, in which the miners decided by a considerable majority to strike if necessary to enforce their nationalization demands.

It was believed, however, that final action will depend upon recommendations made at to-day's session of the general congress. Most observers believed that sane counsel will prevail.

Voted Against Strike.

(Canadian Press.)

LONDON, March 11. — Special Trade Union Congress, in session here, voted overwhelmingly to-day against strike policy and in favour of continued efforts, by constitutional means, to effect nationalization. The adoption of the resolution favouring political action of mines in form of political propaganda for next election followed. The vote against a general strike came after Secretary Hodges of the Miners' Federation, moved a resolution in favour of direct action to compel nationalization, in accordance with instructions issued by the Miners' Federation yesterday.

BOARD APPROVED SITE FOR SEWAGE DISPOSAL PLANT

The provincial Board of Health yesterday passed approval on the Wilson property in Otonabee as the site of Peterboro's sewage disposal plant. Ald. Phelan and City Engineer Parsons and City Solicitor Widdifield represented the city. There was no opposition from the township or from property owners in that district.

This action gives the City Engineer authority to enter upon the Wilson property and take soundings to ascertain the formation of the subsoil as a precaution in completing his plans and as a preliminary to excavation.

The city must present its plans to the Railway Board next week, merely a formality to show that there has been no delay, and there will also be arbitration proceedings over the price to be paid Mr. Wilson. With those details completed the city will be in a position to proceed with the construction of the disposal plant whenever it decides to begin the work.

DE LAVAL EMPLOYEES FOR DAYLIGHT SAVING BY LARGE MAJORITY

Voting in the factories on Daylight saving, for the purpose of obtaining an expression of local opinion on the proposed change of summer time, is proceeding, but only the De Laval factory has reported its results as yet. The vote of its employees showed 205 for, 93 against, and 20 absentees who were at home through illness.

BRITISH WARSHIP HIT BY A SHELL

Vessel was fired upon in the Black Sea.

(Canadian Press.)

LONDON, March 11.—It was stated in the House of Commons today that British warship Stedfast, had been fired upon in Black Sea by "Green Guards" and struck by sixty pound shell. No details have yet been received of casualties or damage.

Don't knead the left-overs of pie-crust too hard if you wish to make [illegible] of them.

JUSTICE METCALFE MAY RETIRE FROM HIS JUDICIAL POST

(Special to The Examiner.)

WINNIPEG, March 11.—Rumor states Justice Metcalfe will retire from the bench at the conclusion of the strike trial, having been offered the appointment of Chief Counsel for the Dominion Bank of Canada.

In Manitoba two Superior Court Judges have resigned for similar reason. H. A. Robson, new Chief Counsel of Union Bank of Canada and F. H. Phippin Judge of the Manitoba Court of Appeal, several years ago, left that post to become Chief Counsel for the Canadian Northern Railway with headquarters in Toronto.

OPEN WAR

TORONTO, March 11. — Open war with the Ontario branch of the Dominion Alliance in convention at Massey Hall, was declared last night by Dr. A. S. Grant, chairman of the Ontario Referendum Committee.

Whatever the decision of the Provincial Prohibition Convention at Massey Hall, Dr. Grant declared that his organization would go on with the plebiscite on "bone dry" prohibition. The present convention he characterized as one "without policy or programme."

"The position yesterday," said Dr. Grant, "was that they wanted to meet with the referendum body, and met in conference with them. We stated our position and we practically came to agreement in a committee of 50 in which the majority were Alliance men, that they would ask for a vote." But apparently when they went into convention to-day they altered that, as they did not ask for that, but asked for amendments to the Ontario Temperance Act, such as the committee asked for before, and were refused. So the convention has put themselves in the position of the Referendum Committee.

Care Nothing for Alliance.

"We are going to take a vote. We don't care anything about the Alliance. Mr. Spence has simply refused to fall in with the majority in these meetings. The majority in these meetings has been for a vote in the Dominion held. All the provinces with perhaps one exception, and I and I am not sure that perhaps that one will be willing to come in, are for a vote on the question of importation, notwithstanding the action of the Alliance."

With considerable vigor Dr. Grant added, "We have the assurance that they will ask Ottawa to give us a vote."

"I am not going near them," Dr. Grant asserted, when asked if he would go before the convention, as had been suggested, on the floor of Massey Hall yesterday. "It is really only a difference of opinion between one man—Mr. Spence—and the policy of the whole committee. He called this big convention 'just a bit of camouflage from beginning to end. They have no policy, their programme is a farce, and they don't represent anything.'

Do not Represent Opinion.

"This Provincial alliance is a dead issue. They don't represent the progressive temperance sentiment of this province. My contention is, that we presented our policy before the Federated body and they were represnted in it, and the fact that Spence opposes does not break it down. They practically agreed yesterday that they would represent to the Council that they would ask for the vote and certain amending legislation in the meantime, to which we were agreed."

"We will not agree to ask this government to make prohibition any more binding than the vote of the people last year made it."

"People have Spoken."

When spoken to last night in reference to the statement of Dr. Grant, Rev. Ben. H. Spence, Secretary of the Ontario branch of the Dominion Alliance, said that he had nothing whatever to say. "The people of Ontario have spoken their minds on the temperance question in open convention," said Mr. Spence, "and they have decided the policy."

MR. BURNHAM ADDED TO THE GAIETY OF THE NATIONS YESTERDAY

FORMER KAISER'S AGENT OFF TO SOUTH AMERICA

(Special to The Examiner.)

VANCOUVER, B.C., March 11. - Alvo Von Alvensleben, who used to handle the Kaiser's investments in British Columbia, has given up all hope of ever again being able to do business on a large scale in the British Dominion. He will leave shortly for South America, there to gain new fortune he said to-day to a representative of the Examiner, who saw him in Seattle. He wishes to come back to British Columbia only to straighten out some affairs for former friends, then he will leave for South America. He will apply in a few days to Ottawa for permission to cross the boundary line.

"I am owed more money in British Columbia than I could every hope to recover," said Alvo.

THE PETERBORO PHILOSOPHER TOOK UP MOST OF THE AFTERNOON--THE MEMBERS PLAYED HOOKEY.

DISCUSSED THE EIGHT HOUR DAY

(Special to The Examiner.)

OTTAWA, March 11.—Wednesday was an "off day" on Parliament Hill. Most of the members were hors de combat as a result of Tuesday's all night sitting and although the bill-of-fare embraced a variety of subjects, ranging from Viscount Jellicoe's report to the fuel situation and the eight hour day, little interest was displayed in the proceedings.

Most of the afternoon was taken up by Mr. J. H. Burnham, the Peterborough philosopher, who always adds to the gaiety of nations. He was responsible for the initiation of the discussion on the fuel scarcity and the eight hour day. Tired out by the early morning division of Mr. King's general election amendment, most of the members played hookey, while Mr. Burnham discussed the fuel famine. He tried to persuade those who remained that the situation was realy alarming, but Old Sol was breaking up the ice in the Ottawa river, the streets of the capital were running streams of water and the speaker found it pretty hard sledding. The few members present refused to be interested as he spoke of the possibilities of such substitutes of industrial alcohol, peat and other varieties of fuel.

A desultory discussion of the eight-hour day question following upon the motion of Mr. Burnham, that: "A national eight hour working day should be established immediately, subject only to the right of express private contract." This was strenuously opposed by Edward Proulx of Prescott on the ground that it would prevent the farmers from getting hired men and would lessen the production of foodstuffs. Mr. Burnham pointed out that the short working day had been approved by the Peace Conference and the International Labour Conference held last year at Washington.

Mr. Stevens warmly supported him, declaring that Labor's demands were just and fair. He held it would be better to have a uniform day rather than different standards in various parts of the country. Mackie of Edmonton, who is a lawyer also urged that Labor was entitled to this concession. Six o'clock came without any expression of opinion from the treasury benches, and the matter will come up again later on.

THE CALL FROM LABRADOR

THE PETERBORO MINISTERIAL ASSOCIATION
Gives its Hearty Endorsement to

The Grenfell Deep Sea Mission Association of Peterboro

And commends the Appeal made by the Ladies This Week to the many friends who have Subscribed to Dr. Grenfell's work in the past and to all who will be reached by the information laid before them the next few days.

$2.00 or over will make you a member of the International Grenfell Association.

$100.00 a year supports a child in the Children's Home at St. Anthony.

25 cents will buy a brick for the new Orphanage to be built. Will you help? Please hand in your contributions to The Examiner Office.

DR. GRENFELL AND THE CHILDREN.

When Dr. Grenfell found little children along the Labrador, suddenly orphaned, without relatives or friends to take care of them, he set to work speedily to build them a home. He built them the best home that could be built with the materials at hand. Unseasoned lumber had to be used because there was no other; the building season is short in Newfoundland, and the children were waiting. Before long there were more children waiting and no room for them, so in the midst of many other interests and needs, additions were swiftly built to the original home to shelter the homeless. For fourteen years the children have found there a welcome so warm and a care so constant and tender that they have grown well and happy. Some of them have grown up, and have found work and a place for themselves in the world. But more are waitingto to come in, and there is no room. The house is getting old and draftier, and more inconvenient to repair.

A NEW HOME NEEDED.

Extract from a letter to Mrs. James Wood, Secretary-Treasurer of the Peterborough Branch.

Looking toward the erection of the new and larger Brick Orphanage in the near future, I am looking about to see how provision can be made for the adoption and support of the larger Orphanage family which will follow. It takes $100.00 to provide for the Shelter, food, clothing and education of a child for one year. This is a splendid bit of concrete missionary work for Sunday Schools, particularly organized Bible Classes. It may not be possible to get one Sunday School to undertake the whole, but if two or more Sunday Schools joined together it could easily be accomplished. If you could get one of your most interested members in each church to interview the Sunday School, I am sure at least $100.00, perhaps $200.00, could be secured from Peterboro. This would increase your branch contributions quite considerably, without putting a heavier tax on present contributors. Will you please see what can be done? I know it would litt a great burden of responsibility from Dr. Grenfell's shoulders if each Branch would provide for one or two orphans in the Home

Yours faithfully,
ANNIE M. WARNE,
Corresponding Secretary.

A SINGLE BRICK will cost twenty-five cents when it is purchased, carried to St. Anthony and laid in its place in the outer walls of the home.

Will the children in your home, or in your Sunday School class give a brick?

Bricks for the new Orphanage have been subscribed as follows:

NON-STOP FLIGHT.

Flight Will Be Made Between Calgary and Vancouver.

VANCOUVER, B. C., March 9.—A representative of the McCall Aero Corporation, of Calgary, has announced that the company will stage a Vancouver-to-Calgary flight—non-stop—early this spring. A Bristol Tourer airplane with a 360 horse-power Siddeley Puma engine is now on its way from England. Captain Fred. McCall, D.S.O., M.C., D.F.C., one of the most noted Canadian aces, or Captain W. Claxton, D.S.O., M.C., D.F.C., with bar, another equally well-known pilot, will likely be the pilot.

Hairs Quickly Vanish After This Treatment

(Helps to Beauty.)

Science has aided in simplifying the banishing of hairy growth from the face, and according to a beauty specialist, the most effective treatment yet devised consists of applying a delatone paste to the hairy surface for 2 or 3 minutes. The paste is made by mixing some water with a little powdered delatone. When this paste is removed and the skin washed every trace of hair has vanished. Be sure to get real delatone.

NEWS HAPPENINGS IN BRIDGENORTH

NEW COTTAGES GOING UP IN CHEMONG PARK.

BRIDGENORTH, March 10. — The ice on Chemong Lake is from 30 to 33 inches thick.

Mr. Sam Forsyth and Mr. Henry Gravell have a number of ice houses to fill in the pask yet. On account of the thick ice and the deep snow in the park it is a slow job and not very profitable.

New Cottages.

There are prospects of a number of new cottages being erected this spring in the park.

A Visitor.

Mrs. W. Filderman and little daughter of Toronto are the guests of Mrs. Jobe. Mrs. Filderman is no stranger here as she has spent two summers here in the park and is acquainted with many of the residents of the village.

Minister Ill.

The Rev. Mr. Webster was unable to take his place in the church on Sunday last owing to illness.

In the Hospital.

Mr. Frank Young was taken to the hospital on Sunday last, having contracted pneumonia. He is doing as well as can be expected.

Saw Mills Running.

The two sawmills have a large number of logs on hand to cut into lumber. The farmers are still busy hauling in logs. Some of the lumber that is being cut is for the Hunter street bridge.

A Concert.

The young folks of the village and some of the older ones too are busy practising for a concert to be put on in the church on the night of the 17th of March in connection with the missionary work.

It is said that we shall see a great vogue of fruit trimmings on hats.

Elliot's Offer a Host of Reasonable and New Styles in Millinery, Suits and Coats

Women's & Misses' Smart Spring Suits

Suits $41 & $48.50

In these new costumes are set the styles for spring. An early display of new created costumes, interpreting in rich and individual modes the best of the spring fashions. These costumes are developed in all-wool serges. Their smart lines and perfect finishing make elaborate trimmings unnecessary. There is the high waist model, the Eton, the ripple, the flare and straight line effects. Jackets are handsomely lined, skirts a trifle wider than last season. Silk and soutache braid, attractive buttons and vests form the trimmings. These costumes come in shades of sand, taupe, navy and black. A good assortment of sizes. Special Saturday,

From $41.00 and up to $48.50

$26.75 and $35.00

To the woman or miss who has been deliberating where she could get the right sort of costume, at a moderate price, this assortment of chic, smart-looking models will prove to be a delightful collection. There are costumes for the particular miss and young woman, costumes displaying perfectly modelled shoulders, well turned collars, smartly shaped coats, and splendidly tailored skirts. These costumes are made of serge, trimmed with silk braid and novelty buttons. To-morrow will mean a clear saving for you of $15.00. Sizes 16 to 42.

Special $26.75 and $35.00

THESE HAVE JUST LATELY ARRIVED

Fancy Pointed Frillings, Spring Silk Gloves, Big Handle Short Umbrellas, New Lisle. Underwear and Hosiery, Fancy Ribbons for Trimming, Children's Straw Hats and Lovely Lingerie for Women.

We, Like You, Prefer Lower Prices

The Ad man has been continually reminded by almost every department about how lovely and varied our stocks are this spring, and how completely ready we are to supply the new things to our many friends—and what is more important, prices are no higher, and in almost every case, slighlty lower than they were last season.

While getting ready this announcement we haphazardly gathered together a few prices of the new coats, suits and hats, just as they are in the racks and on the tables. It is positive proof that Elliot's Coats, Hats and Suits are correctly priced.

Hats		Coats		Suits
$13.00	$12.50	$42.50	$35.00	$26.75	$48.00
$7.50	$9.50	$41.00	$52.00	$41.50	$51.50
$8.00	$17.00	$29.75	$44.00	$49.00	$41.00
$12.00	$15.00	$40.00	$33.00	$45.00	$54.00
$11.50	$7.75	$46.50	$40.00	$47.00	$50.00
$7.50	$10.50			$48.50	$58.00
$16.00	$16.50	$33.50	$29.75	$52.50	$35.00
$11.25	$9.75	$33.00	$20.00	$26.75
$8.00	$12.75

Coats in Sport Length and Longer at $33 and $40

Smart sport models for spring. In striking picturesque effects; belted and full rippling effects. Fashioned of velours, broadcloths, tinseltone and cravenette. Shades of fawn, green, marrow, grey, henna, pecan and navy. These coats are in wonderful variety. Special at these two prices—

$33.00 and $40.00

Women's and Misses' Coats at $41.00 and $46.50

Made of leatherette, covert and tweeds. These coats are prettily made with inserted pleated backs, convertible collars and cuffs. Some are belted with narrow leather belts, others with leather-trimmed belts and collars, loose backs, patch and slit pockets and fancy buttons. Reasonably priced at

$41.00 and $46.50

Millinery at $8.00 & $9.00

Regularly Worth $12.00 to $15.00

We quote comparative prices for the reason we want to emphasize the unusual value these hats represent. It's certain that in the big fashion centres their equals are selling for much more than what we ask for them. Selecting from this charming group will be a real pleasure for you, for included are styles and colours typically spring. Most of all you will like the hats because they are so becoming, so smart and so new, and when you take into consideration the fact that these hats are offered at a popular price at the very beginning of the season, you do not need to wait until later to purchase.

A RECKLESS STATEMENT.

J. Harry Flynn, the Pesident of the United Veterans' League, seems to have an unfortunate way of saying things that is not doing himself or his organization much good. Such a statement as the one made recently by him that "none but self-confessed bums" had applied for and received aid from the Federal Emergency Appropriation, is a reckless and slanderous remark that will be resented by many returned men It is undoubtedly true that among the applicants for assistance there were impostors and idlers just as there are some of the same type who are members of Mr Flynn's, organization, but many of those who have received aid from the fund are maligned and insulted by the sneering remarks of the United Veterans' President, who is intolerant towards everyone who does not happen to be of the same opinion as himself.

CLINGING TO OFFICE.

The result of the division on Hon. MacKenzie King's amendment to the address from the throne demonstrated unmistakably the intention of the Federal Goverment to defy the will of the people and to remain in power as long as possible. It was a straight vote, without a bolter from the government side, although the cross benchers voted in a body for Liberal amendment. The Government members swung solidly in line, not because they did not believe that an appeal to the country was the proper step to take, but because thy realized that in the event of a general election very few of them could hope to be successful The government is practically without a premier: the cabinet is being reduced by the resignation of ministers, whose places cannot be filled because the administration is afraid to risk bye-elections As the Toronto Star puts it, the government "is advised to stay in office for another two years for the express reason that the country if appealed to now, would snow it under."

This War Parliament ought to demobilize. Our politics ought to get back into civies, adds the Star. The House was elected on a war-time basis, on a Franchise Act framed in distrust and suspicion. Four hundred thousand Canadians were under arms at the time, most of them far away in foreign countries so that they voted, if they voted at all, under circumstances that gave them not the remotest chance to exercise the influence in their country's affairs that they are, and would now be, entitled to, standing in their own shoes to-day in their own polling booths. The special Parliament elected during and for the war, by means of extraordinary election machinery, should not continue in office any longer than a state of war made necessary, and a country at peace— once more able to hold a normal election with its four hundred thousand soldiers home again, each man ready to exert his vote and influence for what he deems his own and his country's good—ought to embrace its opportunity to leave the war with its evils and disadvantages behind it, and go on to the better future that awaits it.

THE SAME OLD POMP.

When the formation of a Farmers' government in Ontario was an assured fact a number of newspapers, eager to curry favour with the new powers in the political life of the country, waxed enthusiastic over the prospects of the "furs and frills" and "fuss and feathers" being eliminated from the ceremonies in connection with the opening of the Legislature A new government, which would be business through and through and would trim from the administration of public affairs all the non-essential ceremonial features was in power, declared the newspapers in question, who went on to prophesy that the session wou'd get under way with as little fuss as the opening of a county council meeting. The Legislature opened on Tuesday and the journals who applauded the idea of dispensing with the ceremony that usually featured such occasions, must have felt more than unusually foolish when they read of the pomp and spectacle which marked the inauguration of the new government. Nothing was eliminated, the guns boomed, the military guard of honour was there, the finery of the ladies was in evidence as usual and yesterday in the city newspapers the society editors defied the newsprint shortage and used columns to describe the costumes. The majority of the names were new, but otherwise there was the same parade as ever. And why not? The members of the new parties are simply human beings who appreciate a spectacle as well as did the politicians of other days. They may have turned the weapons of ridicule and sarcasm on such things before the people took them at their word and placed them in power, but now it makes a difference whose ox is gored and so the Farmers and Labour men and their wives and daughters revelled in the limelight amid the same old scenes of pomp and splendor that have always attended the opening of the Legislature. Human nature likes such displays and it was folly to expect that because a new political party had been evolved that the ceremonies would be dispensed with.

THE COST OF BUILDING.

Mr. J. A. Ellis, the director of the Bureau of Municipal Affairs for Ontario, states that the cost of building houses in the Province is about 125 per cent. greater than it was before the war. As an indication of the increase in materials, he says that it is almost as costly to build a frame house as a brick building. This would point apparently to the wisdom of those 99 municipalities which took advantage of the Ontario Housing Act to obtain money for building purposes, amounting to $10,629,000, and as the appropriations for this purpose are exhausted it is a very open question as to whether the Provincial Government will grant any more.

The increased cost of building raises also the very serious question as to what is to be done regarding more housing accommodation, and also as to building generally. Houses are needed urgently throughout the Dominion; everywhere there is a call for them. A large immigration is confidently looked forward to this year in some quarters, and if it takes place where are the people to find houses? It might be asked whether it is altogether fair and right to encourage this immigration under the circumstances, as unless due preparations are made it will only add to the overcrowding and probably increase the rents.

The question narrows itself down to whether or not it is prudent to build now. Will it pay in the long run to do so at present prices; are prices likely to increase or decrease in building material and in labor? No one probably can answer correctly. At present at all events, it looks in view of the demand all over the world for materials for reconstruction and other purposes, that prices for them would continue as high as they are now for a long time, and might go higher, but against this might be put the view of Premier Drury, which presumably is held by others, that a break may be expected shortly, and, if that should take place it would not be wise to build now, building being looked at from the investment point of view and not from that of the necessities of the people. It is a matter which builders and others must settle for themselves. But there is one sugestion which we might make which could be made to provide houses, and that is that large Building Companies should be formed in the cities and whenever necessary to do so. This is a plan which has made with great success in Great Britain, and there is no reason why it should not do so here under proper management. The points would be that the risk would spread among a large number of people, and not rest on single individuals, and that they could afford to look upon the investment as one in the interests of the community—thus finally in their own—and would be prepared for very small returns upon the sums invested which need not be large when a large number of people would subscribe. We should very much like to see Kingston set the example to Canada in undertaking such a scheme. —Kingston Standard.

Your Most Important Deal

When a man applies for Life Insurance, he is taking up the most important [illegible] of his life, for, presumably, he will not be here when it is settled.

How important then that he select the best obtainable.

The record of the SUN LIFE of Canada for the past 49 years of its existence, has been an unbroken march of progress obtained through square dealing, and the past year has surpassed all others with its assets of over ONE HUNDRED MILLION and Income of TWENTY-FIVE MILLIONS and surplus on Government Standard of over TEN MILLIONS. Where can you find its equal?

Is it not to your interest therefore to place your Life Insurance with the Sun Life of Canada?

SANDRA THE JEALOUS

BY JANE PHELPS

KEMP CALLS TO INQUIRE AFTER SANDRA.

CHAPTER LXIX..

"Why aren't you in bed?" So deep was I in my thoughts that I had not heard Everett return.

"Because I was not sleepy, and so thought I would wait for you."

"Well, I am here. Go at once. And when I say not to wait for me, I mean it."

"How is James?" I asked, ignoring both his words and his tone.

"He's getting along all right."

"I am very glad. I can't help feeling that it might have been I that man shot instead of James."

If I expected any leniency because of his appeal to his sympathies, I was disappointed. Evidently he had exhausted all he had to spare when he first heard of the tragic happenings of the day.

Finding he made no reply, and as I really was worn out, I quietly left the room, first holding up my face to be kissed as if it were a matter of course. Everett just touched my cheek with his lips, mumbled 'good night,' and then I left him.

I fell asleep immediately, and did not awaken until Hetty brought my breakfast.

"Mr. Graham said we were not to disturb you," she said when I asked why I had not been called. "He told me to ask you to stay at home today as he was going to investigate the robber."

It was a glorious morning and I resented his commands—as I knew it was—to remain in. But about 3 o'clock Hetty brought me Mr. Kemp's card. Then I was glad I had not gone out—as I had thought of doing, regardless of Everett.

"You are sure you suffered no ill effects?" he asked, after I had told him I was perfectly all right.

"Indeed I did not!" I replied, then entertained him by telling him of the burglar and my fright. I mentioned the burglar's finding my ticket, and he looked puzzled. I hastened to change the subject, but something he said before he left made me know he had understood.

"You had intended going with Mr. Graham?" he asked.

"Yes—but I missed the train."

I knew he thought it strange that Everett had not waited for me, but I made no explanation. What was the use? I would only make him think me neglected. That would hurt my pride while it accomplished nothing.

When Everett came home, I told him Mr. Kemp had called to inquire after me.

"You saw him?"

"Of course!"

"It wasn't at all necessary. Your could have sent him word by Hetty. I prefer you should not receive men callers," he spoke very coldly.

"I certainly shall not refuse to receive people when I am at home. If you treat me like a child I don't want everyone to know it, and so have something to talk about."

"I do not understand you," still severely.

"They would say you didn't—trust me." I often found myself puzzled as to what reply to make to Everett.

"What people think is no concern of yours."

"But it is, Everett! You do not understand. It makes me feel so—inferior," I had hesitated for a word. Then without waiting for a reply, I said 'good night' and left the room.

As I climbed the stairs my eyes filled with tears. I had tried to do as I thought Leola would do, and instead of acting as if he loved me, as he had her, he was cold and distant.

"I hate her!" I said vehemently. "I hate to be a second wife. If I had known I wouldn't—yes I would too, because I do love you, Everett, and you don't love me. But I'll make you! Just like Leola did! I'll let you see I can be indiscreet, that I am not afraid of you, and that I can enjoy myself. Then you will be afraid you will lose me, just as you feared to lose her, and we will be happy."

I see now how more than childish I was. Then I only thought of rivaling Leola in his affections, and to do so I must do as she had done—make him afraid he might lose me.

I was too young, to immature, to take into account the fact that having seen his mistake with her, he was not apt to repeat it with me.

I did and after two or three days I commenced to feel better. I have gained flesh rapidly and feel better in every way since taking it."

What VINOL did for Miss Jones it will do for every pale, sallow, weak, over-worked woman. Every such woman in Canada should ask her druggist for VINOL today and start on the road to a healthy, happy existence. Your druggist will return your money if Vinol fails to help you.

PRESENTATION TO MISS AMY LANG

HONOURED BY FELLOW EMPLOYEES OF CANADIAN WOOLLENS

A very enjoyable evening was spent at the home of Mr. Thos. Lang, 544 Elm street, when a number of workmates of Miss Amy Lang gathered together in honor of her approaching marriage, and presented her with a clock. The following address was read by Miss Lilly Gregory and the presentation was made by Miss Dorothy Serace.

Dear Amy.

We your fellow workers wish to show our appreciation of your friendship shown us in the past years that you have been with us. It is not without a feeling of regret we received the news that you were leaving us as we know to enter into matrimony. For this reason we ask you to accept this little remembrance as a token of our best wishes, and that you may have countless joys and blessings in your married life.

Signed on behalf of your fellow employees of No. 1 and No. 2 spinning rooms.

J. EMMETT.

Although taken by surprise Miss Lang replied in a few well chosen words and the evening was spent in music and games after which lunch was partaken of and the gathering broke up by singing Auld Lang Syne and the National Anthem.

A bag hung at the end of the sewing machine is handy for disposing of scraps and trimmings.

SCIENCE PROVES THE DANGER OF BLEEDING GUMS

Medical science proves that unhealthy gums cause serious ailments. People suffering from Pyorrhea (a disease of the gums) often suffer from other ills, such as rheumatism, anaemia, nervous disorders, or weakened vital organs. These ills have been traced in many cases to the Pyorrhea germs which breed in pockets about the teeth.

Four out of five people over forty have Pyorrhea. It begins with tender and bleeding gums. Then the gums recede, the teeth decay, loosen and fall out, or must be extracted to rid the system of the infecting Pyorrhea germs.

Guard your health and your teeth. Keep Pyorrhea away. Visit your dentist often for tooth and gum inspection, and make daily use of Forhan's For the Gums.

Forhan's For the Gums will prevent Pyorrhea—or check its progress—if used in time, and used consistently. Ordinary dentifrices cannot do this. Forhan's will keep the gums firm and healthy, the teeth white and clean.

WARSAW NEWS HAPPENINGS

WARSAW, March 10.—Mr. and Mrs. Jos. Gallagher are visiting with Mrs. Gallagher's parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Moore, Scotch Line.

Mr. Allan Taylor was in the village last week.

Miss Margaret Miller is visiting with her sister, Mrs. Thos. Cullen Smith.

Miss Alice Waron went to Nicholls Hospital, Peterboro, last week to begin her training for a nurse.

Mrs. Robert Charleton and Mrs. Charles Frankish are at the home of Mr. and Mrs. David Rose, called there by the serious illness of their brother.

Mr. Douglas Scutt went to Peterboro this morning.

Coming Out to Farms.

Six young Englismen of good reputation are expected to arrive on April 5th. Dr. Archibald has places near Warsaw for all of these young men. All have either worked before on a farm or were brought up on one. They are coming to this country with a view of taking up farming themselves and wish to learn Canadian methods.

Gave a Concert.

Word has been received that one of Warsaw's favorites, Mrs. Julia Choate, Graham, Rosetown, Sask., daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Choate, delighted a large audience in Knox church, Saskatoon. She has already played in that town and this time was asked to play by Mrs. Sherry (nee Miss Helen Davies) formerly soloist in St. Paul's church Peterboro. The Saskatoon paper spoke of Mrs. Graham having been brought up in Warsaw and having studied the violin in Peterboro and under Toronto teachers of the same school as that in which Mrs. Sherry had taken her vocal lessons.

Mrs. Graham gave three numbers which were much appreciated and she was invited to play again on March 8th, but had to refuse as on that date she was entertaining her sister-in-law and her husband, on their wedding trip.

The Warsaw Stage.

After Thursday's thaw and the following rain it's rain the Warsaw stage did not get through on Friday.

The R.R. 1. courier was unable to make his rounds last Friday.

The Warsaw R.R. 2 courier got as far as the first two letter boxes but already had had his horse dawa twice, so did not try to go any further.

The carnival announced for Friday evening had to be indefinitely postponed because there was no good ice.

The regular meeting of the U.F.O. was held in the Town Hall Wednesday evening.

Thursday night's rain did not help wells nor springs very much. The ground was frozen so hard before snow came that the water lies on top and now under a crush of ice.

Several people started for Peterboro on Saturday, but felt it safer to return.

Bad as the roads were, the Dr. had to go pretty well over the township on Friday and Saturday.

Last year there were but few serious cases of flu. This year there are many.

Last Tuesday there was a very sad funeral. Mr. and Mrs. Howard Little's two little ones were buried in the same grave. The doubly bereaved parents have much sympathy.

In some cases whole families are down with flu with no one to wait properly on the sick and stock dependent on the care of neighbors.

Chilblains seem common just now. To escape them people should avoid heating the feet suddenly, putting them in the oven when cold, and etc., should bathe the feet frequently and dry well; should keep the sox or stockings fresh. A little sulphur sprinkled in the shoes is an almost sure preventative.

Another interment took place in Warsaw cemetery yesterday.

Mr. George Parsons little daughter was taken by flu. Dr. Archibald conducted the services at the house at Hall's Glen, and also at the Warsaw cemetery.

Attended Sale.

Several of the neighbors attended Mr. Allan Miles' sale on Wednesday.

On Saturday night one of Mr. Gordon Payne's horse got loose and kicked another horse, so that there was a very bad wound and Mr. Payne had to call the ferrier. The wound was dressed and 14 stitches put in.

The Sunday School and preaching services in the Presbyterian Church Sunday morning were well attended. The text was the parable of the house built on the rock. The evening service was not so well attended.

There was no service in the Anglican Church.

The Methodist S. S. was well attended yesterday morning and in spite of the inclement weather, quite a number were at the evening service. Mr. Knox preached on Hell. Some people have the very comfortable belief that there is no such place, but Mr. Knox does not see it that way in his Bible. Mr. Knox's sermon was one to be remembered and thought upon by those who heard it.

The service in the Baptist Church yesterday a.m. was conducted by a friend of Mr. Roberts. Mr. Roberts had to go to Ottawa on account of his father's illness. He went to Indian River in the afternoon.

SEVEN COMPETITORS.

Vancouver Horsemen Getting Ready for the Racing Season.

VANCOUVER, B. C., March 9. — Seven competitors from His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales' stables will carry the royal colours at the Vancouver Exhibition race meet this year, according to word received from J. Carlyle, manager of the ranch purchased by the Prince during his recent visit to Canada. The horses are being sent to Canada for breeding purposes, and will race at all the Canadian meets during the season.

The Telephone Situation

The Man Who Knows

"The real underlying cause of unrest and discontent, which is in turn the cause of present social and business conditions, is ignorance of the other fellow's problem's, lack of appreciation of his difficulties." N. C. Kingsbury.

We have found that the more our subscribers and the public know about our business, the more smoothly it runs—the better the service.

In other words, when people understand something of how complex and infinitely detailed a modern telephone system is—especially in a big city—they more readily co-operate with us our efforts for good service.

We have found that the most satisfactory subscriber to deal with, is the man who has been through a telephone exchange and has seen it in operation. His criticism is always considerate, always fair and helpful, just because he knows what an intricate, comprehensive and yet delicate thing a modern telephone system is.

That is why we invite subscribers to visit our exchanges, and why, from time to time, we endeavor to tell in the newspapers just what the telephone situation is.

WAGE INCREASE FOR THE MINERS

WASHINGTON, March 11. — A twenty-five per cent. wage increase for bituminous coal miners is recommended by a majority report of the Commission appointed by President Wilson to settle the coal strike. No change in working hours or conditions was recommended. John P. White, representing the miners, held out for a higher wage increase, it was said, and will submit a minority report. The wage increase proposed will absorb the fourteen per cent. granted when the miners returned to work last November. The actual increase is eleven per cent. over present wages.

RESULTS OF THE UNION CAUCUS

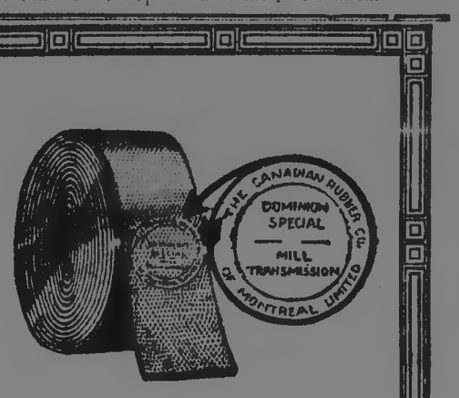
(Canadian Press.)

OTTAWA, March 11.—On leaving the caucus of the Union government supporters this morning, private members stated there had been entire unanimity on the questions discussed. It is understood that a programme following the lines of that laid down by Sir Robert Borden before he left Ottawa was laid before the members, but it was understood in a condensed form. After the meeting Sir George Foster said a statement would be issued to the press late this afternoon. There was a full attendance of Unionist members. It was intimated by some of the members after they left the caucus that the intention was to stand pat and await the return of Sir Robert Borden. From what can be learned there was no talk of a new leader, the members being apparently reassured by announcements as to the progress of Premier towards recovery.

LEATHER CLUB BAG FOR MRS. CHAMBERS

PRESENTATION AT THE CHILDREN'S SHELTER YESTERDAY.

As an expression of the Board's appreciation of her services while matron of the Shelter, Mrs. Benjamin Chambers, (Mrs. Read), was this afternoon presented with a handsome leather club bag at the regular sewing meeting. The presentation was made by Mrs. W. A. Sanderson, first vice president, on behalf of the Board. Mrs. Chambers in a few appropriate remarks thanked the Board not only for the splendid gift, but for their many kindnesses to her while connected with the institution, and expressed her regret at leaving the position. Tea was served at the conclusion of the presentation.



Stop The Leaks That Steal Your Profits

There are many expensive leaks in your factory that you know nothing about.

Loss of power through slippage on pulleys — spoiled materials — idle machines—employees paid for time while repairs are being made—wrong placing of belts—each one costs you money in power waste and lost production. They take more out of your profits than our better belts would cost.

Dominion Friction Surface Belting

will eliminate most transmission troubles, for it is more than just a belt—it is service built into a product which, by keeping your plant running continuously, will save the cost of idle machines and idle employees, reduce your cost of upkeep and power bills. It stops most transmission leaks and increases your profits in the same ratio.

Our engineers are ready to demonstrate to you, without charge, that Dominion Friction Surface Belting will lower your manufacturing costs. They will make a complete analysis of your transmission equipment and put it on the nearest approach to a 100 per cent efficiency basis.

THE TURKS MUST OBEY THE TERMS

REPORT OF ALLIED COMMISSIONERS WAS PRESENTED TO THE SUPREME COUNCIL.

LONDON, March 11.— Report of Allied Commissioners in Constantinople was presented to the Supreme Council meeting Wednesday, according to statements current in peace conference circles last night, where it also was said that the Council adopted the main proposals of the report. These are believed to have recommended very sharp measures to impress upon Turkey that the Allies are determined to have Turkey comply with the armistice terms and treat Armenians and other subject races in accordance with the ideals of western civilization. To this end the Council is believed to have ordered certain important points in European and Asiatic Turkey occupied by Allied naval and military forces. It seems doubtful whether any direct punitive action against Mustapaha Kemal Pasha ,the Turkish commander in Asiatic Turkey, has yet been decided on, but it seems likely that such action is to be held in abeyance until the effect of occupation of strategic points indicated above is observed. Should decision be made to round up Kemal and his forces, however, it is thought likely that the task will be entrusted to the Greek army now occupying Smyrna. This army is estimated at ninety thousand, while it is presumed Kemal's forces do not exceed forty thousand. Meanwhile Turkish treaty seems far from completed and it is reported that existing draft will be materially amended.

MR. LOUIS JOFFE AT TRINITY CHURCH

ANSWERS SOME OF THE ARGUMENTS ADVANCED BY MR. GREEN— CONTROVERSY CLOSED.

In his address given at Trinity church hall last evening on "The Fall of Russia," Mr. Louis Joffe referred to Mr. Green's speech made at the Trades and Labour Hall on Tuesday evening. Mr. Joffe spoke of Mr. Green's remarks pertaining to the death of the Czar, his innocent children and faithful servants who Mr. Green said were not murdered by Bolsheviks but by the counter revolutionists. Does, asked the speaker, Mr. Green know that if he could substantiate this statement by tangible evidence he could realize thousands of dollars? I guarantee the speaker said that the most capitalistic paper would give publicity to his statements. On the face of it, to show the absurdity of such a claim, it would be well to remember that the only counter-revolutionists who could possibly have been at Ekaterinaberry at the time of the murder were the Mensheviks who belong to the Kerensky group and it is known these people were in power in Russia for eight or nine months before the Bolsheviks had usurped the government.

Why did not they kill them then, and besides who killed the Grand Duke Nicholas and his family? This man never mixed in politics, he merely did his duty to his country as a soldier. Who killed Teretzely a true martyr for the common people, who wiped out the entire business and professional population from the city of Simferopel and other cities? Will, the speaker asked, Mr. Green deny the fact that the population of Petrograd has been reduced to 600,000 while it had formerly been 2,000,000.

In Exile.

Does Mr. Green know that Barbushkar Bershervskia is at present in America an exile from Soviet Russia. This noble man suffered forty years of banishment to Siberia for the coming people? Does he know or did he read what she has to say about the glorious Russia of the present day? Mr. Green admits that the Bolsheviki have abolished private ownership and in the next breath he tells us that the magnaminous Bolshevik government is giving equal opportunity for education to rich and poor alike. How there can be rich and poor after abolishing private ownership is a conjecture which only Mr. Green can exnlain. Perhaps Mr. Green means the newly- rich of the present Bolshevik autocracy. We are told that the Bolsheviks have adopted a compulsory universal law to work. That is quite true. Everybody must work but the Bolsheviks.

Now here are several definitions of Bolsheviks. The Literary Digest would have it that a Bolshevik is a brain storm surrounded by whiskers. It seems to me that the Bolsheviks in Canada are just brain storms without whiskers. If everything is so nice and prosperous in Bolshevik Russia how is it that the newly created states surrounding Bolsheviki Russia are fighting to the last man to keep it out of their midst. Why do the inhabitants of cities which are threatened by Bolshevik invasion flee like from a pest.

It is true that the Bolsheviks have not killed many Jews. This is not due to any other reason than to the fact that in the portions of the former Russian empire now occupied by the Bolsheviks there were very few Jews to be killed since the Czar's government prohibited them from settling in that particular region.

If he continued, everything is so prosperous in Russia, why are the Bolsheviks clamouring for business relations with capitalistic Britain and America. Mr. Joffe didn't know what these afore mentioned States would do in connection with it He merely stated that if one makes peace with the devil he must expect hell.

As far as the Examiner is concerned the above article is the concluding article in the controversary over the Soviet form of Government. Newsprint is too scarce to permit of a continuance of an argument over a question concerning which the majority of our readers have little interest and it is time to bring the controversary to a close.—Editor.

ADMISSIONS AT THE INVESTIGATION

(Special to The Examiner.)

HAMILTON, March 11.— Admissions were made to the Board of Commerce here to-day by A. T. Smith, a local wholesaler, that Frank Fearman, the direct cause of the probe into the alleged grocers' combine, could not have reached the status of a wholesale grocer without the endorsation of the local Wholesalers' Association.

The business of the U.F.O. Co-operative Co. was touched slightly, showing that one of their subsidiary companies, the General Wholesalers Ltd., were unable to purchase direct from certain manufacturers who had already been shown to have refused the sale of their products to non-members of the Wholesalers' Association.

POLES WILL BUY U.S. ARMY SUPPLIES

Canadian Press.

WARSAW, March 11. — The Polish army will be re-equipped by the purchase of supplies from the United States, it was learned to-day. The formal contract has been signed between the Warsaw and Washington governments, it was stated, under which the American liquidation board will sell to Poland such ammunition and army stores as Poland may require.

The Polish government will be given six years credit for its purchases, with interest at 5%.

Stomach and Liver Trouble

Once the liver fails to filter the poisonous bile from the blood, there is a clogging up and poisoning of the whole system which causes many troubles to arise. Therefore, upon the liver, more than any other organ of the body, depends the general health.

Carelessness and neglect, and oftentimes wilful disregard of nature's laws will put the system out of sorts. The bowels become constipated, the liver inactive and the stomach upset. To bring the system back to its normal you should take Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills. They liven up the liver, get the bowels back to their proper condition and tone up the stomach.

Mrs. G. L. Cackett, Enchant, Alta., writes:—"I have used Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills and have found them good for both stomach and liver troubles. I have told others about your valuable medicine and they have used them with good results.

"They are also good for headache."

Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills are 25c. a vial at all dealers or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto. Ont.

AN EFFECTIVE ADVT.

The attention of grocery shoppers is drawn to the advertisement of Mr. Bert Heard, 239 George street, on the last page of to-day's issue. Truthfulness and sincerity in an advt. is worth a good deal, but sometimes an ad. is made more effective by a picture. If attention and the reading is desired Mr. Heard's ad. is an effective one. But the test is the sales. What the shoppers are looking eagerly for is the best value for the least money.

CUT THIS OUT

OLD ENGLISH RECIPE FOR CATARRH, CATARRHAL DEAFNESS AND HEAD NOISES

If you know of some one who is troubled with Catarrhal Deafness, head noises or ordinary catarrh cut out this formula and hand it to them and you may have been the means of saving some poor sufferer perhaps from total deafness. In England scientists for a long time past have recognized that catarrh is a constitutional disease and necessarily requires constitutional treatment.

Sprays, inhalers and nose douches are liable to irritate the delicate air passages and force the disease into the middle ear which frequently means total deafness, or else the disease may be driven down the air passages towards the lungs which is equally as dangerous. The following formula which is used extensively in the damp English climate is a constitutional treatment and should prove especially efficacious to sufferers here who live under more favorable climate conditions.

Secure from your druggist 1 ounce of Parmint (Double strength). Take this home and add to it 1-4 pint of hot water and a little granulated sugar; stir until dissolved. Take one tablespoonful four times a day. This will often bring quick relief from distressing head noises. Clogged nostrils should open, breathing become easy and hearing improve as the inflammation in the eustachian tubes is reduced. Parmint used in this way acts directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system and has a tonic action that helps to obtain the desired results. The preparation is easy to make, costs litle and is pleasant to take. Every person who has catarrh or head noises or is hard of hearing should give this treatment a trial.

GRANTS ANNUAL PASSES.

C. P. R. Encourages Loyalty in Service.

The C.P.R., to encourage loyalty in service, and recognize the principle of co-operation ,has, through the president, Mr. E. W. Beatty, announced a new departure which will, doubtless, be much appreciated. This is the granting of annual passes to officers and employees and their wives under the following classifications:

Employee on a general superintendent's district, who has had continuous service for a period of not less than ten years, will be granted an annual pass good over district on which employed.

Such employee, who has had continuous service for twenty years and over, will be allowed annual pass good over eastern or western lines upon whichever employed. Employee of any other department of the service will enjoy the same privilege as above, stating the territory over which pass is desired. Head office employees who have had fifteen years' service will receive annual passes over eastern or western lines where employed. Women employees are to be treated the same as men in this connection. This action expresses the policy of the C. P. R. to aim at the contentment and loyalty of the employees of whom there is an army of 60,000 at present, including all classes.

The Pension Fund, a free gift of the company, was the thought of Lord Shaughnessy. The employees contribute nothing. Already the operation of the fund has wrought great benefit. The effect of it has been to increase the contentment and loyalty of the employees, to give the sense of mutual co-operation, and to stimulate the general purpose and interest of the company. There are many all over the system on the Pension Fund, which offers protection in declining years. Millions of dollars are involved in the operation of the fund since its inauguration.

PRICES AT CIVIC COAL YARDS

The municipal fuel yard has been disposing of the remainder of its supply of coal, consisting of buckwheat, mine run and screened pea and nut coal. The cheaper grades are retailing at $11 and the better at $13.

It is reported that most of the workers in the local coal yards are sick, some with the "flu,' and other evil diseases from which there seems to be no escape, and yet others are sick with their jobs and are out on strike, wages being the bugbear causing all the trouble.

It is alleged that the men besides their regular pay make quite a goodly sum on the side by tips from generous customers to say nothing of the cigars that are eagerly welcomed by even the most aloof since cigars have soared upwards like everything else.

From general aspects there would seem to be worse jobs than coal heaving.

CALEDONIANS HELD REGULAR MEETING

The Caledonian Club held their regular weekly meeting last evening in the W.O.W. hall and the gathering was a great success in every way.

Mr. E. Hardy, President of the Club occupied the chair. Several friendly games of carpet bowls were played and created much friendly rivalry and good-fellowship.

Arrangements for the unveiling of the Memorial Tablet to the members of the club who paid the supreme sacrifice which will be held next Wednesday the 17th, occupied the principal part of the business meeting. A special programme is being prepared for the occasion and it is expected that there will be a large attendance for this auspicious event.

On the 27th the Scotchmen are planning for a large dance and arrangements are being completed and it promises to be as big a success as the others.

REV. W. E. MILLSON AT GEORGE STREET

"THE WAY OF THE KINGDOM" WAS THEME LAST NIGHT,

In his discourse at the George St. church last night, Rev. W. E. Millson gave a simple, direct and convincing message on "The Way to the Kingdom."

Jesus Christ came to establish the Kingdom of God in the hearts of men,—"the rule of God in a man's life," as someone has said. No longer were men to give an eye for an eye and a tooth for a tooth." Instead, mankind was to be ruled by love.

Many people were not ready to receive Jesus when He came to earth. There are many people still who are not ready to accept Him," said Mr. Millson, "but I am persuaded that speaking generally people do want God to rule their lives sometime.

The trouble with us is that it is very hard to bring us to a decision to let God rule in our hearts now. I have met but one man in a religious service who said that he did not want to have anything to do with Jesus Christ, and he came to my house at 3 o'clock the next morning to tell me he had not told the truth and was willing to do anything in order to make his peace with God."

How we may Enter.

Jesus commenced His ministry by saying "Repent." One of the hardest things for a person to understand is himself.

Persons seeking for entrance into the kingdom first realize that they are not what God would have them be, that they don't know anything about the joyful experience of being a child of God, that a mountain of sin obscures light from their hearts—in fact they come to a knowledge of themselves.

If a person is really honest with themselves, this knowledge will be followed by regret, the Biblical term for which is "repentance." The confession of sin will cause pain, but in the joy of forgiveness pain will be forgotten as pro d by John 16:21, and Gal. 4:19.

"I want to say with all the candor of my nature, and with all that I am as far as my belief is concerned," said Mr. Millson, "that one of the reasons why a lot of people do not come into the experience of religion, is because they do not repent of sin. With all honesty I throw out the challenge that if there is a man or woman here to-night who will honestly say 'God be merciful to me a sinner,' it wont' be long before God will give him joy."

To believe that God is willing to forgive our sins ,is another important step. No one could sit down and work out a plan for their own salvation. Only God can do that.

By illustration Mr. Millson showed that the act of confessing that Jesus is their personal Saviour, brings joy to the believer. To repent and cleave unto God is our satisfaction and salvation.

To-night Mr. Millson's theme will be "The Judgment." Come and hear him. Strangers and visitors are cordially welcomed.

PATHETIC STORY FROM APSLEY

At a recent meeting of the Women's Auxiliary of St. John's Church a letter was read from a resident clergyman of Apsley, giving the particulars of the trying condition of a family living in that neighborhood, as follows.

"A husband, wife and four children are living on some farm land in Apsley. The husband is away all day at a camp, and the wife and eldest boy, eight years old, are left at home to attend to all the chores. The wife is kept cooking all day for the men at the camp. A little visitor is expected in April, and the mother has no time for sewing or preparation for the event."

Contributions of second hand clothing and baby clothes would be thankfully received on Tuesday next, at the Guild Room of St John's Church when the ladies of the Women's Auxliary intend holding a shower on that afternoon at 3 o'clock and when a bale will be packed and sent to the needy family. It is a nice thought—"Charity begins at home."

How to Heal Sore, Bleeding Gums Tighten Loose Teeth

Before They Fall Out. Dentist's Home Prescription Works Like Magic.

If your teeth are loosening or if your gums are receding and are sore tender or inflamed, if they bleed when you brush your teeth, are spongy, flabby or colorless or if they discharge pus or develop gum boils, it is a warning of dangerous Pyorrhoea or Riggs disease of the gums and prompt and careful treatment is necesary if you want to save your teeth from falling out.

A prominent New York State dentist has discovered a new prescription —Epithol — for promptly correcting these troubles and it surely seems to work like magic. A few days' use and teeth tighten, the gums grow sound and healthy and the bleeding, poisonous pus discharge soon stops. An ounce jar of Epithol will last for weeks and costs little at any good drug store and all these leading druggists will refund the full purchase price if, in any case, it fails to bring relief. No one really wants false teeth, so if you have any of the above symptoms, you should by all means give this treatment a trial.

Party Line Consideration

A two-party line is a single circuit, shared in common by two subscribers. It is not reserved for a single user and should be used on the share-and-share alike basis.

On a two-party line, it is possible for both users to try to talk out on the same circuit at the same time. There is also the liability of both being wanted at the same time to receive incoming calls.

Therefore, there are certain considerations which we urge a party-line user to keep in mind.

1. Long conversations prevent the use of the line by the other subscriber; therefore party-line talks should be as brief as possible.

2. Whenever another party-line subscriber requests the use of the line for an emergency, courtesy should prompt the first user temporarily to give up the use of the line.

3. Whenever a party-line subscriber takes the receiver from the hook and finds the line in use, the receiver should be replaced at once in a careful manner.

4. At the end of a conversation the receiver should be replaced upon the hook immediately, otherwise the other subscriber cannot signal the central office.

5. Be sure always to give the operator the letters W or J in calling a party-line subscriber.

Co-operation is required to ensure good service of any kind.

EAT LESS AND TAKE SALTS FOR KIDNEYS

Take a Glass of Salts if Your Back Hurts or Bladder Bothers.

The American men and women must guard constantly against Kidney trouble, because we eat too much and all our food is rich. Our blood is filled with uric acid which the kidneys strive to filter out, they weaken from overwork, become sluggish; the eliminative tissues clog and the result is kidney trouble, bladder weakness and a general decline in health.

When your kidneys feel like lumps of lead; your back hurts or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment or you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night; if you suffer with sick headaches or dizzy, nervous spells, acid stomach, or you have rheumatism when the weather is bad, get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate clogged kidneys; to neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure, makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water beverage, and belongs in every home, because nobody can make a mistake by having a good kidney flushing any time.

The New Modes of 1920 in Millinery

FASHION is indeed lavish in the latitude she allows the new Hats. And these Spring Opening collections are faithful in following her dictates. Brilliant silks, taffetas and failles, soft duvetyns, batavia cloth, hair cloth, celloplane and exquisite glistening straws, make modes that range from the piquant tip-tilted turbans to the pictorially brimmed, flower-laden Hats. All these lend their presence to this Spring Opening Showing.

THE ONTARIO LEGISLATURE IS GETTING DOWN TO BUSINESS

PROBLEM IS TO RESTORE CONFIDENCE IN POPULAR INSTITUTIONS—SPEECH FROM THE THRONE—IDENTITY OF INTERESTS BETWEEN LABOUR AND FARMERS.

TORONTO, March 11. — The new Legislature got down to real business yesterday afternoon. The features were the speeches of Edgar Watson, U.F.O., member for North Victoria, and Baptist minister for Fenelon Falls; and of W. A. Crockett, U.F.O.-Labor member for South Wentworth. These two moved and seconded the address in reply to the Speech from the Throne.

Labor not a Commodity.

Mr. Watson said that there was danger of people endeavoring to secure needed reforms by unconstitutional methods. "Our problem is to restore or increase popular confidence in representative institutions," asserted the speaker. "There are certain principles upon which the present problems of government must be solved.

"The theory of German internationalism, namely, that might is right, must be utterly repudiated in inter-class relationships. The jungle theory of human society is untenable.

"Human labor is not a commodity or article of commerce, to be dealt with by the law of supply and demand—personality is supreme.

Profits Secondary.

"The maintenance of the worker and the progressive improvement of the standards of life for all the people must be the first charge upon industry—profits are a secondary consideration.

"Political institutions must keep pace with the growth of democracy. Democracy must have real control of the machinery of government. The man on the street and in the country has a feeling that dropping his ballot into the ballot box does not mean any real control over the legislation that will be passed. He is convinced that a small percentage of the people have an unduly large percentage of the influence over governments that his ballot helps to put into power.

"Extreme partizanship that exalts the party to an altitude above the interests of the great mass of the people must give place to a rational and business like administration.

The Liquor Question.

An indirect reference to the liquor traffic was couched in these words: "That conception of personal liberty that gives the right to the individual to participate in and promote any traffic or system that tends to increase crime, to waste the national resources, of either life or substance; to corrupt the social habits or to destroy the health and lives of the people must make way for a higher conception of liberty that recognizes the individual's obligation to society as a whole.

"Educational measures must recognize that we are dealing with life processes that are not conformable to any mechanically constructed and rigid system.

"The great agricultural industry should receive every possible encouragement. A check on the present serious rural depopulation with the attendant loss of food production can become effective only as it betters living conditions in the rural districts. Community halls and hydro power and light would be of inestimable value in improving living conditions."

Solve Labor Problem.

"The solution of the labor problem is a higher education than ever before," asserted W. A. Crockitt, Labor M.P.P., for Wentworth South, in seconding the speech in reply to the Speech from the Throne. "The problem must be solved by the enlightened intelligence of the workers; it cannot be solved by the ignorant and illiterate. The trouble between Capital and Labor the world over, as in Ontario, must be solved by the educated workers."

"We fully realize that there is a complete identity of interest between the Farmers and Labor. In this province the great political power has come into the hands of the toiler and the worker. We will be insensible of its importance and any responsibility of such a possession if we do not take pains to educate ourselves for its proper administration. To my mind by far the greater responsibility and opportunity before this government is the question of education in the province of Ontario. There never has been a greater opportunity for wise statesmanship and the exercise of good judgment by those who lead the political forces of the province.

"Suggestions, plans and schemes may emanate from the few, but their rejection or adoption lies in the last analysis with the many. We are pleased to see this departure from party lines in the House as indicated in the speech from the throne. It will give large scope for the initiative of private members and it will lead to better results. Of course the government should ground itself upon the motives that are all powerful with the people.

Enough for All.

"What we must remember is that in this country there is wealth enough and work enough for every one.

"What we need is to place the worker where he can get a clearer vision. We need citizenship of trained intelligence, far higher than was needed 25 years ago.

Mr. Crockett expressed satisfaction at the proposed improvements in the Department of Agriculture. In the present impoverished condition of the world "increased production would prove a boon to the world and bring prosperity," he said.

Mystic Tea.

The mystic tea held by Mrs. Tucker on Friday afternoon at the Methodist parsonage was a great success. About eighty partook of the excellent supper provided.

The dining room and tables were prettily decorated. A good musical program was rendered while tea was being served.

Nearly twenty dollars were realized. The proceeds are in aid of the Woman's Missionary Society. Mrs. Tucker is to be congratulated upon her success.

Personals

PALE, WAN CHEEKS A SIGN OF ANAEMIA

TO HAVE GOOD COLOUR AND HEALTH THE BLOOD MUST BE KEPT ENRICHED AND PURE.

Many women who had good color and bright eyes in their girlhood grow pale and colorless and lose much of their charm when they become wives and mothers. Why is it? When the fading color in the cheeks and lips is accompanied by a loss of brightness in the eyes and an increasing heaviness in the step and a tendency to tire easily the cause is to be sought in the state of the blood.

Many causes may contribute to the condition of the blood known as anaemia. Care of the home, overwork, lack of outdoor exercise, insufficient rest and sleep, improper diet, are a few of them. The important thing is to restore the blood, to build it up so that the color will return to the cheeks and lips, brightness to the eyes, and lightness to the step. To do this, nothing can equal Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. They begin at once to increase the red corpuscles in the blood, and this new blood carries strength and health to every part of the body. The appetite improves, digestion becomes perfect, and energy and ambition return. Proof is given in the statement of Mrs. Alex. Archambo, Cornwall Ont., who says:—"Two years ago my health began to fail. I was suffering from headaches, pains in the back and sides, and a constant tired out feeling. I had used a lot of medicine, but instead of it helping me I seemed to be growing weaker. My friends urged me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and while I felt disheartened at my experience with other medicines, I decided to do so. To my great joy I soon found the pills were helping me and their continued use for a time fully restored my health. I feel that I would be ungrateful if I did not give my experience with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, in the hope that it may point the way to health to some other poor sufferer."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills can be obtained through any medicine dealer, or may be had by mail, post paid, at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

THE LACK OF HOTEL ACCOMMODATION IS FELT IN PETERBORO

MR. TYRONE POWER GIVES HIS FIRST IMPRESSIONS OF THE CITY.

"Yours is a wonderful audience", Mr. Tyrone Power, who appeared in "The Servant in the House" last night at the Grand told the Examiner when interviewed during the performance. "It is most intellectual and most appreciative, and like all audiences I have played before this year, is a wonderful stimulus to the cast because as you know the audience makes the play."

Anticipating the formal and usual question asked at practically every interview Mr. Power commenced the interview in as abrupt a manner as he used in the part of the drain man in the play stating that one forms his impressions by contact. "Now," he said, "let me tell you of my contact in the city. My agents some weeks ago asked for hotel reservations for my company and were told that such was impossible. Consequently when I arrived in the city, this morning I went to an hotel and was told by a clerk that the house was full but that we might wait about the hotel until accommodation was available. After playing in Belleville and sitting up practically all night, my company each of whom has a heavy part to play, felt no disposition to "wait about" so commenced a search of the city and ultimately arrived at a hotel where we could at least find rooms."

An Institution.

Speaking about plays of to-day Mr. Power said that he is endeavouring to make such dramas as he played in last evening not only plays but institutions in Canada. "Since the war", he said, "the public of America demands something more substantial than they were satisfied with previous to 1914 and the full houses to which company has played all along the line is ample demonstration that Canada is no exception."

"There is no reason," he continued, "why Canada cannot produce companies originating in Canadian cities to be all Canadian companies. While he said I am not a Canadian, being of English birth my heart lies with Canada and I have every confidence in her artists. She has produced artists, poets writers, why not actors. I shall keep my company in Canada alone. There is no reason why Canadian money may not stay in the country instead of being taken to the United States.

Speaking of England Mr. Power said that she has not been affected by the war like America and is revelling in trash, the public accepting and featuring trashy actors as artists. There is more real art on the Canadian stage than in London. He said that the taste of the public has not turned to the movies which he termed theatrical dope; the so termed art being physical. Any one," he continued," can jump off a cliff or catch a train at full speed but this is not art."

Will Come Again.

I will come again this season to your city playing in "The Little Brother" and I hope to return to you every year with some such play ac "The Servant in the House."

DURABILITY IN A PIANO

It is by no means the whole test of a piano that it will last. Yet it is important that having invested several hundred dollars in a piano you should get one that is aside from its musical value built to last. This you will always be assured of in the piano made by Ye Olde Firme of Heintzman & Co., Limited, George and Hunter streets Peterborough, Ont.

What to Do When Nerves Go Wrong

A SPECIALIST'S ADVICE

Men and women who suffer from weak nerves, who tire easily, can't sleep, have brain fag, low vitality, general weariness loss of strength, dulled ambition, lack of will power or any of those symptoms that so surely arise from poor, unsteady, unstrung nerves, or nerve force run low, should try taking a little Ferro-Peptine with their meals for a few days and note results. This preparation is the greatest ginger-up stimulant and nerve vitalizer ever known for putting the good old "pep," ambition, courage and real vital energy into a tired, run-down and shattered nervous system.

Here is a test worth trying. The next time you feel tired, blue, or when your nerves are fairly crying out, take a Ferro-Peptine nerve tablet. Then wait for just ten minutes, and note results. Ferro-Peptine seems to go straight to the nerve cells and starts work the minute it reaches them. It brings a ten-minute change from that awful dull, weak, lazy, don't-give-a-hang feeling, to brightness, strength clear headedness and courage. It calms and strengthens the nerves of people who get the "jumps" and ridgets, and gives them poise, power and tremendous reserve energy. Ferro-Peptine Tablets are absolutely harmless, contain no dope or habit-forming drugs, and are always safe, easy, pleasant and efficient. All leading druggists in Peterborough and vicinity sell it in large boxes—42 tablets to a package—on an absolute guarantee of satisfaction, or money back.

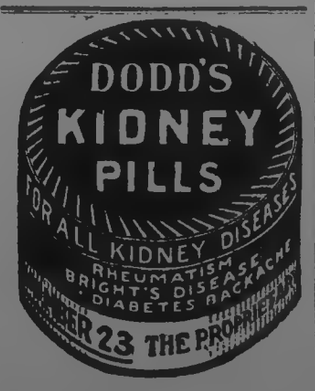
KEEP AWAY FROM POOLROOMS WARNS MAGISTRATE

"I thank you for your lemiency in this matter your Worship," was the quiet yet grateful answer that Magistrate Dumble received in this morning's Police Court when he allowed a local young man to go on suspended sentence after he had pleaded guilty to stealing $27.50 from a local hotel.

The young man had been frequenting pool rooms and has not worked for some time it is alleged while his widowed mother and sister needed his assistance. Rev. Webb made an appeal for the boy who is only 18 and who promised him that he wanted to change his wayward ways and be a man.

The Magistrate gave the young man some brief but to the point advice.Keep away from poolrooms and men that don't work. "Straighten up and be a man and take your father's place."

The money was all recovered except fifty cents and that will be paid together with the costs $10.10 which the Magistrate gave the young man 20 days to pay.



MR. BURNHAM ADDED TO THE GAIETY OF THE NATIONS YESTERDAY

Mr. Burnham, seconded by Mr. Stevens, of Vancouver, moved that it was desirable that "to the extent of the jurisdiction of this Parliament a national eight-hour working day should be established immediately, subject only to the right of express private contract." Mr. Burnham referred to the labour provisions in the peace treaty in regard to the establishment of an eight-hour day or a 48-hour week. The eight-hour day, he said, had the approval of the Peace Conference and the International Labor Conference called at Washington under the League of Nations.

Mr. Stevens thought that settlement of industrial disputes would be arrived at more speedily and more permanently by the introduction of elements of justice than in any other way. "I hold," he said, "that the demand for an eight-hour day is a just and fair demand on the part of labor." It would be better to have a national standardized eight-hour day than that there should be different standards of hours in different parts of the country. The manufacturer, for instance, could then more accurately estimat cost of production.

Cocoanut Oil Fine For Washing Hair

If you want to keep your hair in good condition, be careful what you wash it with.

Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and is very harmful. Mulsified cocoanut oil shampoo (which is pure and entirely greaseless, is much better than anything else you can use for shampooing, as this can't possibly injure the hair.

Simply moisten your hair with water and rub it in. One or two teaspoonfuls will make an abundance of rich, creamy lather, and cleanses the hair and scalp thoroughly. The lather rinses out easily, and removes every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves it fine and silky, bright, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get Mulsified cocoanut oil shampoo at most any drug store. It is very cheap, and a few ounces is enough to last everyone in the family for months.

ODE NO. 2 TO WOMEN

A woman is queer there's no doubt about that.
She hates to be thin, and she hates to be fat.
One minute it's laughter, the next it's a cry,
You can't understand her, however, you try:
But there's one thing about her which everyone knows—
A woman's not dressed till she powders her nose.

You never can tell what a woman will say,
She's a law, to herself every hour of the day
It keeps a man guessing to know what to do—
And mostly he's wrong when his guessing is through:
But this you can bet on, wherever she goes,
She'll find some occasion to powder her nose.

I've studied the sex for a number of years,
I've watched her in laughter and seen her in tears:
On her ways and her whims I have pondered a lot.
To find what will please her and just what will n—

But all that I've learned from the start to the close,
Is that sooner or later, she'll powder her nose.

At church, or a ball game, a dance or a show,
There's one thing about her, I know that I know,
At weddings, or funerals, dinners of taste,
You can bet that her hand will dive into her waist,
And every few minutes she'll strike up a pose,
And the whole world must wait till she powders her nose.

Mothers! NEVER NEGLECT WHOOPING COUGH

Many mothers make the mistake of thinking that whooping cough is not of serious importance, but unfortunately this mistake often leads to the neglect of this dangerous child's disease.

Never neglect whooping cough, for it may be followed by some serious lung trouble.

Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup is highly recommended by mothers everywhere for the relief of this trouble. It will clear the clogged-up air passage of the mucous and phlegm that has collected in in this way bring on the "whoop" which bring the so-much-sought-for relief.

Mrs. Francis Burlingham, New Gate, B.C., writes: "This spring three of my children took the whooping cough, and they had it so bad I thought they would choke. I was getting pretty worried when my sister wrote me, telling me to try Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup. I sent for some right away, and, believe me, I will never forget how it worked. I will always have it in my house."

There are many imitations of Dr. Wood's on the market. Get the genuine when you ask for it. It will pay in the end. Put up in a yellow wrapper; 3 pine trees the trade mark; price 25c and 50c. Manufactured only by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

$50,000 FOR LOSS OF LEGS.

Court Awards Damages to Soldier Run Over by Train.

NEW YORK.—The Appellate Division of the Supreme Court decided that Harry Bauman, a soldier, who was run over by a box car which had become detached from a train while he was doing sentry duty in the Norfolk, Va., yards in October, 1917, by which accident both legs were cut off, is entitled to recover $50,000 from the Norfolk & Western Railway.

The case was tried twice. The first jury gave him $75,000, but the late Justice Dugro reduced the amount to $35,000. The Appellate Division ordered a new trial, and the second jury awarded $60000, which was not reduced by new trial judge. Bauman was on duty with the forty-seventh Regiment

GERMANY CAN PAY

When Bismarck fined France the five milliards of francs in 1871 he and everybody else thought that the French nation had been given its death blow. One milliard was to be paid within the year, and the other four within three years the payment to be made in specie or in claims to specie. A first payment of five hundred million francs was to be made within thirty days of the establishment of order in Paris ,and the total was to be paid before March 2nd, 1874 To the amazement of the world, France paid the debt by September, 1873. Germany, no doubt, can amaze the world also by paving over to the Allies vast sums in quicker time than is now imagined. Of course the Franco-Prussian war of 1870-71 was short, and the foreign trade of France continued throughout almost unchecked while in the late war, German trade was completely stopped, and the people did not have the same chance to save. Yet Germany began the war very much richer than was France in 1870, and must have accumulated a vast body of national wealth between 1871 and the present time, and the economic living and careful saving of her population will enable the fines to be paid, if only the Allies keep up the pressure, refusing to relent. The lottery bond plan has been adopted by Berlin, but the money does not seem to be coming in as fast as it was hoped, for the German people have been exploited so often and in so many ways by their Government in the past that they are naturally suspicious of all government moves.—Acadian Recorder

THE SMOKING CAR.

"You can't ride in here, this is the smoking car," tersely announced the brakeman on the New York fast train. He spoke to an attractive young woman with black hair tucked under a flaring hat and wearing a crimson silk sweater over a tailored suit. "I know it—that's why I want to ride here," she flashed back. She calmly seated herself, brought out an aged and smoke-blackened briar pipe from the pocket of her sweater and after tamping in a pipeful of tobacco from a worn tobacco pouch, she lighted up and smoked as lustily and apparently with as much enjoyment as any man in the car.

GRANITES WIN FROM KITCHENER

WILL PLAY HAMILTON ON FRIDAY NIGHT.

TORONTO, March 11. — History repeated itself here last night when the heavy checking Granite team beat the lighter, but speedier Kitchener sextet and won the championship of the Group.

Last season St. Patrick's and Kitchener tied for the group leadership, and in the play-off game the Irish, by good use of their weight and checking ability were returned winners by 3 to 1 and represented Toronto in the O.H.A. final games against Hamilton.

The Curlers are in far better condition than were the late lamented Saints ,and they are conceded a good chance to even accounts for last season's disaster by beating the Allan Cup holders in the title games. The first fixture will be played in the Ambitious City to-morrow night and the return game here on Monday.

A crowd that filled the Arena to its capacity attended and they were given full vaue for their money. Granites outplayed the western team in the opening period and scored two goals, but thereafter the visitors gave as good as they received and anxious moments came thick and fast for the new champions.

A Close Fit.

In the final session the losers pressed throughout, but the airtight defence of the local sextet kept them shooting from long range. There was no doubt as to which was the beter team on the night's play. Granites earned the verdict, but not by any more than one-goal lead. The rival sextets are as evenly matched as they can possibly be. In the play-off games for the group title, which lasted for two hours and fifty minutes, Granites led in goal by 6 to 5. No big margin there.

Kitchener, as in all former appearances here, were given their share of the applause but it was early apparent that the Granite suporters were in the majority. When the final whistle announced the end of the struggle cheer after cheer greeted the new champions.

Hamilton Fans Confident.

Hamilton was well represented, and the consensus of opinion as expressed by the Ambitious City fans was that Tigers will retain the O.H.A. senior championship. They may be correct in their predictions, but the fact must not be overlooked that Granites were conceded litle chance to win the group title. In beating the Kitchener team the locals have accomplished no easy feat ,and it may be that they will add another surprise to the long list of hockey upsets by trouncing the Yellow and Black.

Hicks—11	Kay—8
Waddell—11	Wightman—6

In the second round the scores were:

Foote—6	Skinner—4
McDermid—5	Brightman—14
Medd—7	Archibald—12

The drop in temperature after last evening made a fairly good sheet of ice in spite of the prevailing high temperature all day and the balmy spring air that outside turned anything that looked like ice into water. To-day's continued spring weather makes the prospects for the games to-night look very blue and they will in all probability have to be postponed.

STOCK MARKET CONTINUED STRONG

GENERAL MOTORS HEADS THE LIST —STERLING EXCHANGE.

(United Press.)

NEW YORK, March 11. — The stock market continued strong at the opening to-day, with General Motors again the leader of a 2 1-2 point gain to 317. Mexican Pet. was up 1 1-4 to 189, while Pan American lost a half point to 95.

U. S. Steel opened at 100 1-2, up 1-4; Anaconda 60 3-4, up 5-8; Texas, 194 1-2, up 1-2; U. S. Rubber 107 3-4, up 3-4; General Motors (new), 31 1-2, up 1-3; Baldwin, 120 1-4, up 1; Utah 76, up 3-8; Studebaker 90, up 1. Reading 85 3-4, up 1.

Announcement of a further rise in sterling to above $3.82 resulted in a general buying movement in the stock market. Motors, oils and steels had big advances and general motors made an early high at $3.28 up 13 1-2, net. Studebaker at 09 was discounted a favorable report to be made public within a few days. American tobacco sold at 204, up 7 1-4 call money again renewed at seven per cent. The market in the second hour was even more exciting than the first. Chandler made a new record high at 145 1-4.

Sterling Exchange.

(United Press.)

NEW YORK, March 11 — Another big jump was made by Sterling to-day when it opened at $3.82 1-4, up 9 cents from yesterday's close.

Bankers expressed the opinion today that foreign exchange is reflecting a complete stabilizing of the International credit situation. Advances now being recorded indicate the whole situation is fast moving toward normal. Not only is sterling moving up rapidly but continental exchanges are daily advancing by larger gains than have been witnessed for many months.

Prospects of large gold shipments from Europe and actual arrivals are stimulating the whole exchange market.

Sterling at noon was quoted at $3.75 off 7 1-4 from the opening.

NEW YORK, March 11 — At noon demand sterling was quoted at $3.75, a drop of 7 1-3 cents from the opening. The Canadian dollar was quoted at 88 3-4 cents this morning.

"LISTEN, LESTER"

No musical attraction has been more persistently whistled and hummed into favor than has "Listen Lester" John Corts musical comedy with the entire New York cast, chorus production and special company orchestra coming to the Grand next Monday evening, and "Waiting For You," "I'd Love To," "Feather a Nest," and "Sweet Stuff" are only a few of the melodies that the general public as well as Lester listened to nightly without tiring for an entire year at the Knickerbocker Theatre in New York during the entire run of this delightful play. Harry L. Cort, George E. Stoddard, and Harold Orlob's provided the book, lyrics and music for this musical conceit, and a brilliance and sparkle and distinction of beautiful girls that form as dainty and dancey a chorus as ever was assembled, exquisite costumes, a background of resplendent scenery and and the entire original cast are only a few of the little things that the offering contains, in addition to a fashion parade of bathing costumes that would make any women willing to go near the water at any time of the year if she might wear one, any man if he might see it. And as if this were not enough, there is the original cast that includes Mayme Gehrue, Jean Thomas, Miriam Folger Cecil Williams, Ann Ott, Florence De Barr, Frances Anderson, Florida Bellaire, William Sellery, Joseph Mack, William Wayne, Gus Shy, John L. Lyons Murry Hart, Mark Thompson, Andrew Leigh, each with an inimitable ability to please and entertain.

WM. HART THRILLS IN "THE MONEY CORRAL"

William S. Hart is a man of many accomplishments. He can act, shoot, ride, fight; he can also write—and he proves it in "The Money Corral" which was shown at the Allen yesterday. In this picture there is one of the most thrilling fights ever seen on the screen. It takes place in an underworld cafe in Chicago's tenderloin district and Mr. Hart bests a lot of strongarm men with ease. The fight is a thriller and is only one of a number of salient features that go to make this one of the best pictures in which the star has been seen.

In addition to the feature the second episode of the serial "The Great Radium Mystery" was shown, and from all indications it should hold the attention for all of the episodes. A splendid comedy and a Bruce Scenic completes the bill.

MUSIC AND DRAMA

THE SERVANT IN THE HOUSE.

Trans-Canada Theatres Limited, in selecting Mr. Tyrone Power and his talented company as the first attraction to send on tour under their auspices have made a most happy choice and have set a very high standard for their future enterprises. Mr. Power was seen at the Grand Opera House last night in his original part as 'The Draimman" in Charles Rann Kennedy's wonderful play, "The Servant in the House," played on this occasion for the first time in Peterborough, although first staged twelve years ago. A capacity audience was thrilled by the gripping lines of the play and the manner in which they were interpreted by Mr. Power and his associates. No more striking characterization has been witnessed in Peterborough than Mr. Power's conception of the part of "The Draimman," a wonderful role that made exacting demands upon the ability of the famous actor, demands that were triumphantly met by Mr. Power. He is one of the outstanding figures on the stage to-day and in no role is his genius more emphatically displayed than in "The Servant in the House," with which his name will always be associated.

The story of the play is too well known to require any comment in these columns. It has been pronounced as one of the greatest dramas of the times and the moral lessons that it teaches make it an inspiration and stimulus to all who see it—at least to all who were able to distinguish between the mystic and the matter-of-fact in the production. This unfortunately did not apply to everyone in last night's audience, for some of the finest scenes were marred to some extent by senseless laughter on the part of a few upon whom the real meaning of the play was lost.

Associated with Mr. Power was a splendid company of artists. Mr. Harper Haas as "The Servant in the House" [illegible] opportunities. Mr. Irving Wilson made the part of the worldly Bishop of Lancashire a role that will not be forgotten. Miss Celia Kingsland [illegible] was splendid. An effective bit was contributed by Harold De Becker, who shared with Mr. Power the honor of being the representative of the original cast to be seen in last night's company.

"The Servant in the House" will long be remembered [illegible]

RAISE FOR THE STRATFORD POLICE

Stratford Police Commissioners have been faced with almost identical problems as those that have been dealt with by the local commissioners. The salaries now paid the officers compare very favourably with Peterboro, although Stratford is considerably smaller than Peterboro.

Increases of $100 a year [illegible] to the constable and $50 a year [illegible] the detectives and sergeants. The chief's salary was boosted $200 making it $2,200 with an extra $200 allowed as an inspector under the O.T.A.

First year men now get $1,200, second year men $1,260, third year men $1,320, fourth year men $1,380. The sergeants and detectives get $1,500.

The request for an additional man and car was promptly turned down as too expensive and not absolutely necessary so that the Peterboro department went one better than their western friends on this count.

INVESTIGATE GRAIN CORPORATION.

(Canadian Press.)

WASHINGTON, March 11. — An investigation of the United States Grain Corporation was ordered to-day by the senate.

SOME PUBLISHERS refer advertisers to "Government Statements" of circulation.

They mean their statements to the Government, which is a very different thing.

The Government does not make any statements in regard to circulation.

Statements to the Government, in the absence of verification, are valueless to the advertiser.

There is one method and only one of ascertaining the facts regarding the circulation of a paper.

And that is by referring to the reports of the Audit Bureau of Circulations.

A publication that quotes its statement to the Government in lieu of an A. B. C. report is evading the issue.

Ask to see the A. B. C. report on the EXAMINER.

MINERAL OIL
FOR CHRONIC CONSTIPATION
By buying this produce from us you can get the highest in quality that can be procured at an ESPECIALLY LOW PRICE.
There are many thin oils on the market that are not suitable for internal use; other oils have irritating qualities which render them also unsuitable. The one we are selling is guaranteed thick and entirely pure.
It is recognized that a good grade of Mineral Oil is one of the best remedies for CHRONIC CONSTIPATION that is being used. It acts mechanically and does not irritate the intestinal tract, nor does the dose have to be constantly increased as is the case with ordinary purgatives.
It is much better and cheaper than Castor Oil as a laxatjve for children, since Castor Oil hastwo effects, the first of which is purgative and the second or after-effect, which is Constipating.

SANDERSON—McILMOYLE

A very pretty wedding took place at seven o'clock on Wednesday evening at the home of the bride's parents, Stewart street, when Miss Hazel McIlmoyle became the bride of Mr. Melville Sanderson.

The Rev. J. R. Webb officiated, while Miss Whipple Tully was bridesmaid and Mr. H. N. Grant was best man.

The bride was attired in full bridal costume and veil as she entered the drawing room on her father's arm. A large number of relatives and friends witnessed the ceremony after which they enjoyed the wedding supper and the usual social hours.

Mr. and Mrs. Sanderson will reside in Smith.

LAKEFIELD NEWS

LAKEFIELD, March 11.—Captain Marling was in Kingston on business this week.

Mr. J. M. Simpson was in Peterborough on Tuesday evening.

Dr W. Archbold was in Toronto on Tuesday.

Mrs. D. H. Charlton entertained the members of the S.O.N.G. Club at her home on Teusday evening. A pleasant evening was spent in progressive euchre. Miss Braden was the prize winner.

Mrs. Collins of Peterborough, was the guest of her mother, Mrs Garvey, of Smith, on Wednesday.

Course of Sermons .

Rev. (Dr.) Archbold is giving a course of sermons on "The Church" at the Wednesday evening Lenten services. These sermons are intensely interesting and of value not only from a religious, but also an historical point of view.

At the Sunday evening services during the season of Lent he is giving sermons on the Prayer Book which are exceedingly popular.

This course of sermons is being given by request.

Window Broken.

The plate glass window in the store of Mr. Roland Johnson was broken by a frightened horse, which was tethered outside. The horse backed the cutter to which it was attached, against the window, inflicting considerable damage.

IN MEMORIAM.

In loving memory of Mrs. P. J. O'Grady, Douro, who died March 11th, 1918.

For her in Youth's glad morning prime,
Came suddenly the call
That comes by Heaven's supreme decree
Or soon or late to all.

No lingering dire disease she knew
Nor wasting, slow decay
But in the radiant bloom of Youth
She passed from Earth away.

Brief was her journey here below,
On Life's rough toilsome road
And early she had gained the goal
The Spirits blest abode.

Ours is the sorrow, and the loss
The loneliness and tears
But hers the rapturous joy and bliss
Of never ending years.

Tho ne'er our dear one will return
To cheer our hearts below,
Patience! 'Tis but a little while,
Till we to her shall go.

Where pain and parting are unknown
And Death comes not for age
But an Eternity of bliss
Our sorrows will repay.

Where fair St. Joseph's chimes ring out
Benison on the air
Above the hallowed spot, she sleeps
In God's strong angels care.

Country Flooded

MANY LIVES LOST IN DISASTROUS FLOODS WHICH SWEPT OVER PORTION OF MISSOURI.

DAMAGE HEAVY

(Canadian Press.)

BRANSON, Mo., March 12.—Flood streams to-day added further menace to life, and property in South-west Missouri, where yesterday a tornado killed at least thirteen persons, injured a number of others, and did property damage as yet unestimated. Every creek and river of Ozark Hill region to-day was reported either overflowing or running full from torrental rains that preceded and followed the tornado. Should the precipitation continue, it was stated, the danger from floods would become serious.

NOTE HANDED TO BRITISH PREMIER

DEMANDS RELEASE OF GERMANS HELD FOR WAR CRIMES.

(Canadian Press.)

BERLIN, March 12.—The German Charge D'Affaires in London has handed to Premier Lloyd George the note regarding the Entente extradition list, it was announced to-day. After asserting that the Imperial Court will be guided only by consideration of justice and will conduct an impartial inquiry. The note demands that the arrest of Germans in occupied territory on charges similar to those enumerated in extradition list shall cease, and that those arrested shall be delivered to German courts. The release of Germans who, for similar reasons, have been detained in war prison camps, also is asked for. The note finally demands that the Allies abandon reservations regarding their right to try for crimes committed during the war any Germans not mentioned in list if encountered on Allied territory, saying that incidents arising out of war should be consigned to oblivion with the advent of peace.

OTTAWA CLERGYMAN IS THE PRINCIPAL IN ONE OF STRANGEST CASES THAT EVER CONFRONTED POLICE

(Special to The Examiner.)

OTTAWA, Ont., March 12.—Rev. George Bousfield, a prominent Anglican clergyman of Eastview, near Ottawa, is the principal of one of the strangest cases that has ever confronted the Dominion police for a solution. It is alleged that an attempt was made to coerce him at the point of a revolver to consent to being an accomplice in a proposed Bolshevik scheme to take the life of an unknown high Canadian Government official, but the plot was frustrated in the nick of time, and officers of the Dominion Police now guard Bousfield's residence night and day keeping him under constant surveillance.

All efforts of the newspapers to obtain a statement from Bousfield have been foiled by the police, and Dominion Police Commissioner A. J. Cawdron, while admitting that the case has decidedly serious aspects, positively refuses to give the inside facts of the case.

FEDERATION OF LABOUR FAVOURS A NEW PARTY

RESOLUTION DEMANDS FREE SCHOOL BOOKS AND MINIMUM WAGES FOR SCHOOL TEACHERS.

IN NEW BRUNSWICK

(Special to The Examiner.)

FREDERICTON, N.B., March 12.—The New Brunswick federation of Labor have adopted a resolution calling upon their executive to call a Labor convention to organize an independent Labor party in New Brunswick for political action. Other resolutions included one demanding free school books and supplies for all children attending the public schools up to grade B inclusuve and legislation ensuring minimum living wages to each class of school teachers in the province with the consolidation of some school districts where possible but no schools to be allowed to be closed in any district.

RECORD MEETING IN PETERBORO

G.W.V.A. CONVENTION OPENS HERE MARCH 17TH WITH ALMOST TWENTY TIMES SIZE OF 1917 REPRESENTATION

In one week's time the fourth annual Ontario convention of the Great War Veterans' Association opens at Peterboro, when a representation nearly twenty times the size of the first gathering will wrestle with reconstructive problems confronting returned men. In 1917 the first constituted conference of the province met at Ottawa, when 24 delegates debated under the gavel of the present president, Rev. Capt. C. E. Jeakins, of Brantford, who was re-elected in 1918 at Hamilton, and in 1919 at Windsor. The padre has definitely stated that he will not run again this year, and several prominent members are named as probable contestants and likely successors. Amongst these is Dr. Sharpe, of Brampton; Comrade O'Flynn, of Belleville; Dr. C. E. Wilson, J. R. Bell, of Toronto, and President L. S. Cook, of Hamilton.

The latter official has been seriously ill, and may not be able to go to Peterboro, but as Hamilton is one of the G.W.V.A. strongholds, his election to the chief executive position of Ontario may materialize.

If the full representation, according to membership, attends the convention, there will be 400 delegates on the floor.

Democracy to Decide.

Some branches, however, are practicing economy and sending less than their quota on the grounds that all voting is taken on per capita tax returns of each branch.

The provincial by-law permits a larger representation at provincial conferences than the Dominion, but as all Ontario delegates are acting in a dual capacity this year, the Ontario attendance will probably be reduced on that account.

Important in inter-association business on the three days agenda is reorganization, in which it is hoped that Dominion, Provincial and District Commands will be brought nearer to the city.

Asked if the convention would invite officials from either the D.S.C.R., the Pension Board or the Ontario Government to give addresses, Secretary W. E. Turley said that being a thoroughly democratic organization the delegates will be able to accept or reject such invitations.

WANTS MORE UNIFORM ACTION

(Canadian Press.)

OTTAWA, March 12.—More general, equitable and uniform system of experimental farms and substations to be established throughout Canada is the pea contained in a resolution to be submitted to the house on Monday by Donald Sutherland, of South Oxford. His resolution adds "and that wholly inadequate and disproportionate number given the Province of Ontario in system shall be dealt with and provided for at the present session of parliament."

WILSON IS SUBJECT OF BITTER PRESS COMMENT

"LE PETIT BLEU" OPENS UP AN EDITORIAL BARRAGE---CALLS ACTIONS "UNDIGNIFIED"

A DISTURBER

(United Press.)

PARIS, March 12.—President Wilson, does not concern himself with what is happening in his own country, which is seeking to wrest from Great Britain the mastery of the seas, "Le Petit Bleu" said to-day, continuing its bitter attack upon Wilson for the charges in his Hitchcock letter.

Wilson's letter, the newspaper believed, "has annihilated the Treaty of Versailles." It professed to expect the President will follow his charge that France is Imperialistic by accusing "us of having started the war in 1914." In one of the most violent of many bitter attacks upon the President, Le Petit Bleu said: "If President Wilson no longer enjoys his full faculties it should at least be necessary to quiet him enough to prevent these periodic epistolary manifestations with which he disturbs world opinion. It is undignified for the United States to permit the opinion to become general that the Republic is presided over by such a man."

PERRY FORGOT HIS PROMISE TO MARRY ATTRACTIVE WIDOW

(Special to The Examiner.)

OTTAWA, March 12.—Following his mysterious disappearance about four weeks ago with $2,400 of his fiance's money, Isadore J. Dery, alias James A. Perry, was arrested in Buckingham, Que., last night by Ottawa detectives.

Dery, who was engaged to marry an attractive Grand Rapids widow, came to Ottawa five weeks ago, stating that he was employed by a Detroit Detective Agency and was here to settle up a large estate to which he was heir. His bride to be followed him here and was induced to loan him $2,400 of her money. He then disappeared. The woman's name is Mrs. Lydia A. Hilton. She had reached the city to testify against him on a charge of obtaining money by false pretenses, which will be heard in the Ottawa police court this morning.

SEXSMITH SAYS 8-HOUR DAY WILL AFFECT FARMERS

HIRED HELP WOULD BE ATTRACTED TO THE CITIES—HAS GOVERNMENT THE POWER?

OTTAWA, March 11.— When the House resumed this evening H. A. Mackie, Edmonton East, resumed the debate on the eight-hour day resolution by Mr. Burnham. Mr. Mackie dealt with the progress in regulating the hours and conditions of labor for women and children, particularly in Europe the United States and Canada. A Dominion-wide eight-hour day was not going to meet all requirements. There were some conditions under which eight hours would be too long. The question of insurance and protection against unemployment should also be taken up in discussing a resolution of this nature. While he was in favor of an eight hour day, Mr. Mackie did not like the phrase, "subject only to the right of express private contract."

Col. W. F. Cockshutt Brantford, expressed the belief that the eight-hour day could never be successfully applied to all Canadian industries until it became international. There was too much competition between nations. He was, however, in sympathy with the principle.

Not Possible on Farm.

Mr. J. A exsmith said, "If the eight-hour day is applied to city industries you won't have a baker's dozen of young men on the farms." He was in sympathy with short hours for the workers, but thought the eight-hour day under present conditions impossible.

Hon. W. S. Fielding could see no good reason for dividing the House on the matter. Canada had already given a broad general expression in favor of the eight-hour day. The next step it seemed, should be the introduction of a bill along the lines indicated by the Government. He understood that the Government was obligated to do this.

Major D. L. Redman expressed doubt as to whether it was a matter of Federal jurisdiction, saying that under the British North America Act it would appear to rest with the Provinces.

Can Government Do It?

Before going any further in a matter of this kind, said Hon. Mackenzie King, it, it was important to learn just what were the Government's rights in regard to enforcing an eight-hour day law. Before any further discussion took place the Government should place itself in a position to inform the House just where its rights ended.

John Best, Dufferin, said that men would not remain to work on the farms when they could get bigger pay and shorter hours in the cities. Young and middle-aged men were giving up their farms because of this. It was becoming increasingly harder to secure farm labor and a law of the nature proposed would tend to reduce production of foodstuffs in Canada.

THE DON RIVER IS ON THE RAMPAGE

(Canadian Press.)

TORONTO, March 12.—This city's famous Don river, whose banks are now crowded with railway tracks and factories is to-day overflowing, following the ice break-up, and serious damage has already been done to railway properties. C.P.R. and C.N.R. railway traffic from the north and east is interrupted as a result.

NEW HUNGARIAN PEACE TREATY

(Canadian Press.)

LONDON, March 12—New Hungarian peace treaty has been definitely agreed upon by peace conference and placed in hands of drafting committee, which has gone to Paris. It is expected treaty will be completed within week. Territorial terms against which Hungary protested so vigorously remain unchanged, but various economic concessions have been granted.

CONGRESS AGAINST ANY DIRECT ACTION

(Canadian Press.)

LONDON March 12.—Many labor leaders declare that decision of Trades Union Congress against direct action over mine nationalization has averted a general election. The Government, they say would have gladly waived this issue to appeal to country. In any case, Congress was utterly hostile to such action. Speeches of J. H. Thomas and J. R. Clynes, urging that political action had never yet been fully tried, received the willing assent of Congress.

PUTS THE BLAME ON THE FARMERS

Mr. J. H. Burnham telegraphs The Examiner as follows:

The Burnham national eight-hour working day resolution, although embodying the request of the peace conference of the League of Nations and the Labor Conference at Washington, was talked over to another day by the farmers in parliament again last night. They put up a strenuous fight. The Minister of Labor says that beyond all doubt the eight-hour day should be adopted as the national working day. It is plain it will never go through parliament and become law until Labor sends enough members pledged to it.

J. H. BURNHAM.

The Reds Defeated

MANY PRISONERS AND A NUMBER OF GUNS CAPTURED BY THE POLES.

OFFICIAL REPORTS

(Canadian Press.)

WARSAW, March 12.— Staff communication issued by Polish army says: "Bolsheviki having concentrated great forces, attacked Wednesday in a section between Lake Oswega and River Dvina. After a sharp struggle and use of reserves, Poles repulsed the attack north of Mozier, surrounding and completely defeating the Reds, taking eight guns and artillery park and a great number of prisoners."

CONFIRMS THE APPOINTMENT OF MR. CORKERY

Mr. J. H. Burnham, M.P., wires the Examiner as follows:—

Ottawa, Ont., March 11.

Examiner, Peterboro.

"In answer to my question on order paper the Government states that Mr. Corkery has been appointed postmaster.

J. H. BURNHAM."

It is several weeks since the Examiner first announced the appointment of Mr. Corkery but the powers that be for some reason or another has seen fit to withhold the official announcement from Mr. Corkery himself.

Mr. Corkery has received from the Deputy Postmaster General official notification of his appointment to the Postmastership in Peterboro.

THE IMPORTATION OF LUXURIES MAY BE CONTEMPLATED

(Canadian Press.)

OTTAWA, March 12.—Measures to curtail the importation of luxuries, it is rumored here, may be the feature of the next budget proposals. There has been some discussion of the matter, it is understood, but so far the government has not reached a decision. Reports from Washington that the government is contemplating embargo on importation of non-essentials are stated to be without foundation. The government it was officially stated to-day, has reached no such definite conclusion, and in any event action decided upon would not be announced before the budget is submitted to Parliamet.

W. F. O'CONNOR CLAIMS WHOLESALERS ARE NOT MAKING LARGE PROFITS

A SHORTAGE IN CASH ACCOUNTS

(Special to The Examiner.)

WINNIPEG, Man., March 12.—Before the Manitoba Legislature's Public Accounts committee this afternoon, G. W. Michie, former accountant of Land Titles Department, stated in his examination that during his tenure of office shortages amounting to $2,900 in cash accounts occurred in Land Titles office. This was due to employees of that department securing I.O.U.'s and failing to repay them, he said.

Member Talbot—"Is it the custom in Government departments for civil servants to secure I. O.U.'s?"

Mr. Michie—"Yes, they take them in all departments."

HOUSING REPORT BEFORE COUNCIL FOR DISCUSSION

COMMISSION HAS BEEN INVITED TO CONFER WITH COMMITTEE.

The first serious discussion of Peterborough's participation in the Ontario housing scheme will take place to-night when the City's Housing Commission will meet the committee of the Whole Council. Mr. F. H. Dobbin's report of the success of housing schemes in other cities was presented to the aldermen two weeks ago, and is presumably thoroughly digested by this time. The Council probably approaches this problem with an open mind, realizing on the one hand the increasing demand for accommodation and on the other the higher costs of material and labour.

The opinions of the members may reflect the Toronto Housing Commission which in its report to the Board of Control advises against a building programme for this year, stating that because of the high costs "if purchasers pay ten per cent. the security would be inadequate for the amount owing and with the return to normal times the houses would be abandoned and fall back into the hands of the city."

The local commission reviews the success that other cities accomplished last year, while Peterborough was inactive. The Council's discussion will doubtless bring out the local prospects, and in many quarters it is hoped that some means will be found of proceeding, a policy however limited it may be.

GIVES FIVE TYPICAL CASES--THE DIFFICULTIES OF THE CORNER GROCERIES.

LARGE DISCOUNTS

(Special to the Examiner)

HAMILTON, March 12.—Commissioner W. F. O'Connor, President of the Board of Commerce now probing the activities of the Alleged wholesale grocers combine administered a complete coat of white wash to the wholesalers as regards any suggestion that may be entertained by the public, that these merchants are profiteers.

The Commissioner prefaced today's hearings with a full statement to this effect, by reading into the court record the financial statements of five different wholesalers whose cases he considered typical. His summing up of the wholesalers business was that they might better have closed their doors as they could have secured a greater return on their money had it been invested in ordinary securities.

Mr. O'Connor's Statement

Mr. O'Connor's statement was as follows:

"As there may be an impression in the Public mind that the Board is sitting because of excessive profits made by certain wholesaler grocers and in justice to the wholesalers the Board feels it necesary of itself, and without any request or communication from the wholesale grocers and also in view of what has been heard from those in opposition to the Organized Wholesale Grocers, that the public should not be given a wrong impression of the exact situation.

"The Board has in its possession, gathered from coast to coast, the most intimate detail of the profits of the Wholesale Grocers in Canada, practically everyone of them. I may say that the Board has never found it necessary to confine its attention to the Wholesale Grocers, who are members of the Wholesale Grocers Association. These returns are unquestionably reliable because they extend back to 1913, and include the annual statements prepared for the shareholders of these companies, before there was any movement to establish this board to inquire into their business. These statements properly connected up with the previous ones issued disclose a condition with which the public should be apprised in Justice to the gentlemen involved. For that reason I have brought here this morning five typical cases which include one or more Hamilton grocers which are involved in this present investigation. I shall give no names nor shall I mention which are from Hamilton. These were selected from the returns of hundreds of cases. I wish to have them placed upon the record of the board to show the statement of profits.

A Startling Result.

"They disclose a very startling result. This result is that it would have paid the wholesale grocers better to have kept their doors closed.

Case Number One.

This firm did a gross business of $1,300,000 per annum. Capital invested $800,000. Cost of business done, 11 1-4%. The amount interested parties draw for their remuneration is three quarters of one per cent. per annum. Net profits on business done 1 1-2%; gross profit

An Unwashed Boy.

Temple was at first much disturbed at the standard of cleanliness required in the Home and protested vigorously and forcibly the first time he was put into the bath tub. He explained to us that at home he never washed more than his hands and face, not even his neck and ears, the limitation of territory being strictly defined and scrupulously observed! But having become accustomed to the new and strange order of things he has settled down very happily with the other children and he is doing well at school. We hope he has a brighter time before him than he has had in the past.

S. S. Strathcona.

She was built at Dartmouth, England, in 1898-99. She was launched and I steamed her to Great Yarmouth, England, for her fittings to be put in by the Mission's own wharf in 1899. In 1900, though only 84 feet long, she sailed out to Labrador, under her own steam.

She was built of soft steel plates of one inch only in thickness. This was to allow her sides to dent and not to crack if she struck any of the immerging charted or uncharted Labrador reefs. She has struck many and never leaked. For twenty years she has kept watch and ward all along that coast during the season of open water. She has been the unifying link of our scattered stations. She has carried patients, orphans, wrecked people, derelicts, supplies, logs and has rendered help to literally thousands. A slow rusting process under her cabin lining made it imperative for us to strip her last year and chip the plates. In the small after cabin alone over 1,000 pounds by weight of iron rust was removed. The frame work was very much thinned. So sharp had the edges of some of the uprights become they would easily cut one. The damage is only in places and the repairs will only need to be partial. But she weeps a little through or between the plates, and her rivets are also in place flat to the side, their heads rusted right off. Her boilers deck houses and fittings are all good. Her size and draught is just what we need for the work, but she is very slow, never steaming over seven knots an hour. She needs also some new sails, especially topsails to speed her on her journey. When we left last year the surveyor said "Boys, go one more year as you are driven for time, but do not lean against the wharves at low water." Who will help to make her new sails?

FIGHT SMUT AND SCAB

Treat Wheat, Oat and Potato Seed Before Planting.

A Dilution of Formalin or Formaldehyde Recommended, by Immersion or Sprinkling — Corrosive Sublimate Also Used for Potato Scab.

(Contributed by Ontario Department of Agriculture, Toronto.)

GREAT losses frequently occur through the prevalence of smuts in the grain crops. Numerous experiments have been conducted in the Field Husbandry Department at the College in years past in making a practical application of the treatments recommended for killing the smut in grain. As the result of five years' experiments with five treatments with wheat and seven treatments with oats it was found that very complete work was obtained by immersing the grain for twenty minutes in a solution made by mixing one pint of formalin or forty per cent. formaldehyde in forty-two gallons of water.

In preparing wheat for treatment care should be taken to separate the broken smut balls from the wheat, either by cleaning the grain or by placing the seed in water and removing the smut balls as they float on the surface. Not only is it necessary to treat the grain but the formalin solution should be used to kill the smut spores which are lodged in the bins, on the barn floors, on the bags, in the grain drills or wherever the living spores have an opportunity of again coming in contact with the grain.

The immersion process is so complete in its results that it does not need to be repeated every year, providing care is exercised to prevent a further introduction of the smut spores.

The sprinkling process was also used in the test, and this method is followed by some farmers. It needs to be conducted with great care, however, or the smut will not all be destroyed, and as a result it is frequently necessary to treat the grain every year. One of the best sprinkling methods is to carefully moisten twenty-five bushels of wheat or of oats and by shovelling the grain over on a barn floor when it is being sprinkled with a mixture of one pint of formalin and from fifteen to twenty-one gallons of water. When the grain is uniformly moistened it should be covered with bags or blankets for three or four hours and then spread out to dry. Varying quantities should be treated proportionately.—Dr. C. A. Zavitz, O. A. College, Guelph.

A COTTAGE FOR REV. JAS. ROLLINS

It is understood that Greenhurst will experience a building boom this year, Mr. J. Glass, the Lindsay contractor, having received contracts to erect a number of cottages, including two for Rev. James Rollins, Presbyterian minister of Peterborough, one for Conductor Bullick, of Toronto one for Mr. McClore of Toronto, and others.

He also has the contract to erect a large dancing pavilion and store for Mr. Martin Thurston.

Mr. Glass also intends to do some building at Pleasant Point, as well as carry out a number of renovations to cottages.—Lindsay Warder.

MR. BARBER ENTIRELY SATISFIED WITH THE BRIDGE CONDITIONS

After an examination of the Hunter street bridge work to-day, Mr. Frank Barber, the designing engineer, expressed himself as entirely satisfied with the progress that has been made and also with the hardpan formation for the piers of the long arch.

Referring to Mr. W. FitzGerald's letter and the affidavits of ex-Mayor Duncan and Ald. Phelan, to the effect that Mr. Barber had declared last year that the arch should be built only on solid rock, Mr. Barber remarked that he might have made the statement and that in the interest of economy it was obvious that a rock foundation was most desirable. He did ot mean however that a rock base was absolutely necessary. With the existing soil foundation the plans had to be changed slightly to provide for the broader pier base.

Mr. Barber stated that he had every confidence in the subsoil formation. In regard to the winter's work he replied to another criticism that had been heard here and there, that it would have been cheaper to shut down the plant at the beginning of winter.

This Mr. Barber pointed out would have caused the disruption of the staff that had been gathered together last year, an would also have delayed the work.

Mr. Barber said he was satisfied with the progress during the winter and added that the contractor was in a good position to push the work along this spring and summer.

BRIGADIER-GENERAL HUGHES WELCOMED

LINDSAY, March 12.—Brigadier-General Garnet, Hughes, D. S. O. arrived in Lindsay last night, per C. P. R. and was given a hearty welcome The Citizens' Band, Boy Scouts with bugle band, and a large number of citizens were at the station and the General was greeted with cheers as he stepped from the train. He was then escorted to the home of his parents, Sir Sam and Lady Hughes on Glenelg street.

BODIES WERE SENT TO WRONG PARTIES

It is reported that by a serious mix-up at the Portsmouth Penitentiary the bodies of deceased prisoners that were ordered sent to their former homes for interment at the expense of their families were forwarded to the wrong parties. There was much suprise when a telegram was received from Collingwood informing them that the wrong body had been sent. But more unfortunate still was the fact that the right body could not be sent, as it had been disposed of for the purpose of anatomy study at a medical college, as required by the statute, when no relatives or friends claim the body of a deceased prisoner.

WARNING TO LOAFERS

Police Magistrate Major A. E. Hind of Oshawa, intends taking forcible measures to clean up the town of day and night loafers. Realizing that there is plenty of work for all men who are able and willing to work, in the police court on Monday, he instructed Chief of Police Friend to gather in all street loiterers and those who are unable to give a proper account of their business at a late hour. He stated that there are too many young men about town living an idle life and any of this class that were brought before him, he would deal sharply with.

Reduce Your Fat Without Dieting

Years ago the formula for fat reduction was "diet"—"exercise." To-day it is "Take Marmola Prescription Tablets." Friends tell friends—doctors tell their patients, until thousands know and use this convenient, harmless method. They eat what they like, live as they like, and still lose their two, three or four pounds of fat a week. Simple, effective, harmless. Marmola Prescription Tablets are sold by all druggists—a large case for $1. Or if you prefer you may write direct to the Marmola Company, 864 Woodward Ave., Detroit, Mich.

Bank Fixes Marriage Rule

Chicago Reserve Restricts Clerks Paid Less Than $125 Monthly.

CHICAGO—A book of rules for employes of the Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago says: "No male employe receiving less than $125 a month salary will be permitted to marry while in the service of this bank, without first taking the matter up with the chief clerk."

"The sum set in the book is the minimum on which an employe can risk a matrimonial venture," said C. R. McKay, Vive-Governor of the bank, who added that the rule was "imperative."

"The bank officials believe that is the least sum on which two may live in these days," he said.

BIRTHRATE OF AMERICAN FAMILIES IS IN DECLINE

Economic Conditions and Marriages Late in Life Are Held Responsible.

NEW YORK—The birth rate of families of native American stock is on the decline and in danger of reaching zero within a few generations, if statistics compiled by students of Mount Holyoke can be given credence. Dr. Amy Hewes, professor of economics and sociology at Mount Holyoke, directed the investigation, which was made public yesterday by the alumnae committee, 150 Nassau street.

The families of the undergraduates at Mount Holyoke were taken as a basis of the study as representative of native American stock. Less than 1 per cent. of the students were foreign-born, while 82 per cent. were native-born of native parents.

Data were obtained from 620 families of the students as to the number of children of their own mothers, of their grandmothers on the maternal side.

The report shows that, while the average number of children in the families of the great-grandmothers was 6.19 and in the grandmothers' families 5.09, the number shrunk to 3.15 in the mothers' families.

"The average number of children in the families of the present generation," the report reads, "was found to be slightly in excess of three, which is only a little more than half of the average number of children in the grandmothers' generation. If a similar decrease should take place for another two generations, the average number of children would be less than one."

The cause of the decline in birth rate Professor Hewes attributes to the economic conditions and to marriages late in life. The most general cause she finds to be the emphasis upon a higher standard of living and the conditions which make increased effort necessary to realize that standard.

Professor Hewes offers a radical solution for the problem of the declining birth rate. She suggests that the obstacle of marriages late in life could be removed to a large extent if the wife continued to work after marriage, thus adding to the income of the family.

BEWAILS ALLIED SHIPS CROWDING HAMBURG

Captain Persius Pessimistic Over Return of German Merchant Flag to Sea.

BERLIN.— Captain Persius, naval expert of the Berliner Tageblatt, discussing the position of Germany's mercantile marine, says:

"It will require much time and patience before we are again able to behold the German merchantman's flag on the high seas."

Captain Persius declares he finds it most depressing to observe the American, British and Japanese flags predominant in the port of Hamburg, which is now in the control of foreign shipping interests. He predicts an over-abundance of tonnage for all nations as a result of present building activities.

He maintains that the hope of Germany lies in the industrious efforts of her shipyard workers ,who, under present conditions, are able to turn out half a million tons annually. Of this, he says, 200,000 tons will be requisitioned by the Entente, assuming that the Allies insist on its surrender as provided in the Peace Treaty.

Suffered With Boils Past Five Years

Boils are simply a breaking out of bad blood and anyone who has suffered from them knows how sick and miserable they make you feel. Just when you think you are cured of one another, seems ready to take its place and prolong your misery. All the poulticing and lancing you can do will not get rid of them.

While the skin appears to be the cause of the irritation the real disease is rooted in the blood and to get rid of these painful pests it is necessary to get right at the seat of the trouble.

When the blood is purified, cleansed and vitalized by Burdock Blood Bitters, the boils will quickly disappear, you misery is at an end, and health and strength come back again.

Mr. Robert Johnson, Barkway, Ont., writees:—"I hav suffered very much, during the last five years from boils, having as many as five at once. I tried different remedies without any relief. I was advised to try Burdock Blood Bitters which I did and after taking just one bottle I have had no more boils."

FRIDAY, MARCH 12TH, 1920.

AFTER A NEW RECORD.

The people of West Peterborough can scarcely claim that they are silently represented at Ottawa. Mr. J. H. Burnham M.P., who is described by the Toronto Star as the Peterborough philosopher, gets his name into Hansard almos tas regularly as does the Speaker. The Federal member for this riding evidently had a field day yesterday when he discussed among other things the fuel situation, the high cost of living and the eight hour day. During the debate on the address from the throne he contributed a speech on prohibition, the Farmers' party and several other items, so that with the session hardly under way, Mr. Burnham must already be far in the lead in so far as the number of subjects he has discussed is concerned. If he maintains his present average he will establish a record during the present session that will surpass his previous efforts, and although one newspaper despatch yesterday pointed out that Mr. Burnham "found it pretty hard sledding" talking to an almost empty House, yet he will bob up just as serenely the next time an opportunity presents itself. And in the meantime he will keep his name in Hansard by asking question.

A NATIVE SON.

One of the outstanding Canadian men of finance Edward R. Wood was born at Peterborough, Ont., in 1866. Mr. Wood was educated at Peterborough and became a telegraph operator. In 1884 he went to the Central Canada Loan and Savings Co., was eventually raised to the position of vice-president and managing director and in 1914 he was elected president, a position which he still holds.

Mr. Wood resides at Toronto and is connected with many social and charitable activities. He is chairman of the board of governors of Grace Hospital regent of Victoria University, director and past president of Toronto Central Y.M.C.A., honorary treasurer of Toronto and York County Patriotic Fund and was chairman of the Dominion Executive Committee of Canada's 1918 Victory Loan.

In addition to the presidency of the Central Canada Loan and Savings Co., he is president of the Dominion Securities Corporation, vice-president of the National Trust Co., a director of the Dominion Steel Corporation and connected with may of the leading financial and industrial projects in the dominion.—Journal of Commerce.

THE G.W.V.A. CONVENTION.

The citizens of Peterborough will be glad to learn that the local officials of the G.W.V.A. are satisfied that they have secured sufficient accommodation for the delegates who will be in attendance at the G.W.V.A. Provincial convention here next week and that therefore the one doubtful feature that threatened to interfere with the success of the convention has been removed. The gathering of war veterans promises to be a record one, with an attendance just twenty times as large as at the first annual covention in 1917. The citizens are urged — although it is scarcely necessary to urge them—to extend the heartiest of welcomes to the soldier delegates who will represent the many thousands of fighting men who left Ontario to battle for the Empire overseas. In honoring the visitors next week Peterborough will be honoring the whole body of Ontario's soldiers, and the delegates should be made to feel that the city is theirs during their stay. It will be a notable gathering and the people of Peterborough should do their part in making the occasion a memorable one.

THE LEGISLATURE.

There is every evidence that Premier Drury and his associates are to be given a fair oportunity to carry on their work in the Legislature in so far as the members of the old parties are concerned. While a combination of the Liberal and Conservative members in the House would make conditions decidedly awkward for the government there is no possibility of any such development taking place, and under the circumstances the Drury Cabinet will have a free hand in putting into effect their programme of legislation. However, the members of the old parties can be of great service to the province if they will use their parliamentary experience in constructively criticizing the legislation that is to be introduced. The people of the province desire the new government to be given a chance to make good and will resent opposition that is on the face of it, only designed for purposes of political gain. But the representatives of the Liberal and Conservative parties in the House if they rise to the occasion and employ their greater training in parliamentary usuages in ironing out the defects in some of the measures that are brought before the Legislature will be meeting the responsibilities of their position in a statesmanlike manner. It is not expected that every piece of legislation, no matter how sincere may be the motives of those responsible for it, wil be perfect, and Messrs. Dewart and Ferguson, and the men who follow them, can be of much assistance to the province in helping to remove the weak spots.

THE CANADIAN NAVY.

The report of Admiral Jellicoe, on the question of naval construction for Canada, which has been presented to Parliament, contains no fewer than four programmes which Viscount Jellicoe suggests as more or less meeting the needs of the situation so that the Admiral has given Parliament a wide field for discussion. The cost of the different schemes range from $5,000,000 a year to $25,000,000 a year, and two of the plans are of such a nature that the Canadian fleet could not only defend the shores of Canada and protect Canadian trade but would also be of assistance to the defence of the Empire as a whole. The other schemes which are of course less costly, provide for a fleet organization sufficient only for the local defence of Canada. All the plans submitted by Viscount Jellicoe are, it is noticeable, an approval of the naval policy of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, altered of course to meet the changed conditions that exist today. He recommends local administration and control of the Canadian navy based on a plan of co-operation with the British Admiralty. A Canadian Navy Board is also recommended by the Admiral, who declares that the expenditure of ten millions a year would only enable Canada to defend her own coasts. The task of driving the enemy from the seas would have to be assumed by the British navy. As for the five million dollar a year plan, the minimum suggested by Viscount Jellicoe, he does not regard it as even sufficient for a beginning for it would mean that to protect Canadian ports and trade the British Admiralty would have to supplement the fleet called for under the plan by the addition of three light cruisers, a flotilla leader and a submarine parent ship.

MANVERS MAN WINS AN ALIENATION CASE

An interesting case, the hearing of which was awaited with interest by a great many and which was slated for the Supreme Court Sittings in Liudsay this week, has been settled out of court. It is an action by D. V. VanKoughnet, of Manvers township, against Thos. E. Staples, formerly of that township, but now of Port Nelson, Ont., for alienation of his wife's affections. The relations had their culmination on Oct. 20th last, the date of the Provincial election, when defendant took plaintiff's wife away in an auto to Port Nelson, where he had bought property. A short time afterwards, plaintiff, through his solicitors, Bradford & Scott, Lindsay, issued a writ for substantial damages for alienating his wife's affections. The case was set for hearing at the jury sittings, but the defendant came across with $3,000 to settle the action. Bell & Pringle, Hamilton, looked after the interests of defendant.

SANDRA THE JEALOUS

BY JANE PHELPS

SANDRA FLINGS TRUTHS AT HER HUSBAND

CHAPTER LXX

I was only a child, spoiled and jealous, high-spirited and reckless. Things had happened so swiftly; so much had been if not disagreeable, yet not quite pleasant, that I was discouraged and bitterly unhappy.

Naturally curious, my curiosity had only been whetted concerning Everett's first wife instead of satisfied. Had he taken me in his arms and told me of her, explained that he had loved her, but now he loved me too, I think—I am not sure—that we would have been spared much sorrow.

I felt hurt and chagrined when he said I was not to receive any men callers. He had no slightest reason to think I cared for any one save him, and when a man called to inquire if I had recovered from the shock and fright of an accident, he hadn't even felt grateful for the courtesy—simply said I was not to receive him, that Hetty could convey my messages.

Well, I would receive them, just as Leola did. I was determined to pattern my life after hers as nearly as my knowledge of her would permit, simply because I had been told that Everett loved her so passionately that he could deny her nothing, nor could he find fault with anything she did. At least, he did not because he feared if he did, she might leave him, so independent was she.

I did not know that Walter Kemp was a young man whose name had acquired an unpleasant notoriety in Hendon because of his philandering ways with women—regardless of whether they were married or not. I do not know that it would have made any difference if I had. I thought of him only as related to the accident and treated him as I imagined Leola would have treated him. I was graciously polite, as I considered it, nothing more.

The days after Everett came home were exciting ones. He had a detective take a list of all the burglar had stolen He had the servants all called together so the man could question them. Thomas was not quite as well, and the hospital called up to inform us. James was restless, and needed attention from Mrs. Gray. Altogether we were a disorganized household, and I knew that Everett blamed me as the cause. He had said:

"Had you obeyed me and remained at home, instead of attempting to go with me when I had said I would not take you, none of all this would have happened. You only took Hetty to see her friend as an excuse to do something you knew I would not approve. The accident followed. If you had not bought a ticket that burglar might not have gotten away with the jewels. And"—

"I suppose I am to blame because the burglar came at all," I pouted.

"Do be reasonable. I am blaming you for nothing you might not have avoided had you obeyed me."

"My father doesn't talk of 'obeying' to Mother. He did it to me because I was only a child—he thought. But if I was old enough to be married, I am old enough to do as I like as long as I do nothing wrong." I had rehearsed this little speech until I knew it by heart. And had only waited for a chance to deliver it. I was sure it would make Everett angry, but I was not prepared for what I saw in his face.

"You are incapable of judgin what IS right or what is wrong."

"Thank you!" His reply stung me to add: "From what I hear, you were not so severe with your first wife. You might have cared a lot more for her than you do for me. Everyone says you let her do anything she wanted to. Even that old Mr. Harrison, who was at Alice Sloan's last dinner, told Alice he supposed you had married me because I resembled her. Maybe you think it is pleasant to hear such things all the time. I'd like to run away somewhere where no one lived who knew I was 'Number Two' as he called me." In desperation I had run on, saying much more than I had intended, or was wise.

"You might be called a worse name." Everett was grayly white with anger. "Go to your room at once and remain until you can at least avoid breaking all the rules of good taste."

"You'd break them too if I had been married before and people called you—'Number Two!' "I fairly exploded the words—then almost ran from the room.

TEMPERATURES OF AIR

The Atmosphere and its Relation to Agriculture.

High and Low Temperatures Sometimes Beneficial and Sometimes Hurtful — Old Sol the Primary Source of Heat and Light — An Interesting Study of Air — Live Stock Notes.

(Contributed by Ontario Department of Agriculture, Toronto.)

ATMOSPHERIC temperature has ever been a matter of much concern to agriculturalists. A high temperature, although necessary and beneficial in some cases, is detrimental in others, but in each case requires a liberal amount of precipitation. On the other hand the destructive frost of late spring and early autumn is an unpleasant but frequent visitor to the agriculturalist. Man has harnessed much of nature and made it his servant, but as yet no one can say that man can control the atmospheric temperature, although he may modify it in a few instances or overcome some of its disastrous effects.

The primary source of all heat is the sun. Old Sol shines and heat and light travels the intervening 92,900,000 miles of space with a velocity of 186,000 miles per second. Some of this heat is absorbed in its transit by dust particles, water-vapor and the temperature of the air in contact with it. The latter has the greater effect on air temperature.

Local conditions have a great effect on temperature. Water requires about five times the quantity of heat to raise it's temperature one degree as does soil, thus large water areas tend to prevent high temperatures. Also, as there is always slow evaporation and it requires about 300 times as much heat to evaporate one gallon of water as to raise its temperature one degree, the temperature is kept more moderate. Large swamp and bush areas free large quantities of water to the atmosphere as well as retaining the spring water longer in the country and consequently has a moderating effect.

Frosts are also prevented by water, swamp and bush areas, because they produce a high humidity and are not so readily cooled as large land areas. Air of high humidity acts as a better blanket as it wets, than the dry air. Also the temperature at which dew is formed is higher and the lowering of the temperature may be sufficiently arrested to eliminate any danger of frosts.

The type of agriculture in any section is decided by its air temperature. Any new crops which are imported must first become acclimatized to that section before they are a success. Winter cereal crops of Ontario and hay crops are not affected by extremely low temperatures unless growth is started by warm weather followed by low temperature or by heaving of the soil about the roots. Late spring and early fall frosts cause much damage. If the temperature does not drop below 26 deg. F. only the tenderest vegetation suffers, but if below it wholesale destruction results. High temperatures cause strong evaporation from the leaves of plants and thus the need of a large amount of precipitation to prevent stunting or death itself.

In a pamphlet by A. J. Connor, of the Meteorological Office, Toronto, an interesting relation between the growth and yield of wheat and the temperature is set forth. Both yield and growth are increased by a low temperature and a low range in temperature. A critical period appears to exist in the latter part of the 90 days following sowing, and if the weather in this period be warm, dry, with great temperature range, the wheat plants will head quickly and the harvest be light; but if the cool moist conditions exist heading will be postponed and the yield increased. Thus it remains a matter of seeding at the proper time to insure the cool moist weather in the critical period. In the Western Provinces the sowing is early, namely, the last of April, throwing the critical period about the middle of July, the variability of the temperature of which is the critical factor. However, the rule there is the earlier the better, while in Ontario we are unable to sow spring wheat sufficiently early to procure that desired cool, moist weather, nor can it be obtained by late sowing.

All cereals are best adapted to the temperate regions and especially those of low temperature and small temperature range. Consequently the above temperature effect is applicable to all. Fruits as a rule require a higher temperature region, but not a high-temperature range. Many fruits, however, have a wide distribution and is the result of variety.—R. C. Moffatt, O. A. College, Guelph.

Live Stock Notes.

This is the time of year when horses are in danger of getting too much hay and too little exercise. Idle horses will keep in much better condition if given regular exercise, and if their supply of hay is wisely restricted.

Stables that are well ventilated and lighted, even though on the cold side, are more comfortable and more healthful than dark, steamy, warm stables.

Young cattle and breeding stock of beef breeds enjoy a short outdoor run every day during winter, and treatment of this kind promotes health.

Breeding ewes must have abundant exercise if vigorous, healthy lambs are looked for.

Good alfalfa or clover hay, with about four pounds roots, or two or three pounds of silage, per ewe, per day, makes a good ration.

New Standards of Value

$1365 F.O.B. CHATHAM WAR TAX EXTRA GRAY-DORT

Gray-Dort has brought peace-time standards of value to the motor car business. Greater value than the light car has heretofore offered. $1365 brings you a car comparable with those costing several hundred dollars more.

LOOK FOR THESE THINGS IN THE CAR YOU BUY

The Gray-Dort motor is big enough for its job—not stunted—3⅛" bore and 5" stroke—with big water jackets and a big, honeycomb radiator. The crankshaft is husky—many pounds heavier than other builders of light cars think necessary. The pistons are extra-light and three-ringed. Special design prevents valve-warping. High-carbon steel gives toughness to moving parts.

The carburetor is a Carter—improved this year. Westinghouse starting and lighting. Connecticut ignition (newly improved).

The whole chassis parallels the motor in quality. Heavy frame of channel steel. Husky rear axle, Chatham-built. Long springs, cantilever in the rear, and built here under our inspection. The big brakes now have Thermoid lining. A new steering gear, 50% larger and stronger than the light car standard.

The Gray-Dort is as pleasing to the artist and to the driver as it is to the mechanic.

The smooth lines of the body are restful after so much of the extreme in present-day cars. The Gray-Dort finish, development of 60 years' coach-building, will win your instant, and lasting approval. Add the smartness of French-pleated upholstery, and a new top, tailored in our own shops.

The big gasoline tank is now in the rear—for good-looks and convenience. As in big cars, the emergency brake is on a lever, the side-curtains open with the doors. A shorter, smarter cowl gives more room in the driving compartment. The new hood, with its many long, narrow louvres has a touch of European smartness.

AND YET THE PRICE IS $1365,

(PLUS WAR TAX)

You know that such a car as the Gray-Dort will be in heavy demand at $1365. We have doubled our production this year. But there is likely to be a shortage. See the Gray-Dort dealer now.

PRICES

The Gray-Dort 5-passenger car, finished in Gray-Dort green and black and with standard equipment is $1365 f.o.b. Chatham. War tax extra.

The roomy 2-passenger roadster is the same price.

THE GRAY-DORT SPECIAL

For the man who wishes something a little extra in his car, we have built the Gray-Dort Special. Maroon body, with brown rayntite top. Plate glass rear window. Gipsy curtains. Rookie tan wheels. Motometer. Tilting steering wheel. Real leather upholstery. Mahogany instrument board. Just the touches which lift this car above the ordinary. $150 extra on the standard.

AND THE ACE!

The Gray-Dort Ace—the most beautiful light car of to-day. Sapper green body with handsome California top to match.

Trouble Lamp and bull's-eye flashlight. Electric cigar lighter. Rear-vision mirror. Plate glass windows. Oversize, grooved-tread tires. This is the de luxe car for the man who does not wish to pile up a tremendous operating cost. $255 extra on the standard.

MADE IN CANADA

MRS. ALICE McCLUSKEY, prominent Lewiston woman, who says she wishes she could have gotten Tanlac twenty years ago, as it would have saved her lots of suffering. Declares she is now well and happy and that she wants everybody to know about it.

"I have been trying for twenty long years to find a medicine that would overcome my troubles, but my efforts failed me completely until I commenced taking Tanlac," was the remarkable statement made recently by Mrs. Alice McCluskey, residing at No. 66 Park Street, Lewiston, Me., a well-known and most highly respected woman of that city.

"I just feel like I would give the world to meet everyone who suffers as I did and tell them about this medicine. If I could only have gotten Tanlac twenty years ago it would have saved me a lot of suffering and money.

"My principal trouble was indigestion, and for many years I could not eat meat or pastries for I would always suffer afterward. I would most always have a distressed feeling after eating and nothing seemed to agree with me. Then, to add to the rest of my suffering, I contracted rheumatism in my shoulders and hips and the awful pains I suffered can never be told in words. This trouble finally got so bad I could hardly walk and my arms pained me so I could scarcely raise my hands to my head. I even had to give up my housework and was hardly able to get around at all.

"You can imagine how happy I was when, after taking only a few bottles of Tanlac, I found such a wonderful improvement in my condition! Why, it was just the medicine I needed all the time and I continued taking it until now I am perfectly well again. I can truthfully say that I am enjoying as good health now as I ever had in all my life. I have gained about 14 pounds in weight and can again do all my housework without the least trouble. I don't get tired like I did and after doing my work I can get out and walk for blocks and feel just fine when I get back home. I earnestly advise every one who suffers as I did to take Tanlac."

Tanlac is sold in Peterborough by W. B. Warne Drug Co., Ltd., in Havelock by A. C. Denike, in Lakefield by Tanner Drug Co., Ltd., in Fowlers Corner by W. A. Hunter, in Gelert by A. J. Scott, in Westwood by G. Pringle & Son.

Clever Hubby.

"The man who can meet emergencies, who can rise to the occasion, is the man who will succeed," declares Charles M. Schwab, "like the chap who was one evening suddenly confronted by a discontented wife. She said:

"'Before we were married you used to bring me flowers every day, but now you never think of getting me even a bunch of violets.'

"'But, my dear,' he protested without a second's hesitation, 'the pretty flower girls don't attract me now as much as they used to.'

"And, of course, she told him that on second thought she really didn't care for flowers."

ALLENBY'S ARAB ALLY

ROMANTIC STORY OF EMIR FEISAL OF DAMASCUS.

He Was the Man Who Co-operated With Col. Lawrence In Carrying on Guerilla Warfare Against Turks and Germans, and He Is Now Taking Deep Interest In the Future of His Country.

THE public career of Emir Feisal has been brief but eventful. He is the second son of King Hussein, the Sherrif of Mecca, and he traces his lineage back to Mahomet. Until quite recently Prince Feisal led a quiet life at the court of his father, but when Col. Lawrence gathered together the Arab forces, with a view of co-operating with Gen. Allenby's army, it was he who volunteered to lead his faithful Moslem followers to whatever might be in store for them.

Emir Feisal was not slow to seize his opportunity, but not only did he lend the tremendous weight of his moral support but he actually directed military operations in the field.

He set forth with an unbounded faith and in the most adverse circumstances. His only means of communication with the Egyptian expeditionary force was by airplane, and a broad strip of country held by the Turks divided him from the British forces. His regular army numbered only 30 horsemen, but he believed in the justice of his cause and hoped to gather support on his journey northward. His task was hardly lightened by the fact that Col. Lawrence was known to be with him and the German authorities had placed a price of £20,000 upon his head.

There was only one course open to him, and that was to harass the enemy by means of a persistent guerilla warfare. The men under his command, fired by the enthusiasm of their royal leader, were admirably suited to this task; while mounted on native ponies they travelled quickly and raided the railways and other places of importance without mercy. By the time the Turks had collected an adequate force to deal with the new invader, Emir Feisal had planted his gayly colored standard in the security of the hills.

As time progressed and the Arab forces had increased to some 10,000 men, the prince made more ambitious and very daring attempts to cut off a portion of the Turkish army and join hands with the British allies in the Jordan Valley. The task proved too great, and on two occasions he had to retreat with his men, whose hopes and patience were being severely tested.

Damascus, the crown of their brightest dreams, was still some 300 miles away, and the prospects of any territorial conquest seemed more and more remote. The tenacity of the man was clearly revealed in those days of waiting, and his faith in ultimate success did not waver for a moment. He used to say, "The British cause is just, and so is ours, and therefore we will win."

Early in October, 1918, he set out to strike his final blow. Gen. Allenby outflanked the Turks on the west, Emir Feisal marched as rapidly round the eastern flank. According to plan, the Arab forces were to meet a British cavalry division at Deaa, the most important railway junction east of the Jordan, on the 26th of October. As the division reached the top of the plateau on which Deaa was situated, they witnessed a never-to-be-forgotten sight; the sun had set, but the junction was a beacon that almost turned night into lay. It was the first sign of the Arab forces who had arrived early and set fire to the garrison.

The distance from there to Damascus was quickly covered, and Emir Feisal entered the ancient city of Saladin's tomb in triumph. Having quickly organized a temporary government, he began an extensive tour through Syria, in the course of which he visited Beirut, Moallaka, Baalbeck, Homs, Aleppo, from whence he returned to Damascus again, via Tripoli and Beirut.

It was generally expected that he would settle down there and attend to the affairs of the new Arab kingdom, but with great discretion he realised the futility of such an attempt. His boundaries were not yet defined, nor did he know exactly to what extent he could count on the diplomatic as well as active support of Great Britain in the future, and he meant to know.

Emir Feisal saw plainly the heavy task that lay before him, a task he knew to be too great unless he had the guarantee of foreign support, and with the simple directness that characterizes him, he stated quite openly that he would prefer to return to Mecca and leave Damascus in the hands of the allies, than to ruin his dearest hope of re-establishing Moslem rule there permanently, by attempting to hold the reins of government without the knowledge that the necessary power was forthcoming to establish his position.

So, with a view to ascertaining the precise state of affairs, he sailed to France with a twofold purpose in December, 1918. He went, as he said himself, firstly, to fit himself to receive and be received by the crowned heads of Europe, and their representatives, and, secondly, to do all in his power to obtain personal and political assistance from the country whose administration of Mohammadan territory he admired so much. And with this intention in mind, he may be found in Paris at the moment of writing.

Emir Feisal, in appearance, is a man who combines the intense picturesqueness of the East with a dignity too superb to have any special locality. His features are strong and simple, and expressive of the sincerity of his faith. He moves with a supple quiet grace, never jostled or jostling in anything he does, but for all that he seems possessed of a certain leonine agility. One feels sure that he can leap into a saddle with the same ease with which he performs the ritual of his daily prayer. He is, of course, a total abstainer.

Emir Feisal is a man whose heart is as generous as his hand, who desires to serve the best ideals of his race irrespective of any idea of personal gain; a man whose standard of living cannot but serve as an inspiration to all who come in contact with him, whose kingly appearance is but a shadow of the mind within, and a prince who has the heartiest wishes of success from all who have been privileged to know him.—Christian Science Monitor.

Reason For the Increase of Heart Disease In Dominion.

The coming census will strikingly show how, while the death rate from some diseases has greatly fallen off, it has steadily and rapidly risen from certain other maladies during the last few years.

Most noteworthy is the fact that heart disease has leaped to the front as the foremost cause of mortality in Canada, taking in this respect the place formerly held by tuberculosis.

There are now as many deaths from heart disease in this country per 1,000 of population as were attributable to tuberculosis twenty years ago. In the meantime mortality from the latter plague has so far lessened that fewer than sixty persons die of it where if killed eighty in 1900. But heart disease takes nearly eighty lives to-day where in 1900 it destroyed fifty.

Heart disease fifty years ago was a relatively rare malady. It has now become exceedingly common. Why? Physicians say that the increase is due to the excessive "drive" of Canadian life. The strain to which the heart is subjected is too great.

It is the some way with apoplexy, the death rate from which has risen steadily and fast during the last twenty years. And the cause is the same. A blood vessel breaks in the brain, and there you have it. Four people will die of apoplexy this year for every three that succumbed to it in 1900.

Again, it is the same way with kidney trouble. Bright's disease will kill four this year for every three that died of it in 1900. Too much drive; too much strain. Heart and kidneys work together; what affects one will almost surely affect the other.

Three people will die of cancer this year for every two that succumbed to this fell complaint in 1900. As a killer it is gaining ground much more rapidly than heart disease. Already it destroys nearly half as many lives as the latter, and it is going ahead by leaps and bounds.

But cancer is a problem all by itself. Nobody knows what causes it, or why it should spread and increase in the way it does. It is a total mystery—which makes it all the more horrible.

The decrease of tuberculosis is due to improved sanitation, the malady being typically infectious. Typhoid (thanks chiefly to preventive inoculation, but also to sanitary measures) has so diminished that only one person will die of it this year for every four killed by it in 1900.

The death rate from diphtheria has declined by two-thirds during the same period owing to the use of a specific antitoxin. Pneumonia has just about held its own. It is a disease hard to deal with, frequently following measles, or "flu" or other sickness. Commonly its germs are present in healthy mouths and throats, waiting for a chance to make an attack.

DO NOT EXPECT MANY NEW HOUSES IN WINDSOR THIS YEAR—RENTS HIGH.

WINDSOR, March 11.—With home building in Windsor practically at a standstill, because of increased costs of building material and alleged high prices being demanded for building lots, Ald. Samuel Keyser himself a builder and real estate operator, will ask the City Council Monday night to commence an investigation of alleged profiteering among the building materials merchants and real estate men.

During the first two weeks of this month only two permits for houses have been issued by Building Inspector Parker, who stated to-day that few houses will be built this year if present prices of building materials are maintained.

Workmen coming to the city cannot either rent or buy homes.

"Rents are too high in the first place," the Aldermen said, "and again it is impossible for workmen to buy, because a real estate men require too large a first payment."

cases ended in death! So a recent Canadian investigation showed. These were not cases of infectious diseases—of consumption—of typhoid! They were cases where a person had sustained some slight injury—a cut, a burn, a wire-prick—and where the wound, being thought not serious enough for careful treatment, had been neglected. Blood-poisoning and death resulted.

SHORT STORY

An Aristocratic Thief

By F. A. MITCHEL

My husband had been appointed United States military attache at Berlin and had gone there some time before me in order to secure a place to live against my coming. I was on my way there from Paris, traveling on a first class railway coach. Beside me sat a man, and before him sat another man, the two being evidently traveling companions, for they were talking very earnestly in German, a language I did not understand. Directly before me was a vacant seat, on which I tossed my hand bag. This was very careless of me, for it contained all the money I had with me.

I had been up late nights in Paris and was very tired and sleepy. I fell into a doze and from a doze into a sound sleep. More than an hour passed before I awoke, and when I did I found that the man who had been seated beside me was the only other person except myself in the compartment. He had changed his seat to one opposite me, next the window and was reading a periodical. Near him lay my bag, just where I had placed it. I opened it and looked for my pocketbook.

Now, I leave it to any woman if she on awakening from a slumber to find she had been robbed of money from a bag lying beside a man would not look up at him accusingly. The man's eyes were upon me, and my looks told him that I suspected him of stealing the money I had lost just as plainly as it could have been expressed in words. He looked frightened and said something to me in German, but he might as well have spoken in Sanskrit. Then he tried me in French. I can speak a little French, but can understand it scarcely at all. At any rate, I didn't catch what he had to say.

The man looked so cut up that I grew suspicious of him. But why he had not left the train with it while I was asleep I could only conjecture. Perhaps the train had not made a stop. He was not a cool thief by any means, for without my taking any action whatever he took out a roll of crisp bills and said to me in French:

"Combien?" ("How much?") which I understood was asking me the amount I had been robbed of. I held up one finger and said, "Mille francs," meaning that I had had 1,000 francs in my pocketbook. My money had been brand new, like the notes he held in his hand, and I did not doubt they were mine. I gathered that he preferred to return my money rather than have me call a guard at the next station and have him arrested. He counted the roll in his hand, and it amounted to exactly 1,000 francs. Then he handed it to me, saying something in French which I did not understand.

I was very glad to get my money back at all and especially so easily. When we reached the next station the thief looked at me anxiously and on seeing that I made no move to call any one to arrest him drew a long sigh of relief. This was the only stop we made till we reached Berlin, and when we rolled into the station and the coach door was opened by the guard the rascal jumped out and disappeared in a great hurry.

My husband had secured a house in the capital, had engaged servants and had everything ready not only for our comfort, but to enable us to entertain guests. Of course every one of the diplomatic corps must do more or less entertaining, and since I brought my husband a fortune and we were abundantly able to bear the expense we proposed to do our full share; but, of course, I must go through the preliminaries of being introduced at court.

All this had been attended to, and I was a full fledged member of Berlin society. The first important function I attended was a state ball at the palace. I was standing talking to a lady whose husband was a member of the diplomatic corps when I saw the emperor coming with a gentleman who was bedizened with decorations, the emperor laughing at something the latter was telling him. When they came near enough for me to distinguish their features the marrow froze in my bones. The man to whom the emperor was listening was the thief who had stolen, then returned, my money. I shrank away, but not in time. He saw me and the expression on his face denoted as much surprise as mine did consternation. Then he said something to the emperor, who looked at me with an expression of amused surprise.

Calling to a lady standing near me, the emperor and the thief talked to her, and it was evident that they were talking about me. Then the three approached me, and the lady, after making the required presentation, told me that the thief was Count Heinrich Schmieden, one of the emperor's most intimate friends. He had been telling his majesty of how a lady on a train had been robbed and how he rather than submit to arrest had paid over the amount stolen. Just as he had finished the story he espied me.

The matter was considered an admirable joke by the emperor and, indeed, by the count, who claimed that he had paid me the money not so much through fear of my having him arrested as the inconvenience I would be put to at not having any money for expenses. I doubted his gallantry, but gave him credit for it. The next morning my husband sent him a check for 1,000 francs.

The affair resulted in our receiving considerable attention from one of the most influential men in Berlin.

PLAN ENORMOUS DAM.

Ingenious Scheme to Heat Maritime Provinces.

Modern ingenuity has discovered a most efficient mode of heating houses in winter—that of hot water. Furnace and caldron are sometimes, in the case of hospitals or other large buildings, placed at a distance from the apartments to be warmed. In such cases pipes conduct heated water into the radiators and back again when cooled. Thus, cool water is continually entering the bottom of the caldron while heated water flows from the top. It is now proposed to apply the warm waters of the Gulf Stream to the eastern portions of Canada and the United States, that such regions might enjoy a more even temperature through out the year and permit a more luxurious vegetation.

The closing of the Straits of Belle Isle, which are about 11 miles wide at the narrowest point, thereby shutting out the Labrador current, the harbinger of Arctic blasts and the reason why St. Lawrence ports are closed during the winter months, would divert the "Cold Wall" to the Atlantic and allow the warm waters of the Torrid Zone to circulate freely around eastern shores. Such a change, it is thought, would increase the value of lands and natural resources by billions of dollars; would greatly improve living and public health conditions; would release vast quantities of fuel, now necessary for heating purposes, to be used in industry; would be the means of augmenting the population, commerce and revenues of Canada.

The project has been pronounced possible by engineers. The cost would be great, but nothing in comparison to the results to be gained. The saving in fuel alone to the benefited areas, it is thought, would repay the entire expenditure.

The Labrador current sends a large volume of water through the Straits of Belle Isle; thence southwesterly along the coast of Nova Scotia, New Brunswick and the United States, creating a cold current, technically known as the "Cold Wall" between the Gulf Stream and the North American coast.

The climatic effect of this Labrador current on Canada covers a wide extent of territory. It brings winter earlier; makes spring later, and materially lowers the temperature.

In the Province of Prince Edward Island, having an area of 2,184 square miles, and a population of about 100,000, the only disadvantage this fertile islands labors under is its long winter, owing to the piling up of ice in the Gulf of St. Lawrence under the low temperatures caused by the Labrador current.

THE SONORA

A Favorite Sonora Model—

"The Troubadour" $160.00

No longer is it a question of "Shall we buy a Phonograph?"—but, instead, "Which Phonograph shall we buy?"

And it is to the man or woman who investigates thoroughly the merits of all instruments that the Sonora makes its strongest appeal.

Hear the "Troubadour," a popular "Made in Canada" Sonora Model. You will marvel at its golden tone, you will admire its artistic cabinet. Its silent Double Spring Motor, playing nearly five 10-inch records with one winding, will interest you. The "Troubadour" plays all disc records without change of tubes. It has an Automatic Stop; and accommodation for ninety records.

The "Sonora"---Truly Supreme in Beauty and Purity of Tone

In no feature does the Sonora excel to a greater degree than in its tone. All the velvety smoothness, all the delicacy and fragility, all the vigor and resonance of the original rendition are retained by the Sonora.

The supremacy of Sonora tone is not slight and questionable, but immediately and convincingly evident.

The Sonora's Tone Amplifier is entirely of wood. It surely does not require much argument to convince even the most skeptical that metal or a combination of materials cannot produce the mellow, rich tone quality of which wood alone is capable.

The Sonora was awarded Highest Honors for Tone Quality at the Panama Pacific Exposition in competition with the world's leading phonographs.

Must Answer for Crimes

NOTICE was given to Germany before the Peace Treaty was signed that she would be required to surrender to the allies some of her officers and statesmen for trial on charges of violating articles of war and for offences against humanity. The most important of these is, of course, William Hohenzollern, although it is not known that any names were mentioned to the German plenipotentiaries at the time. Nor have any names but his been officially mentioned since, although it is easy to guess some of them at least. For instance, the Crown Prince is sure to be asked to answer to his name in a London court. He might be charged with wholesale robbery and the rape of a countryside, or, as is more probable, an effort might be made to determine his responsibility for the war and the violation of treaties. Equally sure is it that the Crown Prince Rupprecht of Bavaria will be put on trial. He was the strongest hater of the British among the German generals, and is reported in an official document to have ordered his men to take no British prisoners. He is held responsible for the execution of British prisoners that were taken by his army and was responsible for the deportation of the population of Lille, Turcoing and Roubaix.

Rupprecht was perhaps the best general, the most competent, if also the most ruthless, soldier among the German royalties who fought or directed in the war. Between him and the Crown Prince of Prussia there appears to have been constant ill-feeling, and it has been reported that on more than one occasion when they held different views of military operations, Hindenburg preferred the judgment of Rupprecht. This is not surprising, since the Bavarian is a man ten years older than the Prussian, was a more serious-minded soldier, and on several occasions had to supply his young kinsman with reserves when the Prussians had got themselves into difficult positions. His character seems to have a streak of calculated cruelty which is not conspicuous in the character of the former heir to the German Crown, who was rather immoral and callous than savage and vindictive. Therefore, Rupprecht will be among the ex-royalties who may be expected to have the opportunity to show cause why the sentence of the court should not be carried out.

It is taken for granted that Hindenburg, Ludendorff, Tirpitz and Bethmann von Hollweg will be called. There can be no doubt that they had a certain responsibility for the conduct of the war, and perhaps for the events leading up to the invasion of Belgium. Another Cabinet Minister who is likely to be demanded by the allies is Von Capelle, who followed Von Tirpitz as Minister of Marine. He pinned his hopes on the success of the submarine campaign, which was carried out with renewed vigor under his auspices. There will also be several submarine commanders summoned to the bar, and among them will certainly be Von Forstner and Wilhelm Wernher, both of whom were decorated by the Hohenzollern for some atrocity. Several of the submarine commanders, perhaps most of them, are no longer within the jurisdiction of any earthly court. Commander Max Valentiner is supposed to have commanded the U-boat which sank the Lusitania, but whether he is living is uncertain.

Mackensen, the man who did so much to break the heart of Russia, and who conquered Serbia and Roumania is also to be extradited. He will be charged with the monstrous crimes which accompanied the invasion of Roumania in 1916, when the country was stripped of the necessities of life and hundreds of prisoners were executed. After the war he was interned in Hungary with an army for attempting to violate the terms of the armistice. He is now in the hands of the allies, it is believed, and can be produced on a few days' notice. He and Hindenburg are the only holders of the Grand Cross of the Iron Cross, and it may be that his age will save him as it may protect Hindenburg and Tirpitz from capital punishment. Another German general against whom a long score has been run up is Otto von Below, the most prominent item being the burning of Ardenne and the execution of one hundred people. Gen. Liman von Sanders, in command of the Turkish campaign in Mesopotamia, will be accused of ordering or sanctioning the massacres in Armenia and Syria. Baron Oscar von der Lancken is held partly accountable for the execution of Miss Cavell and Capt. Fryatt.

It will be remembered that after the armistice von der Lancken was appointed with Dr. Reith, who had been prominent in the German occupation of Belgium to confer with Mr. Hoover about food supplies for Germany, and that Mr. Hoover sent back the brief message that they could "go to hell," and that if he had to deal with Germans it would not be with that pair. Another commander who is to be held partly responsible for the murder of Miss Cavell is Baron Kurt von Manteuffell, military commander of Louvain. Gen. von Schroeder was the military officer immediately responsible for the shooting of Capt. Fryatt. There will be several officers tried for brutalities to prisoners, among them Gen. Olsen and Gen. von Cassel, who were in charge at Doberitz. Lt. Rudiger was in charge at Ruhleben, Major von Goertz at Madgeburg and the brothers Niemeyer at Holzminden and Clausthal. One of the latter was a German-American and was particularly brutal to British prisoners.

Mr. Hancock states that the horse market is improving and higher prices are being realized as spring approaches.

SIR THOS. WHITE, THE BOURBON

Sir Thomas White represents the element in Canada which, Bourbon-like, has learned nothing and forgotten nothing since 1878. In the House of Commons the former minister of finance, speaking on behalf of the interests which he so plainly represents, calls for the old national policy just as if nothing had happened in the meantime that could possibly affect the situation to-day. He predicts, probably with his tongue in his cheek, that on that policy Sir Robert Borden can sweep the country at the next election. What he really means is that if the interests he represents can so far make the people forget all the real questions of to-day that they can be deceived by old party shibboleths it matters not whether it is Borden or who else that leads.

We question if the people of this country as a whole are as ardent admirers of high protection as the ex-minister of finance. He has spent his whole life in the company and service of the interests that fatten on the high tariffs. Protection has been a fine thing for Sir Thomas White and his friends and it is quite to be expected that they should clamor for a continuance of the conditions that made them rich. But there are those who will differ with them as to the extent to which protection that was accorded in the past should be continued in the present. Industries that were only finding their way twenty or thirty years ago are to-day, in many cases, great and powerful. Having reached mans estate, when they might be expected to stand more and more on their own feet, we find them instead asking more and more protection. Just at present they are enjoying a war tariff in addition to the pre-war rates. The barrier against foreign goods is 7 1-2 per cent. higher than ordinary. Will anyone say that the cost of manufactured goods in Canada has not been increased by that amount or even more, irrespective of cost of production? In many lines competition is almost an impossibility. The tariff defeats its revenue purpose entirely since no goods can possibly be imported at a profit. The only one who benefits is the highly protected manufacturer charging more for his goods. It would be difficult to find many ordinary lines of manufacture where the cost of production in Canada is 42 1-2 per cent. higher than in the United States. But the consumer has to pay the difference in most cases.

There is no class in the country that talks so much about patriotism as the beneficiaries of the tariff. At the same time there is scarcely a class that cares less for the welfare of the other fellow. The recent course of the papermakers is a glaring example of this. Protected in the earlier stage of their development by a high tariff, given all kinds of material assistance by the Government, these industries are today among the most powerful in the country. Yet within the last few weeks they have defied the Government's orders; refused to supply paper to Canadian newspapers, shipped their whole product into American markets and altogether shown little regard for Canadian interests and the welfare of Canadians. Yet in an election these are the people who will get out and wave the flag, talk about national patriotism and the protection of Canadian rights. Election after election has seen the game played in this way and no doubt we shall see it worked with all the might of its backers in the next campaign. The people of this country may as well be prepared for the tactics that will be followed. Sir Thomas White voices the sentiments of the group who, having long enjoyed privilege, are going to fight to their last gasp for its continuance.—London Advertiser.

MEN CAN DRESS AT REASONABLE COST

CAN BUY A SUIT OR AN OVERCOAT OF FINE STYLE AND MATERIAL FOR ONLY $27.00.

The fact that a man can buy a suit or an overcoat made to measure or all ready-to-put-on for only twenty-seven dollars makes it possible to dress well at reasonable cost in these days of very high prices. Credit for this is due the Regent Tailors, 320 George Street Arcade, who specialize on men's outfits at this wonderfully low price and whose business in this city is steadily growing. The reason Regent Tailors can do this is because they import materials direct and make their clothes in their own fine sanitary daylight shops in Toronto. There are no middlemen's profits and expenses are reduced to the very minimum.

The new materials for spring and summer, which are now being shown, are extraordinary for their beauty of design and color and give a wide range of selection in both suits and overcoats. It is worth while for every man to call at the Regent Tailors' Store and see these goods for himself.

THIN, NERVOUS PEOPLE NEED BITRO-PHOSPHATE

Weak, thin people—men or women—are nearly always nervous wrecks; thus conclusively proving that thinness, weakness, debility and neurasthenia are almost invariably due to nerve starvation. Feed your nerves and all these symptoms due to nerve starvation will disappear.

Eminent specialists state that one of the best things for the nerves is an organic phosphate known among druggists as Bitro-Phosphate, a five grain tablet of which should be taken with each meal. Being a genuine nerve builder and not a stimulant or habit-forming drug, Bitro-Phosphate can be safely taken by the weakest and most delicate sufferer, and the results following its use are often simply astonishing.

By strengthening the nerves, weak, tired people regain energy and vigor; thinness and angularity give way to plumpness and curves; sleep returns to the sleepless; confidence and cheerfulness replace debility and gloom; dull eyes become bright, and pale, sunken cheeks regain the pink glow of health.

CAUTION.— Bitro-Phosphate, the use of which is inexpensive, also wonderfully promotes the assimilation of food, so much so, that many people report marked gains of weight in a few weeks. Those taking it who do not desire to put on flesh, should use extra care in avoiding fat-producing foods.

BIG TWO WEEKS' CAMPAIGN.

A big two-weeks' campaign is about to be commenced at the Salvation Army Temple here on Friday of this week by Colonel and Mrs. Adby of Toronto.

Special public meetings will be held, also services for the soldiers of the Corps.

Colonel Adby is one of the Army's most celebrated singers and this should be a great inducement to bring good crowds to the Temple.

A great public meeting on Friday night will open the campaign and the public is cordially invited. Music and song will enter a great deal into the Colonel's services and every lover of music should come along. Come and bring some one with you.

COMB SAGE TEA IN HAIR TO DARKEN IT

It's Grandmother's Recipe to Keep Her Locks Dark, Glossy, Beautiful.

The old-time mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur for darkening gray, streaked and faded hair is grandmother's recipe, and folks are again using it to keep their hair a good, even color, which is quite sensible, as we are living in an age when youthful appearance is of the greatest advantage.

Nowadays, though, we don't have the troublesome task of gathering the sage and the mussy mixing at home. All drug stores sell the ready-to-use product, improved by the addition of other ingredients, called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." It is very popular because nobody can discover it has been applied. Simply moisten your comb or a soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, is that besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also produces that soft lustre and appearance of abundance which is so attractive.

REV. W. E. MILLSON AT GEORGE STREET

Rev. W. E. Millson will speak tonight at the special service in the George street Methodist church on the subject, "A Last Chance."

The meeting last night was largely attended and a dozen or more persons indicated their desire to live the Christian life. The sermon was one of great power and carried conviction to the hearts of the hearers.

There will be no meeting on Saturday, but Sunday will be a very special day. In addition to the regular services there will be a mass meeting of young people at 4 p.m., which Mr. Millson will address on the subject, "The Sin of Waste."

We Are on the Threshold of Spring!

The Gay, Glad Season When We Doff The Old and Don The New

WHEN the green comes back in the trees and nature bedecks herself in holiday attire, there comes an infectious joyousness in the very air, the joy of living. Reflected in the fashions of the moment one sees delightful subtleties that bespeak Spring. A visit to this Store will suggest many additions to the wardrobe.

New Spring Dresses

The new dresses reveal great variety in line. There are frocks with extended hips and Harem draped skirts. Others with short sleeves and vestees. Many which give plaited ruffles a new twist as trimming; and where there is not a complete absence of ornamentation one may find radiant beading, tinsel and silk embroideries. To carry out these beautiful style designs the fabrics are rich, supple and luxurious. Altogether the springtime frock is a beautiful garment. Priced from $27.00 to $150.00.

Springtime Suits

Quite apart from the suits of other seasons are the new spring tailleurs. The two and three-pieced costume suits, the Etons and the box coats, and even the strictly tailored models are distinctly new. All are modeled on jaunty lines with an assurance of cut and finish which is usually found only in custom tailored suits. Hand embroidery, vestees and gold trimmings are seen on a few models which may grace the most elaborate occasions of suit wear. Priced from $47.50 to $125.00.

For Jauntiness—A Polo Coat

Who will deny that there is mannish smartness and swagger to the polo coats vastly becoming to women in general. The fine line to the shoulders, pockets and belt is really distinctive. Some are developed in genuine camel's cloth, others in similar soft non-crushable materials so desirable for utility coats. Priced from $29.00 to $39.00.

The Plaid Skirt's the Thing

As gay as the outdoors itself at this season are the skirts of plaid and checks. For variety some are printed diagonally. Big pearl buttons, knife plaits, odd pockets and bandings distinguish these skirts from the mediocre. They are just the thing for wear these days. Priced from $22.75 to $43.00

Hats for Spring

One of the most delightful controversies woman was ever called upon to settle is the "hat question." There are such delectable bits of smartness as hats of patent leather with bright milan facings, or of picot ribbon, so Frenchy in its colourings. Batavia cloth in gay colours drapes many turbans of Oriental aspect. Other saucy small hats have the four or six-sided Chinois crown, brightly embroidered. Small sailors are embellished with flowers, or smart appliqued designs of silks, suedes or patent leather. Raffia in vivid hues is used as an embroidery medium that is smart and unusual. Quilted taffetas, Georgette, fine hemps and horsehairs are developed into ravishing creations for afternoon and evening wear.

Blouses for Spring

The blouse, a glorified and exquisite creation, has come back into its own again. There are delightful touches of femininity—brief French sleeves to expose the charms of rounded arms; necks, rounded, square or V-ed to suit one's fancy; little sashes and adorably quaint aprons. Chiffons and silks in Batik blouses bloom like exotic tropical flowers. Bold peasant embroideries lend splashes of color, while beads, tape-run laces, metallic threads are other devices known to the blouse-maker. Frilly nets express youth in every detail. Handmade lingerie blouses and others of batiste, handkerchief linens, Georgette and silks are included in this notable collection. Priced from $6.95 to $27.50.

Women Who Seek the Charm of Footwear Style, Should Not Choose at Random

Ultra-fashionable spring footwear is not found in every shoe store. Originality and exclusiveness are the true exponents of style. Accordingly, the shoes you choose should possess these qualities—if they are to conform to Fashion's final dictates. One glance at these new spring styles in pumps, Oxfords and high shoes on display in our window, will persuade you to step inside, where you know your money will be wisely spent. Widths from AA to D.

Shoes for the Dainty Little Miss And for the Sturdy Young Lad

The mothers familiar with this store know that to come here for children's shoes is to leave behind the usual misgivings that cross the feminine mind. She need not concern herself with quality, style or value, nor about wear of leather. The right shoes—the shoes she would prefer—the shoes the little folks will like—are here. She can take their quality for granted. She can feel assurance that they are stylish. She can see they are of unusual value. Hurlbut and MacFarlane welts.

CONCERT AT THE CONSERVATORY

Boris Hambourg's second visit to the city was greeted last night at the Conservatory of Music with enthusiasm by a capacity house when he appeared in the fourth number of the Lyceum series. The evening's entertainment was one of unusual interest to music lovers as not only were they given the opportunity of hearing the world renowned cellist but of two of Canada's most promising musicians Miss Isabel Jenkinson, soprano and Miss Eva Galloway-Farmer, pianists. The programme presented by the artists, was exceedingly generous and breaking an almost hard and fast rule the Russian artist responded most graciously to the insistent encores of the appreciative audience. His selections were a revelation of his wonderful mastery of the 'cello displaying his marvellous technique and interpretation. His rendition of Symphonic Variations by Boellmann which occupied twenty minutes was listened to with breathless interest on the part of the audience who had seldom if ever heard such exquisite and inspiring music. Miss Jenkinson the possessor of a clear sweet soprano voice was well received and her ability displayed in Life's Paradise to take notes in high C was thoroughly appreciated. Her enunciation too left nothing to be desired. As a pianist and accompanist Miss Eva Galloway-Farmer made a marked impression. Her technique and expression were as nearly perfect as possible while in the accompaniments she played absolutely with the singer and the 'cellist. A special feature of the programme was the concluding number "O Lovely Night" by Landon Ronald by the trio which met with storms of applause.

The Audience.

Among those in the large audience were Mrs. G. N. Gordon, Mrs. F. E. Malott, Mrs. Guy Whittaker, Miss Ruby Quartermaine and Miss Wood, Dr. Fulford, Mr. Ford, Miss Laura Bellegheim, Mrs. Middleton, Miss Stratton, Miss Muriel Harrington, Miss Maud Rush, Miss Grace Reinhart, Judge Huycke, Miss Rosamond Huycke, Mrs. Gemmell, Mrs. Holden, Mrs. Cooper, the Misses Dorothy and Marion Stuart, Miss Kingan, Miss Agnes Carmichael, Miss Ida Sanderson, Mrs. W. H. Hill, Mr. Stansfield and Dr. Buchanan.

KNOX CHURCH CHOIR CONCERT

Knox church last evening held a capacity house for the splendid concert put on by the Knox Church choir under the direction of Mr. F. E. Walden assisted by Mr. W. S. Hamilton, Scottish tenor, Mrs. W McKee Bingham, contralto, Miss Hazel Davidson, elocutionist, Mrs Hughes, soprano, Mr. Frank Whitehouse violinist and Mr. Tom Smith cellist.

The Programme

The programme opened with an anthem "Lord of Heaven" by the choir which demonstrating the talented training of the members of the choir was a flattering reflection upon the leader Mr. Walden. The voices were balanced magnificently. Mr. W. S. Hamilton of New St. Andrew's Church, Toronto, who was the first soloist sang "The Lost Chord" in a manner which revealed new beauties in the somewhat familiar classic. To this and to all other numbers he responded to the insistent call for an encore. His careful attention to enunciation and intrepretation generally coupled with beautiful tonal qualities and genial enjoyment of selections he rendered combined in captivating the audience. In "Happy Days" Mrs. C. B. Hughes created an enviable reputation her voice being particularly sweet and enunciation above the ordinary. Mrs. W McKee Bingham who took the audience by storm with her remarkably swee voice and splendid intrepretation in all her solos. Her rendition of Angus MacDonald was perhaps the most popular of her selections while her encore to this "My Ain Folk", ran a close second. Miss Hazel Davidson's readings which were most brilliant won unstinted applause. Mr. Frank Whitehouse in several violin solos sustained the enviable reputation he has already gained as an artist while Mr. Tom Smith, a cellist of marked ability added to his laurels in the musical world. Rev. Jas. A. MacKenzie contributed a solo which was keenly appreciated by the audience.

The Anthems and Glees

The Glees, as well as the anthems, by the choir showed to good advantage the ability of Mr. Walden as a choirmaster and accompanist. While it is but six months since Mr. Walden assumed his duties as organist and leader he has already established himself in the admiration of all music lovers of the city. The unlimited success of last evening's performance was largely due to his organizing training and conduction ability.

Vote of Thanks

At the close of the entertainment a vote of thanks to the artists was proposed by Mr. J. F. Morrison seconded by Mr. Wm. Croft and most enthusiastically carried. After the concert the artists were entertained by the music committee and the Ladies Aid at a sumptuous supper.

The Easiest Way To End Dandruff

There is one sure way that never fails to remove dandruff completely and that is to dissolve it. This destroys it entirely. To this, just get about four ounces of plain, ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop instantly, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive, and four ounces is all you will need. This simple remedy has never been known to fail.

STOCK MARKET OPENED STRONG

STERLING EXCHANGE SUFFERED A VIOLENT SLUMP.

(United Press.)

NEW YORK, March 12.—The stock market was strong at the opening today with the Industrials and Motors in great demand. General Motors again was the market leader making a 4½ point gain over night to 328. U.S. Steel was up ⅛ to 99¼ but Republic at 95¼ was off ¾.

Anaconda opened at 59⅞ off ⅛, Industrial Alcohol 92 up 1, Baldwin 121¼ up ¾, Texas 199 up 1, New Haven 35¾ up ⅛.

Reaction in Sterling exchange brought some selling into the market. General Motors, after reaching 333, reacted more than 8 points and other Motors sold off 2 points or more. Reaction in Oils was not so pronounced.

Pan-American again got close to 94, Studebaker was firm on announcement of earnings of nearly $29 a share on $30 million of common stock outstanding last year. American Locomotive ex-dividend 99, up 1-2; U. S. Rubber 107 1-4 up 1-4; Pan American ex dividend 94, off 1-2. Sinclair 43 7-8, up 3-8. Chandler made a new record high at 147, up 2 3-4.

STERLING EXCHANGE

(United Press.)

NEW YORK, March 12.—A violent slump in sterling occurred today when bills on London were quoted at the opening at $3.05½ a drop of 8 cents from yesterday's close.

Immediately after the opening, Sterling recovered to $3.66 1-4. Francs opened at 13.52, off 12 centimes, and Lire 18.20, off 43. Marks were $.0130 and U. S. Dollars on Canada $1.23 1-2.

AMENDMENTS TO DISPUTES ACT

(Canadian Press.)

OTTAWA, March 12. — Amendments to the Industrial Disputes Investigation Act introduced in the Senate some days ago by the Minister of Labor, will probably come up for a second reading this afternoon. One amendment is intended to make it impossible as occurred in Toronto some time ago for employees to go on strike after sitting of the Board of Conciliation but before findings have been delivered to disputing parties. Amendment provides that relations of disputing parties must remain unchanged during the sitting of the Board and also until a report has been placed in the hands of the parties.

WOMEN OF MIDDLE AGE

Need Help to Pass the Crisis Safely—Proof that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Can be Relied Upon.

Urbana, Ill.—"During Change of Life, in addition to its annoying symptoms, I had an attack of grippe which lasted all winter and left me in a weakened condition. I felt at times that I would never be well again. I read of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and what it did for women passing through the Change of Life, so I told my doctor I would try it. I soon began to gain in strength and the annoying symptoms disappeared and your Vegetable Compound has made me a well, strong woman so I do all my own housework. I cannot recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound too highly to women passing through the Change of Life." —Mrs. FRANK HENSON, 1316 S. Orchade St., Urbana, Ill.

Women who suffer from nervousness, "hot flashes," backache, headaches and "the blues" should try this famous root and herb remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

CONSIGNED TO THE BASKET

THE POLICE RAID WAS UNSUCCESSFUL

(Canadian Press.)

DUBLIN, March 12 – Police today raided the residence of Mrs. Eamonn De Valera, wife of the Sinn Fein leader, in search of Countesa Markievicz, member of Parliament for St. Patricks Division of Dublin. They were unsuccessful. It is stated that the police mistook the cousin of Mrs. Valera from London for the Countess in disguise.

WANT TO WIND UP MAPLE LEAF BAND

HERMAN ALTON ALSO ASKS FOR DIVISION OF PROCEEDS FROM SALE OF INSTRUMENTS.

The winding-up of the Maple Leaf Band and the sale and division of its instruments and all assets, is sought in a writ issued through Gordon and O'Brien, by Herman Alton, one of the Maple Leaf bandsmen, against other members, including Matthew Drysdale, Fred Sanderson, Geo. A. Biggs, Edwin Walton and Albert Thretheway.

The statement of claim reviews the formation of the band as a partnership and its present condition of disintegration. The planitiff's action is entered in the County Court and asks Judge Huycke to give an order for the winding up of the partnership, the sale of the instruments, payment of debts, ad costs, and the division of the remaining proceeds.

DO NOT FORGET THE LITTLE ONES

TAG DAY TO-MORROW FOR THE CHILDREN AT THE ORPHANAGE,

The ladies in charge of "Tag Day" to be held to-morrow in aid of the Orphange, look for a generous response to this annual appeal. The Orphanage is an institution run without an endowment fund and devoted to the support of neglected children who are cared for and transferred from most deplorable circumstances to a comfortable home and given practically a mother's care. As cost of living and consequently the cost of running such an institution has practically doubled in the last few years and the number of children increased the call for funds this year is more urgent than at any former time. The taggers look not for the minimum sum from each but the largest sum the individual feels he can contribute to the support of the little motherless children.

MR. RIDDELL IS RUSHING SEASON

PRODUCES STALK OF RHUBARB TWENTY-THREE INCHES LONG.

Mr. John Riddell, 550 Homewood Ave., to-day showed the Examiner an excellent stalk of rhubarb measuring 23 inches in length and grown by Mr. Riddell in his own home. It is a fine looking stalk and was grown from a root taken in by this garden enthusiast last fall and has continued to produce all winter. It conjures up in one's imagination pictures of real rhubarb pie and leads one to pray that spring may soon come and make the much desired a reality.

EXCEEDING TERMS OF CIVIC BY-LAW

POLICE DEPARTMENT ISSUES A WARNI G TO LIVERYMEN.

The Police Department desire to point out to the citizens that in the increases in rates that have been announced by the auto and taxi liverymen, the liverymen are going beyond their authority, as their rates are set by the Board of Police Commissioners and come entirely under their jurisdiction. The last by-law, No. 2 of the Board of Police Commissioners 1906, gives the following rates:

"For conveying each adult person from any one part of the city to any other part of the city 25c."

"Children from 8 to 12 years of age half-fare, and children under 8 years of age free."

"For conveying satchels and other luggage when the owner travels with it—free."

"Charges after 12 to-night shall be one-half more."

The liverymen in raising their rates have gone entirely against this by-law, of which they are fully aware, as each of them has been given a copy, and although it is conceded that the by-law does not meet with the different standards of prices to-day, and that a new one or an amended one is needed, the liverymen might better have consulted the board before taking the step on their own initiative and making themselves liable to prosecution, for in the eyes of the police the old by-law is still in force, and any increases are contraventions.

FIRE HALL WIN AGAIN.

Last night the Fire Hall team the P.C.I. Rovers by the score of 2-0. The game was fast, but not too clean some stuff escaping Referee Hardle. The Fire Hall were short McDougal, Turner and Parrington. They had to start with four men till others came. For the losers Pogue, Rishor and Porteous were the best, while for the Fire Hall, Pethick, Cecil and Lou Lebarr were the best. Whitlow in goal played a nice game and stopped one with his head for luck.

Fire Hall line-up: Goal, H. Whitlow; r. defence, C. Lebarr; l. defence, L. Lebarr; centre, Pethick; r. wing, Clar. Parrington; l. wing, Bert Bugg.

LACROSSE OFFICIALS READY FOR MEETING

MANY NOMINATIONS FOR OFFICE RECEIVED BY SECRETARY—PLAY TO COMMENCE MAY 15,

All is ready for the O.A.L.A. convention that takes place in Toronto on Good Friday and Secretary Dundas will be on hand at the Empress Hotel the evening before to meet all out-of-town delegates.

Many nominations for officers have been received by the secretary, among which are:

Ernie Doyle, who ran a close second for the president's chair last year, has been nominated for the position of second vice-president. He has not yet announced whether he will again contest the presidency or rest content with the lower office.

Dr. Lou Campbell of Bradford, who will this season try to bring lacrosse back to its own in the northern town, has been nominated for the council.

Arnold Smith, who has done the brunt of the work for the Weston club for several years, has been proposed as a councillor and if elected should prove a strong man for the advancement of the game.

Of the present council, Eddie Sullivan of Toronto and Len Robinson of Collingwood, have been nominated for the coming season.

An interesting discussion will probably rise at the convention on the question of limiting the number of players to be signed by any one club.

Harry Halpin announces that the Dominions, who last season were under the wing of the Dominion Shipbuilding Co., will this year "paddle their own steamer," and have been working the past three weeks getting a real organization together. They will re-enter the senior series.

It is proposed to start the playing season not later than May 15th. Present constitution states May 27. The earlier date is preferable from many standpoints and will likely carry.

Woodbridge will likely have a suggestion that players intending to eventually play sennor must not participate in intermediate games. They no doubt have in mind the Brampton trimming in their first game last season when several of the Excelsior stars lined up against Woodbridge and put a damper on the game in that hamlet due to the homesters' poor showing against the senior outfit.

At the O.A.L.A. executive meeting "Jimi" Labett was given full power to proceed with the installation of lacrosse in the Public school. The league will support him in this in every possible manner. Mr Joe Lally, who is again manufacturing lacrosse sticks, has quoted a special cut price for sticks for lads in the schools. With this to work on Mr. Labett is well on his way toward success in his new venture. All that is now needed is for the masters to take kindly to the idea. Mr. Dickenson of Kew Beach school, is lending valuable assistance to that end. It is proposed that new clubs coming into the O.A.L.A. will contribute a membership fee for the first year in addition to the regular club fees. This is following out the idea of the O.H.A. and will likely receive support. In cities or towns below a certain population, here town leagues are operating, it is suggested that the stars from such teams be permitted to enter as a team in the junior semi-finals.

The trip to British Columbia for the champions of the senior series should be a good boost for the teams who intend entering. It is said that Brampton are already casting longing eyes toward the Rockies. Treasurer Jim Labett will have a very favourable report to make to the convention. He has a splendid balance on the right side of the ledger.

It is suggested that the double-referee system be made compulsory during the coming season in all games. It is agreed generally that the two-man system did much to cut out the dirty work which marred the games in past seasons.

COLLEGIATE WINS FROM VETERANS

In the City Indoor Baseball League series the Collegiate Institute team easily defeated the G.W.V.A. team by the score of 25-6 in the Armouries last evening.

Hunter was in the box for the Collegiate and kept the Veterans guessing and his team gave him good support.

Perks pitched a good game for the Veterans but the Collegiate boys were handy with the stick and walloped the ball hard.

The score by innings was:

Collegiate 1 3 0 4 1 1 5 0 4 —25.

G.W.V.A. 0 0 0 2 0 0 1 2 1 —6

The Line-Up.

BOWLING NEWS

The Y.M.C.A. Alleys were busy last night when St. Andrews and St. Paul's church teams met to roll their first match in the League. St. Paul's coming out best by winning all three and changing their standing in the league to a firmer foundation as St. Andrew's was their big opponent so far. Substantial leads were held by St. Paul's in the first two games but Mr. Webber's score was responsible for the winning of the third.

Next games will be played on the following dates:—

March 12 at 7.30— All Saints vs. Murray street; March 16 at 7.30 Excelsiors vs Murray street; March 18 at 7.30, St. Paul's vs. George street.

HOCKEY

In a very fast game of hockey in the Brock street rink on Wednesday night the Lock Works team defeated the Y.M.C.A. employed boys by the small score of 3 to 2. Thus ended a very successful season by winning 5 games out of 6.

If Leo O'Connel, the 'bull calf' of the herd, had not been suddenly seized with a very violent cramp at the root of his tongue about the middle of the sixth game they would have won this also and have ended up with a clean slate.

Hensly showed up very good while the Y boys' nine were sadly disappointed at the showing of ex-Captain T. Warde, formerly of the Lock Works team, as he lacked his usual form.

Batton, Smith and Williams showed up very good for the P. L. Co.

Signed. Capt. Jack Trosky Burke.

SUDBURY WOLVES MADE LIGHT LUNCH OF COLLINGWOOD

TORONTO, March 12—Collingwood may be invincible in the Ontario Hockey Association intermediate series, but they certainly went out of their class when they met Sudbury, the N.O.H.A. titleholders, here last night. The green-clad Sudbury sextet were vastly superior to their opponents, and the finish found them leading by 11 to 2. The winner's forwards were in the limelight all the way and they did at least 75 per cent. of the work.

Some one has named the N.O.H.A. champions the "Wolves of the North," and two of their players, the Duncan brothers, attempted to live up to their reputation. They marred the play of their team by their rough play. George Duncan, the goalkeeper, was ruled off for going to his knees in the final period, and to the amazement of the spectators he attacked Referee Tackaberry. Captain Green came to the official's assistance and then pleaded with the latter not to increase the penalty imposed on Duncan. Had it not been for Green's intercession, Sudbury might have been forced to play the last ten minutes without a goaler.

LAWN BOWLERS WON TWO FROM BRINTON CARPET

Taking First Place in the Second Round.

Last night at the Water street Alleys in the play off for first place in the second round, the Lawn Bowlers defeated the Brinton Carpet in one of the hardest fought games of the season. The games were close all the way. The first game was won by the Brintons and the Lawn Bowlers took the second game. The third game, which decided the contest, was a close one all the way on the up to the ninth frame at the end of the ninth frame the Lawn Bowlers were leading by one pin. Everette and Gillian striking out giving the Lawn Bowlers the game. For the Lawn Bowlers, Jack Maynard was high man with 603, Gillian 596, Ross 545. For Brinton Carpet Arrowsmith was high man with 626, Bishop and Luther also passed the 500 mark.

Now the Lawn Bowlers meet the Post Office on Tuesday night. The Post Office are winners of the first round. The Pastimes and Brinton Carpet will play off on Thursday night for third place.

A GOOD SHOW AT THE GRAND

BILLIE BURKE MAKES A HIT—A GOOD VAUDEVILLE TURN.

Billie Burke in the Paramount Artcraft feature "Wanted a Husband" last night at the Grand added to her already enviable reputation as a screen artist in this delightful picture. Her sweet winsome ways which cannot fail to win the hearts of her audience did not fail to make a hit with the well filled house at the Grand last night.

She plays the role of a careless untidy girl living in the city with two other girls who are very popular while she later is as popular with men as prohibition. These two friends are engaged and finally she lingered with their arrogance announces that she is engaged to a baronet in England who cannot get away from the British army. His name she derives from Burke's Peerage in the Public Library. This phantom lover is flaunted at the girls and urged on by her only friends who live just across the hall she goes one further and announces that the wedding will take place on the seventeenth of the month as soon as Sir Montrose arrives. She even produces a make believe picture of him signed "Your own Monty."

Meanwhile her careless ways are improved under her friend's guidance and she suddenly becomes very popular with the younger set, but forsakes them all for Monty. The scheme goes merrily on, the other two are married and she makes believe she is too but to her amazement Monty turns up and finally claims her. The plot is clever and even if it is somewhat impossible it is nevertheless amusing and appealing. A crowded house should again greet this production this evening.

The Paramount magazine film is as usual very good and the Mack Sennett Comedy a scream from beginning to end and cannot fail to raise a laugh from the most chronic grouches.

Too much cannot be said for the clever work of the Australian Lamerts who are veritable music boxes and their singing and whistling is admirable which combined with several humorous skits makes an ideal vaudeville act.

To make a restful house be sure there is nothing in it but what is beautiful or useful.

"LISTEN, LESTER"

Coming to the Grand next Monday evening is "Listen Lester" a musical comedy which Mr. John Cort is presenting with the entire New York cast, chorus, production and special company orchestra by Harry L. Cort, Geo. E. Stoddard, and Harold Orlob. This production forms a happy combination of a rollicking kind calculated to catch the public fancy. That it will also hold this fancy is proven by the fact that this play ran for an entire year at the Knickerbocker Theatre in New York.

The action takes place at Palm Beach, Fla., whither Colonel Dodge has gone accompanied by his daughter Mary to escape from a woman when she had been courting her in New York, and who now threatens him with a breach of promise suit if he does not pay her heart balm. At the same hotel is a Mr. Munim and while waiting the arrival of Jack, her young financee, she falls in love with the Colonel, who reciprocates her affection.

There is a flip hotel clerk, a decidedly fresh porter named Lester, a female detective, a package of letters, and all sorts of complications that comprise the real story and which are straightened out finally in a satisfactory manner.

Mr. Cort has retained the entire New York cast of funmakers for this attraction which includes Mayme Gehrue, Jean Thomas, Miriam Folger Ann Ott, Cecil Williams, Florence Debarr, Frances Anderson, Florida Bellair, Williams Sellery, Joseph Mack, William Wayne, Gus Shy, John L. Lyons, Murry Hart, Mark Thompson, Andrew Leigh, all adding to the general gaiety, and brings to Peterboro the daintiest, danciest chorus ever seen on any stage. The score contains song hits that are being whistled and hummed universally, the costuming is effective and the staging artistic in every detail.

W. F. O'CONNOR CLAIMS WHOLESALERS ARE NOT MAKING LARGE PROFITS

upon capital invested, 6%. Those profits as compared with other cases are generous.

Case Number Two.

Capital invested (not authorized) $450,000; sales $1,000,000. Cost of doing business based on turnover 12%; net profit on business done 2%. Gross profit on capital invested 4%.

Case Number Three.

Capital invested $400,000, Profit 1 1-2%; profit on capital invested 5%.

Case Number Four.

(The best I could find).—Capital invested $500,000; scales over $1,200,000, percentage earned on capital 5 3-4. Percentage on sales 4. Out of this four per cent. the partners have to draw their salaries which is computed at $5,000 per annum each for the two partners, and this is a reasonable amount for men who handle a million dollar business. This would make the net profits 2 1-2%, the most generous profits I have found. All of this shows that it would have paid them better to have closed their doors. Money is now yielding 6 or 7%. The highest return secured in any business is 5 1-4%. The wholesale grocer who makes a net profit of 1 1-2% on his business, is doing exceedingly well.

"While this investigation is dealing with combines we want all evidence possible on the question of trade ethics. The Board may or may not make any orders. The only order which it can make is whether it should or should not restrict the proven combine. It may however make declarations which will not be binding upon anyone, but which should have a strong influence on the people affected. It may make recommendations which will be compiled into a sort of code for the Board of Commerce and which will be used in dealing with further or future cases.

The Corner Grocery.

Under questioning from Mr. Robert McKay, Mr. William Carroll of the Carroll chain stores of Hamilton, could not see how the small retail stores, the corner groceries, could overcome the handicap of 10 per cent. discount allowed departmental stores by the manufacturers. If he personally as proprietor of chain stores could get thesame deal from the manufacturers as departmental stores sometimes get on proprietary articles, he felt he could sell cheaper than the ordinary retail grocer, but he did not think this would result in "putting the corner grocer out of business."

"Proprietary articles make up about forty per cent. of the grocery business", Mr. McKay suggested, "so I don't agree with you Mr. Carroll. How could the small grocer possibly live under the handicap of his competitor yourself being able to sell two fifths of his goods at ten per cent. less? Surely the regular buyer will not deal with the corner grocery under such conditions."

Witness thought the corner grocer could stand up even under such a handicap. "Much of the ten per cent. would be taken up in over head expense," he stated.

Can Sell Cheaper.

"Unless you can sell the cheapest you have no right to exist as against the regular retailer," Chairman O'Connor suggested.

"I can sell cheaper," was the reply.

"If there is less efficiency in your system," Mr. McKay suggested, "than you will appreciate that your system is of the one which should be put into general use?" Witness replied that much of his profit was due to the abolition of the delivery system, so expensive in the larger cities.

"Would you consider it fair, in the interests of the trade generally that you should buy directly from the manfacturer while the small retailer has to buy through the Wholesaler," Mr. McKay asked.

"All quantity buyers should get their produce under the same conditions. That is one of the reasons any dealer tries to expand."

"Then if buying under the same conditions came into effect generally one of strong reasons for the chain store would pass out of existance."

"It might."

"Which means that the chain stores have an advantage over the small stores?"

"Yes."

"And the chain store man would merely eliminate the wholesaler?", Chairman O'Connor suggested.

The Wholesaler would disappear, but the chain store man stepping into his place, where would the consumer be any better off?" It is only a case of difference in name, not principle, if the chain store man could still buy cheaper you would have to eliminate a lot of human nature before, the consumers would get any benefit from it."

The trend of the investigation is gradually but emphatically creating the impression that the present investigation will merely indicate that the wholesalers were banded for trade protection purposes and that whether this protection militated to the detriment of the public interest or not, it wanted to operate to excessive financial success for the wholesalers themselves.

Opinions heard around the corridors of the court, in the city hall, are agreed that the only material benefit which may be gained by the probe, will be the data which may be compiled by the Board itself, and this, it has been hinted at by Commissioner O'Connor in his statement, will be used to determine if possible a code of business ethics which will be to the joint interest of the distributor and the consumer.

Final evidence goes in to-day with the testimony of Wilkison, the representative of the Attorney-General's Department, and Porter, the local manager of the Canadian General Electric Company, the man who telephoned Premier Drury last fall, and really started the probe.

CONTAGION OF CHARACTER

In some measure, and perhaps in a much larger measure than we conceive, we are all the setters of moral and spiritual fashions. We speak of the force of example, but perhaps the force is far deeper and far more subtle and energetic than we commonly believe It is more than probable that the emanations of character are like a secret army which cannot be stayed. The insincere man emits perverting energies which tend to make society crooked. His insincerity works to make everybody insincere. He is the secret ally of our worst selves.

But, blessed be God, the converse of this is true. One absolutely sincere man in any company tends to make everybody true. His views are vital and vitalizing. He may be the most silent member in the fellowship, but his very presence is a second conscience to the entire circle. His spiritual emanations form an alliance with all that is honorable and aspiring in our own lives. His contagion is the contagion of health.—Exchange.

The King's Trousers Creased at the Side

Fashion Set Years Ago by His Father, But Never Took.

NEW YORK, March 11.—A cable to the World says: King George's latest photographs show that he has revived a fashion set long ago by his father, King Edward —his trousers are creased at the sides instead of down the centre.

This style of creases never attained great popularity except among a few elderly courtiers and tailors now say that, in their opinion, most men will stick to the front crease.

ARE MORE NEW TAXES COMING?

Luxury Tax and New Business Levy are Possibilities.

Is there a luxury tax coming?

Dealers in such commodities as might be called luxuries are beginning to speculate on what is in the mind of the Minister of Finance and are wating expectantly to hear what the forthcoming budget will contain. And it is even feared in some quarters that a scheme may be devised for making the tax retroactive to January 1st, 1920, as against the dealers by imposing a rate on past business calculated on the turnover.

"If there is to be a luxury tax, I do not think any attempt will be made to make it retroactive,' commented a Toronto financier who is in close touch with the Government.

"I have not the slightest idea as to whether there will be any luxury tax at all," he continued. The Government may have made the Federal income tax retroactive, but it couldn't get away with that now."

The opinion has been expressed that the present Federal income tax is being so largely avoided that it will soon be replaced by a new form of taxation, whreby transactions as thy occur in daily business will be made the basis for gathering in the Government's share.

ACIDS IN STOMACH CAUSE INDIGESTION

Create Gas, Sourness and Pain How to Treat.

Medical authorities state that nearly nine-tenths of the cases of stomach trouble, indigestion, sourness, burning, gas, bloating, nausea, etc., are due to an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach and not as some believe to a lack of digestive juices. The delicate stomach lining is irritated, digestion is delayed and food sours, causing the disagreeable symptoms which every stomach sufferer knows so well.

Artificial digestents are not needed in such cases and may do real harm. Try laying aside all digestive aids and instead get from any druggist a few ounces of Bisurated Magnesia and take a teaspoonful in a quarter glass of water right after eating. This sweetens the stomach, prevents the formation of excess acids and there is no sourness, gas or pain. Bisurated Magnesia (in powder or tablet form—never liquid or milk) is harmless to the stomach, inexpensive to take and is the most efficient form of magnesia for stomach purposes. It is used by thousands of people who enjoy their meals with no more fear of indigestion

NEW FRENCH TAX PUTS PREMIUM ON CHILDREN

Decedents' Estates Will Pay Nothing If Four or More Children Survive.

PARIS, March 12. — The new French inheritance tax will be based upon the principle that the more children a man has the less his estate should be taxed, and the fewer children he has, the higher should be the tax. If a man dies without children the State will take 50 per cent. of his estate. If there is on child the State will take 33 per cent. If there are two children to be provided for the tax will be 25 per cent. Should there be three children it will be 18 3-4 per cent. In case there are four or more children there will be no inheritance tax.

French Government statistics show that half the French army in the world war came from families having four or more childen. The same statistics show that one family in five has as many as four children. Furthermore, the families whose estates are largest are not, as a rule, those which have four or more children.

MAY SEND WHOLE CITY COUNCIL TO JAIL FOR CONTEMPT

SASKATOON — All members of the Saskatoon City Council yesterday were served with writs of summons to appear before Mr. Justice E. Tultin in King's Bench Court here and show cause why they should not be committed to jail for contempt of court for failure to obey an injunction, forbidding maintenance of a garbage nuisance ground in Cory municipality. The writs are returnable next Thursday.

ORGANIZED LABOUR WILL CARRY FIGHT TO PRIVY COUNCIL

(Canadian Press.)

WINNIPEG, March 12.—Organized labour will carry the Winnipeg strikers' case to the Privy Council and confidentially expect every decision of the Winnipeg courts will be reversed, said J. S. Woodsworth in an address here last night. Mr. Woodsworth said the whole status of organized labour was involved.

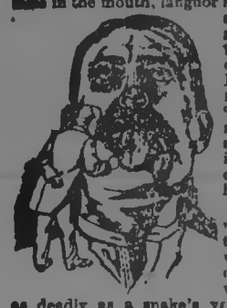
A Coated Tongue? What it Means

A bad breath, coated tongue, bad taste in the mouth, langnor and debility, are usually signs that the liver is out of order. PROF. HEMMETER says: "The liver is an organ secondary in importance only to the heart."



We can manufacture poisons within our own bodies which are as deadly as a snake's venom.

The liver acts as a guard over our well-being, sifting out the cinders and ashes from the general circulation.

A blockade in the intestines piles a heavy burden upon the liver. If the intestines are choked or clogged up, the circulation of the blood becomes poisoned and the system becomes loaded with toxic waste, and we suffer from headache, yellow-coated tongue, bad taste in mouth, nausea, or gas, acid dyspepsia, languor, debility, yellow skin or eyes. At such times one should take castor oil or a pleasant laxative. Such a one is made of May-apple, leaves of aloe and jalap, put into ready-to-use form by Doctor Pierce, nearly fifty years ago, and sold for 25 cents by all druggists as Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets.

SHAKING DOWN

(By H. F. GADSBY)

Parliament is shaking down into its new grandeur. The awe has ceased and the luxury is taken as a matter of course. Already, so I am told matches are being struck on the marble columns and nails are being driven into the walls to support the members' fyles. Man is born to such high destinies that no doubt he would get used to Heaven inside a week.

Still the aesthetic influences are at work and their effect is plainly seen on the U.F.'s who behave as to the manor born,—not a yearn out of them for brown soap or roller towels or other rural surroundings. The noble architecture lifts everybody up ,even the Senators whose feet feel better now that their fallen arches have Gothic arches to look up to. Insidentally, the noble architecture provides about twice as much accommodation as the old building did and will require twice as many attendants to look after it in the way of messengers, floor clerks, door-keepers and guides to the back stairs. Many humble jobs spring up in the shelter of this grand building, which has ten million dollars worth of dignity to sustain.

In Number Sixteen, which is now numbered Two Hundred and Sixteen, I find a cornice decoration of wise old owls, also other wise owls, playing euchre or smoking pipes. The burden of their talk is that time heals all wounds and that if Union Government can hang on a year longer the farmers' movement will look like a smashed tomato. They regard Mackenzie King's immediate-election amendment as saucy but not serious, figuring that neither of the old parties really wants to good to country at this moment. Time is what is needed—time for Liberals and Conservatives to catch their second wind— time for the U.F.'s to get entangled with the end of their rope. I venture to predict that there will be no election this summer—even if Premier Borden fails to come back, which is not unlikely, in spite of his promises.

Farmers and Farmers.

No doubt it is retribution on the two old parties who pondered the farmer so long, that he now takes himself seriously and appears in larger and larger numbers at the seat of government There are in the House of Commons four kinds of farmers, and each views the other with a certain distrust. There are the farmers who were elected as straight Liberals and straight Conservatives —and straight Liberals and straight Conservatives they remain. Next are the farmers who were elected as Unionists but who went over to the cross benches with Mr. Crerar. When it comes to a show down they will line up with the fourth and most recent variety, the U. F's who were elected under that banner and who ask the others to follow it.

One senses lively elements of discord in this superfluity of farmers. They do not love one another. There are at least two hostile camps—the old line party farmers and the U.F's—and other leavages may develop. The old-line party farmer looks with suspicion on his U.F. brother who didn't find the party good enough for him. He forebodes that pride comes before a fall and that the U.F. is due for a cropper. He has been in politics long enough to know how little the average member knows and he refuses to believe that the U.F. knows it all by the grace of God and sheer intuition.

This doubt keeps chipping away at the high confidence of the U.F. party and bystanders already profess to see a slackening of impetus in the Crerar hosts. The movement got a little less than nowhere in Quebec. The responsibility of office has taken a lot of the wind out of it in Ontario. The prairie governments naturally refuse to be ruined by the movement and therefore take it in —which is a good way to handle it. The federal arena remain but the door to that arena is locked for a year yet and meanwhile who is to keep West and East, now gazing with love into each other's eyes, from reading the truth there, which is that their interests are quite different.

Such thoughts tend to moderate the high buoyancy of the U.F. who may vote for Leader King's amendment but who knows that there is about as much chance of an election this summer as there is of Mr. Rowell taking too strong drink or jazz dancing. Moreover the U.F. is under the sharp eye of his brother farmer who runs on the good old party ticket and who doesn't take up with these new fads. Particularly is Mr. Halpert of North Ontario under the closest scrutiny. Helpful Halpert the Haranguing Husbandman has according to all accounts a great gift of sturdy speech. How it will suit Parliament I do not know but it holds the little red schoolhouse breathless for hours at a time. Mr. Halpert's critics are therefore looking for one of two things to happen — both based on this itch for rhetoric. Either Mr. Halpert will make a partial success of the Parliamentary manner and becomes a great bore or he will fail to catch the ear of the House and do his talking where he is appreciated. If the former is the case he will be most assiduous in the attendance at Parliament; if the latter he will use the time he is paid to spend in Parliament making eloquent excursions through the country as the U. F. organizer.

Mr. Halpert is warned. He is being watched. When he goes to Colonel Cameron for his Ottawa pay cheque at the end of the month he must be able to say with a clear conscience that he has not missed a day. His brother farmers, outside the U.F. are keen on this point, because Mr. Halpert has advertised his high scorn of money at some lengths and on various occasions. They are wondering if he will scorn it enough to dock himself for off time on both jobs or either.

Watching the Bubbles.

One rather neglects the main flood of the debate on the address which is dull and perfunctory but the bubbles are interesting. They are the undercurrents coming to the top. Of such are the compliments being paid to Quebec by speakers on the Unionist side which betoken two things—that the war is over and that the Conservative party, whatever it may call itself, needs Quebec at the next general election. These blandishments aim to divide and conquer, to split the solid Quebec as Sir John Macdonald used to do and to deliver at least thirty Quebec seats for the protective tariff. Now that Sir Wilfred Laurier is dead his old opponents argue that Quebec is Conservative and will folow that path.

Another illuminating remark was that of W. F. Cockshutt, the pan-drum of high protection, who got away from his favorite subject long enough to say that prohibition was not a success. That is taken to mean that the uplift wave is on the ebb and that Mr. Cockshutt sees it. Like other employers he may also have come to the conclusion that a sullen sobriety on the part of the workingman is not the best solution of the labor problem. Mr. Cockshutt did not say "More beer less Bolshevism," but he probably thought it when he said prohibition was not a success. Mr. Cockshutt's complaint is likewise a sign that Mr. Rowell's influence in council is not as great with Premier Borden absent as with Premier Borden present. Mr. Rowell is esteemed by his colleagues as a willing horse who will travel a thousand miles to speak say three yards and get two feet in the newspaper but he is only a half size hero when his protector is away.

Another sign of impending fate is the bill to dislodge by force broken-down judges, who lag superfluous after the superannuation period has been reached. Our Judges are mostly former politicians. Sometimes they are not even former politicians—they go on being politicians to the end of their days ,as some of their performances on special boards of inquiry amply attest. We can name Chief Justices—but we refuse to do so— who have their fingers in every political pie that is cooked. Being politicians at heart they like public life and as being a judge is an easy torpid form of public life they naturally stick to it as long as they can sit up. Sometimes they can't even sit up —they fall asleep hearing a case and are crowbarred off the job while they're not looking. There are at present ten lawyers in the Cabinet, and a bill to dislodge doddering Judges anywhere in Canada at a moment's notice ought to provide quite a few soft spots to fall on.

SHORT OF BREATH
Could Hardly Walk Without Resting

When you go to a physician to be examined for any heart trouble one of the first questions he asks is: "Are you short of breath?"

Now, when the heart becomes affected there ensues a feeling of a choking sensation, a shortness of breath, palpitation, throbbing, irregular beating, smothering sensation, dizziness and a weak, sinking, all-gone feeling of oppression and anxiety.

On the first sign of the heart becoming weakened or the nerves unstrung Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are just the remedy you require. They regulate and stimulate the heart and strengthen and restore the whole nerve system.

Mr. Stephen Crouse, East Clifford, N.S., writes:—"I suffered for five years with heart trouble. I could hardly walk from the house to the barn without resting as I used to get so short of breath. Doctors could not help me. My wife told me to get a box of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills and I felt better after taking them; three boxes made me quite well. I am now helping my son to work the farm, and can truthfully say I feel like a different man."

Voice Of The People

To the Editor of the Examiner,

Dear Sir.—In your editorial columns last evening you had an article from the Kingston Standard entitled "The cost of building". This is admittedly one of if not the most pressing question of the day, for unless our larger towns and cities are to breed slums, building activities which have been stagnant for the past five years must be stimulated and houses for the people must be provided. That the cost of building is such that no one can build without risk of loss is admitted by every thoughtful, person especially anyone that knows what is included in the building and maintaining of property hence you cannot get the capitalist to touch the proposition at all, and very few men who are conversant with the facts will build at present even for their own occupation yet the need is there and becomes more urgent and insistent every day.

To my mind we shall make no progress until we frankly recognize that some one will have to be willing to sacrifice to the common good, it is useless to expect individuals to do this to any great extent, and the scheme outlined in the article quoted from or forming great building companies to take the risk of loss. I am afraid would meet with a very poor subscription response, but there is a suggestion which I think would result in starting activities in the right direction without the man who builds risking anything and with the minimum of loss to anyone and that is this. Let us exempt from taxes for ten years except for school, sidewalk, sewer and garbage collection, all houses built up to say $3,000 exclusive of lot either for personal occupancy or to rent. This is only following out our present plan of encouraging industries and we cannot continue to have industries locate in Peterboro with out providing homes for the employees. of course this would only be a temporary measure while the present high costs continued and would I believe solve the question in such away as would be felt the least by any one for what does it mean merely that we get no taxes from the houses that would not be built at all except for that provision therefore there would be no taxes from them anyway, and yet the person who invested his money in them would be protected from the loss which is sure to come when the purchasing power of the dollar becomes normal.

I do not suppose the City council has power to submit a bylaw to allow this scheme to come into operation but I do not believe it would be impossible to get such power from the legislature. I put forward the suggestion for what it is worth and remain.

Yours, faithfully,

GEO. LEADER.

LITTLE FLOOD IN CITY LAST NIGHT

THE WATER IS GOING AWAY VERY SMOOTHLY AND RAPIDLY.

"We do not anticipate any trouble with the Downie street creek this year," City Engineer Parsons told the Examiner this morning. "The water is quite high but is moving freely."

This will be glad tidings to those residents that live near the creek and each year have had to experience the annual spring washout with its attendant flooded cellars and even first floors that cause so much damage and from which there is apparently no remedy. To these sorely tried residents it will be a welcome yet almost unbelievable to see the water moving quietly downstream without a murmur.

The rapid disappearance of the snow in the last three days and also the absence of ice in the creek is largely accountable for this satisfactory condition and the citizens will sincerely hope that the creek will forget its pranks and mischievous turns of other years and behave like a nice little creek should.

In the low lying parts of the city the rapid conversion of the snow into water has caused more disastrous results and several cellars have been flooded causing much inconvenience to say nothing of the damage.

The river seems to be pretty well loaded up with ice and above the temporary bridge it is piling up but to say whether or not the bridge is in any great danger of being carried down stream or not would be merely a guess.

ABOUT THE SEED DRILL

What Is Considered to be the Most Efficient Type.

The Feeding Device Is the Heart of the Drill—Seed Should Be Dropped Directly Under the Axle of the Disc—Give the Bearings Careful Inspection.

(Contributed by Ontario Department of Agriculture, Toronto.)

As the drill sows, so shall the farmer reap, is no fallacy. It is as true in its content as the maxim "As a man sows so shall he reap." Given the right kind of a grain drill, the seed is all planted at a uniform depth, evenly covered; the earth compacted just enough to retain the moisture around it. These conditions mean that the young plants will all come up at the same time, that the roots will be well protected, and that the grain will ripen uniformly. As the grain is planted, so will it grow and ripen. If some of the seed is planted too shallow, and some too deep, the seed that comes up first, ripens first. Thus it is that some of the grain is ready to harvest while other patches are still in the milk stage.

The feeding device is the heart of the grain drill. Upon its reliability depends the accuracy of sowing the seed. The drill scale is computed for the average sized seeds, and therefore cannot always be depended upon when the size of them varies from the normal. If the grain is oversized or undersized the required amount per acre may be sown by setting the feed lever at a point slightly greater or slightly less than shown on the indicator. There are, in common use, two different forms of feeding devices. The fluted-cylinder-force feed, and the double-run-force feed. The amount of seed sown by the fluted-cylinder-force feed may be regulated by a lever which changes the size of the outlet, but it does not always handle all classes of seed without breaking them, as can be done with the double-run-force feed, which necessarily requires for driving it a disc wheel, or a cog wheel with from nine to fifteen sets of cogs that make as many speeds or feeds.

In the most efficient type of grain drills the seed should be deposited as nearly directly under the axle of the disc as possible, as this is the only place where the seed can be dropped directly on to the bottom of the trench without hindrance. By this method the disc is not run deeper than the seed is deposited, thus the draft is reduced to a minimum. If the seed is deposited in the rear of the centre of the axle, the rotation of the disc tends to carry earth and seed up with it, causing the seed to be unevenly deposited. In operation, a properly angled disc opens a trench about two inches wide. The falling seed strikes the concave side of the shield and the convex side of the disc, and is thus scattered evenly over the entire width of the trench.

Grain seed drills are divided into four kinds, according to the type of furrow-opener — the open delivery single disc and the closed delivery single disc, the double disc, the shoe, and the hoe drills. The open delivery single disc furrow opener deposits the seed between the shield and the convex side of the disc. The space is open from the end of the boot between the disc and shield to the bottom or lower end of the shield. The shield prevents the falling seed from becoming mixed with the loose earth and surface trash and insures its free passage to the bottom of the trench made by the disc. It will also do excellent work in highly cultivated soil that is free from trash.

The closed delivery single disc furrow opener has a closed boot, similar to a hoe furrow opener, which comes down at the rear edge of the disc and deposits the seed about two inches back of the disc. It does not plant the seed at as even a depth as either the open delivery single disc of the double disc, but deposits it at least eight inches in rear of the disc hub, and wherever it meets with an obstruction, rock or hard frozen soil the disc rises up and carries the boot with it, broadcasting the seed on the surface.

There are many styles of double discs, but the one that plants the seed under or slightly back of the disc axle, or hub, is the one to use, for that point is the deepest part of the furrow. The furrow opener that shoots the grain forward of this centre is to be avoided, for the reason that the seed reaches the ground before the furrow is fully formed, and it is, therefore, mixed with the soil as the seed trench is being made, causing what is termed "wavy" sowing. The double disc type of opener tends to spread out the seed more than other kinds, so that each seed has a somewhat greater area from which to draw moisture.

The hoe furrow opener or shovel opener does not penetrate the ground readily and clogs easier than any of the other types. The shoe opener does no better work, and rather than clog will run over trash and thus plant the seed at varying depths.

In selecting a drill the bearings should be given careful inspection. They should be dust proof. The hard oiler must be considered superior to all others for this kind of work, as the oil can be forced into the bearing from the centre, and as it works out it carries all the dirt with it. It should have a well-braced seed box with steel hopper bottom to allow the seed to pass freely into the cups; strong frame and substantial wheels are important features. The distance between the furrow opener varies to some extent but six inches is the usual spacing. The seed tubes may be of rubber or of steel ribbon. The rubber tubes give good satisfaction, but are not durable if exposed to the weather. The steel ribbon tubes serve the purpose well, and if painted will last as long as the drill.—Jno. Evans, O. A. College, Guelph.

BUILDING BOOM STRIKES OMEMEE

OMEMEE, March 12.—Omemee is a busy little village this spring, owing to so much building in contemplation. Nine teams are working daily drawing gravel to the tannery, where three new buildings for the manufacture of sole leather are to be erected. A handsome cement bungalow is to be built on the corner of King and Queen streets, better known as the creamery corner, which will eventually be occupied by the general manager of the plant to be installed in the new buildings.

Manhood versus Money

Roosevelt ever dared to do what he believed was right. He dared men to contradict him.

He was frankly "out" for any man who had anything to conceal—any man who had a special privilege to advocate or an underhand game to play.

Evasion was utterly foreign to him. He lived openly—honestly—fearlessly.

His creed was the rights and the liberties of his people. His dynamic personality is an inspiration to every man, woman and child.

He instilled into the breast of humanity a love for justice and truth. He taught men to fight for what they believed in. He urged them to be fair and square. He preached a doctrine of coming out into the open and declaring before the world those things which men had been blindly seeking for years.

When Mr. Roosevelt passed away not only all America but all the world mourned. We all felt that we had lost the great friend of right, of truth, of justice, one who wished everybody well, a friend of everybody.

There was a time, not so far back in our national life either, when the man who was the shrewdest, the sharpest, the most cunning the most adroit in taking advantage of others got the biggest salary, the biggest jobs in business. To-day the man at the other end of the bargain is looming up as never before, and Theodore Roosevelt did much to bring this condition about, to spread the philosophy of the square deal, straight business methods. He never had any use for the shoddy and shams in politics. He hated crooked methods and did much to inject the leaven of the Golden Rule, the Spirit of the Sermon on the Mount, into business, into politics, into public service.

His own home life was a poem of happiness. A devoted father, a faithful husband, a loyal friend—a prince among men—he was an example for all to emulate.

Every one who knew Mr. Roosevelt knew that there was something in him that bribery could not touch, something that influence could not buy, something that was not for sale, something that he would not sacrifice or tamper with or gamble with for any consideration. Politicians who were anxious for graft had little use for him: they could not bribe him nor influence him with promises or favours, money, position or power. No position attracted him if his character must be besmirched in getting it. He used to say that no man ever really did a great thing who stained his character is the process.

Frauds had no part in the scheme of things as outlined by Roosevelt. He hated fraud and trickery as a trained fireman hates a fire. He believed in calling a spade a spade and in throwing out the spade that would not dig honestly and intelligently.

They Who Dance Must Pay Fiddler

People Cannot Take More Out of a Community Than They Put In

Collapse Is Inevitable

Town will not Survive Long if its Commercial Structure is Torn Down Faster than Can Be Built Up.

(Copyright, 1917, Western Newspaper Union)

He who dances must pay the fiddler. That is an old saying which is full of truth. The primary idea in this saying, of course, is that one cannot have any pleasure without paying for it in some way, but this is not the only sense in which it may be construed. It means that we cannot pursue any foolish policy indefinitely without paying for it in the end.

No man can overtax his physical strength indefinitely without risking ultimate disaster. Dissipation or overwork may be continued for a time without any noticeable results, but if continued for a sufficiently long time the inevitable comes to pass. The laws of nature cannot be violated with impunity. If one takes out of life more than he puts in, if he tears down his physical strength faster than he builds it up, he must eventually pay the fiddler.

What is true of the laws of nature is equally true of economic laws. The people of a community may for a time tear down the commercial structure of a town faster than they build it up without meeting disaster, but it cannot be continued indefinitely. In the end they must pay the fiddler.

Exhaust Resources of Community

The person who makes his living in a community, receiving the money of the community for his labor or the products of his labor, and then spends his income outside of his community is helping to exhaust the resources of the community just as the man who expends his energy through dissipation or overexertion faster than he builds it up is exhausting his physical resources. One man may do this, of course, without noticeably affecting the economic strength of the community, but when a dozen men or women do it the effect becomes noticeable and when a hundred do it the resources of the community become exhausted to the point where collapse is inevitable. Those who are responsible for this situation may think that they have profited individually by their actions, but they have not realized that in the end they must pay the fiddler.

There are some persons who seem to be able to get through life without much effort. There are some who proceed on the theory that the world owes them a living and they proceed to collect it. They take what they can get and give nothing in return. Such persons, however, are not very numerous. Most of us must pay for everything that we get. Some may have to pay more than their share and these are carrying the burden of those who get more than they pay for. The fact remains that as a general rule one cannot have much worth while without paying for it.

The merchants of any community are the backbone of that community, so far as its prosperity and progress are concerned. Individually there may be some of them who do not exert themselves to boost their community, but collectively they are the men upon whom the living of every person in the community depends. The success or failure of an individual merchant may not be of particular concern to the people of a community but the success or failure of the merchants as a whole is a matter of the very greatest concern.

Provide Market for Farmers

The merchants of a town, in the first place, provide a market for a large part of the products of the farmers in the territory surrounding the town. They buy the produce of the farmers in small quantities in accordance with their need, and some of them buy in larger quantities for shipment to foreign markets. If the merchants could not do this there would be no market at least for the small quantities except at ruinous prices. If the farmers could not realize a reasonable profit from their products, there would be no money for them to spend and there could be no money to pay for your products or to pay for your labor. It is therefore, of the greatest importance to every member of the community, whether a resident of the town or a farmer in the country surrounding the town, that the merchants be enabled to provide this market for at least a part of the farmers' products.

Every dollar sent away from a town to a mail order house helps to diminish the ability of the local merchants to provide a market for the farmers' products or to do any of the many other things which the merchants of every town do for their community.

Business in a community cannot be conducted on a one-sided basis. A man cannot take out of his community a good living for himself and family and give nothing in return. He may do so for a short time and get away with it but in the end he must pay the fiddler.

WEDDING BELLS

NOKES—HEPBURN

The marriage was solemnized yesterday afternoon of Mary Kathleen Madge (Tot), daughter of Mr. A. W. Hepburn of "Rickarton", Picton, and of Mrs. Hepburn, and Frank Lawrence Nokes, son of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice H. Nokes, Norfolk, Va., formerly of Winnipeg, the Rev. Fr. Player officiating. The bride who was given away by her brother, Mr. J. de C. Hepburn, wore a suit of navy blue gabardine, with blouse of lace and Georgette, a very becoming hat of blue straw and taupe fox furs. Her bridesmaid was her youngest sister, Miss Ina Hepburn, who was frocked in blue and tan shot taffeta, and wore a black hat, and the groomsman was Mr. W. O. Bobard. The bride's mother looked very handsome in black charmeuse and smart black hat; her sister, Mrs. L. E. Plummer, was gowned in blue tricollette, and wore a black hat; another sister, Mrs. Charles Ackerman of Peterboro', wore blue tricolettt with blue hat; her sister-in-law, Mrs. James Hepburn, was in blue Georgette and satin, with blue hat, and the bride's young neice, Miss Rebecca Hepburn, was frocked in blue taffeta and a pretty hat to match. The bride's bouquet was of sweetheart roses and taffeta, and her gift from the groom, a diamond ring. After the service the bridal party drove to the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Plummer, in Roxborough street, where a reception was held. Mr. and Mrs. Nokes leaving later for Norfolk, Va.—Toronto Globe.

OBITUARY

GEORGE WERRY.

On Wednesday morning, March 3rd, at Niagara Falls, Ontario, occurred the death of Mr. George Werry, a forme resident of Lindsay.

The deceased was aged seventy-six years and four months, and death was due to the infirmities of old age.

Mr. Werry is survived by two daughters, Mrs. McLean, of North Tonawanda, N. Y., and Mrs. Haltnorth, of New York City, two grandchildren, Hugh McLean 3rd line Ida, Margaret McLean of North Tonawanda, N.Y., and three sisters, Miss Ellen Werry of Peterborough, Mrs. T. B. Laidley, of Omemee, and Mrs. Taylor of Saskatchewan.

THOMAS HOWSON.

One of the most well known residents of Otonabee Township passed away yesterday afternoon at Keene in the person of Thomas Howson, for seventy-five years a resident of that township.

The deceased was born in Otonabee in 1844 and had lived in the same district all his life carrying on his agricultural pursuits. Seven years ago after his long years of service he retired from the farm to live in Keene where he has resided since then. His health had been failing for over a year and all efforts to regain it proved in vain and yesterday at four o'clock he succumbed.

Besides his wife he leaves two sons Wilbert of Peterboro and Harold of Lampman, Saskatchewan and three daughters, Mrs. Kindred of Otonabee, Maud of Del Mort, Colorado, Minnie of Calgary. Two brothers are also living John and George of Peterboro and one sister, Mrs. Pew of Fraserville.

The deceased had always been an ardent worker in the Keene Methodist Church and a regular attendant whenever he was able to be out. His kindly manner and his outstanding Christian character won their way into the hearts of all who knew him and throughout the entire district he was loved and respected everywhere.

The funeral will take place on Monday afternoon at three o'clock from the family residence Keene to Keene Cemetery, Rev. W. F. Honey, Keene Methodist Church officiating.

HELEN LUCAS.

The death took place yesterday at Harrington's Island, Curve Lake of Helen Lucas after a short illness. She leaves besides her mother three brothers and three sisters.

The funeral took place this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from the family residence to Lakefield cemetery, Rev. S. Fawn conducting the service.

MRS. PHILIP LAVOIE

Mr. W. A. Lavoie, Mark street, received a telegram this morning, bearing the news of the death of his mother, Mrs. Philip Lavoie of Reno., Nevada, on Thursday, March 11th., aged 71 years.

The deceased was born in Ottawa and moved to Chicago about 25 years ago. She leaves to mourn her loss, three sons: W. A. Lavoie of Peterborough, John P. and R. N. Lavoie of Reno, Nevada.

WATER CAUSING TROUBLE IN MANY PARTS OF CITY.

Street Commissioner Evans and his "drainmen" were battling against street streams and ponds all over the city. From the Northwest End came reports that above London street the Downie street creek is gathering its forces in ominous pools that threaten the usual flood and down near McDonnel street, there were early signs of trouble

GERMAN GOVERMENT IS OVERTHROWN

German Government Ceased Exist and New Government Being Created By Troops

REVOLTING TROOPS ENTERED BERLIN THIS MORNING AND OCCUPIED THE GOVERNMENT BUILDINGS—SOCIALIST PARTIES HAVE DECLARED A GENERAL STRIKE.

PROCLAMATION DECLARES THE NATIONAL ASSEMBLY DISSOLVED

United Press.

BERLIN, March 13. — By Carl D. Groat. — The Government of President Ebert has been overthrown.

Dr. Wolfgang Knapp, President of the Fatherland Party, has assumed the Chancellorship. General Luttwitz is Minister of Defence.

The revolution was peaceful. The Government's fall followed the announcement yesterday that a revolutionary plot had been discovered. The plot, favored by the Reactionaries, included Monarchists and Pan-Germanists, and involved sections of the army.

Gustave Noske, the Minister of Defence, immediately ordered the arrest of Dr. Kapp and Captain Padst, but it was too late.

PROCLAMATION WAS ISSUED IN BERLIN.

Canadian Press.

LONDON, March 13. — A Proclamation was issued in Berlin this morning at 10 o'clock stating that the German government had cease to exist, according to a Reuter despatch from the German capital received here.

The revolting troops entered Berlin this morning and occupied the Wilhelmstrasse, the despatch adds. No acts of violence are reported.

SOCIALIST PARTIES DECLARE A GENERAL STRIKE.

Canadian Press.

PARIS, March 13. — A proclamation issued in Berlin to-day declares that the government of the Empire has ceased to exist and that power of state has passed into the hands of General Director Von Kapp, who becomes Chancellor, and has appointed General Von Luettwitz, commander in chief of the military forces, the Berlin despatch states.

The proclamation declares that the National Assembly is dissolved and announces that a new government is being being formed. Te Socialist parties have declared a general strike, the despatch adds.

The issuance of the proclamation followed the occupation of the Wilhelmstrasse, where the government buildings are situated, by troops who had returnd from the Baltic, and had been in barracks at Doeberitz, in the suburbs. The troops entered Berlin this morning, it was stated.

IN THROES OF REVOLUTIONARY STRUGGLE.

NEW YORK, March 13. — Cables received early this morning indicate that the plot to overthrow the government was foreseen and attempts were made to meet the move, but apparently without success. An Associated Press Berlin cable reported that General Von Luettwitz, the commander of the First Reichswehr brigade, was summarily removed from his post yesterday and that units of military organizations in Berlin, were being held in their barracks ready for instant action in order to put down the reactioary plot which had ben discovered.

Earlier cables indicated that the conspiracy was not taken seriously by the people of Berlin, probably because the government had made an effort to minimize the danger which it faced. The statement was made last night that the government had reason to suspect a Monarchist plot The names associated with the new revolutionary movement indicate its reactionary character. It would appear that Germany is in the throes of a long expected counter-revolutionary manarchist struggle. Dr. Von Kann it seems probable, is Dr. Wolfgang Kapp, who became president of the German Fatherland party, a notorious Pan-German organization which urged that Germany carry on the war to the bitter end. Major General Baron Von Luettwitz was the military governor of Germany for a period early in the war, and later was a commander on the Verdun front.

MARKET COMMENT

WALL STREET

Canadian Press.

NEW YORK, March 13.—The Stock Market was visibly heartened this week by the decision of the Supreme Court exempting stock dividends from taxation and another ruling by that tribunal providing for equitable valuation of railroad properties. Vigorous rally in foreign exchange, particularly the London rate, was also an encouraging factor, although much of the rebound was forfeited when it became known that negotiations for extensive gold imports are yet to be consummated.

Oils, Motors and numerous specialties, whose dividend policy was contingent upon the tax decision of the Supreme Court, benefitted most by the movement, these issues recovering much of the ground lost in the preceding month. Additional reasons for strength of Petroleums and Motors were furnished by the continuous upward revision of price schedules for raw and refined oils, and high pressure of activity reported by automobile manufacturers. In other branches of the industrial list there was an undertone of uncertainty, implying further readjustment of the credirt situation. Local money conditions were unchanged, so far as they pertained to time funds, which held firm at the rates of the past few weeks. There was an abundance of call money at 7 to 8 per cent. until yesterday, when a 15 per cent. maximum was established in anticipation of next week's heavy payments of Federal taxes.

A BIG DEMAND FOR FARM LABOUR

Average Wage For Peterboro County is $50 Per Month.

At the Government Employment Bureau this week there were 47 applications, 44 vacancies, and 39 were placed locally.

There is a great demand for farm labour and the Bureau has had 27 applications for both married and single men. The average wage offered is $50 per month.

TO INVESTIGATE FLOODS AFTER THE DAMAGE IS DONE

SPRING FRESHETS LESS SERIOUS THAN USUAL THIS YEAR, BUT TROUBLE WAS REPORTED FROM SEVERAL WARDS.

"The citizens are sick of that kind of motion. They get it every year," said Ald. Crowe, with unveiled dissatisfaction, when the Committee of the Whole Council last night administered a gentle sleeping draught to complaints of flooding from different quarters of the city.

Ald. Jones moved, seconded by Ald. Copping that the Board of Works investigate the overflow of the Downie street creek in its spring gambol yesterday and also to report on similar trouble at Edinburgh street, and in any other districts where high water is an annual visitation.

Members of the Council spoke with deep concern about those citizens whose cellars and sheds have been invaded and City Solicitor Widdifield recalled the by-law passed last year ordering the Downie street creek to be kept clear by the owners of the property it traversed. This measure had been proposed as a remedy after the inundation of part of the north-west end last March, and was specially aimed at the obstructions in the creek in its course through Mr. D. W. Dumble's lots above McDonnel street. The City Solicitor said he thought Mr. Dumble was liable for damage done by flooding caused by blocking of the creek on his property.

Ald. Hamilton— It's not up to the city but to the property owners to get after Mr. Dumble.

Ald. Phelan—None of these people are in a financial position to take legal action.

Ald. Whitehouse— The most sensible thing would be to take steps to prevent floods happening again.

Ald. Crowe— How about clearing out the creek?

City Engineer Parsons—It is a question of responsibility. We have always been advised to keep off.

Ald. Crowe—If the city cleared out the creek and there still was flooding would we be liable or more so?

Mr. Widdifield—I don't think so

Mr. Parsons—I think the worst is over for this year. McDonnel street is only one place of trouble. It happens to be the worst. It's nearly as bad along the G.T.R. between Edinburgh and Dublin streets. A drain is needed there but it would cost $10,000.

Mr. Parsons explained that the present drain is not large enough to carry off the water.

Ald. Morrison reported water troubles near his home at the west end of Bolivar street, but Mr. Parsons assured the committee that Ashburnham's creek was behaving well.

ABOUT FIFTY COUPLES ATTENDED THE SOCIAL.

About fifty couples attended the social given last evening in the W. O. W. Hall by the Woodmen of the World, and a most enjoyable time was spent by all present. The evening was spent in euchre, carpet balls, quoits, etc., and dainty refreshments were served. The presence of Mr. J. W. Plowman, Deputy Counsel, added materially to the success of the entertainment.

ATTRACTIVE PRICES FOR ALL FRUIT

CANNERS ARE IN THE FIELD EARLY WITH HIGH PRICES BEING OFFERED.

(Special to the Examiner)

VANCOUVER, B.C., March 13th.—Hon. E. D. Barrow, minister of agriculture, told the Legislature yesterday that the fruit canners of Hamilton, Ontario and Washington State, are buying all berries and small fruit they can get at contracts very attractive for the British Columbian growers. Practically all fruit in sight for comng season in British Columbia is already sold at prices averaging twenty centa per pound. Local fresh fruit markets face a poor outlook, he asserted.

Civic authorities of Vancouver today publicly advocated Boycott by the citizens on Potatoes. Yesterday the city bought two tons for relief purposes being compelled to pay one hundred and twenty five dollars per ton. Soldier settlements on Vancouver Island announce they will not attempt to plant many potatoes unless the Government comes to their aid for seed.

DISTINCTIVE READY-TO-WEAR APPAREL FOR SPRING THAT SHOULD PROVE ATTRACTIVE TO THE LADIES.

This was the opening day for the new "Fashion Shop" at 440 George Street, which has been in process of refitting during the past few weeks. "Fashion Shop" announces as its specialties distinctive new styles for ladies in suits, coats, dresses, skirts and blouses. The models are made in that particular fashion in vogue in London, Paris, New York and other fashion centres; and are tailored and finished to set the pace for well-dressed women. The early spring styles are displayed, being advance sample creations that embody the newest out in 1920 spring fashion designs. Style-smartness is characteristic of the garments, and they are commended to those ladies who are prepared to make early spring and Easter selections.

"Fashion Shop" stores have been established in Toronto and Kitchener, where ladies' apparel is sold direct to the wearer, saving the middlemen's profits.

EMPLOYEES FAVOUR DAYLIGHT SAVING

SEVERAL MORE FACTORIES HAVE TAKEN A VOTE,

The employees of the various industries of the city are evidently in favour of the daylight saving plan. The voting in the factories shows a large majority in favour of the plan.

The results of the voting so far are:

G. Walter Green, 63 per cent. in favour.

Henry Hope and Sons, 90 per cent. in favour.

B. F. Ackerman and Co., 90 per cent in favour Colonial Weaving Co., 80 per cent in favour.

Wm. Hamilton Co., 60 per cent. against.

J. J. Turner & Sons, 90 per cent. in favour.

Bon Marche Manufacturing Co., 100 per cent. in favour.

The Close of Another Week Finds Legislative Machine Still Running Very Smoothly

MEMBERS HAVE PROMISED "CRITICAL" CONSIDERATION OF A NUMBER OF IMPORTANT QUESTIONS—MR. J. H. BURNHAM HAD A BUSY WEEK.

RESOLUTIONS FILL UP THE ORDER PAPER

Special to the Examiner:

OTTAWA, March 13.—The end of another week's Parliamentary labours finds the Legislative machine running very smoothly indeed, with the gears fairly free from sand or other gritty substances, and with the tension relieved. Oppposition members having declared themselves as to the necessity for a general election, immediately following the passing of a Franchise Act, and the approval of interim supply, and having voted solidly for that declaration, are now apparently satisfied to give the comparatively non-controversal measures so far introduced by the Government "critical" support and to expedite their passing.

The Farmers' Party.

The Farmers' party, having voted with the Opposition for an election, following a frank exposition of the faith which is in them, has since that time been content to listen. The Government forces, having overthrown the Opposition amendment by a substantial majority, and having thereafter held a caucus and decided to "carry on" until Sir Robert Borden's return, are now adopting a "wait and see" attitude, though some are justifying their existence by fairly independent comment upon Government legislation and Government policies.

Flock of Resolutions.

Legislation so far introduced has gone through its initial stages with unusual facility. That is probably because it is largely non-controversal. Private members have a lot of resolutions on the order paper relating to various public issues, but during the first day that private members had a real opportunity to spread themselves on these resolutions, it was found difficult to get any single one of them to take any of them up.

High Cost of Living.

J. H. Burnham, of West Peterborough, brought up the eternal question of the high cost of living, but the House is blase on that subject, and little good was accomplished. The jurisdiction of the Board of Commerce has been questioned. A reference as to its power comes up before the Supreme Court on Monday, and in the meantime there is talk of abolishing it altogether, because its continued existence cannot be considered as a vote-getter for the Government, and it has few friends. Mr. Burnham also brought up the question of the eight-hour day. Here again he failed to rouse the members to enthusiasm. The Government, which has held that its inauguration is a matter for conference with the provinces, but which has not yet called any such conference in spite of the fact that the International Labour Conference is many months old, sat tight and said nothing worth while. Opposition Leader King naturally declared that he would wait for the Government bill on the matter, and the Farmers' party refused to rise to what might have been construed as a bait thrown out for their luring. The members of it sat tight and said nothing. It is up to the Government. It would appear that the Government caucus was largely a talk feast, though it is rumoured that there was some sort of a clash between Sir Thomas White, ex-Minister of Finance, who, during the debate on the address, sent forth a rallying cry to the faith of the national policy, and sounded a warning to the Government against temporizing, the Liberal-Unionist members of the Government who are content to await the return of Sir Robert Borden before committing the Government party and following it a definite name and policy for the future. Sir Thomas, it is said, did not stay the caucus out. It is to be noted, however, that Sir Thomas, who was acting Prime Minister at the former caucus in the old days, counselled restraint, is now but the private member for Leeds and Brockville, and, therefore, without responsibility.

REV. PAUL COSTELLO GAVE INSTRUCTIVE ADDRESS AT THE LYCEUM LAST EVENING

St. Alphonsus Lyceum held a capacity house last evening when Rev. Paul Costello, who recently returned from the front, where he served as Chaplain, spoke on the work of the Chaplains overseas, with special reference to those of the Catholic Church.

Speaking from his own experiences, Father Costello gave an interesting account of the manoeuvres of the Chaplains from the time of joining up with the Battalion in Canada, to, when reaching England, they were stationed in camp, sent on to France, and up the line with the men on active service. He showed how the Chaplains followed the men at every central point to tend the spiritual needs of the soldiers, how they were looked after just previous to going over the top, and especially when brought back wounded. The Chaplains he said, waited upon the men at the first aid post, at the field ambulance and more especially at the clearing stations. It was the purpose of the Chaplains who were so organized that that they were always within reach of the men, to go to the men, and not wait for them to come to him.

VOTE OF THANKS.

At the conclusion of the address, Rev. C. J. Phelan moved a hearty vote of thanks to Father Costello This was seconded by Miss Margaret McGrath, president of St. Peters' Ladies' Literary Society, under whose auspices the address was given. Dean McColl, who was also present, spoke briefly in appreciation of the interesting account of the Chaplains' work given by the speaker.

THE CALL FROM LABRADOR

THE PETERBORO MINISTERIAL ASSOCIATION Gives its Hearty Endorsement to

The Grenfell Deep Sea Mission Association of Peterboro

And commends the Appeal made by the Ladies This Week to the many friends who have Subscribed to Dr. Grenfell's work in the past and to all who will be reached by the information laid before them the next few days.

$2.00 or over will make you a member of the International Grenfell Association.

$100.00 a year supports a child in the Children's Home at St. Anthony.

25 cents will buy a brick for the new Orhanage to be built. Will you help? Please hand in your contributions to The Examiner Office.

A THOUSAND MILE PARISH.

"I regard the work that Dr. Grenfell is doing in Labrador as one of the most simple and vital applications of the Gospel of Christ to human needs that modern times have seen. He has gone out into that wild country as a man seeking for hidden treasure; not the treasure of gold mines and diamond fields, but the treasure of an opportunity to serve humanity, and to make known the fullness of salvation which Christ brings to man's body, mind and heart. He has healed the sick, clothed the naked, delivered the captive, and taught the people of his thousand-mile parish to understand the love of God through the love of man. He has built eight hospitals, a seamen's institute, and established five co-operative stores where the fishermen get fair prices for their fish and buy their supplies at reasonable rates; given surgical and medical aid to thousands of patients and preached the good news of Christianity from house to house and from ship to ship.

Dr. Grenfell is the "real thing," and any money which is given to this mission will be used in a wise, practical and direct way for the help and comfort of a brave, loveable set of people who need and gratefully receive, the ministry which this strong and devoted doctor is giving to them."—Henry Van Dyke.

NINE DAYS WITH THE DEAD.

At North River a single house stands on the North Shore and at the time of the plague, this was shut off from the others by ice conditions. In this house lived an old couple, a middle aged woman and two young men. All but the woman died and she spent nine days in the house with the putrefying corpses, because of which she dared not kindle a fire to warm the house and in hourly fear of an invasion by the hungry, wolf like dogs. On the south shore 7 more died. When the relief party could cross the Bay from Cartwright they dug a hole twenty feet by twelve, hauled out the corpses two by two on komatiks, and hastily interred them. Seven miles to the north, in a still more isolated house, the father and one child died and froze together. The mother and one little one used their flour for fuel and kept alive on jelly fish, kelp, and Eskimo puppy. All along the coast a perfect famine as regards fresh meat had combined with the plague to lower health and prevent convalescence. How futile concentrated tabloids seemed and how I longed for komatik loads of partridges, rabbits, venison and milk.

OUR NEEDY KINSMEN.

No appeal should come with greater intensity than from the rough, rock-ribbed, storm-swept frontier of our own country. Right here in this Dominion there are people, blood of our blood, and fellow citizens with us, who because of natural conditions of the section in which their fathers settled, are forever denied the comforts and advantages that are ours in this more favored part of our common heritage. The common instincts of patriotism must impel us to reach out the hand of sympathy and assistance to the people of the Labrador, who but for the ministrations of the Grenfell Mission would suffer still greater hardships than those common to the lot of all who live on those inclement shores. Every dollar given helps to fill the cup of our national obligation to those needy ones who are kinsmen to us --J.W.

HEAD STUFFED FROM CATARRH OR A COLD

Says Cream Applied in Nostrils Opens Air Passages Right Up.

Instant relief — no waiting. Your clogged nostrils open right up; the air passages of your head clear and you can breathe freely. No more hawking, snuffing, blowing, headache, dryness. No struggling for breath at night; your cold or catarrh disappears.

Get a small bottle of Ely's Cream Balm from your druggist now. Apply a little of his fragrant, antiseptic, healing cream in your nostrils. It penetrates through every air passage of the head, soothes the inflamed or swollen mucous membrane and relief comes instantly.

It's just fine. Don't stay stuffed-up with a cold or nasty catarrh

MIXED FARMING IN WESTERN Canada—in Central Alberta and Saskatchewan are rich park lands—open prairie ready for the plow, interspersed with trees, which afford excellent shelter for stock. Here grain growing, dairying and live-stock raising are being carried out successfully. The country is ideal for mixed farming. The Canadian Pacific Railway is offering a large area of these fertile lands in the neighborhood of Lloydminster and Battleford These rich districts will become the home of thousands of prosperous farmers. On similar land Seager Wheeler grows the world's prize wheat. Near Lloydminster the world's prize oats have been grown and butter of the highest quality is made. A man can soon become independent on a farm here.

These lands can be bought now at prices averaging about $18. You pay down 10 per cent. If land is purchased under settlement conditions, no further payment of principal until the end of the fourth year, then sixteen annual payments. Interest is six per cent.

Irrigated lands in Southern Alberta $50 an acre upwards Same terms Write for illustrated booklet.

BOY SCOUTS HELD MEETING

REV. G. E. ROSS WAS ELECTED CHAPLAIN.

The East City Boy Scouts met in the Sunday School room of Mark street Church last evening. Rev. G. E. Ross was appointed chaplain and an excellent meeting was held. The opening exercises consisted of the singing of the National Anthem, the reading of the First Psalm, and the Lord's Prayer repeated in unison.

There was a splendid representation of the corps.

JUDGMENT FOR MR. GOODWILL IN THE DAVIDSON CASE

In a judgment delivered by Mr. Justice Orde in Toronto, yesterday, Mr. J. E. L. Goodwill is completely exonerated from any reflections on his professional honour, and the claim of Mr. J. I. Davidson for $5,000 damages dismissed.

This case was heard during the local session of the winter assizes of the Supreme Court of Ontario. The plaintiff, Mr. John I. Davidson alleged that as his solicitor Mr. Goodwill had negligently advised him to sell his twenty shares of Auburn Woollen Company stock at par value of $100 a share knowing that the stock was worth considerably more than par.

Mr. Goodwill denied that he had advised Mr. Davison in any way about the sale of his Auburn stock, an also denied that he had ever acted for him as solictor.

Mr. J. F. Strickland assisted by Mr. V. J. McElderry were counsel for Mr. Goodwill and Mr. C. R. Widdifield an Mr. R. R. Hall for the plaintiff.

GOOD EXHIBITION BY THE ONE-LEGGED SKATING MARVEL

THERE WAS A SLIM ATTENDANCE AT BROCK STREET LAST NIGHT.

Too much praise cannot be given to the performance of one-legged skating given at the Brock street rink last evening by Norman Falkner, the famous Saskatoon boy, who has amazed audiences whenever he had appeared with his wonderful skating on one leg, his left leg at that, since his right leg lies somewhere in France. It is to be deeply regretted that Peterboro people do not apparently appreciate such acts for those that turned out last evening could readily have been counted on two hands but it is unnecessary to say that those who did see it were delighted. The dexterity of the young man and his indominable gameness will not soon be forgotten and the ease with which he glides over the ice, turns, twists, backwards and forwards with evolutions that makes one gasp and marvel gives food for thought to those who find enough difficulty in getting around on both legs.

The warmth of the last few days had left the ice in a condition closely resembling putty and the exhibition of fancy skating was therefore held under anything but favourable conditions. The soft weather also spoils the beautiful markings on the ice of the different figures and so this effect was lost last night through the whims of the weather man. The exhibition included the ordinary skating forwards and backwards and figure eights stars and brackets to say nothing of the hundred-and-one figures that he introduces throughout the performance and all who saw it are of the one opinion that it is without doubt the finest skating act ever seen in this city and his return to the city in the near future if it can be arranged will be eagerly looked forward to.

Norman Falkner has had an enviable career in all kinds of sports which he has entered and at the time of his enlistment in the spring of 1916 he held the speed championship for western Canada besides various competitions won on the track and in cycling which was one of his great hobbies. He answered his country's call going overseas with the 96th battalion of his home town and went to France in January 1917 with reinforcements for the old 21st with which he served until July 17, when he got his in the right leg. The shrapnel wound later resulted in the amputation of the leg and its substitution by a peg but the boy never gave up hope of returning to his skates again and today he has mastered his disability and the exhibition which he puts on should be greeted wth a crowded rink if he makes a return engagement. Let the citizens turn out and show that they appreciate this boy's gameness and an act that make a vaudeville act look like a noon edition beside a six o'clock extra.

GREAT MUSICIANS SAY SO

You accept the advice of a first-class lawyer because he knows law. You can with equal safety buy a Heintzman & Co. piano endorsed by world-wide artists like Albani, Melba, Tetrazzini, Friedheim, Cherniavsky Brothers, and many others who know the instrument, have used it and in many cases own one. This is termed by great artists the world's greatest piano. See them at George and Hunter Sts., Peterboro, Ont.

AN INTERESTING PROGRAMME GIVEN.

At the entertainment held last evening at St. Alphonsus Lyceum, under the auspices of the Ladies' Literary Society of St. Peter's Church, a most acceptable programme was given, in addition to the lecture by Father Costello, to which the Misses Doris contributed a duet, Miss Gertrude McCabe a recitation, Miss Gertrude Clancy a solo, and the Misses Gertrude Clancy, Blanet Giroux, Clara Tangney and Vera Welsh, a quartette.

Our well known Red Rose package, the sale of which is increasing faster than ever before. Red Rose consists chiefly of Assam teas, the richest and strongest in the world, and therefore very economical. (The Red Rose Orange Pekoe package is a little different in design.)

Mountain grown Orange Pekoes from the best plantations. A tea of extra quality at a little extra price.

Have You Tried Red Rose Orange Pekoe Tea?

Perhaps not.

It has been on sale only a few days.

This Red Rose Orange Pekoe Tea is something extra. A tea of extra quality at a little extra price.

It consists of the finer quality Orange Pekoe teas imported from the best mountain side plantations—teas of rare flavor and charm.

Naturally these cost us more than other teas.

They are worth it.

Their finer flavor, delightful bouquet, extra richness and strength justify the extra cost.

If you are willing to pay a little more for a tea of extra quality there is a treat for you in a package of Red Rose Orange Pekoe Tea.

Sold only in our new package—the waxed board carton.

DROP IN PRICES COMING.

World Has Been Through Similar Crisis Many Times Before.

Professor Humfrey Michell, M. A., of McMaster University, during a lecture to social service workers here said: "The world has passed through many eras of high prices and again come back to normal.

"Prices are bound to fall again In June or July of this year people will be rejoicing in a decline in prices. It must be remembered, however, that such a fall is always accompanied by a decline in prosperity, production and employment. The world is slowly getting back to normal. Low prices are coming again, and with them will return the unemployment problem.

"High prices are symptomatic of great purchasing power on the part of the people. The more money there is in circulation the higher the prices. The less money the lower the prices. The world, however, is slow in adapting itself to new conditions, and wages never rise as rapidly as does the scale of prices. High prices always bring eras of social unrest In the age of Elizabeth, and again after the Napoleonic wars, there were periods of acute social restlessness. Today, ever since prices began to rise in 1896, the world has become more and more uneasy.

SPECIAL SERVICES AT GEORGE STREET

Special evangelistic services will be held at George street Methodist church to-morrow. The Rev. W. E. Millson who has been giving a series of strong but searching messages during the past week will preach morning and evening. His subject for the evening service will be "The Great Feast." A feature of the service will be a duet by Revs. W. E. Millson and A. J. Thomas. Everyone is invited and made welcome.

Mass Meeting of Young People.

At 4 o'clock to-morrow afternoon a mass meeting of young people will be held in the church auditorium. This is an excellent opportunity for the young people of the city to hear Rev. Mr. Millson. His subject, which should be a thoughtful one for every young person is "The Sin of Waste." Young people of Peterborough, you cannot afford to miss this treat. A cordial invitation extended to young and old.

WHEN BABY IS CROSS

Mothers, when your baby is cross—when he cries a great deal and no amount of attention or petting cheers him—something is the matter. It is not the nature of little ones to be cross and peevish—the well child is a happy child. Give him a dose of Baby's Own Tablets and he will soon be well again. The Tablets are a mild but thorough laxative which regulate the bowels and stomach; banish constipation and indigestion; break up colds and simple fevers and relieve the other minor ills of little ones. Concerning them Mrs. Oscar Bedard Ste. Sophie, Que. writes:—"Baby's Own Tablets are an excellent remedy for constipation. They relieved my little one when nothing else would and I can strongly recomended them to all mothers." The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

I KNOW A WOMAN'S SUFFERINGS

I am a woman.

What I have suffered is a far better guide than any MAN'S experience gained secondhand.

I know your need for sympathy and health.

And the treatment that gave me health and strength, new interest in life, I want to pass on to you, that you, too, may enjoy the priceless boon of health.

Are you unhappy, unfit for your duties? Write and tell me how you feel and I will send you ten days' FREE trial of a home treatment to meet your individual needs, together with references to women in Canada who have passed through your troubles and regained health; or you can secure this FREE treatment for your daughter, sister or mother.

If you suffer from pain in the head, back, or bowels, feeling of weight and dragging down sensations, falling or displacement of internal organs, bladder irritation with frequent urination, obstinate constipation or piles, pain in the sides regularly or irregularly, bloating, dyspepsia, extreme nervousness, depressed spirits, melancholy, desire to cry, fear of something evil about to happen, creeping feeling up the spine, palpitation, hot flashes, weariness, sallow complexion, with dark circles under the eyes, pain in the left breast or a general feeling that life is not worth living, I invite you to send to-day for my complete ten days' treatment entirely free and postpaid, to prove to yourself that these ailments can be easily and surely overcome at your own home, without the expense of hospital treatment, or the dangers of an operation. Women everywhere are escaping the surgeon's knife by knowing of my simple method of home treatment, and when you have been benefited, my sister, I shall only ask you to pass the good word along to some other sufferer. My home treatment is for all,—young or old.

MRS. M. SUMMERS, Box 917 Windsor, Ontario

Read My FREE Offer!

To Mothers of Daughters. I will explain a simple home treatment which speedily and effectually dispels green-sickness (chlorosis), irregularities, headaches and lassitude in young women, and restores them to plumpness and health. Tell me if you are worried about your daughter. Remember it costs you nothing to give my method of home treatment a complete ten days trial, and if you wish to continue, it costs only a few cents a week to do so, and it does not interfere with one's daily work. Is health worth asking for? Write for the free treatment suited to your needs, and I will send it in plain wrapper by return mail. Cut out this offer, mark the places that tell your feelings, and return to me. Write and ask for the free treatment to-day, as you may not see this offer again. Address:

MLR CORKERY'S APPOINTMENT.

The citizens of Peterborough generally were delighted to learn that the appointment of Mr. John Corkery as postmaster has finally been officially announced. Mr. Corkery's long and faithful service has been at last recognized by his promotion. He has served as assistant postmaster under three different postmasters has had many years of experience in connection with local postal affairs, and is in every way qualified for the position to which he has been appointed —in fact he has been admirably carrying out the duties of the office for many months. His official appointment is a recognition of his ability and service that is as gratifying to Mr. Corkery's many friends as it is to himself, and has caused general satisfaction in the city. Popular too will be the promotion of Mr. Chas. Lacheur to the position of deputy postmaster.

THE EXTREMISTS ARE BEATEN.

Opponents of "direct action" among British labour have won a decisive and smashing victory as the result of the vote at the special Trades Union Congress, which showed a huge majority in favour of political action. A few days ago the British Miners' Federation decided in favour of a general strike in an effort to force the British government to yield to their demands and nationalize the coal mines. The settling of the question was left to the Trades Union Congress which, instead of endorsing the policy of the miners and advocating the adoption of a general strike, voted most emphatically against direct action. The majority of the labour leaders and the rank and file as well saw clearly that extreme measures would not be successful and results could be attained much more effectively by constitutional methods. They know that the British people are not easily forced into any particular line of action and that the great mass of the population who are not members of the labour party would bitterly resent the employment of the general strike weapon. The extremists have had a decisive setback in their campaign for the overwhelming nature of the vote has unmistakably shown that British labour is sound at heart and is not to be led astray by glittering promises and false hopes.

SENSATIONAL CHANGES.

The adherents of the "we-won-the-war" theory in the United States will find little to bolster up their conviction in the sensational evidence that is being given by Admiral Sims, the commander of the American fleet during the war. Admiral Sims' testimony was that his hands were tied in campaign because of the interference of the Navy Department, who laid down the principle that "the future position of the United States must in no way be jeopardized by any disintegration of our main fighting fleet." The charges made by the American admiral that his repeated requests for reinforcements for the United States' fighting units, on the seas, reinforcements that were most vitally needed, were refused, because the Navy Department preferred to keep the United States' battleships intact in anticipation of complications after the war, are of a nature that must be humiliating to the majority of American citizens who believed that the utmost efforts of the United States' fleet were being exerted in a true effort to bring the war to a speedy termination. Admiral Sims declares that such was far from being the case, that the war was prolonged by the policy adopted by the American Navy Deartment with the result that thousands of lives were needlessly sacrificed and millions of dollars of damage done that could have been averted if the whole fighting forces of the American Navy had been thrown into the struggle

THE DRIFTING GOVERNMENT.

The net result of the Unionist caucus on Thursday seems to have been a re-iteration of the determination of the government to remain in office as long as possible. Little progress was apparently made in clearing up the question of leadership, or in preparing a policy for further action. The health of Sir Robert Borden, the members were assured, was reported to be improving, and the promise made that he may return within six or eight weeks to "resume his place in the House and his activities as leader of the governmnt." Doubtless the majority of the members present welcomed this declaration for the opportunity it gave of postponing the task of eventually choosing a successor to Sir Robert. There is so much danger of wrecking the administration in attempting to select a leader that the government prefers to drift along as at present, to running the risk that would be attendant upon selecting the man who is to don the mantle of the Premier. And the same lackadaisical policy will be adopted in connection with the fiscal question and any other subject over which there is an element of danger. Stick together and avoid an election if possible is the slogan under which the government is operating, and the fact that the majority of Canadians are anxious to substitute a business administration for the present aggregation of political loafers does not enter into the question at all in so far as the government is concerned.

THE NEW FRANCHISE ACT.

The new Franchise Bill brought down by the Federal Government seems on first examination to be more satisfactory than most legislation that has been presented by the Union administration. The first important change is that the disfranchising provisions and the clauses which penalized naturalized citizens in the War Time Election Act are not included in the new measure—a feature that has been pressed by the Liberal party and that is not likely to be hailed with unmixed joy by all the government supporters, for undoubtedly the "ginger group" will have something to say about it when the opportunity is given them.

Another improvement is the abolition of the enumeration system in preparing the voters' lists in urban municipalities. Provincial lists will form the basis for the Dominion lists and in the urban centres names will be added by registration. There will be no regrets at the wiping out of the enumeration system which was a sad failure in cities and towns. Hundreds of names were left off by careless enumerators and there has been confusion and dissatisfaction ever since this method was introduced.

In regard to the requirements of voters the new Act is very simple. All British subjects who have attained the age of twenty-one years and who have lived one year in Canada and two months in the particular constituency, will be eligible to vote, the conditions being the same for female and male voters.

THE SOUTH AFRICAN RESULT.

The people of Canada as well as all citizens of the British Empire will doubtless read with delight the result of the general elections in South Africa, giving General Smuts and his South African party a decisive victory over the Nationalists who are seeking the disruption of the unity of South Africa and a severance from the Empire. General Smuts earned the whole hearted admiration of the Empire by his great efforts during the war, as well as by his determination to preserve amicable relationship between the Boers and Britons and for his own sake his success of Thursday would have been heartily welcome. However the result has a greater significance than a mere personal triumph for General Smuts for it means much to the British Empire. A victory for General Hertzog and his Nationalist party would have had a very disastrous effect, for Hertzog stood for the restoration of the Transvaal and the Orange Free State to the status which they held before the South African war changed the geography of South Africa. On the other hand General Smuts' policy is a closer co-operation between British and Dutch in developing the country to its greatest possible extent and in preserving connections with the Empire. He will have no difficulty in carrying on as a result of his victory at the polls, with the assistance of the members of the Unionist party, who will undoubtedly support General Smuts on any question concerning the maintenance of the South African union or the British Emire.

THE FARMER IN BUSINESS AND POLITICS

The first flush of success of the co-operative movement of the Western farmers has evidently waned. When it is pointed out that profits of $844,401 in the year ending August, 1917, shrunk to $441,760 in the year following, and only amounted to $160,400 in the report recently published, it will be appreciate that laws of business recognizes no favorites. And what is more significant, the declining profits are on increasingly extensive operations— in fact, it would appear to be a fair observation that early successes have been responsible for the development of plans more ambitious than sound.

The farmers entered the elevator business in a very prosperous period. Big yields meant capacity business and profits resulted accordingly. Spurred on by these results enterprises in various commercial and financial lines were launched: in retailing machinery and other supplies, in sawing and retailing lumber, in exporting wheat, in marketing securities, etc. Prosperous conditions and a system which placed established business institutions at a temporary disadvantage sustained success for a time. But the poor crops of the past two years, together with keen competition by private business generally, have brought about a change. The temper of co-operation is being severly tested in the heat of competitio and adverse business conditions, it has still to prove itself.

This opinion of the rather clouded future of the farmers' enterprises is not foreign to shareholders of the United Grain Growers who have a thorough grasp of business principles. One of these communicating to the Financial Post, mentions a serious report to the effect that assets have been inflated to attain the results shown in the balance sheet. The lumber interests are being referred to as "white elephant" with an "overhead that is far too great," and "slipshod methods in the handling of the business," are spoken of. Further, there is criticism of the size of the bank loans, in proportion to the amount of stock sold for cash; these loans mean a heavy bill of interest.

The ventures of the Western farmers in the field of business have been sympathetically regarded by The Financial Post. Our attitude is the same toward the political movement. The farmers in Canada form such an important section of the community numericaly and have such large interests financially that experience which will give them a better understanding of national issues and big business is to be welcomed. The idea that the "big interests" is organized against them is the natural result of the contrast of rural isolation and urban congestion. Anything that will bring about a better understanding of common interests cannot but have a salutary effect. —Financial Post.

Alcock and Brown Made Non-Stop Crossing Of the Atlantic Ocean

HISTORY was made when the Atlantic Ocean was crossed in a non-stop flight made by Capt. Alcock and Lieut. Brown, and the machine used to make the epoch-marking journey was the Vickers-Vimy. In a few years people will not make much more fuss about crossing the Atlantic in an airship than they make about crossing it in a steamship. It is curious to note even now that there is not one-tenth or even one-hundredth part the excitement over the unparalleled feat of Alcock and Brown that was displayed when Hawker and Grieve "took off." Psychologists may explain why. One reason, we believe, is that the successful effort lacked some of the dramatic setting of the Hawker exploit. The little incident of Hawker and Grieve as they rose in the air, slipping the wheel from the under-body in order that they might travel light, thrilled millions of people as no similar trifling incident had thrilled them since the war ended.

There was also that remark of Hawker about "boating the Yanks" that warmed the hearts of his British fellow-subjects, and did not offend good sportsmen in the United States. Over there were millions "pulling" for Hawker and Grieve to beat their own flyers, for it was realized that unless Hawker and Grieve won their chances of saving their lives were not much better than one hundred to one. Then came the wonderful rescue by the Mary, and the English-speaking world felt that its capacity for excitement over flying had been temporarily exhausted. There was the additional incident that Commander Read of the American navy had flown from Newfoundland to the Azores, thence to Portugal, and thence to England, completing the trans-Atlantic flight in a heavier-than-air machine. So when with little flourish of trumpets Alcock and Brown make the greatest flight in history they find the world in no condition to appreciate immediately the tremendous character of their victory.

There was nothing "fluky" about their achievement. What sort of luck there was with regard to the weather was against them, and as was said of Hawker and Grieve, might be appropriately said of Alcock and Brown: they were well qualified to succeed. Whatever was possible for flying men was possible for them. Alcock is said to have spent 5,000 hours in the air, probably an unequalled record unless it might be shared by Capt. Roy N. Francis, of the American Air Service. While he was instructor at Eastchurch for two years after the autumn of 1914, Alcock spent nearly 3,000 hours in the air. After that he served a year at the Dardanelles, where he won his right to use the title "ace," if a word so much misused and so tediously repeated was any pleasure to him. As already announced—and the reiteration gives pleasure—Alcock is an Englishman, born at Manchester in 1892, a powerful six-footer, fair and ruddy, slow of speech like an Englishman, rather shunning society events, and with an iron nerve. His great strength of hand and wrist probably saved the ship from wreck in the weather conditions that prevailed in Newfoundland when the great "hop" was made.

Lieut. Arthur Whitten Brown, the navigator, who ought to share equally with Alcock the honor of the crossing, though, like Mackenzie Grieve, he does not so bravely catch the public eye, is one of the best qualified navigators in aeronautics. He is described as the antithesis of Alcock, being a head shorter, dark, although with greying hair as a result of his experience in a German prison camp, slim and boyish. He has a crippled left foot as a souvenir of being brough to earth by a German anti-aircraft gun at Bapaume. He is an American, or rather is doomed to be an American from now on, although he was born in Glasgow in 1886. His parents were Americans, his father having been associated with George Westinghouse in the manufacture of the automatic engine, and having gone to England upon business connected therewith. The British Westinghouse Company is now owned by the Vickers.

These are the heroes. The machine they used, like the Sopwith of Hawker and Grieve, operated by a Rolls Royce engine, or rather by two of them. Hawker depended on one. Like the Handley Page the Vickers Vimy machine was built for bombing, and it ought to be noted that Alcock was the first aviator to attack Constantinople, and holds the war record for the longest bombing raid. But the Vickers Vimy is a small machine compared with the Handley Page, having a wing-spread of 67 feet, as compared with the 46 feet 6 inches of the little Sopwith, and the wing area is less than 1,400 square feet. The machine was designed to reduce air resistance; both upper and lower planes are of the same length and ten feet apart. One particular advantage of the machine is said to be its perfect balance. It will almost fly itself once its gets started. The seating arrangement were such that Alcock and Brown could take turns at the wheel if they so desired. On the whole it has proved a great advertisement for Vickers, Vimy needing no advertisement.

THE PAPERS CARRY THE BURGLARY STORY

CHAPTER LXXI

In spite of all that had happened, and the trouble Everet thad said I had caused, he was more thoughtful of me than he had been for some time. I thought then, and now I know, that it was because of the chance there had been that the burglar might have shot me as well as James.

I was rather frightened, as usual, that I had dared to speak as I had done ot Everett. But I had also made up my mind that I would not be treated as a child or refused the consideration due me as a wife. Then, too, I had decided to say what I thought as well as to act as I wished. Leola did. Why shouldn't I?

"I don't care if I did ask him how he' like to be Number two!" I exploded when I had closed my door. "I'm just glad I had spunk enough to do it. I wish I had told him all that horrid Mr. Leveredge said about his marrying me simply because I was like Number One, and that because I was so young perhaps he wouldn't get a chance to have a number three!

I still felt insulted because of his effort to have me taught the things in which I was deficient. Had I been older, I might have appreciated his desire to improve me, and been glad of the opportunity. But I only looked at it from one angle —I was being treated like a school girl instead of a wife. When I compared Everett's actions with my Father's, I never made allowance for the difference in age between myself and my mother. Father consulted her; he didn't boss her.

The next morning Mrs. Barr came and I was so inattentive, partly because I had not slept, that she threatened to tell my husband that she would not come to me any more.

Everett had not even come in to say goodnight to me. He had come up soon after I did, but had at once closed his dressing room door, so shutting me out. At breakfast he had said a cold 'good morning,' then given his entire attention to his paper, not looking up when I spoke to him or diegning to reply.

"Leola wouldn't have cared," I thought as I watched him. And instead of playing with my food as I usually did when he was angry with me, I compelled myself to eat a very good breakfast indeed—just because if Leola didn't care, her appetite would not fail. Then mine shouldn't either.

Everett talked with Mrs. Gray a few minutes before he left. He asked about both James and Thomas, and remarked that he would call at the hospital before he went to the office.

"He is kind to everyone but me," I said to myself, as I hung around the hall hoping he would kiss me before he left. When I thought of kindness nowadays, it was entirely disassociated from generosity or my bodily comforts. Kindness had come to mean kisses and being told that I was loved. In the short time I had been married I had learned that one easily becomes accustomed to luxuries, but never to neglect or fault-finding.

I soothed Mrs. Barr by saying I had a headache, that all the excitement of my accident and the burglary had made me nervous. She apologized very nicely, and had she not added:

"You are so young it would frighten you, of course," I would have liked it much better, and accepted her apology in a different spirit.

Hetty came in from an errand about noon. She brought an early edition of the evening paper, in which was an account of the robbery and in which I was called "The beautiful young bride of Everett Graham, the popular club man."

If they had left the 'young 'off I would have been delighted. But no matter where I went, or what was said about me, that odious youth of mine had to be emphasized. It seemed to me I never would grow old, and that to be —well, like Irma Barton would be the last cry in contentment.

Had I known with what envy she and all Everett's set looked upon me just because of my youth, I wonder if it would have made me any happier?

He patted her on the head and started to search his pockets, saying: "I must see what I have got for you."

After searching his pockets for some time he at last brought out from a remote corner a peppermint.

As he handed it to the girl he said: "And now what will you do with that?"

The little girl looked at it, then at him, and replied: "Wash it."

English Women Buying Farms.

Women in England are buying their own farms or their own truck and garden spaces in rather conspicuous numbers. And this is all an outcome of the tremendous work done by women on the land during the war. The general feeling is that there will not be much room for the common female farm laborer as time advances, but for the woman who has a little money and who looks upon farming as her profession and her life work there is excellent opportunity in this direction. In the first place, on account of the compact location of the garden spaces and the cities in England transportation of foodstuffs is easy. Then garden truck and flowers do grow abundantly and profusely there, and always find ready markets.

THE C.G.E. BY-LAW WILL BE SUBMITTED TO RATEPAYERS THURSDAY, MARCH 23

THE PROPOSED EXTENSIONS WILL BE AN IMPORTANT ASSET TO THE CITY—POINTS TO CONSIDER.

To the Editor of the Examiner.

Dear Sir:—

On Tuesday, March 23rd, the electors of Peterborough will have to decide a question that is one of the most important for the future of the city that has ever come before them, when they will be called upon to vote upon the By-law to fix the assessment of the Canadian General Electric Co. It is not too much to say that the establishment of the electric works here was the foundation for the expansion of the City that has taken place. The increase in population in the last Dominion census decade was 63 per cent., which was greater than in any of the smaller cities of Ontario, including Brantford and Windsor. This was a remarkable record, and while other industries contributed largely to this growth, we should remember that the repeated enlargements of the General Electric Co's factory was a very important factor. The first factory building erected by this company was considered a large one, and rightly so considered, but it forms now a small part of the whole extensive plant of the company. The City is deeply, even vitally, interested in the continued expansion of this industry. The company's business will continue to grow, and it will add to the employment it gives, and the question that will be decided on the vote on this By-law is whether this increased growth and augmented employment will take place in Peterborough or in Toronto and Montreal.

Two considerations should be taken into account. One consideration is the agreement that was made and the By-law that was passed in 1906, and the other is the extensive additions the Electric Company proposes to make now.

By-law Number 1228, passed on the 16th, day of May, 1906, provided that if the Canadian General Electric Company constructed buildings "of substantial material suitable for its manufacturing business at the cost of at least $200,000" the lands "personal and other property of the company for a period of twenty years, computed from the first day of January, 1911, shall be annually assessed for all purposes en bloc at the sum of $150,000 and no more as a fixed assessment, including business assessment, and the said lands and premises and property shall be for such time exempt from any further assessments."

At that time the Municipal Act provided that such a By-law should only be effective upon being favoured by a vote of two-thirds of all the electors on the voters' list. This was an impractible provision, impossible of being carried out, for even at an annual election that many electors did not poll their votes. The practice of the Council, in view of this, was to apply to the Legislature for the confirmation of industrial by-laws. Such an application was made with respect to this Electric Co. By-law. The Legislature confirmed it, except that they made the Company liable for full school taxes and made the period ten years instead of twenty. In regard to the period they said that the general law provided that "exemption from taxation or a fixed assessment shall not be for longer than ten years, but may be renewed from time to time for further periods not exceeding ten years at any one time," and that they would make the By-law comply with this, leaving the question of renewal for another ten years as it was in the general law.

The company now ask for that renewal. They say that they carried out their part of the bargain then made, which they did, and that the City can now carry out its part of the bargain by passing the present By-law and thus keep faith with the company. Senator Nicholls based his request on this ground, that they having done their part fully the City should keep faith and do its part.

It is true that the Legislature not having confirmed the By-law as it was passed, the twenty years exemption is not legally binding. If it were this By-law now to be voted upon would not be needed. But the company acted in good faith, and went ahead and erected the buildings called for, and as the City can now carry out its part of the bargain if it wishes the company will consider it an act of bad faith if it does not do so. Thus one consideration facing us is, can we or should we refuse to pass the By-law and give the impression that the City will not keep faith and will back out of a bargain made if it finds a way of doing it?

The other consideration is the additions the company will make to its factory if the By-law is passed.

When he met the Council Senator Nicholls said that the minimum expenditure would be $500,000.00, but that Mr. Patterson had asked for drills further additions. Since then Senator Nicholls has written to the Mayor and stated that $1,000,000.00 will be expended on these improvements.

The new buildings will include an extension from the concrete building to Albert Street, and one from that extension along Albert Street to the machine shop building. Also a building connecting the building next east with the extension along Albert Street, and one connecting No. 2 building, the second west of Park Street, with the stores building on Albert Street. Parts of these new buildings will be two stories.

The additional floor space will be over 108,000 square feet, and it will be additional factory space.

Let us try to visualize what 108,000 square feet mean.

The factory building of the Nashua Paper Co. (the old Cordage Works), which consists of three large working rooms (apart from storehouse, etc.) has a litle over 34,000 square feet, so that the new factory buildings of the Electric Company will be over three times that size.

If the Electric Company's new buildings were all of one story they would cover the whole block from Hunter to Simcoe Streets and from George to Water Streets, and about one-quarter of the next block.

The new buildings will have space equal to a building 50 feet by over 2,000 feet. That is, they will be equal to a building 50 feet wide extending from Hunter Street to Sherbrooke Street and on more than half way to Dalhousie Street.

When the Electric Company first came to Peterborough they erected a building 272 x 100 feet with galleries. This was looked upon as a large building, a great acquisition, and it was. Yet the new buildings now proposed will be about two and a half times as large.

When we realize what these extensions mean, can we afford to lose them?

The company is not free of taxes and will not be. In the past five years they have paid $73,587.18 taxes, or over $15,000.00 a year. The new buildings, if erected, will be assessable for school, local improvement and patriotic purposes, and at this year's rate the company will pay about $5,300.00 a year additional in taxes on those new buildings.

The company's pay roll now amounts to over $50,000.00 for each pay or half month, and Senator Nicholls calculates that with the proposed extensions the pay roll will be doubled in amount.

If a new company were coming here to put up a plant such as these extensions I think we would more quickly recognize the value of the addition to our industries, but we should appreciate what these extensions will mean to the City.

One of the industrial needs of Peterborough is more female labour. Canadian Woollens, Limited, have in contemplation further extensive additions to both their Auburn and Bonner-Worth Mills which will give employment to several hundred people. But they will require more female employees, as do other factories which are in contemplation, and these extensive additions to the Electric Works would give employment to many more men, which would mean more families and more female employees available for the other factories. Thus the expansion of the Electric Works, great as it would be, would be of even more benefit to the city than the additional employment that would be given there.

Peterborough has done well in industrial growth. But to give a proper impetus a large factory expansion is needed at the present time, and the additions to the Electric Works would provide the necessary expansion and furnish the required impetus.

It is an important matter that is to be decided on March 23rd, very important for the future of the City. If the electors do not endorse the By-law the company will look upon it as breaking faith with them, and they will not erect the new buildings here. If the By-law is endorsed the additional buildings will be erected and equipped with machinery and the additional employment given, and the good will of the company will be retained so that future extensions will be made here, including, I hope before long, the manufacture of electric locomotives, which the company intended to take up when the war broke out.

Yours sincerely,
J. J. Turner.

GUARD AGAINST THE 'FLU

Serious Outbreaks of Influenza all over Canada

GOOD HEALTH IS THE SUREST SAFEGUARD

"FRUIT-A-TIVES" Brings Vigor and Vitality and Thus Protects Against Disease

There can be no doubt that the situation regarding the spread of Influenza throughout Canada is one of grave concern. It is quite true that the number of cases does not constitute an epidemic such as caused the suffering and sorrow during the terrible days of 1918. Yet there is no disguising the fact that everyone should be on their guard against the disease.

In Montreal alone, from January 20th to February 21st, three thousand, one hundred and twenty-two cases of Influenza and 189 deaths from the disease were reported to the Health Department.

If the outbreak had come at the beginning of the winter instead of the end, we might reasonably feel that the very cold weather would check the spread of the disease. But coming as it has, at the end of the winter, there is grave fear that an epidemic may occur. For spring, with its slush and rain under foot, its dampness and chill, its constant changing from cold to warm and back again, is a prolific source of coughs and colds, pleurisy and pneumonia.

The best protection, in fact, the only safeguard against the 'Flu, is, GOOD HEALTH.

Those who are not as well and strong as they should be; those who are underweight; those who are "run-down" through overwork or sickness; should build up at once. What they need is a Blood-purifier, a body-builder, a strength-giver, like "Fruit-a-tives", the wonderful fruit medicine.

"Fruit-a-tives" regulates the kidneys and bowels, causing these organs to eliminate waste regularly and naturally as nature intended. "Fruit-a-tives" keeps the skin active, and insures an abundant supply of pure, rich blood. "Fruit-a-tives" tones up and strengthens the organs of digestion, sharpens the appetite, brings restful sleep and renews the vitality of the nervous system. "Fruit-a-tives" contains everything that an ideal tonic should have; to purify the blood, to build up strength and vigor, and to regulate the eliminating organs, so that the whole system would be in the best possible condition to resist disease.

Now is the time to build up your health and strength, not only as a precaution against the ravages of Influenza, but also to protect you against "spring fever" and the inevitable reaction which comes with the appearance of warmer weather. Get a box of "Fruit-a-tives" today and let this fruit medicine keep you well.

"Fruit-a-tives" is sold by all dealers at 50c a box, 6 boxes for $2.50, trial size 25c, or sent postpaid on receipt of price by Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

SUCCEEDS JUSTICE ORDE

OTTAWA, Ont., March 10. — Mr. Francis M. Gisborne, I. S. O., has been appointed chancellor of the diocese of Ottawa to succeed Mr. Justice Orde who has retired since his elevation to the bench.

We have already given away $5.000 FREE. $200.00 more IN CASH and numbers of Merchandise Prizes will be GIVEN AWAY at an Early date.

1st Prize, $50.00 in Cash. 2nd Prize, $40.00 in Cash
3rd Prize, $35.00 in Cash. 4th Prize, $25.00 in Cash
5th to 9th Prizes—Each $10.00 in Cash.

TOGETHER WITH MANY MERCHANDISE PRIZES

Herewith will be found the picture of a Log Hut in the Woods. At first glance all you see is a man, a woman and a dog. If you look closely the faces of 8 other persons will be found. Can you find them? It is no easy task but by patience and endurance can be accomplished.

You may win a cash prize by doing so. Many have done this as will be shown by the names and addresses which we will send you. If you find the faces mark each one with an X, cut out the picture and send it to us, together with a slip of paper on which you have written the words "I have found all the faces and marked them." Write these nine words plainly and neatly, as in case of ties, both writing and neatness are considered factors in this contest.

This may take up a little of your time but at TWO HUNDRED DOLLARS in cash and many merchandise prizes are given away, it is worth your time to take a little trouble over this matter. Remember all you have to do is to mark the faces, cut out the picture and write on a separate piece of paper the words, "I have found all the faces and marked them."

WE DO NOT ASK YOU TO SPEND ONE CENT OF YOUR MONEY IN ORDER TO ENTER THIS CONTEST

Send your answer at once; we will reply by Return Mail telling you whether your answer is correct or not, and we will send you a complete Prize List, together with the names and addresses of persons who have recently received over Five Thousand Dollars in Cash Prizes from us, and full particulars of a simple condition that must be fulfilled. (This condition does not involve the spending of any of your money.)

Although these persons are entirely unknown to us, they are our references. An enquiry from any one of them will bring the information that our contests are carried out with the utmost fairness and integrity.

Winners of cash prizes in our late competitions will not be allowed to enter this Contest.

This Competition will be judged by two well known business men of undoubted integrity, who have no connection with this Company, whose decision must be accepted as final.

Your opportunity to win a good round sum is equally as good as that of anyone else as all previous winners of cash prizes are debarred from entering this contest.

"DRY" SCOTLAND WITHIN SIGHT?

MANY PARTS WILL BECOME SO IN JUNE, ITS ADMITTED.

LONDON, March 12.—British liquor interests are seriously disturbed over the probability of considerable areas in Scotland going dry under local option law which comes into operation in June. The National Citizens' Council has been formed in Scotland, strongly supported by influential business men, churches, and temperance organizations, for a no-license campaign. The distinguished Highland soldier, Lieut.-Col. Kyle, is secretary.

The liquor interests have also organized but are attracting little outside support.

Both sides are undertaking immense publicity campaigns. A Daily Express correspondent declares there will be many dry spots: "We in England have not realized how determined and well organized this campaign is to make Scotland a northern Sahara. We shall have a dry next door neighbor before we know it. Golf at St. Andrews will become impossible. The odds at present are five to three. A number of Glasgow municipal wards will vote."

The Daily Mail, after a special investigation declares while to mention prohibition in England eight months ago encountered howls of derision today there is an estimated prohibition vote in England of several million: "Carried away by the abnormality of the hour and believing that now is the time for great social rebuilding a wide section of the public would appear to have come to the conclusion that drink has got to be considered in an entirely new light."

The Mail admits that women drink more than formerly, and that drunkenness is increasing since the armistice, but is still a long way behind the pre-war figures. It declares that there is widespread sentiment that the liquor trade must be made to understand that up to a certain point it is most welcome an desirable, but after that mark has passed it develops into a serious nuisance.

"England is not worrying much about American efficiency, but at the same time she is realizing for the first time that liquor in excess is a great hindrance to natonal happiness and prosperity." The labor conference in London considered the liquor question on Saturday and the general sense of the gathering which was influentially attended was against prohibition and favoring State operation.

Silks! Bountiful and Beautiful

As Fresh As The Breeze and As Pleasing As The Sun

THEY will bring to your mind, the bright days and the gay occasions that come with the passing of the snow. Their color will appeal to your good taste for their loveliness cannot be denied. They are woven and printed in ways that are alluring and above all fashion smiles down upon them and gives her approval.

Kumsi Kumsa (Fantasi), Recommends Itself For The Skirt Beautiful

The material is as odd as its name, but pleasing, nevertheless. Some have described it as snakeskin, because its uneven surface bears a resemblance. We are showing it in a beautiful shade called Hortensia. It is a light blue that reflects a little pink. It can also be had in a charming shade of orchid. The width is deep enough to form the length and the price is $13.50 yard.

Plaid Silks are Much in Evidence and Liberally Used by Noted Designers

They will answer your purpose whether it be for a separate skirt, dress or blouse. The navy grounds are most popular with overchecks of green and light blue. We can show you various patterns after this order. They are paillette, 40 inches wide, and priced at $5.75 yard.

We must not overlook a handsome check that is divided by one-inch stripes. There is an equal distribution of navy and Pekin blue. The width is 36 inches and the price is $5.75 yard.

The Foulard Is Again with Us

We mention just one pattern. It can be had in two colours—a navy and a black. The pattern is a unique arrangement of spots. The width is 40 inches and the price is $7.75 yard.

Tricolette is Not Only Fashionable but Durable

We introduce to you a perfect shade of navy in this adaptable material. If you want it for a skirt we suggest that you choose for your blouse a messaline or taffeta in chaume colour—the new biscuit shade. These we can provide you with in a 36-inch width at $4.00 and $3.00 yard. The tricolette is $7.00 yard. It also can be had in peacock blue.

The Ever Popular and Alluring Georgette

Many people have come to appreciate our elbow proof quality. It's winning new friends every day and it deserves to. It is obtainable in a galaxy of wonderful, radiant colours, quiet tones and mid shades. It is 40 inches wide and is priced at $3.00 yard.

In printed georgettes we are showing many fascinating patterns and colour harmonies.

CITY TO ASK FOR $200,000 FOR HOUSING COMMISSION

WILL NOT UNDERTAKE BUILDING SCHEME BUT WILL LOAN MONEY TO CITIZENS WHO ACCEPT PROVINCIAL HOUSING AID—NO INTEREST CHARGES UNTIL MONEY IS PUT INTO USE.

NO VACANT HOMES

Peterborough will borrow $200,000 from the Provincial government for the use of those citizens who desire to avail themselves of the advantages of the Ontario Housing Act.

In specifying the sum to be applied for in the by-law which was recommended by the committee of the Whole Council last night, $100,000 was first suggested, but anticipating that it might not be sufficient the members proposed $150,000 and finally $200,000.

"I am afraid the people will think we are extravagant," Mayor McIntyre remarked.

"It won't cost us anything until we start to use it," Ald. Crowe replied.

"I know that," said His Worship, "but a lot of people will not understand it that way."

Caution sat with the committee as they set themselves to the consideration of the city's housing problem. Its bristling difficulties were not minimized, and Mr. F. H. Dobbin, chairman of the Housing Commission, related some of the mistakes that had been made by other cities of the province in their building schemes last year.

On the other hand, the scarcity of houses in Peterborough was represented as an obstacle to the city's industrial progress and as a hardship upon tenants that would continue to grow worse.

"Not one-half of one per cent. of the houses in this city are vacant, and that would amount to 20 or 25," said City Clerk Armstrong.

"And most of those were empty for only a day or two," Ald. Morrison added.

Speaking apparently as Industrial Commissioner, Mr. Armstrong said he had heard manufacturers who were looking for a site observe that if ten per cent of the houses of a city were vacant that indicated a comfortable place for the selection of homes by those who wanted to move; if there were more than ten per cent. it looked like a loose city and if less than ten per cent. they concluded that the city was overcrowded."

It was the concensus that there were practically no vacant houses here, and Mr. Armstrong remarked that it was useless to try to secure new industries unless there was more housing accommodation.

Commission to Loan Money.

The committee of the Whole dealt guardedly with the housing proposal, and so far have not committed the city to any policy involving expense to the municipality. The official application of the loan of $200,000 is simply following up the action taken some time ago to obtain a share of the Government's fund if it decides to extend the scheme so widely adopted last year.

The money will simply be set aside for Peterborough without interest charges until part of it is borrowed by citizens who decide to build, and they shall pay the interest on the loan.

City Engineer Parsons, who accompanied Mr. Dobbin on his investigation trip, stated that there would be some expense to the city if any buildings were erected under the Housing Act, but the total would be comparatively small.

It was generally agreed that the city should not undertake a municipal building policy as was done by Brantford, Guelph and various other cities last year. The proposal not only presented difficulties, but there were also possibilities of incurring debts that would fall upon the municipality.

Future action is, of course, contingent upon the Government, providing money which the municipalities may borrow this year. The fund for last year's work was entirely consumed, but it is generally expected that the Legislature will continue to finance the scheme. In that event the local Housing Commission will act simply as an intermediary between the builder and the government. Citizens deciding to erect houses may follow their own tastes, plans will be offered them at cost, and the only restriction will be the inspection of the work by the Commission's agent.

Will Notify the People.

Last year twenty-seven citizens signified their intention of building under the provincial scheme, and Ald. Crowe said he knew five or six others who wanted to get homes of their own. An effort will be made to obtain a close estimate of the cost of houses, of which plans are in the possession of the Commission. Letters will be sent to those who have already expressed their intention of building, and the Commission's system will be advertised for the benefit of others.

A Desirable Method.

It was stated that Ald. Turner intended to build five or six houses for the employees of the Turner company which would guarantee the payment of the interest.

Ald. White house remarked that it would be an excellent scheme if manufacturers would give security in the event of employes for any reason giving up houses they had begun to pay for

Mr. Dobbin stated that the De Laval company's charter excluded housing schemes, and Ald. Crowe recalled Senator Nicholls' declaration that the C.G.E. company had "trouble enough without building houses"

Might Cost $30 a Month.

City Engineer Parsons estimates that for a $3,000 house the monthly payment by the builder would be nearer $30 than $20. Mr. Dobbin gave it as $26.

"I don't think we could put up anything like these Bradford houses for $3,000," Mr. Parsons continued. "The safest way to handle this would be for the city to loan the money. Let the man build his own house. There are not many men who can read plans, and when a house he might decide on would be completed he might be dissatisfied and disappointed. It is better that he should build it himself, the Commission lending him the money.

The question is whether the need is so great that it warrants bonusing builders. Costs may go higher, but if a slump comes the city would be left with the houses on its hands. It's an emergency matter not a business affair. The emergency is what justifies it. You cant get private money into it."

Mayor McIntyre.

"I have come to the conclusion that if the Council thought it wise we should apply for a loan from the government," said Mayor McIntyre. "The success of a scheme would largely depend upon the men we were dealing with. We would have to have good security. If we know a man is all right I think he should get all the help he can take care of."

Ald. Gaine and Ald. Morrison contended that the houses were too expensive for the man earning $100 a month.

Mr. Dobbin stated that houses could be built for less than $3,000. There was no limit except in the other direction. The maximum was a $4,500 house.

Ald. Gainey—How is the average mechanic going to pay $30 a month?

Ald. Copping—A fireman told us he was paying $25.

Ald. Crowe—I think we can let the people decide whether they can build or not.

City Clerk Armstrong pointed out that if a labourer could not build the house, a mechanic might, and would thus proivde that much room for others.

A FARMERS' PARTY IS THE LATEST IN JAPAN

The Orientals Want to Be Just Like Westerners and Control Politics.

(Canadian Press.)

TOKIO, March 12.—Premier Hara's adroit move in proclaiming dissolution of the Diet was a thunderclap to the press and public alike, and the newspapers are busy seeking reasons other than those ostensibly advanced for prompting the Premier's coup d'etat, says the correspondent of the London Times. Premier Hara asserts that the suffrage agitation stirring up dangerous radical elements rendered prompt action imperative. But the press has almost unanimously expressed the view that the crisis has been precipited by purely party consideration.

Much capital is being made out of an alleged blunder by Foreign Office officials concerning the publication of diplomatic documents reviewing confidential matter. The newspaper Kokumin Ssimbun says: "A certain diplomatic blunder threatened exposure which would be a serious blow to the Government. Had the matter been pressed by the Opposition, there was no alternative except resignation."

Elections are expected within five months, when the Soiyu-Kai (the party created by the late Prince Ito in 1900) in the opinion of the correspondent will probably increase its majority, ah "the farmers are the backbone of the party."

LOSS OF STRENGTH THROUGH INDIGESTION

THE STOMACH CAN ONLY DO ITS WORK WHEN THE BLOOD IS RICH AND RED.

Indigestion means loss as well as suffering to many people. Loss of strength, loss of time and loss of money follows indigestion and debility continues as long as the indigestion remains. Workers suffer from indigestion because their hours are long, and often they cannot give proper time to meals. Then the appetite becomes fickle, digestion becomes feeble and the blood becomes impoverished. So the general health suffers, langour, nervous troubles and often sleeplessness follows. It is well to remember that the whole system relies upon good blood and that blood blood is impossible unless the digestion is good.

The stomach cannot do its work unless the blood is made rich and red, and so new blood alone can cure indigestion. It is for this reason that a remedy like Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, which makes new, rich blood, cures indigestion and builds up the whole system. The great value of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills in cases of this kind is proven by the statement of Mr. R. E. Small, Wingham, Ont., who says: "The truthfulness of my statement can be proven by scores of my friends and acquaintances. I am a glove cutter by trade and for six long years have at times been a great sufferer from a complication of ills chiefly due to indigestion. Gas would accumulate on the stomach — causing me great pain. I would bloat up at times and almost suffocate and often when at work would be overcome by a drowsy oppression which was almost indiscribable. Finally I began the use of Dr Williams' Pink Pills and after taking seven boxes I feel like a new man. The transformation they have made in me is simply remarkable and while using them I gained 13 pounds in weight. I may add that I began the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills as a result of what they did for a niece who underwent a critical operation and who did not regain her strength until she started using the pills. In her case they fully restored her health and this encouraged me to begin their use with, as I have already said, a complete restoration of health in my own case"

You can get Dr. Williams Pink Pills through any dealer in medicine or by mail at 50c a box or 6 boxes for $2.50, from the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

ON WINDY NIGHTS.

The stars are so white and the sky is so still,
But the wild wind shakes my window sill.
He wants to break into my dreams and shout,
But I know a way to keep him out.
The swallows came and showed it to me
When it was April—and I was three.
So I've picked up cotton and string from the floor,
And there was a pile by the nursery door
Our carpenter left the other day
Of shavings that I have put away.
So, just as soon as Mother sings
About the bag that the Sandman brings,
I'm going to get right up and pack
Those bird-nest things in every crack.
Till the window is just so nice and tight
That it won't be able to rattle all night.
Then the noisy wind can't reach my bed,
And I'll go and dream of the fairies instead
—Edna Mead in N. Y. Times.

THE EDELWEISS.

Far up on sternest Alpine crests,
Where winds of tempest blow,
They say that, all unfearing, rests
A flower upon the snow—
A tiny flower, pale and sweet,
That blooms o'er breath of ice;
And glad are they, on any day,
Who find the edelweiss

Ah! far on heights of sorrows cold,
Where tears are dropping slow,
Some hearts have found, and, finding, told
How fair a flower may grow
With petals pale, but perfume rare,
To garlands days of ice.
And blest are they who, weeping, pray,
And find both—edelweiss

IN THE LITERARY WORLD

There is so much literature in the world that is worth delving into, that it seems strange that people should deliberately turn aside from it to splash about in the mud of malodorous fiction. In nine cases out of ten if the question were to be asked of anyone why he cared for a book of this description the answer would be "why, my dear fellow, it is the greatest psychological study that was ever made, the author is a genius." But the answer doesn't altogether carry conviction. It is quite open to doubt whether very many people would wade through such a book for the purely psychological aspect of it, if there were not something else in it that appealed to the baser instincts of their being. Nor is it quite clear to one's mind where the good comes in of making one's reading entirely that of fiction to the exclusion of every other form of literature, even if that fiction is on a thoroughly healthy and refined plane.

Whenever I notice, as sometimes happens, persons coming in, week after week, taking out one novel after another and leaving history, biography, fine arts, travel, severely alone it invariably brings to my mind an incident in which a member of Parliament figured some years ago at a dinner given to the members of the lepislature by the Lieutenant-Governor of a certain Province. "Say George," he remarked to his next-door neighbor at table, "I don't know what this here stuff is that they're givin' us to drink, (it was champagne) but I much prefer my good old glass o'beer." Life-long addiction to novels has, much in the same way, destroyed all desire in some people to wander further a-field and explore other avenues of literature.

It is a little appalling as stated two or three weeks ago in these columns to find the books of so many really famous writers lying neglected on the Library shelves. Let the reader take the following list and judge for himself if there is not something wrong with the taste of the reading public when fiction of a wholly high order beckons to the passer-by and beckons in vain.

Charlotte and Emily Bronte, Chambers' Miscellany 8 vols., Wilkie Collins, George M. Ebers, Bulwer Lytton, Louisa Muhlbach, Clark Russell, Frank Smedley, Anthony Trollope, Rhoda Broughton, Tales from Blackwood many vols., Marion Crawford, Bret Harte, Thomas Hardy, Thos. L. Peacock, Sir W Scott, R. L. Stevenson, Stanley Weyman, Samuel Butler, Alex. Dumas, Victor Hugo, George Meredith, Chas. Reade, J. H. Shorthouse, W. M. Thackeray.

The above are only a few of a number that might be named whose popularity has waned or is waning. And what a galaxy of talent is there represented. The name of Bronte conjures up memories of those fine romances Jane Eyre, Wuthering Heights and Shirley. Wilkie Collins, beloved of most English boys wrote The Woman in White and The Moonstone both most exciting and interesting novels. George M. Ebers, who was as famous an Egyptologist as he was a novelist and who only took to novel-writing after a paralytic attack had rendered him helpless for research work, wrote Uarda, Home Sum, and The Burgomaster's Wife, all good novels. Lytton, whom Thackeray so mercilessly caricatured but who was nevertheless, one of the best of the nineteenth century novelists, wrote Eugene Aram and many other fine books. Eugene Aram which was written in 1832 was founded on the career of an English scholar who murdered a man of the name of Clark in 1759. Louisa Muhlbach wrote many stories, all interesting but all of them dealing with some phase or other of German history.

Clark Russell was one of the finest writers of sea stories that England has produced. He died at Bath a few years ago. He was the son of Henry Russell, who composed the well-known songs, "Cheer, boys, Cheer;" "A life on the ocean wave" and "There's a good time coming, boys," songs which in the days of my youth were as familiar to all as "It's a long, long way to Tipperary" was in the early days of the war. Clark Russell was a relative of the poet Wordsworth through his mother, Isabella Lloyd, and through her he doubtless inherited his taste for literature. Sir Edwin Arnold wrote of him as the "Prose Homer of the Great Ocean" and Swinburne called him the "greatest master of the sea, living or dead." His descriptions of storms at sea are fine pieces of word-painting and might almost vie with that wonderful account of a storm in Victor Hugo's "Man who laughs." Mention of Clark Russell carries me back to a morning in the summer of 1910 when, happening to be in Bath, I passed a bus-load of passengers being slowly driven up one of the steepest of the streets in what Whyte-Melville termed aptly "that city of Precipices." One man caught my eye at once. I knew him to be Clark Russell from portraits that I had seen of him, but the thing that chiefly struck me was his dreadful pallor. I cannot call to mind in the whole course of my experience having seen a person who presented such a ghastly appearance. Poor man, he only lived a few months afterwards, dying on the 8th November, 1911.

Frank Smedley is not as well known to modern readers as many of the others on this list but he wrote a book, "Frank Fairlegh," which, after 'Tom Brown's School Days," would seem to come nearest to suiting the tastes of school boys and grown-ups alike. It is a tale of school life, and used to be a great favorite some years ago. Anthony Trollope, although people are beginning tardily to recognize his fine qualities as a writer is very far from being a popular author so far as the Public Library is concerned. His Barchester novels are perhaps his finest work. He was a prolific writer and many of his other books used to have a great vogue. Rhoda Broughton wrote many books of a light and pleasant character. The novelist who comes closest to her in these days would probably be Berta Ruck. The Tales From Blackwood are, of course, celebrated. They are short stories written by famous authors of the latter part of the 19th century. If people knew how much of interest is enshrined between the covers of this series and of Chambers "Miscellany" they would accord them a fairer measure of popularity. Everyone knows Marion Crawford. Not so very long ago, he was constantly in demand. But that demand seems to be easing off, as in the case of Thomas Hardy, Bret Harte, Stevenson and Meredith.

Thomas Love Peacock, whose name seems also fated to go down in obscurity wrote one or two good stories, Maid Marian, which was dramatized by Planche, and Crotchet Castle, which reveals him at his best. It is, however, a tale that might not greatly appeal to present day tastes. It deals with the doings and sayings of guests at the home of a Mr. Crotchet. There are two delightful characters, Dr. Folliott, an old-fashioned Church of England clergyman and a Miss Susanna Touch-and-go, in whom one's interest chiefly centres.

Samuel Butler, the printing, of whose "Notebooks" in 1912 led to a recrudescence of interest in his writings, was the son of a clergyman and a grandson of Dr. Samuel Butler, once headmaster of Shrewsbury and afterwards Bishop of Lichfield and Coventry. He can hardly be classed as a novelist, for his leanings were philosophical and his best-known books "Erewhon" and "The Way of all Flesh" were attacks on the canting, conventional morality of his time. They would hardly be in favour with readers who revel in the works of Oppenheim or Garvice. In early life he had aspired to be a painter and, in fact, exhibited ten or eleven pictures at the Royal Academy. He also devoted some time to the topography of Italian Switzerland and to criticism of Italian art Butler was remarkable for the manner in which he attacked the ideas of his time on every conceivable subject religion, science, painting, archaeology, and music especially came under the biting touch of his vitriolic pen. He died in 1901.

It is a great pity that the works of Charles Reade have lost their popularity. His books were nearly all written with the purpose in view of ameliorating the lot of those who had plumbed the depths of misery and wickedness. His books are interesting to old and young.

J. H. Shorthouse, the author of John Inglesant, was forty seven years old when he published his famous romance. He was not a novelist by actual profession, being a manufacturer of sulphuric acid at Birmingham He was nearly twenty years on the writing of his story and it remained in M.S.S. for three years when the author printed 100 copies for private circulation. One of these found its way into the hands of Mrs. Humphry Ward who recommended it to Messrs Macmillan for publication Mr. Gladstone was at once struck with it and praised it so highly that he made its reputation. It became the most discussed book of the day. Its chief charm is that it depicts with wonderful reality the atmosphere of Charles the First's time and the Italy of the 17th century. In the hero, John Inglesant, he presents about the finest portrait of a gentleman to be found in the whole realm of fiction. The story does not lack for incident and abounds in rich descriptions of the courtier-life of the time of which it deals.

CHILDREN'S HOUR AT THE LIBRARY

One of the happiest events in the lives of many of the children in the city is the Childrens' Hour at the Public Library held each Saturday morning in the lecture room of the Library. This form of literary education was commenced several months ago shortly after the opening of the childrens" department and for the first few weeks was attended by some twenty five or thirty children, who having keenly enjoyed the happy hour spread the news of what they had seen and heard amongst their friends until to-day the attendance totalled one hundred. Miss Newton, the librarian state that through this medium of education which generally takes the form of a story by her, a surprising amount of talent is discovered and the tastes of the children developed along the right lines. To vary the entertainment on some mornings some of the children take charge of the programme and pianos solos and recitations are given. Mr. Delafosse said that in many cases at the Childrens' hour the little ones hear the piano for the first time in their lives.

THE STOCK MARKET OPENED WEAKER DEMAND STERLING WAS A CENT LOWER AT OPENING.

(United Press.)

NEW YORK, March 13.—The stock market opened somewhat irregular to-day although the general tendency of prices was downward. Changes were fractional with the exception of General Motors which dropped four points to 318.

U.S. Steel opened unchanged at 83¾. U. S. Rubber at 105 up ⅛. Sinclair 43 up ¼. Republic 92¼ off ¼. New Haven 34¼ up ⅛. Central Leather 85 off ¼. Studebaker 95¼ off ⅝. Bethlehem B. 90¼ off ¼. Baldwin 118¾ up ¼. Southern Pacific 99⅛ off ⅛. Union Pacific 121 unchanged.

Pan American Pref. 92¼ off ¼. International Paper 79⅛ off ⅛. American Woolen 124⅛ off ¼. Chandler made a new high record soon after the opening at 151⅛ up 4 net.

This carried Central Motors up from 318 to 324 but it then broke back to the previous low.

Interest shifted to the rails late in the first hour and Reading made a new high on the move at 86½. Southern Pacific was up 2 and other rails a point or more.

STERLING EXCHANGE.

(United Press.)

NEW YORK, March 13.—Demand sterling was one cent lower at $3.68¾ on early nominal quotation today.

Sterling opened at $3.68½ cents, France at $13.42 up 2 centimes and Lire $18.12 off 7. U.S. dollars on Canada were $1.275 and marks .0127.

Easy to Make This Pine Cough Remedy

Thousands of families swear by its prompt results. Inexpensive, and saves about $5.

You know that pine is used in nearly all prescriptions and remedies for coughs. The reason is that pine contains several peculiar elements that have a remarkable effect in soothing and healing the membranes of the throat and chest. Pine is famous for this purpose.

Pine cough syrups are combinations of pine and syrup. The "syrup" part is usually plain sugar syrup.

To make the best pine cough remedy that money can buy, put 2½ ounces of Pinex (50 cents worth) in a 16-oz. bottle, and fill up with home-made sugar syrup. Or you can use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, you make 16 ounces—more than you can buy ready-made for $2.50. It is pure, good and very pleasant—children take it eagerly.

You can feel this take hold of a cough or cold in a way that means business. The cough may be dry, hoarse and tight, or may be persistently loose from the formation of phlegm. The cause is the same—inflamed membranes—and this Pinex and Syrup combination will stop it—usually in 24 hours or less. Splendid, too, for bronchial asthma, hoarseness, or any ordinary throat ailment.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, and is famous the world over for its prompt effect upon coughs.

Beware of substitutes. Ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with directions, and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money refunded. The Pinex Co., Toronto, Ont.

War Taxation Invented.

War taxation, like everything else, had to be invented. The king who first thought of it in England was Henry II. Instead of asking his barons to accompany him to French battlefields at their own charge, he compounded with them, accepted "scutage" or shield money, and from the burgesses he collected "gifts," "aids" or "tallages." Henry could then hire his own men, and if need be turn them against the bold, bad barons themselves, as the army was under his own control.—London Tit-Bits.

Planting the Cultivated Crops.

To ensure good crops of carrots, mangles, sugar beets, potatoes and corn, the land should be well prepared and seed should be secured of the highest quality. Under average conditions the Irish Cobbler variety (early potatoes) and the Green Mountain (late potatoes) are recommended for Ontario. To secure best results with the potato crop, it is always better to plant them not later than the 15th of May. This year plant half your seed ten days earlier than you have been accustomed to doing, and plant the other half at the usual time. The experiment will prove to your satisfaction the value of early planting. If the potato planter and sprayer has not already been overhauled, a rainy day may be very profitably employed in this work.

To Clean Paint Brushes.

No matter how hard a paint brush has become, it can be made as soft and clean as new, says R. A. Gallilher in Farm and Home, by simply boiling in water into which has been put a little lye. A little washing powder or soap will do, but it will take longer.

The brush should be placed on end, and the boiling water should be no deeper than the length of the bristles, as the boiling suds will injure the handle. Turpentine will clean paint brushes, but not after they have become real hard.

Process of Cremation.

The process of cremation is as follows: The casket is lowered into the incinerating room. The metal handles and name plate are removed, and it is put into the retort. The heat is so intense that after a few hours only the ashes of the bones remain, all else, including the structure of the casket, having disappeared in light ash or gaseous products. The casket screws and nails are removed by a magnet, and about four ounces of pure ash remain.

SHORT STORY

The Bell Piano

By OTTILIA F. PFEIFFER

(Copyright, 1918, Western Newspaper Union.)

"You must lie fallow for a year—perfect rest for mind and body—and you will come out a new man," pronounced Dr. John Burt.

"Which means give up thinking and live only to eat and sleep," submitted Ellis Warren disconsolately.

"That's about it. You will have to change if you continue to pester your brain with inventions. Of course something easy, idle, entertaining, a pleasure instead of a task, is all right.

So Ellis Warren went down to Litchson, a pretty countryside hamlet, and found just the place that suited him—a rough, but comfortable summer bungalow with a spacious porch, a trout stream at the door, the grand old mountains back of it.

One day on a jaunt he passed through the county seat and was attracted by a sale going on at the instigation of the local hotelkeeper. A stranded company had become delinquent and boniface was realizing on their effects at auction. The odds and ends of trumpery did not greatly attract Warren until a string of musical bells was offered. They comprised the outfit of some unfortunate artist, their clear, ringing tones pleased him and he bid them in.

"Just the thing," he mused with satisfaction. "I see my way clear to enjoy some inventive occupation for a week or two, building a bell piano."

The broad porch was transformed into a workshop. Warren's knack as an inventive genius stood him in good stead. He constructed a frame, supplied it with broad wooden keys, connected them with spring wires to the bells fastened against his home-made sounding board and had an experimental concert all to himself.

The result was most pleasing. Not only were the bells superior in timber, and resonance, but there was a mellow echo to their vibrations that pierced the surrounding woodland and died away in the most exquisite melody.

One afternoon Warren awoke in the hammock just in the humor to put on a tune at his bell piano. Seated before it he struck out a simple pretty dance tune. Half way through with it he turned at the sound of merry childish voices. Glancing over to a nearby clearing he made out half a dozen little figures dancing in time with the music. They wore garlands of flowers, and nearby was their chaperon, a lovely young girl of about eighteen. She waved her hand in rhythm with the music and smiled indulgently upon her little brood, evidently on a picnic lark. In the hazy, ambient air the picture of grace and beauty seemed almost unreal to Warren. He ceased playing. Two audacious little ones came running up to the porch.

"Oh, dear, mister!" pleaded one of them, "please don't stop the beautiful music," and after resuming at the bell piano and pausing later, Warren found that the entire group, the young lady included, had come directly up to the porch. Her expressive face showed genuine pleasure as she said:

"How can we thank you for this unexpected treat, and what beautiful harmonies your strange instrument produces."

Warren invited his welcome visitors to the screened porch. The unexpected companionship put him on his mettle. There were lemons and ice on hand, an unopened box of chocolates, and soon he had his juvenile friends in high delight, while he conversed with Miss Ava Dallas.

"How I would like dear Harold to hear your wonderful musical creation!" she spoke longingly. "He is my brother, a cripple, and loves music. I think he could learn to play your bell piano, with its broad keys and simple scale. Which resulted in Warren insisting that Harold be brought upon the scene the next day. All the gloom of helpless illness left the shadowed face of the afflicted lad as he heard the wonderful piano. He acted like a new being when, after an hour's effort, he was able to pick out quite a perfect tune.

Then Warren became a regular visitor at the handsome country mansion, and one day he made Harold frantic with delight as he had the bell piano conveyed to the cripple's home. "You see, an inventor tires of his toy once his work is done," he insisted, "and you enjoy it so much. Take it as a welcome gift."

"Oh, Mr. Warren!" spoke Ava, meeting him near the river one day, "you don't know what you have done to brighten the life of Harold. There was a war meeting at the village last evening, and papa arranged to have the bell piano and Harold taken there. And Harold played all the patriotic tunes, and just thrilled the audience, and he is so proud and happy to think that, helpless as he is, he can go about the country and stir up sentiment for liberty!"

"Aha! shirking instructions, are you?" challenged Doctor Burt, meeting Warren on a city street a little after that.

"Oh, three months have made a new man of me!" declared bronzed, rugged, glowing-faced Warren. "I'm in town to arrange for my marriage. Doctor, you put me up against health, happiness and a lovely wife with your glorious prescription, and Ava expects to thank you when you come to our wedding."

SICK HEADACHES CONSTIPATION

If you have suffered from constipation for years, tried doctors and all the remedies you ever heard or read of, without getting relief, if you have been subject to all the miseries associated with constipation, such as sick and bilious headaches, biliousness, specks floating before the eys, water brash, heartburn, jaundice and the painful, troublesome, internal, bleeding or protruding piles, etc., wouldn't you consider it a blessing to be able to keep the bowels in a good healthy condition and prevent disease getting a foothold on your system.

Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills are indicated just for this purpose; their regular use relieving the worst cases of constipation.

Mrs. Malcolm McDermid, Cranton Station, N.S., writes:—"I have been sick for a number of years with sick headaches and constipation. I tried all kinds of doctor's medicine, but none did me any good. I tried Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills, and after using four vials I am completely cured and would heartily recommend them to all sufferers."

Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills are 25c. a vial at all dealers or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

HOUSECLEANING TIME

In the Spring a Woman's Fancy Turns That Way.

She Finds the Work Fascinating—Some Very Practical Hints as to Doing the Job — Recipes for Cleaning and Polishing.

(Contributed by Ontario Department of Agriculture, Toronto.)

HOUSECLEANING for the most part is fascinating work, that is, after we pass the cellar. After all, this is really the most important part of the house and should receive first consideration in the spring. Probably it will never be known how much of the low state of vitality found in some families is to be charge to illy-ventilated, badly-lighted, poorly-drained cellars, where decaying vegetables are kept, sending its foul germ-laden air to every part of the house. If vegetables are stored in the cellar they should be carefully picked over and all growth and decayed ones removed. In addition to thoroughly cleaning, the walls should be whitewashed, and if the cellar is at all damp, it is well to keep a metal or earthen receptacle containing unslaked lime constantly present. Not a day should pass without the cellar being properly aired. In the very hot summer days, the windows should be opened every night and closed during the day. The reason for this is, that the outdoor air in the daytime is much warmer than in the cellar. This warm, moist-laden air enters the cooler atmosphere of the cellar, and the moisture condenses and rests on all surfaces making the cellar damp and warm. By opening the windows at night and closing them in the daytime the cellar is kept dry, pure and clean. It is well, too, before leaving the cellar to see that the screens are placed properly in the windows—screens of fine wire netting to prevent flies, or insects entering. We cannot emphasize too emphatically the need for proper protection against flies. More diseases are caused by flies than we are wont to believe, and while doing the spring cleaning it is well to see that each room is screened properly to prevent the entrance of flies.

If we attend to the little things before we start the actual cleaning, such as sorting and cleaning drawers, putting away furs, winter curtains, extra blankets etc., and laying in a supply of cleaning materials, this will save a lot of time. It has been customary to envy the home with new furniture. We think it would be easy to make the house look well if we just had some new chairs, dressers, tables, etc., but, as a matter of fact, it does not make the housecleaning half as interesting as if we have some old furniture (which we have longed to discard for years) to transform into something new. What could be more fascinating than the painting of chairs, tables and other furniture in order to have it harmonise with the walls, the drapery, the woodwork, and the floor.

It is not only that a floor looks much better if it is painted or polished, but it saves time and energy in cleaning. The rough surface collects greasy moisture, dust settles into it and soon grimy discolored and unhealthy conditions exist. Pine floors are hard to keep clean. The following methods of treating them may be of value:

1st. Spread over the floor strips of old sheeting; to this add two coats of paint. This will secure a very satisfactory border for the floor and the centre may be covered with a rug.

2nd. Apply a coat of linseed oil. Then fill cracks with "Crack and Crevice Filler," and apply an oak stain and two coats of floor finish.

It is difficult to say which rooms in the house should receive the most careful consideration. The bedroom is important because it is in the bedroom the person should receive that perfect sleep which will insure physical and mental strength.

The kitchen, too, is important, because here the woman spends a great deal of her time. It will be found most satisfactory to have linoleum placed on the kitchen floor. This is easily kept clean, and is soft, warm, elastic and wears well. There should be nothing in the kitchen which cannot be washed. The furniture, walls, etc., should be washable. While cleaning this spring it is especially important that we should see that all the utensils which are being used constantly should be in a convenient place, and if possible, closed cupboards should be placed in the kitchen. The following recipes and information may be found of value in doing the spring cleaning:

Washing Windows.—Always dust first and clean the woodwork before the glass. The glass may be washed with warm water and soap, ammonia, or kerosene, or whitening and ammonia. In washing wring the cloth almost dry, rinse off the window, and dry with a soft cloth and polish with a soft paper or cloth.

Painted Woodwork.—Wash in warm soapy water with a soft cloth, doing a little at a time and drying as you go along. For light painted wood use whitening paste.

Varnished Woodwork.—If very soiled use soap and water. Dry very thoroughly and then rub with ammonia or kerosene. To use kerosene just dampen the cloth and after rubbing on the varnished woodwork rub again with a dry cloth. If not, you will find a white glow will result.

Dustless Dusters.—Dip the cheese cloth in a mixture made from ½ cup melted parowax.

Note.—These dusters may be washed several times before they require to be dipped again.

There are many helpful suggestions for cleaning, and labor-saving devices appearing in weekly papers and magazines from time to time. It is a good plan to cut these out, place them in a labelled envelope or box for future use.—Miss D. M. Sutherland, Women's Institutes Branch.

REPORT MANY CASES OF RHEUMATISM NOW

Says we must keep dry feet; avoid exposure and eat less meat.

Stay off the damp ground, avoid exposure, keep feet dry, eat less meat, drink lots of water, and above all take a spoonful of salts occasionally to keep down uric acid.

Rheumatism is caused by poisonous toxin, called uric acid, which is generated in the bowels and absorbed into the blood. It is the function of the kidneys to filter this acid from the blood and cast it out in the urine. The pores of the skin are also a means of freeing the blood of this impurity. In damp and chilly, cold weather the skin pores are closed, thus forcing the kidneys to do double work; they become weak and sluggish and fail to eliminate this uric acid which keeps accumulating and circulating through the system, eventually settling in the joints and muscles causing stiffness, soreness and pain called rheumatism.

At the first twinge of rheumatism, get from any pharmacy, about four ounces of Jad Salts; put a tablespoonful in a glass of water, and drink before breakfast each morning for a week. This is said to eliminate uric acid by stimulating the kidneys to normal action, thus ridding the blood of these impurities.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless, and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is used with excellent results by thousands of folks who are subject to rheumatism. Here you have a pleasant, effervescent lithia-water drink which overcomes uric acid, and is beneficial to your kidneys as well.

NERVOUS, THIN, AILING WOMEN

Vinol Will Enrich Your Blood, Banish Nervousness, Make You Strong and Well

Physicians Recommend Vinol and Druggists Guarantee It

Pale, nervous, ailing women always tired, and often fussy, make homes unattractive and unhappy.

You can readily change that tired, dragged-out, listless feeling to one of buoyant health by building up your blood, nerve and muscle tissue with VINOL.

It makes red corpuscles and enriches the blood, quickens the circulation, creates a hearty appetite, promotes sound sleep, strengthens the nerves and imparts renewed vitality, energy and vim to every organ in the body. The step quickens, the eyes brighten and a clear, healthy complexion replaces that pale, sallow color.

If such women could only realize the change that VINOL will make in their appearance, by restoring strength and health, they would not rest until they started its use.

For all run-down, nervous, anaemic conditions, weak women, overworked men, feeble old people and delicate children, there is no remedy like VINOL. Your druggist will return your money if Vinol fails to benefit you.

Control the Potato Scab.

For seed select smooth, sound potatoes, as free as possible from scab, and disinfect by soaking them before they are cut for two hours in a solution made by adding half a pint of commercial formalin to 15 gallons of water. A couple of barrels with plugs in the sides near the bottom can be used to advantage in treating the seed. The potatoes can be placed directly in the solution or first put in crates or coarse sacks and then immersed.

After treatment spread the potatoes out on a clean floor or on the grass to dry. Wash all crates, bags, etc., which are used in handling the potatoes with the formalin solution. The same formalin solution can be used to treat successive lots of potatoes. Fifteen gallons is sufficient to treat from 30 to 35 bushels if ordinary precautions are taken not to waste too much of the fluid as each lot of tubers is dipped. If the potatoes are not all treated the same day it is advisable to make up fresh formalin for each day's work.

Corrosive sublimate (mercuric chloride) can be used also to treat potatoes to prevent scab. Soak the uncut tubers for three hours in a solution of two ounces of corrosive sublimate to 30 gallons of water. Corrosive sublimate is a deadly poison, and potatoes treated with it are rendered unfit for food for man or beast.

Formalin is a clear liquid disinfectant. It is a 40% solution of formaldehyde gas and water. It can be purchased from almost any druggist. It is sold under the names of formalin and formaldehyde. It is important that the purchaser, whatever name he buys it under, secured a guaranteed solution of 40% formaldehyde. The stock solution should always be kept in a well-corked bottle, and should not be allowed to freeze.

If possible plant the treated seed potatoes on clean soil, that is soil that has not produced a crop of scabby potatoes. Practice a rotation of crops. If scab is very bad it is not advisable to plant potatoes on the same land oftener than once in five years. Heavy applications of barnyard manure should not be made to the potato crop, but if necessary given at some other point in the rotation. Plant potatoes after clover sod if possible. Avoid alkali fertilizers such as lime and wood ashes.—Prof. J. E. Howitt, O. A. College, Guelph.

Miss Flora Boyko Tells How Cuticura Healed Her Pimples

"My face was very itchy at first, and after that it was covered with pimples that disfigured it badly. The pimples were hard and red and they were small, and they were scattered all over my face and were so itchy I had to scratch and I could not sleep.

"These bothered me nearly a year before I used Cuticura Soap and Ointment and when I had used five cakes of Cuticura Soap and five boxes of Cuticura Ointment I was healed." (Signed) Miss Flora M. Boyko, Gardenton, Man., Dec. 26, 1919.

Having obtained a clear healthy skin by the use of Cuticura, keep it clear by using the Soap for all toilet purposes, assisted by touches of Ointment as needed. Do not fail to include the exquisitely scented Cuticura Talcum in your toilet preparations. Splendid after bathing.

ACTIVITIES AT THE Y.W.C.A.

Many people interested in the Young Women's Christian Association will be glad to know that the recent epidemic of influenza has passed and there are now no girls ill in the building. Both the home and public departments have been properly fumigated, and the secretaries are all ready to take up their work with even greater enthusiasm than before. Miss Pryce, the Physical Director, expects to be hard at work next week preparing for her exhibition, and hopes for the co-operation of all her pupils in the strenuous weeks that lie ahead. Miss Thomson, the Extension Secretary, is planning many activities, both indoors and out, for senior girls.

An interesting event will take place on Tuesday, March 23rd, when Miss Payne, the new Swimming Instructor, will give an exhibition in the fine pool of the Association.

Get Rid of The Cough That Sticks

Some coughs seem hard to shake off—stick right to you in spite of all you do to get rid of them.

Those are the kind of coughs that are dangerous—that weaken the lungs so that the germs of consumption find a ready foothold.

We know of no remedy that will cure stubborn coughs— coughs that won't let go—like Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup.

It allays the inflammation, soothes the irritation, and heals the diseased mucous lining of the lungs and bronchial tubes.

Mrs. Leo. Allen, Petit de Grat Bridge, N.S., writes:—"Last winter I had an awful cough that kept me in the house for over two months. I tried several cough remedies, but got no relief. I was almost discouraged when a grocer here offered me a bottle of Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup. After taking that one my coughing began to cease. I took two more and they cured me completely."

Get the genuine Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup; put up in a yellow wrapper; 3 pine trees the trade mark; price 25c. and 50c.; manufactured only by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

THORAH FAMILY HAD NARROW ESCAPE.

Woodville Advocate: While sitting at breakfast Friday morning, Mr. Herbert Smith, Concession 2, Thorah, heard a loud crash as of something falling upstairs, and found in one of the bedrooms a large piece of plaster that had fallen off the ceiling. On examining the ceiling as to the cause of the plaster dropping he was met with a gust of flame that enveloped his head and shoulders. He used water and a fire extinguisher, but of no avail, as the fire had gained too much headway. Three of his four children were sick in bed with the "flu," but fortunately escaped without injury and were taken to the home of Mr. Gilbert McMillan. The house, which was a log one, was speedily reduced to ashes, and they succeeded in saving most of the household goods downstairs and a portion of the bedding upstairs. The loss is partly covered by insurance and upon going to press we learn the children are progressing favourably with no ill effects of their recent trying experience.

SKULL FRACTURED IN CUTTER ACCIDENT

A very distressing accident occurred at Orillia when Mr. H. S. Scott, superintendent of construction at the Ontario Hospital, was thrown from his cutter, and his skull fractured. Mr. Scott was turning into Mr. Geo. Bacon's stable on Missisaga street, where he puts up his horse while in town, when he cutter slewed on the slippery road, and threw him out against an electric light pole. His skull was fractured in two places. He was hurried to the hospital, and has been unconscious ever since. light hopes are held out for his recovery. His little daughter, who was with him at the time, was thrown out, and her face badly lacerated.

There is little or no change in Mr. Scott's condition. He is still unconscious.—Packet.

She's Up and at Her Work Again

THAT'S WHY MRS. KARGUS RECOMMENDS DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS.

Lynedoch Lady states that she was so weak she could not get out of bed till she found relief in Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Lynedoch via Wolfe, Ont., March 12th.—(Special.)—"I feel like telling everybody about what Dodd's Kidney Pills did for me." This is the joyful exclamation of Mrs. Frank Kargus, a well known and highly respected resident here. Mrs. Kargus gives splendid reasons why she is so enthusiastic over Dodd's Kidnry Pills.

"I don't know the cause of my trouble," she says, "but I know it dragged along for over a year. I had a bad pain in my back and I was so weak that I could not get out of bed. My heart troubled me very much and my sleep was broken and unrefreshing.

"I was always tired and nervous and sometimes I was so bad a thought I could not live much longer. I tried two dotcors and they did not do me much good so I tried Dodd's Kidney Pills.

"They have done me a lot of good. I can do my housework again and I am getting along fine."

Mrs. Kargus troubles are all symptoms of diseased kidneys. That's why she got such prompt relief. Ask your neighbors if Dodd's Kidney Pills do not relieve all kidney ills.

WINNIPEG JURY WELL CARED FOR

RECEIVE EVERY ATTENTION BUT ARE WEARY OF ENDLESS EVIDENCE.

WINNIPEG—Ho, hum! It's a rough life!

How would you like to have a job of just sitting down all day from to until 1 o'clock and from 2.30 until 6, with absolutely nothing to do but just listen while various and sundry high-salaried gentlemen went through all sorts of contortions for your entertainment and edification?

Suppose that, with a job like that, if after hours you decided you'd like to see a show, someone immediately scurried around and bought you a choice seat?

Suppose you were a farmer, living so far from town that a "store haircut" was an event, and then suddenly you had a professional barber calling on you every morning, willing and eager to cut your hair, trim your whiskers, shave you, give you a massage, a shampoo or sprinkle ou with sweet smelling stuff, and all for nothing?

And, perhaps, if you felt a little off color, it might be possible to gargle a little "throat wash."

If you had all these things would you want to quit your job?

They've Had Enough.

Judging from appearances there are twelve good men and true at the Manitoba court house who are "bored stiff" with such treatment, They are the jurors in the strike trial. For the first week or two apparently they were having the time of their lives. They trooped into the court room each morning with a sparkle in their eyes and a snap in their steps.

But now they are beginning to show the signs of "wear and tear." After all it irks one's soul to be locked up in a room every night, to be permitted to talk to no one outside of eleven fellow "prisoners," to read only such portions of the newspapers as the scissors of an alert censor have considered too trvial to bother with.

According to one of the bailiffs in charge of the jury the one real pleasure of the day for the jury comes each morning when they can lean back luxuriously in a padded chair and close their eyes while a skilled tonsorialist "dolls 'em up" for the day's work.

The jury has taken on a "clean cut appearance since the official barber got on the job, hair which was inclined to show the effects of hasty shearing by the old fashioned "bowl" method is now neatly feathered-edged. Patches which a few weeks ago showed traces of even a wanderine pathway gradually have become slick and pompadoured. One juryman's face, hidden for years from the sight of his family and friends, suddenly had emerged in rounded smoothness from its hirsute camouflage.

"I have been intending to have my whiskers cut off for several years," this juryman confided to the bailiff, "but I never had the heart to tackle the job myself and never had the time to go to town and have it done. I feel like a new man now."

He looks like a new man too, and it is not unlikely that he will need identification papers to get into his home when he is discharged and is free to return to his family.

Aside from the daily visits of the barber and occasional spats between Justice Metcalfe and R. A. Bonnar, K.C., defence counsel, and A. J. Andrews, K. C., Crown cousel, there is little pleasure in the lives of the jurymen outside of card games, movies, good eats and vaudeville shows.

LARGER AMOUNTS BEING DONATED

Constipation is the cause of most of the ills common to people now-a-days. It comes mostly from neglect in not heeding the signs which nature has been trying to give us that everything is not right within. Stomach ills, headache, loss of appetite, impure blood, rheumatism, piles, pain in the back, lack of energy and sleeplessness are in most cases due to imperfect elimination or constipation. To be healthy all the time you must be clean inside and the J. B. L. Cascade, used with pure sterilized water is the only perfect appliance ever devised for this purpose. It is easy and pleasant to use and any member of the family can be benefited by its use.

When the system is kept clean there is no chance for germs to lodge and the many ills easily contracted under other circumstances will be avoided. Thousands of Canadians have been restored to perfect health by the J. B. L. Cascade If you don't feel well all the time just try Internal Bathing. Then you will appreciate the advantages it has over any other means of restoring your health. Pills are dangerous. Don't be continually taking medicine for constipation. Bathe internally.

The J. B. L. Cascade is now being used in thousands of Canadian homes all of whom appreciate its wonderful value. It is being shown and explained by the Warne Drug Co., who will be pleased to give you a wonderful and instructive book by Dr. Charles A. Tyrell, called "The What, the Why, the Way of Internal Bathing." Ask for it to-day.

SEVERAL CELLARS FLOODED OUT IN THE NORTH END

Yesterday afternoon in spite of the assurances given out in yesterday's paper, the Downie street creek went on its rampage again and almost equalled its performance of other years.

About two o'clock the creek bucked up from where it flows in just above the William Hamilton Co., shops and soon McDonnel street was flooded, an avalanche flowing into the cellars of the residents on the south side of the street. Mrs. Batten who has lived there for 24 years and occupies the most northerly of the houses flooded, bore the brunt of the flood. Her cellar filled up rapidly upsetting boxes and cupboards and damaging the furnace in which a fire was burning. Mrs. Batten reports that these floods have only occurred in the last three years and previous to then, nothing of the kind ever occurred. To-day her cellar contains about six or eight inches of water.

Other resident who suffered severely were T. Fredenbury, who has just recently moved into a new house at the corner of Donegal street, Mr. J. G. Hardill, who occupies the house next to Mrs. Batten and Mr. De Angelo Ontonio. Mr. W. Brady, 513 Reid street, who lives just north of the William Hamilton Co., suffered perhaps the worst of any for the water ran in stream throughout the house, wetting and damaging everything and to-day the cellar is filled completely full.

Farther north on Downie street many cellars were flooded and Mr. A. Deal reports that the flood came on so quickly that they with great difficulty, rescued his horse, cow and three pigs from the barn. No doubt conditions were similar in homes throughout that end of the city for even to-day the creek is still running strong and ponds are everywhere.

This brief survey fails entirely to show to what extent the people have suffered and is it not only natural that much dissatisfaction should be felt towards the civic officials who it is alleged paid little heed to their calls for assistance and also that no officials were on the job until after five o'clock and it not only does much damage to cellars and foundations to say nothing of the contents, but lessens the value of the property for one can readily see that no one wishes to buy property where he can expect such a flood as this every year.
